Combining cable talks continue.

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Officials continue to push a public access television consolidation plan, but others are pushing back.

Independence Township Supervisor Pat Kittle, who presented the plan to the township board as well as Clarkston Board of Education, said moving the Independence TV public access program to Clarkston High School would be a win-win for both.

"It would be an equipment windfall for students," said Kittle, adding that having the equipment at the high school would serve to better train students.

Rob Namowicz, member of the Independence TV citizens advisory committee, said the plan is a bad idea - similar partnerships between communities and schools have not gone well.

"All members of the current cable committee have cautioned against the rush to merge," said Namowicz at the June 24 school board meeting. "As a committee we do not support moving the PEG studio to the schools."

Committee member Jay A. Clark said Independence TV was once the worst public access in the country. Although he feels programming has improved, he fears being "horrified" again if moving the equipment to the school causes a backslide in progress.

Clark said he also fears getting kids into the studio may be a problem.

Stacy Maegher, committee member, said rather than closing the studio, the CHS students should just have classes at the Maybee Road location.

Independence TV Program Manager Joseph Barnhardt, who presented an update to the township board along with Township Budget Analyst Rick Yaeger, said closing the Maybee Road studio would save the town-

Teen artists develop skills

BY WENDIREARDON

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The art room at Clarkston Junior High School was quiet on June 19 as the creativity soared during Teen Art Camp.

The annual camp kicked off on Monday as campers, entering sixth through 12th grade, created their alternative sketchbook made out of discarded library books.

The books, once used to educate, were recycled into a place for new ideas, drawings and cartoons.

"I couldn't get them out of it," said Claudia Keglovitz, art teacher at the junior high. "We didn't do anything else for the rest of the day. I showed them charcoal and how to do it. Then, they went right back to their sketchbooks."

Hannah Hop used the center of the book to host her artwork made out of antique buttons, glass and other findings. Lexi Traynor turned her sketchbook into a place to draw her cartoons

"They gessoed (a white paint mixture) the pages so they could draw on them," Keglovitz explained. "The pages are put together with the wax paper then they can peel them out and draw on the pages."

Other campers cut out sections of the book to create secret compartments.

The campers also created with one of the favorite camp activities - screenprinting. They put their designs not only on paper but canvas bags and T-shirts.

They worked with charcoal, paints, colored pencils and encaustic wax. They also learned more about the media they were us-

Keglovitz explained encaustic wax was used by Vikings to protect the hulls and decorations on their ships. It can also be blended with India ink. When mixed with beeswax it becomes smooth and fluid. This year she brought in the heat gun for campers to use.

"The things that are popular are things we can't do during the school year," she added. "I understand that. Also, they are so intense."

Some of the campers used discarded dry wall as the canvas for their creation. They used it for low relief carvings of their drawings and designs into the pieces. A few used watercolor to make the layers and texture pop

"It was based on an idea my niece (Nicole) had," Keglovitz said. "It was just word of mouth. People said that's cool I want to do

Keglovitz was helped by Bailey Smith, a former student and now an art teacher for Clarkston Community Schools at Independence Elementary and the Early Childhood

The fun continued this week as Smith held the second session at Independence Elementary. The camps ended on Thursday with a Gala Art Opening where friends and family viewed all the projects the campers worked on during the week.

Both Teen Art Camps are offered through Clarkston Community Education. For more information about this camp and other sumcamps. please visit www.clarkston.k12.mi.us/cec or call 248-623-

Police budget

Oakland County Sheriff's Office Independence Substation Lt. Dirk Feneley and Budget Analyst Rick Yaeger presented the proposed 2014 Police Budget. Tax revenues for the department decreased $13,322 (0.3 percent) due to declining property values while operating and capital outlay costs increased $65,847 (1.53 percent).

The department's overall contribution to the fund balance decreased $79,500. Decreases in the budget included $10,500 (8.8 percent) less charged to Clarkston for police service, $16,000 (32 percent) decrease in interest and rents, $20,000 (80 percent) decrease in rebates and refunds and other small decreases.

Increases in the budget included a $12,000 (100 percent) increase in charges for services to Clarkston Community Schools and a $87,602 (2.2 percent) increase in fees to Oakland County. The final budget will be approved in October.

Special election

A special election is Aug. 6 regarding the Lake Orion Community Schools Improvement Bond.

Voters in the Lake Orion school district, which includes part of Independence Township, vote on propositions to borrow about $28.5 million as well as $4.5 million for projects including acquiring and installing technology, improving several buildings and athletic fields, and increasing security.

The proposals also include furnishing and refurnishing a variety of buildings and athletic fields.

Singing contest

Auditions for the 2013 Oakland County Fair Idol contest are July 9 and 11, 6-9 p.m. Finals for the contest are July 13,12 p.m.

Prizes are $500 for first place, $250 for second and $100 for third place. Singers ages 8 and up sing songs of their choice, up to three minutes, and free of profanity and immoral themes. Solos, duets and trios are welcome. Sing acapella, perform with an instrument or be accompanied an instrumential cd.

Road needs attention

Summer has arrived, bringing hot weather and later sunsets.

It also means more people are taking advantage of the sunshine while they can especially by walking and bicycling.

You know what it means - time for a reminder about driving. I know, I know there are places to go and you need to get there but please pay attention to the pedestrains crossing the street and cycling on the roads - especially the back roads.

Plus, more people are strolling through downtown Clarkston for Concerts in the Park, the restaurants and businesses - let's not scare them away from the charming downtown by wanting to run them over as soon as the traffic light turns green.

I will say one more time - please, pay attention to the pedestrians. Not your cell phone.

I point my finger at the cell phone because it has become a distraction for many. There are too many things going on with it - texts, internet, games, phone calls, and all the other fun applications we all have. But let's take a moment to put the phone away while driving. If it is really important to send a text message, please pull over.

In addition there is the road construction on Dixie Highway, please slow down and watch your speed. People are working on the road.

I know some of you don't need a reminder and I appreciate you being a attentive and respectful driver. My reason I have seen too many near accidents in the last few weeks even though the road conditions are clear. It's the little things that turn into big costs.

We will all get there. What is the rush? Let's enjoy this weather while it lasts. Before you know it will be winter.

