CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, JULY 17, 1931

SCHOOL DISTRICTS CHOOSE OFFICIALS

Results of the Several Elections in This Community Monday

There were 67 votes cast at the annual school meeting in Clarkston Monday evening, a small number compared with the vote of 119 last year, and small also considering the almost universal interest taken in school matters in the district the past year.

There were enough present however, to engage in a lively discussion as to school policies the coming year. Such matters are almost exclusively under the direction of the school board but doubtless the members of that body desire to learn the attitude of the people, and this was an opportunity.

The balance remaining in the Building Fund was ordered transferred to the General Fund.

In the election for members of the board, Joseph Hubbard was chosen to succeed himself by a vote of 34 to 32 for C. G. Huntly, and Roy Spencer had no opposition to succeed himself.

Kirby Milleur and Kenneth Oakes are the new members of the Drayton Plains school board elected at the annual school meeting held Monday night. Mr. Milleur succeeds Glenn Featherston, who declined re-election, for the full term of three years, and Mr. Oakes was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Irving Chamberlain. Ernest Coleman has been serving in Mr. Chamberlain's place since he resigned. Little interest was manifested in the election, but few persons turning out to the meeting.

The Waterford Center School board will have two new members during the coming year, Charles Scott and Fred Mitchell. Mr. Scott was elected moderator to succeed R. J. Kerr, Mr. Kerr, who has served on the board for several years and been a very efficient officer, declining to be a candidate any longer, and Mr. Mitchell being chosen to fill the remaining two years of A. C. Krenz's term, Mr. Krenz offering his resignation at the meeting.

The annual school meeting at Waterford was a quiet affair this year with a very small attendance. The same trustee, Percy King, was chosen to succeed himself.

SOCIETY MEETS IN CHURCH PARLORS

Missionary Organization in Devotional and Business Session

The Women's Missionary Society of Drayton Plains met in the church parlors Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, with Mrs. C. J. Sutton as leader. The meeting was opened by singing "The King's Business"; devotional reading from Roman 10:11-15, by Mrs. Lloyd Bowden; prayer by Mrs. Sutton, and song, "Work for the Night is Coming". The last chapter on "Work in the Homeland", chapter 6, "Recruiting for the Work", was studied. "Incentives to Evangelism" was given by Mrs. Elizabeth Jencks; "Challenge" by Mrs. Kellar, and "Service and Servants" by Mrs. V. Y. Green. Prayers were offered by Mrs. L. G. Rowley, Mrs. Surlis, Mrs. Bowden and Mrs. Sutton.

Mrs. Sutton took charge of the business meeting. Roll call showed 14 members and one visitor present. Mrs. C. J. Sutton, Mrs. L. G. Rowley, Mrs. Elizabeth Jencks, Mrs. Louis Stroh, Mrs. Green and Mrs. A. E. Barnhart were chosen to go to the Community Presbyterian Missionary Convention being held at Birmingham on Thursday. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. L. F. Woolston, of St. Louis, Mo., is spending a couple of weeks with her mother, Mrs. Josephine Smith. She is accompanied by her son, Frederick, and daughter, Helen Josephine.

PONTIAC MAN ADDRESSES CLUB AT DRAYTON PLAINS

The Men's Club of Drayton Plains held its monthly meeting Monday evening, starting at 6:30 o'clock. A delicious supper was served to 21 men. At 7:30 the business meeting was opened with prayer by Dr. L. G. Rowley. Several musical selections were played on a piano accordion by Don Underwood, of Pontiac. Emmett Page, president of the Board of Commerce, Pontiac, was guest speaker of the evening. Mr. Page stressed the Board of Commerce work and the relation it had to Drayton Plains and what Drayton Plains could do to benefit its trade. Thousands of dollars could be made from tourists by being courteous and giving information, he declared.

MRS. JOS. CROSBY HAS PASSED AWAY

Clarkston Station Woman Died Saturday in Oxford Hospital

Funeral services for Mrs. Joseph Crosby, 59 years old, who died Saturday in the Oxford General Hospital, where she had been a patient for seven weeks, were held on Tuesday at the home of Burton Hibler, in Dryden, and at the Lakeville church. Burial was in the Lakeville cemetery.

