No hire

Novi Community School District Superintendent Steve Matthews isn't going anywhere for now.

After being named a finalist for the superintendent position of Bainbridge Schools in Washington state, the school board there decided to offer the position to an internal candidate, its associate superintendent of administrative services. Interviews with four finalists were last week.

According to the Kitsap Sun, part of the USA Today Network, board members there liked Matthews' ability to connect with his constituents and they found him engaging. But they said many of the ideas he offered are up and running on the island.

Matthews applied for the position, in part, because his wife's family lives in that part of the country and he has a lot of connections in the area.

He previously was a finalist for a similar position in the Grosse Pointe schools.

The concept of military service is a difficult one for young children to grasp, but Melissa Israel explains it in a way so Orchard Hills Elementary students possibly can empathize.

"While we sit here enjoying our community of Novi, our military serves all around the world," she told a class full of children of various ages recently. "Many men and women in the military don't have families and many do. They look forward to care packages and if someone got mail and we didn't, we'd be sad."

Students at the elementary are participating in an "Orchards" lesson, the process through which the school teaches seven habits for happy kids as part of the district-wide "Leader in Me" program. Last week's focus was the fifth habit, "Seek first to understand, then to be understood."

As part of Operation: Empathy, the students will be writing letters to military members and collecting donations to send in care packages. Those packages will also contain stars from flags that have been retired.

"Are you excited to write a letter, pack a box or be a star stuffer?" Israel, a kindergarten teacher, asked the class.

"I'm excited about everything!" exclaimed one child, raising her hands in the air en-

Police: Wandering pit bull kills goat in barn

Susan Bromley

A goat is dead after allegedly being attacked by a wandering dog last week.

The goat's owner, who lives off Nine Mile Road, reported to Novi police that when she went to feed her two pet goats at about 9:30 a.m. April 11, both were alive and well.

Around 1 p.m., she heard her dogs barking, but thought nothing of it as that is not uncommon. Roughly two hours later, at 3 p.m., she noticed two stray dogs, one a gray pit bull and one a brown pit bull mix, running near where her goats are kept.

She went outside to get them away and saw the gray dog had managed to get into an empty corral attached to a barn and was attempting to dig its way out. She entered the barn and found one of her goats had been killed.

Responding police officers observed the goat had blood around its neck and face. The officers were able to capture the suspect dogs. They were ulti-

Specialty court offers veterans an alternative path

"I never thought I would stand here and say, 'I'm absolutely thankful I was part of Veterans Court,'" Joshua Mull said during his graduation from a specialty court program at 52-1 District Court last November.

"Veterans Court is the most important thing that happened to me," he said. "It saved my life." The 35-year-old Novi resident and former Marine platoon sergeant was in his comfort zone when he was serving three combat tours in Iraq. He took a lot of pride in leading his troops. But when he came home, he felt lost, angry, depressed and that he didn't have a purpose. Mull was diagnosed with post traumatic stress disorder in 2008.

He divorced his wife in 2015 and he says his motivation to change his life is based on getting equal custody of his daughter, who is now 4 years old. "She's my everything," he said.

Mull's problems began to mount when he was charged with domestic violence twice, in March 2013 and again eight months later. The abuse was never physical, he said; it was emotional and verbal.

After the last incident, court administrators sent him to a Veterans Administration Hospital PTSD treatment program in

Money matters: Fiscal responsibility at every age

Susan Bromley
Staff Writer

Any time is a good time to be wise about money, but next week emphasizes the importance of financial intelligence.

April 23-30 is Money Smart Week and four special events addressing fiscal responsibility at every age will be held at the Novi Public Library, 45255 W. 10 Mile Road. "Our intent is to provide consumers good quality financial education so they will make more savvy decisions with their money," said Kelly Masters, Michigan chairwoman of the Money Smart Week Campaign. "We all benefit when people make better financial decisions." The Federal Reserve Bank created Money

Smart Week in 2002. The nonprofit campaign helps consumers better manage personal finances through coordinated efforts of hundreds of organizations across the country, through programs for all demographics and income levels.

The lineup of Money Smart Week programs at the library starts 7-8 p.m., April 26 with "Financial Fusion," presented by Cygnnet Institute. Designed for those ages 18 and older, the program is promoted as challenging consumers to connect the dots between their pocketbooks, use of time and future spending habits, while asking themselves if their values are in sync with their finances.

Next up is "Smart Money Saving Tips for Teens," which is geared to students in grades 5-12 and will address identifying needs vs. wants, leading to smart spending habits. This program sponsored by Community Financial Credit Union is 3:30-4:30 p.m. April 28 and includes snacks, as well as a gift card raffle.

Also 6-7 p.m. April 28, adults are invited to attend "Protect Your Assets from Long-Term Care Expenses," presented by LifeGuide 360.

Finally, from 11:15 a.m. to noon April 30, the youngest savers will be addressed, with "Money Smart Kids." Children from kindergarten to fourth grade will be taught the skill of money management with games, music and books, including "Bunny Money," a free book they will each receive a copy of to keep.

All of the Money Smart Week programs are at no cost to attendees. For more information or to register, call 248-349-0720 or go to www.novilibrary.org.

VETERANS

Battle Creek.

A new path

Veterans Court gave him a support team that included a judge, probation officer and Veterans Administration experts. He took classes and participated in group sessions dealing with relationships and communication building, plus he was required to take random drug screenings and alcohol tests.

"He enrolled in our program simply because he was angry — angry at the fact that he was no longer serving his country and he was part of the judicial system," Michael McGlown, 52-1 District Court probation officer, said in a YouTube video of Mull's graduation. "When he first arrived, it was always someone else's fault. My mission was to get him off that pity pot and start living."

Mull met once a month at court with his team to review his progress.

"I looked at my probation officer as a dad, a brother, a mentor and a boss," Mull said. "It was a big part of where I wanted to go with changing my life. I was not going to let these guys down."

Mull plans to be a mentor in Veterans Court. He currently works in loss prevention and is attending Eastern Michigan University to become a social worker, with hopes to represent veterans.

Another journey

From all outward appearances, Tom had his life together with lots of accomplishments — personally and professionally. He had a great job and two successful grown sons.

The 57-year-old Milford resident went into the U.S. Navy in 1983. He was on active duty for nine years and in the reserves for 14 more. He retired as a Navy commander.

Then things started to fall apart. He was going through a divorce after 23 years of marriage and he was forced into retirement in specialty sales for a pharmaceutical company. He wanted to keep his name confidential because, he said, while there have been strides toward understanding addictions, there are still prejudices.

"I had two operating while intoxicated charges within a year's time span," Tom said. "Never in my life have I been in legal trouble. I've never even had any speeding violations. I was going through a tough time of my life and alcohol took over in 2013. I was a commander in navy aviation and now I was a drunk."

He admitted himself to Brighton Hospital for alcohol recovery treatment. Tom's brother-in-law, a local attorney, suggested getting him in Veterans Court after he served 30 days in the Allegan County Jail.

Veterans Court required he go to 90 Alcoholics Anonymous meetings in 90 days.

Rigorous agenda

He completed community service programs and attended weekly counseling and group meetings, among other programs.

"They provide incentives to reward you for doing well — maybe a sports ticket, a gas card or a gift card to a grocery store," Tom said. "People might say those are my tax dollars, but it comes from fundraisers."

Tom said he knew he was an alcoholic before he got the second OWI charge. Friends and family were telling him to slow down his drinking — even his mother banned him from the family's lake house if he drank.

"Alcohol is prevalent in my family; there's a genetic make-up," he said, adding that he escalated from being a social drinker to a functional alcoholic to a full-blown alcoholic.

Tom, who was never in combat, said he's concerned about veterans coming back from war zones with the emotional baggage.

"A lot of guys have seen things and done things they never thought they would," Tom said. "It's a huge trigger for alcohol and drug abuse for escapism. The Veterans Court takes all comers with PTSD, those with alcohol problems and people with domestic violence violations."

Staggering statistics

Substance use disorder statistics for people with PTSD is shockingly high in both civilian and military populations, according to statistics from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs.

More than two of 10 Veterans with PTSD also have substance use disorders, the website said. War veterans with PTSD and alcohol problems tend to be binge drinkers who are often battling bad memories of combat trauma. Almost one out of every three veterans seeking treatment for substance use disorders also has PTSD.

Tom, who works as a urology medical device representative, is now a mentor in Veterans Court.

"We help them get through the system without violating," Tom said. "More importantly, we check with their mental health, job status and housing situation. We point them in the direction where they can get help. Our biggest concerns are heroin users, because when they stop and start using again, that's when we lose a lot of people. We show them this really isn't punishment, it's a way to a new lifestyle that is much better for them. Not only do we help them, but it helps us remain sober."

People can't give up on "your veterans," Tom said. "These people are on the road to ruin. Some are near suicidal. They don't see it at first, but once they graduate the program, they're brand new people and the vast majority continue with AA. To help them heal and get their lives back on track is pretty rewarding."

While Mull and Tom are Veterans Court success stories, many also fail.

"Any time anyone violates, they will put you in jail and it's so disheartening," Tom said. "Our prisons and jails are filled with alcoholics and addicts, because they do stupid things when they're high. These are very viable people, upstanding young and old veterans. They served our country they deserve a second and a third chance."

thusiastically.

The kids wrote on paper boots what activity they want to volunteer for and soon were trekking down to the cafeteria, where they met with the entire school to celebrate the efforts they were about to begin.

Barb Zimmerman, another Orchard Hills kindergarten teacher, said the school has two separate missions: to send packages to the troops and to assist the Freedom Center, a non-profit that offers military hospitality lounges at Detroit Metro Airport prior to troop departures, as well as other services, including support groups for military families.

The Freedom Center established its first hospitality center at Metro Airport in 2011 in the absence of a USO, which other states that have military installation bases have. Since its inception, the Freedom Center has assisted more than 175,000 troops, veterans and their family members.

Sal Haji, the mother of a Marine, began volunteering at the Military Entrance Processing Station in Troy, which opened as the second Freedom Center in November 2013.

"My family came here from Iraq when I was a little girl to have the safety we needed and escape the horrors of war," said Haji, field operations coordinator at the Troy center. "This is the price of freedom — every 17- and 18-year-old coming through that office — and I wanted to give back myself. Now we have four (Freedom Centers) in the state of Michigan."

Zimmerman's son Jack joined the U.S. Navy last summer and the Freedom Center was a great help to her family.

"The community can donate used flags with embroidered stars, flags that are no longer being flown," Zimmerman said. "They are cut into pentagon shapes and every serviceman and woman sworn in leaves with that in their pocket."

The stars are accompanied by a written message from the Freedom Center: "I am a part of our American flag. I have flown over a home in the U.S.A. I can no longer fly. The sun and winds have caused me to become tattered and torn. Please carry me as a reminder that you are not forgotten."

Besides seeking stars, Orchard Hills Elementary staff and students are seeking items to put in care packages they will send to deployed military men and women. If you want to help, they welcome donations of beef jerky; protein bars; dried fruit; trail mix; nuts; individual drink mix powder; microwaveable meals; k-cups (coffee, tea and hot chocolate); canned fruit (pull tabs preferred); hand-held or travel size games; toiletries, including body wash, razors and shaving cream, toothbrushes and toothpaste, lip balm, deodorant, etc.; foot powder; wet wipes; and laundry pods.

The school plans to send the care packages in June and encourages the community to also submit letters of support for the troops. For more information on how to help, call 248-449-1400. To learn more about the Freedom Center, got www.mifreedomcenter.org.

mately transported to Oakland County Animal Control and the owner was contacted by phone. The owner was out of town and had left her dogs in the care of her roommate, she told police.

She told officers the dogs had been exposed to goats in the past and she has had no issues with her dogs attacking other animals. She said they are typically kept in a gated yard and she was unaware of how they could have escaped.

Oakland County Animal Control Supervisor Ron Shankin said attacks on livestock by domesticated dogs are rare in Novi and even more uncommon with goats. In the county, livestock attacks happen more often with open fields and dogs killing chickens.

Under local ordinance, the owner of the pit bulls will likely be cited for "dogs at large."

Shankin said owners of dogs that kill farm animals can also be held responsible for compensation of the loss of livestock, which can be several hundred dollars, but that is a civil matter. Dogs are not necessarily euthanized for attacking livestock.

Even when livestock are contained, Shankin said it is not always possible to keep out dogs, as well as coyotes and foxes.

"Create a containment area with stronger, quality materials that animals are (less likely) to destroy," he said. "Domesticated dogs, if they get out, some are prone to do this, but it is rare. We don't consider it a major problem, it just happens."

He adds that attacks on livestock are not specific to a breed of dog.

Need to know: Keeping kids out of trouble

Susan Bromley
Staff Writer

Parents can help keep their teens out of trouble by being informed on the ways they get into trouble.

Toward that end, the Novi Police Department and the Novi Community School District will present "What Parents Need to Know" at 7 p.m. April 28 at the Novi High School Media Center (park in the Taft Road lot, the second drive south of 10 Mile Road).

As the end of the school year approaches, timely topics of discussion will include "Making prom a night to remember, not to forget" and "Holding safe, legal and liability-free graduation parties." Troubling trends seen year-round, including e-cigarettes/vaping and heroin, will also be addressed.

"Heroin is on an uptick and we are seeing stats that show the amount of overdoses is going way up," said Detective Jon Zabick, school liaison officer. "Heroin is not something that is being abused just by the hard-core skid row drug addict. There are correlations between prescription drugs and heroin. Kids get a hold of what is in the medicine chest and it's a gateway to heroin. They're all cut from the same opioid."

The April 28 presentation will be the third in the "What Parents Need to Know" series, which began last spring as a partnership between police and the schools. Two presentations are planned per year, with the goal to educate parents about the unique challenges and dynamics of student-related issues.

Zabick notes that many issues are generational and parents might not have a full grasp on the dangers facing kids today, particularly with technology.

