M-15 NOW GETTING BULK OF TRAFFIC

Count of Cars Shows That Two-Thirds Go Thru Clarkston

Since the paving of M-15 was completed the increase of traffic through Clarkston has been so noticeable that it is a favorite topic of conversation and discussion, but exact statistics have not figured much in the talk.

To get some authoritative facts in the matter, a representative of The News on Thursday interviewed the traffic officers at the intersection of the Dixie Highway and M-15, who are also stationed part of the time at the next important junction, the Dixie and M-87. These fellows are on the job all the time, are alert, courteous and efficient. It is their duty to study the stream of traffic in both directions, to compare it with figures of preceding periods and to notice and record whatever affects the movement of cars, trucks and all vehicles.

These officers report that two-thirds of the traffic on the Dixie at Beach's corners is diverted to M-15, indicating that it is going to points in the state north of Flint. The same is true of south-bound traffic, as reported by traffic officers stationed at the other end of the line.

M-15 is the logical route for all traffic north or south to and from points in the northern part of the state, as it avoids the large cities. This fact is now evidently public knowledge, as the checks above reported show.

There was a 10 per cent increase in traffic this month over February until the recent heavy fall of snow. That slowed up the movement fully half for several days, but it is gradually picking up again.

Traffic on M-87, as recorded by the officers at the Canteen, which is the junction with the Dixie, has remained normal.

One interesting feature of the traffic officers' observation is their report that there is now a steady increase in the movement of raw materials in trucks, indicating an improvement in business conditions. This improvement is also reflected in the number of new cars, a large percentage of which are used for business purposes.

JUNIOR GARDEN CLUB AT DRAYTON PLAINS MEETS

The Junior Garden Club of Drayton Plains met at the home of their leader, Mrs. A. A. Solomon, Monday after school. The girls meet once each week and have accomplished their first activity, that of "Flower Knowledge". They expect to do many interesting things this spring and summer.

The officers of the club are Alice Appleton, president; Shirley Gundry, vice-president; Josephine Sutton, secretary, and Esther Washburn, treasurer. The other members are Frances Jones, Rebecca Bowden, Esther Soncrainte and Dorothy Cronier.

CITIZENS' TICKET IS VICTOR THRUOUT

Little Interest in Result Shown by Casting of Small Vote

In a light vote, the entire Citizens' ticket was elected in Clarkston Monday, by majorities ranging from 16 on treasurer to 57 on one trustee. The total vote, 114, was less than half of the registration. It was a stormy day and this undoubtedly contributed to the light vote, but lack of interest probably played a larger part.

The vote in detail was as follows:

President—David McClelland, 82; Charles G. Huntly, 30.
Clerk—Percy Craven, 78; A. B. Wompole, 84.
Treasurer—Mary Baldwin, 65; Emma Hoyt, 49.
Trustees—Edward J. Miller, 83; Joseph Seeterlin, 84; Frank Howland, 73; Albert Gundry, 29; Edward O'Roark, 27; Clare Hopkins, 35.
Assessor—Ira Jones, 83; Eleanor Steiner, 27.

The following program will be presented under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Hickson, who with Mrs. Whitfield, arranged it:

C., discussed "Goods Soils"; Mr. Rainey, of the State Farm Bureau gave a most timely talk on "Seeds"; Melvin Avery, Oakland County Boys' 4-H Club leader, showed two films, "Cougar Hunt", dealing with the problems the boys in the western states have with predatory animals, and "Alfalfa", from planting to harvesting. WATERFORD G. O. P. TICKET IS NAMED

Is Headed by Morris M. Jay as Candidate for Supervisor

In the most spirited caucus ever held in Waterford township, Republicans on Saturday nominated Morris Jay for supervisor to oppose the present incumbent, Alfred Gale, Democrat, at the election on April 6.

Interest in the nominations fell off considerably after a candidate for supervisor had been named, as the vote for that office totalled 431, while only about 200 were cast for the other offices.

Jay won on the first ballot, receiving 235 votes to 116 for Emerson T. Dill, 27 for Glen Campbell and 2 for William Hartley. These were the only candidates placed in nomination but there were scattering votes for a number of other persons.

