The Novi City Council approved an amendment to the engineering services agreement with Spalding DeDecker Associates for additional design engineering in the amount of $6.607

The design fees for this project are now at $16,277; the estimated construction cost is $166,939

"During the initial study phase, which included some discussions with a representative of the adjacent neighborhood, it was determined that additional improvements were appropriate," Novi Public Services Director Rob Hayes said in his recommendation to council

The preliminary design calls for Beck Road to be widened to construct a pedestrian refuge island and corresponding center turn lane, according to Hayes. It was determined that the pavement in this area is in poor condition and should be rehabilitated as part of the project. The additional design fee being requested is primarily attributed to the design of these road reha-

Gatt seeking re-election as Novi mayor in November

Novi Mayor Bob Gatt announced that he'll be seeking his third two-year term in the Nov. 3 general election.

"I have never been more optimistic about the future of our Novi," Gatt said. "I am confident in our leadership, our new city manager, Pete Auger, and the wonderful, hard-working city employees. We all want what's best for the city we love and call home. I can't wait to lead this great city for two more years." Gatt is not shy about referring to the city as "Our Novi," having been an active leader in the Novi community for 40 years and playing an integral part of the dynamic growth of the city.

city elections.

"I truly believe that a special relationship exists between me and our Novi citizens," Gatt said. "I appreciate the confidence and tremendous support that Novi citizens have given me over the years. We all share a common interest: Our love and concern for this great city called Novi."

Gatt was first elected mayor in November 2011 after eight years on Novi City Council. His full-time position is manager of the Oakland County Animal Control Division which oversees the Oakland Pet Adoption Cen-with the work on two Novi homes. It all happened over one day, but a lot of time and effort was put into it.

"We are looking to help someone in the community," St. James volunteer Bob Harmer said. "It's been a successful and impactful program here in Novi and around the county."

Each year on the last Saturday of April, RTOC provides housing repair to low-income homeowners who are elderly, disabled, military veterans and families with children who are unable to repair and revitalize their homes themselves.

The program's mission is to bring volunteers and communities together to improve the homes and lives of low-income homeowners.

Overall, through the help of 1,400 volunteers, the county program last year rehabilitated 47 homes and four non-profit facilities, built 11 ramps and made 36 minor home repairs.

The program is funded through donations to RTOC, which St. James does as well.

The repairs and services on last year's Rebuild Day contributed to $700,000 of total increased market value (from $600,000 last year), according to RTOC.

opment of non-motorized crossings of major roads within the city, referred to as mid-block crossings. One of these locations was identified and funded in the 2013-14 budget on Beck Road between Cheltenham Drive and White Pines Drive.

This location is also part of a future east-west regional pathway north of Nine Mile.

The crossing will include a 24-foot by 12-foot pedestrian refuge island and additional street lighting.

According to Ben Croy, a city civil engineer, the island would direct pedestrians in a way that they cross only one lane of traffic at a time.

The project would also include the construction of any additional pathways needed to connect the mid-block crossing to the existing pathways and will include proper signage and pavement markings to help increase driver awareness of potential pedestrian conflicts. Additionally, portions of Beck Road will require widening to accommodate the cross-

Beck has an average volume of 20,000 vehicles per day, according to the city.

"A properly designed mid-block crossing can help direct pedestrians to cross in a defined location, rather than at random locations, and can help alert approaching vehicles that pedestrians may be present, making the crossing much safer," Croy said.

The project will be designed over this winter and construction is expected to begin this summer.

Before joining Oakland County in 2002, Gatt served 27 years in the Novi Police Department and is still known by many residents as Officer Bob. Public safety remains Gatt's top priority on the city council. "I have protected Novi residents and Novi families. I have lowered your taxes. I have maintained city service levels and added more public safety resources," Gatt said. "We've laid a great foundation for the future. Novi is poised to lead from a position of strength. We have been careful stewards of our finances, while maintaining quality services and operations.

A business administration graduate of Wayne State University (bachelor's degree, 1972) and Eastern Michigan University (master's, 1997), Gatt developed a passion for public safety during his Novi police career. He started the local Drug Abuse Resistance Education program in Novi schools in 1988 when he served as a police detective. He also managed and operated the Crime Prevention

Section within the department.

Gatt was born in Highland Park and was raised in northwest Detroit with one brother and two sisters. He attended St. Monica Grade School and St. Francis De Sales High School in Detroit.

The only other candidate to file, as of Jan. 19, is Jason Dorsch, who also ran against Gatt in the last mayoral election. The deadline to file is 4 p.m. April 21.

Tires stolen

A Novi man had two tires stolen by unknown suspects who were spotted by a 9-1-1 caller.

The incident happened Dec. 21 on Springlake Boulevard outside of an apartment. The caller told police two men were taking the tires/rims off of a Ford Taurus, but a detailed identification of the suspects could not be given. Police arrived to find the tires missing and the lug nuts from the other two tires on the ground.

Accidental liquor violation?

A woman called Novi Police on a report that an alcoholic drink was given to her 8-year-old child at an eatery inside Twelve Oaks

According to the police report, the woman said they ordered a Blackberry Fizz, but instead got a Blackberry Sparkle, which contains champagne. The girl took one sip and said it was "gross." The mother wanted a report filed with the liquor commission. After a followup with management, police determined it was most likely an accident and there was no intent to harm.

North Face jackets stolen

Two unknown men stole at least eight jackets from Dick's Sporting Goods store in Novi.

The thefts took place Dec. 22 at the location on Haggerty. Store staff told Novi Police the men were looking around the store when all of a sudden they both grabbed a handful of jackets, priced at $200 each, and ran out of the store. A witness was able to identify the getaway car and police issued a be-on-the-lookout for the vehicle.

Drunken driving

A female driver was arrested Dec. 21 for drunken driving after Novi Police spotted her driving erratically.

The police observed the car after 1 a.m. veer into both lanes after being at the traffic light at Grand River and Main Street. She was stopped at the I-96 ramp on Novi Road. Police reported immediately smelling alcohol inside the vehicle. The woman's breathalyzer registered 0.24 percent, three times the legal limit.

A search of the car turned up two open liquor bottles.

New district court judge ready to work

Novi 52-1 District Judge Travis Reeds had been serving in that elected role for about a week before holding a ceremonial robing at the South Lyon High School auditorium with family, friends and supporters.

He was elected last November, beating his former boss and longtime incumbent Brian MacKenzie, 64. Reeds won narrowly by 215 votes against MacKenzie, who had been on the bench 26 years.

In the year leading up to the election, MacKenzie's name had been in the news for reasons, including controversial sentencings for several domestic violence offenders and ordering defendants to take drugs tests at a facility owned by a fam-

Catholic Central High School band hits the right notes

By Lonnie Huhman

The band at Detroit Catholic Central High School received two big honors recently - a trip to Spain to perform and all-state honors for two of its members.

CC band and orchestra Director Greg Normandin said the success of music at the school is due to hard work and the friendships in the band.

"We strive to hold our entire program up to these standards as well. Our successes as a program come from the same ideals of dedication, hard work and love of music," Normandin

This dedication took members to Spain at the end of December and into the new year for a series of performances. The trip to Spain was an unequivocal success, according to Normandin.

CC was selected for the trip based on previous performances in London and Rome over the last four years. In the past, students have performed in London, Paris, Rome, Monte Carlo, Honolulu and Madrid.

Individual honors

Helping to lead this success were junior

Arun Mangrulkar, who was named the principal horn of the All-State Band, and sophomore Eddie Tchaouchev, who was selected as one of only seven string bass players for the All-State Orchestra.

The Detroit Catholic Central High School Band recently performed in Madrid, Spain.

Both students are also members of the Detroit Symphony Civic Orches-

"They represent the highest level of musi-cianship in the state of Michigan. Their success is the result of dedication, hard work and love of music," Normandin said of the two students.

Both feel honored. 'It feels great to be able to represent CC in the Michigan All-State Orchestra and to be able to be in an orchestra with many other people who share the same passion as me," Tchaouchev Mangrulkar said this honor is a big moment in what he hopes is a long music career.

"For me, this is a very important step," he said. "I intend to pursue music in college and these types of achievements appeal to musical conservatories. I have been awarded this honor the past three years and I intend to pursue the opportunity next year in my senior year."

What he likes about the band is that it has provided so many opportunities to grow. But probably his favorite thing about the Detroit Catholic Central Symphonic Band is the friendships.

"The students in the band are a community and are very close," he said. "Many of my best friends I didn't meet until my freshman year that first day on the football field for marching band rehearsal. These are friendships I'm sure I will have for the rest of my life and I would not have gotten the opportunity to bond with my fellow band mates had I not joined.'

Tchaouchev agreed and said it's because the orchestra at CC is very small. "I love the sense of camaraderie between us," he said. "I really enjoy playing in the orchestra with my friends and having fun playing music.'

Gomez and Lindsay earn W.L. Schools Friend of Diversity Award

The Walled Lake School District recognized Katie Gomez, Geisler Middle School teacher, and Scott Lindsay. Walled Lake Northern High School teacher, as Friend of Diversity Award recipients Jan. 19 at the district's Martin Luther King Jr. Celebration.

"Walled Lake Schools continues to build a culture around taking action for social justice. I am proud that our 2015 Friend of Diversity Award recipients, Katie Gomez and Scott Lindsay, are two staff members for whom actions speak louder than words and the actions of these individuals are indeed thoughtful and impressive," said Kenneth Gutman, Walled Lake superintendent.

Gutman said Gomez was nominated for her work on social justice issues, the outstanding relationships that she builds with students and their families from diverse backgrounds, as well as her involvement on the district-wide Multicultural Committee.

"Katie has a personal and professional calling to improve social justice issues wherever she sees them," said Geisler Principal Dr. Sheryl Kennedy, who nominated Gomez, "She started a new after-school club at Geisler called the African-American Boys Book Club. This new Book Club has been a great success due to Katie's passion, authenticity, and expectation that all of her students would excel."

Lindsay was nominated for the Friend of Diversity Award by Greg Diamond, Walled Lake Northern principal, and Alec Bender, the co-chairperson of the Walled Lake Schools Social Justice Team. They said in their nomination letter that Lindsay has provided outstanding leadership on diversity initiatives at both the district level and at Northern. He is passionate about his involvement in diversity and social justice projects and he has been a trailblazer in advocating for all students.

At Northern, Lindsay has been the teacher sponsor of the Upstandards Club which

Superintendents group endorses May ballot proposal

Walled Lake Consolidated Schools Superintendent Kenneth Gutman was among the public school superintendents across Macomb, Oakland and Wayne counties who announced their support Jan. 15 of Proposal 1 on the May 5 ballot

"Passing this proposal means Michigan will see over a billion dollars more for roads and bridges, hundreds of millions more for our kids' education and millions more from additional savings in maintenance and repair costs," Gutman said. "Safe, well-maintained roads benefit everyone in Michigan and, as superintendents, we believe we must seize this opportunity to move Michigan forward and invest in our kids.'

If approved by voters, the proposal would generate billions of dollars to fix Michigan's roads and bridges and strengthen funding for classrooms. The action was taken at a Jan. 5 executive board meeting of the Tri-county Alliance for Public Education.

The Michigan Legislature approved a plan in December to place a proposal on the May 5 ballot that would:

» raise the sales tax from 6 percent to 7 per-

» repeal the sales tax on fuel;

» restrict the use of School Aid Fund dollars in higher education; and » generate $300 million in additional funds for public schools annually.

"Gov. Snyder and the Legislature deserve credit for presenting a common-sense plan that addresses two critical investment priorities of Michigan citizens: to repair our roads and bridges and to strengthen our kids' education,' said Robert D. Livernois. superintendent, Warren Consolidated Schools. "For the next four months, we'll be laserfocused on educating parents, school employees and the greater community about the need to support this critical ballot proposal that will benefit our kids and our economy."

The Tri-county Alliance for Public Education is a coalition of education leaders comprised of superintendents from every district in Macomb, Oakland and Wayne counties.

ZF Group poised to enjoy 'historic' year

By Nathan Mueller Staff Writer

ZF Group CEO Stefan Sommer said his company recognized that it has to "speed up in the area of driver assistance and in the area of autonomous driving" if it is going to be a major player as a systems provider.

So in an effort to accomplish that goal, the German company with its North American headquarters in Northville Township is in the process of acquiring TRW Automotive. The acquisition is expected to be completed by the first half of this year.

TRW Automotive, based in Livonia, is a global leader in automotive safety as it pertains to driver assist systems and vehicle safety systems. Sommer acknowledged there was a need to have access to them.

"It is a great opportunity," Sommer said Tuesday morning from the floor of the North American International Auto Show. "We have complementary operations, so we will not replace anything, we will not close and we will not merge anything.

"We will add all the contents together."

and chassis components, as well as complete systems for passenger cars, commercial vehicles and off-road machinery - has an obvious focus on the global market, its success in North America is

In 2014, ZF Group's sales in North America rose to an estimated $4.9 billion, about a one-fifth increase compared to the previous year. Sommer expects 2015 to also show 'strong growth.

"This is really the center of our activities and we expect this will continue throughout the next two years," he said.

