CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, JUNE 26, 1931

WHOLE NUMBER, 95

SAMUEL W. SMITH HAS PASSED AWAY

Former Clarkston Boy Who Became a National Figure

Samuel W. Smith, a Clarkston boy who rose to prominence in the councils of the nation, died suddenly in his home in the Wardell Apartments, Detroit, early Friday morning. He was found dead in bed by his wife and is believed to have succumbed from a sudden heart attack.

"Sam" Smith, as he was familiarly known, served the Sixth District in Congress for 18 consecutive years, and by virtue of his long service and in recognition of his talents he rose to influence in the House and was given important committee appointments. As chairman of the committee on the District of Columbia he was virtually Mayor of Washington for several years.

During his long term in Congress he was identified with many important pieces of legislation, and was alert at all times to the needs of his district. He was a leader in the fight for parcel post, rural free delivery and reduction of telegraph tolls, just to mention a few of his legislative activities. His service in the House began in 1897 and ended in 1915.

Other official positions held by Mr. Smith prior to his election to Congress were prosecuting attorney of Oakland county from 1881 to 1885, and State Senator from 1885 to 1887, declining reelection in 1886, and devoting himself to the practice of law the next ten years.

Mr. Smith was born in Independence township, August 23, 1852, the son of Nicholas B. and Mary (Phillips) Smith, and spent his boyhood years in Clarkston. At 16 years of age he began teaching school, and in 1875 was elected superintendent of schools for Waterford township when he then was principal of the Waterford village school.

He studied law with Judge Levi B. Taft and after his admission to the Oakland County bar in 1877 he took his degree from the University of Michigan in 1878. He soon became a partner in the firm of Taft, Perry & Smith. Later Mr. Perry withdrew from the firm and Judge Taft and Mr. Smith continued in active practice of the law for some 20 years.

Mr. Smith was married to Alida DeLand at the home of her mother, Mrs. Phineas Huntoon, Waterford Township, Nov. 17, 1880. Following that ceremony they drove to the home on Oakland avenue, Pontiac, where they resided continuously until 1916 when they moved to Detroit. Last November they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Funeral services were held at 10:45 a. m. Monday in the Hamilton Funeral Home, 3975 Cass avenue, Detroit. Burial was in Adrian.

Besides the widow Mr. Smith is survived by three sons, Dr. Wendell T. and Harlan S. Smith, of Pontiac, and Dr. Ferris N. Smith, of Grand Rapids.

Samuel W. Smith was not only a faithful, energetic and efficient public servant, but a lovable character as well. Clarkston was always proud to acknowledge him as its son, and the whole county and district that he served so long and well held him in the highest esteem.

FORMER ORTONVILLE MAN WAS BURIED LAST SUNDAY

Funeral services for George Van Tine, former resident of Ortonville, were held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the home of William Leece. Rev. Fred Smith, of the Baptist church, was in charge, and burial took place in Ortonville cemetery.

Mr. Van Tine died Friday in the home of a brother, Almerion, in Detroit, where he had been for several years. Death followed a long illness. Prior to going to Detroit, Mr. Van Tine spent practically all his life in the Ortonville community. The brother is the only near relative surviving.

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS INCREASE IN CLARKSTON

Mrs. Carrie Walter, appointed by the Clarkston Board of Education to take the school census of the district, reports that she has completed the work. The census shows an increase of 17 pupils of school age (5 to 20) over last year, and 37 over two years ago. This means, of course, that more money will be available for the district thru the primary school fund.

CAME AS STRANGER AND LEFT AS SUCH

Stated Only That He Was a Disciple of the Prince of Peace

A stranger within our gates one day early this week aroused the curiosity of people, particularly children, by the peculiarity of his garb. Clothed in a long black coat and with flowing locks, he appeared peaceable enough, but in these times folks are suspicious, so an officer was requested to ascertain his intentions. The answer, while not exactly definite, was not wholly evasive and carried no implication that stern measures were needed to relieve the community of his presence.

So he was allowed to remain until a little later another similar inquiry was instituted, with similar results. To the charge that he was obstructing traffic by gathering a crowd of children around him in a busy section, he answered that it was the children and not he that were to blame. So the children were dispersed and the old man was allowed to go his way, which he did, quietly and serenely as he came, and to all who asked his name he answered simply that he was a "Disciple of Christ".

