Learning from vets

BY ANDREAM BEAUDOIN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

For about 30 ninth-graders, Veterans Day lessons included talking to veterans.

Ron Burrill, Vietnam War veteran explained to student Kalei Hubert how military ranks work. Students at the American Legion Post 63's veterans' luncheon, Nov. 8, also asked vets if being in war was a scary experience.

Burrill said it was a scary time for all who served in Vietnam, but he served in artillery so his experience was not as terrifying as men who served on the front line.

"I was miles away shooting rounds to help them out," he said. "You have been taught not to hurt someone all your life and then you go off to war and you are in a situation where it's you or them."

Students from Christine Rogers' 9th grade advanced history class attended to serve a lunch of pork tenderloin, roasted red potatoes, and green beans to veterans and visitors.

"It gives students a great chance to get to know veterans and ask questions," said Rogers.

This is the third year students have served veterans at the luncheon.

"We work closely with the senior center," she said. "Students are a little awkward at first, but then they sit down and listen to stories. It's fun to watch."

The event, which was sponsored by Lewis E. Wint and Son, was free for veterans. Mike Clift, commander of ROTC in Flint gave visitors a history of Veterans Day.

Many students took the time to ask veterans and their family members questions. Please see Veterans on page 3

McLaren plans still a go

BY ANDREAM BEAUDOIN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

McLaren Health Care System recently acquired the Barbara Ann Karmanos Cancer Institute, but officials say the hospital system is still committed to expanding in Independence Township.

"If anything, it will improve on our efforts to get the approval for the Clarkston hospital," said Kevin Tompkins, McLaren's vice president of marketing. "It will have positive effects."

McLaren wants to build a $303 million, 300-bed hospital in the McLaren Health Care Village on Sashabaw Road at Bow Pointe Drive.

Michigan's Department of Community Health denied their request for a Certificate of Need (CON) to transfer 200 beds from Pontiac to Independence Township.

Tompkins said McLaren is continuing to work to get approval for the hospital through the state legislature, and regulatory and administrative route.

"We will continue to work with the Department of Community Health and with the state of Michigan," he said. "The DCH is the ones that controls the CON. We have presented many times to many review committees." Please see McLaren on page 5

Parking lot enforcement

BY ANDREAM BEAUDOIN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

About 20 cars sit all day in city parking spaces marked with a two-hour time limit. That's how many cars City Manager Carol Eberhardt counted, as she investigated several parking issues in Clarkston.

"I have been chalking the Main Street and West Washington lot to get an idea about how many cars routinely stay all day," Eberhardt said.

The city manager recently sent a letter to retailers about designating parking spaces for business employees, and also recommends the city issue parking permits.

"I am concerned about the holiday season coming up and a lack of parking for the retailers," she said. "According to our ordinance on parking, the city clerk can designate a parking officer and we can collect fines at City Hall."

Eberhardt said she also researched fines surrounding cities issue for parking violations and then created a document recommending fines for various parking violations. Fees range from $10 for overstaying in a time limited parking space, $50 for parking in a non-designated space, $150 for parking in a handicap only parking space.

Not all residents see a problem with parking downtown. Just this past weekend Clarkston was filled with visitors for the half marathon, said Cory Johnston of Clarkston.

"There may be a problem but there was also 1,000 runners plus family, friends, volunteers and the usual crowd in the village on Sunday," Johnston said. "Public and private parking lots were used for other purposes, roads and alleys were closed, and I didn't hear anyone say there can't be an event like this because there's a parking problem."

Eberhardt was to bring the issue to city council at its Nov. 12 meeting.

 tions about war or what it was like during wartime.

Sylvia Kojima explained to students what it was like in World War II when things like food was rationed and cars were hard to buy.

A Clarkston veteran who served in the Korean War said young people need to know the history of our country and the stories of soldiers and military people who have served their country.

Students, veterans and visitors gathered outside the Legion near the flag pole and watched a 21-gun salute and Taps performed by the Pontiac American Legion Post 377.

Gary Kolody performed an accordion rendition of patriotic songs including America the Beautiful, Maine Hymn and God Bless America.

"We need to be constantly reminded of our gift of freedom and those who gave all and to make sure future generations continue to know life in this great country of ours," said Independence Township Supervisor Pat Kittle, featured speaker.

"Those that are gone, and those of you here today created a clear pathway for us to continue on. We must never waiver from that path of freedom and democracy," said Kittle. "Today we must remember the most honorable amongst us and we must continue to carry the burden of their sacrifice, lest we lose sight of what true freedom is."

Four elected to city council

Voting results

BY ANDREAM.BEAUDOIN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Voters cast their ballots on November 5 at City Hall in downtown Clarkston to elect three candidates to serve for a two-year term on city council and one candidate to serve a partial term of one-year.

In the race were incumbents Eric Haven and Thomas Hunter. Candidate Richard Bisio, who had been appointed to fill a vacancy on council also ran, but lost the race.

Former Clarkston councilwoman Sharron Catalo and newcomer David Marsh were also elected by voters to serve as council.