The company unveiled its second-generation eight-speed automatic transmission last August and plans on launching its plug-in hybrid version of the eight-speed automatic transmission this

There were 2.6 million eight-speed automatic transmission units produced in 2014, a number Sommer called "amazing." The new generation has further developments that help achieve an additional 3-percent fuel savings. Major U.S. manufacturers such as Chrysler, Jeep and Dodge are already using the eight-speed transmission in their vehicles.

Bryan Johnson, a Canton resident and manager of marketing and communications for the ZF Group, said 2015 will be a historic year for ZF Group, which also is celebrating its 100th anniversary.

It's an accomplishment, but also a motivational tool for Sommers.

"It's a great (foundation) for us as we develop and design the next 100 years of a successful future for this company,"

Area auto dealerships look forward to 2015

When it comes to cars expected to roll off the sales lot at Bill Brown Ford in Livonia this year, one vehicle comes to mar-so's mind: the 2015 Ford F-150. With all the attention focused on the new truck, one of the leaders in sales, it's no surprise it's the new truck that's drawing a lot of attention to the dealer-ship at 32222 Plymouth in Livoketing director Andrea Calvane-

"We're pretty fortunate to be in the heart of Ford country, she said. "We've already had quite a bit of eagerness surrounding that kind of vehicle."

Bill Brown Ford is just one area dealership prepping for a big 2015 as the beginning of the North American International Auto Show begins at Cobo Center in downtown Detroit.

The truck, being built in Dearborn, sports a new, lighter aluminum body, one of the big reasons the F-150 is turning heads in Livonia, Calvaneso

"I think the aluminum body is a big one," she said. "I just think there's so much more excitement around this vehicle, because it offers so much more than the previous models."

The dealership was a stop on the Ford F-150 Drive Tour back in December, which gave the dealership's customers a first look at the new truck.

After that stop, Calvaneso said anytime a truck is on the lot, it is purchased quickly.

"Whenever we get one. they're usually gone pretty quickly," she said. "We're continuing to get more units on our lot all the time.'

Located at 40875 Plymouth Road, the dealership itself recently underwent an extensive remodeling and expansion. "Walk into the showroom and you'll see everything is bright and lit up," sales manager Debbie Dowling said Wednesday. "Right now, we have two Corvettes, a Camaro, a Cruze, an Equinox, Traverse, Impala, Malibu and the all-new Chevrolet Trax on the floor today." Scott LaRiche is serving as the chair of the 2015 North American International Auto Show, an honor his dad, Lou LaRiche, held exactly 20 years ago in 1995. Dowling said the auto show is the perfect place to go for anyone interested in a new vehicle.

"It gives the public an opportunity to see everything in one place," she said. "Once they find the Chevy they're interested in, they can come to Lou

What are some of the anticipated hot sellers for 2015? Dowling said the new Silverado is especially popular, but she expects all the Chevy products to Looking back on 2014, Dowling said the Lou LaRiche dealership and entire auto industry enjoyed a very successful year.

"I think it was a very good vear — we were up over 2013. so that's always positive," she said. "Right now, we're just looking forward to 2015 with the products we have and increasing our sales once again.

Atchinson Ford

Community involvement has been the calling card of Atchinson Ford since it opened more than 50 years ago in Belleville.

The family-owned dealership, located at 9800 Belleville Road, has been active on community boards and volunteer committees, supported charities and given back to various groups and schools.

Selling vehicles is what they do, but community-focused is who they are.

"It's a big thing for us," said Mike Sturtz, general sales manager. "Our owner is on the DDA, big with the Boys and Girls Club and chamber, you name it. If there is a group in town, he tries to get in the middle of it."

The success in the community also has translated to success in business.

Sturtz said while Ford Motor Co. had a pretty "level" year in terms of sales, their dealership was up 7 percent.

Atchinson also recently opened a new quick-lane store, giving them more capacity to do maintenance work and work on off-brands.

'Overall it was a record year for the overall health of the store," he said.

Sturtz said he is working on his projections for 2015 next week, but thinks they will come in "pushing 10 percent." "I believe we can do it because we are in a growing community and have worked very hard to cater to the growing Canton community that doesn't have a Ford dealership in its city limits," he said.

Snyder touts skilled trades at auto show

By Jay Grossman Staff Writer

Gov. Rick Snyder wants to see a new generation of car buffs in Michigan that understands technology is equally important to horsepower.

"We messed up in our country several decades ago, when we sort of diminished the appreciation for skilled trades and we need to bring that back," Snyder said last week as he toured the floor at the 2015 North American International Auto Show.

"We need to have parents and young people and people looking for their next career understand there's an equally honorable, equally important, equally wellpaying track for career tech education in addition to university. And I want Michigan to be number one in that. It's a top priority of mine, because it's a huge economic advantage that Michigan can have because this is a huge national challenge."

Still hobbling on crutches after he tore his Achilles tendon, Snyder checked out several of the displays on the ground floor and in the basement of Cobo Center, where a small track is laid out for prototype vehicles.

"Most people aren't familiar with mechatronics (a combination of electronics and mechanics). These are the people who will be doing the industrial automotive systems and managing the robotic equipment, he said. "Those jobs are well-paying jobs and they aren't going away. That's our future.

"This is where I really want to help out in that area between high school and higher education ... and let's make that line go away. Because too often you wonder, 'Do I have to do this in high school, do I do this in community college ... where do I get the training?' We're going to make it much more seamless in Michigan."

With that in mind, Snyder said he hopes the show attracts a younger generation.

"I hope young people in particular come check out the show, because autos are a great thing to be involved with - period. But if you want to be on the cutting edge of technology, the best place to do it is the auto industry."

Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder signs the sculpture celebrating 100 years of the ZF automotive organization.

The governor wrapped up the tour by talking to some students and touting the show.

"This show is a great illustration of the success of the auto industry," he said. "The industry is doing well, Michigan is doing well, Detroit is doing well. Let's stay on the gas."

Johnson Controls touts new battery for Ford F-150 technology The Milwaukee-based company, which has a technical center in Plymouth, unveiled its Absorbent Glass Mat battery technology during a press event Jan. 12 at the North American International Auto Show at Cobo Center in Detroit. The technology comes standard in the 2015 Ford F-150 2.7-liter model and is an option on other models of the truck. It is the first vehicle with this type of battery made by Johnson Controls.

Using the technology could lead to a fuel savings as high as 5 percent and can help automakers meet emissions regula-tions by 2025, company officials said. "Not only do they need to power more stuff, batteries are also being used to help automakers meet increasing fuel economy and emission reduction regulations, said Joe Walicki, who was recently appointed vice president and president of the company's Power Solutions busine "Start-stop vehicles are here and they have room ing the technology. AGM batteries are expected to reduce carbon dioxide emissions by 14.8 million tons and reduce fuel usage by 1.6 billion gallons, according to the company.

"Ît's an affordable way for our customers to get incremental fuel savings without having to make significant changes to their vehicles," he said. "A car that can save a little bit of energy at a stoplight can save a lot of energy in the long run."

The company produced 140 million batteries in 2014, more than any other supplier in the world, Walicki said. The company also supplies batteries to other vehicles, including the hybrid

Range Rover. Craig Rigby, the advanced market and technology strategist for Milwaukee, Wis., said the decision to work with Ford in adding an AGM battery to the F-150, which is manufactured in Dearborn, is a great one for both companies. "The really great thing about that vehicle and bringing start-stop tech-nology to the F-150 is that it is the largest-selling vehicle in the U.S," he said. "The leverage they get by putting that fuel savings technology in that vehicle is really tremendous.

While the AGM battery is produced in Toledo and St. Joseph, Mo., Rigby said brainstorming and the development process happened across the company's worldwide locations, including the facility off Halyard Drive in Plymouth.

"We're a global company. We have engineering activities here in Michigan, we have engineering activities at our headquarters in Milwaukee, we have a very strong team in Europe," he said. "Certainly, as it relates to working with automakers U.S., the team in Plymouth is invaluable and really amazing."

Livonia company shows off aerodynamic simulations at show

By David Veselenak Staff Writer

When it comes to building aerodynamic vehicles, most car companies have needed to build several models to test in wind tunnels and other conditions. But using technology from one company located in Livonia may make those test models less needed.

Exa, a company headquartered in Burlington, Mass., and which has an office in Livonia, demonstrated its cloud-based technology this week at the North American International Auto Show at Cobo Center in De-

The vehicle simulation the company ran at its booth during the auto show press previews was a 2015 Jaguar XE. Complete with threedimensional glasses, viewers can see the aerodynamics in action on a simulated vehicle on a screen in the basement of Cobo Center.

'They designed the entire aerodynamics digitally, and they didn't build a single (model) that they put in a wind tunnel to track the aerodynamics," said Ales Alajbegovic, vice president of ground transportation applications and an Ann Arbor resident. "When they built the first model, they tested it because they wanted to see how it works, and it worked as designed."

Dwight Pugsley, director of North American auto sales, said most car companies are using their technology, with the exception of Mercedes and Volvo.

Using the technology allows companies to maintain speed and accuracy when designing vehicles, said Pugsley, who lives in Brighton.

"We supply this technology to all the OEMs worldwide," he said. "They utilize this for aerodynamics, aeroacoustics and thermal.

"Every car you see, sleek and streamlined, is a result of using our digital technology.

The program also allows for several team members to view and utilize the equipment through a Web-based infrastructure, allowing those working on a simulation to be in several locations at a time

The company, which also has offices in France and Japan, moved their Michigan office from Ann Arbor to Livonia several years ago to be closer to the automakers in the Metro Detroit area.

"It was ideal in hav-ing the highway corridor, with easy access," Pugsley said. "I moved it because it was closer to the OEMs.'

Alfa Romeo went old school at the North American International Auto Show in Detroit with an impressive display of some classic racing

The Italian car company has a 1932 Gran Premio Tipo B P3 on display. It features a double supercharged engine developing 215 horsepower at 5,800 rpm and has a top speed of around 145 mph. Only six of these cars were produced.

Next to that is a 1951 Gran Premio Tipo 159 Alfetta. It has a supercharged straight-8 engine that cranks out 425 horsepower with a top speed of 191 mph. Only six of these cars were produced.

Across the aisle is a 1967 33 Stradale, a rare collector's item that could sell on the market for a cool $10 million. The car is the inspiration for Alfa Romeo's 2015 4C.

The three cars were directly shipped to the NAIAS from a museum in Italy

Also new to the NAIAS this year is a display of army vehicles in the basement of the Cobo Center. Donna Edwards, community relations officer for the U.S. Army, said there's a reason the vehicles are located in the basement.

Artist brings the light to auto show

By Jay Grossman Staff Writer

Gabriel Hall is creating masterpieces out of light.

The 33-year-old artist from Livonia is the founder of New D Media, a pioneering company that specializes in projection mapping, in which high-powered projectors are used to create digital scenes on the sides of buildings and other canvasses.

Scored with music, the images dart about as they tell a story and stir emotions.

"Projection mapping is a non-invasive way to add digital branding to architecture and the environment around you, using high-powered projectors to light up animation," Hall said. "The animation is especially fit so it uses the architecture like a movie screen for the story. It's a little bit of magic, a combination of science and technology, the 'wow' factor and a huge canvas."

The public can see the company's work at the 2015 North American International Auto Show. Hall and his team helped create a miniature "smart city for DENSO automotive suppliers that illustrates how vehicles, homes and the surrounding infrastructure might connect to become more energy-efficient.

"V2V (vehicle to vehicle) is the major technology they're showcasing," Hall said. "Through this technology, cars 'talk' to each other in a way so that safe distances are always maintained and intersections are woven in a way that cars can cross through without sto-

New D Media first started working with DENSO at the 2015 Consumer Electronics Show in Las Vegas. For the past month or so, Hall has been bouncing back and forth between Las Vegas and Detroit creating content, setting up the projects making sure the display plays back per-

Year's bash. Another of its displays made it into the top 20 at ArtPrize 2014. And in 2012, Chevrolet hired New D Media to help with an ad for the World

The company's work was displayed at the Detroit Institute of Arts and also the Detroit Public Library, where in 2012 it was hired to turn the front facade of the library into a building from ancient Rome.

"We've had a good run over the past few years," Hall said. "And right after ArtPrize we were hired by DENSO, so we went from the art world to the corporate world in a flash.'

Hometown roots

Hall grew up in Livonia, graduating from Stevenson High School in 1999. His parents still live in Livonia, while he and his wife Joanie are raising a family in Farmington.

He studied film directing and special effects at the Center for Creative Studies in Detroit and then spent seven years working at a pair of ad agencies in Southfield and Birmingham.

At the same time, he was honing his skills in projection mapping as a video jockey at music festivals around the coun-

"Because I was doing these stage designs and being the VJ, I noticed there were not a lot of companies that did the type of projection work that I specialized in," he said. "So I saw an opportunity to take this art form to different heights and commercialize it in ways to form a profitable company that uses the art form I want ... it hasn't been easy, but at the same time it was pretty awesome work."

He formed New D Media in 2010 and was quickly joined by Daniel Land, a fellow CCS student who lives in Detroit. Sean Hodgson is an animator for the company, while John Hudson is the projector tech. Two other employees help build the sets.