FORMER DAVISBURG MAN WAS BURIED WEDNESDAY

Funeral services for Fred A. Bulman, 62 years old, who died Sunday morning at the Owosso Memorial Hospital, were held at Corunna, Wednesday, with burial under Masonic auspices in the Davisburg cemetery in the afternoon. He was a member of Austin Lodge, No. 48, F. & A. M.

Mr. Bulman was born in Merrill, Mich., but lived in and around Davisburg much of his life, going to the home of a daughter in Corunna only a few weeks ago.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Ellen Bulman; six children, Mrs. Alfred Newcombe, of Wilmington, Cal.; Mrs. Claude Morse, of Linden; Chris Bulman, of Pontiac; Fred Bulman, of Golden-dale, Wash.; Mrs. Carter Howell, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Andrew Morse, of Corunna; and 18 grandchildren; also three sisters, Mrs. Fred Pringle, of Lansing; Mrs. Luther Hallenback and Mrs. Burt Snow, both of Los Angeles.

FISHERMEN GOT UP EARLY THURSDAY

Flocked to Nearby Lakes When Open Season Arrived

Everybody who didn't have anything else to do, and lots who did, went fishing Thursday. Of course, we except those who never find pleasure in the sport. It was the opening day of the season on inland lakes and boats were in great demand. That the law was out was evidenced on every hand, particularly by the cars loaded with poles and other trappings of the fishermen.

Bass, bluegills, pike, musky and all pan fish may now be caught. Five bass is a day's catch and the length limit is 10 inches. Pike must be 14 inches long and only five are permitted in possession. The same rule holds true of walleyes. Bluegills and sunfish must be six inches long or over and perch seven inches. Not more than 25 fish of all kinds may be legally caught.

No license for fishing is required of residents but non-residents of the state are required to pay $3.

LOCAL TEAMS WON ALL GAMES SUNDAY

Drayton, Waterford and Airport Victorious in Contests

The Drayton Automatics came from behind in a late rally Sunday to defeat the strong Gaines nine, 8 to 7. The visitors got away to a good start, scoring three runs in the first inning, and adding other tallies a little later. Drayton was blanked until the sixth inning when the Automatics shoved one run across the plate, and in the next frame they added two more. The eighth inning was the big noise, however, and before the third man had been retired five more runs were scored. It was surely a hard-fought contest and exciting from start to finish. Smith and Brown pitched for the locals, with Waterman catching.

Next Sunday Drayton will play the Gauss Baking team of Pontiac at Drayton Plains. The county seat nine won the first contest this year and the Automatics intend to get even.

The Waterford team is still undefeated, winning again last Sunday from Lake Angelus by a one-sided score, 22 to 5. They started right off in the first inning with three runs and were never stopped, although Lake Angelus tried four pitchers during the game. Barkham hurled the whole game for Waterford, and although not required to exert himself, he showed that he is in fine form, and the support he received was encouraging.

A game next Sunday is anticipated, but has not yet been scheduled.

A short time ago the American Forge & Socket team came to Waterford and defeated the Airport nine. A second contest between these two teams was played on the Airport grounds Sunday, and the Airport team won easily, 13 to 4. The boys felt pretty good over the result as there was much dissatisfaction with the first contest. The Airport team will play Berkley next Sunday.

DEPRESSION GIVEN BODY BLOW IN CLARKSTON

C. G. Huntly, Clarkston's progressive and popular druggist, says that last Saturday he did the biggest business he ever did, not excepting any day during the holiday season. Of course the tourist and resort trade is considerable just now, but that did not account for all the increase. Old man Depression is certainly getting kicked around in Clarkston these days.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE IN PARTY MONDAY NIGHT

The Clarkston Baptist Young People's Union held their last meeting for the Summer Monday evening, with a party in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steiner on the Lake Orion Road. A "wiener" roast was much enjoyed, games were played and a short service around the camp fire was led by Mrs. H. A. Huey. Meetings will be resumed in September or October, to be announced later.

COVENTRY EXONERATED BY BOARD OF TRUSTEES

In a somewhat lengthy report given out Wednesday by the board of trustees of the Oakland County workhouse, Philip J. Coventry, manager of the institution, was completely exonerated in connection with the recent charges preferred against him for excessive cruelty to inmates. William Shuttleworth, of Holly, is chairman of the board.

Mrs. Norman Shidle, of Philadelphia, is making an extended visit with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Cramer Judd spent the week end in Petoskey with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Jickells. Mr. Jickells has been very ill for several weeks.