The remainder of the ticket is as follows, all being chosen on the first ballot except for justice of the peace, when three ballots were taken:

Clerk—E. H. Linabury.
Treasurer—Charles G. Bird.
Highway Commissioner—Robert Hickson.
Overseer of Highways—Mark Caswell.
Justice of the Peace—William J. Blanchard.
Constables—O. M. Weaver, Herbert Noskey, Clyde Leet, Norman R. Richison.

CLARKSTON SCHOOL NOTES

The Eighth Grade Agriculture Class has organized an agriculture club and has elected Clark Soulbly as president. The object of the club is to take care of the various field trips and experiments that form a part of the course. At present, the club is experimenting with various house plants—proper seeding, silppling, rooting and general care. One of the small supply rooms has been utilized as a conservatory and the results are very successful. Each student has at least one plant to work with. The class has spent several periods at the local nursery where Mr. Davies discusses the propagation and care of plant life, and illustrates each point from his own stock. The club wishes to thank Mr. Davies for his time and also for the various plants which he has donated for their work.

The English Literature class will soon begin their study of Sheridan's two great comedies, "The Rivals" and "A School for Scandal".

The boys on the basketball team felt somewhat consoled over their defeat in the tournament last week when they learned that the St. Frederick's team that defeated them won the District Class C championship in its final game by a more decisive score than they made against the Clarkston team.

Clarkston, Walled Lake and Farmington were all victims of the St. Frederick's team.

Keego Harbor, a member of our athletic league, won the Class D championship for this district.

The dividing line between Class C and D is an enrollment of 100 pupils in the upper four grades of high schools. Clarkston's enrollment, when the report was made to Lansing, was 105, which placed us in Class C.

On Monday evening, March 16, a meeting of teachers of the county, including the Clarkston teachers, will be held at the Pontiac High School for a discussion of methods of improving the use of English in school work. The discussion will be led by Dr. C. D. Thorpe of the University of Michigan.

Three more meetings of this type and three Saturday institute meetings will be held between now and the close of school in June.

The meetings are held at the expense of the teachers of the county in order that they may better prepare themselves to serve the communities in which they are employed.

FIRE PREVENTION WORK IS PLANNED

Campaign to Be Directed Mainly Against Careless Smokers

Lansing, Mar. 12.—An intensive campaign to "fight fires before they happen" will be started soon by the Forest Fire Division of the Conservation Department, anticipating a 1931 season of severe hazards.

The campaign will be carried on principally thru the use of thousands of fire prevention posters that will be placed in every section of the state's fire area. "Prevent fires" signs will be posted along the main highways, woods roads, camp sites and every other place where persons traveling through the woods will be likely to see them.

Most of the campaign for fire prevention will be directed against smokers, who last year caused half of all of the forest fires that burned in Michigan.

"The careless smoker is the real menace to our woods today", H. R. Sayce, chief fire warden said. "While the number of campers in the woods has been increasing annually the number of fires their camp fires started has not been increasing proportionately. Apparently the warnings to campers to be certain that their fires are out have had effect."

"However, the number of fires started by smokers must be decreased rather than held to the present rate."

Of course, it would be ridiculous to ask men to cease smoking while driving through the woods, Sayre said. Neither is this generally necessary. Care in the disposition of cigar and cigarette butts, pipe "heels" and matches would eliminate half of Michigan's forest fires.

Breaking matches before throwing them away, equipping the automobile with an ash tray, and holding pipe "heels" until burned out were among the suggestions made by Sayre for preventing forest fires.

For the second year, persons crossing to the upper peninsula by way of the state ferries will receive warning tags during periods of severe fire hazard. These tags will be attached to all automobiles by state highway department employees on the ferry boats.

The best lettuce seed is that grown the season previous to planting. Strictly fresh seed—that is, seed planted the same season it is grown—may germinate poorly, and lettuce plants grown from seed more than 2 years old may lack vigor.