Since it is summer it means we are less than two months away from the fifth annual Football for a Cure - where the Wolves on the varsity football team don pink and baby blue jerseys for their prescrimmage to raise for McLaren Breast Center off Sashabaw Road.

Get your T-shirts early during the Concerts in the Park and contact clarkstonfootballforacure@gmail.com with questions or to volunteer.

As for the Wolves - their home opener is Aug. 31 at Ford Field. Yes, we are counting down as we do every year.

Thanks for community support at Quatro

Dear Editor

The Clarkston Cooperative Preschool held a silent auction on May 4 at the Clarkston Flower Shoppe & Birdfeeder during the Ouatro de Mayo event.

We were overwhelmed with the support from 49 local businesses and artisans, who donated more than $6,500 worth of products and services to our event.

Our Silent Auction was held to raise money for the Clarkston Cooperative Preschool - the only preschool in the Village of Clarkston which has been nurturing happy souls since 1060 We could not continue to flourish without the support of this wonderful community, and we are grateful beyond measure to all those who donated, bid, and browsed. And we need to send a special thank you to Steve at the Clarkston Flower Shoppe and Birdfeeder who not only developed the Quatro De Mayo event but who graciously provided us with a stunning venue for our auction. With all of your generosity, our event was a huge success! Thank you, thank you, clarkston businesses and patrons!

A call to preserve current public access

Dear Editor

The Clarkston Cable Public Access channel is about to be given to the high school by the township board at the contrivance of the new supervisor.

After much hard work, the cable committee has succeeded in hiring a capable new coordinator/program director, replacing equipment with state of the art, and connecting to AT&TU-verse where you can watch board meetings

But just as public access TV is ready to take off again, producing community service and quirky local programming, where anyone can have their own TV show, the board wants the children to have the equipment, to move everything out of the studio building on Maybee Road into the high school against the unanimous opinion of all five cable committee members.

Ten years ago, the school took the education channel and hasn't produced one acceptable broadcast of a school board meeting. And now this great insatiable sucking maw is going to receive the government and community access channels as well.

I am broken hearted. The people paying cable bills should have something to say about this. It reminds me of the way we got a new township hall. The board doesn't seem to care what tax payers or cable bill payers think of their plan. People need to call the supervisor and come to the board meetings before it is too late.

Sincerely,

Nancy Stephenson Independence Township

'Pedaling' error no piddling matter to reader

Dear Editor,

Upon reading the headline "Peddling deputy" in the June 19 Clarkston News, I was shocked.

So I got my dictionary out and checked the definition of the word "peddling." One is "small, trifling, piddling." I do not feel that the job the officer will be doing to be small, trifling, or piddling.

I think a better spelling choice would have been "pedaling," alternate spelling, "pedalling." Dictionary definition, "of or pertaining to a pedal, perhaps a bicycle, to move or operate by moving pedals."

Maybe I'm just too picky to have noticed this. No offense to the author because without looking it up I would have thought peddling was to sell stuff.

"Schools consider $250,000 Walters Road paving plan" The Clarkston Community Schools Board of Education and administration discussed paving Walters Road from Flemings Lake to Waldon roads and using it for bus traffic. The cost would have been $250,000 and would be incorporated into an intergovernmental agreement between the district and Independence Township.

"Budding writers share stories, poems" North Sashabaw Elementary fifth graders sampled what it was like to be a published writer as they threw a "publishing party." They read their creative works to friends and family then enjoyed cake and conversation.

"Local bicyclist goes coast-to-coast the hard way" Sixty-six-year-old Ken Peterson took his pre-retirement hobby into a full-time activity as he completed a two-week bike ride from Fort Walton Beach, Fla. to Windsor.

"Fuel spill could contaminate wells" Flemings Lake Road residents were worried after discovering 1,500 gallons of jet fuel from Enmanco of Mount Clemens spilled into the ground from a tipped fuel tanker off 1-75 the previous week. Concerns grew when told officials wouldn't be out to inspect the area for another week.

"Voter turnout believed to be all-time high" A record 7,028 voters, out of 15,000 registered voters cast ballots in the Clarkston school election. By almost a two-to-one margin they approved the operational millage increase and a $5.2 million bond issue for school repairs.

"Students protest high school graduation policy" A small but vocal group attending the Clarkston Community Schools board of education meeting made it clear they were not happy with the graduation policy regarding required credits. Some were not able to walk at commencement because they were one or half a credit shy of graduating. School Board President Janet Thomas explained it was not a new policy and the handbook was clear on the matter.

"Local youth wins honors, goes to Sarnia" Richard Lord of Clarkston was the winner of the regional contest for the best Boy Preacher of the Year. He went to Sarnia to compete for the state title and placed fourth.

Ye old outhouse and more

Editor's Note: Don Rush is on vacation this week, so we plucked this gem out of the archives. It was first published on June 25, 2003. Enjoy.

My Aunt Janice Pearl Housekeeper e-mailed me a cute little story the other day. I may have heard it before, and so too may have you. That said, it's still cute and will make you smile.

The Outhouse

Once there was a little boy who lived in the coun-

They had to use an outhouse, and the little boy hated it because it was hot in the summer, cold in the winter and stunk all the time. The outhouse was sitting on the bank of a creek and the boy determined that one day he would push that outhouse into the creek.

One day after a spring rain, the creek was swollen so the little boy decided today was the day to push the outhouse into the creek. So he got a large stick and started pushing. Finally, the outhouse toppled into the creek and floated away.

That night his dad told him they were going to the woodshed after supper.

Knowing that meant a spanking, the little boy asked why. The dad replied, "Someone pushed the outhouse into the creek today. It was you, wasn't it, son?"

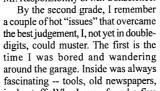

The boy answered yes. Then he thought a moment and said, "Dad, I read in school today that George Washington chopped down a cherry tree and didn't get into trouble because he told the truth."

The dad replied, "Well, son, George Washington's father wasn't in that cherry tree."

E-gads that hits home. Having been a son and now having sons I know all too well of fathers, sons, mischief and of lying.