PROGRAM OF A. L. STATE CONVENTION IS ISSUED

Percy Craven has just received a copy of "Convention News", a sheet sent out by Cook-Nelson Post, American Legion, of Pontiac, with full program in detail for the three days, July 2-4. Cook-Nelson Post is making every effort to entertain their guests, the Legions of the State, in a fitting manner, and Campbell-Richmond Post wishes every member to make an effort to be there, not only for banquets and dance, but to be there to march in a body in the parade. The Ladies' Auxiliary is being well provided for and those who attend will not find time lagging.

HAY CURING DREW BIG ATTENDANCE

One Feature of Demonstration Was a Scything Contest

County Agricultural Agent K. D. Bailey is highly pleased at the success of the hay curing demonstration held last Friday on the farm of Jesse Moore on the Oak Hill road. There was a large attendance of interested farmers and they were able to learn many things of value in regard to the growing of alfalfa, a feature of farm work that is proving increasingly attractive to Oakland county agriculturists.

George Wenner, of the Michigan State College, after a demonstration of the different methods of curing alfalfa had been shown and explained, gave a short address in which he said: "Alfalfa depends for its value on its feeding quality, and the finest grade, known as U. S. No. 1, must have about 40 per cent leaf, 62 per cent color and not more than 2 per cent foreign matter when it is cured. To attain this it must be cut at the proper stage of its growth and cured in the proper manner. Otherwise it will demand a lower price."

A novel feature of the afternoon's program was a scything contest in which there were ten entries: Fred W. Beckman, W. C. Beckman, Floyd Lowery, Jesse Moore, Frank Bird, Lester Humboldt, Chris Peterson, E. Coulter, Lyle Singles and J. G. Dodge.

A prize of one-half peck of Hardigan alfalfa seed was offered the one who made the largest and cleanest cut in two minutes.

Fred W. Beckman, 35 years old, with a strip 41 feet 11 inches long and 7 feet 10 inches wide, was the winner, although he was hard pressed by his 69-year-old father, W. C. Beckman, who cut 7 feet 10 inches by 36 feet 6 inches. Lowry's cut was 45 feet 3 inches long and had an average width of 7 feet 9 inches, but the cut was not as clean as Beckman's.

The judges in the contest were Mr. Wenner and James Hoekzema, agricultural instructor in the Holly High School.

WATERFORD COM. CLUB ADJOURNS FOR SUMMER

With an interesting program at the home of Mrs. A. Seeterlin last Thursday, the Waterford Ladies' Community Club closed its work for the summer. Mrs. Seeterlin was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Ada Brown.

The guests number 45 and were seated at small tables placed about the home, which was prettily decorated. Mrs. George Whitfield, president, was in charge of the meeting. After responding to roll call on "Practicing Economy", Mrs. Robert Hickson read a paper on "Loss and Gain" and Mrs. Seeterlin one on "What Shall We Do with the Depression."

The paper of Mrs. Seeterlin brought out discussion by the people assembled there. It was thought the thing to do was to take the "D" out of "depression" and "press on".

Mrs. George Whitfield will name the committee to have charge of the September meeting, date and place to be announced later.

COUNTY "Y" CAMP IS NOW FILLING UP

Fine Staff of Instructors to Be in Charge of All Periods

Enrollment for the new Oakland County "Y" camp has now reached 238, and is climbing every day, with the first two periods filled. County Secretary George H. Kimball, Jr., announces, however, that the boys of the smaller towns are not yet taking advantage of a camp privilege that is provided for them on the same basis as for any other boy in the county.

The camp staff for the 1931 season is an unusually fine group of college men. Each will have charge of a major camp activity, at the same time being responsible for a tent unit of six campers, assisted by an older high school boy. A partial list of the staff is as follows:

Camp Director, John Fleming, graduate of Oberlin College, for the past 3 years Camp Director of State Y. M. C. A. Camp Hayo-Went-Ha.

Acquatic and Athletic Director, Le Grand M. Barnum, graduate of Western State College, teaching Physical Education in L. L. Wright High School.

Nature Study and Hiking Director, Vendle Knepper, Oberlin graduate, coaching athletics at Medina High School.

Arts and Wood Craft Director, Max W. Sullivan, Junior, Western State Teachers College.

Personal Guidance and Director of Religious Education, Hawley C. Cobb, graduate of Hillsdale and U. of M., Director of Personal Guidance at Plymouth High School.

