Students Get to Know Principals

In the eyes of the freshmen Mr. Mason is a powerful image of authority.

To the sophomore he is the serious man always supervising hall activities.

To the junior he is the person who just can't be convinced that fun comes before education.

In spite of his role as principal, the senior becomes aware of his understanding, and of the friendship that will never be forgotten.

Mr. Mason is highly respected by students for the many jobs he performs as principal. Here, he sells tickets to the students for Clarkston's first tournament game.

Mr. Mauti is Assistant Principal, as well as Head of the Physical Education Department, and Athletic Director.

A capable Assistant Principal, he deals with many students individually. He is in charge of setting up the Driver Training Program, which enrolls over three hundred students each year. He hires officials for athletic events and handles all obligations to do with football, basketball, track, cross-country, baseball, skiing and wrestling.

The coveted Dom. Mauti award was started by the Clarkston Area Jaycees in 1964 at the close of Mr. Mauti's term as a basketball coach. This award is received at the close of the basketball season, by the outstanding senior athlete.

In September Mr. William Dennis was promoted to the job of Assistant Principal. This is an authoritative job which often goes by unappreciated.

He has worked for twelve years in the Clarkston school system. Along with the heavy responsibilities he faces in this capacity, he is the director of adult education classes, chairman of the industrial arts department and a sponsor of the senior class.

Mr. Dennis has an important job, and finds it difficult to please everyone. Never the less, he is always ready to listen sympathetically to the problems of the students.

Another of Mr. Dennis' duties is senior class sponsor. Here he talks to point secretary, Anne Lausten.

One of the various jobs of the Assistant Principals, Mr. Dennis and Mr. Mauti, is to keep order in the halls.

Mr. Mauti, who is also Athletic Director, makes plans for the basketball tournaments, while Mr. Dennis, (background) makes an important telephone call.

Secretaries, Administration

Mrs. Radoye makes change for Ray Hipsher, as Bob Palladino makes sure the amount is right.

Above: Mrs. Ballard goes through the attendance lists while Mrs. Weston prepares to type a stencil. Right: Mrs. Allen, who handles all the money, takes a brief rest from the budget.

Clarkston Senior High School has four office secretaries, Mrs. Corienne Ballard, Mrs. Dottie Allen, Mrs. Gwinevere Weston and Mrs. Mary Ann Radoye. Each secretary has an individual job, but in a rush hour they work as a team.

The attendance secretary is Mrs. Ballaad. Mrs. Allen is in charge of the money that goes through the office. Mrs. Weston who is responsible for Mr. Mason's and the school's correspondence, makes out purchase orders for the new books and supplies along with editing the yearbook. Mrs. Radoye is the receptionist. She works at the counter, does the general typing and all the typing for the new scheduling.

Without the aid of our office secretaries, Clarkston High would not be able to run very efficiently.

The governing body of any public school system is the Board of Education, which is comprised, by state law, of seven members. These officials are elected by popular vote for a term of four years. No more than two can be elected in any one year. They in turn hire a superintendent, Dr. Leslie F. Greene, and two assistants, Mr. Floyd Vincent and Mr. George Barrie.

These men meet at least once a month to try to solve the problems and settle the business which occurs with running a school system of 5,800 pupils. Some of the many jobs they have are to educate the students, hire teachers and other personnel to staff the buildings, provide bus transportation for two-thirds of the students and provide a hot lunch program for the entire system,

Because of Clarkston's geographical location, the last ten years have put a tremendous strain on the schools. With the intense population growth the board and administrators have had to do a lot of expanding and planning.

Keep School Running Smoothly

Mr. Fernando Sanchez, Mr. Richard Funk, Mr. Walter Wilberg, Dr. L. F. Greene and Mr. R. A. Weber assemble at a general meeting to discuss the pool issue.

Mr. Frank Ronk and Mr. Arthur Rose listen to a possible solution to the problem caused by the growth of Clarkston.

Mr. Thomas Doremus and Mr. Floyd Vincent ponder over one of the many problems which come before the Board of Education.

Mr. Skillman tries to explain the main concept of statistics to his confused class.

Math Departmen

Mr. Haven hands back test papers to his geometry class.

Expands Under Curriculum Revision

Homework is a major part of learning the basic rules of math as Miss Modesitt will testify.