Mrs. Crosby's maiden name was Jewell, she being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jewell. She was twice married, her first husband, Frank Hibler, dying in 1924. In 1929 she became the wife of Joseph Crosby and they lived near the Clarkston Station school.

She leaves her husband; two sons, Arthur Hibbler, of Oxford, and Burton Hibbler, of Dryden; four grandchildren; nine stepchildren; and two brothers, Clarence Jewell, of Pontiac, and Charles Jewell, of Oxford.

SEELEY BROTHERS WILL BE MISSED AT WATERFORD

Robert Seeley and his brother, Mike Seeley, who have been living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, of Waterford, for the past year, left Wednesday morning with Miss Miller, the helper of the Michigan Children's Aid Society. Friends of the Seeley boys are very sorry to lose them out of the Sunday school and day school. News readers will remember the older boy, who received first place as health champion twice. Robert was also a Boy Scout, having passed his Tenderfoot test and working on Second class. Mike was in the second grade in the Waterford school.

SEEMING MIRACLE IS ACCOMPLISHED

Young Man, Paralyzed, Regains Use of His Legs Suddenly

Leo Jenks, a young man living with his parents on the Orion road, was in a runaway accident early in the spring, receiving injuries from which he did not fully recover although able to get around. About a week ago while alone in the barn he suffered a fall that resulted in apparently complete paralysis of the lower limbs. He was taken to Goodrich Hospital first for examination and then to Ann Arbor for further examination and treatment. No encouraging reports were given by the doctors but late Wednesday evening the young man called his parents up by telephone and asked them to come over after him. They were amazed at the request but this was followed by delight when he informed them that he had recovered the use of his legs and could walk again. Of course they drove over for him Thursday morning. What was the nature of the treatment or adjustment that worked a seeming miracle was not stated.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Jones and Mr. and Mrs. David McClelland are spending the week in northern Michigan.

E. T. McNEIL TAKES LIFE BY SHOOTING

Act Committed While Wife Was at Home of a Neighbor

The community was greatly shocked Wednesday by news that E. T. McNeil had shot and killed himself in the bathroom of his home on the Dixie Highway, Drayton Plains, at 9 o'clock that morning. He was alone at the time, his wife being over at the home of Alex Winslow, next door neighbor. When she returned and found the bathroom door locked and received no response to her call, she became alarmed and ran for assistance. Mr. Winslow responded and forcing the door open found the body of Mr. McNeil on the bathroom floor.

The reason for the rash act is thought to have been despondency induced by illness.

Mr. McNeil had been for 11 years county road maintenance superintendent for District No. 4. He was regarded as one of the most valuable men employed by the road commission, and all who knew him testify to his probity and trustworthiness. Persons familiar with road matters say that he worried about the grand jury investigation, in which he was a witness several weeks ago, but that no tinge of dishonesty or even incompetency attached to him. This expression is fortified by a statement issued Wednesday evening by Prosecuting Attorney Clarence L. Smith.

Mr. McNeil is survived by his wife, May McNeil, and two children. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon from the home.

CRESCENT LAKE GIRL IS AT INTERLOCHEN CAMP

Miss Beverly G. Larabee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Erickson, of Crescent Lake, is attending the annual National High School Orchestra summer camp at Interlochen, near Traverse City. She is a junior at the Pontiac High School, plays cello and string bass in the school musical organizations, and was chosen by a faculty committee to receive a scholarship offered by the camp. Funds were also provided by the school and the Tuesday Musicales.

GIVEN SIXTY DAYS FOR BEATING BOY

Waterford Man Serving Time in County Jail at Pontiac

For beating his 9-year-old stepson, Jack Hefferman, with a piece of heavy leather belting until the boy's back was covered with welts, Martin Ostrander, 27 years old, of Waterford township, is serving a sentence of 60 days in the county jail imposed by Justice H. Russell Holland, without the option of a fine. Ostrander was convicted in Pontiac Municipal Court last Friday, after the boy had exhibited his back to bear out the charges made in the complaint.