LAWN ICE CREAM SOCIAL HURT BY THE WEATHER

The Ladies' Aid of the Drayton Plains church held their first ice cream social on the lawn of F. C. Gesche Tuesday evening. Due to the weather turning colder there was not as large a crowd as expected, altho about six gallons of cream and several cakes were sold. Individual tables were placed in different parts of the lawn with a pretty bouquet of flowers on each table. A large flood light was set in a large maple tree, along with other lights, making the lawn very light and attractive.

BOARD ADJOURNS UNTIL JUNE 29TH

Supervisors Met Monday for the Annual June Session

Supervisors C. K. Phillips, of Independence, and Morris Jay, of Waterford, went to Pontiac Monday for the opening of the June session of the Board of Supervisors.

After transacting a little business the board adjourned until Monday, June 29, to allow the supervisors to present their assessment rolls to the equalization committee and to give that committee an opportunity to prepare its report placing a new valuation on the county.

The board adopted a recommendation of the miscellaneous committee that Oakland County decline to sponsor the making of a topographical map of the Detroit metropolitan area, the county's share of which expense would be approximately $24,000. Supervisor Frank Springsteen, of Royal Oak, gave notice that when the board reconvenes next week he would protest acceptance of the recent agreement between the Road Commission and R. D. Baker, road contractor, by which Baker is to resurface three miles of the Coolidge highway at his own expense. Springsteen insists that the whole road should be reconstructed.

Mr. and Mrs. William Starring spent a few days last week in Rochester with their son, Glenn Starring.

Fred Myerhoff and Mrs. Vina Barrows have returned home after spending a week with their uncle, Jerome Vliet, of Oscoda, Mich.

MANY VIEWED AIR PLANES ON TOUR

Landing Field at Waterford a Scene of Much Activity

Over 4,000 people were at the Municipal Airport last Thursday afternoon to greet the 40 odd planes that made up the third annual Michigan Air Tour.

The first plane, a Waco, landed at 1:45, and from then on the crowd was tense with excitement. With the velvety green grass as a background, the entire field was a riot of color with its gay yellow, red, orange or shimmering white wings and invariably contrasting brilliant colored borders. Even the manager, Neil Brackstone, added a bit of color to his costume and with his signal flags seemed everywhere on the field, looking after the welfare of his guests. The program was carried out about as scheduled, and a big crowd was again on hand at the field Friday morning to see the planes "take off".

The keen interest in aviation was shown in many ways by the onlooker, or from the bits of conversation heard in passing. Some in particular, pertaining to the future of the airplane and its use, gave us new ideas for reflection. "Quantity production will reduce the cost of the price of the average car, and the farmer of the future will be the greatest user. He can maintain his landing and take off field at practically little expense, and even the remote grower may transport his small produce quickly and at low cost to the city airports where commission and ware houses will spring up when the need is shown."

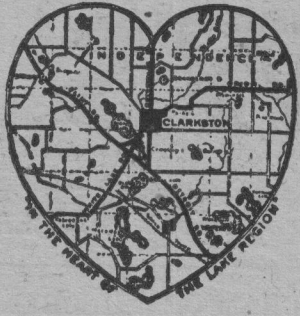

All this may or may not be of the future, but the surrounding community showed its interest in the various planes, which seem to be making the entire trip successfully and with but few minor accidents.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS ARE STOLEN FROM GRANARY

Tenants by the name of Chillman who recently lived on part of the Miller farm one-half mile north of Clarkston, moving to Detroit, left a quantity of household goods in the granary. Returning for them a few days ago, they discovered that all had been stolen. They were valued at $200. Officers are endeavoring to trace the thieves through the tracks of the truck that carted the stuff away and which were left plainly in the yard.

MANY WENT TO VASSAR FROM THIS COMMUNITY

Those attending the special day at Vassar Sunday were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Collins and daughter, June, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Buck and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Whitfield, Mr. and Mrs. John Ingamells, Walter Whitfield, T. Coffee, Mrs. R. J. Beattie and Miss Mae Beattie, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Spooner and Mrs. H. B. Mehlberg, Eleanor and Robert Mehlberg, of Waterford, Mrs. John Watchpocket, Jr., of Watkins Lake, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beattie and family, of Clarkston. A splendid dinner was served in the large dining room of the parsonage. Rev. Jacobus delivered a wonderful sermon on "The Three-fold Influence in the Home". Special music was enjoyed also. Mrs. E. D. Spooner celebrated her birthday that day.

