WHOLE NUMBER, 79

MRS. J. I. WALTER IS TAKEN SUDDENLY

Was Daughter of Pioneer Citizen and Always Lived Here

Death came suddenly to Mrs. Josephine I. Walter, 69 years old, at her home in Clarkston, some time Saturday night. She had spent the winter in Detroit and had just returned home last Saturday, feeling as well as usual. Her death is attributed to a heart attack.

Mrs. Walter was a life-long resident of Clarkston, where she was born Jan. 18, 1862. She was a daughter of Milton H. and Hannah Lapham Clark, pioneers of this community. Her father was one of Clarkston's first merchants, having established a store here in 1837. For many years she has been prominent in social affairs of the village.

Her husband, the late Nelson Walter, was also one of Clarkston's best known citizens.

She is survived by one son, Milton O. Clark, of Hong-Kong, China; two grandchildren, Madeline and Josephine Clark, of California, and a brother, Edwin M. Clark, of Birmingham.

Funeral services were held at the Ogden Funeral Home, Thursday at 2:30 p. m. Rev. Bates Burt, of All Saints Episcopal church of Pontiac, officiated, and burial was in the family lot a Lakeview cemetery. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful.

MONTHLY PROGRAMS ARE ARRANGED BY P.-T. ASSN.

The program committee of the Clarkston Parent-Teacher Association met Wednesday afternoon to lay plans for programs for the remainder of the year. The March program is to be in keeping with St. Patrick's day, the April program is to be a recreational program and the May program will be put on by the men and boys. These meetings are held the third Wednesday in the month. All parents and any other adults who may be interested in the school are cordially invited to attend.

VARIED PROGRAM AT P.-T. A. MEETING

Pontiac School Representative Speaks at Drayton Plains

The Drayton Plains Parent-Teachers Association held their March meeting on Tuesday evening at the school with about two hundred in attendance. The program opened by singing "Long, Long Ago". The enjoyment of the children as well as the older ones, the original English Punch and Judy show was given by Mr. Vola, instructor of Speech, at two of his Pontiac High School Pupeteers.

Milton Everett and Mrs. Thorp, of Pontiac, played the piano and violin selections, "Serenade" by Gounod and "Simphony" by Thome. Mr. Kelly did some very interesting things in juggling. Mr. Thorpe sang the solos, "Lilac Tree" by Garth and "I Love a Little Cottage" by O'Hare. Mr. Everett accompanied the latter selection on the violin.

The children who were accompanied by their parents were then dismissed and the collection was taken the reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted.

Mr. Heaton of the Pontiac Public Schools gave a very interesting talk on "Character Education of the Child", teaching of the child in the home and at school. He gave some very good advice to parents and teachers on how to work with different types of children.

The meeting closed to meet again at the school on April when another interesting program is planned and a cordial invitation is extended to all interested in the school and P.-T. A. work to come and get acquainted.

CLARKSTON SCHOOL IS ON U. OF M. ACCREDITED LIST

A recent report following an inspection made some time ago stated that the University Committee on Accredited Schools had placed the Clarkston High School on the approved list for a period of two years.

Professor Gingrich who made the inspection stated that the morale and discipline of the school were excellent. He praised the work of the teachers and the fine spirit that the students showed toward their work and the school in general.

Professor Gingrich, according to custom, looked in on several classes and session rooms before he made known that he was an inspector. This gave him an opportunity to see the school as it would normally run.

The only recommendation made was the addition of some supplies which the Board of Education will purchase in the near future.

DATES FOR C. M. T. C. ARE ANNOUNCED

Michigan's Quota Has Been Increased to 1600 This Year

The dates of the Citizens' Military Training Camps for 1931 have just been announced by Phelps Newberry, Civilian Aide to the Secretary of War for Michigan. Mr. Newberry also announced that the quota for Michigan has been increased from 1500 to 1600. The number of applicants in 1930 totaled 2163, considerably more than 600 in excess of the quota allotted the State. The increased quota will give 100 more Michigan youth the opportunity of attending these camps.

The Citizens' Military Training Camps at Fort Brady will be held from July 7 to August 5, and at Camp Custer from July 30 to August 28. Enrollments will begin March 1. Both camps will be devoted to infantry training. The camp at Fort Sheridan, Ill., which is devoted to cavalry and field artillery, will be conducted from July 30 to August 28.

"Each year," Mr. Newberry stated, "the Government sends approximately 88,000 young men to these camps. Their popularity with the youth of the country is shown by the fact that the enrollments usually exceed the quotas well before the time for the camps."