The step-father admitted giving the boy punishment but claimed that it was for disobedience. He alleged, and his wife admitted that she had previously struck the boy with the same strap for breaking a window in the house, but she declared that she had not struck blows severe enough to break the skin.

Justice Holland, in passing sentence, declared that there was no justification for the offense.

Mrs. Hazel De Mond, assistant friend of the court, made the complaint against Ostrander.

Jack has three brothers, all younger than he, and a step-brother, 8 months old.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Atkins, of Pontiac, at the Elizabeth Rockwell Hospital, July 15, a daughter.

Joseph C. Bird Chapter, No. 294, O. E. S., will hold a picnic for Eastern Stars and families of this chapter at Mrs. Slayton's summer home on Williams Lake, Wednesday, July 22. Pot-luck dinner at 8:30.

MR. AND MRS. L. AUTEN LOSE THEIR INFANT SON

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Auten, Dixie Highway, Drayton Plains, died Sunday evening at the age of four weeks and two days. The body was taken to Ortonville to the home of its grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Auten, where the funeral was held Monday afternoon at three o'clock. Rev. Fred Smith officiated, with burial in Ortonville cemetery.

AUTOMATICS LOST, AIRPORT TEAM WON

While Waterford Was Idle Sunday, to Their Disappointment

Owing to the failure of the Pontiac Produce Co. team of Pontiac to appear as scheduled the Waterford team was idle last Sunday. Both players and fans were greatly disappointed as Waterford expected to continue its unbroken string of victories.

The General Motors team of Pontiac will play at Waterford next Sunday.

New equipment for the Waterford team has been purchased and the players wish to thank all who made this possible by their contributions.

The Airport team, reorganized with Ernie Shepard as manager, and the old players back in the lineup, all local talent, got back in its stride Sunday to the delight of the community baseball fans who wanted to see their old favorites in action again. With Ridgeway in the box and Shepard behind the bat, the Airport team defeated the Huron Stars in a close contest by the score of 8 to 7. Scoring two runs in the first inning and five in the fourth, the Airport led 7 to 1 at the end of the sixth. In the seventh the Hurons put across six tallies, tying the score, and thus it stood until the last half of the ninth. Then Bepo, Airport short stop, knocked out a three-bagger with two on bases, which ended the struggle.

Next Sunday the Airport will play the Pontiac Orioles who have won 13 straight games this season, one of them at the expense of the Airport team. It was a close contest, however, and the locals, with their old players back in line, expect to reverse the decision.

Overconfidence lost the game for the Drayton Automatics against the Holly D team at Holly last Sunday. With the score 9 to 2 in their favor at the end of the fifth inning the boys thought they had the game in the bag and let down. This carelessness proved fatal for Holly took advantage of the situation and scored two runs in the sixth, two more in the eighth and three in the ninth to tie. The contest was ended in the eleventh, when, after the Automatics had gained a lead of one run, Holly came on to win by scoring twice.

The detailed score:

TO REOPEN SCHOOL IN DISTRICT NO. 6

Pupils Will Gather Again in Old Building Closed Nine Years

After being closed for the past nine years, the little rural school in District No. 6, Springfield township, will be reopened in September. This was decided at the annual school meeting on Monday night, in view of the fact that the number of children of school age in the district has increased sufficiently to make the move expedient.

When the school was discontinued nine years ago there were not enough pupils to warrant its continuance, but the organization of the district has been continued, with E. S. Waterbury as director, a position he has held for 26 years. To Mr. Waterbury is due a great deal of credit for his effective interest in the school during these many years. Everybody in the district placed confidence in him and this trust was never violated. He was a peacemaker when such methods were best, but could stand up and fight whenever necessary, and at the same time retain the esteem of the people.

Mr. Waterbury tendered his resignation as a member of the board Monday night and L. by the Ladies' Aid. Leaving the church at 11:55 eleven automobiles, headed by Deputies Waldron Keasey and Harvey Tedder arrived at the village promptly at 2 p. m., where the guards met the party and divided them into two groups.

The first place visited was the Logan County first Court House built in 1840. This structure is built of black walnut and put together with brass screws. Abraham Lincoln practiced law and tried several cases in this building for nine years. The fire is still burning in the fire place that President Hoover started at the Edison Golden Jubilee. Many pieces of interesting furniture remain in this building.