There's a lot of detail work and expenses involved in each project. To light up buildings, for example, the company uses projectors that weigh over 100 pounds and cost up to $4,000 a

Next up

On Aug. 24, New D Media will be creating a digital piece for St. Mary's in Livonia to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Armenian genocide. For several reasons, it's a project that Hall is particularly proud

"Essentially, we'll be projecting 1.5 million particles onto St. Mary's bell tower from the bottom of the tower to the top over a four-hour period in memory of the 1.5 million souls lost in the genocide," he said. "I'm very much honored to be a part of this ... and this will be my first big projector job in Livonia, which I'm pretty happy about too.

Hall has received national recognition for his work, but he still sees himself as the hometown artist - holding a projector rather than an art brush.

"I'm thrilled to be representing Livonia with this art form," he said. "I've lived in this area my whole life and I'm just happy I can shine a good light on

Company prints out 3-D cars at auto show

Spencer Sharp of Local Motors takes Car & Driver magazine writer Tamara Warren for a spin in the 3-D printed car.

By Jay Grossman Staff Writer

Imagine printing out your next Cadillac or Ford F-150.

An Arizona-based company called Local Motors is literally printing 3-D cars at the North American International Auto Show. Spokeswoman Kate Hartley said Local Motors hopes to become the first company in the world to put a 3-D car on the road.

"We do it in three phases," she said Jan. 12 as a crowd of reporters gathered around the company's exhibit. "The first one is printing ... this phase takes about 44 hours. The second phase is milling or refining ... and the third phase is rapid assembly.'

The electric car, called the Strati, is made of ABS plastic and reinforced with carbon fiber. The vehicles weigh an average of 1,600 pounds and can travel slightly over 80 miles on a single electric charge. Hartley said it takes about three days to finish the product.

"It's going to be an actual car," she said. "The great thing about 3-D printing is you can print around the components you want to use in the car. You just slip them in."

The public attending the show will have a chance to see Local Motors print out and build a car from start to finish. Plus, there will be opportunities to ride around in one in the Cobo Center basement track.

How fast the car goes depends on the power train that's installed.

"We actually plan to put 3-D cars on the road in the next 12-18 months," she said. "Hopefully one day you can come to a Local Motors micro factory and tell us the car you want and we'll be able to print it for you right there and then."

Detroit Zoo cares for eight rescued lizards

The Detroit Zoo is caring for eight lizards that were among 343 confiscated by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in September. The Sahara spiny-tailed (Uromastyx geyri) and mastigure (Uromastyx dispar) lizards were being smuggled into the United States from Mali, when they were intercepted.

According to the USFWS, the lizards were poached from the wild and destined for the pet trade. Due to the inhumane methods used to ship the animals and the conditions they were held in prior to their arrival in the U.S., 200 of them died while in expert care within a few weeks of being seized.

The Detroit Zoological Society agreed to provide a home for four of each species; the remaining surviving lizards were distributed to other zoological institutions.

"These eight lizards represent a global crisis in wildlife trafficking. Many individual animals die in situations like this and the impacts on wild populations can be catastrophic," said Scott Carter, DZS chief life sciences officer. "We are happy to be able to provide great care and permanent sanctuary for these lizards and to help bring attention to this important wildlife issue."

The lizards arrived in late November in poor condition and are receiving daily care and observation in quarantine, which will likely last for six months or longer. Once out of quarantine, the lizards will be seen at the Holden Reptile Conservation Center.

And that will be quite a sight.

"Their tails are extremely spiny and heavy and they will use them to whip an attacker should they feel the need to defend themselves," said Patricia Mills Janeway, director of public relations at the zoo.

The lizards' rescue is supported by the Kalter/Lezotte Fund for Wildlife Rescue, established in 2012 to facilitate the rescue of animals with the intent to provide sanctuary at the Detroit Zoo. To contribute to the fund, make a check payable to Detroit Zoological Society and send it to Fund for Wildlife Rescue, 8450 W. 10 Mile, Royal Oak, MI 48067 or call 248-336-5704.

OLV BAND MAKING SOME SWEET MUSIC

By Lonnie Huhman Staff Writer

Music is in the air at Our Lady of Victory School.

After nearly seven years off, the band has been brought back to this Northville elementary and middle school, which is part of the historic Catholic church located near downtown. This year, it's offered in seventh and eighth grades, but next year it will be expanded to sixth-graders having the opportunity to learn an instrument.

It's been a hit with students and

"We look forward to it because it's so much fun," said eighth-grader Maria Williams, who plays the oboe.

Some in the class, like Maria, have musical experience, while others have picked up an instrument for the first time. Band teacher/director Steve Cross said under Principal Karen Gessler's leadership, an expanded arts program has been added to the curriculum, which includes music.

There are 25 students in band right now, but Cross expects it to grow. "It's been a lot of fun and there's a lot of excitement about it from the students, which has carried over to the rest of the school," Cross said. Eight-grader Brendan Bebb joined the band to try something new. He's taken to the trumpet and said he's been inspired by Cross' teaching. "Mr. Cross does an excellent job in teaching us. He makes it fun and he has this quick pace that I like," said Brendan, who plans on continuing to learn the instrument when he goes to high school next year.

The all-school Christmas performance was the big debut for the band and it played an important part in making the show a success. Cross said the performances will only get better as the band continues to grow.

There will be another big performance for the band and school April 23 with the spring showcase, which will also feature an art and science fair.

IT'S ABOUT

17 Weeks TO GRASS ALLERGY SEASON*

GRASTEK should be started at least 12 weeks before the season. Talk to an allergy specialist now about whether GRASTEK is right for you.

*Date is approximate, depending on your region.

GRASTEK is grass allergy immunotherapy in a tablet. It may help you gradually build tolerance so you become less sensitive to grass pollen.

Made from small amounts of natural Timothy grass pollen, GRASTEK treats the grass allergies that cause eye and nose symptoms. Starting treatment early may give your body time to become less sensitive to grass pollen in preparation for the allergy season. It's recommended that you start taking GRASTEK at least 12 weeks before the grass pollen season. Make an appointment with an allergy specialist soon. To find a doctor near you, go to grastek.com/thinkspring.

GRASTEK is a prescription medicine used for sublingual (under the tongue) immunotherapy to treat Timothy and related grass pollen allergies that can cause sneezing, runny or itchy nose, stuffy or congested nose, or itchy and watery eyes. GRASTEK may be prescribed for persons 5 through 65 years of age who are allergic to grass pollen.

GRASTEK is taken for about 12 weeks before grass pollen season and throughout grass pollen season. GRASTEK may also be taken daily for 3 years to provide a sustained effect for a fourth year in which you do not have to take GRASTEK.

GRASTEK is NOT a medication that gives immediate relief for symptoms of grass allergy.

Important Safety Information about GRASTEK

- GRASTEK can cause severe allergic reactions that may be life-threatening. Stop taking GRASTEK and get immediate medical treatment right away if you or your child has any of the following symptoms after taking GRASTEK: trouble breathing; throat tightness or swelling; trouble swallowing or speaking; dizziness or fainting; rapid or weak heartbeat; severe stomach cramps or pain, vomiting, or diarrhea; severe flushing or itching of the skin.
- Do not take GRASTEK if you or your child has severe unstable, or uncontrolled asthma; had a severe allergic reaction in the past that included trouble breathing, dizziness or fainting, or rapid or weak heartbeat; had difficulty with breathing due to swelling of the throat or upper airway after using any sublingual immunotherapy before; has ever been diagnosed with eosinophilic esophagitis or is allergic to any of the inactive ingredients contained in GRASTEK.
- For home use of GRASTEK, your doctor will prescribe epinephrine if you or your child has a severe allergic reaction after taking GRASTEK. Talk to your doctor or read the epinephrine patient information.
- The first dose of GRASTEK must be taken in the doctor's office. After taking the first dose, you or your child will be watched for at least 30 minutes by a healthcare professional for symptoms of a serious allergic reaction.
- Children should be given each tablet of GRASTEK by an adult.
- You should tell your doctor about any medicines you or your child take.
- Stop GRASTEK and contact your doctor if you or your child has any of the following after taking GRASTEK: Any type of a serious allergic reaction; heartburn, difficulty swallowing or pain with swallowing, or chest pain that does not go away or worsens; any mouth surgery procedures (such as tooth removal), develop any mouth infections, ulcers or cuts in the mouth or throat.
- The most commonly reported side effects were itching of the mouth, lips, or tongue, swelling under the tongue, or throat irritation. These side effects, by themselves, were not dangerous or life-threatening.

You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the FDA. Visit www.fda.gov/medwatch, or call 1-800-FDA-1088.

What should I tell my doctor before taking GRASTEK? treatment if:

- · You or your child has asthma, depending on how severe it is.
- · You or your child suffers from lung disease such as
- chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD). You or your child suffers from heart disease such as coronary artery disease, an irregular heart rhythm, or
- you have hypertension that is not well controlled. You or your daughter is pregnant, plans to become pregnant during the time you will be taking GRASTEK, or is breast-feeding.
- You or your child is unable or unwilling to administer auto-injectable epinephrine to treat a severe allergic reaction to GRASTEK.
- · You or your child is taking certain medicines that enhance the likelihood of a severe reaction, or interfere with the treatment of a severe reaction. These medicines include:
- o beta blockers and alpha-blockers (prescribed for
- high blood pressure) o cardiac glycosides (prescribed for heart failure or problems with heart rhythm)
- o diuretics (prescribed for heart conditions and high
- blood pressure) o ergot alkaloids (prescribed for migraine headache)
- o monoamine oxidase inhibitors or tricyclic antidepressants (prescribed for depression) o thyroid hormone (prescribed for low thyroid activity).

You should tell your doctor if you or your child is taking or has recently taken any other medicines, including medicines obtained without a prescription and herbal supplements. Keep a list of them and show it to your doctor and pharmacist each time you get a new supply of GRASTEK. Ask your doctor or pharmacist for advice before taking GRASTEK.

Are there any reasons to stop taking GRASTEK? Stop GRASTEK and contact your doctor if you or your child has any of the following after taking GRASTEK:

- Any type of a serious allergic reaction
- Throat tightness that worsens or swelling of the tongue or throat that causes trouble speaking, breathing or swallowing
- Asthma or any other breathing condition that aets worse
- Dizziness or fainting
- · Rapid or weak heartbeat
- Severe stomach cramps or pain, vomiting, or diarrhea · Severe flushing or itching of the skin
- · Heartburn, difficulty swallowing, pain with swallowing, or chest pain that does not go away or worsens Also, stop taking GRASTEK following: mouth surgery procedures (such as tooth removal), or if you develop any mouth infections, ulcers or cuts in the mouth or throat.

How should I take GRASTEK?

Take GRASTEK exactly as your doctor tells you. GRASTEK is a prescription medicine that is placed under the tongue.

- Take the tablet from the blister package after carefully removing the foil with dry hands.
- Place the tablet immediately under the tongue. Allow it to remain there until completely dissolved. Do not swallow for at least 1 minute.
- Do not take GRASTEK with food or beverage. Food and beverage should not be taken for the following 5 minutes • Wash hands after taking the tablet.

Take the first tablet of GRASTEK in your doctor's office. After taking the first tablet, you or your child will be watched for at least 30 minutes for symptoms of a serious allergic reaction

If you tolerate the first dose of GRASTEK, you or your child will continue GRASTEK therapy at home by taking one tablet every day. Children should be given each tablet of GRASTEK by an adult who will watch for any symptoms of a serious allergic reaction.

Take GRASTEK as prescribed by your doctor until the end of the treatment course. If you forget to take GRASTEK, do not take a double dose. Take the next dose at your normal scheduled time the next day. If you miss more than one dose of GRASTEK, contact your healthcare provider before restarting.

What are the possible side effects of GRASTEK?

In children and adults, the most commonly reported side effects were itching of the mouth, lips, or tongue, swelling under the tongue, or throat irritation. These side effects, by themselves, were not dangerous or life-threatening. GRASTEK can cause severe allergic reactions that may be life-threatening. Symptoms of allergic reactions to GRASTEK include:

- Trouble breathing
- Throat tightness or swelling • Trouble swallowing or speaking
- Dizziness or fainting
- · Rapid or weak heartbeat
- Severe stomach cramps or pain, vomiting, or diarrhea Severe flushing or itching of the skin

For additional information on the possible side effects of GRASTEK, talk with your doctor or pharmacist. You may report side effects to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) at 1-800-FDA-1088 or www.fda.gov/medwatch.

NOVI

Crawford contact information

State Rep. Kathy Crawford's office is officially open and she announced her office contact information for constituents. Residents can contact Crawford in Lansing at 517-373-0827, at P.O. Box 30014, Lansing, MI 48909-7514 or by email at kathycrawford@house.mi.gov. Crawford's office is located at 124 N. Capitol Ave., Room 887, Lansing. The office is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

"I want constituents to know that my door is always open to them," Crawford said. "For me to do my job effectively, I need to hear from the citizens whether I meet with them in district or they contact my Lansing office. Part of my job involves being in Lansing and I want all residents to know how to easily get in touch with me.

Legislative staffers Ruth Ann Jirasek and Amy Smith will join Crawford in her Lansing office. Jirasek, a Novi resident, will continue her position as chief of staff, which she held under former Rep. Hugh Crawford, Kathy's husband. Smith has worked in the House for four years and will also continue in her position as legislative aide in charge of constituent work.

Wixom cops promoted to sergeant

The city of Wixom promoted three of its police officers to the rank of sergeant.

