

PONTIAC BILL POSTER

MAR 7 1888

Mr. Godfrey Meisel is a milk man in the employ of G. M. Trowbridge. Monday morning at three o'clock his two months old son was all right but an hour later when Mr. M. and wife arose they made the terrible discovery that the little one was dead. The child, aged two months, was strong and healthy, and was probably smothered. The feelings of the parents can better be imagined than described.

Mrs. Moses V. Murlin, an Oakland pioneer, who resided many years in Pontiac township upon the farm now owned by D. D. Terry, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Susan Clark, at Hunter's Creek, Lapeer County, last week Tuesday, aged 83 years and one month. Thursday funeral services were held at Mrs. Clark's and Friday the remains were met at the P. O. & P. A. depot by Tompkins & Williams, the undertakers, and interred in the Murlin family lot at Oak Hill cemetery.

Fred Wilcox, a well known and much respected resident living on Orchard Lake Ave., met with a sad accident on Thursday night, falling down stairs and sustaining serious internal injuries which resulted in his death, as noted elsewhere. MAR 7 1888