It is the desire of the Mathematics Department to offer the program which will best fit the needs of the students. In the past year a complete revision of the structure of the curriculum was undertaken. By restructuring the courses, a more diversified program consisting of a one year course, two semester courses and fourteen nine week courses are available for selection by the students. This program also enables a student to take more than one math course in any one nine weeks period. The availability of courses ranging from those dealing with theory to those dealing with application of math to the modern world.

Flexible Scheduling Offers New

This year the science curriculum was reorganized to provide a broader, more meaningful offering to the students. The courses have been broken down into four and a half week units with the students being rescheduled every four and a half weeks.

A program of this type allows the teachers to work in their strongest areas and students to concentrate their work in the areas that provide the greatest interest to them. They have a choice of over 60 different science units. In addition to the standard credits, they may take advanced work or study independently.

As head of the Science Department Mr Kenyon has many duties. Here he teaches Reduction Division to his cell physiology class.

Smiling faces appear as Mr. Salmi turns back Rosiland Byers and Greg Raymer's Heredity test papers.

English Department Branches Out

The '67-'68 school year found C.H.S. with many new English teachers and a completely new English schedule. Under the new system, a total of 22 different English classes are available to 10th through 12th graders. Each student selects four nine-week classes per year.

With this schedule, the students are able to pursue areas they have an interest in, whether it be writing, drama, novel, short story or whatever. The new schedule seems to have been widely accepted by both the students and the faculty members.

Industrial Arts Added to

Co-op Program

The retailing students, under Mr. Pete Thompson, receive taining in good salesmanship. They then have a chance to apply this knowledge in running the Wolves Den, a non-profit store. This store is open before school and during lunch hours. Thus they are prepared for Co-op in their senior year.

The whole student body benefits greatly from this enterprise as it supplies notebooks, paper, pens and pencils. It also carries sweatshirts, sweaters and nylon parkas.

Learning the importance of advertising their products, the students try a variety of publicity stunts making full use of one of the school display cases and their own store shelves.

When they are seniors, students are chosen to participate in the co-op program. This gives them actual on-the-job training each afternoon, while they complete their studies in the mornings. The initial contact regarding these jobs is made by the businesses to the school, the students having jobs already, or by the Co-op adviser, Mr. Thompson, seeking out approved employers willing to co-operate with the program.

The arrangement of goods is important in bringing about a sale. Here Rosana Ragatz helps to keep the displays at Taylor's 5 & 10 store in order.

Industrial Arts Grows Over the Years;

Twelve years ago in the industrial arts department there was one teacher instructing grades 7 through 12 in all areas of woods and metals. With the building of a new high school, increased enrollment and technical advancements it became necessary to increase the curriculum to its present size of nine instructors.

Along with a four year program in drafting there is a complete auto mechanics shop. In metals, machinery, welding, electronics and woods. New this year is construction class designed to provide vocational experience in the construction trades. Their projects included the construction of a separating wall in the main shop and pouring the foundation and slabs for the new baseball dugout.

Social Science Helps Prepare

In the teaching of Social Science, World History, United States History, Government, American Problems, Geography and Psychology it is the hope of the Social Science Department that the student may better understand the role he plays in his society. The department believes by understanding today's problems and knowing what has happened in the past, the student will be better equipped to face the problems of the future.

Creative Abilities Produce

Many fascinating and creative things have occurred in the Art Department this year, from a mural on the cafeteria wall to an array of colorful travel posters.

Mrs. Arakelian's and Miss Prevette's Art I classes have investigated several areas of art. They have learned the importance of design, how it can be expressed, and where it's encountered in everyday life.

The advanced students in Crafts, Painting and Drawing, and Studio Art have tried to develop a higher degree of craftsmanship and quality in each of their projects. They have explored such areas as, creative illustration, ceramics, printing and drawing, and enamelling and jewelry work.

Throughout the year the Music Department is asked to supply entertainment for various school activities. Both the chorus classes and the band give several seasonal concerts. In addition to this there is a Marching Band, Pep Band and Wayne-Oakland League Choir.

Striving to teach the finer points of music appreciation as well as instruction in voice and the playing of instruments are the main objectives of this department. Music offers a change of pace from the academic instruction and a chance to learn a form of self-expression.

Mrs. Arakelian explains the principles of perspective in water colors to Rudy Rocha, Mary Ann Porter and Jeff Rutzen.

Accomplishments in Art, Music

Mr. Washburn directs the band during class for the University of Michigan Band Day.

Lois Smith, Marie Mercier and Jackie Acker sing to Miss Tobin while Kathy Smithling listens critically.