At the Jan. 11 city council meeting, police officers Linda Fultz, Michael DesRosiers and Mark Bradley reaffirmed their oath of office and assumed their new rank of sergeant. Fultz and DesRosiers are 20-year veterans of the department, while Bradley has 13 years in. Wixom City Manager Tony Nowicki said that he is pleased and noted the impressive qualifications of the sergeants and their dedication to the law enforcement profession and to the city of Wixom. Nowicki further stated that "these promotions are the final phase of a police staffing program that is aimed at increasing the effectiveness of the police department and demonstrates to current and future stakeholders in the community that Wixom is committed to maintaining and protecting their investments in the city as well as ensuring the high quality of life residents enjoy. Sgts. Fultz, DesRosiers and Bradley have my respect and full confidence."

Clarence Goodlein, chief of police and director of public safety, said these promotions will enable the Police Department to provide additional leadership and effective supervision for its patrol officers and provide better service to the residents and businesses in the community. Goodlein added that "these new sergeants exhibit all of the characteristics that our community has come to expect from its police personnel and the police department."

Bubbleman entertaining in Wixom

Clothing recycling program

For Walled Lake residents, recycling unwanted clothing is now as easy as a walk to the curb with the free curbside collection program offered by Simple Recycling. The program is simple and convenient since pickup occurs on the same day as recycling service, collection bags are provided and replacement bags are left each time full bags are set out for curbside pickup. While the focus is on recycling clothing, Simple Recycling will also accept shoes, accessories, toys, books and small home goods in working condition such as kitchen ware and tools. Residents who live in communities not serviced by the Simple Recycling program are encouraged to donate unwanted clothing to their favorite charity or thrift shop. A list of local organizations, including those that offer pickup, is available on the RRRASOC website at www.rrrasoc.org.

BURLEY, DAVID "MURRAY"

lifelong resident of the Milford area, died surrounded by family, on Sunday, January 11, 2015. He was 88 years old. Born on January 3, 1927 into the large family of James and Elizabeth (Clark) Burley, Murray joined his three brothers and seven sisters. He was a proud member of the American Legion Post 216, serving as its historian for years and helping with honor teams for veteran's burial services. He was an active member of Milford Presbyterian Church. Murray Burley was a farm boy and Navy flier, a long distance Teamster, a John Deere aficionado and fan of big band music. He was a story teller, cartoonist, a sketch artist and talented woodworker, a loving husband, father, family man, friend and a child of God for whom the term "salt of the earth" seemed perfectly suited.
Murray is survived by his beloved wife, Mary, his sons and daughters, James D. (Marsha) Burley, Lynda (Philip) Mullally, Carole (Paul) Gmelin, Allan G. Teasel, David L. (Cindy) Teasel, Alana Hoeft, Dinah (William) Brinson, Cathy (Harold) Burton; 15 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren; and by his sisters, Thelma (Howard) Armstrong, Norma (Norton) Caswell, Ann Ries, Juanita (George) Rogers. He is preceded in death by sisters, Hazel, Jean and Mildred and by brothers, Roy, Harold and Ralph. Also surviving are a host of nieces and nephews and their families and a multitude of friends who join with his family

Age 65, passed away January 14 2015 with his wife at his side. He was born on May 17, 1949 in Mt. Clemens, son of the late Donald Shirley Maynard. Mark was a proud Army veteran serving in the Vietnam War. He was awarded the Purple Heart, Bronze Star and Army Commendation Medal for bravery and valor. He was wounded while trying to save his squadron from enemy mortar, rocket-propelled grenade and automatic weapons fire. He will always be remembered for his generous, selfless nature and his willingness to always help others. Mark enjoyed training horses for harness racing and was a huge Detroit Tigers fan. He is survived by his beloved wife of 45 years, Paula. He was preceded in death by his parents. Donations may be made to Wounded War-Arrangements PHILLIPS FUNERAL HOME. www.phillipsfuneral.com

FASTSIGNS relocating from Northville to Livonia

Signs and graphics provider FASTSIGNS of Northville has moved to a larger facility at 37148 Six Mile, Livonia.

'Our new location allows us to serve our customers even better with increased squarefootage and the location is in a more convenient area for customers to come and go," said Kevin Miller, who co-owns FASTSIGNS with Roger Cunningham. "The added space allows for a much larger production area that will help us meet the demand for high volume signage projects and quick turnaround."

Options for moving money from a discontinued 401 (k) plan

Q: Dear Rick: In 2015, my company is discontinuing its 401(k) plan. The company says that, at least for the next few years, we could leave the money in the plan or move it into an IRA. Should I leave my money or move it? If I move it, should I use a Roth IRA or a traditional IRA? I want to continue to contribute for my retirement. Since I can't do a 401(k), what are my other options?

A: It's a shame that your company had to discontinue its 401(k) plan. A 401(k) plan is a convenient way to save for retirement. However, you do have other options.

In reviewing your situation, I recommend a direct transfer from your 401(k) plan into an IRA. By directly trans-and the money can continue to grow tax-deferred. Another benefit of moving the money into an IRA is that you will have total control of your money. In a 401(k) plan, you are limited to the company's options. In an IRA, you can invest in anything that you choose.

The one potential downside of an IRA is that you do not have the same flexibility to borrow the money as with a 401(k) plan. However, if that is important to you, you need to confirm that you still will be able to borrow from the plan if it is discontinued. I believe that 401(k) loans should be avoided in the majority of situations.

If you decide to directly transfer the money, the key is to make sure that you are smart in how you invest the money. I am a believer of low-cost, commission-free investing. Companies like Vanguard, Fidelity, Charles Schwab and TD Ameritrade all offer a host of low-cost, commission-free funds. Also, Fidelity, TD Ameritrade and Charles Schwab have local branches.

As to whether the money should go into a Roth IRA or a traditional IRA, I recommend a traditional IRA. If you put the money into a Roth IRA, the entire amount will be currently taxed to you. If you want to convert some of your IRA into a Roth IRA on a yearly basis, that may make sense.

With regard to new contributions, the most tax efficient way is to use an IRA. If you contribute to a traditional IRA, you should be able to deduct your contributions. If you contribute into a Roth IRA, you would not get a tax write-off, but the money grows tax-free and would also not be subject to the required minimum distributions

Good luck.

Manufacturing meeting at Schoolcraft

The Procurement Technical Assistance Center of Schoolcraft College has scheduled its inaugural Subcommittee on Manufacturing meeting for Jan. 27 at Schoolc: ait College in Livonia. The manufacturing group discussion will be led by Chairman David Nelson of the Michigan Manufacturing Technology Center.

'Michigan continues to have a lot of energy behind, and opportunity for, manufacturing excellence," said Alexander Masters, the procurement counselor who oversees and serves as a liaison to the PTAC of Schoolcraft College's committees and councils. "A key objective and goal in hosting this manufacturing group of executives and senior-level employees is to encourage new ways in which to strengthen our state's competitiveness in providing manufacturing support to the federal marketplace's needs."

Masters further remarked on the need to ave federal contractor be a resource to one another as well, saying that the greatest opportunity for government contracting success lies in best practices, recommendations for strategic program enhancements, and avenues for dialogue on key topics and industry discussions. Membership to the committee is open to firms who are demonstrating existing or strong government contracting potential, while also having been in existence for at least two years. Firms interested in attending should reach out to Masters by email at amasters@schoolcraft.edu.

Additional questions and comments may be directed to the PTAC of Schoolcraft College team by phone at 734-462-4438 or by email at inforeq@schoolcraft.edu.

DFCU Financial rewards members with $24 million cash back

DFCII Financial credit union announced that more than 100,000 members are receiving a piece of its $24 million payday.

"At DFCU Financial, returning cash back to our members is our way of saying 'thank you' for their loyalty," said Mark Shobe, president and CEO. DFCU Financial.

DFCU Financial's streamlined structure and management approach have allowed it to pay a collective $181 million to its members since 2006, a sum DFCU said is larger than any financial institution in the United States. This year's reward surpasses last year's $23 million payout by DFCU Financial.

The organization returns approximately half of its annual earnings to members, who receive 0.50 percent cash back on their portfolios — which may include checking, savings, auto and mortgage loans and credit cards — annually.

In 2015, members received an average cash back direct deposit of $250 and the largest reward totaled $18,000. In many cases, members' cash back rewards are significant enough to pay a mortgage or car pay-

Northville's Henoch named Beaumont Health V.P.

Gene Michalski, president and CEO of newly formed Beaumont Health, announced an organizational structure that will drive integration and guide the new health organization in achieving its vision for high-quality, high-value health care with a seamless patient experience.

Michalski and the Beaumont Health C-suite executive team also announced the appointments of the next level of top executives for the $3.8 billion not-for-profit health care organization. Newly named Beaumont Health senior vice presidents include Dr. Malcolm Henoch Northville, associate chief medical officer, acute care.

"Our new, combined executive team brings a wealth of experience and knowledge with a drive to create an extraordinary experience for those being served or working at Beaumont Health," Michalski said.

The new health organization, formed Sept. 2, 2014, is entering its next phase of integrating operations and best practices of Beaumont Health System, Botsford Health Care and Oakwood Healthcare.

Some of that work will be accomplished by members of two councils announced by Michalski in December.

A new Hospital and Ambulatory Council will identify and implement integration strategies for electronic health record implementation and supply chain, and provide a forum to evaluate system-wide opportunities to improve quality of care and operations.

A Post-Acute and Diversified Business Council will identify and implement strategies to ensure coordination of high quality patient care across all settings of care. This council will review

OUR VIEW

Help young people achieve their dreams by mentoring

It's an observation that has been used so often, it has lost some of its impact. But it is still as important today as it was in 1996, when First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton coined it. Yes, it takes a village to raise a child, but it also takes people willing to give of their time to make that happen.

This is National Mentoring Month. For 14 years, January has been set aside to recognize people who serve as mentors and issue a call for more people to get involved in helping our youth become productive members of society.

The roads young people follow today are filled with pitfalls that can lead them astray. In January 2014, MENTOR published The Mentoring Effect, the first-ever nationally representative survey of young people on the topic of mentoring. The report shows that "quality mentoring relationships can play a powerful role in providing young peo-ple with the tools they need to make responsible decisions, stay focused and engaged in school, achieve academic and personal goals and reduce or avoid risky behavior like skipping school, drug use and other negative activities." The report also shows one in three young people will reach adulthood without such a powerful asset.

President Barack Obama, in proclaiming January as National Mentoring Month, noted that, "In a nation of limitless possibility, every child deserves the chance to unlock his or her potential. When young Americans have the support they need to make the most of themselves, they can achieve their dreams and strengthen our country, which has always moved forward by extending ladders of opportunity to the next generation.'

Those "ladders of opportunity" are available in our communities through local programs like Youth Assistance, which works with young people who are having difficulties within their families, in school and in the community. In many cases, young people are referred to these programs by the police, courts, schools, parents or guardians and other agencies.

Mentoring has many benefits for all involved. According to the Federal Mentoring Council, the potential is there for better academic performance and better school attendance. Mentoring also has been linked to improvements in youths perceptions of parental relationships and better prospects for moving on to higher education.

And the benefits of mentoring go beyond that. According to the National Mentoring Partnermany mentors say that the rewards they gain are as substantial as those for they assist. Mentoring is a shared opportunity for learning

Being a mentor doesn't require advanced degrees or special skills, just a few basic qualities - a sincere desire to be involved with a young person; respect for young people; being an active listener; having empathy; seeing solutions and opportunities; and being flexible and open.

The NMP notes that: "Good mentors are willing to take time to get to know their mentees, to learn new things that are important to the young person and even to be changed by their relationship. Accept the challenges and rewards of mentoring a young person and experience the benefits that will last each ... a lifetime."

U.S. Supreme Court Justice Sonia Sotomayor may have said it best: "When a young person, even a gifted one, grows up without proximate living examples of what she may aspire to become whether lawyer, scientist, artist or leader in any realm - her goal remains abstract. Such models as appear in books or on the news, however inspiring or revered, are ultimately too remote to be real, let alone influential. But a role model in the flesh provides more than inspiration; his or her very existence is confirmation of possibilities one may have every reason to doubt, saying, 'Yes, someone like me can do this."

Be that person who can make a difference. Become a mentor. There's a young person out there waiting for someone just like you. Not sure where to start? Try the Youth Assistance programs in Novi (248-347-0410) and Northville (248-344-1618).

Less subsidizing of businesses

Why do Michigan taxpayers pay for companies to jump from one Michigan community to Tata Enterprises is in negotiations to move their world head-quarters from Novi to Royal Oak. A recent Novi News article quoted the developer as saying they are waiting to see "what incentive packages the state ... is going to contribute to fill in the gap of making this project economically feasible for Tata Technologies to move their head-quarters to Royal Oak (from

A few months ago, Harmann Becker received funding from the Michigan Economic Development Corp. and tax relief from Novi to move jobs from Far-mington Hills to Novi. A recent study by the New York Times determined that every American family pays almost $700 per year in tax incentives and subsidies from state and local governments to businesses. I question the value for Michigan taxpayers when companies pit one local community against another.

First class businesses with long-term, high-paying jobs will be attracted to our communities by excellent schools, public amenities, excellent roads and transportation, and good stewardship of taxpayer dollars. I'd like to see less subsidizing of specific businesses, and more public investment in infrastructure lik roads, bridges, and the education of our young people, from preschool through high school and beyond. That will build strong communities, and will attract business.