BEATTIE BROTHERS ARE SHOWING DE LUXE SEDAN

The Tudor De Luxe sedan now on display in the Ford show rooms is fully up to the de luxe standard of any make and worthy of taking its place in front ranks. The upholstery is perfect; the seats are lowered to provide for extra room, and are also adjustable; then there are cowl lamps, dome light, arm rests and all other standard equipment. Many have been in to look this car and others are welcome at any time.

MRS. KING HOSTESS TO GOOD WILL CLUB

Ladies Met For Breakfast, Followed by Business Session

The Waterford Good Will Club was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. William King, of Springfield, Thursday of last week. There was a small attendance as so many are away on vacations and illness in the family kept one member from attending. Mrs. King changed the custom of serving luncheon and the club assembled for a 9:00 o'clock breakfast, which was of three courses served at a long table, the center of which held a lovely bowl of roses.

There was a short business meeting at which the president, Mrs. Percy Hunt, presided. The August meeting will be a picnic on the first Friday in the month. Mrs. E. D. Spooner and Mrs. George Whitfield have charge of the arrangements and the social time is under the supervision of Mrs. Percy Hunt.

Mrs. King had charge of the program, which consisted of several selections of duets by Mrs. E. D. Spooner and Mrs. Percy Hunt. Mrs. George Whitfield gave a reading. The roll call was responded to by giving clippings which concerned various things of interest. A flower contest gave Mrs. Hunt the prize, a bud vase. After the program the hostess served watermelon.

Mrs. Harold Wormley was at the meeting. She and Mr. Wormley are going to make a two weeks' trip in the east soon, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank King and other relatives.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PUPILS HAD PICNIC WEDNESDAY

The Waterford Sunday School picnic was held Wednesday, one day earlier than planned, on account of the band concert on Thursday evening. It was held in Percy King's grove, the children meeting at the church first at 4 p. m. The school was recently divided into two groups, the "reds" and the "blues", for the purpose of a membership contest. The "reds" won out and they were guests at the picnic, with the "blues" providing the supper.

The pupils enjoyed the outing, engaging in games and other contests, and in swimming under the supervision of Arthur Walter. Kenneth Miller, Jack Pratt and the Misses Ruth and Evelyn Perry directed the games.

EVENTFUL TRIP IS FULL OF INTEREST

"Greenfield Village" Was Mecca of Party Last Thursday

A group of people numbering 54 from Drayton Plains visited Henry Ford's "Greenfield Village", Dearborn, on Thursday, July 9. The trip was sponsored by the Ladies' Aid. Leaving the church at 11:55 eleven automobiles, headed by Deputies Waldron Keasey and Harvey Tedder arrived at the village promptly at 2 p. m., where the guards met the party and divided them into two groups.

The first place visited was the Logan County first Court House built in 1840. This structure is built of black walnut and put together with brass screws. Abraham Lincoln practiced law and tried several cases in this building for nine years. The fire is still burning in the fire place that President Hoover started at the Edison Golden Jubilee. Many pieces of interesting furniture remain in this building.

The next was the school house that Henry Ford attended when a boy; it was moved from the Scotch settlement near Dearborn, established in 1861. They are teaching the 4th and 5th grades in this building. About twenty-seven pupils attend when the school is in session. Next place of interest was the Village Town Hall. This has no real historic value. It is used only for entertainments and school where the 1st, 2nd and 3rd grade pupils are taught, numbering around 23 pupils.

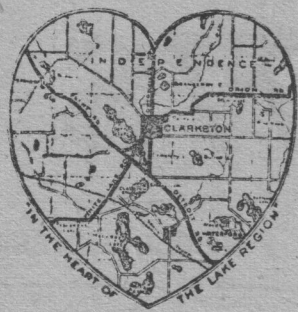

Edison Observation Show Boat, "Suwanee Boat", is resting on the bank of the River Rouge. The next place of interest visited was the Mary Martha Chapel, a small brick structure coming from Mrs. Ford's childhood home. The bell was cast of coin silver by Paul Revere's son. The chapel seats 100.