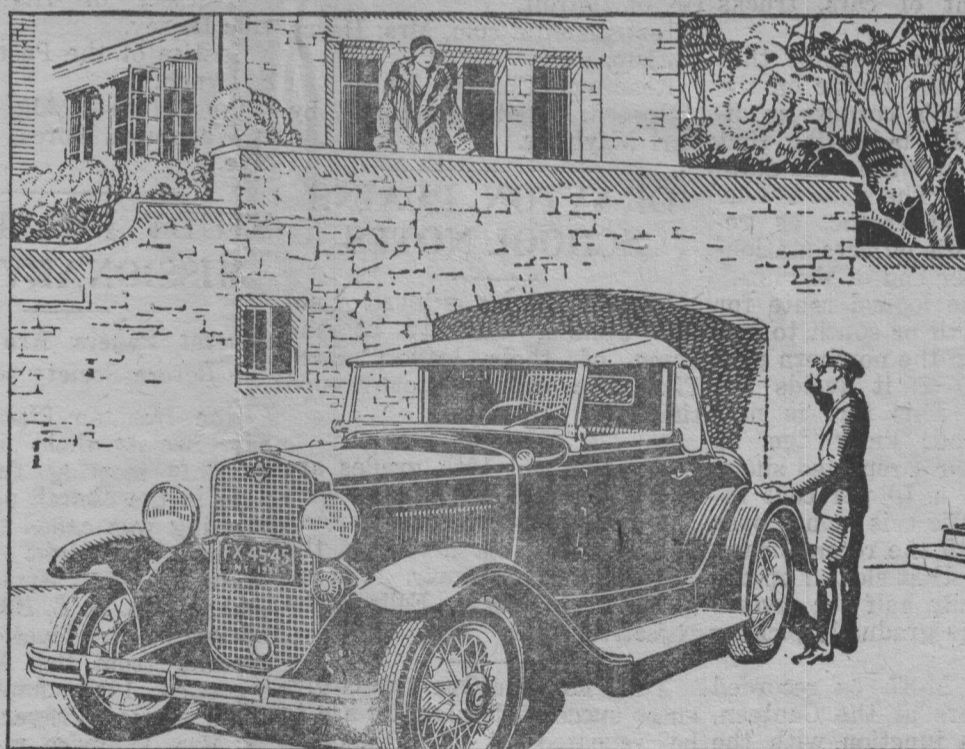

Partly Covered

WHEN fire attacks a house it doesn't stop burning when it has done damage equal to the amount of insurance carried. If your property is only partly covered by insurance you stand to lose in case of a serious fire. Your insurance should be safe, sound, and adequate.

CLOSING ORDER IS RENEWED BY COM.

Trout Fishing to Be Allowed on Certain Streams Only

Lansing, March 12.—The Conservation Commission has renewed for another five years a closing order preventing trout fishing in any stream in Michigan except those specially designated.

This means that until 1936 there will be no change in the present system of annually designating streams open and closed to fishing for rainbow, brook and brown trout.

At the same meeting at which the Commission voted to renew the closing order, designations of streams open to trout fishing for 1931 were adopted. These changes will be listed in the 1931 Digest of Fishing Laws, now being prepared.

While there is some sentiment in the state for opening all streams to fishing, there is not sufficient reason to do so now according to the Fish Division of the Department, in recommending to the Commission a renewal of the closing order.

"Sentiment exists in some quarters for opening all streams to fishing, due in part to the restrictions on fishing certain streams; the lack of knowledge to locate open streams; and the belief that the present policy of the Department of planting larger fish will permit fishing in all streams without serious depletion," the Division said in making its recommendations.

"Although this would simplify matters greatly and reduce the size and cost of the present Digest of Fishing Laws, it is not advisable to make this drastic change until more facts are known concerning the benefit of the closed feeder stream policy, and it is hoped that this information will be revealed by tagging experiments being undertaken by the Institute for Fisheries Research."

2 MORE NATIONAL FORESTS IN MICH.

New Areas to Be Known as Ottawa and Marquette

Following quickly upon creation of the Hiawatha National Forest in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, two others—the Ottawa and the Marquette—have just been brought into being by proclamation of President Hoover, the United States Forest Service announces. The Marquette, honoring the name of the great Colonial French explorer and missionary, was proclaimed a National Forest on Lincoln's birthday, February 12.