ROAD COMMISSERS ASKED TO RESIGN

Request Has Its Source in Work of County Grand Jury

Assistant Attorneys-General I. A. Capizzi and Philip H. Robinson on Tuesday, in behalf of the Oakland County grand jury, requested the resignations of the three members of the Oakland County road commission, Luther D. Allen, of Birmingham, Isaac Bond, of Farmington, and Howard Hillman, of Springfield. All three state that they will refuse to resign, and decline to discuss the reasons assigned for asking them to quit, and to comment on reports that if they persist in their refusal, their removal would be recommended to the Governor.

Mr. Hillman is the only one of the trio well known in this section of the county. He resides at Davisburg and was supervisor of Springfield township for several years. Neither he nor Mr. Bond was a member of the road commission when Coolidge highway was built, the faulty construction of which is blamed in part on the board and is believed to have been one of the reasons why the members have been asked to resign.

No charges have been made public against Mr. Hillman, and his many friends here do not believe that any will be, although some acts of the commission during his tenure of office, including construction of the Adams road in Avon township which, according to complaining farmers, "begins nowhere and ends nowhere" have been criticized.

Mr. Bond's connection with the building of a driveway and parking lot by the road commission at a nominal cost for the Glen Oaks Golf club, of which he is vice-president, has been questioned.

Mistakes in print are so common that it is inadvisable for one newspaper to comment on errors in another publication, but when the Pontiac Press this week used the word "redogatory" for derogatory, it occurs to us that an exception may be made.

WATERFORD

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Buck, of Andersonville Road, spent Saturday in Detroit on business.

Mrs. William Hunt, of Dixie Road, was a Pontiac visitor on Tuesday.

Miss June Collins was ill at her home the fore part of the week.

Mrs. A. Mertens spent Wednesday in Detroit visiting friends.

Dr. F. M. Thompson, of Garden Place, is still confined to the Ford Hospital, Detroit. There is little improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Smith, of Andersonville Road, were in Birmingham visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. George Wimsett, Friday.

Mrs. Carl Terry, Van Syckle Road, with her mother, Mrs. John Parish, of Pontiac, spent Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Joe Hunt, of Clarkston Station.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Walter and son, Ronald, of Clarkston, were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Smith, of Andersonville Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Valentine and sons, Dean and Ernest, Junior, of Detroit, are spending the summer at their cottage on Huntoon Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller attended the graduation exercises at Pontiac High School Friday night. Their son, Kenneth, was among those graduating.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Clise, of Royal Oak, were callers Monday evening on their aunt, Mrs. Frank Byrne Fox, of Grand River avenue.

Among those attending the dedication services of Harding Memorial at Marion, Ohio, on June 16 were Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Huey and son, Bob, and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lunger.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Waterman Grow and daughter, Mary Helen, of Royal Oak, were guests Sunday of their aunt, Mrs. Frank Byrne Fox, of Maple Leaf Lodge.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Sunshine division, who had planned a strawberry festival for June 30, has decided to postpone it indefinitely, but they are planning a bake sale which will come July 11.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Buck and family, of Andersonville Road, are planning a motor trip thru the northern part of Michigan. They expect to leave the latter part of the week and will camp, enjoying their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Owen and son, Lewis Dale, of Pontiac, were callers Monday evening at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. L. Owen, and grandmother, Mrs. Fred Chamberlain, of Andersonville Road.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lunger left Monday of this week for a trip to Texas, New Mexico and points west to California. They are planning to be gone ten weeks. Their friends are hoping the trip will be beneficial to Mr. Lunger's health.

The Waterford Sunday School, which has had a contest running between the "Reds" and the "Blues" from the beginning of the year, have their last Sunday this coming one, for the contest will end then. Last Sunday the "Blues" were only about 20 points behind so the finish will be a close one. The losing side will give a picnic to the winners.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Spooner, of Williams Lake Road, and Mrs. H. B. Mehlberg and family spent Friday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Watchpocket, Jr. They were guests at the birthday party of Ellsworth, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Watchpocket. The birthday cake with three candles gracing it was the center of attraction at the six o'clock dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. James Saylor and son, Jack, of Dixie Road, left Wednesday for a trip thru the north. They will visit at Cheboygan and Cadillac before their return. They were accompanied by William E. Chase, of Pontiac, who will spend a short time at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chase, of Aloha. His daughter, Mary Chase, is spending some time at her grandparents' home there.