Foreign Languages Prove Beneficial

Beth Cowen listens intently to a French tape.

The Foreign Language Department offers a selection of languages consisting of French, German and Latin. Beyond the two year language-grammar requirement of many colleges, third and fourth year courses are offered which give not only advanced grammar studies but also an introduction to the literary masterpieces, art, history and culture of these languages.

In conjunction with the cultural and conversational aspects of Germany, a trip to the three main German speaking countries of Europe: Austria, Germany and Switzerland, has been organized for this summer.

Not understanding what one of her students just said, Frau Dennis scolds him saying, "No speaka de Italiano!"'

The Home Economics Department offers three years of general home ec. and one year of Home and Family Living.

Home Ec. I introduces the girls to the basic cooking and sewing skills. One of the highlights is making cookies for the Teachers Christmas Tea.

Home Ec. II explores Home Ec. a little deeper. They take a few field trips to model homes and furniture stores during their housing unit.

Home Ec. III goes creative. They experiment with food to see what can be done on various income levels. They also cover the finer art of clothing construction.

During the school year primarily 9 th graders benefit from the physical education program. A wide range of sports are available to both female and male students that would not be able to participate in varsity sports. A typical class period starts out with 10 minute cals and various sports are then worked into the program.

Some of the activities in which both boys and girls participate in are: softball, touch football, soccer, tennis, volleyball, table tennis, track, badminton, trampoline, rope climbing, basketball and many types of relays.

Mr. Inman yells a few words of advice from the sidelines to one of his wrestlers.

The counselors help the students cope with school problems. Mrs. Margo Lay is the ninth grade counselor and aids students in making the change from Junior High to High School. Freshmen see her for help on planning their four year program and to discuss vocational and educational plans, and at times, personal problems.

Boys in grades 10 through 12 see Mr. Harry McGrath for help with vocational plans, job requirements, military information and problems that occur here or outside of school.

Mrs. Marilyn Hanson, Director of Guidance, works with girls in the upper three grades helping them select their classes and make plans for future years as well as guiding them in any academic or social problems they might have.

Various tests are given during school hours and on Saturdays during the year to help students find out more about themselves their strong areas and weak areas.

This year a position was created with the addition of Mr. Robert Brumback as school social worker. He works closely with the high school counselors to provide a stronger relationship between home and school.

Cooks, Custodians Important Part

With a student body of over 1400 kids, there is a rush of hungry people toward the cafeteria each day around noon. A variety of lunch menus is served by cooks, Mrs. Blackerby, Mrs. Hardy, Mrs. Rutherford, Mrs. Snyder and manager, Mrs. Verback. The baker is Mrs. Funk, and Mrs. Sommers is the dietitian.

One of the big jobs at C.H.S. falls into the hands of the maintenance crew. The new wing of classrooms adds to an already huge job of keeping our school sparkling. The floors are buffed and the windows washed. Our courtyards and the sidewalks and parking lot are kept free of snow in the winter. Under the supervision of Frank Green, head custodian, are Mrs. Lena Belle Barber, Mrs. Mary Brendle, Mrs. Mary Cook and Sherman Lowery. There are also four other men who work on the night crew.

Mr. Green answers an urgent call to "Come help, fix it!'

School Staff

Mrs. Barber adds to the pollution problem.

Every afternoon finds Mr. Lowery with his waste paper cart. "Sherm," as he is fondly referred to by students and faculty alike, has the job of keeping the halls looking tidy.

Cooks, Lenore Carey, Jean Blackerby, Yvonne Rutherford, Lorell Verback, Arlene Hardy and Lee Funk enjoy their lunch after surviving the onslaught of hungry students.

Invites Clarkston for Band Day

Terry Klein trys to concentrate during a rough practice.

This year's Varsity Band, under the direction of Mr. Joseph Washburn, provided excellent entertainment during half-time and pre-game ceremonies at football games. Drum Major Dana Wiegand led the eighty-seven marchers through colorful routines with their own accompaniment of lively, high-stepping music. During village parades the band displayed their talent and marching ability.

Basketball season found the Pep Band, consisting of members of the Varsity Band, at the top of the bleachers adding to the school spirit and brightening the atmosphere of the games.

This year the entire band gave three concerts, a winter concert, a spring concert and a pops concert.

The Band participated in Band Day at Ann Arbor, a Band Festival at Mount Clemens and they were invited to play for County Fair Days at Greenfield Village. Six of the members attended the solo and ensemble competition at Southfield High School.