Voter turnout during the election was low with 141 of 882 residents casting their ballot in the election. Also, temporary Clerk Jan Gillespie said one ballot got jammed which required a complete recount of all ballots.

"We wanted to make sure every ballot was counted," said Gillespie. "We also had to take all the ballots to Oakland County."

Catalo

Hunter

Sharron Catalo, one-year term, 111 votes
Eric Haven, two-year term, 107 votes
Thomas Hunter, two-year term, 100 votes
David Marsh, two-year term, 67 votes
Richard Bisio, 58 votes

"I am excited to be back on the council and look forward to serving our community," said newly elected councilwoman Catalo, former Clarkston mayor.

Haven sent a special note to voters.

"Thank you for your votes and confidence placed me," he said. "I encourage our citizens to attend our meetings periodically and to get involved in improving our beautiful city. Many hands make light work."

"I would just like to say thank you to all of my supporters," said Marsh. "I am excited and ready to get started."

Search still on for oil

BY ANDREAM.BEAUDOIN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

West Bay Exploration still holds out hope for oil in Independence Township. The company continues to acquire leases on private property to explore for oil and gas.

"We think there is enough promise in the area to drill wells," said Pat Gibson, vice-president.

He added that seismic work that remains include installing a seismic line in downtown Clarkston on Main Street. "The seismic lines are a series of boxes with microphones that are put in the grass," said Gibson.

Gibson said there is evidence there may be oil underground in the area, but after the wells are drilled the company will have a lot more information.

The company is working to see if there is gas and oil in the area, and has continued some seismic work. A new well will be drilled near the gravel pit located in White Lake on Andersonville Road.

"We will be drilling that well within the next 4-6 weeks," said Gibson.

Once that well is drilled, the company will combine information obtained through seismic data, drilling and other information to get a better idea on whether or not there is enough oil in the area for further exploration.

"The well will help us confirm what we think we are seeing in the area," said Gibson.

West Bay is partnered with Jordon Development, both companies located out of Traverse City.

West Bay approaches homeowners and negotiates lease deals to explore and drill, while Jordon drills the wells. Jordon controls over 450 wells across the state.

In addition to Independence Township, the companies is seeking rights on lands in other communities such as Springfield, White Lake, Rochester and Auburn Hills.

If gas and oil are found in Independence Township, the township would receive 1/6 in royalties for any oil or gas found while homeowners would receive a check for signing the lease as well as a promise of future royalties totaling 1/8 of whatever is found on a homeowners property.

The company should have a better idea what's underground by the spring, after drilling the new well, he said.

"But we are a long way from saying we've discovered oil," he said.

Water resource commissioner Jim Nash is opposed to drilling for oil citing the possibility that water resources in the area may be contaminated if an accident were to occur.

Hydraulic fracturing, a process which injects high pressure water mixed with chemicals in the ground to fracture rocks to release gas has been banned in Independence Town-

City OKs appointments

Clarkston City Council voted, Oct. 30, to reappoint Margaret DeCosta and Scott Meyland to the Zoning Board of Appeals, each for a three year term ending in 2016.

Council also reappointed Kevin Harrison to the Historic District Commission for a three-year term, ending in 2016. Reappointments also included Joel Hoffman to the Board of Review. Dennis Ritter will serve as an alternative member to replace former councilman Richard Bisio. Terms for the Board of Review will be until 2016.

Website improvements

Improvements to view Clarkston's website, www.villageofclarkston.org, include new links and downloadable documents.

City Manager Carol Eberhardt said Treasurer Sandra Barless has been working to improve the website and make it more friendly. Residents can also view minutes and agendas for various committees and city council meeting information.

City now accepts Visa

Oakland County employees installed a new web-based system in Clarkston city hall to accept tax, fees, and other payments via Visa credit card, said Clarkston City Manager Carol Eberhardt.

"There is a charge set by the county which is posted at the door," said Eberhardt. "The system also calculates the fee when a car is processed so staff can inform the payee."

Salute to Veterans

Sons of The American Legion at Post 63 in Clarkston host their fourth annual Salute to Veterans on Dec. 14 during the Army/Navy game with a free luncheon of "mess hall" food starting at noon.

During the game, veterans can win cash prizes at the end of each quarter. Additionally, the SAL will buy each veteran their first beverage. There will be food throughout the day as well as door prizes. All veterans and their families and friends are welcome.

Race success in Clarkston

The weather was cold and windy but spirits were bright at the inaugural Clarkston State Bank Back Roads Half Marathon, Sunday.

The race, which also featured a 10K run and walk, was sold out - 1,000 runners and walkers braved the hilly course up Holcomb Road to Oak Hill, finishing through the Deer Lake neighborhood.

Leo Foley of Clarkston was Male Overall Winner, with a time of 1:20:50. Female Overall Winner was Kelsey Carmean of Gahanna, 1:31:03. Male Masters Winner was Michael Guttilla of Bloomfield, 1:21:16; and Sandie Domagalski of Clarkston was the Female Masters Winner, with a time of 1:48:39.

tees in Lansing as a part of the process."