"The Camps give young men a most valuable training in life. The military is but a small part of the work. No obligation for future military service is incurred. CLARKSTON TAKES TILT WITH W. LAKE

High School Basketball Team Is Victor in Hard Fought Game

The Clarkston High School Boys' Basketball team continued their winning streak by soundly trouncing the league leaders, an undefeated team for two years from Walled Lake. The score was 23 to 20. While seemingly a close game and one in which Walled Lake was ahead one point at one time, and interest and enthusiasm going wild in the crowded gymnasium, the superiority of the Clarkston youths stood out in every position.

About 300 witnessed the game and received a treat they will always remember. Many who attended saw their first game of real basketball and expressed their intention of never missing another game where Clarkston played.

The improvement in the play of the Clarkston boys since the start of the season has been remarkable. Never having had a team here before, they started the season green, and winding up their last game by beating the strong Walled Lake team shows the quality of the athletes Clarkston has.

1935 ANNIVERSARY OF "TOLEDO WAR"

When Michigan Fought Ohio for Valuable Piece of Land

East Lansing, Mich., Mar. 6.—If the lawmakers of Michigan decide upon 1935 as the year for celebrating the state's hundredth birthday, this will not be the only hundredth anniversary of significance to be observed the state that year. Another will be the centennial of the famous "Toledo War", which Michigan, then still a territory, resorted to arms to defend what it conceived to be its right in 500 square miles of rich farmland and a thriving and strategically-located city on its southern boundary, claimed by Ohio.

The "Toledo War" is described by Chester Dorman Kelly in an article, "When Michigan Fought Ohio", in The Magazine of Michigan.

"As a territory containing less than 90,000 people, Michigan dared to oppose the thirty-most populous state in the Union," says the article. "Toledo, the center of this storm, had long been considered by Michigan's adversary, the powerful state of Ohio, as the outlet for Lake Erie of its extensive system of canals and inland waterways. At this period water was the principal medium of transportation. The importance of

MISSIONARY GIVES TALK OF INTEREST

Her Address Featured Meeting of Clarkston Literary Club

The regular meeting of the Clarkston Literary Club was held at the home of Mrs. Alice Urch. The meeting was of unusual interest, the subject being "India".

Miss Ernestine Fisher, of Pontiac, a returned missionary who spent six and one-half years in Benares, India, gave a very interesting talk on the work of our missionaries in India. She spoke particularly of the schools and the work of the Bible-women who visit the homes of the little girls and try to keep in touch with them after they are married and out of school. She pictured the desolate and hopeless condition of the little widows of India and of the ignorance and degradation of the women in general.

Her talk was followed by remarks from her mother, Mrs. William Fisher, who visited her while in India, on some of the customs of that country. She said that in the back country districts widows sometimes are burned alive on the funeral pyre of their husbands rather than endure the life of slavery and drudgery that awaits them and that mothers still throw their baby girls in the Ganges.

Roll call was responded to by "Customs of India" and many interesting facts were brought out. A solo was sung by Miss Salina Woodward.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Eleanor Steiner, March 17.

WATERFORD S. S. CLASS MEETS AT THE CHURCH

The Young People's meeting from the class of H. H. Pratt of the Waterford S. S. was held on Thursday night at the Waterford church at 7:30. A fine representation of the class, 20 in all, was present.

Miss Anita Harris presented the paper. A short business meeting was held, led by the president, Ed Lamberton. A social time followed the devotional part.

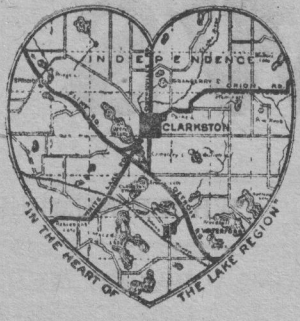

Refreshments were served by the Misses Roberta Virgin and Virginia McFarland which were much enjoyed, Miss Roberta serving home made ice cream and Miss Virginia cake.

The president named committees to have charge of the next meeting which falls on the second Thursday evening in March.

EXPLAINING JAS. BETTS' CONNECTION WITH CASE

In a recent "hold-up" in the vicinity of Clyde Park, the name of James Betts, of Drayton Plains, was mentioned as the owner of the car that was driven by the bandit. In this matter, however, Mr. Betts played an innocent part as the car from which the plates had been stolen had been sold and resold and finally taken back by Mr. Betts only a few days previous and he had not noticed that the license plates, which were last year's, were missing. With this discovery and the confession of the guilty party, his connection with the affair was quickly cleared up.