I reckon I was as normal as normal lads go. On more than one occasion I let Mr. Imagination lead me to places I never should have ventured. Boys will be boys is the old cliche, but it's true. I'd wager that most boys have a Mr. Imagination that, at times, crowds out thoughts from Mr. Logic, Mr. Responsibility or Mr. Conscience.

junk, stuff. Why I even found a five gallon metal bucket of tar Dad stored in there. I knew it was tar because I was bored and pried open the lid.

Easily distracted I then found my way to the old newspapers. I remember rolling one up, finding some matches and lighting one end of the paper roll and pretending to be the Statue of Liberty.

I remember being nervous as the flames burned closer to my outstretched hand. I quickly dunked the flaming torch of liberty into the cool blackness of the tar. I covered up my indiscretion by putting the lid back on the metal bucket. The task completed I quickly forgot about the entire episode (until the next time Dad needed to use the tar).

There was another episode involving melting toy soldiers and other toys with my sister Barb and the Kessler cousins. Mr. Logic went on a vacation that summer sometime before junior high school when I swam across Walter's Lake in Independence Town-

Yes, I even played George Washington at Aunt Pat's house and started chopping down the cherry tree in her back yard. I have no idea what I was thinking by throwing a handful of feed corn at a bunch of wasp nests, nor could I tell you why, when I found an old dump in the woods, I smashed all those old bottles (which caused our dog Lady to get a cut paw.)

And, the time I lied to Dad about knocking down the tree fort. Jeeze. I had it made, he believed me. "No, Dad. I did not knock that fort down."

I was a free man until guilt got the better of me. I immediately tried to rebuild the fort (atone) and that didn't work, nor ease my conscience. I had to fess up to Pops Rush. It was such a bad feeling lying to him -- the ensuing spanking (for lying) was nothing compared to the pain of knowing I let him down.

At no time in any of the above mentioned chapters in boyhood was I trying to be stupid or malicious -- I just was. It's a boy-thing -- we're lower on the evolutionary scale than girls.

Hopefully, I will remember that when Shamus and Sean start pulling stunts and shenanigans -- they're just

Arraigned for cocaine

Carl Lee Gilliland, 37, has been arraigned in 52-2 District Court for possession of cocaine and driving with a suspended license. A deputy on patrol stopped Gilliland in the 7000 block of Dixie Highway, 9:36 p.m., June 12, after checking the license plate on his SUV and finding it had no title. Search of his vehicle turned up a tin of white rock, which tested positive for crack cocaine, five used syringes, two pipes, and an air pistol. The suspect also had a criminal record in Michigan and Florida, and 12 arrest warrants out of Genesee County.

Drunk driver

On her way from work, a 21-year-old Clarkston resident ran off the road and struck a fire hydrant with her Jeep Liberty, June 17 around 1:30 a.m. Her speech was slurred, smelled of intoxicants and admitted to having five drinks after work. She took a breathlyzer test for a .184. She was placed under arrest for operating while intoxicating.

Rock damage

A 24-year-old Clarkston driver reported her 2009 Chevrolet Malibu damaged by rocks on White Lake Road near East Court at 11:45 p.m. on June 20.

Public Safety

For Clarkston and Independence Township

A similiar complaint was taken on June 19 around the same time and intersection by a 31-year-old driver. She noticed glass on the road and heard a bang which sounded like a firework. Something also hit her windshield leaving a small chip on the bottom.

Neighbor trouble

After cutting two of his neighbor's flowering plants, a 60-year-old Staghorn Trail resident was cited for malicious mischief, June 18. The caller, a 66-year-old male, admitted to cutting branches and leaves because they hung over his property line and he couldn't see onto the road when leaving the driveway. He didn't expect his neighbor to cut his plants in response. He was fearful that his neighbor might hurt him or his family.

Trailer taken

A 42-year-old resident of Shamrock Lane reported his utility trailer missing from his driveway. He described it as 5' by 8' with a steel floor and three holes in the driver's side rear. He believed he saw the same trailer off Bridge Lake Road, but upon investigation by officers, did not match the description.

Too many fireworks

A resident on Lakeview Blvd. stated he had on going issues with his neighbor shooting fireworks at all times throughout the day and night, June 19. A deputy explained it is tough to enforce fireworks ordinance because the officers have to witness his neighbor violating the ordinance. The deputy talked to the neighbor, who was not aware of the ordinance and thought it was okay to use fireworks year-round per state law. He said going forward he will use fireworks at allotted time and days.

No permit for deer

A deputy stopped a Ford Ranger after the driver did a U-turn on Ortonville Road by Rattalee Lake Road. While approaching he observed a dead deer in the bed of the truck. The 33-year-old Clarkston driver admitted he received a call from friend who hit the deer and was told to pick it up. He added he was glad to be stopped because he was going to call for a kill permit. The driver was cited for possession of a deer without a permit.

Plate gone

A 66-year-old Clarkston resident noticed her license plate was missing while she was at Rite Aid, June 13. The plate was entered into LEIN.

Hit and run arrest

Deputies noticed a white Lexus traveling northbound on Sashabaw Road at a high speed, June 14. It matched the description of a vehicle used in a hit and run accident in Waterford. The officer followed the SUV onto southbound I-75 where the driver hit 100 mph and was swerving in and out of lanes. The 33-year-old Waterford driver slurred while answering the officer's questions when stopped, and admitted to consuming a few beers at a bar near Dixie Highway and Walton Blvd. When asked if he had driven through the construction in the area he said he didn't want to talk about it. A search through vehicle revealed an empty bottle of vodka and damage to the driver's front side - consistent with the accident. He was turned over to Waterford police.

Car damaged

Following a concert at DTE Energy Music Theatre on June 16, a 20-year-old female from Lincoln Park discovered the passenger side mirror laying on the ground under the driver's side of her car. The passenger side door was scratched where the mirror struck while being knocked to the ground.

Campers hone skills at Dream

BY WENDI REARDON

Clarkston News Sports Writer

Young cagers wore smiles as they practiced their skills and techniques during Dare to Dream Fundamental Basketball Camp last week.

"It's been pretty good," said Tim Wasilk, Clarkston Girls Varsity Basketball Head Coach and leading the camp. "It's been a fun week. The girls have worked extremely hard."

Girls in grades third through ninth worked on fundamentals every day such as ballhandling, defense, passing, rebounding footwork and shooting.