Swap school start times

Will there ever be a day when I can go to school more than half awake? Like other local high schools, Novi high school starts early, at 7:15 a.m., a time that is way too early for most teenagers to be alert. When we reach our teenage years, our biological sleep-wake schedule shifts to a later time, making it harder to fall asleep before 11 p.m. According to the National Sleep Foundation, teenagers need at least 81/2 to 91/2 hours of sleep. However, with a start time of 7:15 a.m. it is impossible for local nocturnally-inclined teens to get the sleep they need. Shifting the starting time to later for high school could provide significant benefits. Some U.S. school districts showed positive results after start times were changed. A study conducted in a school district in Minneapolis in 1996 provides one example, where start times were changed from 7:15 a.m. to 8:40 a.m. After three years they saw improved attendance, an increase in continuous enrollment and less tardiness. It would be difficult for anyone to argue that these improvements do not exemplify an optimization of the learning environment for teens We can help teens overcome sleep deprivation by bringing an end to early high school start times. I suggest trading the elementary school times (9:08 a.m.) with the high school time (7:15 a.m.) in the Novi school district. Shifting the start times to later in the morning provides an effective way to invigorate sleepdeprived high-schoolers and this change can provide lasting benefits for these individuals, their families and to society at large.

Minimum wage should be $10.10

Nothing can be more gifting to others than to raise one's pay, especially when the cold sets in. This year, numerous protests have prompted more violence within the nation, but about 25 percent of those protests, according to various sources, have been linked to hiking the minimum wage nationwide. Even though those protesting are mostly fast-food or retail employees, they don't deserve to be living less than what the average American citizen deserves. We cannot let poverty overtake the nation, who just six years ago climbed out of the recession.

The protests come after new research finds that the current federal minimum wage, at $7.25 per hour, isn't enough to sustain a family of three. As the inflation rate increases, the value of money decreases and with today's high prices of living, the fight for higher wages is only getting sluggish and gripping as Republicans take over Congress. Recent studies show that increasing the federal minimum wage to $10.10 would improve the quality of life for 30 million Americans.

You and I can do something about this. We can stop the poverty increase and increase the federal minimum wage. We can petition Congress to change their point of view, join those who are currently in the situation or donate to those who are suffering from this. I pledge to start today. Will you join me? If we don't change how Congress can help others, we may all be soon surrounded by beggars

Changing the rules

It seems clear the GOP is intent upon changing the rules to guarantee" the election of a GOP president in 2016. This conspiracy has been outlined by Republican Rep. Pete Lund, who with his counterparts in select other "blue states," want to manipulate the electoral college. Not nationwide, mind you, but only in select Blue States that elected President Obama but are now GOP-controlled Congress.

This naked power grab and sabotage of our electoral process should be identified for what it is. Rep. Lund and his co-conspirator were not satisfied with massive voter suppression in the last election., the GOP now wants to change the rules to rig the next election.

This sabotage and manipulation of our political process should be seen as what it is. A bunch of adolescent babies who cannot win the game so want to change the rules. Pathetic.

Oppose Electoral College bill

Voters beware — your vote for the president and the vice president may be meaningless in future years if the state Legislature adopts a proposed bill that would change how Electoral College votes are allocated. The League of Women Voters of Northwest Wayne County urges you to contact your state representative, opposing HB 5974 which would change the way Michigan votes for the president of the United States. Currently, along with 47 other states, we use the "winner takes all" system which allocates all of our 16 Electoral College votes to the candidate who wins the popular vote in Michigan.

HB 5974 would change the current system to one where the candidate who wins the statewide vote would get at least nine of the state's 16 Electoral College votes and then an additional electoral vote for each 1.5 percent point increase in their margin over the second-place finisher. The second-place finisher would get the rest of the electoral votes.

According to Crain's Detroit Business news, if this bill had been in effect in 2012, President Obama would have received 12 of the state's Electoral College votes and former Gov. Romney would have received four. This result would not have reflected the will of the majority of voters who supported the top candidate. President Obama would have received only 12 electoral votes, not the entire 16, even though he won the popular vote by 400,000

Addressing the 90 percent

If you're in the privileged 10 percent in this country, this letter is not for you. Rather, it is addressed to the poorer 90 percent of Americans who make up the economic range of declining middle class to outright poverty If you're in this majority group, then this is for you.

The problem with our economy is that you don't understand why you're doing so poorly when the economy is growing. Statistics from the Commerce Department proclaim that the GDP grew by 4.6 percent annual rate in the second quarter and 3.5 percent in the third quarter. So why does median household income continue to drop?

Our conservative leaders politicians, business leaders and the super-rich alike — tell us it's your fault. You keep wanting more, when our leaders keep explaining that the economy works better when the rich have more money and everyone else has less money.

Of course, since everybody knows that big money interests are the job creators, you've got to feel sorry for their situation. They're richer than they've ever been before, corporate profits are at record levels, executive compensation is at record highs.

But they're depressed because you're not buying enough. And so corporations aren't increasing production or investing in R&D. This spring, the Brookings Institute pointed to a reduction by half in new business formations 1980-2014. There's no point in expanding or investing if customers - that means you aren't buying.

Be proud that only a few malcontents and noisemakers are pointing to the decline in collective bargaining and unionization as a contributing factor to the decline in real wages. Less than 7 percent of our private sector workers are union members

But we're told not to believe the progressive nonsense that a higher minimum wage pushes up all other wages, and that the only way to grow the economy in a way that benefits the 90 percent is to push for a structural change in which stronger unions and a higher minimum wage play strong roles. We're also told not to believe that better public schools, access to advanced education and a more progressive tax system would help too.

Fowkes named road chairman of county road commission

Bv Laura Colvin

The May 12 statewide election to increase road funding is critical to the Road Commission for Oakland County as the agency works to repair and maintain more than 2,000 miles of paved roads and 770 miles of gravel roads in its juris-

That's the word from RCOC Commissioner Ron Fowkes, a village of Milford resident who last week was elected chairman of the RCOC's threemember board, on which he's served since 2011.

The bill, in part, would eliminate the sales tax on fuel and increase the state sales tax to 7 percent. If approved by voters, it is expected to generate $1.165 billion in new revenue for roads. A large portion of those funds – $800 million in 2016 and $400 million in 2017 - would be dedicated to MDOT debt service, with the remainder going toward roads through a state formula for funding

In 2018, all revenue for roads generated by the bill would be dedicated to new projects.

'Oakland County will be the largest recipient of additional funds, aside from MDOT, in the state," Fowkes said

In the first year, 2016, Oakland County would receive about $14 million in additional funds, $28 million in 2017 and $42 million in 2018.

"That's when we would be able to make the biggest difference," Fowkes said. "It would enable us to immediately attack and preserve roads that are rated in fair quality, which means they still have a stable base, but may be getting pot holes and surface deterioration. "We can go in and put an inch-and-a-half maintenance cap on these roads – a preservation

While the RCOC, like other Michigan agencies, has faced a funding crunch for years, Fowkes said he is "very, very proud to represent the Road Commission for Oakland County."

"We have a great team of very dedicated employees who work hard to keep our roads safe," he said. "Although our operating budget declined for much of the last decade, we are ardently committed to providing the safest roads in Michigan. Oakland County has consistently had among the lowest traffic fatality rates in the nation for a community our size and population, but it didn't happen overnight. In addition to Ron Fowkes, chairman, other members of the RCOC board include Eric Wilson, vice chairman, and former Chairman Greg Jamian. The board traditionally elects its officers at the first meeting of the new year in January. Road Commission board members are appointed by the Oakland County Board of Commissioners and serve for six-vear terms.

The three commissioners for the Road Commission for Oakland County are responsible for representing the organization in many respects.

Commissioners meet formally twice every month to approve yearly and three-year revolving budgets, major purchases, permits, right of way acquisitions, labor contracts, legal matters, winter maintenance guidelines and to award contracts for local construction projects (projects using federal dollars, such as the upcoming Milford Road project, are bid and awarded by MDOT).

Commissioners also meet with individual citizens when concerns arise, county communities and attend RCOCrelated monthly meetings and two multi-day County Road Association conferences each year.

Networking with local and state lawmakers for road construction regulations and funding issues is also an important part of the job, Fowkes said.

This dealership provides The Varsity Lincoln Advantage. Varsity Lincoln team members are selected based upon their unwavering focus on customer care and satisfaction.

"I have an MKZ from Varsity Lincoln; I've had it for about a year now. It's a beautiful interior, a beautiful exterior, it handles well on the road and gives me good gas mileage!" Lincoln MKZ owner Gary Trudeau said. "I love this place. I wouldn't even consider buying a car from anybody else!"

Jason Towe told us why he got a Lincoln, stating "I definitely love the comfort and the sportiness of the Lincoln. The cost was a big factor for me. It was actually cheaper than my last car I owned, and I feel I'm getting a better quality car for what I'm paying!"

"There are numerous benefits of purchasing a Certified Pre-Owned, including the outstanding warranty that comes with the vehicles," Law said. "The 100,000-mile, free bumper-to-bumper warranty that comes alongside all Certified Pre-Owned purchases is better than a new car warranty! Additionally, any time the vehicle is in for a service visit, you can receive a loaner for no cost exclusively at Varsity Lincoln!'

a Lincoln will satisfy any customer. Certified Pre-Owned vehicles not only provide peace of mind on the road, but also provide a combination of sportiness and luxury. Benefits include FWD or AWD, EcoBoost, Navigation, Bluetooth, SYNC, an adaptive suspension, a panoramic roof, and heated and cooled seats for comfort, just to name

"Drivers will also enjoy peace of mind from knowing that Lincoln vehicles will hold their value. Any depreciation has already been taken on by the previous owner. Plus, advanced styling and dependability add to a Lincoln vehicle's value.

"Our customers speak for themselves and how their experience is. When you read the reviews our customers write online, you can see how happy they are, before, during and after the sale," Law concluded.

Yanke steals show in Novi's triumph

Senior quard stellar in second half vs. Northville

> By Brad Emons Staff Writer

Back in 1942, George M. Cohan was known as "The Man Who Owned Broadway.

Fast forward to Jan. 16, 2015, and the Novi boys basketball team had its own version of Yankee Doodle Dandy as senior guard Max Yanke played Jimmy Cagney by popping in 16 of his 18 points during the second half to lead the host Wildcats past rival Northville, 62-54

The 6-foot-2 lefty was almost non-existent in the first half, scoring just two points, but took center stage in the pivotal fourth quarter when he exploded for 12 points, including a big triple from the left wing with 3:22 left to give Novi a seven-point cushion,

"He's a senior and I challenged my seniors today knowing this was the last Friday night home game they're going to have against Northville," Novi coach Brandon Sinawi said. "(Yanke) was struggling the first half and we sat him last (part) of the second quarter. And I talked to him at halftime and challenged him to step it up, be a senior and lead.

He's done it before this year and responded on the biggest night for us. I'm proud of him and how he's worked so hard. He deserves to win and have that fourth quarter that really lifted us."

Naji Ozeir, a 6-5 junior forward, hit three straight triples to start the second quarter and finished with 18 points to match Yanke's team-high. Senior guard Brad Dotinga, who was all over the floor defensively, pitched in with 13

Northville's 6-3 senior sharpshooter David Morrissey, as usual, paced the Mustangs scoring attack with a gamehigh 21 points before eventually fouling out late.

Junior forward Nick Wilds added 12 points, while sophomore Kevin Morrissey came off the bench to score nine.
The Mustangs shot only

22-of-69 (31.8 percent) from the floor, including 4-of-19 in the final quarter, after trailing by only two after three quarters, 42-40.

"Í think we need to play smarter for 32 minutes," said Northville coach Todd Sander, whose team slipped to 5-4 overall and 0-3 in the KLAA Central. "We do really good things for long stretches and then we have a few minutes of let-

It was there for the taking down the stretch.

But Northville made a few more plays during crunch time and sank four straight free throws in the final minute Friday to hold off host Novi, 36-31, in a match-up of KLAA Central Division girls basketball rivals.

The Mustangs went 2-of-8 from the foul line during the second half until freshman point guard Mariah Modkins stopped the bleeding by nailing two straight to give Northville a three-point cushion, 34-31, with only 47 seconds remain-

Her two free throws came after Lindsey Rathsburg came up with a huge steal with 53 seconds left.

Novi then missed an attempt with 29 seconds to go, but got a steal from Jenna Lowney with 17.4 remaining. Freshman Ellie Mackay, who led the Wildcats and all scorers with 13 points, got off 3-point attempt with only three seconds left, but it was partially blocked.

The Mustangs corralled the rebound and senior Emily Maresh went 2-of-2 from the line with only 1.3 seconds remaining to seal the victory.

"As well as we shot foul shots in the first half (5-of-6), an opposite job in the second half," said Northville coach Todd Gudith, whose team con-

Wildcats win hockey rematch

Hofelich, Richardson star in triumph over Northville

> By Brad Emons Staff Writer

Brad Hofelich ignited the offense and goaltender Josh Richardson sparked the defense as Novi avenged an earlier boys hockey loss this season to Northville with a 4-2 victory Friday night over the Mustangs at Novi Ice Arena.

Northville, ranked No. 5 in Division 1, won the first meeting between the stateranked teams Nov. 26 by a 4-3

But this time it was Novi's turn as the Wildcats, ranked No. 7 in Division 2, improved to 10-5 overall and 4-3 in the KLAA's Central Division.