The Band has provided an opportunity for musically talented students to further their education and interest in music.

After Long Absence Wolf

Some members of the Wolf Cry staff, Bob Nicoson, Greg Longstaff, Kathy Matlock, Gail Cowling and Claudia Gordon, discuss their latest edition with Editor, Joan Willis.

Gail Cowling, feature editor, works extra hours in hopes that she will meet her next deadline.

Cry Reports News

For the first time, Journalism was in the form of a class. A great deal of organization and efficiency was necessary to compose the bi-monthly newspaper, which had been missing from the school for a long time. The job was difficult because the staff had to learn how to put together a newspaper. Miss Munro and her twenty-six energetic students produced the best WOLFCRY C.H.S. has ever had. The use of pictures improved the quality of the newspaper. This year the Journalism staff achieved its goal, to present a newspaper that was informal, interesting and appealing to the student body.

Include New Madrigal Singers

Hark the Herald Angels Sing was one of the many Christmas Carols sung by the Girls Glee Club at their December concert.

Caught from behind the curtain during a concert are the varsity choir singers.

The Vocal Department is composed of two beginning choruses, three girls glee clubs, Varsity Choir and Madrigal Singers. During the school year these groups presented concerts for the seasons of Christmas and Lent, and gave a spring concert.

The special feature of each concert was the Madrigal group. This is the first year for this small group of eighteen people, who sang at rest homes, did an assembly in Warren, Michigan, and sang for religious and community meetings.

Anyone is eligible for participation in the vocal music program by auditioning with the director.

Student Council . . . Hub of Activities

Many changes have taken place this year in Clarkston High Student Council. After working diligently during the summer, the newly elected officers revised the constitution. One of the very controversial changes was the method of electing Student Council Representatives. This year there were 26 members including class vice-president, exchange students, and council officers.

Again as in the past the council was a member of the Michigan Association of Student Councils and Wayne-Oakland League Student Council.

This year student council sponsored the Homecoming activities, two foreign exchange students, and the Christmas dance. Other activities included arbitrating with the administration, working on the Clarkston J.C.'s swimming pool campaign, and one of the high lights of the year, "Vaudeville 68," the annual Talent show.

After a year of unusual difficulties, the council, in many respects, made C.H.S. a better place of higher education.

Honor Society, F.T.A. Important Groups

Elected to the Society in their junior year, Leslie Surre, Nikki Kratt, Lana Moore, Kim Beattie, Cheryl Pearson, and Joan Willis meet to plan the year's activities.

Being chosen for membership into the National Honor Society is something which the students of Clarkston High School strive for. When he is a junior, the student must have a 3.5 overall grade average to be considered for membership. He must have a 3.0 overall grade average if he comes into the society as a senior.

Only fifteen percent of the graduating class may become members of the society, by ruling of the national charter. When they are second semester juniors, five percent of the class is chosen for membership. An additional five percent is chosen when they are first semester seniors, and the remaining five percent is chosen when the students are in their last semester of high school.

In addition to scholarship, the student must also have leadership, character, and service to be chosen as a member of the National Honor Society.

Members of the National Honor Society show their delight in being elected to this all-important organization.

Kathy Mass and other Future Teacher members raise money for their scholarship fund.

Cheryl Pearson, Tammy Mahar, Rosalind Byers, Pat Mulcrone, Kathy Roberts, Penny Fox and Rodelle Sage listen attentively to one of their guest speakers.

The Future Teachers Club, which is sponsored by Mrs. Hanson, is a group of thirty-five high school students who have come together to help prepare themselves for careers as teachers. One way they do this is through the Cadet Teaching program. Under this program, each member picks a grade in the elementary school and assists the teacher for one hour twice a week. This program has been expanded this year to include the high school as well. Several students are now assisting teachers by doing such things as correcting papers, and, in some cases, assisting freshman algebra students.

Every year during National Education Week the club sponsors "An Apple for the Teacher" day. All members of the high school faculty, and until this year all other faculties in the system, received an apple in their mailbox one day during the week. Another big project occurs around Valentine's Day when the group goes to Pontiac State Hospital and plays Bingo with some of the patients. They also conduct bake sales to give one member a twentyfive dollar scholarship for college.

Barton Giles contemplates the best possibilities for moving his pawn into a checkmate.

Existing Clubs Welcome Chess Group

Chuck Allen, Randy Carpenter, Steve Ashley and Richard Hale show heavy concentration in the first game of the club's tournament.