Many farmers are already beginning to repay the drought relief loans they obtained only a few months ago.

MELONS HELPED BY PROPER SPRAYING

Disease and Insects Otherwise Take Heavy Toll in Michigan

East Lansing, June 24.—Michigan gardeners who anticipate the delights of consuming home grown cantaloupe can increase their chances of realizing their desires by the use of control measures which repel the attacks of disease and insects.

The vines may be sprayed with a 3-4-50 Bordeaux solution to which has been added one-half pound of resin-fish-oil. This should be applied when the first set of fruitshave reaches the size of a hen's egg and can be repeated as often as disease conditions warrant. The spray should be applied when the plants are dry.

A dust made by mixing 5 per cent of calcium arsenate in 95 per cent of agricultural gypsum will discourage cucumber beetles, and a 3 per cent nicotine dust will control aphids or plant lice.

The gardener should also destroy all milkweed, pokeberry, wild cucumber and ground cherry in or near his melons as these plants harbor disease which also attack the cantaloupes. Melons should not be planted on the same soil more often than every other year.

Bacterial wilt, which is usually known among growers as wilt, may be spread by the cucumber beetles and the disease is not controlled by the usual sprays. The best way of combating this disease is to pull plants as soon as they show the wilt and then destroy them by burning. The rolling or drooping of plants in dry weather should not be confused with the symptoms of the disease.

The cantaloupes should be picked only when they separate easily from the vine.

Buckwheat—where it grows well—is a first-rate crop to sow on land where corn or some other crop planted last spring has not made a stand or has failed for some reason. Prepare the seed-bed for buckwheat the same as you would for corn.

KEEPING RECORDS OF FOREST FIRES
Data Helps Greatly in Planning for Preventive Measures

Lansing, June 25.—How much it cost the state to extinguish a fire that burned over but one acre in a certain township in a particular county; how that fire started, and a score of other details may be found in a big gray book in the office of the Forest Fire Division of the Department of Conservation at Lansing.

The big book lists year by year every detail about every known forest fire occurring in the state, and it is from this volume that all of the statistics about fires are obtained. These statistics have proved highly valuable in that they indicate varying causes of fires, percentages of various causes and other information that assist in determining the subjects for fire prevention activities.

Fire wardens must send to the Lansing office a form report of every fire occurring in their districts, no matter how small or insignificant that fire may appear to be. The report indicates the county, township, range and section in which the fire occurred; the date it occurred; its cause; the kind of growth burned over; the property destroyed and its value; the standing timber, forest products, improvements and equipment burned; the time the fire was discovered, the time it was reached and the time it was placed under control; how the fire was fought, how many men were used and the time they worked; and the total cost of suppression. On a form township map on the report the fire warden must outline the area burned over.

These individual reports—and there have been more than 500 already this season—are compiled as soon as they reach the Lansing office. From them the chief fire warden can determine the extent of incendiarism and plan some means of preventing them. He can determine whether the percentage of "smoker" fires is increasing and may begin a campaign among smokers. He may determine that one area of the state is proving to have an unusual fire hazard and will increase the number of fire fighters in that section.

The Federal law requires that in labeling livestock feeds, "the net weight of contents must be printed on the label of the container in a plain and conspicuous manner." Some State laws also require a statement of the analysis and a list of the ingredients.

DOINGS AT FENTON ON FOURTH OF JULY

Local American Legion Post Is Planning Big Celebration

The Fenton American Legion Post is making arrangements for a gala time in Fenton next week. A large show and carnival has been obtained to exhibit beginning Monday, June 29, and ending Saturday, July 4, on George Green's field just across the Fenton-Flint Highway from Nelson's Ball Park at Fenton. The shows and carnival will be open every afternoon and evening of next week. There are five large shows, four rides, including the Merry-go-Round, and around twenty-five or thirty other exhibitions.

Baseball games have been arranged at Nelson's Field for Saturday the 4th, one in the forenoon at 10:00 o'clock and another one in the afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. It is also expected that an airplane will be present to do stunts and carry passengers for short sight-seeing trips. A large number of other stunts

HIGGINS LAKE NURSERY IS MECCA FOR TOURISTS

Lansing, June 24.—Increasing public interest in forestry and forestry operations is believed to be the cause of a constantly increasing number of visitors at the Higgins Lake Nursery and the various state forests.