Hofelich, a senior, finished with two goals and two assists, while Richardson, a junior, stepped up by making 25 saves.

"I think he kind of solidified himself as our number one goalie," Novi coach Mark Vellucci said of Richardson. "He kind of did up in Calumet (with 34 saves in a 4-3 win Jan. 9). The boys have a lot of confidence in him and I think he's gaining confidence, too. He definitely played well within himself."

Novi jumped out to a 2-0 first-period lead on goals by Bryan Fegert (from Ryan Baxter and Hofelich) and Hofelich (from Baxter and Fegert).

Northville then cut the deficit to 2-1 with 1:46 left on Kevin O'Connell's goal off an assist from Alex Meacham.

"Unfortunately we've been coming out slow in the first period this year," Northville coach Clint Robert said. "It's kind of been our Achilles' heel and we've been able to battle back and make up for that. The ice was fairly tilted in our favor the second period, but Richardson did a

Quinn takes over Northville volleyball reins

Yaklin steps down, will continue as assistant

> By Brad Emons Staff Writer

There's been a passing of the torch in the Northville varsity volleyball program.

Amanda Yaklin, who guided the Mustangs to back-toback Class A final four appearances, is stepping aside after six seasons as head coach.

Yaklin's successor is Rebecca Quinn, who was hired in mid-December. Quinn served as a volunteer assistant last season and works on the Force Volleyball Academy staff with

"Due to increased outside commitments, Amanda had to step down from the head coaching position," Northville A.D. Bryan Masi said. "But we're very happy that she's going to continue in the program. We're hoping we won't miss a step. Amanda is staying on as an assistant and taking a lesser role.'

The 29-year-old Quinn most recently served as the varsity volleyball and softball coach at St. Clair Shores Lakeview High School (2010-13). She was also JV coach and was a varsity volleyball assistant at Bloomfield Hills Lahser.

"Rebecca brings a wealth of experience and knowledge," Masi said. "Her dedication, passion and character will help our volleyball program continue to build a rich tradition of success.'

Quinn is a 2003 graduate of Auburn Hills Oakland Christian High, where she earned all-state honors in both volleyball and softball.

NHS grad Alashe finds way to San Jose

Ex-Mustang taken fourth overall in MLS SuperDraft

> By Brad Emons Staff Writer

It was apparent that Northville High grad Fatai Prince Alashe registered pretty high on the Richter Scale for the Major League Soccer's San Jose Earthquakes.

The 21-year-old midfielder, who started 80 of 85 games during his college career at Michigan State, was taken No. 4 overall Thursday in the 2015 MLS SuperDraft by the Quakes, who finished last in the Western Conference with a 6-16-12 record.

"I'm just really excited," Alashe said during a session with the media following his selection at the Pennsylvania Convention Center in Philadelphia. "I think my interview with them went pretty well; I'm pretty excited about it. I definitely enjoyed their coaching staff, the guys I met at the meeting. I'm glad they took a chance on me and decided to draft me. It's really exciting to get going and start going to work.'

Alashe tallied 14 goals and 15 assists during his MSU career. As a senior, he was named a second team All-America by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. He also earned NSCAA all-Midwest Region and all-Big Ten tournament honors last season.

Alashe finished the year with eight goals and eight assists as the Spartans reached the elite eight of the NCAA tournament before falling 3-2 to Providence College.

Earthquakes head coach Dominic Kinnear said Alashe was the best player available at the No. 4 slot.

MLSSOCCER.COM Northville High grad Fatai Alashe, who played four seasons at Michigan State, was taken by San Jose fourth overall Jan. 15 in the MLS SuperDraft.

"Fatai is a good allaround midfielder with a lot of range," Kinnear told sjearthquakes.com. "He can play in the holding role or a little farther up the field, so we are very happy to get him. We interviewed a number of players at the combine and he impressed us there as well. He is a player with a lot of promise and we are looking forward to seeing him when training camp opens.'

Alashe, the highest pro draft selection ever to come out of Michigan State, was unable to compete in the MLS Draft Combine due to a groin injury he suffered on the first day.

Kinnear, however, was impressed by the 21year-old's response to the question of where he sees himself in five

"He goes, 'I see my-self as an MLS all-star,'" Kinnear told panelists on the MLS live draft coverage. "He doesn't have his sights on something else. He wants to come in and play right away and that had a good impression on us.

In 2013, Alashe earned all-Big Ten tournament honors and was on the 2010 all-Big Ten freshman team. Alashe, an economics major, was also named a Big Ten Distinguished Scholar as a junior.

Alashe comes from a soccer family. His older brother Latif, also a former all-state player at Northville High, earned four letters while playing at the University of Michigan. During his junior and senior years at Northville, Fatai earned all-state honors both seasons, scoring 10 and nine goals, respectively. "I've always been a pretty physical player," the 6-0, 173-pound Alashe told mlssoccer.com. "I think I have a lot of growing to do coming into the league. Everyone's bigger, stronger, more physical, stuff like that. But I definitely think I can hold my own. We'll see how it goes at the start of preseason. I'll get a good feel for it and I'm a pretty quick learner and good at adapting to different playing styles. So I think I'll be all right.' Training camp is right around the corner for Alashe. The Earthquakes open their MLS season March 7 at FC Dallas.

'Never been there before," Alashe said of San Jose, "but I'm from Michigan and we're not used to warm weather, so I'm excited to go there.'

Northville girls hockey team has tough two-game stretch

Northville found itself going through the gauntlet last weekend of the Michigan Metro Girls High School Hockey League. Grace Healey enjoyed a four-point night Sunday, but it wasn't enough as the Mustangs fell to Division 1 leader Grosse Pointe South, 8-4, at Livonia's Edgar Arena

The Blue Devils, who improved to 10-0 overall and 10-0 in Division 1, got two goals and one assist from Ava Russano, while Erin Brannagan added a pair of goals, Lauren Kramer also finished with a goal and two assists

Northville (1-9, 1-9) was outshot 30-24 as Healey collected a goal and three assists.

Mo Hackett also contributed a goal and assist, while Claire Murray and Kendall Murray each tallied a goal. Other Northville assists went to Megan Kerr and Emily Comben.
Isobel Bush started in goal for the Mustangs, making 13 saves while allowing six goals. She was replaced by Annette Taylor, who played the second half while making nine saves and yielding two Bridget Donaldson made 20 saves for the Blue Devils, who led 3-1 after one period and 8-2 after two.

Northville fell 9-1 in a Division 1 encounter Saturday to secondplace Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook (9-1, 9-1) at Wallace Ice Arena.

Ramsden spoiled Natalie Keoleian's shutout bid with an unassisted goal with 11:19 left. The Cranbrook goaltender made eight

Culver deals Shamrocks icers first two setbacks

Goals proved hard to come by over the weekend as Novi Detroit Catholic Central, the state's top-ranked team in Division 1, dropped a pair of games against host Culver (Ind.) Military Academy at Henderson Ice Arena.

Culver completed its two-game sweep Saturday with a 3-1 victory over the Shamrocks, who slipped to 10-2-1 overall.

The Eagles (21-5-1) led 1-0 after one period on Karch Bachman's unassisted goal and went up 2-0 after two on a Michael Curtis goal from Spencer Page and James

Catholic Central, the three-time defending MHSAA Division 1 state champion, got its first goal of the weekend with 5:55 remaining in the final period on Andrew Lane's tally from Ryan

But Culver answered just 13 seconds later after winning the faceoff on Dominic Garcia's goal from James Collins.

Culver goaltender Dean Shatzer made 19 saves, while CC's Spencer Wright had 22 saves.

The Shamrocks were held without a shot during the final period Friday while suffering their first setback of the season as Culver skated to a 4-0 win.

The Shamrocks were outshot by only one, 16-15, through the first two periods.

Culver got first-period goals from Collins and Zachary Main to jump out to a 2-0 advantage. The Eagles padded their advantage to 4-0 after two periods on goals by Bachman and Brennan Kapcheck.

Culver goaltender Nicholas McNab notched his fourth shutout of the year and improved his personal record to 10-1-1.

Alec Calvaruso made 22 saves for CC.
NORTHVILLE 6, CANTON 1: On Monday, the Mustangs (11-2-1, 5-2) pulled away with three unanswered goals in the final period to beat the visiting Chiefs (3-7-2, 0-5-2) in a KLAA Kensington Conference crossover at Novi Ice Arena.

"Other than our top line, we talked about shuffling our lines to find some secondary scoring," Northville coach Clint Robert said. "It's not because of lack of effort because they've been playing well. We just wanted to shake things up and four of our six goals tonight came from the other lines."

Northville led 1-0 after one period on Anthony Solak's goal from Nick Strom and Brendan Hicks. The Mustangs increased their lead to 3-0 in the second period on goals by Hicks (from Solak and Strom) and by Alec Morgar (from Jack Meacham and Kevin O'Connell). Canton's Brian Oldani countered with a Canton's Brian Urdani countered with a second-period power play goal from Cooper Rice and Connor Wherrett.

But Northville put it away on goals by Morgan (from Meacham and O'Connell);

Kyle Danns (from Riley Brass and Hicks); and Danns again (from Sam Bradley and Zach Osaer).

Northville goalie Chance Boutin made 19 saves, while Canton's Nick Borg turned NOVI 2, BRIGHTON 2: Brad Hofelich's goal with only 5:44 remaining Saturday enabled the host Wildcats (10-5-1, 4-3-1) to earn a tie against the KLAA Central Division-leading Bulldogs (7-6-2, 4-0-2) at Novi Ice Arena. Novi led 1-0 after one period on Bryan

Fegert's goal at 5:38 from Ryan Baxter and Hofelich, but Brighton squared the game at 1-1 on Lee Pietila's goal from Jay Keranen at 11:36 of the second period.

Colin Bilek then put the Bulldogs ahead

Novi jumped out to a 2-1 advantage after one period on goals by Pat Wojtylo (from Brad Hofelich and Ryan Baxter at 3:46) and Hofelich on a power play (from Bryan Fegert and Baxter at 5:49). Fifth-ranked Hartland got a first-period goal from Logan Quinn (from Nathan Lipon)

The second period was all Wildcats as Nik Tewilliager got things started at 1:02 on a goal from Wojtylo before Hartland's Trevor Murray answered just 21 seconds later from

Seventh-ranked Novi then scored three in a row to take a 6-2 lead on goals by Tewiliager (from Andy Mizerowski and Jimmy Hole at 3:51); Brandon Kour on power play (from Wojtylo and Hole at 10:51); and Brendan Wexler (from Alex Wells and Tewiliager at 12:42).

The Eagles' Nick Snyder tallied a shorthanded goal with 15:11 remaining in the third from Lipon and Dan Smith. Lipon then scored from Quinn and Brendan Lipon with only 1:09 remaining to trim the deficit to two, but Novi held on as goalie Ryuta King made 15 saves on the great job keeping us off the scoreboard. Finally, we kind had kind of a nice bounce for us and (O'Connell) was able to get the puck and get a nice wraparound when goalie looked that other way. That was huge for US.

But Novi answered just 2:35 into the final period as Brendan Wexler tallied a power-play goal from Fegert and Hofelich to make it 3-1.

"We certainly felt like we had the momentum going into the third period," Robert said. "We took a penalty and they scored with eight seconds left on the power play. We were poised to kill it. We felt good if we had killed that penalty and be where we wanted to be."

Northville, however, made it a 3-2 game with 9:16 to go taking advantage of a five-on-three as Alec Morgan scored on a power play from Nick Strom and Meacham.

But the Wildcats put it away with 2:22 remaining on Hofelich's powerplay goal from Baxter and Pat Wojtylo.

"We played a solid game," said Vellucci, who notched his first win in four tries coaching against the Mustangs. "We made a whole commitment to defense tonight. Everyone was all in and concentrated. Our

"The crowd was really into it. It was a high, intense game. Very few penalties, none in (the) first. It was great, great night for hockey, great crowd."

Northville senior goaltender Chance Boutin made 17 saves as Northville fell to 10-2-1 overall and 4-2 in the KLAA Central.

"I give my boys a lot of credit," Robert said. "They didn't quit, kept battling and battling. Morgan had a breakaway and Richardson made a great save to keep it 3-2, then we took an unfortunate penalty. I was looking forward to seeing how the game would play out. I kept thinking to myself, 'We're going to get the tying goal.' I don't know at what point. I was confident we were going to tie the game, but the penalty took that option away and that changed the whole thing.'

Despite the loss, Robert said the season series between the two schools couldn't get any closer.

"This is my seventh season coaching Novi-Northville and I really think these two teams are the most evenly matched," he said. "Two great games of high school hockey. It's very disappointing to lose, but it was fun to be a part of a really good hockey game."

Rice needs overtime to slip past rival Catholic Central

Warriors take down Shamrocks, 59-53

By Marty Budner

Brother Rice and Catholic Central always seem to provide classic sports entertainment. Friday night was no different.

In a physical basketball battle that took more than two hours to complete and featured a combined 71 foul shots, the Warriors needed overtime to slip past the pesky Shamrocks.