Any student interested in French may satisfy his curiosity with the French Club. This group meets every other Monday under the direction of Mrs. Ann Ingles and Miss Dina Grundemann.

This year the club sponsored a "French Day." The members painted French signs to indicate different sections of the school, and they put up posters displaying famous landmarks of France. Like many other clubs, they too, sponsored a dance in the fall.

To learn about life in France, firsthand, many of the members have pen pals.
"My king takes you're queen," is a familiar expression that can be heard every Tuesday afternoon when the Chess Club meets. This group was organized last fall under the direction of Mr. Mort Kinsler and Mr. James Wenger, for those students interested in this ancient game of war.

Second semester a round robin tournament was held to determine the best chess player. Winner of Division B was Greg Faust, with Kirk Stalker and Bart Giles runnersup. As the book goes to press the top four contenders in Division A are Einar Brekken, Steve Ashley, George Lawerence and Richard Hale.

Vigorous Activities

The Weight-Lifters Club was organized this year as a hobby for interested boys. The main object of the club is to build up the body and lose excess weight. Members work out using different exercises and weights.

Sponsor, Mr. William Genshaw instructs the boys in the proper techniques of weight-lifting. Although it is not a competitive club some of the boys have hopes of someday competing with other schools.

At the first sight of snow the Ski Club, sponsored by Mr. Howard Webster, hit the slopes of Mt. Holly. Ski booklets which were purchased by the members earlier in the year contained an identification card and three lessons. This enabled them to ski for reduced rates.

A trip to Boyne Highlands highlighted the club's activities in January. A chartered bus drove them to Wolverine Sportsman's Club where they spent the weekend. After a day's skiing, they attended a dance in Petoskey, returning to Clarkston on Sunday.

Dan Rush, Tom Quinsberry, Orson Bullard, Bill Perkins, Bill Townsend, Dave Van Curler and Mr. Genshaw prepare for a weight-lifting practice session.

Long Hours, Endless Work for Staff

Last fall, "The Computer Knows" campaign kicked off the yearbook sales of the HILLTOPPER. Under the supervision of Mrs. Linda Kenyon, the thirteen staff members dedicated themselves to making this yearbook. Extensive planning and hard work went into the making of the book. The increase of ad sales made it possible for the use of color. The jobs of the staff were tedious and time consuming, but when the 1967-68 edition of HILLTOPPER arrived, the long hours of work seemed worth it.

Last summer, classes were held at the University of Detroit for an intensive study of publishing a yearbook. Jan Hanson, editor, and Maud Elliot, photography editor, attended one of the two week sessions. The teachers covered lay-out information extensively. Jan received help on the lay-out of the book and finished it in a two week period. Mike Mason attended photography classes for one week and learned much from the H. A. Powell Studio photographer, Mr. Sam Slis.

One of Salli Radoye's many jobs is to draw layouts of any extra pages. With the addition of several new clubs each year this is necessary to give a most complete coverage of the school year.

Mike Mason, head photographer, is readying the camera for a shot of our team in action.

One of the more tedious jobs is the sorting of individual class pictures. Kathy Hoff alphabetizes while Lana Moore has to recut some of the pictures.

Audio Visual, Pep Club Add to School's

The Audio-Visual Club, sponsored by Mr. Frank Mantei, is responsible for arranging the showing of all films and use of all A. V. equipment at Clarkston High. The club has grown to a membership of thirtyfive. Meetings are usually held once a month.

Some of the clubs activities include ordering films and providing music in the cafeteria at lunch time. Also, they tape the school's important musical activities for our music library.

The Pep Club this year was under the direction of Miss Judy Prevette and Mr. Donald Aulbert.

During the year the club had two money making projects. The first was selling mums for homecoming. They also sold cowbells during basketball season.

The main portion of the club's time was spent painting posters. Members stayed after school the night before a game to paint them.

Y-Teens, Hi-Y Favor Charity

The goals of the Y-Teens this year were to gain a better understanding of themselves and others and to help the community.

A pop-bottle drive, followed by a candy apple sale started their year's money making projects. They also had, for the first time, a Christmas card post office. This enabled students and teachers to send season's greetings throughout the school. Their Christmas service project was providing a Merry Christmas for underprivileged children.

The girls sponsored a Sadie Hawkins Dance and went to the Pontiac YMCA for their annual pajama party.

Despite the many other activities of this busy organization the girls found time to take several underprivileged children shopping for clothes.