Next came the old country store from Waterford, Michigan. The building was built by Elias Brown seventy-five years ago. The store is equipped with merchandise of that age including the old coffee mill and the hitching posts in front.

The old Clinton, Mich., Hotel was constructed in 1832 of frame. The furnishings of Wayside Inn provide in themselves an interesting chronicle of earlier days. Among them are various pieces mentioned in Longfellow tales. The grandfather clock and the picture of the Princess Mary were in the original tavern when it was owned by the Howe family.

From this place the group went out to the old barn and saw Buck and Bright, a yoke of oxen weighing 5,000 pounds, 2,500 pounds each. They are driven today as other oxen were in days of yore. The visitors were unable to see Amos and Andy, a pair of coach dogs, as they were somewhere out on the grounds. In this same old barn was a dog power churn.

As the group came out of the barn to their right was the Smith Creek station, the place where Edison as a news boy was thrown off the train after trying one of his experiments in a baggage car of the train and set-

DON'T PICK WILD FLOWERS WHEN AT ANY STATE PARK

Lansing, July 15.—One of the functions of Michigan's state parks is the preservation of wooded areas and places of scenic beauty in their natural state. This necessitates the preservation of wild flowers as well as the preservation of forest growths and wild life, according to the Parks Division of the Department of Conservation.

The state parks rules forbid the picking of wild flowers in any state park area. A penalty is provided for any violation. Obviously, the Division said, it is impossible for the few parks employees to watch all parks visitors and campers continuously, especially when there are thousands within the park limits. Every year several people are fined for picking the wild flowers in the parks.

It costs more to harvest 50 acres of wheat or oats with a combine than by the old methods; for 100 acres costs are about equal; for 150 or 200 acres the combine is considerably more economical.

ANCIENT CITY NOW BEING UNCOVERED

U. of M. Expedition Bringing to View Civilization of Long Ago

Ann Arbor, July 15.—Ancient Karanis, desert city buried beneath centuries of debris and wind blown sand, is being excavated so thoroughly by the University of Michigan Egyptian expedition that visitors may traverse the streets and view the houses where 1,700 years ago some thousands of Egyptians went about their daily round of affairs, according to Dr. E. E. Peterson, in charge of the field work of the expedition, in an interview during a recent visit to the United States.

To preserve intact the remnants of this old culture, excavation is made carefully by means as primitive as those probably employed in building the city. Most of the diggers employed are natives from upper Egypt, numbering 40 men and older boys. The employment problem among the children of the region is largely eliminated by the use of from 300 to 400 in the removal of excavated material. These boys average from 12 to 16 years of age, although very few know themselves just how old they are. Although they move 250 to 300 tons of earth a day, their labors are not especially arduous, since they carry only about ten pounds in the baskets which they balance on their heads.

Incidentally Dr. Peterson scoffed at the idea that archeologists have anything to fear from mysterious deaths, such as the so-called "curse of King Tut", which was credited by superstitious persons with the death of Lord Carnarvon and others who died a few years after opening the tomb of Tutankhamen. Lord Carnarvon died of a streptococcus infection of a common type, he said, and cited a serious infection contracted by a Michigan worker from a flea bite as an example of how the field worker in Egypt is exposed to dangers of this sort without bringing in supernatural explanations.

Why the city of Karanis was finally abandoned is more or less a mystery. For hundreds of years it was an important grain growing center for Egypt and later Rome, and consists, in fact, of several levels of towns which were built on the same site. Possibly overtaxation during the days when Rome became ruler of the Egyptian territory made it impossible for the peasants round about to farm profitably, so that they dispersed and the city died away as a trading center. Laxity on the part of public officials in the care of the canals which brought water from the Nile may also have been responsible. These canals furnished the life blood of this desert region, and when an able governor was in office he required the people to dig out the drifting sands and to remove the sedge grass which choked off the water flow. During the terms of careless or dissolute officials, however, the canals fell into disrepair. Thus long continued neglect on the part of officials may have been the cause of the decline of and final abandonment of this desert town.