Another topic that has been discussed previously and which will be talked about again at the newest forum is "Student Behavior: When inappropriate becomes illegal," addressing in particular communications sent on computers and mobile devices.

Zabick advises parents to be aware of what apps kids are using and have a basic understanding of the pitfalls they can get into with a false sense of anonymity or privacy on what he calls "the wild, wild west" of the Internet.

"Whatever you send out here, everyone takes a screen shot and a bad decision is something that can linger far down the road," he said. "The reality with social media is a constant level of communication and no reprieve."

In the program, real-life examples of poor, life-altering decisions are used, including students charged with exploitation, harassment, threats and criminal sexual conduct.

Students, as well as parents, don't always understand the gray area between what is inappropriate and what is illegal and the resulting long-term consequences, he adds, not only in damage to reputation, but also to scholarship and employment.

Schools must focus on the excitement of learning

My favorite sport is baseball. Correspondingly, I love the spring. After months of winter's gloom, the grass begins to turn green, trees bloom and baseball comes back.

I understand that not everyone loves baseball. It is too slow, some say. Most of the players stand around waiting for something to happen. The offense technically never possesses the ball.

All of those things to some degree are true, but still I love the game.

My guess is my love for the game comes from my father. We would play catch in the backyard. I loved the experience of playing catch. I loved trying to figure out how to throw a curve ball. I loved pop flies and ground balls. Two gloves, a ball, my father and the green grass.

Steve Matthews

When my own boys were born, I played catch with them. While playing catch with them, I almost ruined baseball for them and for me.

Baseball can get very technical. We can analyze everything. How high is your elbow? Is your plant foot turned the right direction?

Instead of enjoying a simple game of catch, I almost turned baseball into a technical experience, devoid of the joy of the experience. Instead of focusing on my sons, I was more focused on whether they were extending their arm, following through, driving with their shoulder.

In some ways, spring in schools is similar to my experience with baseball. Schools should be about the excitement of learning. Schools should be about the joy that comes from wanting to discover things. School should be about trying to figure things out, experimenting with ideas.

In Michigan, as in most states, we have decided that we need to focus on some of the technical aspects of school. How much are our students learning? What are they learning? Are they where they are supposed to be?

During the spring, at least during the last two springs in Michigan, we give our students the M-STEP assessment. Taken too seriously, this assessment can ruin school for our students. Instead of enjoying learning and focusing on the excitement that can come from discovery, we begin to analyze every aspect of our student's educational experience.

Don't get me wrong — students come to school to learn. At some level, we need to measure how much our students are learning. We need to make sure that our students are developing the skills that they will need to live productively.

But at times, we focus too much on figuring out what our students are learning and forget that it is the process and the act of learning that bring joy and excitement and passion to the classroom.

I want our students to demonstrate that they are learning and to do well on our state assessment. But more importantly, I also want our students to develop a deep and abiding affection for learning, a passion that will drive their lifelong learning.

Steve M. Matthews, Ed.D., is superintendent of the Novi Community School District. He can be reached at smatthews@novischools.net.

Shotgun reported missing, laptop found instead

Novi police officers responded at 1:35 p.m. April 12 to a residence on Boileau Drive on a report of larceny from an automobile. The victim said he parked his unlocked truck in his driveway at about 9 p.m. the night before with his 12-gauge shotgun inside.

At about 8:30 a.m., he found a black HP laptop computer which does not belong to him inside the vehicle. His shotgun was missing. Also parked in the complainant's driveway was a Ford Expedition; a hammer had been taken from the vehicle and used to break the driver's side window of a Dodge Dakota which belonged to his sister. Nothing was missing from that vehicle.

A neighbor reported that her white Mustang, which she leaves unlocked, had the center console opened, but nothing was missing and the vehicle was not damaged. The Oakland Glens community was scheduled for extra patrol and the community manager said she was aware of the rash of larcenies. A flier was expected to be distributed, asking residents to lock their vehicles and not leave valuables inside.

Rude exchange

Novi police officers responded to a store on Novi Road at about 4:20 p.m. April 13 on a report of customer trouble.

The customers, a mother and daughter, said they had given a pair of sunglasses at the store to a baby to play with. They said an employee rudely told them the baby could not play with the sunglasses and took them away. The daughter then said she found a dress she wanted to try on and went into the changing room.

While in the fitting room, her mother yelled that she would be waiting outside. The daughter said she heard the employees rudely say goodbye to her mother. She exited the changing room and confronted the employees and told them they were rude. They told her to leave. She told them not to touch her and left.

Her mother told police that while pushing the stroller, she walked near the checkout counter and they yelled at her that she could not be behind the counter. That is when she yelled to her daughter. The employees gave the same recounting of the incident, but said it was the customers who were rude. Case closed.

Stolen Harley

A 2015 Harley Davidson was reported stolen some time between 5 p.m. April 11 and 8 a.m. April 12 from a carport on Woodland Glen Drive.

The owner told police he bought the all-black cycle last July for $10,500. He still has the keys and is current on his payments.

Road rage

An anonymous caller reported to police that a man in a red Charger threw a glass at his vehicle in the area of Twelve

Mile Crossing at about 12:10 a.m. April 10 and provided a license plate number. The suspect vehicle was located as it approached Powerhouse Gym and an officer conducted a traffic stop.

The driver said a silver vehicle was driving at a very slow rate of speed and he eventually passed and raised his middle finger to him. The other driver yelled, "You're going to regret that, just wait!" He said shortly after, he was pulled over. He stated nothing was thrown and no evidence was found.

Running a red

A Novi police officer was northbound on Haggerty Road, just south of Nine Mile Road, at about 8:19 p.m. April 8 when he observed a gray Saturn accelerate through a red light, almost causing a head-on collision with a vehicle waiting to make a left turn. The officer stopped the Saturn on Nine Mile Road, near Sunrise Boulevard.

The officer made contact with the driver, smelled alcohol and saw an open can of beer in a black bag in the back seat of the vehicle, according to a report. The driver said he'd had "two Buds" and it had been more than half an hour since his last drink. A preliminary Breathalyzer test showed he had a blood-alcohol content of 0.14 percent. The legal limit in Michigan is 0.08 percent. He was arrested for operating while intoxicated.

Tool time

Several tools were stolen April 8 from a garage on Argyle Street. The complainant told police when he returned home about 9 p.m., his garage door was closed. When he let his dogs out about an hour and 15 minutes later, he noticed the garage door was open. He found his Craftsman hand-held blower on the driveway.

The next day, he realized he was also missing his Stanley battery charger, Ryobi weed whip and Ryobi drill and charger. There is no service door and no one else has the code to the garage doors. He believes that the garage door did not close when they returned home. There was no damage to the door.

Cleaned out

A washer and dryer were reported stolen from a home under construction on Valencia Circle. The complainant, an employee of Pinnacle Homes, advised the theft occurred some time between 4 p.m. April 8 and 2 p.m. April 9 after someone broke in the front door, damaging the frame. The appliances are valued at $1,500.

Smashed

A man who resides in an apartment on Wellington Drive discovered April 9 someone had smashed the rear windshield of his vehicle. He said he parked the vehicle at 9 a.m. and, when he returned to it about 7 p.m., he found the windshield broken and a small rock in the backseat.

Don't take the bait when it comes to phishing

We always see pictures of huge fish pulled from the lakes and streams of this state. There are proud men, women and children holding the catch of the day with smiles on their faces. Fishing can be fun and relaxing, but do you ever look at yourself as a fish — or, should I say, "phish?" Phishing, just like the real thing, uses bait to lure a person into getting hooked. Phishing is one of the most successful cyber attacks out there and people get hooked every day.

A phishing message can arrive by email, phone, social networking, instant messaging or fax. The message will ask you to take action like clicking on a link and entering information on a website or calling a phone number. Won any free trips to the Caribbean lately? Whatever the message, the goal is to get you to reveal private information like your password, account number or birth date.

Phishers, much like the bait we use, disguise the hook with what appear to be legitimate messages. They use high-profile news stories, gossip and celebrity photos with page views on the Internet. They warn you that something bad has happened or will happen. They then tell you what you should do to correct the problem, such as contacting the Internal Revenue Service because you owe additional funds; here is a number to call.

There are also people who use the technique of what is called "spear phishing." Spear phishing is a more sophisticated form of phishing that targets you directly. Messages appear to come from someone you know and trust. They often include personal information like your name, where you live or your employer, but in fact it's an attack. The messages look real, which makes it even easier to get hooked. To identify spear phishing messages, always look at the sender's address or the real destination of the links.

Never give out sensitive information unless you initiated the communication and you are sure you have the correct party. Be suspicious when a message plays on your emotions, curiosity, fear, trust, need, generosity or desires. Delete messages that ask for private information, display an aliased sender's address that is not a real sender and looks suspicious or have suspicious links that don't go where the alias says they go. Do not click on links or call a phone number provided in messages. Instead, look them up yourself. Investigate any link before you click on it. Phishers often hide a malicious link among several legitimate ones.

If you think you were phished, get off the hook. If you gave away your password, change it immediately. Write down everything you can remember and provide this information to your account provider. Don't be embarrassed to tell them what happened. If you think you are the victim of identity theft, have credit bureaus put alerts on your credit reports. Close accounts that have been tampered with and report the incident to police and the Federal Trade Commission.

Remember, it is better to go fishing than to get phished.

Fox Run advances technology for residents

Meghan Streit
Correspondent

Fox Run retirement community residents are learning new technology every day, it seems.

The latest piece of technology they are venturing into is a Crestron audiovisual system that has been installed in one of the classrooms. The high-tech "black box," as some residents call it, can be used to play movies on a big screen, stream YouTube videos, give presentations and much more.

Residents can easily connect their laptops or thumb drives to the Crestron system to access content they want to share with friends, neighbors or fellow club members.

"I am an Amazon Prime member and I can go there and show my Prime movies in that classroom," Geri Angel said. "Say one of the religious groups wants to show a religious program from YouTube; they can just pull that up and do it. It's just amazing. Once the residents really figure out how to use it, the possibilities are going to be limitless."

Angel said the resident light and sound committee has been trained on the Crestron technology and members are available to give tutorials to other residents and club leaders.

Residents can use the system to facilitate Fox Run activities or for personal use.

"A family could even use it for a 90th birthday party, say if somebody does a DVD of grandma and they want to show it at the party," Angel said. "All they need to do is ask for permission to sign the key out."

Fox Run residents routinely use Facebook, Skype, YouTube and Twitter to keep in touch with family and friends or to navigate their way through the vast information age.

There's always a friendly neighbor or a tech-savvy staff member to help trouble-shoot computer problems. Residents don't even need to have their own laptops, because there's an on-site computer lab. In addition, residents who volunteer to work at the in-house TV studio learn how to use video cameras and other production equipment.

Northville district to accept five IB students in schools of choice program

Northville Public Schools is accepting schools of choice applications under Section 105 and 105(c) of the Michigan School Aid Act for the 2016-17 school year. The availability is limited to five openings in the International Baccalaureate Diploma Program at Northville High School. Applications will be accepted from May 2 through 4 p.m. May 27.

In accordance with the legislated requirements and in order to support the district's goal of excellence and equity for all students, a review of each prospective student applicant's eligibility for the program is required using the same criteria applied to prospective resident program students.

NPS' Schools Section 105 and 105(c) (non-resident) application is available through the Office of Human Resources. Completed applications, including all forms and recommendations, must be mailed or hand delivered to the Northville Public Schools Human Resources Department, 501 W. Main Street, Northville, MI 48167 by 4 p.m. May 27. The district is unable to accept electronic applications.

Applicants found to be ineligible for the program will be notified on or before June 10. Should the number of applications approved by the Diploma Program Review Team exceed the five openings, the school district will use a random draw (lottery) to select the applicants who will be offered enrollment.

If necessary, the lottery will take place at 8:30 a.m.

June 9 at the Northville Public Schools Board of Education offices. Families applying for limited schools of choice are welcome to attend the lottery drawing. Selected students will be informed regarding placement no later than June 10.

Details regarding the lottery procedures, the schools of choice application and answers to frequently asked questions about the Section 105 and 105(c) option are available on the district's website at www.northvilleschools.org.

Once a student is accepted to open enroll under Section 105 or 105(c), he or she may continue to be enrolled in Northville Public Schools until graduation or until he or she withdraws from the program.

CAMBRA

SCOTT W. Age 47, of Canton, passed away suddenly on April 16, 2016. He was born July 18, 1968 in Fremont, California; son of Kenneth and Veronica (nee Caruso) Cambra. Scott graduated from Catholic Central High School and later attended Ferris State University. He has been a journeyman electrician with Ford Motor Company for over 20 years. Scott was an avid golfer and played any chance he got. He enjoyed riding his motorcycle and was a very patient fisherman who liked being outdoors. Scott loved listening to music. He was a member of the Northville Eagles Club and a proud member of the UAW. Scott was a fun and adventurous son, brother, uncle and friend. He is survived by his mother Veronica "Ronnie" Cambra, his brother Todd Cambra, his sister Gretchen (John) Saunders, and his nephew Lucas Saunders. He was also loved by Kate Grinenko and will be deeply missed by his family and friends. He was preceded in death by his father Ken Cambra. Visitation will be held Thursday, April 21 from 2pm until 4pm with a memorial service beginning at 4pm at Casterline Funeral Home, 122 West Dunlap, Northville, MI 48167. Share condolences and memories at www.casterlinefuneralhome.com

DOMBROWSKI

HOOPER

SUE E. Age 59, longtime resident of Northville, passed away April 15, 2016. She was born August 9, 1956 in Lansing, Michigan; daughter of Charles and Nyda (nee Kelley) Barrix. She graduated from Holt High School; Class of 1974. Sue was united in marriage to Kirk T. Hooper on March 21, 1981; they spent 35 loving years together. Sue was a devoted homemaker; she took great pride in caring for her family. She selflessly volunteered many hours with the City of Northville; she loved Northville and was proud to be a member of the community. She served on the Housing Commission Board for Allen Terrace for many years, and later became President of the Housing Commission. Sue facilitated a computer lab at Allen Terrace and held a computer class for the residents, and through donations she was able to help many seniors get computers in their homes. She served on the Board of Zoning Appeals and attended most of the City Council meetings. She was honored with the Claude Ely Memorial Fund Award in 2009 for her leadership, commitment, and unselfish dedication in service to the needs of the Northville Community. She was also a member of the Northville Garden Club. Sue enjoyed cooking and baking cakes. She was an avid reader, enjoyed talking politics, and meeting with her coffee club three times per week. She loved children and helped to raise many of the kids in her neighborhood. Sue truly loved her family, especially her grandchildren and treasured the moments they spent together. She is survived by her loving husband, Kirk T. Hooper; her children, Seth (Kimberly) Hooper, Lori (William) Datson, and Tyler (Tiffany) Hooper; her mother Nyda Barrix; her siblings, Stephen (LaVergne) Barrix and Marsha Barrix; and her grandchildren, Miles, Madison, Brenna, and Colter. She was preceded in death by her father Charles Barrix. A Memorial Service was held Tuesday, April 19, 2016 at Casterline Funeral Home, 122 W. Dunlap, Northville. Pastor Drex Morton officiated the service. Mrs. Hooper will be laid to rest at Rural Hill Cemetery in Northville. The family would appreciate memorial contributions to American Cancer Society, 20450 Civic Center Dr., Southfield, MI 48076.