CHESTNUT BLIGHT
NOW IN MICHIGAN

Disease Found on Plantings in Several Sections of State

East Lansing, Feb. 25.—Chestnut blight, a disease which has ravaged the native chestnut forests in the eastern United States, is now present in Michigan and has been found on trees in Jackson, Lenawee, Monroe, Oceana, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

Chestnut trees grew naturally only in the southeastern part of Michigan, but there have been numerous plantings of the trees made in other sections of the state and the presence of the disease threatens these trees with destruction as there is no known remedy for it and its spread is rapid when it once becomes established.

One of the first signs shown by a tree affected by the disease is a branch or branches which die and to which the dead leaves cling in drooping clusters. This appearance persists thru the winter and it is so conspicuous that these branches are called flags.

An investigation of the disease in Michigan is being made by Don V. Baxter, University of Michigan, and Forrest C. Strong, Michigan State College. Attempts are being made thru-out the United States to find individual chestnut trees which are immune to the disease and either of the Michigan men will welcome information about plantings of chestnut trees in Michigan which have not been reported to them.

Circular bulletin No. 135, now being printed at Michigan State College, which gives a detailed description of chestnut blight, will be sent to anyone requesting it.

It is a good plan to reserve a small corner of the truck garden for a seed-bed. Plants of such crops as lettuce, cabbage, cauliflower and tomato will be more stocky if they are started in specially prepared soil and later transplanted. Good soil for a seed-bed consists of 1 part of well-rotted manure, 2 parts of good garden loam or rotted sods, and 1 part of sharp, fine sand. Let the manure rot thoroughly, but do not expose it to the weather. The addition of leaf mold or peat makes a heavy soil better adapted for the seed-bed.

DATES FOR C. M. T. C. ARE ANNOUNCED

The dates of the Citizens' Military Training Camps for 1931 have just been announced by Phelps Newberry, Civilian Aide to the Secretary of War for Michigan. Mr. Newberry also announced that the quota for Michigan has been increased from 1500 to 1600. The number of applicants in 1930 totalled 2163, considerably more than 600 in excess of the quota allotted the State. The increased quota will give 100 more Michigan youth the opportunity of attending these camps.

The Citizens' Military Training Camps at Fort Brady will be held from July 7 to August 5, and at Camp Custer from July 30 to August 28. Enrollments will begin March 1. Both camps will be devoted to infantry training. The camp at Fort Sheridan, Ill., which is devoted to cavalry and field artillery, will be conducted from July 30 to August 28.

"Each year", Mr. Newberry stated, "the Government sends approximately 38,000 young men to these camps. Their popularity with the youth of the country is shown by the fact that the enrollments usually exceed the quotas well before the time for the camps."

"The Camps give young men a most valuable training in life. The military is but a small part of the work. No obligation for future military service is incurred. Physical development and scientifically supervised athletics play the largest part. The young men are taught correct living, correct eating and how to take care of themselves in emergencies. They are given an education in the fundamentals of our government."

"One of the most valuable features of these camps is the practical introduction to the outside world that they afford. Young men are here brought in contact with others from many parts of the State from different walks of life. Different groups are thereby made acquainted with other groups. The results are a wholesome lesson in democracy which teaches that Americanism is the same whether the young men are from the country or city, from families of wealth or from workers or other groups. Social activities are under the guidance of women of highest standing in the community, and the young men often make acquaintances that are of value to them throughout their lives.

"The value of Citizens' Military Training Camps has been recognized by the American Federation of Labor, commercial and financial leaders and institutions, civic leaders, instructors and by all of our Presidents since they were started in 1916."

Mr. Newberry called attention to the fact that Michigan's quota was filled nearly two months before the camps opened last year and that 663 enrollments above the quota for the state were received. He cited this as a reason for every young man between the ages of 17 to 24 to apply at once to Phelps Newberry, Civilian Aide to the Secretary of War, 3972 Penobscot Building, Detroit, for application blanks and to fill in and return them without delay.

"Each county in the state has been given a fair quota, but quotas cannot be held open for those counties who neglect to send in their applications early. Young men, regardless of their locality, will be accepted in the order that they apply until the State quota is filled."

WKAR broadcasts on 1040 kilocycles, a wave length of 288.3 meters. The programs are scheduled on Eastern Standard Time.

1935 ANNIVERSARY OF "TOLEDO WAR"

When Michigan Fought Ohio for Valuable Piece of Land

East Lansing, Mich., Mar. 4.—If the lawmakers of Michigan decide upon 1935 as the year for celebrating the state's hundredth birthday, this will not be the only hundredth anniversary of significance to be observed in the state that year. Another will be the centennial of the famous "Toledo War", when Michigan, then still a territory, resorted to arms to defend what it conceived to be its right to 500 square miles of rich farm land and a thriving and strategically-located city on its southern boundary, claimed by Ohio.

