

CONTINUED
July 31, 1889
DOKAS BAYLEY

PONTIAC BILL POSTER

Mrs. Bayley leaves three children and many grand children to mourn her demise. Mrs Bayley was loved and respected by all who knew her, her whole life speaks to her praise. Her funeral was attended at the residence of her son, Adams Bagley, who now resides on the old homestead. A very large concourse of friends followed the remains of Mrs. Bagley to her last resting place, on Tuesday afternoon, the 16th inst. July 31 1889

Detroit has been the scene of three brutal murders in less than two weeks. On the evening of July 23 an inoffensive old gentleman was kicked to death on the street by a drunken young tough named George Welsh. July 27 Wm. Woldeck was assaulted by John Cook and died shortly after from his injuries. August 3 Ludwig Seidel and Herman Dieball, German laborers and fast friends, quarrelled over some trifling affair while at work. Seidel struck Dieball on the head with a shovel, fracturing the latter's skull so that he lived only a few hours. Restore capital punishment. Aug 7 1889

*Mrs. Wheeler, of Amy, died Monday afternoon aged 83 years, and funeral services will be held this (Wednesday) morning at ten o'clock, from the Amy church. Aug 7 1889