They hope for a decision in the first quarter of 2014.

Tompkins said if the project is approved, building the hospital would take at least four years.

"After approval, the minute we get approval, our next step would be to design plans for the future hospital and that design process takes 12 months," he said.

Once the design process is completed, it will take 30-36 months to construct the hospital, he said.

No matter the outcome, McLaren has committed $1.5 million to road improvements on Sashabaw and I-75.

"We are still looking at a $250 million dollar investment in the community on that site to build next generation and acute care hospital," said Tompkins.

Henry Woloson of Independence Township said Clarkston residents already have access to quality health care with many hospitals in close enough proximity to receive quality healthcare and emergency services.

"There's a process and the bottom line is the certificate of need process is in place to keep healthcare costs down," said Woloson. "Why would we throw that process out?"

There are 3,249 hospital beds in eight hospitals within 29 minutes of Clarkston. Hospitals are located in Rochester, Troy, Grand Bland, Royal Oak and Commerce Township and two hospitals in Pontiac. Doctors Hospital in Pontiac, the hospital that McLaren wants to transfer beds from, has up to 92 percent vacancy.

Tompkins said they identified Clarkston as an area in need to a new hospital about seven years ago.

The new facility in Clarkston would provide 1,500 long-term jobs, according to Independence Township Supervisor Pat Kittle.

Karmanos will remain a non-profit organization under the new agreement. Both entities will retain their present and separate identities as well as controlling separate assets and reporting to their respective board of directors.

Andrea's Anecdotes

A column by Andrea Beaudoin

How lucky we are

I was watching the news recently and I saw three little girls on television in the Philippines after Typhoon Haiyan.

I just knew in my heart the little girls were cold, hungry and scared. I immediately thanked god right then and there for my fortunate circumstances.

When I see all the people in Philippines with no food or water it makes me appreciate how lucky I am to be an American citizen with a good life.

I am thankful everything I own or people I know are not in jeopardy of being washed away in minutes. I am thankful to be in a safe place in Michigan, in the United States.

Next time complaints fly about dinner or the term "I'm starving" is just kinda' thrown out there, just know there are millions of people truly starving in the world. Millions of people are cold, hungry, scared or living in war zones.

I am thankful that I have never had to go to war or live in a war ridden area. Just the thought of being in a war situation terrifies me to the core.

Guys that come home from battle are never the same. At the Veteran's Day luncheon at the Clarkston American legion, Vietnam veteran Ron Burrill said of war, "You are taught not to hurt people your whole life and then you go into battle and it's them or you."

The sad reality as war continues is that many of our veterans never return home the same person. My father was a Vietnam veteran and by all accounts he was never again the same.

I am thankful for my freedom and the great country I live in with great infrastructure, nice roads, quality health care and education. America would not be all it is if not for those serving in wars.

A heavy toll has been paid.

It is because of America's outstanding men and women we live in such a great country.

I am thankful for the incredible bravery, and if you are a veteran who returned home and never felt the same, I can only think that maybe it would help to share your story.

If you would like to tell your story please call The Clarkston News and ask for me.

Did you know that if you have $15 you are richer than 75 percent of the world's population?

Reader agrees with government assessment

Dear Editor,

Jim's Jottings' "A brief chronological look of Detroit," Oct. 23, could not be more accurate

Our elected federal millionaires take care of themselves, first.

The Democratic Party leadership has a common trait from the president, thru Hillary Clinton, Erik Holder, and Lois Lerner of the IRS - lie to promote or cover the deceitful statements/promises. Keep repeating that until the public buys it via the media.

And most Republican statesmen, too, find they need to be "middle of the road; closer to the democratic-socialist programs," to be liked.

A recipe to kill ambition, honesty, and promote dependency on our massive government that is now big enough to give you everything and also take it away.

Clarkston students throughout the area filled the boxes with Halloween candy in the office of Dr. Scott Vanderveen, DDS last week.

Vanderveen partnered with Operation Gratitude and the treats are being sent to overseas troops. Every person who donated received a dental goody bag. They also had the chance to write a letter or color a picture for a member of the military.

Operation Gratitude annually sends over 100,000 care packages filled with "Residents protest warehouse" A 250,000-square-foot auto parts warehouse proposed for the south side of Bow Pointe off Sashabaw Road drew complaints from a record crowd at the Independence Township Planning Commission meeting. Concerns from residents included truck traffic, drainage, pollution, decline of property values and other matters.

"The Giving Season" Most everyone thinks of the holidays as "the giving season." Children's author Matt Faulkner visited Andersonville Elementary for their Author Day Celebration. His recent book turned that title into an imaginative allegory including a castle, a princess and "Phelonious Quirk" - a jester who never learned how to give.

"Independence voters created some happiness" Independence Township Library Director James Hilber was all smiles Nov. 9 just one day after voters approved a $2 million bond issue for the library addition. He added the next step was him and other township officials to gather information about what features to include in the 15,000-square-foot addition.