PICKELL

JAMES UNDERWOOD died April 11, 2016, at his home in South Haven, Michigan. He was born Oct. 24, 1985, in Royal Oak, Michigan, to John and Mary Jane Pickell. After graduating in 2004 from Milford High School in metropolitan Detroit, he continued his education at Oakland Community College, Lake Michigan College, and Eastern Michigan University. A dedicated generalist with a special fondness for aggressive hip-hop, serialized speculative fiction, and shelter dogs, he will be remembered as a man of forthright charity and preternatural congeniality. James is survived by his parents, both of South Haven; two brothers, John (and Stefanie) Pickell of Davison, Michigan, and Jeff Pickell of Denton, Texas; maternal grandfather Rolla Anderson of Kalamazoo, Michigan; paternal grandparents Jack and Carol Pickell of Gregory, Michigan; two nephews, John and Jaxson; and a niece, Harper. James was preceded in death by his maternal grandmother, Patricia Anderson, in 2010, and paternal grandmother, Doris Ann Pickell. Memorial services will be held at 1:00 p.m. on Thursday, April 14, 2016 at the First United Methodist Church, 429 Michigan Avenue, South Haven, Michigan 49090 with Pastor Virginia Heller officiating. Contributions may be made in James' memory to the Al Van Humane Society, 73303 8th Ave, South Haven, Michigan 49090. Kindly share your thoughts and memories on the family's online guestbook at www.FilbrandtFFH.com. The family is being helped by the Filbrandt Family Funeral Home of South Haven, 637-0333.

This Albert Kahn building in Farmington Hills, now part of Botsford Commons, is the former home of the Sister Kenny Hospital, where children with polio were treated in the 1920s.

Revisit memories from a bygone era

Tour historic 'polio treatment' facility

Aileen Wingblad
Staff Writer

For much of the world, polio and its devastating effects are from a bygone era. Thanks to vaccines that came into use in the mid-1950s and early 1960s, the virus that historically left millions dead or with some degree of paralysis has nearly been wiped from the face of the Earth.

An upcoming event in Farmington Hills will highlight a major role a facility in the local community once had in treatment of those infected – and spread word about efforts to eliminate polio altogether.

The Farmington Rotary Club, in cooperation with Botsford Commons Senior Community, is hosting a free public open house of the historic "Sister Kenny Hospital,"

1-4 p.m. April 23.

Elizabeth Kenny was an Australian nun credited with developing and promoting hydrotherapy as a treatment for polio. In the 1920s, she spent a considerable amount of time working with young patients at the Michigan Hospital for Crippled Children – which eventually was renamed the Sister Kenny Hospital, explained Ginger Barrons, a Novi Rotarian for the past 26 years and District 6380 polio co-chair. Designed by famed architect Albert Kahn, the building is now part of the Botsford Senior Living Center, which will open its doors to guided tours for the open house.

"It's a really cool piece of Farmington history," Barrons said. "The Farmington-Farmington Hills area served as a key place for the revolution of polio treatment worldwide. I don't think many people in the community know about that, but they should."

Impressive features of the former hospital include Kahn's "stunning architecture," she said, including red brick, arched doorways, slate roofs and limestone inlays of children playing. "And in the basement, you can still see the original outskirts of the pool (where hydrotherapy took place)," she said.

Also, photos from the Sister Kenny Hospital time period will be on display, on loan from the Walter Reuther Historical Library collection.

Along with allowing a look inside a historic building that's typically not open to the public, the April 23 event will Farmington Rotary Club president Phil Abraham and long-time Rotarian Ginger Barrons with the "polio" torch, which is passed from event to event throughout the world. It was in Farmington in 2015.

"help build awareness and advocacy, and raise funds" for polio eradication, the "number one health goal of Rotarians," Barrons added.

Thanks to efforts by Rotarians, as well as the World Health Organization and others, to vaccinate children across the globe, Pakistan and Afghanistan are the last two countries where new cases of the disease still emerge – but the numbers are dwindling, she said.

"We're very, very close to eradication. Last year, just 21 new cases were reported," she said.

Free-will donations will be accepted at the open house for the Rotarians' Polio Eradication Fund.

The Botsford Senior Living Center is at 21400 Archwood Circle, off Tuck Road north of Eight Mile Road, in Farmington Hills.

OUR VIEW

Avoid cellphone use when you're driving

April is Distracted Driving Awareness Month, in which the National Safety Council invites you to Take Back Your Drive.

New technology in vehicles is causing drivers to become more distracted behind the wheel than ever before. Drivers — 53 percent of them — believe if manufacturers put “infotainment” dashboards and hands-free technology in vehicles, they must be safe. But, in fact, these technologies distract our brains even long after you've used them, according to the NSC.

Police officials often speak to the need to make it “none for the road” when it comes to drinking and driving. We believe the same holds true for use of cellphones while on the road. Driving is just too complex of a task to be attempting to carry on a cellphone conversation on the road.

Thousands have died in crashes involving cellphone use. The NSC notes, make no mistake: this multi-tasking technology is about convenience, not safety.

Many distractions exist while driving, but cellphones are a top distraction because so many drivers use them for long periods of time each day. Almost everyone has seen a driver distracted by a cellphone, but when you are the one who is distracted, you often don't realize that driver is you.

With some state laws focusing on hand-held bans and auto makers putting hands-free technology in vehicles, it's no wonder people are confused. However, while many drivers honestly believe they are making the safe choice by using a hands-free device, it's just not true. Your brain remains distracted by the conversation, the NSC says.

While no state has a law prohibiting all cellphone use while driving, employers are putting policies in place banning the use of hand-held and hands-free devices. The city of Tulsa implemented a total-ban cellphone policy for employees, for example.

Additional information is online at www.nsc.org. Why not take time to learn more about this important issue — and be safe on the road at all times, for yourself and for others?

Development concerns

As there continues to be more development on the west end of Novi and, as a long-time resident who lives in that area, I am particularly concerned about three current issues.

Novi has been designated a Tree City USA for more than two decades. We have a tree department, a tree care ordinance, a community forestry program and we participate in Arbor Day each year. I consider all of this an asset to our community. Therefore, I am confused as to why the Novi City Council would weaken its own longstanding tree preservation program for the benefit of one developer who will remove 80 percent of the trees at Eight Mile and Beck without having to add one cent to the city's tree fund. My second concern is related to the high traffic volume on Beck Road. Currently, during the morning and afternoon rush hour, traffic along Beck Road is often backed up a mile or more between Eight Mile and Grand River. There are at least three subdivisions going in along this route, as well as a day care center, so what is being done to relieve traffic congestion in this area?

My third issue is related to accessibility to parks and green spaces in these new subdivisions. While we have some wonderful parks in Novi, most of them require me to get in my car to get there. Building a walkable/bike friendly community is important to the long-term viability of any community. Being able to walk my children/grandchildren to a nearby park makes my neighborhood much more attractive to families and potential home buyers.

Karen B. Zyczynski
Novi

City council concerns

We need to continue to aim a spotlight on the actions of Mayor Gatt and council members Staudt, Wrobel and Burke. The dangerous and decrepit state of Beck Road between Eight Mile and Nine Mile has been known to residents for years. Instead of making a substantial reconstruction to the road, council chose to spend thousands on a road consultation firm which a few months ago held a public input session where a major topic was many aspects of the terrible state of Beck Road.

Now, Gatt and his three council member buddies have given tax favors to a developer whose land is at the corner of Beck and Eight Mile. These tax favors reduce money to the city and state by at least $1.1 million, much of which could also have been applied to fixing dangerous Beck Road. Gatt and his buddies also allowed the developer to increase the density of units from 19 to 31, completely ignoring the city of Novi Master Plan and adding increased demand for city services and additional cars to Beck Road.

Then, Gatt and buddies topped it off by exempting the developer from Novi's outstanding tree ordinance.

As we drive down Beck Road and dodge the hazards of the crumbling pavement, we should remember that Bob Gatt, David Staudt, Wayne Wrobel and Brian Burke, by giving favors to developers, are allowing the standards of our city of Novi to crumble as well.

John A. Kuenzel

Time for a new superintendent

I was dismayed to read about Novi Schools Superintendent Steve Matthews making yet another overture into a superintendent job with a different school district. After he lost as a finalist with Grosse Pointe Schools a year ago, he declared that his heart was still in Novi. A year later, he is now flirting with a school district in Washington. With Matthews, there's always a reason — he has a home there (Grosse Pointe), the state of Michigan legislative climate is unfriendly to public education (Bainbridge Island, Wash.).

If Matthews is selected in Washington, I wish him the best. If he is not chosen, the school board would be wise to find another superintendent immediately — one selected on the board's terms and timeline, rather than waiting for Matthews to put in his two weeks' notice. By now it is evident that 2017 will bring a new year, a new opportunity for Matthews, and a new reason why he “just needs to explore” and see if some other job is a fit.

Terminate him now. It's best for both parties. It will give Matthews another 40 hours a week to find that “perfect fit” he just can't seem to find here in Novi.

Fly flag proudly

It's always a proud moment for me when I'm in South Lyon and look up and see Ol' Glory flapping in the breeze.

To those of you that choose to fly the American flag, I thank you for your investment and your patriotism. However, please be mindful of “flag etiquette” which has guidelines for flying, handling and disposal of the flag: “The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning.”

In other words, when the flag becomes torn, tattered and faded, it's time to replace that flag or, at the very least, take it down!

There is a flag in the middle of town that has been beyond needing replacing for months now. I know the people that fly the flag don't purposely mean to be disrespectful in their display of the flag, so please make it a priority to replace the flag when yours is too worn. When you do want to properly dispose of the flag, veterans groups and Boy Scout troops will do it for you at no cost.

Thank all of you for your patriotism and God Bless America.

MDOT: I-275 will close in early May for construction

David Veselenak
Staff Writer

There's still no hard date for when motorists can expect southbound Interstate 275 through Livonia, Farmington Hills and Novi to shut down, but the time frame has been narrowed.

The Michigan Department of Transportation sent out a message last week saying the road will be shut down sometime in early May. An exact date has not yet been selected, but it will be announced in the coming weeks.

The announcement came about an hour before a scheduled public meeting on the project, which saw hundreds of interested motorists, residents and officials attend to get the latest information on the planned work on the freeway spanning from Five Mile to the I-96/I-696/M-5 interchange this summer.

Bill Erben, an engineer with MDOT, said the selected contractor will have to give five days notice to the state when it plans to shut down the

The eastbound ramp over I-275 at Seven Mile is already closed as workers begin removing and replacing its road surface. The effort is part of the reconstruction efforts on the major highway that lies between Northville, Novi and Livonia and Farmington Hills.

freeway.

The total span of the project is 109 calendar days, meaning that's how long the contractor has to reopen the freeway once it is shut down.

"That's the bulk of this project, but then there is some pavement rehab work that takes place up in the interchange," he said. "Some resurfacing, some patching, there's landscaping that goes with this project, there's ditch clean out to re-establish the ditch flow lines."

Some preliminary work has already begun, with bridge closures on Seven Mile in Livonia, Meadowbrook in Novi and Haggerty on the Farmington Hills/Novi border. Trees have also been taken out along the ditches and to lay wires for the electronic sign boards and freeway cameras, though MDOT says more than 700 trees will be planted to replace them.

Southbound I-275 will close first, leaving northbound traffic maintained. That will allow for the concrete rehabilitation and other work to happen along the southbound lanes, which will remain closed until the work is finished, most likely sometime in July. Then the northbound lanes will close, leaving only southbound I-275 open, for the remainder of the project. Both sides of the freeway are expected to reopen early in the fall.

'It's not going to be pretty'

The $70 million project will detour traffic to as far away as the Southfield Freeway, the Lodge Freeway and I-696, though Erben said that's only the official detour route. Trucks and other heavy traffic will be expected to use those freeways, as MDOT can only detour to state trunk lines.

But he expects local drivers will eventually discover other routes they find to work easier for them once the freeway closes.

"We have to send you to the next available freeway, which we don't have one until Southfield," Erben said. "You can find a way on any of the local roads north or south. But we can only send you to our roads."

Trying to find that detour is going to be a challenge for Livonia resident Diane Snyder. She works in Wixom and uses I-275 on a daily basis. She's hoping to find a steady route others haven't discovered to minimize the effect on her commute and living.

"It affects me 24/7, basically," she said. "I've already been trying to map out directions."

It's going to affect Northville resident Joan Wilson as well. She's a frequent traveler of the freeway, taking it to places such as Canton, Ann Arbor and Detroit. She came to the public meeting to learn more about the routes she could possibly take to still get around town, something she got from an MDOT employee.