This year, for the first time, the Forestry Division of the Conservation Department is keeping a register of visitors. The register is already showing large numbers of visitors, coming from a dozen states.

Many of the visitors at the state forests take advantage of the conveniences afforded overnight campers by the State Forest Camp and Picnic Grounds. Five of these sites have been established in as many forests during the last two years. The three more accessible sites became so popular the first season that their facilities have already been increased in order to better accommodate the visitors.

The State Forest Camp and Picnic grounds are merely natural beauty spots to which only the barest necessities of sanitation and convenience have been added. Every effort has been made, in the development of such places, to preserve as far as possible the natural aspect of the surroundings.

FARM VALUES FALL LESS IN MICHIGAN

Most Other States Show Greater Drop in Face of Depression

Lansing, Michigan, June 24.—Michigan scores favorably in comparison with other states in maintaining more stable farm land values, even in the face of the present depressing influences surrounding agriculture. While the State's land values have been carried downward from the high point reached in 1920, the extent of the drop has been much less than for the United States as a whole and less than for any other corn belt state. Taking the average value of all farm lands, including improvements, for the period 1912 to 1914 as a base, or 100 per cent, it is found that farm real estate values steadily advanced in Michigan from 1912 until, in 1920, they were 54 per cent above the pre-war level. Since that year, they have been lower each successive year and are now only 15 per cent above the base period.

For the United States as a whole, farm lands rose in value to 170 per cent in 1920 and have since declined to 106 per cent. The respective values for some of the leading agricultural states are as follows: Ohio, 159 and 82 per cent; Indiana, 161 and 72 per cent; Illinois, 160 and 80 per cent; Wisconsin, 171 and 104 per cent; Minnesota, 213 and 116 per cent; Iowa, 213 and 98 per cent; Missouri, 167 and 79 per cent; Nebraska, 179 and 106 per cent; and Kansas, 151 and 103 per cent. The only states showing a less decline than Michigan are the New England group, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Florida, New Mexico, Nevada and the Pacific Coast states. In general, the states experiencing the greatest appreciation during and immediately following the war have suffered the greatest slump in values since 1920. These deductions are made by the Michigan Co-operative Crop Reporting Service and are based upon yearly reports of per-acre land values made by Federal-State crop reporters for their individual localities to the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

It will be noted further that the states reporting the greater declines in value are those whose farming activities center chiefly around grain and livestock production. In Michigan, New York, New England and the Pacific Coast states where extensive diversification is practised through the inclusion of fruit-growing, truck farming, dairying or other specialized forms of agriculture, the change in land values has been the least marked. Hence, the farmers in these states are in a relatively better position today than in other sections of the country, just as the manufacturing and business concerns whose invested capital has maintained the greatest stability thru this period of rapidly changing values are now looked upon as the safer investment.

There is always a strong urge to invest in any commodity when its value is moving rapidly upward. This was the case with farm lands between 1918 and 1920. Many farms in the middle-western states were purchased during those years at highly inflated values, often with very limited down-payments. Those farms have since declined in value to such an extent that the mortgages in many cases exceed the present value of the farms. It is this class of farm investors who have suffered most severely. It is probable that, with the present financial depression approaching its end, land values are very close to the bottom and many economists are predicting that they are now cheaper than they will be for several decades, and possibly cheaper than they may ever be in the future. It would seem from these indications that, notwithstanding the present unfavorable prices of farm products, now is the most opportune time for the young man who intends to engage in farming to make his investment while farm lands are available at the present low prices. On the other hand, it is not a favorable time for farm owners to voluntarily dispose of their holdings when farm values appear to be at or very near the bottom level.

FIRE SYSTEM TO PROTECT STAND OF VIRGIN PINE

Lansing, June 24.—While every attempt is being made to maintain the virgin forest at the Hartwick Pines State Park in its natural condition, extensive work is being done this summer by the Parks and Forest Fire Divisions of the Conservation Department to protect the trees from fire.

The pines represent one of the two remaining virgin plots in the lower peninsula.

The State Administrative Board recently released funds to install a modern water system at the park. The system will be used to provide water for drinking and sanitation purposes and for forest fire fighting in the vicinity of the pines. In addition to providing water for forest fire fighting, the system will be a precaution against fire in the new Hartwick Memorial Building, one of the largest and most beautiful log structures in the state. This building has just been completed.

Cooperating with the Parks Division, the Forest Fire Division is now building an extensive system of fire lines in and around the forest, is removing all slash and all other fire hazard material.