Meghan Deardorff, who is going into ninth grade this fall, has attended the camp for five years and each year she keeps improving.

"The fundamentals have helped me become a better player and know what to do in a situation," she added. "It has helped me learn how to do everything."

Deardorff noted a few improvements she has made through the years at the camp are in her shots, defense and footwork.

"My defense stance is better and my feet are quicker," she explained. "Learning how to box out and not letting people get around me."

She attended Dare to Dream five years ago to see if basketball was the sport for her. She found out it was.

"It made basketball fun and I kept wanting to do it," she smiled.

"It was a really good experience for them," Wasilk added. "It helps them anytime the girls are in the gym, they are playing and they have a ball in their hands. Most of the girls on my varsity team have come up through this or the summer league. The kids see them coming up and work with them and our coaching staff. It makes a big difference."

Campers received tips from coaches in the Lady Wolves basketball program as well as current varsity players.

"They see the high school girls and look up to them," Wasilk added. "They get a player's view and someone closer to their age."

The girls also played five-on-five basketball games and participated in four contests every day in three divisions separated by grades. The winners from each day competed against each other on the final day of camp. The winner received a trophy and bragging rights for the next year.

Contest winners from this year's camp were Natalie Nicklin, Megan Rusnak and Meghan Deardorff in hot shot; Nicklin, Kaelyn Kaul, Jade Garcia in free throw knockout; Nicklin, Danielle Hopkins and Aalayna Green in lightning; and Nicklin, Hopkins and Kaylee Percival in one on one

"It's a lot of fun," Deardorff said. ""More people should come out and play."

ATHLETES OF THE WEEK Seniors honored

Congratulations to Clarkston High School 2013 graduates Rachel Dickerson and Nathan Yeloushan.

Both were recognized for their athletic achievements during the senior award ceremony, May 14. They received the male/female athletic award.

Dickerson heads to Grand Valley State University this fall where she will continue playing volleyball.

She began playing volleyball in seventh grade after her friends introduced her to the sport through Clarkston Volleyball Canno.

"I loved being on a team and have everyone pick each other up," she said earlier this year.

Dickerson assisted her teammates on the varsity volleyball team as they finished the season winning the OAA league and district titles with a 53-7 record.

Yeloushan was instrumental for two teams this year as he used his skills on the football field and the basketball court with the Wolves.

He heads to Sienna Heights University where he will continue his role as tight end and linebacker. He signed his letter of intent earlier this year fulfilling his dream to play college football.

Yeloushan began playing football in sixth grade and admitted the passion began when he went to Friday night games with his parents.

"It looked like fun," he said. He added the Clarkston program was a great role model for him growing up and will help him in life.

He helped gridiron heroes finish with a 11-1 record and as OAA Red and district champions. During the winter season, he assisted the basketball team capture another OAA Red title and finish the season 18-4.

Grad continues baseball career at Evansville

Matt Rodgers, 2011 Clarkston High School graduate, signed a National Letter of Intent accepting an athletic scholarship to play baseball next season for the University of Evansville, an NCAA D1 program in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Rodgers will primarily play first base for the Purple Aces, but will also get an opportunity to pitch for his new team. He will continue his academic studies majoring in Business Administration.

Rodgers was a standout on the diamond for the past two seasons playing for Lincoln

Trail College in Robinson, Illinois. Lincoln Trail plays in a very competitive NJCAA D1 Great Lakes Athletic Conference in southern Illinois

Rodger's career numbers at Lincoln Trail included a .359 batting average, .501 on-base percentage and .626 slugging percentage from the plate and a 4.02 earned run average, 8.04 strikeouts per game and 2.86 strikeouts per walk ratio on the mound.

He led his team in batting average, onbase percentage, runs and walks as a freshman. As a sophomore, he led his team in every batting statistic, which included eight home runs, seven triples and 16 doubles, earning him First Team All-Conference and First Team All-Region honors.

He was also a standout in the classroom at Lincoln Trail College. In May, he carned his Associates Degree in Business with a cumulative GPA of 3.85.

He had two semesters recording a 4.00 GPA, was a member of Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society and was honored as Business Student of the Year.

Rodgers is playing summer ball for the second consecutive year for the Lake Erie Monarchs in the Great Lakes Summer Collegiate League.

The Monarchs are based out of Toledo, OH and play their home games at Ned Skeldon Stadium in Maumee, OH.

Kids polish construction skills at competition

Clarkston News Editor

Construction students put their skills to the test at the Novice Carpentry and Masonry Invitational, June 6 at Oakland Technical School Northwest in Springfield Township.

"They're looking good, working fast," said Patty Adolphs, instruction resource and cluster development consultant. "They're definitely doing a good job getting the kids ready. I'm impressed."

The Clarkston students competed against teams from William D. Ford Career-Technical Center, Westland, and Warren Consolidated School District.

It was a practice round for the students, who will compete as seniors next year in Skills USA contests.

"The biggest thing for them is to learn team building," said Dan with Warren Consolidated Career Preparation Center, who brought a team of three students. "They're dealing with a little bit of a time constraint, and learning how to get everybody to work together on something."

"They're doing great," said Duane Olds, carpentry and masonry instructor at the Northwest center. "The kids are doing well this year, with a lot of different experiences."

"This is a great end of the year experience for the guys," said Dick Moscovic, Northwest center construction trades teacher.

"It gives them some experience for next year's competition," Barterian said. "So far, they're

Hitters claim championship

The Oakland Grizzlies Baseball 12U team from Clarkston won the championship game 2-1 against the Downriver Hawks from Trenton in extra innings on June 9 in Holland.

The Grizzlies went 5-0 during the weekend to win the USSSA tournament at the Matt Urban Sports Complex in Holland.

Carson Butterfield pitched four of the six innings in the championship game. Connor McClennan pitched the final two innings to cap off a great weekend for the Grizzlies.

Final at the bat was Grizzlies' Wade Bonicci who laid down a bunt on a suicide squeeze with the bases loaded to win it.

In addition to the 2-1 win over the DownRiver Hawks, the Grizzlies beat the West Michigan Outlaws twice 5-3 and 10-5, West Michigan Riptide 14-1 and the Battle Creek Rebels 5-0.