The most popular container for honey is the 2½-pound tin pail, according to a U. S. Department of Agriculture survey of the retail stores selling honey in the New York metropolitan area. The 1-pound tin can was second in popularity and the 14-ounce glass jar was third. More than half of the quantity sold was packed in these three kinds of containers. Honey in glass costs the consumer from 10 to 15 cents more a pound than it does in tin containers of the same capacity.

WILD LIFE SANCTUARY IS CANCELLED IN OAKLAND

Lansing, July 15.—One wild life sanctuary in the upper peninsula was accepted by the Conservation Commission at its July meeting, one sanctuary of 312 acres in Calhoun County was re-dedicated under the new wild life sanctuary act and one sanctuary in Oakland County was cancelled.

Some time ago an area consisting of 621 acres in Orion and Oxford Townships, Oakland County, owned by the Indianwood Land Company, was dedicated as a wild life sanctuary. Since that time the area has been built up, removing much of the wild life cover. At the request of the Indianwood Company, the Conservation Commission agreed to cancel the dedication.

It was once thought desirable to keep a storage room for eggs as dry as possible to prevent mold from forming on the shell, but recent investigations show that a fairly high humidity is desirable. If the humidity is too low, the dry air absorbs moisture from the eggs resulting in enlarged air cells and deterioration.

This depression is certainly doing one good thing—it is teaching more folks to think for themselves than ever before

INFORMAL PARTY SATURDAY NIGHT

Event of Holly Valley Country Club; News of Golf Course

An informal summer party will be held at the Holly Valley Country Club on Saturday evening of this week. All members are privileged to invite guests and a large attendance is anticipated. Good music will be furnished for dancing in the large ball room.

The directors of the Club are making plans to complete the interior of the club house this summer. Not a great deal remains to be done and the work will not involve much time or expense.

Improvements continue to be made at the golf course, which is being well patronized. It is planned to change the fifth hole, now a par 2, to a par 3, by lengthening it and creating a new fairway. A par 2 hole is not recognized in golf circles as legitimate. The 6th tee has been moved a short distance east, thus removing in a great measure the water hazard at the left of the fairway.

If the Virgin Islands had water enough for irrigation many of the soils would be highly productive, a soil survey shows.

HOME TALENT WILL PROVIDE PROGRAM

For Farmers Day at Michigan State College on July 31st

East Lansing, July 15.—Farmers Day at Michigan State College, Friday, July 31, will provide a homelike atmosphere for visitors as the economy which has been the farmer's household companion for several years will be apparent on the day's program which will use home talent for the afternoon talks and an inspection of the College herds and fields for the morning's entertainment.

Doubtless this year's program will be remembered long after some of the more pretentious ones preceding it have been forgotten because the College now has so many things of interest that anyone interested in agriculture can profitably employ more than one day in examining the work which is being done with crops and livestock.

Routes will be laid out and marked over the campus and the College farm so the visitors can select the particular work or stock which they wish to see. Full directions and an explanation of the numbered routes will be handed to each visitor as they enter the College grounds.

Each of the College departments will have members of their staffs stationed at the College buildings or at the experimental plots to explain how each experiment is being performed and the results which have been obtained. Some of the experiments have been carried on for a series of years and some have been recently started as new problems in farming have arisen.

SPRAYING ADVICE GIVEN TO APPLE GROWERS HERE

K. D. Bailey, county agricultural agent, sends out word that the spray for the second generation of codling moth should be completed on standard winter varieties of apples by July 24. It is now too late to use arsenicals on summer and early fall varieties.

CLUB PRIZES GIVEN IN STATE CONTESTS

Michigan Youngsters Win Trip to Fair and Scholarships

East Lansing, July 15.—State and sectional championships in 4-H club work awarded at Michigan State College give several Michigan boys scholarships at the college and send another group of boys and girls to the State Fair at Detroit for contests in which Michigan's entrants to the national contests at the Boys and Girls Club Congress at Chicago will be chosen.

State championships given for excellent work in handicraft were given to Newell Ogg, Gladwin county; Fred Hauser, Barry county; Arthur Chamberlain, Oakland county; Alfred Prindle, Bay county; Edward Polarski, Menominee county; Cyril Martin, Ogemaw county, and Lyle Painter, Luce county. These are the boys who won scholarships given by the State Board of Agriculture.