"Council addresses cityhood questions" In an effort to separate rumor from fact, Clarkston Village Council members and a concerned resident debated for an hour and a half. Steve Secatch, of M-15, Clarkston, circulated a two-page letter detailing how much it would cost village residents after cityhood. Village President Sharon Catallo promised residents the council would hold the line on tax increases as much as possible if the village became a city or not.

A while back Michigan State defeated Big Ten opponent Iowa in a football game in East Lansing. The Big Ten Network televised the game. I do not know who was responsible for getting the play-by-play announcer, and I guess it doesn't matter.

She failed terribly.

That's right, they put a woman behind the microphone for a football game.

Everybody, except maybe one Afghan, knows that the two big football teams in our state are the Michigan State Spartans and the Michigan Wolverines. Broadcasters everywhere know U of M can be called "Michigan" and MSU "State".

This female announcer for the Iowa game often referred to State as Michigan.

That spoiled the whole game for neighborly Michigan fans, who, except when they face each other, will root for the Lansing eleven.

Besides football is a man's game. Every man in the world, except maybe that one in Afghanistan, expects, even demands, a male be the lead telecaster.

Jim's Jottings

a column by Jim Sherman

I'm ending this Jottings rant now (though my semester at MSU should make me a little bit eligible to criticize).

--- O ---

Back to my usual rant of late . . . Obama so loves the poor he's created millions more.

Rumor in California: Rumors are circulating in California that radical Muslims are planning to go on a rampage in both Los Angeles and San Francisco, killing anyone who is white, straight and born in the U.S.A.

Police fear the death toll could be as high as 49.

--- O ---

A quote from Obama that says a whole lot about his wordings: "We plan for every contingency!"

So the president's planners had a plan for what to do when they closed the national memorial the day hundreds of veterans came from all over the U.S. to visit the cemetery -- really?

They had a plan for receiving the flag draped caskets of the most recent war victims.

The planners had a plan for resolving the government shutdown for 80 percent of our government, but not the other 20 percent.

That's the epitome of faulty planning. But it's typical of how planning goes in Washington as "selfs" are put ahead the people.

--- O ---

I think the mainstream media has adopted way too many initials in their reporting. I guess they think we've heard initials so often everyone knows what they stand for.

FDIC, FDA, MRI, CEO, etc. But there comes DOD, HHS, AEC, CSB: Department of Defense, Health and Human Services, Atomic Energy Commission and Chemical Safety Board.

Those first four are Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Food and Drug Administration, Magnetic Resonance Imaging and Chief Executive Officer.

Media readers expect us to know at least half of them.

Hooterville looking for own reality show

There's an old saying (or maybe a successful marketing slogan) that goes like this: What happens in Vegas, stays in Vegas. And, while some will maintain that what happens behind the closed doors of Ortonville's Boat Bar, probably should stay in the Boat Bar, hold on to your sweet biceps a minute.

Don't Rush Me

A column by Don Rush

There's this group of cats who apparently haven't heard of the expression TMI (Too Much Information); they actually want to share their Boat Bar exploits with the world. As far as they're concerned once the world has seen just a little of the Hooterville 9 ballers, the world will want a whole lot more. As a matter of fact, this group of individuals with such nicknames as Fast Eddie, DJ Rolling Rock, Shoeshynee, Herb The Hammer, Hot Josh, Scary Larry, Deadly Steadly and Rockin' Robin are bankin' on it.

Well . . . they haven't banked anything from it yet, but they're investing in a new concept in reality TV programming. They've got a film crew. They've got some digital cameras and editing software. Heck they've even got a theme song, complete with banjos!

Hooterville9ball.com is the name of this budding reality TV show.

"We've been doing this for a while," one of the characters, Ron "Deadly Steadly" Stead said. "We've had this 9 ball tournament going on, and some of the stuff that happens is just gosh-darned funny. Somebody said, 'we oughtta make a reality TV show.' And we are."

Inspired by the awesomeness that is a bearded Duck Dynasty world (and dollar signs danced in their eyes), they started tapping their exploits (Scary Larry Ahlborn's in charge of the camera) and editing pilot episodes. According to Scary, for every hour of footage shot, they can make 20 to 40 seconds of show.

"We've a ton of footage we have to go through to find those golden nuggets," Scary said.

So what is the show about? Well, they have 70 or so players in the 9 ball tournament/league/thing that lasts the better part of the year. There are weekly prizes, and overall trophies. The show will not only reference the play on the felt, but also follow some of the afore mentioned characters during their normal daytime lives.

Ryan Mansfield (aka DJ Rolling Rock) helps edit and is the marketing mavin of the 9 ballers -- he's kinda excitabile and is passionate about getting the show produced. "There's just a lot of crazy, funny stuff here. It just happens, you can't script it. And, there is drama, too. It's life."

Mansfield believes their show concept is sound. Unlike duck hunting, most Americans have played picked up a cue stick and tried their hands at some game of billiards.

"People can relate. They will relate with us," he said.

Once a couple of shows are in the can, the crew will plans on building up a fan base via the internet.

"One producers see the following, they will want the show," Mansfield said.