The team is Jack Anderson, Seth Bacon, Ryan Barber, Wade Bonnici, Carson Butterfield, Patrick Deardorff, Daniel Fridline, Trevor Gilman, Brock Henly, Matthew McClellan and Connor McClennan. Coaches are Mike Anderson, Brad Bacon, Tim Henley ship money, allow students more access to equipment, and provides more of a workforce to Independence TV.

"I need bodies," said Barnhart, adding if he had 20-30 students he could produce more programming on the channel.

Independence Township Trustee David Lohmeier proposed a one year trial period. He said the Township should hold a performance review in about a year, and if significant progress is not made, "We move on," he said.

Township Clerk Barb Pallota said having better equipment at the school provides a valuable vocational curriculum at the high school, and may help keep students from moving away after they graduate.

Clarkston Community Schools and Independence Township receive money from taxpayers through Public, Education, and Government, PEG, fees collected from cable television subscribers.

The consolidation plan would transfer $300,000 dollars in equipment from the township's studio on Maybee Rod to the Clarkston High School studio, along with $200,000 a year in capital lease payments.

The move would save the township $55,000 on rent, utilities and other costs associated with the Maybee Road location. According to the plan, the township would retain ownership of the equipment.

"People aren't using Independence TV's Maybee Road facility despite recent renovation and equipmed Supgrades," said Kittle last February. "Clarkston High School has the opposite problem, with kids lined up to learn. But the high school's equipment is antiquated, not suited to its purpose. Combining the two would be ideal."

Kittle said a committee will be formed to further explore the issue.

Get your hands dirty at Depot Park

BYANDREAM. BEAUDOIN

Clarkston News Staff Writer

If you want to get your hands dirty-Depot Park is the place to go.

A new Adopt-a-Garden program in the downtown park has been a beautiful success, according to City Manager Carol Eberhardt, who came up with an idea to have several spots in the park available for gardeners to adopt.

"It gets people actively involved in the community," she said.

James Bickford adopted a garden in front of the Veterans Memorial in the park for his dad, John, as a Father's day gift. John said when he noticed the sign offering adoptions he knew it would be a great gift for his dad.

"My girlfriend and I were walking through the park when we noticed the sign that said 'adopt me," said Bickford. "I knew my dad would love it."

John, a United States Air Force veteran, said he was speechless when he found out what his son had done for him.

"They told me that their car was making noises and asked me to go for a ride. Before I knew it we were in Depot Park, and that's when they showed me the garden," he said. "I love it."

James and his girlfriend Ciara Leatzua invited John to come and help plants flowers and lay new mulch. In addition to planting flowers, James is going to install some decorative bricks to honor his grandfather, who like his dad, also served in the military.

Gardeners can plant any kind of flowers and plants.

"People can plant anything they want," said Eberhardt.

It's free to sponsor a spot, but interested individuals must buy their own materials and make sure the spot is kept up. The city will provide free mulch.

Gardeners can adopt a spot and design it anyway they wish and dedicate it as a memorial or in an organizations or business name. So far the city has created 11 spots that gardeners can pick from—several of which have already been adopted.

Eberhardt said there are plenty of spots still available, and even if the current spots run out, the city will designate more spots for adoption.

Each gardener will get a personalized granite stone created by local artist Danielle Daigle to take home at the end of the season. Daigle, who has always like to draw, is using her creative talent to make a special stone for each spot.

The etched stones will feature different designs and wording based on each gardener's wishes. Gardeners can take their stones home at the end of the season.

A new Rain Garden, which contains native plants that love to be water logged, has also recently been installed in the park.

If you would like to adopt a garden in Depot Park, call Eberhardt at 248-625-1559.

Players learn at lacrosse camp

BYANDREWMILLER

Special to the Clarkston News

Young players hit the field to improve their skills at Clarkston Lacrosse Camp.

Clarkston High School hosted the seventh annual camp this week to develop younger players and improve their skills.

The camp hosts players ranging from second grade to upcoming freshman. It is also home to athletes all around the county, not just Clarkston. Players from Clarkston, Lake Orion, Everest Academy and Oxford were all there trying to improve their skills.

"The goal of this camp is to improve all of their skills and fundamentals," said Brian Kaminskas, head coach for the boys varsity team and camp director. "We want to see players becoming more confident in all of their skills, not just their dominate ones."

The players were eager as well to learn and improve on their weaknesses. Jake Rise from Clarkston has been playing lacrosse for two years and was excited about the camp.

"Improving my passing is what I want to gain from this camp," said Risc. "Passing is a huge part of the game and so far the coaches have all been great. They are helping me get my passing better and be more confident."

Josh McCaghy has also been playing for two years and developing his offhand was what he wanted to improve.

"We're here to get better at the skills and fundamentals," said McCaghy. "My offhand needs to get better and that's exactly what they are helping us with here."

In order to learn however, you need a good teacher. Kaminskas is one of the state's best coaches, and the camp gave players a chance to learn from college players who were back from their seasons.

One of the coaches, former Clarkston standout Nick Demattia, was excited to share his knowledge to the next generation of players. Demattia is a sophomore at University of Detroit Mercy.

"I think it's great so many college athletes come back to help these players," said Demattia.

"I'm excited to play my part in helping these younger kids," he added. "It's good to see how far Clarkston's program has come and to continue it. (The coaches) want to see the athletes get a better knowledge of the game, and improve their lacrosse IQ. Like any camp, we all want them to have fun, ten."

All around the field, coaches set up different drills, showing kids proper technique and teaching them the right way to play. The next evident observation was how much fun the players were having.

"It's a skills camp, but also meant to be fun," said Kaminskas. "It's the coaches job to get them excited, and make it fun."

Another camp for beginner players and experienced players, offered through Clarkston Community Education, is July 15-18. Visit www.clarkston.k12.mir.us/cec or call 248-623-4326:

Owner Shiro Ino welcomes the public to the new Sagano Japanese Bistro and Steakhouse. Photo by Andrea Beaudoin

Sagano opens in Clarkston

BYANDREAM. BEAUDOIN

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Sagano Japanese Bistro and Steakhouse officially opened at its newest location in Clarkston on June 26 at 6545 Sashabaw. The restaurant also has locations in Flint and Brighton.