As a result the United States now has a series of three National Forests extending across the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. The Marquette lies near the Straits, the Hiawatha back of Munising, midway of the Peninsula, the Ottawa toward the west end. Within the Marquette, with a gross area of 275,988 acres, the United States owns or is in process of acquiring 109,223 acres. Of the total area of 270,071 acres within the Hiawatha, 95,668 acres is now or soon will be owned by Uncle Sam. Less progress has been made in the Ottawa, where out of a gross area of 252,551 acres only 53,379 acres has passed or is in process of passing to the Federal Government. The program, however, contemplates the eventual acquisition of all the remaining lands chiefly valuable for timber production within the units. This will happen as rapidly as agreements can be reached with the owners and funds are made available by Congress.

These lands originally were exploited for their timber. Then followed programs of colonization for agricultural development. It is now evident that the highest use of the lands is for timber production and the Government's program is in furtherance of their restoration to that economic purpose. Many of the original residents have moved away, and much of the land is reverting to the State thru tax delinquency. The re-dedication of the land to forestry marks the beginning of a new era, says the Forest Service.

Several thousand acres of non-producing land within the three new National Forests have already been planted with white and Norway pine and the present program contemplates further planting at an average rate of 2,000 acres per year.

The Ottawa National Forest was formerly composed largely of privately owned cut-over tracts. In completing this unit the effort is being made to acquire enough mature and second-growth timber of various age classes to make possible an early start on continuous cutting operations. The Forest Service's sustained timber cropping method will aid the maintenance of permanent industries in the region and will bring in a steady revenue, part of which will be turned over to the State for roads and schools.

In acquiring timberlands and making exchanges, the Forest Service had the hearty cooperation of the Conservation Commission of the State of Michigan, which has also cooperated in perfecting fire prevention arrangements and in moving to bring the contiguous lands back into economic production.

The three new forests will at present all be under the management of one supervisor, who will have his headquarters at Munising. Ranger stations will be at Munising, Raco and Kenton.

U. OF M. OFFERING TWO NEW COURSES

Law and Engineering Now May Be Studied Together

Law and engineering combined into a single course, a special course for transportation engineers, the proposed development of a non-professional course in law, and changes in political science and rhetoric curricula are described in the annual report of the President of the University of Michigan, which has just been published.