While it will be tough, she said, she joked with the people around her at the meeting, saying they'll see each other a whole lot this summer on surface roads.

"It's not going to be pretty, because it's going to be me and everyone else doing the same thing. It's just going to add more time," she said. "I'm very concerned. This is going to affect me greatly."

Breakthrough Procedure Gets Rid Of Knee Pain Walk Away Feeling Better!

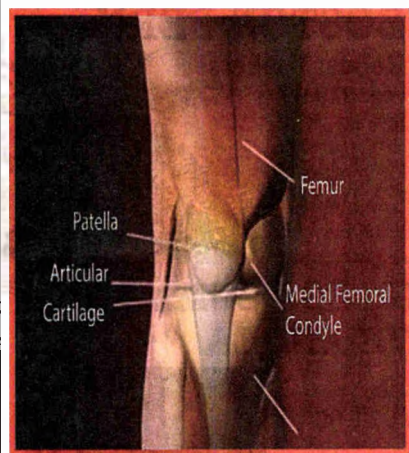

Now, in Brighton, one doctor is helping local residents with knee pain live more active, pain-free lives.

Do You Have Any of the Following Conditions?

- Arthritis
- Tendonitis
- Knee Pain
- Bursitis
- Cartilage Damage
- Crunching & Popping Sounds
- "Bone on Bone"

Living with knee pain can feel like a crippling experience. Let's face it, your knees aren't as young as they used to be, and playing with kids or grandkids isn't any easier, either. Maybe your knee pain keeps you from walking short distances or playing golf like you used to.

Nothing's worse than feeling great mentally, but physically held back from life because your knee hurts and the pain just won't go away!

My name is Dr. Robert Moore, D.C., owner of Trigenics Chronic Pain Relief of Brighton. Since we opened, we've seen many people with knee problems leave the office pain free.

If you're suffering from these conditions, a new breakthrough procedure and medical technology may completely eliminate your pain and help restore normal function to your knees.

Finally An Option Other Than Drugs or Surgery

I practice a non-surgical neurological procedure which re-sets the way the brain communicates with the body.

The result is immediate relief of your pain, accelerated healing and increased strength and movement. This breakthrough neurological procedure is known worldwide as... "Trigenics" (www.trigenics.com).

It Promotes Rapid Healing Of The Injured Tissues

This pain-free, non-surgical approach works by stimulating the body's natural healing process, providing pain relief and reducing injury damage. This leading edge technology has an impressive success rate of returning patients to work, sports and competitive activities as well as everyday life.

Patients treated with Trigenics often show a higher level of function, both during and after the treatment period. Trigenics provides a tremendous alternative to those facing surgery or those who had surgery.

Could This Non-Invasive, Natural Treatment Be The Answer To Your Knee Pain?

Call before May 5, 2016. I'm running a very special offer where you can find out if you are a candidate for the breakthrough Trigenics procedure.

What does the offer include? Everything I normally do in my "Knee Pain Evaluation". Just call and here's what you will get...

- An in-depth consultation about your problem where I will listen...really listen...to the details of your case.
- A Trigenics neuro-muscular examination of your problem area.
- A full set of digital x-rays to determine your problem (if necessary).
- A thorough analysis of your exam and x-ray findings so we can start mapping out your plan to being pain free.
- You'll see everything first hand and find out if this amazing treatment will be your pain solution, like it has been for so many other patients.

Call before May 5, 2016 to get everything I've listed for a charitable donation of only $79. The normal price for this type of evaluation, with x-rays, is $375, so you're saving a considerable amount and helping Flint's homeless.

Remember what it was like before you had knee problems -- when you were pain free and could enjoy everything life had to offer? It can happen that way again. Don't neglect your problem any longer - don't wait until it's too late.

Here's What To Do Now

Due to the expected demand for this special offer, I urge you to call our office at once. The phone number is 810-225-7246. If lines are busy call again.

Call today and we can get started with your consultation, exam and x-rays as soon as there's an opening in the schedule. Our office is located at 1371 S. Old US 23 in Brighton (on the corner of Hyne and Old US23). Tell the receptionist you'd like to come in for the Knee Evaluation.

Yours in Health,

BOYS GOLF PREVIEW

Shamrocks could be better than ever

Northville, Novi could also be in mix come this June

Brad Emons
Staff Writer

After capturing last year's MHSAA Division 1 boys golf state championship by a record 31 strokes, it would be hard to imagine Novi Detroit Catholic Central duplicating that effort again in 2016. But think again as the Shamrocks, who have already won four invitational tournaments, might be even better this season as they seek their fourth state crown in school history.

"I think we should be in good shape this year," fourth-year CC coach Mike Anderson said. "This team we have this year, I think, is deeper than what we've ever been. We got eight or nine guys all who can shoot par or better and will be battling for the top five all year. It's very competitive within our own team and the guys respond well to it. I think we have high expectations for ourselves, obviously."

The Shamrocks feature two NCAA Division I commits, including last year's

All-Area Golfer of the Year Ben Smith (Georgia Tech) and first team All-Area pick James Piot (Michigan State).

Senior Max Palmer, a second team All-Area selection, has signed with Robert Morris (Pa.), also an NCAA Division I school.

All three were top 10 finishers in last year's state finals at Ferris State's Katke Cousins, with Smith taking third (72-75—145), while Palmer (70-80—150)

NORTHVILLE BOYS LACROSSE

Victory Day culminates on Saturday

Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Victory Day has taken on an added meaning for the Northville boys lacrosse team and it's become an annual affair.

For the second straight year, the varsity players will put on a game for students with special needs and disabilities, beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday at Tom Holzer Field.

The varsity boys lacrosse game between the Mustangs and Utica Eisenhower follows at noon.

Northville players have been meeting each Monday and Wednesday with the special-needs students for four weeks of seminars. Each student is partnered with a varsity lacrosse player who has served as a mentor.

"It turned out to be a really good day and the guys had a great time," Northville coach Greg Durham said of last year's inaugural event. "It's pretty cool. They meet all the boys. They teach them how to throw and catch, throw the ball, maybe even shoot."

Sean Baligian of sports radio station WMGC-FM (105.1) will do the public address announcing. Northville student Carly Bins, a recording artist, will sing the national anthem.

Warrior Lacrosse serves as event sponsor, providing equipment and sticks. Other sponsors include Panera Bread, Begonia Brothers, Costco, Meijer and Jet's Pizza.

"I got the idea from football at Groves (high school), since I teach in Birmingham and I see what kind of impact it has on the district here, so I decided I'd try it," Durham said. "But I was trying to figure out how to use lacrosse instead of football. In football, you have them running for the touchdown. This one, they get to score a goal. They get to have fun. There's no contact and we shorten the field a bit. It's a big event for the guys and even a bigger event for my guys. They get involved and like to see the guys do well and have fun."

Along with the players, Northville lacrosse parents will be involved in Victory Day.

"Coach Durham believes that building men of character, including respect, service and gratitude, is a priority for his lacrosse family," Cindy Salamone said. "Victory Day is a way to develop these virtues and give back to the high school for which they are privileged to represent and play."

Novi gets leg up on rival Northville

Todd Pheiffer is glad Katrina Koomen is back on his side for this season.

After taking a year off to play for the Michigan Hawks of the Elite Clubs National League, the senior defender is making her mark again with the Novi High girls soccer team.

Koomen, an NCAA Division I signee with College of Charleston (S.C.), scored the game-winning goal and helped set up a second Friday night as the host Wildcats downed arch-rival Northville, 2-0, in a battle of last year's KLAAC Central Division co-champions at Meadows Stadium.

"Katrina has been playing awesome all three games," said Pheiffer, whose team improved to 2-0-1 overall. "It's great to have her back from the ECNL league. She's great in the back. Besides her size, she has great foot skills; it's hard to defend her and she moves forward. She gets balls in the box for us and she's very dangerous on the free kick."

The tall and agile Koomen, who plays left back, was a member of the Novi varsity team her freshman and sophomore seasons before taking a sabbatical last year.

"It felt really good to get the first division win, because we've put in a lot of work in preseason with conditioning and learning how each other plays, so it was nice to see the hard work pay off," Koomen said.

The first goal came off a Koomen free kick from the right flank from about 25 yards out that Northville goalkeeper Carlie Castiglione had no chance on with 33:16 remaining in the match.

"I usually take (free kicks) to step up and play good balls to my teammates or shoot," Koomen said. "Obviously, I was aiming far post ... I was hoping it was going in, but I didn't know, because their goalkeeper did a good job during the game."

The second goal was also initiated by another long free kick into the box by the left-footed Koomen. Castiglione made the save, but freshman midfielder Jessie Bandyk jumped on the rebound and drilled it home with 27:23 to go to put the Wildcats up 2-0.

"That was really a good job getting in there for the rebound," Koomen said, "just a really good effort put in by my teammates."

Northville, off to an uncharacteristic 0-3-1 start, wasn't devoid of scoring chances.

Sydney Schembri glanced a shot off the post to start the second half and Kelsey Estes' straight-on free kick from the top circle rang off the crossbar with 31:15 left.

"That's the best offensive output

GIRLS TENNIS

Mustangs capture Eisenhower Quad crown

Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Defending MHSAA Division 1 girls tennis state champion and top-ranked Northville passed its first big test of the season by edging No. 3 Midland Dow, 17-16, at the Utica Eisenhower Quad.

The Mustangs, who won one singles flight and two doubles flights, also placed ahead of No. 2 Bloomfield Hills and the host Eagles.

"What made this competition so important was to test out all the new players that were added to the roster, replacing all those senior state champions from last year," Northville coach Linda Jones said. "Overall, most of those freshmen filled those positions very well, helping to edge the team into the victory lane at the end of the day. We look forward to meeting Midland again in the (Ann Arbor) Huron and Holly invitationals later in the season."

At No. 2 singles, Northville's Shanoli Kumar went 3-0 on the day, defeating Haley Washington (Bloomfield Hills), 6-0, 6-1, and Taylor McLaughlin (Eisenhower), 6-2, 6-2, along with a walk-over against Dow.

The Mustangs also received runner-up finishes in singles from Joanne Gao (No. 3) and Renee Torres (No. 4).

Gao defeated Eisenhower's Suzanna Lutrzykowska, 6-0, 6-1, and Bloomfield Hills' Alexa Bernard, 6-0, 6-0, before losing to Dow freshman Sarah Ismail, 6-0, 6-4.

Torres lost to Dow's Hadley Camp, 6-2, 6-1, while defeating Rama Alkhim (Bloomfield Hills), 6-0, 6-2, and Isadora Dimovski (Eisenhower), 6-4, 6-0.

Northville's top singles player, Emma Worley, faced three challenging opponents and fell in all three of matches, including a 6-1, 6-1 setback to last year's state runner-up Ava Thielman of Eisenhower. Worley fell 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, to Dow's Jessica Brown and 6-1, 6-2 to Bloomfield Hills' Tia Mukherjee.

The Northville girls tennis team captured the Utica Eisenhower quad tournament.

LINDA JONES

In doubles, Northville's Reeshma Kumar and Molly Bis (No. 2) took gold with wins over Madison Zettler and Kyle Henson (Eisenhower), 6-0, 6-0; Kelly Livingston and Claire Butcher (Dow), 6-2, 6-3; and Lauren Walkon and Kristine Wang (Bloomfield Hills), 6-2, 6-0.

The Mustangs' No. 3 team of Neha Chava and Sophie Zhuang also swept all three matches en route to gold, defeating Lauren Ruby and Alandria Bellamey (Bloomfield Hills), 6-0, 6-0; Delaney Devereu and Brooke Coleman (Eisenhower), 6-0, 6-0; and Mina Fabiano and Reema Patel (Dow), 6-2, 7-5.

Northville's No. 1 doubles team of Serena Wang and Maya Mulchandani placed second, falling to last year's state runner-up from Dow, Kamryn Matthews and Afua Ofori-Darko, 6-1, 6-0, before defeating Bloomfield Hills' Casey Novak and Morgan Beleck, 6-0, 6-0 and Eisenhower's Julia Georges and Karolina Lutrzykowska, 6-3, 6-2.

At No. 4 doubles, Northville's Brittany Macaddino and Alex Petiz fell to Bloomfield Hills' Taylor Rousseau and Leah Daniels in three sets, 7-5, 6-7 (4-7), 6-3, before beating Dow's Christina Vanderkelen and Meghan Killmaster (6-3, 6-2) and Eisenhower's Katie Gialloreta and Samantha Souder (6-0, 6-0).

Novi takes third

On Saturday, Ann Arbor Huron and host Ann Arbor Pioneer finished first and second with 18 and 17 points, respectively, in a quad tournament.

Novi was a distant third with eight points, while Clarkston took fourth with five.

Northville's No. 3 doubles team of senior Morgan Krupic and junior Alexis Malecki was the only flight to win two matches, defeating teams from Huron, 6-1, 6-0, and Clarkston, 6-4, 6-0, before losing to Pioneer in two close sets, 7-6 (7-5), 6-4.

Going 1-2 on the day in singles for the Wildcats were Allison Lollo (No. 1), Jessica Lypka (No. 3) and Katie Xie (No. 4). Freshman Jamie Fu (No. 4) went 0-3.

Meanwhile, seniors Youna Lee and Carolyn Zhang (No. 1) finished 1-2, as did seniors Katie Telder and Katie Valade (No. 4).

At No. 2 doubles, freshman Michelle Wang and sophomore Brittany O'Connell split a pair of matches, while the team of Wang and sophomore Alexis Felcher went 0-1.