Sagano specials include a wide variety of cuisine including chicken, shrimp, lobster, snow tuna, steak, swordfish, scallops, salmon, filet mignon and more. Combination platters will also come with soup, salad and special noodles. Customers can order steamed white rice or a special recipe of fried rice to complete their meal.

Owner Shiro Ino said customers can add an array of vegetables and spices to go with a wide variety of meat choices. "Our style is different," said Ino. "Everyone will have a chef that comes out to cook in front of them. It will be entertaining for the customers. We have very experienced chefs."

The Clarkston location features hibachi grills that can seat nine people around each grill. A semi-private room is also available to rent for special occasions. The restaurant can seat over 200 customers, and features a down draft system to prevent any smell or smoke from effecting diners.

Birthdays are a popular adventure at the Bistro.

"All customers have to do is tell the server they have a birthday, and we will put on a show," said Ino. The celebration will include singing, special entertainment and unique tricks from the chef.

Chef Roger Abando said said he can't wait to show off some of his special tricks to customers. He said his specialties include a show in which he makes special figures from napkins. "The kids love it," he said. "It's a lot of fun.

Ino said for dessert, customers can choose from goodies like deep fired ice cream, fried cheese cake or a banana split.

"Our desserts are famous at each location," he smiled.

Sagano's Flint location opened 11 years ago, and later expanded to feature hibachi grills.

According to www.saganoflint.net, "Being the only restaurant in Genesee County to serve sushi, Sagano Japanese Bistro gained a strong following, and flourished for about two and a half years until it expanded into what it is today."

Ino said the Flint locations popularity allowed him to open a second location in Brighton in 2010.

Ino said he got to know the Clarkston area after joined the Oakhurst Golf Club.

"I decided Clarkston was a nice area," he said. "I also noticed that the area had no Japanese cuisine or sushi style restaurant, so 1 began looking for a location in the area," he said.

The Clarkston space that houses Sagano cost an estimated $880,000 to completely renovate, and includes top of the line equipment and interior.

"Everything is here," said Ino. "Everyone that comes here will be happy."

The restaurant also offers a special takeout area, and a full bar. Sagano hours are Mon-Thurs., lunch 11:30-2:30 p.m., dinner 5-9 p.m.; Fri., lunch 11:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m., dinner 5-10 p.m.; Sat., lunch 12-3 p.m., dinner 4:30-10

We are pleased to introduce physical therapist and co-owner, George Carson to the HealthQuest family!

George graduated from Oakland University in 1986 and has been practicing orthopedic physical therapy in the Clarkston area since 1992. George has been married for 25 years and has two boys, both of which play baseball on the collegiate level. George also has a sports background and in 1984 was the state power lifting champion. He has been coaching, mentoring, and treating athletes champion. He has been coaching, mentoring, and treating athletes for almost 30 years and when he is not traveling to watch his boys compete, he enjoys local sporting events and volunteering his time assisting young athletes.

He is very excited about joining the team at HealthQuest and is looking forward to many more years of treating patients in the Clarkston area and growing with the community and company.

Miles to ride for News

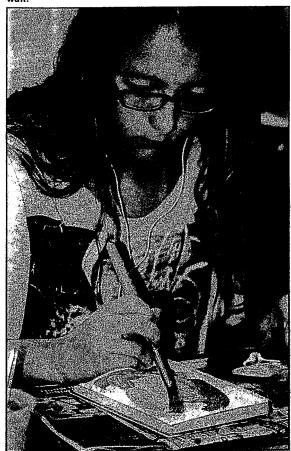

Philippe Paris regularly rides his bike from Lake Orion to Clarkston. "I ride my bike and go get a coffee at the Clarkston Village Bakeshop, grab my copy of the Clarkston News, and rest on a bench in front of Clarkston State Bank to read the paper," he said. After reading the paper and enjoying his coffee break, he rides several miles back to Lake Orion. We compliment Paris on his great taste in coffee and reading material. Photo by Andrea Beaudoin

Summer artists

Artists began the summer releasing their creativity and ideas during Teen Art Camp last week.

They learned new techniques and used different mediums for their ideas. They also shared their ideas with other campers.

The camp ended last Thursday with a Gala Art Opening.

Light rides to grant wishes

BY WENDIREARDON

Clarkston News Sports Writer

Bob Light isn't a stranger to endurance events after completing three Ironman, over 20 marathons and hiking long distances.

Now the Independence Township resident is preparing for 300 miles of cycling in the 26th Annual Wish Bicycle Tour for Make-A-Wish Michigan, July 25-28.

"It is for a good cause," Light smiled. "We are riding on Team Jenna. Jenna Kast was a young girl who lost her life to cancer at age 11. We are raising funds and awareness for kids with unfortunate diseases. Under Make-A-Wish the funds grant wishes for those kids."

He explained one of his friends participated in the event last year and asked Light if he would do it this year. Light said yes because it was for a good cause and is an endurance event.

"It is a good mix of both," Light added. "It was an opportunity to do some good, raise some money and awareness and something to train for and do."

Each member of Team Jenna has a goal for how much they would like to raise for the event. Light's goal is to raise $2,500.

The event spans three days with cyclists traveling a 100 miles per day in the 300-mile route. Light is preparing with lots of bike riding.

The longest distance he has ever biked was 120 miles in one day so he is taking time when he can to prepare. During the week he tries to ride 25 miles at least 2-3 nights on the Polly Ann Trail. He takes longer rides during the weekend.

"It's tough," he admitted. "You have to build into it. I trained in the winter on the bike in my basement watching television. Then with this spring it was difficult because the weather was so bad."

Light added there is a physical element to get in shape for it and there is also a mental element to prepare for during the long distance.

"Endurance tests really helped me with a lot of time on the bike," he said. "You have to be in the moment. You have to be patient to deal with the fatigue and boredom. Everything builds on itself."

When he hits a mental snag during the ride he is prepared to tackle it by thinking of the kids and making their wishes come true.

"Knowing it is going to be for this good cause, and that we are going to grant wishes for kids is what is going to be the piece to pull it together," Light explained. "When things get tough and I am out there on the road with Team Jenna, everyone will struggle at different times but when I have my moments I will think about those things the money I have raised and the good it is going to do."

He added he has received a lot of support from his friends, family and his employer, Complete Automation in Lake Orion where he is the Chief Financial Officer.