So, what to these Hootervillians want and need? They need folks to look up their show; they need connections -

- if you know of any TV producer types, hook 'em up. Do you want a shot at being on the show? There's a way to do that, too. Oh, and donations . . . you can make them, and they will accept them. If you like merchandising, then maybe you'd like a Hooterville9Ball.com golf or t-shirt. They are available. Find out how, by going to their website.

Once you go to the website, if you scroll down, you can see their intro and listen to the catchy theme song. Duck Dynasty, watch out!

District champs

BY WENDI REARDON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

The gridiron heroes celebrated on the sidelines as the seconds counted down on the scoreboard.

They won their second consecutive MHSAA Football District title after beating Romeo for the crown, 42-10. It was also a special night for long-time head coach Kurt Richardson as it marked his 200th win.

"My 200th win means three things," he shared. "One, I have had great kids to coach. Two, I have great assistants. Three, I am old. That's what it is. I have great kids to coach and I have great assistants. They have gotten me here."

"It's awesome," added leading rusher senior Ian Eriksen. "He is such a great coach. He has been here for so long it is great to see him receive that recognition. He is a really knowledgeable coach and always has great things to share with us. It is great to have a coach like that — so experienced and cares a lot about us."

Romeo took over the scoreboard first after scoring on a 4-yard touchdown from Mitchell Hesse three minutes into the game.

"Romeo came out ready to go," Richardson said. "We were soft early. They came down and scored right away. I don't think we were focused. We got better as we went along."

"We knew they were going to score because they are a good team," Eriksen added. "At this stage of the game we know we aren't going to play weak teams. We just tried to respond the best way we could. We did a good job at that."

They responded with a 29-yard run by Eriksen after junior quarterback DJ Zezula handed the ball off to him. Eriksen avoided being stopped by Romeo after he spun out of a tackle and ran the 29 yards to tie the score with 3:54 left in the first quarter.

The Wolves broke the tie in the second quarter with a 32-yard touchdown pass from Zezula to junior wide receiver Shane Holler less than four minutes into the quarter.

With 13 seconds left in the first half, the Wolves put the score to 21-7 with a 38-yard another touchdown pass. This time Zezula passed the ball to senior wide receiver to Caine Watlington.

The second half began quickly as Eriksen scored on the first play on a 68-yard run to put the Wolves ahead to 28-7.

The Bulldogs put three points on the scoreboard with seven minutes left in the third quarter. Tackles from defensivebacks senior Reid Kaminski and junior Merrick Canada along with an incomplete pass put them on their fourth down with nine yards to go. They scored a 32-yard field goal kick attempt.

The boys ended the third quarter with a 41-pass from Zezula to senior wide receiver Tim Cason. Cason caught it in the corner of the endzone with 34 seconds to go.

Junior runningback Centrus Williams, Jr. finished the game with a 6-yard touchdown, ending the score 42-10.

Zezula threw 12-for-14 for 201 yards and had three touchdown passes.

"Since game two he has been awesome for us," Richardson added. "He emerged not only as a passer but as a leader. He has stepped up. He has some great weapons to throw to."

Some of Clarkston's weapons include Watlington and Cason. Watlington caught five of the passes for 104 yards and Cason caught four passes for 57 yards.

The leading rusher for the night was Eriksen with 204 yards on 17 carries.

"He just plays as hard as he can all the time," Richardson said. "He doesn't take plays off. He is such a great kid."

Senior kicker Shane Hynes was 6-for-6 on PAT attempts for the night.

Canada led defense with eight tackles. Senior Blake Rehahn had six tackles and senior Nick Matich had three tackles. Kaminski had six tackles and two interceptions. Junior Payton Lannon had one interception on a touchdown pass play with 1:48 left in the game as he stopped Romeo from scoring.

"Everyone played well including Romeo," Eriksen said. "They are a good team

The Wolves host Rochester Adams (8-3) this Saturday for the regional crown.

The boys faced the Highlanders in the season opener and won the next ten consecutive games after the 12-7 loss.

"Our passing game is off the lot as well as our running game," Eriksen said about how much the team has grown during the ten weeks. "Everyone is healthy for the most part. We are pretty excited. It is a chance to have another shot at them."

He added the focus for practice this week will be the same as it has for the season - to keep getting better.

"Just keep perfecting on things and come out and play hard," Eriksen said.

"Rochester Adams beat us so I have to believe the kids will be tough for this one," Richardson said. "Some of the kids have emerged. Holler has come a long way. We will be healthy somewhat for a change against them. It will be a battle."

He added this week the Wolves will have to be tougher in between tackles.

"It has to happen," he said. "We can't give up so many soft yards."

Kickoff is at 1 p.m., Clarkston High School, 6093 Flemings Lake Road.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK Chadwell hits a win

BY WENDIREARDON
 Clarkston News Sports Writer

Senior co-captain Katie Chadwell delivered 11 kills against Oxford last Thursday as the Clarkston Varsity Volleyball team won their seventh consecutive district title, 3-0.

She helped her team with the kills as well as key blocks, sending the ball over the net to the Wildcats and fell to the ground adding points to the Lady Wolves' score.