BOYS GOLF TEAM CAPSULES

DETROIT CC
Home course: Cattaills.
League: Catholic League (Central Division).
Last year's finish: First, MHSAA Division 1 state finals; second, Division 1 district, Catholic League; third, Division 1 regional.
Notable losses to graduation: Glenn Piot (first team All-Area), Will Coffman (first team All-Area).
Leading returns: Ben Smith, Jr., (All-Area Player of Year); James Piot, Jr. (first team All-Area); Max Palmer, Sr. (second team All-Area); Sean Niles, Jr.; Sean Sooch, Jr.; Josh Stein, Sr.
Promising newcomers: Dyllan Skinner, Jr.; Sam Holland, Jr.; Nick Liberati, Jr.
Anderson's outlook: "Niles has got a lot of talent. He will have a really good year and will do great things with golf. I anticipate Sooch having a good season. He works hard, has good work ethic. Stein has had a good start to the season and signed with Lawrence Tech."

NORTHVILLE
Head coach: Chris Cronin, first year.
Home course: Tanglewood.
League: KLAAs Kensington Conference (Central Division).
Last year's finish: Tied for first, KLAAs Central; second, Division 1 regional; fourth, KLAAs Association and Kensington Conference; fifth, Division district; 11th, Division 1 finals.
Notable losses to graduation: Akhil Alluri (second team All-Area); Jacob Pierce.
Leading returns: Jimmy Dales, Soph. (first team All-Area); Abhi Alluri, Soph. (second team All-Area); Aaron Youmans, Jr.; Daniel McKee, Jr.; Saahithi Mummadi, Soph.
Promising newcomers: Jack Antilla, Fr.; Ryan Gallagher, Fr.; Max Vereb-Hatley, Soph.
Cronin's outlook: "The 2015 campaign saw the team take huge strides - winning a KLAAs Central Division title, earning runner-up honors at the regional and placing 11th at the MHSAA championship. Our mission is simple: It's time to take the next step. Now that I've seen this group on the course for a couple of weeks, I feel that next step is a top five finish at the The Meadows (Grand Valley State) in June (Division 1 state finals)."

Head coach: Jason Delo, first year.
Home course: Cattaills.
League: KLAAs Kensington Conference (Central Division).
Last year's finish: Tied for first, KLAAs Central; second, Kensington Conference; fourth, Division 1 regional; fifth, Division 1 district; sixth, KLAAs Association.
Notable losses to graduation: Bryan Fegert (first team All-Area); Erik Czekaj (second team

All-Area); Billy Ulle.
Leading returns: Mike Ulle, Jr. (second team All-Area); Ryan Welch, Jr.; Ryan Havens, Sr.
Promising newcomers: Keane Dolin, Fr.; Niko Hatz, Fr.; Aakash Jajoo, Fr.; Ryan Pinho, Fr.
Delo's outlook: "We have a strong group of underclassmen that will have to learn on the fly as we lost the experienced core of our team to graduation. Fortunately, our returning players spent much of the off-season playing and preparing to make a successful 2016 season. Our junior class will form the core of our scoring. Coupled with our senior leadership, I believe we will have a chance at making the MHSAA state finals."

GOLF

and Piot (75-75—150) tied for eighth.

"Both are top 50 guys in the United States as amateurs for their age and they're exceptionally gifted," Anderson said of Smith and Piot. "Both he and James are the real deal. They both play at a very high level, so it will be exciting to watch how the year goes for them. Ben has gotten stronger, he's gotten bigger, he's hitting the ball further, but he's got a great short game."

"Max has worked really hard in the off-season this year. He's certainly in the best condition he's ever been in. He's worked hard with the swing coach. He's made some good, fundamental changes.

And he has really high expectations of himself. He's going to be a solid three-and-four guy all year along for us. He had a good end-of-the-year last year. I think he's really going to have a good senior year."

Also showing early promise is junior Sean Niles, who earned medalist honors last Friday with 67 at the Southern Swing Day 1 Invitational in Springfield, Ohio, along with senior Josh Stein, who has signed with Lawrence Tech.

Anderson, who played golf at Michigan State, is assisted by Rick Williams, a former All-America golfer at South Carolina. They are joined by Jim Dewling, who is new to the staff and also played at MSU.

"Jim has just been an incredible addition to the program," Anderson said. "He's done a great job with the boys. We have an experienced coaching group. They continue to bring out the best in the boys."

Mustangs ready

Northville reached last year's MHSAA Division 1 state finals, winding up 11th after finishing runner-up at the regional.

Chris Cronin, who guided the Mustang boys cross country team last fall to a runner-up finish in Division 1, takes over as head coach for Jeff Balagna.

Sophomore Jimmy Dales, who took 10th in the Division 1 finals with 77-74—151, will lead the Mustangs once again. The first team All-Area pick averaged 77.2 per 18 holes last season.

Also returning is fellow sophomore Abhi Alluri, a second team All-Area pick who averaged 79 per 18 and placed eighth at the regional.

member of last year's state finals squad, also returns as the Mustangs try to improve upon last year's fourth-place finish in the Kensington Conference and KLAAs Association tournaments.

"This is a deep team, with as many as nine players - maybe more - who will figure into our varsity scoring this season," Cronin said. "My role this season will be to get the boys to compete from the beginning to end of each round. While we are a talented team, golf can be a fickle game. Therefore, focusing on the little things will be a big key to our success this season."

Novi eyes states

Former Livonia Stevenson boys and girls coach Jason Delo takes over at Novi, with juniors Ryan Welch and Mike Ulle leading the way.

Ulle, who averaged 78.5 per 18 holes, was 10th in the KLAAs Association and Kensington Conference pre-tournament (77 each), along with 11th at the district. Welch averaged 78.5 per 18 holes, which included fourth at the Kensington Conference pre-tournament (78) and 13th at the Division 1 regional (78).

Both earned second team All-Area honors last season. Ryan Havens, a senior, will also provide experience for the Wildcats, who gained a share of last year's KLAAs Central Division title.

"Our junior class will form the core of our scoring," Delo said. "Coupled with our senior leadership, I believe we will have a chance at making the MHSAA state finals."

BOYS TRACK ROUNDUP

Northville takes care of business against Stevenson

Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Sprinter Adam Ghabra figured in four first-place finishes as Northville opened its boys track and field season April 12 with a 77-60 KLA Central Division victory at Livonia Stevenson.

"It was an exciting way to begin our divisional season," Northville coach Brandon Langston said. "The meet was decided in the final two races. And now the team understands why every race is important, because the earlier races are the ones that put us in the position to win while the final ones seal it."

Ghabra, a senior, took first in the 100- and 200-meter dashes with times of 11.2 and 22.77, respectively. He also teamed with A.J. Abbott, Antonio Washington and Giuliano Daniel to win the 400 relay (45.18) and 800 relay (1:35.5).

Max DeDonna was first in the shot put (44-8.75) and discus (112-0), while other individual winners for the Mustangs were John Hamilton, high jump (6-2); Abbott, long jump (21-2); Kenny Goolsby, 1,600 (4:34.8); and Conor Naughton, 3,200 (10:01.41).

Northville's other victory came in the 1,600 relay as Daniel, Thomas Smither, Robbie Kuphal and Goolsby were clocked in 4:15.33.

"We had some individuals who continued their dominance from last year, like it was straight business," Langston said. "Those kids know what it takes each week to compete at a high level and they continue to set a great example for their teammates. I look forward to seeing how everyone begins to challenge and push each other to work harder as the season progresses."

Second Sole Meet

On Saturday, Northville finished ninth out of a field of 20 teams in the Second Sole Eagle Elite meet held at Canton (Ohio) GlenOak.

Cleveland St. Ignatius captured the team title with 95.5 points, with host GlenOak and Canton McKinley taking second and third, respectively, with 74.5 and 58.

Northville's top individual finisher was John Hamilton, who placed third in the high jump (6-0).

Other point scorers for the Mustangs were Adam Ghabra, fifth, 100 dash (11.27) and 200 (22.6); Max DeDonna, sixth, shot put (46.05); Ben Cracraft, seventh, 3,200 (9:59.03); and Conor Naughton, eighth, 1,600 (4:35.7).

Northville's 3,200 relay team of Thomas Smither, Naughton, Cracraft and Kenny Goolsby placed fourth (8:17.43), while the foursome of Smither, Robbie Kuphal, Giuliano Daniel and Ghabra placed seventh in the 1,600 relay (3:31.2).

"It was a great trip down to Ohio to face some of their state's best competition," Langston said. "It's never too early to test yourself against the best if you want to be the best. Our guys got to go out and represent not only Northville, but the state of Michigan. They prepared well and it showed in the results. We know we're far from arriving anywhere, though. We're going to keep working harder each day to get better and better."

PREP TRACK AND FIELD

Wildcats girls right there, but Pinckney rules Trojan Relays

Brad Emons
Staff Writer

The Novi girls track and field team came up four points shy Friday in its title quest at the Trojan Relays hosted by Whitmore Lake.

Pinckney captured the team title with 78.97 points, while Chelsea and Novi finished a close second and third, respectively, with 76.95 and 74.97. South Lyon was fourth in the eight-school field with 65.97.

Novi's 800-meter relay team of Kayla Savage, Chelsea Collier, Karenna Roest and Alexandra Pringle took first in 1:51.4, while the shuttle hurdle quartet of Hannah Hood-Blaxill, Pringle, Sydney Hinojosa and Roest also won in 1:08.90.

Novi's Hannah McBride (34 feet, 0.35 inches) and Emma Hammelef (33-1) finished first and second while teaming with Marissa Dunn (29-10) for a victory in the shot put relay.

The Wildcats also took first in the discus relay, paced by top two finishers Hammelef (100-11) and Dunn (100-9), along with McBride.

Hood-Blaxill added a victory in the high jump (5-2), while Kate Prissy finished third (4-8).

Prissy (15-2) led the Wildcats to a first in the long jump relay, teaming with Lauren Miesowicz and Pringle.

In the sprint medley relay, Novi's Kayla Savage, Hammelef, Hood-Blaxill and Pringle finished second (3:23.0), while Miesowicz, Roest, Pearl Kurian and Ireland placed third in the 1,600 relay (4:32.3).

Novi's John Stefan was a member of the first-place shuttle hurdle relay team at the Trojan Relays.

Novi boys third

The Novi boys, coming off a 70-67 dual meet win April 12 over South Lyon, scored in 14 of the 15 events and took home 10 medals to place third in Friday's Trojan Relays with 78.95 points.

Pinckney and Chelsea finished first and second with 93.97 and 84.96, respectively, while South Lyon was fourth in the eight-team field with 61.96.

Scott Sawyer jumped a meet best 6-6 in the high jump while teaming with Marcus Antolec and Brendan Ireland for victory in the high jump relay.

Sawyer also teamed with Hunter Joy, John Stefan and Brendan Bloom for a victory in the shuttle hurdle relay (1:06.3).

Joseph Hwang posted a personal best 18-8 to help teammates Nathan Hankerson and Ireland placed second in the long jump relay.

Meanwhile, senior Joost Plaetinck ran a 4:24 anchor split in the 1,600 as the Wildcats took second in the distance medley relay with Scott MacPherson, Adam Ditri and Joy for a time of 10:42.1.

Northville's 1,600 relay team of Evan Barthlow, MacPherson, Plaetinck and Josh Holcomb finished runner-up (3:33.2).

The Wildcats' 3,200 relay team of Aric Landy, John Landy, Blake Maday and Gabriel Mudel was third (8:46.3), while the 6,400 relay foursome of John Mullins, Alex Schafer, Chris Silva and Nathaniel Wood also placed third (18:53.3).

Northville used a 43-11 point advantage in the sprint and distance events to post an 81-56 girls track and field dual meet triumph April 12 over host Livonia Stevenson in the KLA Central Division opener for both teams.

The Mustangs swept the first three places in the 400-, 800- and 1,600-meter events to rack up 24 points and secure the victory.

Senior sprinter Chloe Abbott captured the 200 and 400 dashes with times of 25.46 and 57.87, respectively. Abbott, headed to Purdue University, also teamed with Yasmine Affes, Mary Catherine McLaughlin and Lindsay Walters for first in the 800 relay

(1:47.99). Other first-place finishers for the Mustangs included Jessica Hogan, high jump (4 feet, 8 inches); Emily Anderson, long jump (14-11); Erin McCallum, 100 (13.44); Ana Barrott, 1,600 (5:19.78); and Olivia Harp, 3,200 (11:53.78).

The foursome of McCallum, Anderson, Lauren Lambert and Savannah Manley won the 400 relay (53.57), while Claire Wan, Manley, Affes and Walters captured the 1,600 relay (4:15.33).

"Overall on the girls side, I was pleased with the effort," Northville coach Tim Dalton said. "It was our first dual meet having the whole team compete. Our kids understand the process. They need to come to practice each day looking to get better as we finish out April and move into May. I was really impressed with the leadership and maturity of our upperclassmen. This is a special group."

Novi takes both games against South Lyon East

Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Novi took advantage of 11 South Lyon East errors April 13 en route to a KLAA Central Division baseball doubleheader sweep.

The visiting Wildcats took the opener in five innings, 12-0, as winning pitcher Alec Bageris scattered five hits, walked one and struck out three.

Scott Beaton led the way offensively, going 3-for-4 with three runs for Novi, which improved to 7-2 overall and 3-0 in the Central.

Jac Colliau also went 2-for-2 with a pair of walks, two RBIs and two runs. Mike Hrit also knocked in two runs.

East starter Bryan Walker took the loss as the Cougars committed five errors.

After dropping three straight, Novi bounced back Monday at home with a 5-2 KLAA Kensington Conference crossover baseball win over Plymouth.

Winning pitcher Alec Bageris went six strong innings, allowing just two earned runs on four hits and two walks. He struck out four before giving way in the seventh to reliever Scott Beaton, who gave up one run on three hits for the save.

Offensively, Beaton went 2-for-3 with two RBIs, while Joey Carn went 2-for-4 with an RBI and two runs scored. Spencer VanKirk also went 2-for-4 with an RBI and run, while Jack Reilly pitched in a sacrifice fly.

Novi improved to 8-5 overall and 4-1 in the KLAA's Central Division.

