MISS IDA PIERCE IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Community Mourns Passing of Most Estimable Woman

The people of Clarkston and vicinity were deeply grieved to learn of the death of Miss Ida Pierce, which occurred at her home in Clarkston at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, July 23, following an illness of seven weeks from heart trouble.

Miss Pierce was born in Independence township, June 28, 1872, and was a resident of the community all her life. She was a daughter of Delavan and Diana Casler Pierce.

As a girl she attended the Oak Hill school and later in life adopted the profession of nursing. This she followed for 25 years, and for the past 15 years or more has conducted a hospital in Clarkston. She was a member of the Royal Neighbors.

Miss Pierce was more than highly respected in the community—she was loved by all who knew her, and there were few who did not claim the honor of her acquaintance. She will be greatly missed in a community where she labored so faithfully and long.

Surviving are a brother, William Pierce, of Clarkston, and a twin sister, Mrs. Ada E. Mills, from whom she was never separated before except for one year.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock today from the home on Holcomb street. Rev. Edw. Stephens, of Stockbridge, a former pastor of the Clarkston M. E. Church, of which the deceased was a member, assisted by Rev. Joseph Chapman, will officiate. Burial will be in Lake View cemetery.

AIRPORT WAS THROGGED WHEN FLIERS RETURNED

A good share of the population of Waterford, Drayton Plains and Clarkston was over to the Airport Friday afternoon to witness the return of the planes that participated in the second annual Michigan Air Tour that covered 16 cities, 1500 miles and consumed nine days.

In addition to a program of speaking that lauded the work of the sponsors and managers of the Tour and the pilots of the planes, there was some spectacular flying and a wonderful exhibition of stunts in the air. It was a regular air circus, with prizes being awarded for bomb dropping, deadstick landing and stunting. These events took two hours, beginning at 3 o'clock and ending at 5.

BALL GAME ON SUNDAY SHOULD BE A GOOD ONE

Another baseball game is scheduled to be played at Athletic Field next Sunday, the visitors being the well-known Detroit Aviators Club. As they are a strong outfit Clarkston will be under the necessity of picking a team from the best players of the Old Timers and the Kids. The games these two teams have played will give a good tip on whom to select to meet the Detroit bunch. The public is assured of an interesting game.

FINDS BEAUTY SPOT RIGHT IN CLARKS'N

News Reporter Visits Mr. and Mrs. Leonard's Rock Garden

There is hardly a gardener of today, amateur or professional, who does not dream of having a pool and rock garden, and the appeal is quite easy to understand. Here one is free from any set rules as to size, design and location and selection of floral growth. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leonard have long been known as garden enthusiasts, growing choice varieties of peonies and roses in a formal garden. Just when the dream of their present garden started we did not find out, but we do know they have made the dream come true. Facing on Holcomb street their grounds slope easily down to the edge of the mill pond with its lilies and drooping trees and hardly needed anything more to add to its charm, but this spring they acquired an adjoining vacant lot and completely transformed it. Smooth and green, with a border of hardy flowers, half way back you pass thru an arched gateway and pause, for here the geologist, florist, gardener and artist would find material for many hours study in their rock garden and pool.

Rocks of huge size and irregular form and of great variety of colorings and markings make up the main foundation. Their plainly marked colorings shows the coal plants, reptile age, mammals and fossils in stratified form thru which the geologist could trace the evolution of plant and animal life down thru the succeeding ages. And yet we were informed that all these varied markings were originally but two huge boulders, the despair of a farmer, that were dynamited for this purpose. The central part of the garden is piled high with layers of flat shelving stone, surmounted by a huge green frog who supplies the water from a hidden source to drip down over the "idling stones" and make its way down to the pool. The border plants of both pool and garden are a formal arrangement of dwarf flowers and foliage, but here all formality ends. Sedums in various forms from the "live-for-ever" of grandmother's day to mossy ferns are tucked in crevices. Soil pockets are filled with delicate blue flax flowers, verbenias, perunias, alpines, rock moss portulaca, pinks and over 30 varieties of blended flowers, relieved by the dark green of dwarf pines and evergreens, all making such a harmonious whole that with all its informality one feels that every law of harmony has been observed and it has such an atmosphere of charm that one might easily spend hours lingering and looking at the most perfect rock garden we have ever seen.