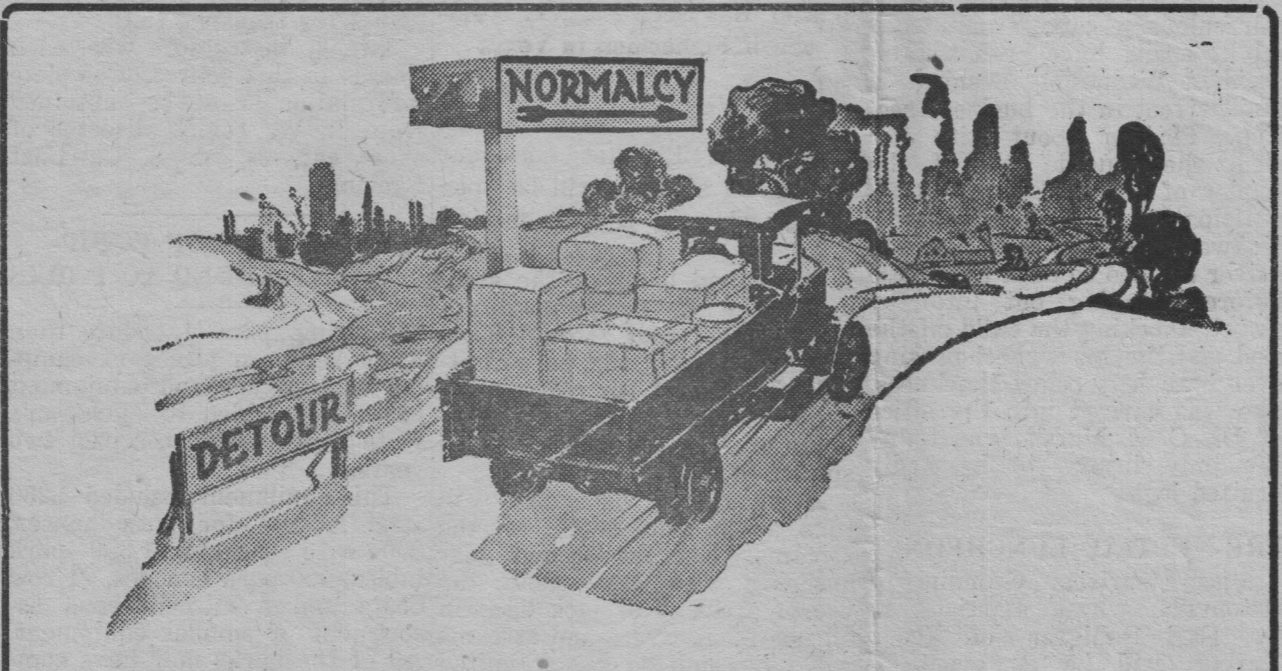

The combined course in engineering and law was developed to meet the needs of persons in the modern business world, where the engineer frequently finds the law involved in his problems of construction and operation, and the lawyer, especially in the fields of utilities corporations, real estate development, and patent law, finds a sound knowledge of engineering principles of great service in advising sound policy.

Modern transportation, the elaborate web of railroad, canal, steamship, interurban, private and commercial automobile, and airplane travel, which holds our complex national and world trade and civilization together, calls for an engineer with very special training to handle the innumerable technical problems arising in such a system, states Professor John S. Worley, in charge of the transportation curriculum. The course includes a survey of the fundamentals of engineering, specialization in some transportation fields, and a good share of economics and cultural training to fit the graduate to understand the close relations to transportation with all phases of modern life.

Opening of the course in American government to freshmen, and the provision that a freshman student might be excused from the usual required second semester work in rhetoric if his first term record showed further work unnecessary, were the only changes made in the College of Literature, Science and the Arts.

The Road Back Is Always Shorter

It seems we have been a long time going down hill, into the shadow of financial depression. Looking back it seems an interminable time. Looking forward it seems no time at all before we will be back to normalcy. Those pitfalls that beset us on the way down; hoarding our money; stinting; the bursting of inflated values, all seem idle fears now that we have decided to spend sanely and consistently. This procedure makes the road back to normalcy a swift one. Come on, spending speeds the way back. Start today.

NEW PLANT VARIETIES NEEDED FOR FREEZING
So far most of the frozen pack foods have been prepared from fruit and vegetable varieties which happen to be abundant in any section. It is no more reasonable to suppose that these varieties are best adapted to frozen preservation than it is to assume that the first fruit varieties which were preserved by heat were the best for that purpose.
The new frozen foods which are making their appearance in some of the retail grocery stores of the country present a new problem to the plant breeder. Just as new varieties of fruits and vegetables have been developed for the canning and preserving industry in the past, horticultural specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture now see the need for new varieties especially adapted to freezing.
Soybeans planted in combination with other crops such as corn, cowpeas, Sudan grass and sorghums furnish a well-balanced ration, a large yield and a great variety of forage.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY CLEVERLY ACTED

Waterford Pupils Achieve Success in Presenting Comedy

The play, "Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard", given by the High School pupils of Waterford Friday night was a big success both in point of attendance and in the character of its presentation.

Every member of the cast did splendidly, all being well fitted for the part they played and well trained. The clever make-ups added to the enjoyment of the presentation.

The cast of the play was as follows:

- Mrs. Briggs, a woman of business... Georgia Johnson
Her Family: Ethel Mertens, Laurence Harrup, Muriel Bailey, Evelyn Perry, Silas Green, a near relation... Einar Kropp
Mr. Lee, a wealthy neighbor... Frederic Chamberlain
Virginia Lee, his daughter... Betty Slusser
Daisy Thornton, her friend... Doris Bowen
Mrs. O'Connor, with no liking for goats... Roberta Virgin
Mandy Bates, whose tongue will stumble... Ruth Perry

The High School orchestra played several selections before the curtain was raised and between the acts and during the first intermission there was an amusing reading by Mr. Knight, of the Pontiac High School.