Coach Kelly Avenall pointed out Chadwell not only plays hard against the competition but every day especially in practice.

"She has an intensity level all of the girls strive to play at," she added. "She plays outstanding for us on the court. She is a great leader."

Leading up to this week, Chadwell said it has been a great season and the team wanted to win the title really bad.

"We have the talent," she added. "We just have to feel it in our hearts and go out and play our hardest."

Chadwell began playing volleyball in seventh grade after getting started in the sport at Basketball America. She continued playing in school and decided to pursue it more.

She also played basketball and softball but decided to focus more on volleyball not only because she enjoyed it but wanted to continue playing in college.

"It was sport I loved and I stuck with it," she smiled. "I loved it the most."

Chadwell will continue playing volleyball in college when she attends Oakland University next fall.

"It is really close," she explained about her decision. "It is close to my family. They have a really great team and I really like the campus."

Her advice for aspiring spikers is to play with their hearts.

"Play your hardest," she added. "You never know when your last game will be."

Spikers block Orion, Oxford from championship

BY WENDIREARDON

Clarkston News Sports Writer

A hit from senior Katie Chadwell and Emily Malinowski ended the third game against Oxford last Thursday, 26-24.

It was the third win they needed against the Lady Wildcats to close the MHSAA District finals and become district champions for the seventh consecutive year.

"When I was thinking about the possibility of this happening I was going back through those seven years and the athletes we had," said Clarkston Varsity Volleyball Coach Kelly Avenall. "It really boils down we have had some great athletes the last seven years. I attribute it to being blessed with some really great athletes the last seven years."

The Lady Wolves won the first game with the last two points coming from junior outside hitter Taylor Dellinger, putting the score 25-21.

They opened the second game with the lead and Oxford slowly climbed into the lead on the board until the Wildcats were ahead six points.

The Wolves fought back as Malinowski, Dellinger brought them back up and defense blocked Oxford from scoring.

A hit from senior Kacy Robinson tied the score 22-22 and senior Brianna Frakes broke the tie blocking Oxford's hit and sending it back over unanswered.

Senior Megan Sutherland scored the next point after the Wildcats were unable to return her serve. Robinson closed the game scoring the final point, 25-23.

Avenall added coming back from the 6-point deficit helped the team in the final game.

"It gave us confidence," she said. "The fact we could hang on and come back from a deficit like that that's a true testimony of a team that can go a little ways this year."

She added it also helped to have lots of weapons on offense with Chadwell, Dellinger, Malinowski and Dellinger hitting.

"It's nice to be able to move it around a little bit," Avenall said. "With Katie in the middle being about to use her when we can. Taylor is a great outside hitter and so is Kacy. Emily gets a few for us. It's great we can use all of them and hopefully keep our opponents guessing some of the time."

Dellinger led with 12 kills and Chadwell had 11 kills. Frakes had 29 assists.

The Lady Wolves defeated Lake Orion in the semifinals, 3-1. They won the first game 26-24 with the last point made by Frakes.

They went on to win the second game 25-22. They hit a block for their third win in the next game as Lake Orion won it 25-17 after taking the lead at the beginning.

They came back to take the lead in the final game and finished 25-23 with a block from Malinowski and Chadwell.

"It is unfortunate we played them in the semis," said Avenall. "I hate to say it but it feels good to beat Lake Orion."

Chadwell had 13 kills and Dellinger had 14 kills and 22 digs. Frakes had 40 assists.

"Everyone was perfect," said Avenall. "Taylor had a great defensive night. She only missed one. She probably had the best match of the season. There was one point they got her and it frustrated her. She was digging up everything from them. Offensively she is a hard hitter to defend because she does a lot with the ball."

Clarkston head in against Troy Athens on Tuesday in the MHSAA Regional Semifinals with a 43-12-1 record. The winner moves on to play the final round on Thursday at Lake Orion High School, 495 E. Scripps Road, 7 p.m.

Time now to prepare car

BY ANDREAM.BEAUDOIN
 Clarkston News Staff Writer

Scott McIntyre, owner of Morgan's Service in downtown Clarkston said taking care of your car is important all year round, but there are particular things that can be done to prepare for winter.

Good tires are important in the snowy and often slippery cold Michigan conditions. "Traction is better if the tires are not marginal or worn out," said McIntyre adding that bad tires can cause slipping, sliding and crashes.

It is also advised to make sure you have a good spare tire in the rear of your car.

McIntyre advises that car owners to make sure fluids such as checked regularly and changed if needed.

One big thing in winter is to make sure windshield washer fluid is filled to wash of snow and ice while driving.

"Make sure the fluids are filled not just in winter but anytime," he said.

Oil should be checked regularly, when the car has cooled.

Antifreeze and coolant is another important fluid because the fluid provides heat and cools the motor. One thing to be sure of is to make sure the car has a winter mix of solvent in it so it does not freeze," said McIntyre.

It's also important to make sure all lights are in working order.

Good wiper blades are important for snow and ice removal. "Just make sure you get a good quality pair that works well and does the job correctly," McIntyre added.