Second Match Between Clarkston and Commerce Lodges

Everything is now set for the return golf match between the Masonic lodges of Clarkston and Commerce, except the improvement in play that the local talent expects to show with a continuance of practice right up to the last minute. The return match will be played on the course at the Davisburg County Park and the date is announced for Thursday, July 31. The Davisburg course is convenient for both contestants and is in fine condition. The manager of the course has assured that there will be no other players allowed on the course during the match. CHORUS CLUB SUGGESTED HERE BY HOLLY LEADER

Edward Hides, director of the Larry Limber Glee Club of the American Spring and Mfg. Corp., of Holly, was in Clarkston last week with a suggestive plan to organize a similar chorus here. Mr. Hides did not have an opportunity to do much in that line, so nothing developed, but should the notion appeal to the business men or any other organization, they are requested to submit their proposition to the secretary of the Larry Limber Glee Club, P. W. Stone, of Holly, and he will comply with any suggestion they may make. Mr. Stone says that any one who can carry a tune in a basket can learn to sing under Mr. Hides' instructions.

Sinking from exhaustion into 16 feet of water at the Clintonville dam, Tuesday night, Carmen Cobb, 23 years old, of Pontiac, was saved from drowning by an unknown man who dived for him and brought him to the surface and to shore, where he was resuscitated by artificial respiration. The stranger, who had responded to a call for help by Cobb's wife, who saw her husband go down, left the scene after the rescue and before his identity was ascertained. A report was sent to Pontiac that the swimmer had been drowned and two officers hastened to the scene. They found Cobb responding to the artificial respiration, and after he had recovered sufficiently they brought him to the office of Dr. R. E. Miller in Clarkston for further treatment.

NEW FUMIGANT CLAIMED TO BE VERY EFFECTIVE

A new and promising fumigant which may prove to be more satisfactory than carbon disulphide is ethylene oxide, a material discovered in the course of a search for better fumigants conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Preliminary tests with this gas have given encouraging results in the fumigation of dried fruits. It appears to be more effective, pound for pound, than carbon disulphide, and apparently can be used with greater safety.

PROFITS MAY COME BY FEEDING WHEAT

Suggested in View of Present Low Price of Grain

East Lansing, July 24.—One way of obtaining a profit from this year's crop of 15,000,000 bushels of wheat in Michigan is to use it as a feed for livestock in place of corn and other relatively high priced feed stuffs, according to the heads of the crops and livestock departments of Michigan State College.

Dairy cattle, hogs and poultry furnish a paying market for wheat as long as the present market conditions exist. As a feed for cows, wheat can be used as 25 per cent of the concentrate ration. It can be used as the sole feed for hogs weighing 75 pounds or over, and it may be used for from 65 to 70 per cent of poultry scratch feed and 25 per cent of the laying mash.

Farmers can save 27 cents a hundredweight in producing milk or 7 cents a pound on butterfat by substituting wheat for an equal amount of corn in the dairy cow's ration, in the opinion of the professor of dairy husbandry at Michigan State College. He suggests a ration made up of three parts wheat, two parts corn, three parts oats and one-half part of cottonseed meal.

Hogs which sell for $8.50 a hundredweight will pay $1.05 a bushel for the wheat fed to them. This estimate was made by the head of the animal husbandry division, who advises the feeding of wheat as long as its present low price persists.

Michigan farmers each year purchase 5,000 cars of corn, 1,000 cars of barley, 1,000 cars of oats, and as many or more cars of mixed feeds. Much of this feed bill can be avoided if wheat is substituted in the ways recommended.

Atmospheric Phenomenon
Tuesday, September 6, 1881, is known in New England as the Yellow day. It was characterized by an intense brassy appearance. Many persons reported a smell of smoke in the air and this is generally believed to have been the cause of the peculiar phenomenon. It is known that extensive forest fires were raging in Canada and in the West. Another suggestion was that it was caused by an active volcano in the interior of Labrador; another that the smoke was derived from immense peat bogs in Labrador which in dry seasons burned to the rocks.

Something like 17,500,000 acres of land that were formerly cultivated in this country have been destroyed by gullying, or so severely washed that farmers can not afford to attempt their cultivation or reclamation, according to the Bureau of Soils and Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture.

These basic facts should be borne in mind by everyone considering the purchase of an inexpensive haulage unit—because capacity, speed, ruggedness and operating economy are the big points to consider in these days when business men are watching transportation costs.

Many important features of the Chevrolet Six-Cylinder Truck are given below. Study them carefully. Then use them as a basis of comparison—to prove quality—to prove modern design—to prove OUTSTANDING VALUE!

OAKLAND COUNTY TENNIS TOURNNEY

Will Be Held at Oakland Park, Pontiac, Starting Aug. 16

The eighth annual Oakland County Singles and Doubles Tennis Tournament will be conducted by the Department of Recreation of Pontiac at Oakland Park starting August 16.