The play was directed by Mrs. Kenneth McVittie. The proceeds were $60, and will be used by the High School.

FISHERMEN ARE ADVISED IN REGARD TO USING NETS

All netting is not prohibited in the inland lakes of Michigan. Three kinds of nets are permitted at certain intervals and on certain inland waters, according to the Department of Conservation.

Dip nets of limited size are permitted on non-trout rivers and streams from April 1 to May 31 for taking suckers. These nets must be not more than nine feet square and without sides or walls.

Minnows may be taken with seines that are not over 30 feet long or more than eight feet wide. However, the seines may be used only in waters not designated as trout streams.

The above information was furnished this paper by H. J. Crook, Oakland County conservation officer.

STUDY COURSE FOR FLOWER GROWER NEEDED MOISTURE COMES IN HEAVY SNOW STORM

Methods of Beautifying Homes To Be Discussed at M. S. C.

East Lansing, March 11.—Knowledge of how to grow flowers so that the farm or city home becomes a pleasing attraction for the eyes of its owners and of those who pass by is the purpose of the five day course of training in ornamental horticulture given at Michigan State College, March 23 to 27.

Accustoming the students to a love for hard work is apparently one of the designs of the course, as classes have been arranged to start at eight o'clock in the morning and to continue thruout the day and evening. Lectures on the various subjects will be illustrated to give those enrolled in the course an exact picture of the way flower gardens should be planned and planted.

A study of ways to grow fruit in the garden, instruction on the planting of nuts, and talks on the care of bees will be given during the five days for the benefit of those who like to combine practical production with the care of flowers.

Methods of building rock gardens, which are enjoying marked popularity at the present time, will be discussed. Those who like to be the first in their neighborhood to have plants in bloom will be told how to build forcing beds to secure early plants for transplanting.

Twenty instructors will teach classes in this course. Complete information can be obtained from R. W. Tenny, director of short courses, M. S. C., East Lansing.

MANY PIECES OF EQUIPMENT ADDED TO PARKS

Lansing, Mar. 4.—More than 6,000 separate pieces of camping and playground equipment have been added to Michigan's state parks within the past two years.

This equipment included 2,286 steel lockers for bath houses, 300 wire baskets, 1,830 park tables, 500 park benches, 21 row boats and a miscellaneous assortment of smaller equipment. All of the parks now have complete first aid kits.

FOREST FIRE BOOKLET TO BE DISTRIBUTED IN STATE

Lansing, Mar. 4.—A booklet on forest fires in Michigan will soon be ready for distribution by the Department of Conservation.

The booklet, prepared by Howard R. Sayre, chief fire warden, and J. A. Mitchell, United States Forest Service, presents the history of forest fires in Michigan; causes of fires; means used to fight fires; activities of the forest fire experiment station established a year ago; statistics covering a long period of years relative to forest fires in this state; and the various means of preventing fires.

It is expected that the booklet will be ready for distribution in about two weeks.

Iowa produces more pop corn than any other State.

A heavy fall of snow that was a little tough on motorists by reason of its depth and drifting blanketed this entire section Saturday night and Sunday. No one complained, however, as all recognized that the storm was worth thousands of dollars to farmers. The moisture it provided is not nearly all that is needed, but it helped, and more of it, or better still, good spring rains, will put a smile on the face of all tillers of the soil. A drop in temperature to about 10 degrees above zero came Monday night, but the sun, out bright later in the day, soon remedied that condition.

All together, while coming quite late, is was about the most perfect touch of winter we have had.

VISITING TEACHERS AT SUMMER SCHOOL

Prominent Educators from 47 Schools Coming to U. of M.