Losing pitcher Kyle Walter gave up four earned runs on six hits in four innings as Plymouth slipped to 6-4 overall and 4-1 in the KLAA South.

On Saturday, defending MHSAA Division 1 state champion Hartland (4-3) swept a twinbill from host Novi, 8-2 and 5-4, as Bageris hit a two-run homer in the nightcap.

On Friday, host Canton (7-2, 3-1) edged the visiting Wildcats, 3-2, in eight innings as Novi starter Jac Colliau took the loss despite giving up only one earned run in 7 1/3 innings without a walk. The Chiefs scored a pair of unearned runs in the fourth inning.

CANTON 4, NORTHVILLE 2: On Monday, the host Chiefs (9-2, 4-1 KLAA South) overcame a 2-0 first-inning deficit with three runs in the third inning and went on to beat the Mustangs (4-2, 2-2 KLAA Central) in a Kensington Conference crossover.

Winning pitcher Mitchell Zelenak went six innings and allowed just three hits to pick up the victory, while Northville's Connor Ziparo took the loss.

Justin Mattson had three hits, while Justin Dolney added two hits and two RBIs for Canton. Aram Shahrigian had an RBI for the Mustangs.

"Give Canton credit," Northville coach John Kostrzewa said. "They played very well and deserved to win. We struggled offensively and on the mound. We made some real good plays defensively, with Andrew Blazo and Michael Lianas both throwing guys out at the plate, but we couldn't get the big hit when we had chances and Canton put together a real good third inning offensively that made the difference."

On Friday, Northville cruised to a 30-0 Kensington crossover win at Wayne Memorial.

NORTHVILLE 10, DETROIT WESTERN 0: Pitcher Andrew Blazo proved to be a capable stand-in as he tossed a one-hitter, while Aram Shahrigian went 2-for-2 with two RBIs as the host Mustangs (3-1) cruised to a five-inning mercy rule victory April 14 over Detroit Western International.

Blazo struck out six and walked four to earn the victory, while also getting plenty of support from the Northville offense, which exploded for eight runs in the fourth inning to put the game out of reach.

Also contributing to Northville's eight-hit attack were Zach Prystash (2-for-3, two RBIs); Billy Flohr (2-for-3, RBI); Mike Lianas (two RBIs); Chris Dunn (RBI) and Jack Sargent (RBI).

Nate Wixon also scored twice for the Mustangs. "We swung the bat much better today after struggling offensively yesterday," Northville coach John Kostrzewa said. "Andrew Blazo did a great job, tossing a one-hitter on short notice. David Dillon was scheduled to start, but after warming up, he was having discomfort in his lower back and Andrew stepped in and did an outstanding job, considering he had very little time to get prepared."

NORTHVILLE 2-2, SALEM 1-3: The host Mustangs (2-1, 2-1) and the Rocks (3-1, 2-1) split a KLAA Central Division doubleheader April 13.

Northville captured the opener, 2-1, as winning pitcher Chris Dunn threw seven complete innings, allowing just two hits and a walk while striking out nine.

Meanwhile, losing pitcher Matt Brooks gave up just two hits in six innings. He struck out 10 and walked four.

Nate Wixon drove in both Northville runs with a single and sacrifice fly, while Jacob Seipenko doubled in a run in the opening inning for the Rocks.

In the nightcap, Seipenko threw a complete game four-hitter as he fanned five, while Alex Nicholson went 2-for-4 with an RBI to spark the Rocks' offense.

Northville starter Zach Prystash, who took the loss, went the first six innings before giving way to Connor Ziparo.

Kevin Morrissey and Wixon both had an RBI for the Mustangs, who wound up with three errors.

"Tough couple games versus Salem," Northville coach John Kostrzewa said. "Both teams pitched well. We did just enough in the first game behind Chris Dunn. Both pitchers pitched very well."

"In the second game, we committed a few fundamental offensive and defensive mistakes that ultimately cost us. Another pitchers' duel as once again both teams pitched well. But we could not overcome our mistakes and Salem took advantage of them."

ST. MARY'S 4, DETROIT CC 1: Host Orchard Lake St. Mary's (4-2, 1-0) took the first game of the scheduled doubleheader April 13 against Novi Detroit Catholic Central (2-1, 0-1) before the nightcap was suspended after seven innings. The Eagles won the opener, 4-1, but the second game was called due to darkness with the score tied at 2-2. That game will be continued in the eighth inning Saturday, April 30, when St. Mary's visits the Shamrocks.

CC starter Grant Hartwig went all seven innings and allowed no earned runs while clubbing a two-run homer in Game 2.

In the first game, Sean Garcia pitched a strong 5 1/3 innings, but suffered the loss.

Drew Billins scored four goals Monday, lifting Brighton to a 10-9 boys lacrosse triumph over host Northville at Tom Holzer Field.

The Mustangs, who slipped to 3-2 overall, got two goals and one assist each from Connor Sweeney and Brendan Hicks, while Ty Killar also scored twice.

Brennan Sweeney had five assists, while Anthony Salamone also drew an assist.

Defensively, Jeff Varner made eight saves and Abe Khoury finished with four ground balls.

Brighton improved to 5-1 overall.

CLARKSTON 13, NORTHVILLE 12: The Wolves (5-0) stayed unbeaten Saturday with a non-conference victory over the host Mustangs (3-2) at Tom Holzer Field.

Brennan Sweeney paced Northville with two goals and five assists, while Connor Sweeney contributed three goals and one assist.

Josh Bentley also scored twice, while Anthony Salamone, Connor Wright, Brendan Hicks, Zach Tardich and Harry Dyson each scored once.

Northville goalie Jeff Varner made 11 saves. "He kept us in the game," Northville coach Greg Durham said of his goalie. "Eight of our 11 man-up situations we scored goals, whereas the previous game (10-1 loss to Hartland) we were 1-for-15. We played much better than the last game and Clarkston is a good team."

DETROIT CC 19, ZIONSVILLE (IND.) 9: Cole Gingell paced the offensive attack Saturday with six goals and two assists as host Novi Detroit Catholic Central (5-2) pulled away in the second half to beat the Eagles (7-2) in a non-league encounter.

"We had never seen Zionville before and did not know what to expect," said CC coach Dave Wilson, whose team led 9-5 at the half.

Pete Thompson chipped in five goals and two assists, while Nicholas Capatina added a goal and three assists. Collin Burgin also scored twice. HARTLAND 10, NORTHVILLE 1: The Mustangs (3-1) got stuck in neutral offensively April 13 and fell to the host Eagles (2-0).

"We got dominated in every facet of the game," Northville coach Greg Durham said. "Hartland played awesome. They won every ground ball and took the ball away from us at will. It was a big wake-up call. We did not come to play."

The Mustangs had won their first three games by an aggregate total of 50-15, but against the Eagles only Connor Sweeney was able to score, off an assist from Brennan Sweeney.

Despite the loss, Northville goalie Jeff Varner stood out with 16 saves.

"He was outstanding," Durham said. "Our defense, I thought, played well, but offensively, we just couldn't get anything going."

BRIGHTON 12, NOVI 7: A second-half rally fell short April 13 as the visiting Wildcats (0-3) fell to the Bulldogs (4-0).

Griffin and Chase Sparling both had two goals and one assist in a losing cause. Ian Patterson also scored twice, while Anthony Zugaro had the other Novi goal. Matt Kigar and Landon Green also added assists, while goalie Peter Miner made five saves.

"I was proud of our team for the fight they showed in the second half," first-year Novi coach Chris

GIRLS LACROSSE

Northville prevails in dramatic fashion vs. Hartland, 7-6

The rematch goes to Northville.

Freshman Kendall Wasik scored the game-winning goal with only nine seconds remaining April 13 as the host Mustangs avenged last year's KLAA Association title game setback with a 7-6 win over Hartland at Tom Holzer Field.

With 20 seconds to play, Hartland had the ball just outside the Northville zone, but junior Ally Blough came up with a key check to take the ball away from a Hartland attacker.

Wasik picked it up and raced 50 yards, taking on three Hartland defenders and firing a shot above the right shoulder of the Hartland goalie.

The teams then tied up each other on the draw and the clock ran out for the one-goal win for the Mustangs, who fell 13-8 to the Eagles in last year's KLAA final.

"I'm incredibly proud of how hard our girls worked and how driven they were to pull out a victory when Hartland had the momentum," Northville coach Amanda Asher said. "At the end of the game, it was a great hustle play by Ally to knock the ball away and Kendall never panicked, which is Chase).

Hartland got a goal from Hana Barnett, but Chase answered right before the half to make it a 4-2 lead for the Mustangs at intermission.

Northville controlled play to start the second half and junior Emma Dietrich scored twice to give Northville a 6-2 advantage, the second goal coming with 12:30 remaining in the match.

Hartland then went on a 4-0 run, getting goals from Cassie Pankoski, Shelby Oliverio, Emily Beazley and Ashton Refsell (with 1:35 to go) to pull even at 6-6.

Hartland then won possession on the draw and got pair of scoring chances, only to have junior goalie Maddie Caffee make a pivotal save, one of her 10 on the night, to keep the match tied with 45 seconds left.

"Charlotte Beaudoin, Emma Dietrich and Sarah Chase gave great effort all game in the midfield," Asher said. "Hartland is very well-coached and always has a great team. We played a very good Grosse Pointe South team last game (7-6 loss) and I think that had us prepared for the skill level we faced tonight. We just made one more play in this game and I'm happy that our girls' hard work paid off."

so impressive for a freshman in her fourth high school game."

Northville jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first two minutes on goals by sophomore Charlotte Beaudoin and freshman Jessica Tardich (from Wasik).

Hartland picked up a goal from Cassie Pankoski with 12 minutes remaining, but Northville answered 30 seconds later on a goal by senior Erin Scott (assisted by junior Sarah

Northville falls to Canton, 9-2; Plymouth takes down Wildcats in Central clash

Brad Emons
Staff Writer

The Northville softball team stands 5-4 overall on the season after dropping a Kensington Conference crossover game to visiting Canton, 9-2.

Northville's Brianna Nayh went 3-for-3, including a double with an RBI single, while Abby Tolstyka also had an RBI single in the sixth inning as Alexis Koehler and Sarah Hige each scored a run.

Losing pitcher Allison Zwarcka went all seven innings, allowing nine runs. She walked two and struck out five as the Mustangs fell to 3-2 in the KLAA Central Division.

Canton improved to 4-0 in the KLAA South Division. In Saturday's Farmington Hills Invitational, the Mustangs went 2-2 on the day, defeating Dearborn Divine Child, 12-1, and Livonia Stevenson, 7-2, while losing two to the host Marlins, 9-2 and 4-3 (final).

Sara Moos and Alexis Koehler had RBI singles in the fifth inning to tie the final game at 3-3. Zwarcka took the loss.

On Friday, Northville posted a 16-0 mercy rule victory at Wayne Memorial.

PLYMOUTH 12, NOVI 2: In a game that lasted six innings, host Novi (2-4, 0-3 KLAA Central) fell to Plymouth (4-2, 3-1 KLAA South) in a Kensington Conference crossover.

Jaime Gustitus, Ashley Yarbbery, Maddy Brandenstein, Sophie Rallis and Hope Kapelanski all collected hits for Novi.

On Saturday, host Novi played a doubleheader with Beverly Hills Detroit Country Day, winning the first game, 10-0, before losing the second, 10-4.

SALEM 7-5, NORTHVILLE 6-14: After losing the first game of its home opener Wednesday against the Rocks (2-1, 2-1), the Mustangs (2-1, 2-1) salvaged a split by bouncing back to earn a KLAA Central Division win in the nightcap.

Northville (2-1, 2-1) scored nine runs in the first three innings to put the game away early as Sara Moos had a two-run single after Megan Hartchik's single started the uprising.

Brianna Nayh finished with three hits, including a pair of doubles with an RBI. Other RBIs went to Megan Swart, Abby Tolstyka, Makenzie Kamm, Allison Zwarcka and winning pitcher Sarah Hige, who struck out seven and allowed just one hit.

In the nightcap, Swartz knocked in a pair of runs, including a game-tying homer in the sixth inning, while Moos added a two-run single in the first to go along with an RBI double.

Zwarcka, the losing pitcher, walked only one and struck out eight.

ALL-AREA BOYS BOWLING

Lakeland's Brusseau soared during senior season

Brad Emons
Staff Writer

White Lake Lakeland's Drake Brusseau was the team's undisputed go-to bowler this season as senior.

The four-year varsity starter, named All-Area Boys Bowler of the Year, ranked 10th in the KLAA overall with a 202.29 average, highlighted by a high two-game series of 537 to go along with high games of 279, 258 and 237.

Brusseau just missed out on qualifying for the MHSAA Division I state finals by eight pins, finishing 13th overall in the regional with a six-game set of 1,137.

"Drake is a very solid left-handed bowler," Lakeland coach Ron Pelc said. "He was not blessed with a lot of support from teammates around him the last couple of years and he had to kind of try and do things by himself and put a lot of extra pressure on himself. But Drake is a great bowler."

According to Pelc, Brusseau plans to attend Madonna University, where he will possibly continue his bowling career.

"Ryan was captain and team leader on the young team," South Lyon coach Fred Ringrose said. "And since getting a new ball, he really took off with his confidence and averaged over 200 while taking the team under his wing. He was just shy of making states as an individual, as well as team."

Andrew Lack, Soph., Detroit CC: While moving from the first position to anchor, Lack carried an impressive 189 average, including a high three-game series of 647 and a 247 high game, while earning all-Catholic honors.

"He showed promise through the entirety of the season, so we're looking forward to him being a central part to our team the next two years," CC assistant coach Matt Nugent said. "He's a very good talent, a talented individual to have the mindset of a leader that we look for in our team."

Stoshu Kowalski, Sr., South Lyon East: He averaged 190 for the season, 48th overall in the KLAA, and 169.71 for tournaments.

"Stoshu is a pretty tough competitor when the lane conditions are right," East coach Gerald Raymor said. "He can put up some scores."