Rollin Clark has one leg on the three-year trophy which symbolizes the county singles crown. Clark is a member of the University of Michigan team and was a former player and coach of the Pontiac High School squad. In the doubles, Verne Bosley and Maurice Finnegan have signified their intentions of defending the championship which they won last year. Gold medals will be awarded to the winners in both the singles and doubles while silver medals will be awarded to the runners-up.

An entry fee of $1.00 for singles and 50 cents each for doubles will be charged to provide balls for the matches and trophies for the tournament. Entries for the tournament will close August 15 and should be made to John Heitsch, Director of Athletics, Recreation Department, 35 Hill street, or to Gus Jasmund, caretaker at Oakland Park.

Complete Ensembles Are Fashionable for Girls

Even at the tender age of six the young fashionable has a complete ensemble. One especially smart is made with basket-weave tweed coat in a pastel shade with which is worn a mushroom hat of rough straw, trimmed with matching fabric. The dress is a straight line of matching shantung. The girl of fourteen likewise has her tweed ensemble. The coat is a belted, three-quarter style with scarf collar, and the frock is of soft sheer wool.

The ten-year-old girl wears a tweed jacket suit with sleeveless tuck-in blouse, and flared skirt. For the twelve-year-old there are cape coats of covert cloth in navy blue and other preferred colors.

New Nightie Fabrics in Plaids, Floral Designs

It is no longer a simple and easy task to choose a nightgown, for the latest sleeping garments are made with princess lines, boleros, uneven hemlines—in fact, they are in the mode of the daytime dress, and consequently must be chosen most carefully. As for materials, it is not crepe de chine with a little lace either, for nylon, chiffon and parure are all fashionable. And the gowns are no longer in pure white, for the new fabrics are in plaids and dainty floral designs.

PICTORIAL GOLF INSTRUCTION

By H. B. Martin

Long Flat Swing Prevents Danger of Topping

THE golfer who attempts a complete round swing with his iron will find himself topping or schlafling ten or fifteen per cent of his shots, maybe more. One must be accurate indeed to hit the ball at the exact bottom of the arc.

There is one sure way of hitting an iron shot. Let the club describe a flat arc which makes sure of the clubhead picking the ball up as it sweeps through. Longer and more accurate shots will result from this sweep of the club than if the round full swing is used.

Timing the Shift of Weight

TO MAKE a long drive it is very necessary to get the hips into the shot which means timing the shot just right. The thought of making the hips do their share will often throw a golfer off his drive because he keeps this in mind and tries to perform this part too soon.

Let the clubhead come through before the body moves at all in the direction of the hole. It is necessary first to unwind the body and then permit the hips to help the arms speed the club through. The hips are needed very much in the follow through.

Dame Fashion Smiles

By Grace Jewett Austin

The smaller the girl, the larger her handkerchief, at least that often seems to be the case. Paris is making not only the large dance handkerchiefs of chiffon, which have been in use for some time, but also sets approval for women on man-size handkerchiefs of linen, often with art borders. Several times of late

Grace J. Austin, Dame Fashion has been fooled, thinking some pretty maid had a scarf in her hand and it proved to be a handkerchief. But it's rather an easy thing to get fooled with a costume. Going to that place of universal assemblage—(no, not a church, nor even a railway station, in these days of many cars)—the window where we summon Uncle Sam's gallant cohorts to be our messengers and bear our parcels to the four quarters of the compass, Dame Fashion had as her neighbor in the line quite a typical Lindbergh No. 2, with aviation helmet and all the proper breeches and high boots. Giving him an inquiring little smile, the conversation went thus:

"Oh, are you a flyer? Where is your plane?" His smile was very much nicer, and one word was his answer.

"Motorcycle." But at least he now realizes, if he did not know it before, that he looks every inch an aviator.

These pretty tie-on frocks, now, that are rapidly coming into fashion, may recall the days of little girls in their pinafores. But the present function is to bring about a gown that will have a slenderizing effect for those who are comfortably stout.

Prints are going everywhere. With a one-color coat they are freely accepted for traveling wear. The days are gone by when somber, plain, nondust-showing gowns were supposed to be the only suitable traveling costumes. Color invades travel, as well as sports regions. Tennis queens used to adhere closely to sleeveless white frocks, but are now coming to the courts in blue, lavender, peach, yellow and light green. It is noted that often cotton frocks are chosen.

An out-door lower show is an admirable place to study the effect of fashionable gowns against backgrounds of blossoms. Soft grays, blues and beiges were enhanced for their wearers, at one such that the Dame attended the other day. And yet, with a fashion that never fails, those in complete white costumes, from hat to shoes, stood forth in crowning beauty.

