PONTIAC BILL POSTER

and clear mind remained vigorous and unclouded to within a few days of his death. He died, as he lived, honored and respected by all who knew him. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Goodwille, assisted by Revs. Eisenbray, Anderson and Stewart, on Wednesday, the 7th inst., at the U. P. church, in Commerce. The sermon was appropriate, able and impressive. The remains were followed to their last resting place in the village cemetery by a large concourse of sorrowing friends and neighbors.

NOV 21, A Card. 1883

The undersigned desire in some measure, to express their heartfelt thanks to their many friends and neighbors who, in testimony of their respect for the bereaved, assembled at the funeral of our departed, held at our residence on Sunday last. To each and all who rendered us so many kind offices in the hour of sorrow, we tender our unfeigned thanks. When we remember that but a few weeks since our beloved little son Raymond, was stricken down with a disease that caused our friends and neighbors to stand aloof from us and ours, leaving us to the care and sympathy of an affectionate and steadfast few of our own kindred, the attention and kindness of friends during the sickness of Gracie, and at the laying of her away, calls for more thankfulness than we have words to explain.

EDWARD AND AGNES STEVENS,