It's also a good idea to get belts and hoses checked before winter to make sure they fit properly and are in good working order.

There are a few items you can have handy in case your locks freeze or snow or ice removal is

Emergency car kit

- Jumper cables
- Shovel
- Water
- First-aid kit
- Basic set of tools
- Sand, salt or cat litter to use as traction
- Blankets
- Non-perishable snack in case you get stranded
- Flares or other devices to let other divers know of possible danger needed. A spray de-icer can be purchased to spray on locks if they get frozen. Scrapers and winter brushes are also a must to remove snow and ice debris from a vehicle and the windshield.

McIntyre said lights and fluids are some of the items on a car regularly checked when a customer's brings their car in for care.

Why is it important to be prepared for winter?

"No one wants to get stranded in the winter and have to wait hours in the cold," said McIntyre.

Another thing most people don't think about in wintertime is going to the car wash.

"You should wash your car regularly to keep the salt off the car," said Fred Ritter owner of the Clarkston Auto Wash. "You should also put wax on the car because it forms a protective barrier and protects your car."

Ritter added that washing cars regularly helps the cars body look better, lasts longer and helps the snow cleaning process go more smoothly.

Food drive at Neiman's

Clarkston's newest grocery store, Neiman's Family Market, will be collecting donations for families in need in its "Thanksgiving on the Mayflower" food drive.

"We're a community-oriented business," said John Schmidt, store director. "We're not corporate, we're right in the trenches with everyone else."

Neiman's will collect non-perishable food items for Gleaners Community Food Bank and will help fill a Mayflower moving truck set to arrive at the store to collect the food.

Schmidt

"The Neiman's Family Truck will be in the Neiman's parking lot Sunday Nov. 17 from 8 a.m. - 7 p.m. with 98.7 AMP Radio broadcasting live," said Neiman's Family Marketing Coordinator Bethany Schafer.

Neiman's has invited the community to visit the store by Sunday, November 17th to support the Gleaners Community Food Bank and fill the Mayflower truck.

Customers can also drop off food at the store until the Mayflower arrives.

"Beginning Monday, Nov. 11, Neiman's will have premade bags filled with non-perishable food items that can be purchased and left at the store ready and waiting for the Mayflower to arrive," said Schafer.

Neiman's is located at 7121 Dixie Highway in Clarkston. For more information, call 248-625-6460 or check www.NeimansFamilyMarket.com.

Gleaners, founded in 1977, is one of the oldest and largest food banks in Oakland County. It distributes more than 41 million pounds of emergency food annually, equivalent to 100,000 meals per day. Gleaners operates five distribution centers in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Livingston and Monroe counties. For more info go to www.gcfb.org.

Mortgage

Jason Nolan
Senior Loan Officer

Q: I lost my home to foreclosure during the recession. How long do I need to wait before I can obtain a mortgage to buy a home?

A: Like many things in today's mortgage market, it depends. Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, the dominant market makers in the conventional loan market require a seven year waiting period after a foreclosure before a borrower is eligible to obtain a new conventional loan. Government insured loan products, like FHA, VA and USDA backed loans, have shorter waiting periods. Generally speaking, a borrower is eligible for a new FHA insured mortgage three years after a foreclosure sale. A recent guideline update issued by FHA dubbed the "Back to Work-Extenuating Circumstances Program," allows certain borrowers to shorten the waiting period to only one year! Of course each borrower's particular circumstance needs to be assessed to determine their mortgage eligibility.

Q. How many homes should I consider before choosing one?

A. There isn't a set number of houses you should see before you decide. Visit as many as it takes to find the one you want. On average, home buyers see 15 house before choosing one. Just be sure to communicate often with your real estate agent about everything you're looking for. It will help avoid wasting your time.

Q: My dog jumps on people. How do I get him to stop?

A: Jumping is a common attention seeking behavior. Any reaction to the jumping is perceived as attention by your dog. As long as he receives a reaction, the behavior will continue. By eliminating any attention your dog gets for jumping, and offering him a new way to gain attention, the jumping will quickly stop.

Marketing

Don Rush

Q: There are some pretty slick print buys out there and some nice loyal buys, too. Where should I invest my marketing budget?

A: There are plenty of good marketing vehicles around. Depending on your business—does it depend mostly on web purchases or walk-ins—can help you determine where to advertise. If you have a brick and mortar building, most likely you want walk-ins. Your business has a sphere of influence of about 10 miles. The closer to your store the more influence you have, the further way, less. Put it this way, why advertise in Wayne or Washtenaw counties, when you're located in Clarkston? Do you think you have a better shot of attracting business from 5 minutes away or 50 minutes away from your business? You'll get the most return on your investment if you invest in your LOCAL market. Each month I will offer tips on your marketing questions. If you can't wait, and need help email me, Don@ShermanPublications.org

Vet alumni honored

Clarkston Junior High School students honored alumni Ari Gruenberg, a sergeant in the U.S. Army, with a Veterans Day ceremony.