Ann Arbor, March 4.—Prominent educators from 47 American, European and Canadian schools will be visiting professors on the University of Michigan Summer Session faculty, according to announcement by Edward H. Kraus, Dean.

The Physics Symposium, which for several years has attracted international attention, will have among visiting teachers Wolfgang Pauli, Professor of Physics at the University of Zurich, Switzerland, and Arnold Sommerfeld, theoretical physicist from the University of Munich, Germany. Professor E. R. Adair of McGill University, Toronto, and Professor Thomas Maitland Marshall of Washington University will be among the teachers of history; Marion Rice Kirkwood, Dean of the Stanford School of Law, Professor Albert Charles Jacobs of Columbia University and Professor Thomas E. Atkinson of the University of Kansas will be added to the law faculty; Keivin Burns, Assistant Director of the Allegheny Observatory, will teach astronomy.

A number will teach in the School of Education, including Benjamin Floyd Pittenger, Dean of Education in the University of Texas, and Dr. Willard W. Patty of Indiana University; Francis Dewey Goodrich, formerly Associate Librarian at Michigan, and now Librarian of the College of the City of New York, will give lectures in Library Science. A number of prominent leading biologists will be on the staff of the Douglas Lake Biological Station, including William W. Cort of Johns Hopkins, and Dr. George E. Nichols, botanist, of Yale.

Snapping of a power line by heavy wind set a fire which burned over 1,000 acres in the San Bernardino National Forest in California. Chained lightning can be almost as dangerous as the real thing which during a single storm set 73 fires last summer in the Ouachita National Forest in Arkansas. All of these fires were held to small size, however, by the prompt work of the Forest Service officers.

ORTONVILLE ITEMS FISHING IN LAKES WILL END APRIL 1

Winter Has Seen Largest Number of Fishermen in Years Lansing, March 11.—Fishing will cease in Michigan's inland lakes April 1, when non-trout rivers and streams will be open for spearing for certain species. All fishing will cease April 1 in all inland lakes of the state until June 25, except on designated "pike" and "trout" lakes in which fishing will be permitted after May 1 for perch, walleyed pike, grass pike, muskellunge and non-game fish and all species of trout.

PRE-NUPTIAL LUNCHEON

Miss Henrietta Grondin, of Ortonville, whose marriage to Dr. Carl Dahlgren, of Keego Harbor, will be an event of April, was guest of honor at a bridge luncheon recently in the home of Mrs. Frank Dodge, Maddy Lane, Keego Harbor, with Mrs. James Beatty and Miss Hope Anderson assisting. The 25 guests were seated at tables decorated with daffodils, tall yellow tapers and yellow tulle. One of the features of the afternoon was the entrance of a small bride and bridegroom with suitcases filled with gifts for the bride.

This was the first of several parties that are being arranged in her honor. The Misses Donna McNulty and Alberta Musser will entertain Saturday at a shower.

Winter Has Seen Largest Number of Fishermen in Years

Lansing, March 11.—Fishing will cease in Michigan's inland lakes April 1, when non-trout rivers and streams will be open for spearing for certain species.

All fishing will cease April 1 in all inland lakes of the state until June 25, except on designated "pike" and "trout" lakes in which fishing will be permitted after May 1 for perch, walleyed pike, grass pike, muskellunge and non-game fish and all species of trout.

April 1, ice fishermen will turn from the lakes to the streams. For the second year spearing with or without the use of artificial or jack light in all non-trout rivers and streams will be permitted for a limited period. From April 1 to May 31, non-game fish including bullheads, carp, catfish, cisco, dogfish, garfish, mullet, pilotfish, redhorse and whitefish may be taken in this manner.

Spearing for great northern pike, grass pike or pickerel will be permitted in non-trout rivers and streams from May 1 to May 31, inclusive.

Despite the fact that there was considerable misinformation concerning the spearing laws last spring, there were no more than the normal number of violations, according to the Law Enforcement Division of the Conservation Department. With a year's experience with the spearing laws, even fewer violations are expected during the coming season.

This winter has seen the largest number of fishermen in years, according to conservation officers. In a great many instances the fish caught thru the ice was one of a few sources of food for many families.