The Hi-Y, an organization associated with the YMCA, takes up charitable projects to help the needy children. Some of their activities consisted of collecting money for the Pontiac Area United Fund, buying clothes and toys for the children and distributing baskets at Easter time. Besides these projects, the $\mathrm{Hi}-\mathrm{Y}$ also sponsored, with the Student Council, a successful Christmas Dance.

Vicki Hall, secretary, is obviously pleased with the success of one of the many Y-Teens projects.

Librarians, Secretaries Assist Faculty

These "gal Fridays," chosen on their Scholastic and other abilities such as typing, are a great help to the three counselors. They not only do typing, but they also pick up absence slips and run errands for the counselors and the office.

The students of Clarkston High are very lucky to have such an organized library. Currently, our library houses seven thousand volumes, forty-five magazines and three daily newspapers. Magazines may be found as far back as 1960. Additional material may be found in the vertical file, encyclopedias, or in one of the many reference books.

Because choosing the right college is of the utmost importance to seniors, our library contains many in-state and out-of-state college catalogues.

Student librarians help Mrs. Thayer by doing the many jobs that it takes to keep a library running efficiently. Some of them are checking in and out books, arranging them in their correct order and repairing and processing books. They also help the students use the card catalogue and find reference material.

Mrs. Hanson shows Nannette Giles the correct way to set margins on the typewriter, before she types a letter.

The Counselor's Corner is an up-to-date bulletin board with all the latest information concerning colleges and other interesting facts.

Jackie Kuiper gets into the Homecoming swing, as she is presented with a mum by her American sister, Jan Hanson.

Jackie and Einar discuss their new life in the United States and compare their educational systems.

Jackie, full of smiles, is happy while Clarkston holds a comfortable lead against one of its opponents.

Einar prepares an experiment while Mr. Mantei looks on.

Holland, Sweden Become Part of C.H.S.

Whistling must be Sweden's greatest pastime, as Dave Rowden will testify.

Tall, blond Jacoba "Jackie" Kuiper, is from the small village of Zeuenhuigen in the province of Groningen, Netherlands. When she first viewed our high school she remarked, "There are more students than I ever imagined. In the Netherlands I used to think that 400 students was a lot for one school!'’

Jackie commented on the difference between teenagers: "They act basically the same in America as in Europe. Studying in the United States, however, is a much freer process. A student here is able to work more at his own pace and think by himself. In Europe we study mostly facts which gets to be boring and tedious!"

Jackie lives with Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Hanson and her American sisters Jan, a senior, and Bev, a freshman.

Einar Brekkan, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Eggert Brekkan, is from Soteborg S.W., Sweden. "Living in America," Einar says, "has been a fine experience, and I've been having a good time, too! I especially like being able to watch television here because there is a variety of shows instead of all cultural programs."
"Teenagers seem to have the same attitudes and interests in America as in Europe. Teachers are more strict here than I had expected. There are fewer classes in the United States. I am used to taking 30 subjects a year! But there is a disadvantage of more homework with fewer classes."

Einar was a fine soccer player in Sweden and would like to have played basketball and football in the United States. He has plans to go to college and practice to be a bio-chemist.

His American parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Erkfritz. His new sister is Jenny, a senior, and his brother is Mike, a sophomore.

1967 Homecoming Queen Cheryl Mansfield and her two attendants, Cindi Young and Jan Peters form a royal trio at the queen's assembly.

Royalty Is Presented to Students

Beaming with happiness, from their royal platform are the members of the 1967 Homecoming Court.

The weeks of planning and hard work, which were put into preparations for the homecoming festivities, were worth the effort.

Excitement reigned as the activities came into full swing. The annual Powderpuff football game led the calendar of events. The "gridiron queens" met in a vigorous battle, which ended with the Seniors victorious, 20 to 13 over the Juniors.

As the deadline approached, a twenty-five dollar float award spurred the classes on as they added the final touches to their floats.

The band's replica of Captain Hook's ship carried through with this year's theme, "Never Never Land."

A white base accented by a pink arch, was the combination used by Student Government for the Queen's float. Riding with Cheryl Mansfield, were her attendants, Jan Peters and Cindi Young.

The success of a victory over Brighton brought added excitement to the dance. All the magic and fantasy of "Never Never Land" came to life and a mood was cast by soft lights and music from Jerry Ross' Orhcestra. Guests danced in a world of colorful murals and gaily assorted flowers, a true dream land.