Assigned to the 1st Battalion, 38th Infantry Regiment, 4th SBCT in Ft. Lewis, Washington, Gruenberg couldn't make the event, but his family was there.

"I think this is great," said Lori Gruenberg, Ari's mother. "It's awesome they remember him today."

"It's very sweet - I'm glad to be here for him," said his wife, Laura Gruenberg.

Sgt. Gruenberg enlisted in 2009, and served two combat tours in Afghanistan with the 1/327th Infantry Regiment, 101st Airborne Division.

"I remember him as a 13-14 year old student in these hallways - now he's in his 20s in the military," said teacher Alex Sennabaum at the ceremony.

Clarkston Junior High began dedicating stones to veterans last fall and plans to place a stone made by art students in the school courtyard every Veterans Day.

The courtyard is dedicated to the late Jenna Beno, Clarkston graduate and veteran.

Student Nathan Li presents an essay on Veterans Day.

Junior high art students decorated a stone for the veteran.

Find strength in God's presence

Can we say it is official? Is highway repair season behind us? Are the orange barrels and signs put away?

Now we can look forward to the other Michigan season, winter! For the greater part, harvests have been gathered, garden plants removed, leaves fallen and raked, our homes and our yards prepared for the coming cold.

We have the wonderful privilege of heat for our homes when the blistering winds blow.

The walls of our homes protect us from the elements, but what other walls have we put up in our lives to protect us?

Maybe we have been hurt, physically or emotionally or in some other fashion, by someone in the past so we put up a wall to protect us from another attack. Maybe we pull away from contact with other people. Maybe, instead, we put up a good front and go on as if nothing has happened.

There are many ways we can build walls to protect us, to help us, but they will all fail.

Think of some of the strongest walls built and what has happened to them. If they are not repaired continually, if the smallest crack begins and is not repaired, it will spread and undermine the strength of the wall.

There is, however, a wall that will never fail. It never cracks, never needs repair or mending, is always solid and protects us from far more than the world or Satan could ever hope to throw at us in attack.

In Psalm 46, a Psalm of worship, we are reminded that "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore we will not fear though the earth give way, though the mountains be moved into the heart of the sea, though its waters roar and foam, though the mountains tremble at its swelling."

God's wall, God's protection, God's presence will never fail us! He is there for us at all times. Does it matter what we face?

God is there. God is watching over us. God is our refuge, our impenetrable fortress against the attacks of evil. Even if the entire world, all of creation is destroyed (which it will be at the time of judgment) God will be there and protect His people.

But the Psalm gives us one more strong guidance. It says "Be still, and know that I am God. I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted on the earth!"

How important it is to take time daily to be with our Lord. Time in His Word and time in prayer helps focus us, guide us, in what God holds before us and how He is with us through the day.

Yes, we are all busy and the busier we are the more important it becomes to take time with Him. He is the One Who strengthens, guides and protects as He leads us to serve Him.

Rejoice in all His blessings. Rejoice in His protection. To God be the glory.

Importance of preplanning

We are always complaining that there just isn't enough time in our lives. We may be too busy with work, school, the kids, and other family matters. That's understandable given how quickly things move in society today. But when there is a major event, we are forced to find the time to plan.

Months of careful preparation are spent creating the most memorable times of our lives such as marriage or the birth of a child; a significant anniversary or birthday. Indeed planning and preparation is the key to many of our successes. There are even professionals whose main role is to plan such events!

Why then do we put off those things we do not wish to plan for no matter how evident the need?

Preplanning for your estate and funeral is as important as any plan you will make this year. Sudden grief tends to confuse and cause a family to make rash decisions that they may regret later. Preplanning your arrangements for the cemetery and funeral assures your part in creating a dignified service of remembrance for your loved ones.

There is also a substantial cost savings when preplanning.

Funeral and cemetery costs have increased just like any other product or service over the years. On average, they double every eight to 10 years, depending on inflation. You will save hundreds, perhaps thousands of dollars by preplanning now.

The most meaningful benefit is sparing your family from making difficult decisions at one of the worst times of their life. When preplanning, do your research and select reputable firms with solid reputations and financial stability.

All Saints Cemetery is a member of the Mt. Elliott Cemetery Association which has been in existence since 1841. Located in Waterford, we also have The Preserve, a natural burial cemetery adjacent to All Saints Cemetery. Both sit directly on Maceday Lake.

We invite you to call us at 248-623-9633 for a tour of our cemetery. We also provide seminars on preplanning for your church, club or organization.

Take the time now to plan what is one of the most important decisions you can make!

EAGLE EYES: When Myra Fleming of Ortonville heard about a bald eagle off M-15 the morning of Veterans Day, she went out of her way to see it. "My daughter-in-law spotted it on her way to work in the trees on the same side of the rode as Solley's, north a few hundred feet," Fleming said. "It was perched there for quite a while as it took me maybe 20 minutes to get there - I haven't seen any around here before." She took a picture of our national bird at 11 a.m., Nov. 11, using a Nikon D700, spot metering, 200 mm lens, ISO 640 and an aperture of f/9. Photo provided