The State clothing champions are Ann Mae Wing, St. Ignace; Kathryn Goodman, Ray, Ind.; Jean Loftus, Plymouth; Elna Hansen, Scottsville; Ella Ross, Whittemore; Edith Johnson, Iron River. The clothing champions also receive scholarships.

The health champions of southern Michigan are Margaret Brown, Clinton, and Edward Bakhaus, Rushton. The sectional champions compete against boys and girls to be chosen at Gaylord and Chatham in the State contests at Detroit.

Winners in the style show where the entrants had to exhibit a costume made by themselves were Anna Lamm, Litchfield; Mary Louise Muller, Coopersville; Margaret Brown, Clinton, and Wilma Hanby, Pinconning. The girls showed afternoon, evening, school and sports outfits, and the cost of the dresses ranged from $2.08 to $11.00.

Janet Kelley, Berrien county, won the music memory contest and Oakland county had the prize group of singers.

NEW SYSTEM CAUSE OF MANY CHANGES

Conservation Department Being Reorganized Throughout

Lansing, July 15.—Nearly all of the field officers of the Department of Conservation, including conservation officers, fire wardens, towermen and game refuge keepers were today merged into the recently created Division of Field Operations. State Parks and State forests are not as yet affected by the change.

The new organization changes radically the field force of the Conservation Department, with the expectation that operations may be carried on more efficiently and economically. The Conservation Commission, at its June meeting discontinued the Divisions of Law Enforcement and of Forest Fire Control and merged them together with the administration of game refuges into a Division of Field Operations with Howard R. Sayre, former chief fire warden, in charge.

The reorganization is now in effect. Under the new system, the number of conservation districts in the state has been reduced to ten, eliminating much overhead administrative expense. Six of these districts are in the lower peninsula, and four in the upper peninsula.

Over each district, and responsible for practically all of the Department's field activities in that area, is a district supervisor. Directly under him is an assistant supervisor and all conservation employees in the district except those on state parks and forests.

The titles "fire warden", "towerman" and "refuge keeper" have been discarded. All field employees of the new division are now known as "conservation officers". Most of these officers have been assigned to special duties such as to game and fish law enforcement, fire detection work, fire control, game refuges and so forth.

An inspector will have general supervisory control in the upper peninsula and another inspector in the lower peninsula.

HERE'S SOMETHING THAT VOTERS MUST REMEMBER

Lansing, Mich., July 16.—The Department of State is making plans a year in advance for the general reregistration of all voters before the presidential election in 1932. Under the changes in the election laws adopted by the 1931 legislature, the Department of State has greatly added powers in regard to elections.

Already the department, in conjunction with the election commission, has approved forms for the next reregistration, which is mandatory on all counties of over 5,000, and these forms will be available for local election officials within a short time.

ting it on fire. From here they walked to the old country Postoffice of Phoenixville, Conn., built in 1803. This is now an authorized postoffice of the Postoffice Department and has its own postmark and all. Just across the way stood the old Village Blacksmith shop, the old one horse shay standing out back and the old slack tub within. Another place of interest was the old Village Grist Mill, built in 1832 and moved from River Raisin banks, Monroe, Michigan, to Greenfield Village. This mill does all of its grinding today by stone grinders.

The next place was the laboratory of Edison where he invented the electric lights in 1879 and also the phonograph. On the old chest of drawers placed there by Edison himself rests the old mortar. Just across the way was the old log cabin, the old Dutch oven and the sycamore tree stump where all their meats were smoked; also Edison boarding house, this being the first house in the world to be lighted by electricity, by Edison himself.