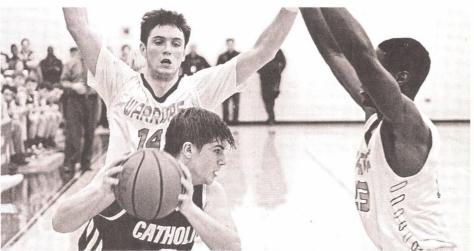

The final score was

"Of course it was a fun game to watch, it was CC-Brother Rice," said Shamrocks coach Bill Dyer, whose team fell to 3-5 overall. "I played in the Catholic League and I've coached in the Catholic League for close to 20 years now. I'm used to these kind of games.'

Rice, which raised its record to 7-1 and remained perfect in the Central Division at 2-0, hadn't played in a week due to exams. Veteran coach Ed Shaffer indicated the layoff might have caused his team's rustiness

"We couldn't make a shot early on and credit to them," Shaffer said. "We've been playing well, but we had Tuesday off and I think that kind of hurt us. But our problem was we used that as an excuse.

"We know how tough CC is going to play and and that's Catholic League basketball," he added. "Somehow we got out of it. I don't know if we deserved it. We talked about grinding one out and we knew we were going to have to do that and I guess that's what we did. That was a grind."

CC took the early advantage with a 10-0 lead. Rice's first basket came four minutes in on a trey by Jaqualin Han-

The Shamrocks, led by sophomore forward C.J. Baird, went on to 22-14 halftime lead and maintained a 33-30 advantage heading into the fourth quarter. Rice outscored CC by a 16-13 margin in the final eight minutes to force overtime. The Warriors got a couple of late steals and finally tied the game on a pair of free throws with 10 seconds left by senior forward Kevin Hayes.

In OT, Rice won the tip and took its first lead of the game on a layup by senior forward Drew Gallagher. CC senior guard Champ Kozlowski responded with a trey to put his team up by a point, 49-48.

However, Hayes followed with a tip-in to give Rice a 50-49 lead, an advantage it would never relinquish. The Warriors outscored the Shamrocks by a 9-4 margin from that point on to earn the hard-fought victory. 'They were just a more veteran team than us and they made great plays down the stretch,' Dyer said. "We had the lead late, but they played better with the lead than we did. We had some casual turnovers and we missed some free throws."

Hayes, who was 12of-19 from the free-throw line, finished with a game-high 22 points. Gallagher, who hit 10 free throws, was Rice's next leading scorer with 13. Senior guard Ryan Jordan canned nine points for Rice, which was 27-of-46 from the charity stripe.

Baird was CC's leading scorer with 19 points and senior center Ike Marchie added 14. The Shamrocks were 14-of-25 from the line.

"I really thought we made progress tonight," Dyer said. "We made some good strides and we got better as a team this week in practice and it showed tonight. But we just didn't do a good job finishing tonight. If we can do that, we'll really be going in the right direction. I believe in

"And quite frankly, that was keeping the game as close as it was. I thought if we had made our foul shots in the second half. we could have stretched the lead from three to five to seven. And we were never able to stretch the lead.

Sophomore forward Jessica Moorman, who fouled out late, led Northville with 11 points, while freshman guard Kendall Dillon added nine off the bench. Sophomore forward Brook Adams also chipped in seven.

'We had a few (eight) turnovers, especially the first quarter," said Gudith, whose team led 12-9 after one quarter, but was tied 19-19 at intermission. "I think we were trying to win the game in the first three minutes. I told the kids at halftime that it's still a 32-minute going to be done in three minutes. It was more unforced turnovers. We were playing maybe a little too fast out there."

The Mustangs managed to bring a 29-26 advantage into the final quarter, but then started missing free throws in the fourth.

"We survived," Gudith said. "We knew it was going to be a tough game. Both teams are kind mirror images of each other in terms of roster. We both have a lot of youth on our teams.'

Northville improved to 7-2 overall and 2-1 in the KLAA Central.

"It was a big game naturally because of the rivalry, but it was a big game for the division, Gudith said. "We're sitting one loss behind Salem and to go down two games to Salem now, even though it's early in the division, it's a big mountain you have to try and climb if you want to get back into the division race because we didn't want to go down two games to Salem already."

"That's not very good, but I think the missed free throws in the first half (3-of-8) where we missed five of them, didn't do us any favors," Novi coach Bill Kelp said. "Northville has a lot of talent and I'm just proud of how hard we played. At times tonight, I had three freshmen on the court. We're just trying to get better and learn from it." Northville had more turnovers (20) than Novi (17). Kelp thought that number was too high for his team.

"We got to quit turning the ball over ... unforced turnovers," he said. "I think since we're so young we want to play fast, but we play in a hurry too much. We want to play fast, but we don't want to play in a hurry.'

Senior Kelsey Miller added seven points, but Mackay was the only Wildcat to score in double figures.

"She's a special little player and hopefully she keeps developing," Kelp said of his ninth-grade guard. "She's got a lot to learn, but she plays without fear and that's a quality that any coach wants to have in a player."

The two teams will meet again Friday, Feb. 6, at Northville.

Northville also didn't help itself at the foul line going 7-of-18 (38.8 percent)

"We feel we have a lot of guys that can shoot it, not necessarily too much," Sander said. "We had guys step up, but it seems to be a different guy every game right now. We just got to be more consistent.'

Northville went to a zone two different times to try to force the Wildcats to shoot from the perimeter. Novi was 21-of-42 from the floor (50 percent) and 13-of-22 from the foul line.

"We're not the greatest outside shooting team and (Sander) knows that," Sinawi said. "He does his homework on us. He switched it up, too, because (Morrissey) was in foul trouble. But (Yanke) stepped up and hit some shots. We had good ball movement and a couple of turnovers out of it. But all in all, we played well against it." Despite the loss, Sander saw many positives. "I'm proud of my kids, I'm proud of how they fought," he said. "Typical Northville-Novi game. really crazy, wild finish. But (Novi) played well. They made a lot of shots early."

The two rivals will meet again Friday, Feb. 6, at Northville.

Franklin Road upended, makes coaching change

Brown resigns after six games with Warriors

By Brad Emons Staff Writer

Novi Franklin Road Christian will have a different voice on the bench for the remainder of the boys basketball season after Renardo Brown reportedly stepped down following a 2-4 start.

Athletic director Glynn Blackwell will serve as interim coach and he was greeted Jan. 13 by three-time defending MHSAA Class D state champion Southfield Christian, which rolled to a 68-40 victory.

Assisting Blackwell on the bench was Franklin Road school superintendent Dan Robinson, who formerly coached at Livonia Franklin, along with current assistant Dominique Williams.

Brown, a native of Highland Park who played at West Virginia University, went 12-10 last season. He could not be reached for comment.

Blackwell, also a Highland Park High grad who played four seasons at the University of Illinois, declined to go into specifics regarding Brown's sudden resignation.

"I would just say this - (Brown) was a great guy and did a good job, imparted a lot to the kids and so (I) decided to go in a different direction," Blackwell said.

Southfield Christian, which improved to 4-2 overall and 3-0 in the Blue Division of the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference, led 15-5 after one quarter and 33-14 at halftime as junior forward Marlo Brown and freshman forward Bryce Washington combined for 20 points.

The 6-4 Brown, the only returning starter from last year's state championship squad, finished with a gamehigh 24 to go along with 17 rebounds, while the 6-2 Washington added 23 points.

Franklin Road (2-5, 0-2) simply could not trade baskets with the Eagles during the second half and the Warriors had a difficult time grabbing defensive rebounds.

Austin Hearns, a junior guard, finished with a team-high 16 points, while junior guard Gavin Harris added 10 for the Warriors, who didn't help themselves at the freethrow line going 18of-34 (52.9 percent).

"What we're trying to accomplish this year is that we want to compete every game," Blackwell said. "We have some athleticism, we have some size, so we're just trying to work out the kinks. We're going to work on the details. Like tonight - a lot of missed layups, missed free throws, those are things that will allow us to keep us in the game a lot better. We know Southfield Christian is a great team. We did pretty well against their trap, their press breaks, but again we're focusing on details, more discipline and hopefully they'll buy into those things.'

Blackwell said he won't make wholesale changes going forward.

"Every coach has a different philosophy and I'm not going to try and tweak it too much, because I don't want it to be too overwhelming for them," he said. "Besides, coach Brown and I worked together on some of the plays. I was more like a spot coach. I just didn't do the day-to-day coaching as coach Brown did."

Trio goes unbeaten for Novi grapplers

It was a perfect week for three Novi wrestlers following a team-dual tournament Saturday at Chelsea, where the Wildcats finished with a 3-2 record

That fourth-place finish was preceded by a KLAA Central Division double-dual victory Jan. 14 against host Salem (36-27) and rival Northville (45-24).

Junior Willie Jackson (125 pounds), senior Evan Davis (135) and Kyle Benkarski (152) each finished 7-0 as the Wildcats improved to 12-9 overall and 2-0 in the KLAA

In the Chelsea tourney, Novi defeated Jackson Northwest (45-18), Linden (42-30) and Team X (75-0), while falling to Dearborn Edsel Ford (37-29) and Jackson

In addition to Jackson, Davis and Benkarski each going 5-0 on the day, the Wildcats also strong showings from Zach Roach (103), 4-1; Cooper Smith (215), 3-1; Dorian Haney (285), 2-0; and Jared Engebretson (285), 2-1.

Earning victories against Salem included Roach, Jackson, Davis, Benkarski, Neil Haakenson (160) and Engebretson.

Meanwhile, scoring wins over the Mustangs for Novi were Roach, Eric Wright (112), Jackson, Davis, Lincoln Cleary (140), Chase Sparling (145), Benkarski, Haakenson, Smith and Haney.

Mustangs go 0-4

Northville lost all four matches Saturday at the Chelsea tourney as senior captain Shuhne Wang (125 pounds) went 4-0 on the day and remained unbeaten since the Wayne County tourna-

The Mustangs also lost a double-dual Jan. 14 to Novi (45-24) and Livonia Stevenson (45-30).

Groves touches out Novi swimmers in final relay

By Brad Emons Staff Writer

Birmingham Groves made a late surge Jan. 13 to hand host Novi its first boys swim setback of the season, 94-92, in a meet that wasn't decided until the final event.

Vincent Weber led a onetwo-three sweep in the 100yard breaststroke (1:03.71) as the Falcons outscored Novi 13-3 to pull even at 86-86 heading into the 400 freestyle

Groves' foursome of Nathan Lazor, Cal Cerny, Andrew Dagenais and Biondo Connor Biondo then scored the all-important eight points for first place in 3:22.47 as Novi's teams settled for second and third, respectively, to provide the two-point margin of victory. Despite the loss, Novi coach Brent Pohlonski was encouraged by the results.

"I was very happy with this meet," said Pohlonski, whose team slipped to 4-1 overall. "It was very satisfying to put some of our guys in different events and still be competitive with a quality team like Groves."

Shamrocks complete big week of wrestling

> By Brad Emons Staff Writer

It proved to be a highly productive week for the No. 2-ranked Novi Detroit Catholic Central wrestling team.

It started Jan. 15 for the Shamrocks with a 34-30 dual meet road victory over No. 3 Davison, followed by a 5-0 showing en route to the team title Saturday at the Macomb Dakota Duals.

CC, which improved to 14-2 overall, outscored its five opponents by a combined 283-63, with wins coming against Madison Heights Lamphere (58-12), host Dakota (36-26), Warren Woods Tower (64-13), Milford (60-6) and Sterling Heights Stevenson (65-6).

"It was a good day for us," CC coach Mitch Hancock said. "Our schedule the last four weeks has been brutal, so this was a nice opportunity for us to get our offense going, pick up some quality wins and work on some things we may not get

Going unbeaten on the day for the Shamrocks were Nick Giese, 5-0; Tommy Herrmann, Trevor Zdebski and Blake

Bueter, 4-0 each; Aidan Wagh, Conor Cox and Myles Amine, 3-0 apiece.

Joe Lyon also went 3-1 highlighted by a victory over Lamphere's Matt Guzinski, ranked No. 10 in Division 3 by MichiganGrappler.com. Lyon also beat state placer Zach Prater of Dakota, 3-2.

"Dakota matches up with us pretty well," Hancock said. We need to learn how to finish out matches and do a better job a limiting team bonus points.

Others CC grapplers with winning records on the day included Nick Jenkins, Stone Moscovic, Ty Johnson, Jake Rioux and Aaron Rehfeldt at 3-2 each. Sam Giese went 2-1, while Josh Filban finished 2-2. Daniel Rehfeldt also won his only match.

In the win over Davison, CC captured eight of 14 matches while scoring bonus points in four of those victories.

Cox (171) clinched the victory when broke a 30-all deadlock in the final match with a 13-5 major decision to sew up the victory

Meanwhile, at 125 pounds, Herrmann came up with signature 7-6 upset victory over No. 4-ranked Devon Perez.

"Tommy is turning the corner and showing the state that he can wrestle with the best of them," Hancock said. "He is starting to believe in himself and wrestle through situations he may have given up on in December.'

Sophomore Tyler Morland returned to the lineup for the first time since last February's team state tournament. He weighed in a 171, but racked up a first-period pin at 189 to spark momentum for threetime defending MHSAA Division 1 champions.

"It was great to see him back in a singlet and competing under the lights," Hancock said of Morland. "He has put in a lot of time and has been pretty patient with his return plan. He adds a huge punch to our lineup and makes us a much more versatile team lineup

Also, picking up key wins for the Shamrocks were Amine, Zdebski and Giese.