The Queen's maids are presented. Sharon Crosby is escorted by Tom Gates, Lauri MacGregor by Steve Kratt, Erickson.

Queen's Assembly, Floats and Dance

Mother deserves a flower, too.

Their first attempt at float building brought the Freshman class first place. Maid Sharon Crosby rides the winning float, "Stomp-'em'".

Dancing to the music in "Never Never Land" are Donna Thompson and Jerry Cobb, Patti Mulcrone and Lynn Thompson, Diane Cover and Rob Chapman.

Are Homecoming

Cindi Young and Randy Longstaff discuss their plans for the evening with Miss Nizlek.

Chris Rose, the Bishop of Lax, has a hard time understanding Diane Lundy, the cockney maid, Ida, as she prepares to visit her mother on her night off.

Three Plays Much Effort, Hard Work

"He has a small sac pressing against his brain,'" says the doctor (Mark Taylor) to Hans (Neal Mansfield) during the first act of "the Silver Skates."

Neal Mansfield, Chris Rose, Mark Taylor and Scott Embry laugh at their mistakes during dress rehearsal for "See How They Run."

Left: The chase is on during a practice session for "See How They Run." Chris Rose and Mark Taylor chase Mark Adams as Jeanne Lussier watches in fright. This is a situation comedy involving a minister's wife and a former boyfriend who came to visit.

Behind-the-Scenes, Vital to Fine Finish

Dr. Broekman, Mark Taylor, tries to penetrate Roulf Brinker's, Chris Rose, stupor in rehearsal for HANS BRINKER.

Mrs. Barbara Gibson did an excellent job of producing this year's plays. Hard work and much time were necessary for these projects. The three plays and a musical were chosen a year in advance. Tryouts were held to choose the students that would best fit the character's parts. After many rehearsals the student actors and actresses were ready for the real thing.

This year, play production was offered as a nine weeks English course and was taught by Mrs. Gibson. These classes learned the basics of drama and did the many tasks necessary to put on a play. The students were divided into committees to work on publicity, tickets, properties, costumes, sets and make up. During class time they worked at their assigned jobs, or helped build the set.

Early last fall the drama, REMARKABLE INCIDENT AT CARSON'S CORNERS was presented. Following it in December was the hilarious comedy, SEE HOW THEY RUN. Previews to this play were given to all English and speech classes. In January HANS BRINKER AND THE SILVER SKATES delighted Clarkston children as well as patients at Pontiac State Hospital. BOYFRIEND, a delightful musical was produced in the spring.

As a student director, Mary Fellows must watch the performance carefully, ready to prompt the actors and give stage directions.

Cindermen Gain Valuable Experience

The '66-67 track season was a rebuilding year. Coach Inman's thinclads consisted primarily of freshmen. Even though the team did not have a winning season, our cindermen gained valuable experience for the future.

One of the high points of the season was John Gettel's new school record for the 2 mile--10:57.5.

The award for Dedication to the Sport of Track was given to Bud Mumbower who ran the 2 mile in 10:58

Eric Hood received the Team Captain award.

Cary Uban raps off a clean single, outsmarting a Wayne-Oakland foe.

Following a successful winter sports season, Clarkston fans saw an equally exciting baseball season. The team, under Coach Pete Thompson, did very well and nearly captured the league championship.

At the Spring Banquet, Dan Fife was voted Most Valuable. He had a very active season in leading the team in shutouts by pitching three no-hitters for a new school record. Dan also made the All-County team for the second year in a row. The Most Improved Award went to Tom Allen, who led the team in hitting for the third consecutive year and made the All-County team for the third year in a row.

Wolves Swat and Swing

As spring arrives Clarkston's golfers make their appearance on the area links. Under Coach Ralph Kenyon, the team, which continually improves, enjoyed a good season and placed sixteenth out of a field of twenty-five at the Pontiac Press Invitational.

The trophy for Most Valuable was earned by Larry Parker. Jim Navarre won the Most Improved award.

The J.V. baseball team displayed good defensive ability during the season, especially on the infield. Tom Grace and Steve Warman proved to be very capable pitchers; Grace pitched a no-hitter against West Bloomfield.

The team's major problem was hitting, but they never lost their drive to win. The J.V. baseball team, under the coaching of Mr. Paul Tungate, compiled a record of $7-9$ and should be commended for their effort and determination.

Correct choice of clubs is one of the reasons Kurt Maslowski was a consistent golfer all year.