"They are supporting me with time off and donations," he explained. "It's good to have your employer support you like that. I thank them for it"

Light has been in the Clarkston community for 15 years and runs with the Wolfpack Running Club and is part of the Clarkston Multisport Club.

Light and members from Team Jenna invite the community to their fundraiser at the 24th Street Sports Tavern, 13 S. Washington Street in Oxford, July 9 from 5-9 p.m. They will have a 50/50 drawing, prizes and an auction.

To make a donation, please visit www.wishamile.org and search for Bob Light.

The racer trains for the Wish Bicycle Tour.

The cyclists begin in Traverse City and finish on the track at Michigan International Speedway in Brooklyn, Mich. They meet one of the wish heroes, one of the children who had their wish granted, and receive a medal from the wish hero.

"I hear it is pretty emotional," Light added.
"The event is going to be really fun. I know last year they ran into some tough weather. We have had tough weather training this year. We have had rain, cold and wind. Hopefully we can pan anything Mother Nature throws at us."

How to live with less anxiety

What do you worry about? What pre- it! occupies your mind and causes you to lose sleep at night?

Do you find yourself thinking, "How am I going to pay the bills this month? What if I lose my job? What if the car breaks down? What if that doctor's exam comes up positive? What if my kids don't turn out? What if my marriage doesn't make Anxiety can overtake us simply because of our "to do" lists! "I'm so busy! I'm so overwhelmed! I have these goals. I've got to perform. I want to look good. But I can't get it all done! I'm stressed out!"

Maybe we stress out because we care about our country and all the chaos and terrorism. We get upset when the "wrong" candidate wins the election. There is so much ungodliness in our country, and we worry and we are upset and we are stressed out.

It's a fact that we face all kinds of stresses in life, right? It's easy for us to worry about our stuff, our future, our health, our "to do" lists, and all that's going on in the world today.

The fact is, life is hard. We may lose our job. We might get sick. Few of us have all the money we want. We wish we could have stuff that we don't have. And the fact is, we cannot eliminate most of these stresses from our lives. So if we can't eliminate these stresses, how can we cope with them? How can live with less anxiety and more joy?

Here's how: practice. Peace requires practice. That's important! So I'll say it again: Peace requires practice. You can have greater peace! You can have less anxiety! But you've got to practice! I encourage you to practice these four things.

First, fight for joy. The Apostle Paul writes in Philippians 4:4 "Rejoice in the Lord always. I will say it again: Rejoice!" It's a command! Just like "do not commit adultery! Do not steal!" Rejoice in the Lord always! It's not a suggestion. It's a command. God commands us to be happy! God wants us to fight for joy in our lives! Joy does not come easy! We have to fight for

Pastor Gred

Henneman

Second, refuse to be easily offended. Paul goes on to say, "Let your gentleness be evident to all. The Lord is near." (Philippians 4:5) To be gentle is the opposite of being contentious and selfseeking. You put up with other people's faults. You don't get your Matters feelings hurt all the time. You're not looking for a fight. You don't seek revenge. You don't get bitter and gossipy.

Some people are so easily offended that they spend have their life mad and filled with anxiety!

Thirdly, pray! Philippians 4:6-7 "Do not be anxious about anything, but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. And the peace of God...will guard your hearts."

The way to peace is prayer! Prayer is more than asking God for stuff. Prayer is about casting your anxiety on God and asking for his peace!

Fourth, avoid stinkin' thinkin'. Philippians 4:8 "Finally, brothers and sisters, whatever is true, whatever is noble, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is admirable-if anything is excellent or praiseworthythink about such things.'

What do you spend time thinking about? What do you fill your mind with? You are what you think! If you keep thinking bitter thoughts, lustful thoughts -if you keep thinking about how you hate somebody you will become a bitter, self-centered, hateful person. Fill your minds with positive virtues that make life meaningful. Think about things that encourage healing and peace. You can't have bitterness in your brain and peace in your heart!

One more thing that I find helpful. Get a grip on your schedule. Try to balance it with rest, sleep, family time, and recreation. So many of us have killer schedules. Even if you can't change your schedule, take mini-moments throughout the day to exhale and whisper a prayer to God. "Cast all your anxiety on him because he cares for you." (1 Peter 5:7).

Farewell and good luck

Theresa Rigato is saying farewell to the Clarkston State Bank (CSB).

Rigato, who has worked at the bank for over seven years, started at CSB as a bank teller and worked her way up to branch manager.

Rigato will now be employed at Company Team Financial, where she will be a sales manager specializing in equipment financing. Her service territory will include all of southeast Michigan, so customers may still see her in the area.

"I will still be around," said Rigato.

Her last day at CSB was Thursday, and staff and customers threw her a going away party filled with cake and cookies.

"I will miss the CSB team and all the great customers," she said.

Credit Union expands membership

By David Fleet

Special to the Clarkston News

Clarkston Brandon Community Credit Union (CBCCU) has announced its field of membership has been expanded to now include all who live, work, worship or attend school in Oakland, Livingston, Macomb, Genesee and Lapeer counties. Previously, CBCU served all who live or work within the boundaries of the Clarkston and Brandon school districts.

"We have enjoyed a long-standing relationship with our Clarkston and Brandon schools, as well as various employer groups. and are very excited to now serve families and businesses within our expanded membership area," said Donna Bullard, CBCCU president/CEO. "Our credit union was chartered in 1957 and we've grown considerably since them. Our members are living in areas that no longer would be in our original charter boundaries. Now we will be able to offer service to anyone in our new field of membership in the five counties."

The bank has many potential members to the north and east who have tried to join over the years but didn't qualify due to the old boundaries, she said.

"In this electronic age, we are able to provide convenient account access to our members through home and mobile banking, ATMs, shared branches, debit cards, online loan applications, and more," added Bullard.

Locally, CBCCU has been serving members and their families in Clarkston, 8055 Ortonville Road, and Ortonville, 4 South

"They refer us often to friends and family members who would like to take advantage of our wonderful services, but due to where they live, there were unable to join," she said. "Now we will no longer have to turn away people in those five counties who wish to do business with us. We look forward to continued excellent member service and growth as we move into the future.'