CROP REPORTS ARE GENERALLY GOOD

Weather and Other Conditions Favorable in Michigan

Lansing, Mich., July 15.—Although total precipitation during June was below normal in most sections of the State, timely rains and above normal temperatures favored plant growth, and the condition of all field crops except beans and tame hay was average or above on July 1. While the acreage of fall-sown grains is below that of last year, planting conditions were generally favorable this spring, and the total acreage of the 12 principal crops is estimated to be 2 per cent larger than the area harvested last fall, but only 1 per cent larger than the planted acreage of last July. The increases compared with last year's harvested acreages for the various crops are: corn, 9 per cent; field beans, 8 per cent; oats, 4 per cent; barley, 30 per cent; potatoes, 6 per cent; alfalfa, 5 per cent; and field peas, 14 per cent. The acreage of winter wheat remaining for harvest is set at 4 per cent less than last year, and rye 5 per cent less. The tame hay acreage is estimated to be 5 per cent smaller than the 1930 harvested acreage, and the State's sugar beet acreage 15 per cent smaller.

The Michigan bean acreage is estimated at 842,000 acres, which is 7.9 per cent more than was harvested last fall, but only 1.3 per cent more than was planted last spring, owing to the heavy abandonment last year. The condition of the crop on July 1 was only 77 per cent of normal, or five points below average for that date. This low figure reflects the poor condition of a good many fields where stands are spotted due to poor germination, cutworm and bean maggot damage. However, replantings were sufficiently early in most sections so that with favorable weather they will mature a crop. The increase in acreage this year was largely in the Saginaw Valley and Thumb sections, the outlying counties of the Bean Belt showing a general tendency to reduce their acreages after the low yields secured last year. Since yields in the former areas have been, on the average, about 10 per cent above those for the State as a whole, the shift in acreage this year favors a higher state average yield than when the increases are in the marginal bean sections such as was the case last year. The indicated production on July 1 is reported at 8,420,000 bushels, whereas last year's crop was cut by the drought to 4,602,000 bushels.

The State's potato acreage is estimated at 250,000 acres as compared with 236,000 harvested last year. Stands are reported generally good and the crop made excellent progress during the past month, according to Irvin Holmes, Assistant Agricultural Statistician, and Herbert E. Powell, Commissioner of Agriculture. The condition of 86 per cent, which is the same as the ten-year average for July 1, indicates a possible production of 27,250,000 bushels. Last year the drought coupled with October freezes reduced the crop to 13,688,000 bushels.

Although the acreage of winter wheat for harvest is smaller than a year ago, present condition and probable yield reports indicate a yield of 22.5 bushels per acre. The ten-year average for the State is only 17.8 bushels. While there was some damage from lodging due to heavy rains, wind and hail, in local areas, the outlook at harvest time for the State as a whole was 14 points above average. The production is estimated at 15,345,000 bushels.

Since several of the State's sugar beet factories will not operate this year, the acreage of this crop amounts to only 63,000 acres. Last year 85,000 acres were planted, of which 74,000 were harvested. The condition of the crop on the first of the month was reported at 2 points above average, which indicates a probable production of 412,000 tons. Last year 513,000 tons were harvested.

While the June drop on most fruits was quite heavy, the outlook on July 1 pointed to larger production than last year for all fruits, except pears and grapes. The condition of the various fruits, in terms of percentages of a full crop are: apples 71; peaches 82; pears 48; cherries 62, and grapes 62.

DEAD FISH FOUND IN MANY WATERS

It Need Not Cause Unnecessary Alarms, Says State Officials

Lansing, July 15.—Numbers of dead fish found along lake shores at this time of the year do not necessarily mean that the fish population of that lake is diseased nor does it mean the presence of any condition that is any cause for alarm, according to the Fish Division of the Department of Conservation.

Reports are coming in to the Division from various parts of the state concerning large numbers of dead fish along the shores of certain lakes. Individuals are asking for investigations and examinations.

At this time of the year a loss of fish occurs in many lakes and in many cases is due to depletion of the oxygen supply in the water, the weakened condition of the fish following the spawning season, the increasing water temperatures, etc. In many cases, the loss is a natural loss and need not be alarming considering the size of the lake and the number of fish contained in the waters.

Altho of minor importance, the Institute for Fisheries Research at Ann Arbor is anxious to have reports of these occurrences for purposes of record and when serious to make an examination. Specimens are desired for examination. The Institute will examine the specimen and will report the cause of death, and if a disease is apparently extensive in a lake, will study the conditions, seeking a remedy.