The "Toledo War" is described by Chester Dorman Kelly in an article, "When Michigan 'Fought' Ohio", in The Magazine of Michigan.

"As a territory containing less than 90,000 people, Michigan dared to oppose the third most populous state in the Union", says the article. "Toledo, the center of this storm, had long been considered by Michigan's adversary, the powerful state of Ohio, as the outlet into Lake Erie of its extensive system of canals and inland waterways. At this period water was the principal medium of transportation. The importance of Toledo was further enhanced by the fact that it represented at the time the most logical western terminus of Lake Erie and an important gateway to the rapidly developing country farther west.

"These rival claims, after smoldering for so long, suddenly flared up into a serious boundary dispute. The combatants prepared for war and, on Michigan's part at least, excitement rose to fever pitch."

The expected battles never took place, however, and according to the article, the only blood shed was that of two horses, one on each side.

"Michigan lost Toledo", the writer continues, "and gained what is now known as its Upper Peninsula. In 1835, this seemed like humiliating defeat; and yet the passing of the years has proved it the greatest piece of good fortune, with respect to acquisition of territory, that any State in the Union ever had forced upon it."

"Thus Michigan entered the Union, after a stormy period of assertions, demands and threats and a short but dangerous sortie on the 'battle field' and it is indeed fortunate that we can look back upon the first 'civil war' in the United States and smile."

WATERFORD P. T. A. ENJOYS PROGRAM

One of the Interesting Features Was a Spelling Match

The P. T. A. of Waterford met on Thursday evening at the school auditorium at 8 o'clock. A fine audience enjoyed the program which was much different from the other meetings. A tour of the rooms revealed splendid work which was displayed by each teacher very attractively. The orchestra gave several selections and Sam Miller gave a cornet solo which was much enjoyed.

Kenneth McVittie conducted a spelling match with "sides" drawn up by Henri Buck and A. Jacober. The winning side was A. Jacober's, with Mrs. McVittie the winner. Groups of people were given songs to sing, with responses, which were applauded by the rest.

M. E. Hinkley was in charge of the business meeting, in which he named the following nominating committee: Rev. H. A. Huey, Mrs. Hubbell, Mr. McFarland, to have everything ready for the election of officers for the ensuing year of the P. T. A. work. The program committee was not named but will be named by Mr. Hinkley before long.

The picture was given to the room having the highest percentage of parents in attendance and Mrs. Baker (primary) was given the picture for the month.

Guests of the P. T. A. were Pres. and Mrs. A. B. Wompole of the Clarkston P. T. A. Those in charge of the program for this month were Mrs. Arthur Walter, Henri Buck and Mrs. John Miller.

COUNTY AG. AGENT SENDS OUT NOTICE

It is of Particular Interest to All Owners of Orchards

K. D. Bailey, Oakland County Agricultural Agent, makes the following announcement:

As a part of the Extension Program of fruit growing in Oakland County, we are to have tree training and pruning meetings on March 9 and 10. Some of this work is rather new to growers and it is essential to urge all who have young and old trees to be present.

Most young trees are being grown in Michigan with the same mistakes that are so apparent in the old trees. Such mistakes are open centers giving trees of small capacity and early inter-row interference, too many limbs, weak angle limbs and early breakage.

At all sessions we will discuss the balance between orchard operations and costs taking up the fruiting habits of fruit plants and pruning requirements.

The meeting will be held at 1:30 P. M., March 9, at Lincoln Junior High School (Turn off Oakland Avenue at Wisner School onto Summit Street in Pontiac).

BIG SPELLING BEE STARTS THIS WEEK

National Contest to Get Under Way in 700 Michigan Schools

More than 700 schools—public, private and parochial—in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, have enrolled to date in the Michigan phase of the National Spelling Bee of 1931. It is expected that nearly 800 institutions will have sent in their enrollment blanks by the time the contest is under way.

The Michigan contest begins this Friday (March 6) when pupils in all participating schools will line up in their class rooms for the initial elimination contests which will determine both the grade champions and the members of the grade teams which will compete in the school bees three weeks later.

The champion of every fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade in the 800 schools will receive a special copy of Webster's Collegiate Dictionary with his name embossed in gold letters on the cover. The champion and the last nine to go down before him will constitute the grade team which will meet the three other grade teams in the school bees March 27.

Teachers and school officials who will direct the contests have indicated that their pupils are making final preparations for the grade bees by brushing up on the words in their spelling manuals. Only words which have been studied in daily spelling classes will be pronounced in grade bees.

The Michigan contest is being sponsored by The Detroit News.