Scott Pryson, Soph., Novi: He just missed qualifying for the state finals after placing 11th at the Division 1 regional with a six-game total of 1,172.

Pryson averaged 195.3 in the KLAA, including a high two-game series of 479 and a high game of 249.

"Scott was our leader and anchor bowler, who came on strong at end of the season averaging 203 over his last 12 games," Novi coach John Osborn said.

Adam Smith, Sr., South Lyon East: He averaged 183.83 in the KLAA and 190.79 in tournaments, highlighted by a 256 game and a 640 two-game set.

"Adam is pretty consistent and quietly improved throughout the year," Raymor said. "We had him all four years and he kept improving every year."

Brian Hohentanner, Sr., Detroit CC: He earned a spot in the Division 1 individual state finals after a ninth-place finish at the regional with a six-game set of 1,202.

Hohentanner, an all-league selection, averaged 185 for the season, including a three-game high series of 625 and a 269 high game.

"Brian in key situations was our go-to guy," Nugent said. "He made major strides throughout the season and was consistent and he stayed tough throughout the entire season. We appreciated his four years for the program."

Lakeland's Miner strikes it big

Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Danielle Miner proved to be a major factor during her four-year bowling career at White Lake Lakeland High School.

The senior, a four-year varsity member, was the area's most consistent performer as she ranked second overall in the tough Kensington Lakes Activities Association with a 197.87 average.

"She picked up a new piece of equipment this year and it seemed to match her game really well," Lakeland coach Ron Pelc said. "She started to throw a lot of strikes and worked hard on her spares and really improved her game over last season."

Miner, who led the Eagles to a 14-1 record along with KLAA North Division and KLAA Association titles, just missed out qualifying for the MHSAA Division 1 state finals by four pins with an 11th-place finish at the regional held at 300 Bowl in Waterford.

Named All-Area Girls Bowler of the Year, Miner's season was highlighted by a 479 two-game series to go along with a high game of 268.

Miner also posted a 679 three-game set at the Richard Hochstein Memorial Scholarship Invitational.

"It was by far my best season. I improved my average more than what I ever imagined," said Miner, who works in her spare time at Century Bowl. "My team this season was the best I've had in my four years there. We just had a great season. We all got along really well and we picked each other up when we were down. It was really easy to bowl with them."

Miner, an accomplished student with a 3.95 GPA, attends the International Academy at Lakeland. She plans to attend Michigan State University's Lyman Briggs School and study genetics.

First team

Mikayla Lancioni, Jr., South Lyon East: The two-time state qualifier, she reached the match play round of 16 at the Division 2 state finals before losing to eventual state champion and top seed Hannah Ploof of Flint Kearsley, 383-353.

Lancioni was regional champion with a six-game total of 1,217 and ranked fourth in the KLAA with a 194.17 average. She had a high game of 254 and a 441 high series.

"She's pretty consistent, a very strong competitor and I don't want to bowl against her," East coach Gerald Raymor said. "She had a chance to knock off the state champion. She had a nice lead on her, made a critical error and lost it."

Jenny Pelc, Soph., Lakeland: She ranked ninth in the KLAA with a 185.33 average, including a high game of 229

Alissa Schemers, Jr., Lakeland: She ranked 23rd overall in the KLAA with a 169.37 average, including a high game of 229 and high series of 412.

"She was a great lead-off bowler, very consistent, not real flashy, but you could always count on her to keep her ball in play and start our lineup out with some sort of mark and get the rest of the team going," Pelc said.

Alex Lenz, Jr., Lakeland: She ranked 35th overall in the KLAA with a 163.5 average, including a high game of 236.

"This was her third year and she's coming along, improving steadily each year," Pelc said. "She was known for coming up big in a key spot out of nowhere. She'd put together three or four strikes and solidify our team score."

Cassie Dorony, Sr., South Lyon: The co-captain, a two-time state qualifier, finished fifth at the Division 2 regional with a six-game 176.8 average and took 48th overall in the state finals qualifying block.

Dorony also averaged 163.42 in the KLAA (36th overall).

"She was determined to make it back to states and really came on strong at the end of the season," South Lyon coach Fred Ringrose said.

Beatrice Nayh, Sr., Northville: She was the Mustangs' most consistent scorer this season, ranking 38th overall in the strong KLAA with a 161.17 average.

"She was a team leader, not only statistically, but also leading the team, helping out a lot, helping organize, helping with some of the things I needed help on," Northville coach Jerry Harris said. "She led us in all four categories, including average, high game (225), high (two-game) series (409 and points (10))."

GIRLS SOCCER ROUNDUP

Mustangs romp to first victory vs. Lions, 8-0

Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Junior midfielder Megan Williams scored a pair of goals, including the final one with 4:52 remaining, as host Northville posted an 8-0 mercy rule girls soccer victory over visiting South Lyon.

Kelsey Estes chipped in a goal and three assists for the Mustangs, who improved to 1-3-1 overall and 1-1 in the KLAA Central Division.

Jenna Lauderback, Sydney Schembri, Lauren Sibley, Roan Haines and Kendall Dillon each added a solo goal as the Mustangs jumped out to a 4-0 halftime lead and never looked back.

South Lyon slipped to 2-2-3 overall and 0-1-1 in the KLAA Central.

NOVI 3, W.L. NORTHERN 0: All 20 players saw action as the Wildcats (1-0-1) chalked up their first win of the season April 13 at Walled Lake Northern (3-1-1).
Novi went on the attack right from the opening whistle, while possessing the ball and creating numerous scoring opportunities in the first half. And the hard work finally paid off 25 minutes into the match, when senior Chloe Allen took a pass from fellow senior Jessica Halmaghi and slotted the ball past the diving Warriors goalkeeper for a 1-0 halftime advantage.

Novi continued to control play and play keepaway by taking the first five shots of the second half before sophomore Emmie Takada scored her first career goal.

Takada picked up a loose ball inside the penalty area and slid it past a group of Warriors defenders and into the back of the net for a 2-0 lead.

Less than five minutes later, the Wildcats added their third goal when junior Cara Ninkovich played a perfect ball to a streaking Allen, who took the pass, beat three Western defenders and ripped a shot to the far post.

NORTHVILLE 1, W.L. NORTHERN 1: After dropping their first two matches of the season, the Mustangs (0-2-1) were able to bounce back with a draw April 13 at Walled Lake Northern (3-0-1).

After a scoreless first half, Northern struck first with a well-executed corner kick that deflected off a Mustangs defender with 22:25 remaining.

The high pressure resulted in multiple corner kicks and one of them finally paid off.

Northville sophomore Roan Haines headed home the equalizing goal with 14:09 remaining, when sophomore Kendall Dillon played a corner kick to the near post.

"The offense generated a lot of scoring chances, but we still need to work on finishing," Northville coach Eric Brucker said. "It's still early in the season, but I like the steady improvement we are seeing with this young team."

Senior Emily Boss and freshman Nina Chimienti also stood out for the Mustangs, while sophomore goalie Carlie Castiglione made 12 saves.

"The defense is really starting to pay well together," Brucker said.

NOVI 1, HARTLAND 1: The Wildcats (0-0-1) opened their season April 11 with a draw against the visiting Eagles (2-1-2) at Meadows Stadium.

Even though the Wildcats were coming off of spring break, they went right to work, creating three quality scoring opportunities early in the first half.

The persistence paid off at the 20-minute mark, when senior Chloe Allen scored on a ball played into the box by senior Katrina Koomen.

In the second half, Hartland forward Sakura Bals got a ball behind the Novi defense and hit a perfect shot side-netting to score the equalizer.

Even after giving up the goal, the Wildcats continued to pressure the Hartland defense, creating a few more quality scoring opportunities during the final 15 minutes, but were unable to capitalize on any of them.

Novi had a total of 12 shots on goal, while Wildcats goalkeeper Aastha Dharia finished with five saves.

RIVALS

of zero goals we've had all year," said Northville coach Eric Brucker, whose team has been outscored so far by an aggregate of 7-1. "We're generating opportunities, we're just not finding the back of the net. We got to continue to keep our heads up and continue to keep pushing and, hopefully, we'll start putting some balls in the net."

Brucker, who guided the Mustangs to an undefeated season and an MHSAA Division 1 state championship in 2014, is trying to find some consistency.

"We're just trying to get them to play 80 minutes," he said. "I don't think we've played a complete game yet and this was our fourth game. I thought the first half - even though it was back and forth - from a total team effort, I thought we played well. Definitely started off the second half doing the right stuff, but it's an 80-minute game. We lost our composure there for about 10 minutes and two dead balls cost us the game."

Novi carried the play offensively for the final 30 minutes of the first half, but was unable to score as Akron University signee Chloe Allen was marked tightly throughout.

"The first two games, Chloe was able to run free. We were able to find her," Pheiffer said. "Chloe got a new experience today. She's not used to having someone just following her around on the field, so it kind of changed a little of our game plan. So second half, we talked about it, moved her in different spots and it actually opened up more scoring opportunities for us, because now with Chloe moving toward the outside ... Jessie Halmaghi did a great job up top for us creating opportunities. Got us the free kick."

Meanwhile, the game-winner proved to be a no-doubter.

"I think that ball was in the back of the net before the goalie reacted," Pheiffer said. "(Koomen) brings a lot on the field with her senior leadership."

Novi started its season with a 1-1 draw against Hartland (April 11) followed by a 3-0 win at Walled Lake Northern (April 13).

"The goal is to win your home games and steal one on the road," Pheiffer said of the KLAA Central race. "(Northville) had opportunities to get back in the game and (goalie) Aastha (Dharia) did a great job back there. And our defense did a good job back there - Jacalyn (Schubring) and Lauren Calhoun, who you'd never know she was a freshman back there."

The two teams will meet again Tuesday, May 3, at Northville.

"We get to see them again in a couple of weeks at our own house, so hopefully we can take care of business there," Brucker said. "Yep, it's a loss in our division, but we still have a lot of season to play."

Working at a startup always has ups and downs

BY MARY LORENZ
 CAREERBUILDER

Thanks to the massive success of once-small enterprises such as Facebook, Twitter and Group-on, startup companies are popping up faster than you can say "Silicon Valley," with every entrepreneur hoping to be the next Mark Zuckerberg. With their famously laid-back work cultures and creative employee perks, startups carry a lot of allure for job seekers ready to make their mark.

But working for a startup isn't all on-site massages and Free Beer Fridays. It takes hard work, an all-hands-on-deck attitude and lots of late nights. If you're considering working for a startup, think through the pros and cons first.

PRO: You get to take chances. "Working at a startup can be very exciting," says Michele Mavi, director of recruiting and content development at Atrium Staffing. Not only are you surrounded by bright, passionate people, but you get to try things you may not be able to do in a more established organization. "The feeling of working with a group of people where you're building something out of nothing and creating something of value is really rewarding," Mavi says.

THINKSTOCK

CON: The salary isn't great. Most small businesses that are just starting out don't have the budget to offer a competitive salary and benefits package, according to Carly Fauth, head of marketing for Money Crashers, an online financial guide. To make up for this, however, startups may offer other nonmonetary perks, such as a casual work environment, unlimited vacation, a flexible schedule or the ability to work from home.

PRO: Your work and ideas don't go unnoticed. "What you do has a huge impact on the company," says Oleg Korneitchouk, director of marketing for SmartSites, an online marketing company. At a larger company, your influence is dependent on your title or role, but at a startup, "every person has a high degree of importance and is trusted to make the right decisions for the company," Korneitchouk says.

CON: The hours are long. "If you want to work eight hours and go home and not think about your job, then don't work for a startup," advises Margo Schlossberg, vice president of sales and marketing at Jump! Pass, a membership-based service for local kids' classes. Answering emails until the wee hours of the night is just part of the job, she says. "I consider that part of what I signed up for working for a startup, because it is an 'all hands on deck' operation, and sometimes, that's what needs to happen."

PRO: There's never a dull moment. "Startups move very fast," says Katherine Chalmers, strategic director for Velocity Marketing. "In the early years, your projects are different every day, and your challenges evolve every quarter. It's exhilarating."

CON: There is no stability. "A career in startups is by nature volatile," Chalmers adds. Failure is a big possibility, and even companies that do succeed may see a lot of fluctuation. "If you can't handle uncertainty and volatility, working with startups can be very stressful," she says.

PRO: You are your own boss. For Sarah Dabby, head of talent at San Francisco-based startup ClickTime, one of the perks is the autonomy provided by a flat organizational structure. "The amount of control you have over your career is immense," Dabby says. "You rarely have anyone telling you what to do, and it's up to you to figure out what needs to be done — and how (to do it). That's thrilling if you're proactive, take initiative and love to be hands-on in delivering results."

CON: Chaos is king. On the other hand, Dabby says, "The pace can be frenetic, and with everyone trying to deliver on many projects all at once, it can be difficult to see the forest for the trees." While some people thrive on chaos, those who do not may quickly burn out in a startup environment.

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues provided in the boxes. The more numbers you have, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

VegFest is April 24 at Suburban Collection Showplace

If it's spring, it must be time for the annual vegan food, info and networking extravaganza known as VegFest. Presented by VegMichigan, VegFest is the state's premier celebration of a plant-based lifestyle and takes place Sunday, April 24, at Suburban Collection Showplace in Novi.

Showcasing a vast array of vegan food, exhibitors and activities, VegFest also features notable local and national speakers, including actress Simone Reyes, star of the reality TV show "Running Russell Simmons"; former Pistons and NBA player John Salley, back by popular demand; Dr. Alan Goldhamer, founder of California's innovative True North Health Center; and Nathan Runkle, founder of the international animal advocacy group Mercy for Animals.

"VegFest aims to show how delicious and easy plant-based eating can be, as well as the many ways that choosing to forgo animal products can benefit our lives," said Paul Krause, president of VegMichigan. "It's a compassionate choice, of course — one that naturally appeals to children, but also has far-reaching positive consequences for our health and the planet."

