

PONTIAC BILL POSTER

Samuel Axford, of Holly, a former M. M. A. boy, and well known to many Pontiacers, died suddenly at his home on Thursday morning of last week. The funeral was held Sunday and very largely attended; a special train bringing many of his friends from Saginaw. A number of people from Pontiac were present. June 16, 1887

June 22, 1887

Mrs. Oliver Halstead died Saturday morning at the residence of Mrs. J. S. Newman, in Pontiac township. Funeral services were held at the house Tuesday afternoon, and the remains interred in Oak hill cemetery.

Levi. Bacon, an old Pontiacer, but for many years in government employ at Washington, died of blood poisoning, at his Washington home, last week. June 29, 1887