Family business lights up town

BY WENDIREARDON

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Joe Freed has brought his passion for lights to the Clarkston area with Midwest Lightscapes.

Freed used to work in sales in lights and learned a log about electrical lighting and how to install them.

"I thought it was fun," he smiled. "It is like painting with lights. You are able to light a home in ways people never saw it as. It is something when talking to a customer they are excited about it and I am excited, too."

Freed added every home is different which makes it fun to design the perfect lighting for each home.

Besides his passion for what he does another thing setting Midwest Lightscapes apart is they have fixers exclusively available to them.

"We are the only company who can see those fixers in Michigan and Indiana," Freed

He added he also continues his education in lighting with additional training. Plus, their warranties including job warranties are the longest.

Freed began two years ago in Indianapolis, Indiana when he bought assets of the company to build the company and pay off his medical bills. He had Hodgkins Lyphoma Cancer and the cost from chemotherapy treatments and surgeries added up quickly.

His plan was always to start a branch in Michigan and he brought the company to-Clarkston when he moved to the area in December to join his family, who moved here eight years ago.

"It's going great," Freed smiled. "I took my dad on as a partner and I have been doing this for a long time. It is definitely something I love to do."

He added his dad, Bud, has the same passion for it as he does.

'We both work with wood and do home repairs and renovations as a hobby," Joe said. "We like to see a home made better. It is something we really enjoy doing together.

"It's a great time to work with my father," he continued. "When you work with your dad there is already a bond there and you get to work with him. It is something I will treasure for the rest of my life working with my dad. The fact he has come on as a partner with me to help has been phenomenal and great."

Joe said it has been great being in the Clarkston community. He has enjoyed meeting all the people including all landscapers he has met.

"I like Clarkston," he smiled. "I really like the downtown area and have found a lot of cool places. My parents have fallen in love with it and they have lived here for eight years. They are excited and my dad is really excited about becoming more involved in the community. He is a pastor in town but he is excited to get involved in other areas of town and to be a business owner as well."

For more information, please call 248-795-0027, visit www.midwestlightscapes.com or email www.midwestlightscapes@gmail.com.

"I get excited because any landscaper can turn on a lightbulb," Joe said. "It's harder to get the desired look and know the difference between LED and halogen."

Manager Simone Leslie and crew opened Halo Burger in Clarkston, May 8.

Halo Burger now open

BYANDREABEAUDOIN

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Halo Burger kickstarted the summer on May 8 when they opened their first location in Oakland County at 6325 Sashabaw Road in Clarkston.

The Clarkston location is one of six new Halo Burger's to open in Oakland County in 2013.

Halo Burger's Director of Marketing Polly Dortch-Conlan told The Clarkston News, the company is excited to be a part of the community.

She added the chain is looking forward to sponsoring local events and organizations like the Clarkston River Dawgs, Clarkston Classic youth baseball tournament, local golf outings and community fun runs.

"We really want to be entrenched in the community, and support what's going on." said Dortch-Conlan.

Customers can choose from a variety of items on the menu like fresh salads, desserts, shakes, malts, side orders and premium toppings for burgers.

Goodies like chicken strips, Vernors floats made with hand-dipped ice cream and premium breads and cheese for burgers are also available to diners.

Halo Burger serves up many specialty burgers including the Original Olive Burger, BLT Cheddar Burger, Hula Burger, Halopeno Burger, Thai Burger, Marsala Brie and many "Customers can get classic items and burgers or specialty burgers like the Olive Burger anytime," said Clarkston location manager Simone Leslie.

Leslie added a grand opening event is being planned for the near future.

All Halo Burger locations offer free Wi-Fi to customers. They are open Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m.-10 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, 10 a.m. - 11 p.m., and Sunday, 11 a.m. - 9 p.m.

The family owned and operated establishment opened the first Halo Burger in Flint in 1923, and has now grown to include 12 locations across the state. The chain serves fresh, never frozen, 100 percent premium beef made to order. Halo Burger is on on Facebook at facebook.com/haloburgerfans.

There was a quorum present.

Also Present: Joe Barnhart, Cable Television Program Manager; Lt. Dirk Feneley, Commander Oakland County Sheriff's Department; Kristen Sieloff, Director of Assessing, Rick Yaeger, Budget Analyst; Clarkston Independence District Library Board, Julie Meredith, District Library Director; Marilyn Pomeroy, District Library Board President

- APPROVAL OF AGENDA: As presented
- CLOSED SESSION: None requested
- BOARD/PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENTS:

Bill Kunse announced Clarkston Independence District Library is hosting its annual Visual Art Show featuring teen artwork on Friday, June 21st from 6:00 until 8:00 PM at the District Library.

Trustee Lohmeier reminded the public that the 4th of July Parade planning continues.

Joette Kunse added, on behalf of the 4th of July

Parade committee comprised of the Clarkston Area Optimist Club, the Lions Club, and Mt. Zion Church, that anyone still wishing to participate can register with the Chamber of Commerce at www.chamber.org and noted that their contact information is also in the Clarkston News and Oakland Press. Ms. Kunse added that this year's theme is "United We Stand"

Supervisor Kittle thanked residents Mike and Lori Powell for bringing forward issues associated with the recently installed traffic light at Sashabaw and Bow Pointe intersection. He added that they are currently working with various entities to provide options that

- will address the safety issues. PUBLIC COMMENT: None

 - Postponement of Request to Adopt Tax Abatement Policy and Associated Documentation; Approval to Establish a Tax Abatement Review Com-
- N BOARD MEMBER COMMENTS:

Supervisor Kittle spoke with a representative from DTE and after having several concerts, the noise measurements taken to date have indicated that DTE is in compliance with the Township's noise ordinance. He added that the Board is invited to tour the DTE grounds to see the half-million dollar improvements the new owners have made to the amphitheater.

Supervisor Kittle informed the Board that they can expect to see an increase in attorney fees re-lated to the recent need for legal expertise related to such items as: tax abatement policy; Clarkston Community Schools and Independence Television col-laboration; Jordan Development agreement, etc.

Clerk Pallotta reported that UHY has almost completed the Township's audit and the Board can expect a formal presentation at one of their July Regular meetings O. COMMUNICATIONS / FUTURE AGENDA ITEMS /
