

PONTIAC BILL POSTER

Sept 26 1883
Died, on Sunday last, at his residence in Orion, Morgan Crawford, aged about 58 years. The deceased moved into this city about 30 years ago, and after a residence of 23 years moved to Orion, where the remainder of his life has been spent in agricultural pursuits. His wife, a son and daughter are left to mourn the death of a kind husband and father, while a large circle of friends extend their sympathy for the loss of a public spirited and intelligent man, who was universally respected. Funeral services took place at the family residence yesterday, after which the remains were interred in Oak Hill cemetery.

The remains of Hattie, daughter of H. M. Keith, was interred in our cemetery on Friday last. She was a very estimable young lady, and will be missed by a large circle of friends.

Sept 26 1883 CRUCIBLE.

Alonzo Barbour, for many years a resident of Pontiac, died at Detroit last Wednesday evening at the home of his son-in-law, Chas. E. Adams. Saturday the remains were brought to Pontiac, and after funeral services at the Cong'l church, interred at Oak Hill cemetery. Oct 3 1883

Mrs. Albert Greer of this city, returns her best thanks to the many kind friends who have beautified with flowers the grave of her daughter Carrie, on this the second anniversary of her death. Oct 3 1883

The coroner's jury in the celebrated Rose Ambler murder case, rendered the following verdict Monday: "We find that said Rose Ambler came to her death by being choked to death at the hands of some person or persons to the jury unknown, but from Wm. Lewis' relations with her in the past, and from his testimony and from his conduct since her death, and from the evidence, we think suspicion points toward him."