Dame Fashion learned lately of a wedding that seemed to her like the personification of a calla lily. The bride wore white panne velvet, with her veil held by a pearl diadem. Her bridesmaids had trailing gowns of pale yellow, and her maid of honor was in light spring green. Almost as a matter of course, the bride's bouquet was a sheaf of callas.

They are telling us that the greatest costume praise is to declare, "She looks nonchalant." The learned Noah Webster understood that word to mean "indifferent, careless." But Dame Fashion would rather think it means "care-free."

That insures that skirts are only medium long and not of a length to trip one; that nothing is "skin-tight," in the phrase of the nineties, while between the pretty tweeds and the figured goods of every sort—always less care than plain colors—there are sensible gowns to be had for most sorts of functions. That wave of worry about clothes that rose high in the earliest spring seems to have receded like mist, and leaves only a beach of sunshine.

Borrowing from the Bank

Bank depositors frequently need extra funds for business extension, property improvements, or what not. Naturally they go to the bank for such funds.

The bank will grant the credit, within limits prescribed by law and good business practice. Since the bank owes a duty to its other depositors to pay them on demand, it must not only consider the borrower's ability to pay but also his ability to pay when due.

Credit is based on character. In this connection character includes reliability, good common sense and orderly methods of business. This sort of character implies also capacity to use the borrowed funds wisely.

The borrower as a rule realizes that he should carry a satisfactory deposit balance with the bank. This is a sound rule often followed by many banks in deciding whether they will extend the loans desired.

PLACES ARE OPEN AT Y. M. C. A. CAMP

Ten More Boys Can Be Taken Care of at Loon Lake

There are ten places still open at the new Loon Lake Camp of the Oakland County Y. M. C. A. for the last period only, August 17-31. Camp is in full swing there now, the first period just closing Sunday, July 20, and the second two-week period beginning. This and the third period are already carrying a waiting list anticipating a few last minute cancellations.

The camp staff has added another cook's helper to try to keep this ravenous gang from starvation. The business manager is ransacking the country for supplies in adequate amount and quality to keep everybody happy and stay within his budget of $1.00 per day per boy. All this staff are kept on the jump to satisfy these 112 samples of young America, who are always hungry, always ready to go, always heard whether seen or not. The staff consists of director, physical director, public health nurse, business manager and assistant, three cooks and 18 adult tent leaders or counselors.

All inquiries in regard to the camp should be addressed to one of the "Y" offices at Royal Oak, Birmingham or Pontiac or to G. H. Kimball, Jr.

Highlander's Apparel
The Highland costume consists of a short tunic, vest and kilt, heavily pleated, passing around the waist and reaching not quite to the knees. Short trousers are worn under this kilt. The stockings are gartered below the bare knees and low shoes are worn with the costume. In front, hanging from a belt around the waist, is a sporran, a pocketbook purse covered with fur, and a large plaid or scarf is wrapped around the body, the ends hanging down from a brooch fastened on the left shoulder. The headgear is a cloth cap or bonnet in the case of a chief, an eagle's feather. The distinguishing feature of the costume is the tartan.

Folly of Warfare
(Thirty years after the relief of Ladysmith, Boers and Britons met together to celebrate the occasion.) When you look at your enemy in his evil hour; in the hour when the heart is full of hate toward him and his fingers are itching to destroy you; you see—what? You see a man who, if time spares you both, you will one day come to know, to honor and perhaps to love; and, even if neither is spared, a man whose descendants will one day mingle with your descendants, both wondering how it ever was that their bloodthirsty ancestors should have striven together to the very edge of the grave.—Exchange.

Origin of the Kilt
A Scotsman writes in the London Daily Telegraph: He who reads his Bible will find that the kilt was originated in the Holy land. The military gowns worn by the soldiers of the psalmist King David who formed his personal bodyguard were cut short to the knee, thus giving them greater freedom in the defense of Jerusalem and in attack against their enemies. This is one reason British Israel, an important modern religious movement, considers Scots to be the chosen, leading, and most important race of people on God's earth.

Most Readers Do Not Read
Journalism is increasing rapidly in popularity as a profession, but the majority of adults do not know how to read a newspaper intelligently. This is the statement of a California educator who urges classes in newspaper reading in the advanced grades of schools. In every paper of repute, all over the country, there are great stores of succinct, vital and interesting information on a variety of subjects, most of which is skimmed over by the average reader.

To the man who himself strives earnestly, God also lends a helping hand.—Aeschylus.