Amine scored a 10-0 major decision over fourth-ranked Brendan McRill at 160, while Zdebski pinned Ryan Schlak.

Giese bumped to 215 and beat a seasoned Jake Ellis, 1-0, while Jenkins (285) also picked up a victory against returning regional qualifier Dakota Powers with a 1-0 double-overtime decision.

Freshman Maibach fuels Northville dual swim victory over South Lyon

Northville captured nine out of 12 events as freshman Kirk Maibach figured in four firstplace finishes Jan. 15 in a 145.5-61.5 KLAA Central Division boys swim victory over South Lyon United in a meet held at South Lyon East.

Maibach captured firsts in the 200-yard individual medley (2:08.04) and 100 freestyle (50.26). He also teamed with Chris Geng, Troy Stacer and Mark Kaminski for a win in the 200 medley relay (1:43.96).

Maibach also anchored the Mustangs' victorious 200 freestyle relay, with Geng, Yash Bajaj and Nirek Sharma in time of 1:35.78.

Other individual winners for Northville included James Xue, 200 freestyle (1:49.97) Stacer, 100 butterfly (58.52); Matthew Schafer, 500 freestyle (4:59.31); and Geng, 100 breaststroke (1:02.0).

Northville's 400 freestyle relay team of Kaminski, Larry Zhao, Fred Schulz and Xue also touched the wall first in 3:30.4. South Lyon was led by Nick VanDyke, who captured the 50 freestyle (22.83) and 100 backstroke (56.37). "Overall, we had some positive swims," Northville coach Rich Bennetts said. "I'm still not happy with the way we are finishing our races and the relays continue to be a major area of concern for us moving forward."

With the victory, Northville improves to 5-1 overall and 1-0 in the division.

"We have six weeks to get things where they need to be if we want to accomplish any of our goals for the season," Bennetts said. "At this point, we will be using our dual meets to make sure we can get the best possible lineup for our (Kensington) conference meet. If the relays don't come around, we will be in trouble, but the boys are working hard at it and we are making progress.'

Mustangs place ninth

Northville's Brooke Stecker scored 8.2 on floor exercise as the Mustangs placed ninth out of 18 teams Saturday in the Jeanne Caruss Memorial Invitational gymnastics meet at White Lake Lakeland. Defending state champ Canton captured the team title with 144.90, while Northville's total was 130.425. Other standout performers for the Mustangs included captain Alyssa Breen, vault (8.75); Erin McCallum, uneven bars (8.5); and Maddie Dragon, beam (8.425). On Monday, the Mustangs scored 132.20 to defeat Lakeland-Milford (131.775) and Fowlerville (118.125) in a tri-meet at the Hartland Sport Center's Bounce Gym. Turning in top performances were McCallum, floor exercise (8.65); Lauren Shanahan, vault (8.6); Grace Jankowski, uneven bars (8.25); and Dragon, balance beam (8.25).

Insurance coverage is essential for renters.

Insurance pros: Renter's policy provides critical coverage

By Julie Brown Staff Writer

A few weeks ago, a metro Detroit family lost their possessions in a fire, and didn't have renter's insurance. The Westland community has also been hard hit by apartment fires recently. Local insurance pros emphasize that such policies are vital for apartment dwellers or those in condos or homes who rent and aren't all that expensive.

Your possessions will be covered in the event of a fire or theft, they say.

"Critical, yes, the word I use is critical," said Jeff Juenemann, owner of Juenemann Insurance in Westland. "It's just part of common-sense living. You spend your money and you protect yourself from bad things that happen.'

Juenemann, a Northville Township resident, said a renter's policy runs in the area of $200-250 a year, with significant discounts applying for those who also have a corresponding auto policy. "You're living in an apartment building with six kitchens, six people doing silly stuff," he said. "It's going to protect you for a theft, it's going to protect you for a liability.'

Liability examples include a slip and fall on the property or a dog bite. Juenemann noted often larger apartment complexes now require renters to show proof of insurance "because they want their tenants to have liability. Who's the next person who's going to get sued?

He sees procrastination among renters who intend to get coverage but delay, rather than lack of awareness. Juenemann noted mortgage companies require homeowners to have coverage and the Michigan Secretary of State dictates auto insurance coverage.

"Nobody forces you to buy renter's insurance," he said. Agreeing is Karen Nemier, co-owner of Kennedy Nemier Insurance Agency in downtown Plymouth. "Your lender's going to force you to buy insurance" for a car with a loan, she said, adding the same is true for a home with a mortgage on it. "People procrastinate or they don't want to spend the money on it."

Nemier, a Plymouth Township resident, said renter's policies can run as low as $10-$15 a month. "Very easy to obtain," she said of renter's insurance.

"The landlord will not cover any of your possessions," she said, citing as examples a fire or water damage. "You have to replace those items yourself. It's very inexpensive coverage.'

Heed Mich. court ruling on right of way

Q: We have been maintaining a strip of land within a platted right of way of the street since we planted some railroad ties and many years have gone by with no one removing it. We heard there was a recent case that discussed those issues and are you aware of anything?

A: Yes, a very recent decision from the Michigan Court of Appeals, which was published and therefore sets precedent indicated that the platted right of way in that particular case was within the scope of the "public highway" provisions of the Michigan Statute, and therefore, the expenditure of public funds on a road in a dedicated right of way is sufficient to constitute public acceptance of the roadway, even when the municipality never improved certain strips of land within the right of way. Therefore, I believe, depending upon the facts of that case, you may have a difficult road to hoe. On the other hand, each case is factually intensive and you should get an opinion from a knowledgeable real estate lawyer.

Q: I am hearing a lot about the obligation to allow emotional support dogs and animals in condominiums. Are you aware of any action by HUD to deal with this claimed discrimination?

A: Yes. Federal Fair Housing Law makes it unlawful to refuse to make reasonable accommodations and policies or practices when such an accommodation may be necessary to afford a person with a disability equal opportunity to use and enjoy his or her home. This includes refusing to grant waivers to "no-pet" policies for individuals with disabilities who use assistance or support animals. That is the decision of HUD in a recent case out of Puerto Rico, where the association was ordered to pay $20,000 in damages plus a $16,000 civil fine for refusing to allow a resident with disabilities to keep his emotional support dog. Consult with your attorney whenever there is an issue such as this.

Ford Romps and Growls at NAIAS, But Everything Has a Digital-Tech Angle Too

By Dale Buss

International Consumer Electronics Show 2015 in Las Vegas, Ford CEO Mark Fields detailed in a keynote speech the automaker's high tech vision and plans, including a goal to deploy a self-driving car for the masses within five years and investments in mobility projects to help promote digital connectivity and other transportation issues for the planet's urban populations.

The recruitment pitch came only a couple of hours after the Ford F-150 had been named North American Truck/ Utility of the Year by a jury of U.S., and Canadian journalists. It marked the eight time that a Ford vehicle had been named for that honor. The new Lincoln MKC also was a finalist for the honor. The aluminum-bodied, all-new F-150 also was picked over Chevrolet Colorado.

Ford's own presentation during press days at NAIAS was filled with the growls and screeching tires of a parade of new performance vehicles including the GT ultra-high-performance car, a version, Raptor, of the new F-150.

new GT carbon fiber supercar, the brand announced it's also investing in new "supercar" that's been getting major buzz. The brand also debuted an offroad in manufacturing technology. Also on the tech front, Ford announced at NAIAS that it's rolling out Ford Sync AppLink 3.0 next year, giving customers "the ability to access their favorite compatible navigation app, much as they do on a smartphone, on in-vehicle touch

And while Ford at NAIAS is offering plenty of horsepower for traditional automotive enthusiasts, the company also is providing a heavy dose of the "new" technology that has been transforming the automotive industry these days. In fact now, nearly everything -- performance, speed, fuel economy, handling, interior refinements and, of course, entertainment options-now is presented in the context of new digital capabilities. So, anyone who traveled from the CES convention halls in Las Vegas to Cobo might take a while to realize exactly which gathering was

"Technology is really becoming one of the key words at auto shows, with each and every automaker working very hard to be relevant in that space," Ed Kim, vice president for industry analysis at consulting firm AutoPacific, told the Financial Post in Canada

At CES, Fields presented a reasoned approach and plan to invest in smart mobility projects worldwide. In his keynote, he also made clear that Ford wants to become the first automaker to produce an autonomous vehicle for the masses-but it's not in a rush.

"We believe in the industry that there will be a fully autonomous vehicle, probably within the next five years," Fields said at CES. "Unlike our luxury competitors, when we do come out with an autonomous vehicle, we want to make sure it is accessible and affordable to everyone."

Historians may see shades of the brand's founding father, mass production pioneer Henry Ford, in such

It's also noteworthy that Ford was the first volume manufacturer to offer many of the safety technologies that are coming together ultimately to enable self-driving, such as lane-departure warning systems and collision-warning systems on its mainstream Ford brand, as the Wall Street Journal noted.

Ford's emphasis, Fields said at CES, will be to make components such as automated parking systems and automated highway driving available first. He'll let the brands that are fervently working on becoming first with self-driving vehicles, such as Mercedes-Benz, stay on the bleeding edge of this phenomenon and probably, as a result, beat Ford to market.

Expect Ford's partnership with Google for self-driving technology to keep the company close enough to its

And Fields' cautious approach might serve him well given that there remain many formidable skeptics about the possibilities of actual self-driven cars, given the lack of a commitment by Google to manufacture them and also the inevitable huge obstacles in driver behavior, traffic infrastructure and regulation.

Ford's "higher purpose," Fields told CES, is "driving innovation in every part of our business to be both a product and mobility company—and, ultimately, to change the way the world moves."

JOBS

The new office etiquette: Rules for today's workplace

By Shannon Lee, OnlineDegrees.com

Gone are the days when office etiquette was clearly defined. In today's relaxed professional environment, conduct is more casual, which means it's often difficult to know what is OK and what isn't. Fortunately, some rules of workplace etiquette are universal.

These 12 tips can help you adjust to a new office or clean up your behavior in a place you've worked for years.

1. Avoid social media.

Unless your job requires you to peruse social networking sites all day, avoid them while you're on the clock. Though surfing Facebook or Twitter might be tempting, it can be detrimental to your work performance and productivity, not to mention the way your boss perceives your enthusiasm -- or lack thereof -for your job.

2. Take that phone call elsewhere.

Everyone has a cellphone these days, so getting personal calls at work is pretty much unavoidable. But don't assume that just because your phone rings, it's OK to take it right there at your desk. If you get a personal call, excuse yourself and answer it in private. The last thing you want to do is air your personal business.

3. Gossip:

The big no-no. Who hasn't been tempted to speculate on the lives of their co-workers? It's especially tempting when everyone else in the office is doing it. But remember that gossip says more about you than it does about the person you're discussing. Don't talk about others, and keep your personal life private to discourage water-cooler talk about you.

4. Keep emails formal.

Email seems pretty casual, doesn't it? It isn't like correspondence on letterhead that requires careful composition and proofreading, right? Contrary to popular belief, work emails should be held to the same formal standards that you would hold any other office correspondence. So toss the slang, get the punctuation right and proofread before you hit send.

5. Watch your language.

No matter how comfortable you are with your co-workers, or how casual your office may seem, blurting out a curse word can get you noticed for all the wrong reasons. You don't want that accidental f-bomb to overshadow your work, so keep the language clean.

6. Stay tuned in to the world around you.

Want to plug in your headphones and jam while you finish that report? Go ahead (if your office allows it), but don't make them a constant fixture on your head. In the workplace, having headphones on all day can come off as antisocial. Need to focus on a project? Sneak away to a conference room for a while.

7. Knock before entering.

Sometimes an informal office atmosphere can go too far. That's especially true when people start drifting from one cubicle or office to the next, without bothering to knock or otherwise announce their presence. Treat others as though they are in the midst of serious business, even if they their personal space.

8. Stay home if you're sick.

aren't and knock before you enter

It seems like an obvious rule, but when you're stuck in the rat race, dropping out for a few days of the flu can seem detrimental to your career. However, going to work sick does more harm than good. Not only does it make you feel worse and potentially spread your germs to others, when you're under the weather your productivity most likely suffers. Make life easier on everyone and use those sick days.

9. Remember that scents travel.

Do you have an allergy to perfume or cologne? Do you get a headache when you smell spicy food? Some of your colleagues might. Keep those potent lunches away from your desk, and don't overdo it on the fragrances. Those around you will

10. Dress like the rest.

There are many places where expressing your unique style is a fantastic thing to do. The office is not one of them. To make sure you're dressing the part, use your boss's attire as an example. If you want to appeal to management, dress just a notch above the office norm.

11. Save the job search for home.

Looking for a new job? Don't do it on company time. Not only might someone get wind of your search (and feed that information into the gossip mill), but taking time away from your current employer to look for a new one is just plain rude.

12. Remember that everyone has a life.

Show respect for everyone's down-time by avoiding late-night emails, phone calls or anything else that might require someone from the office to respond after hours. Save those for the next business day. Leaving the office behind when you walk out the door is important for everyone -- so honor business hours, but make sure you honor your time off, too.

Whether you're in a high-stress office or a relaxed small business, etiquette matters. Brush up on it now to continue making a great impression on your boss, co-workers and clients.