STUDY IS MADE OF ROADSIDE MARKETS

Business Has Grown Until Now It Receives Recognition

East Lansing, June 24.—Motorists who buy farm products from roadside markets usually make their purchases when they are returning home from a drive and, as a market on the right side of the road is more convenient to stop at, the stand on that side of the highway sells more goods than one on the left side, according to a study made by the horticultural department at Michigan State College.

Proprietors of these markets must remember that the motorist, at the usual driving speeds, must be warned that a roadside market is ahead of him to enable him to make the stop, especially if the market is placed beside a busy trunk line. Warning signs must be legible, contain few words, and be large enough so the automobile driver can see them from some distance.

Signs which can be seen 50 feet from the market give the driver only one second to read the sign and to decide whether he wants to stop or not before the market is reached, if his car is traveling 35 miles an hour. Plainly printed letters one inch high can be read at a distance of 25 feet, three inch letters at 80 feet, and six inch letters at 170 feet.

The greatest problem in roadside marketing is to get the driver to stop at the market. Only poor quality goods, unreasonable prices, or poor salesmanship will discourage customers who have stopped their cars.

A great deal of information of value to owners of roadside markets is contained in special bulletin 185, which will be sent to anyone who requests it from Director V. R. Gardner, Michigan State College.

The average tax per acre on farm real estate declined slightly in 1930, but increased somewhat in comparison to market value.

WILD PIN CHERRY IS HOST FOR PEST OF ORCHARDS

East Lansing, June 25.—The common pin cherry which grows on Michigan cut over lands is a natural host for the cherry fly whose depredations cost many thousands of dollars each year to the cherry growers of the State, and the entomology department of Michigan State College recommends that all pin cherries near orchards be destroyed.

The wild cherry is used by the fly as a place for egg laying and, as the wild cherries are not harvested, the larvae of the fly have a chance to develop and grow to maturity. The host of insects which are produced on the wild cherries are then ready to move to orchards in the vicinity.

course at Detroit. Mr. Mansfield says that he will have a pro at the course over the week ends for the present. The course is constantly being improved and the patronage is increasing. It is not at all unusual for nearly or quite 100 players to register on Sunday.

Dr. H. D. Hutt set a new course record for amateurs last Sunday, playing around the nine holes in 37. Par is 34. The doctor collected birdies on the last three holes, getting a 2 on the par 3 170-yard seventh, and 4 on each of the eighth and ninth. The eighth is a par 5, 480 yards, and the ninth is also a par 5, 505 yards.

Harold Truxton is reported to have made a hole in one Sunday on the short fifth, par 2, 83 yards. This is a unique hole, all green from the tee to the pin, and Truxton's mashie shot took one little bounce and settled in the cup.

Production of oranges and grapefruit is increasing faster than world consumption in practically all countries that grow citrus fruits, says the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Farmers who feed supplements to grass-fattened beef cattle are often undecided whether to feed the supplement thruout the grazing season or only during the latter part. This depends principally on the care the cattle had the previous winter and on the quality and quantity of pasture available, says the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. If they wintered well and got considerable grain, it is probably better to start feeding supplements at the beginning of the grazing season. If they were roughed thru the winter on silage, dry roughages and a little meal or cake, it is just as well to feed supplements only in the last 90 to 120 days of the grazing season, provided there is plenty of good pasture thruout the season.

STATE WOMEN WILL MEET AT E. LANSING

College Plans Full Program for Week Beginning July 25

East Lansing, June 24.—The annual Farm Women's Week at Michigan State College, which has come to be accepted by hundreds of women as their annual vacation, is scheduled this year for July 25 to 31.

The committee in charge of the week's program has planned to utilize every hour of this time and, as the week concludes Friday, which is the date for Summer Farmers Day, husbands who have become discouraged with their efforts to conduct a household without expert supervision can visit the College and attempt to persuade their wives that their place is at home.

The women who visit the College during the week will hear a great deal about modern methods of managing households and children but they will also have the chance to listen to talks on methods of conserving their own health, how to select and make clothes that are attractive, and also how to market household products to get money to buy the good looking clothes.

The programs begin each morning at 8:30, continue after lunch at 2:00, and conclude with an evening meeting called at 8:00. Members of the home economics department of the College, other members of the College staff, and speakers not connected with the College appear on the daily programs.

Complete programs can be obtained from the Director of Short Courses, East Lansing.