Visitors can sample plant-based cuisine from dozens of local restaurants, bakeries, caterers and national brands; and they can explore the tasty, eco-friendly, cruelty-free and/or healthy products and services of more than 100 exhibitors. Cooking demonstrations, children's activities, cookbooks, literature and more provide plenty of ways to learn about the hows and whys of a plant-based lifestyle. The presentation schedule kicks off at 11:15 a.m. with an introduction to VegMichigan, followed by Goldhamer on "Escaping the Dietary Trap" at 11:30 a.m., Reyes on "Activate to Liberate: The Vegan Revolution" at 12:30 p.m., Salley on "The BETTA Life" at 1:30 p.m. and Nathan Runkle on "The Power of Our Plates: Saving Animals at Every Meal" at 2:30 p.m.

The event runs from 10:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. Suburban Collection Showplace is located at 46100 Grand River Ave. in Novi. Admission is $12 in advance or $15 at the door; free for children under 6 and free for VegMichigan members.

For memberships, discounts and information on sponsorship, exhibiting or volunteering, call 877-778-3464 or go to www.vegmichigan.org.

Northville's Park Place lines up additional tenants

Livonia-based Schostak Bros. & Co. has announced that several new businesses have joined Northville Park Place, a mixed-use development located on the southwest corner of Seven Mile and Haggerty roads in Northville. Schostak executive vice president and COO Warren Strietzel made the announcement.

Trader Joe's is relocating from its current location at Eight Mile and Haggerty Road. Construction of the new store is slated for May, with the new store scheduled to open first quarter 2017. It will be located along Haggerty Road, at the main entrance into Northville Park Place.

DentalWorks will open its newest addition, DentalWorks of Northville, where it will offer state-of-the-art technology in a modern facility, providing dental care in a convenient and caring manner. DentalWorks is located along Seven Mile Road. One Society is a premiere salon specializing in upscale hair services and luxurious spa treatments. One Society is scheduled to open in summer 2016, along Seven Mile Road.

Brain Balance Achievement Centers, opening at Northville Park Place in the fall 2016 along Seven Mile, also has locations in Birmingham and Oxford. It provides new options for children dealing with ADHD, dyslexia, Asperger's and other struggles with behavior, socialization skills and academics.

"Our focus is on continuing to attract a diverse and high-profile mix of tenants to Northville Park Place, further solidifying this one-of-a-kind development's reputation as the preeminent regional shopping destination in southeast Michigan," Strietzel said. "The Haggerty corridor offers optimal visibility and access for our tenants to thrive. We look forward to announcing additional tenants to Northville Park Place in the coming months that will serve our local community for many years to come."

In addition to Trader Joe's, DentalWorks, One Society and Brain Balance Achievement Center, Northville Park Place is home to a number of notable national and local brands, including MOD Pizza, Tom + Chee, Chipotle, Red Olive, SVS Vision Optical Centers, Jimmy John's, Sherwin Williams, Gazelle Sports, Orangetheory Fitness, BurgerFi, Rusty Bucket, Sports Clips and Granite City Food & Brewery.

The development opened in summer 2015 and currently has a number of leases being negotiated. Northville Park Place consists of approximately 500,000 square feet of property dispersed over 80 acres.

Not all financial advisers are equal; find one that meets your needs

A couple of weeks ago, I sat down with a potential new client. The individual had contacted me after attending one of my seminars and wanted me to manage his money. He came into my office and we had a nice conversation about the type of investor he is and his goals and objectives.

After the conversation, much to the shock of the potential client, I told him that our firm was not the right firm for him and that he should consider using a different adviser. Needless to say, the client was somewhat shocked that I would turn down his business. As I explained to him, I didn't want to turn down his business. As a professional, I know it's important to remember not every adviser is good for every individual. I explained to him that the things he wanted to do were not within my expertise and the reason I was referring him to a different firm was because I wanted him to have the best professional advice available. It is important for people to recognize there are different types of financial advisers in the market and it's not one size fits all.

Financial advisers — or, sometimes as they're called, wealth managers — can be categorized in a number of different ways. Because I believe that professionals should be independent and work solely for the client, I believe one of the ways you should categorize an adviser is how they are compensated. Some advisers are compensated by commissions. They receive compensation in a couple different ways. First, by selling you a product. Second, by receiving additional compensation year-by-year through higher fees associated with your product in many of those commission products they provide. My problem with commission salespeople is they have dual loyalties, the client and the company's product they represent.

In addition to the conflict of interest, the problem I have with commission products in general is that it is very difficult to know exactly what you're paying in fees. When they make it difficult to know what you're paying in fees, you know you're paying too much.

The second type of adviser is what is known as a fee-only adviser. A fee-only adviser only receives compensation directly from you. Most fee-only advisers will either work on a set fee or a percent for money under management. These advisers receive no compensation from anyone other than their clients. One of the reasons that I am a fee-only adviser is because I want to eliminate as many conflicts of interest as possible.

The third type of adviser charges fees and at the same time accepts commissions. Sometimes these advisers will offset the commission with the fee, other times they will not. The same objections I have to the commission-only salespeople apply to these types of advisers as well. In addition, I think in many cases these advisers are double dipping on fees.

Another way that you categorize advisers is based upon their expertise. Some advisers will specialize in mutual funds, others in individual stocks. Some advisers will implement more aggressive trading strategies than others.

As far as I'm concerned, in selecting an adviser you not only have to look at how they are compensated, but also what their expertise is. Just like medicine, where doctors can't be a jack of all trades, the same thing applies to financial advisers. The key is just not finding a good adviser; but finding a good adviser for you.

Good luck!

Women to Work program offering assistance for employment searches

Julie Brown
Staff Writer

The Women to Work program of Southfield-based JVS helps women re-enter or enter the workforce.

"This is a program that's intended for women who have not worked substantially recently," said Judy Richmond, JVS Women to Work coordinator. The program, also open to men, is offered free of charge. An informational meeting will be held 9-11 a.m. Tuesday, April 26, at the JVS offices, 29699 Southfield Road. Those who plan to attend should call Richmond at 248-233-4232 to register in advance.

Women to Work offers help with resumes, job interviewing, networking, stress management, social media and job search strategies.

"The program is popular because people find success as a result of attending," Richmond said.

The program's current session is set to begin Tuesday, May 3, at the JVS Southfield office. It will continue to meet two mornings a week from 9 a.m. to noon through Wednesday, June 1.

Realtor: Starter homes getting scarcer in Oakland County

Jay Grossman
Staff Writer

Bring some boxing gloves if you're looking to purchase a house for under $250,000 in Oakland County.

The market is that hot right now.

"There was an open house here in Birmingham and we had a fight over the house," said Dan Elsea with Real Estate One. "We had one guy who barricaded himself in the home and he wouldn't open the door until he was told the seller actually looked at his offer. He spent the night in jail ... and he didn't get the house."

Elsea and Eric Larson of the Larson Realty Group were keynote speakers at the Birmingham Bloomfield Chamber's annual real estate forecast breakfast. Both men predict the real estate market in southeast Michigan will continue to appreciate at a steady clip over the next several years.

Elsea, whose company is the eighth largest broker in the nation, said a majority of homes in the price range of $250,000 to $500,000 are selling within 30 days or less in Oakland County. The market for million-dollar luxury homes has slowed down, with more listings than potential buyers.

Residential properties less than $250,000 are moving faster than lightning because the inventory for starter homes has shrunk dramatically in the past two years.

Elsea expects housing values in southeast Michigan to increase around 15 percent over the next five years. Royal Oak, Berkley and Ferndale are three of the hotter markets right now, mainly because of their appeal to millennials in search of starter homes.

"Royal Oak is clearly outperforming the rest of the market in this area," Elsea said.

Larson, who also serves as CEO of the Downtown Detroit Partnership, believes more cooperation in the region is necessary to help Michigan attract new commercial and industrial opportunities.

"We need to start thinking less about Birmingham and Bloomfield competing against Troy and Southfield ... and more about how we are competing as a region and how are we competing as a state," Larson said.

Larson Realty Group has the redevelopment rights for the old Tiger Stadium property. Outside Detroit, the company has plans for a 24-unit condominium development in Birmingham's Triangle District.

While praising entrepreneurs Mike Ilitch and Dan Gilbert for investing heavily in downtown Detroit and the adjacent Foxtown and Midtown districts, Larson said the challenge in the years ahead will be to rehabilitate the rest of the city.

"You can fit San Francisco, Boston and Manhattan in Detroit," he said at the breakfast. "Those three cities combined have over 11 million people ... Detroit has around 700,000 people."

Right now, about 6,000 people live in the immediate downtown Detroit area. Larson said that equates to about three people per square mile in terms of density. In comparison, the downtown population of other major cities averages about 11 people per square mile.

On the plus side, more than 300 new hotel rooms are being planned in the downtown, along with approximately 715 residential units. There's also the M1 Rail that's expected to come online in 2017, which should help attract new development.

"So the supply is starting to catch up with the demand," Larson said.

The forecast, held Tuesday at the Townsend, is the third and final of an annual series presented by the Birmingham chamber. The other two focus on government and the economy.

"All three of this year's forecast programs featured outstanding speakers who truly are leaders in their industries," chamber president Joe Bauman said. "Each of the programs plays a key role in fulfilling the chamber's mission to serve our six communities as their leading resource for advancing business interests and building relationships."

Assessment: Sometimes you need to stand, fight

Q: I am upset about the tax assessment I received this year from my township and I don't know what the results are going to be, but I did appeal to my local assessor. What do you think I should do with the result?

A: I would have difficulty recommending what specifically you should do other than if you are locked in to an assessment given the facts and circumstances of your case that you think is unreasonable, you need to appeal to the Michigan Tax Tribunal at the least. You don't want to be stuck with an unreasonable assessment which is much greater than the fair market value of your property even the tax assessor argues that he is not looking at your individual property, but a composite of neighboring properties. Obviously, the assessors are out to get as much as they can and at some point you have to stand up and fight.

Q: My neighbor and I have jointly been utilizing a driveway for a number of years and we have always gotten along, but the driveway is on his property. Is it really necessary to have some sort of formal agreement?

A: It certainly is because your neighbor may sell his property or there may be some other untoward event which sours your respective relationship. You should prepare, with the assistance of an attorney, an easement agreement codifying your right to use that portion of the driveway with the requisite contribution by you and your successor which would be equitable. You are just looking for a problem down the road if you don't do something to establish the legal relationship and it probably should be your dime to do so.

Industry report: Vacation home sales drop some, investment buys up

Vacation home sales cooled off in 2015 but remained at the second highest amount in nearly a decade, while investment purchases increased for the first time in five years, according to an annual survey of residential home buyers released today by the National Association of Realtors. Mirroring the strong price growth seen throughout the United States, the median sales price of both vacation and investment homes surged in 2015.

NAR's 2016 Investment and Vacation Home Buyers Survey, covering existing- and new-home transactions in 2015, found that vacation-home sales last year declined to an estimated 920,000, down 18.5 percent from their most recent peak level of 1.13 million in 2014.

Investment-home sales in 2015 jumped 7.0 percent to an estimated 1.09 million from 1.02 million in 2014. Owner-occupied purchases jumped 15.9 percent to 3.74 million last year from 3.23 million in 2014 — the highest level since 2007 (3.93 million). Sales estimates are based on a national online survey including responses from over 2,000 U.S. adults who purchased a residential property in 2015, and exclude institutional investment activity.

Lawrence Yun, NAR chief economist, says vacation sales took a sizable step back in 2015, but still came in at the second highest amount since 2006 (1.07 million). "Baby boomers at or near retirement continue to propel the demand for second homes, although headwinds softened the overall volume of vacation sales last year," he said. "The expanding pool of buyers amidst a dwindling number of bargain-priced properties led to tighter supply and fewer sales and caused the price of vacation homes to rise. Furthermore, the turbulence that hit the financial markets the second half of the year likely seized some would-be buyers' available cash."

The median sales price of both vacation and investment homes soared in 2015. The median vacation home price was $192,000, up 28.0 percent from $150,000 in 2014. The median investment-home sales price was $143,500, up 15.3 percent from $124,500 a year ago.

According to Yun, many of the metro areas with the strongest price appreciation in 2015 were in the South — the most popular destination for vacation buyers — and particularly in several Florida markets. While increased buyer demand contributed to the run-up in prices, it also likely squeezed less affluent households looking to purchase vacation properties.

Vacation-home sales accounted for 16 percent of all transactions in 2015 — down from 21 percent in 2014, but still the second highest share since the survey was first conducted in 2003. The portion of investment sales remained unchanged from a year ago at 19 percent, and owner-occupied purchases increased to 65 percent (60 percent in 2014).

"Despite a smaller share of distressed properties coming onto the market, investment purchases reversed course in 2015 after declining for four straight years," Yun said. "Steadily increasing home prices and strong rental demand appear to be giving more individual investors assurance that purchasing real estate will diversify their portfolios and generate additional income if they decide to rent out the home."

This year's survey found that in addition to longer-term rentals, investors are most likely to attempt to and rent their properties for less than 30 days. Among investors, 42 percent did or tried to rent their property in 2015 and plan to rent their property in 2016.

Twenty-four percent of vacation buyers did or tried to rent their property in 2015 and plan to rent their property this year. Vacation buyers are more likely to use a property manager or social media to rent their property, while investors are more likely to use a traditional real estate agency.

The share of vacation buyers who paid in cash jumped to 38 percent from 30 percent in 2014, while cash purchases by investors decreased to 39 percent from 41 percent a year ago. Of buyers who financed their purchase with a mortgage, over half (52 percent) of vacation buyers and 44 percent of investors financed less than 70 percent of the purchase price.

The overall trend of fewer distressed properties (short sale or foreclosure) on the market resulted in vacation buyers and investors purchasing less of them in 2015. Thirty-six percent of vacation buyers (45 percent in 2014) and 39 percent of investors (44 percent in 2014) purchased a distressed property a year ago.