Champions Supreme, Our C.H.S. Tennis Team

The '66-67' tennis season round C.H.S. with the greatest team in the school's history. The Wolves were undefeated in boys league and non-league dual meets. After winning the W-O tournament, our netters went on to capture the Flint Regional and the coveted WalledLake Invitational. Mike Dougherty, who was sent to the state finals at Kalamazoo, was voted Most Valuable Player.

Congratulations to Coach Thibault and his boys for a job well done.

As school begins, young men begin training for one of the most grueling sports in high school. The many miles run each morning and afternoon become very beneficial on the days of a meet. Cross Country is an individual sport. Those who train and condition themselves the most place highest in the meets and have better times for the many rugged two mile courses in the league.

Coach Horrigan's team was composed primarily of sophomores. Buddy Mumbower was voted Most Valuable.

Duty, Motivation and Effort Drive

The 1967 football season found Coach Ralph Kenyon with a record of $18-23-1$ and a team which had great prospects, but it also had its weaknesses. For the first four games the Clarkston Wolves brought home victories for their coach and for their school. The Wolves defense was brilliant in allowing only 21 points to their opposition.

This year's team did not win the championship, but it did produce a fine group of boys. These boys excelled both athletically and academically as their leadership on the field was reflected in their classroom work. These boys represented their school well. They finished third in the league after a tough loss to a strong Milford team in a championship battle.

Football is a game with many goals. It is not only a sport to see which team can score the most points in a game, but it is also a builder of men. Here at Clarkston, football helps the boy not only to learn the game, but also to build good character. It teaches him to play fairly and to display good sportsmanship.

Enthusiasm Produces Fine Team

The J.V. football players combined their talents to make their team a success. They ended the season with a record of five wins-two losses.

Under Coaches Bill Hanson and Pete Thompson this year's team showed a true willingness to work and an eagerness to learn. Their enthusiasm and cooperative efforts produced a fine team.

The most improved individuals on the team were Tony Sky and Tom Quisenberry.

Freshmen . . . a Beginning

Freshmen football is organized to fill the gap between junior high and J-V football. In long, hard practice sessions, under the guidance of Coaches Paul Tungate, Bill Adams and Larry Thibault, this years, the boys learned to work together, a valuable experience.

For the first time in years, the freshman teams played five schools in regular games.

This year six girls led cheering fans in sparking the J.V. team to their victories. Under the direction of manager Kathy Caldwell and sponsor Miss Janet Gabier, the girls displayed skill and enthusiasm in their new arrangements of the cheers. They worked many long and tiring hours, perfecting their moves and yells.

The J.V.'s new blue and gold uniforms added color to the atmosphere. Along with their uniforms they bought bright colored pom-poms with money they earned from a "work day." On this day the J.V. Cheerleaders went from house to house doing odd jobs.

Bill Conrad, Jeff Wychoff and Kirk Dougherty show the strain of an intense game.

John Chad, who won the title of 2nd best wrestler in the league and rated 4th in the regionals, displays his familiar stance.

Mickey King is steadied by Bill Williams and Coach Inman after a strenuous match in the 95 lb . and under division. Terry Bunton lends his support if needed.

Kirk Dougherty, Most Improved, and Louie Lessard show the basic tie-up used universally by most wrestlers.

The Clarkston wrestling team had the most successful season in its brief history this year, compiling a six and ten win-loss record against area opponents. Coach Max Inman was joined by Assistant Coach Joe Washburn and Team Captain Brian Hoxie in leading the way. Brian also won the WayneOakland League Championship in the 180 pound division and compiled a personal sixteen and three winn-loss record.

There were twelve men on the varsity team and twelve on the junior varsity this year. Before each meet the wrestlers in each of the twelve weight divisions held a wrestle-off; the winner wrestling with the varsity in the coming meet.

Although the team finished fourth in the league meet and thirteenth in the regional, there is great potential for the coming seasons. Only two seniors, Brian Hoxie and Dave Sommers, will be lost from this year's squad.

Brian Hoxie, voted Most Valuable, goes through the formalities before wrestling his next opponent.

Basketball - Source of School

Getting off to a slow start, the 1967-68 Varsity won only two of their first seven games. Under the leadership of Coach Bud McGrath, Captain, Gerry Ostrom, Most Valuable, Mark Erickson, and Most Improved, Larry Lewis, the Wolves were able to win six of their last ten games. The team compiled an eight win, six loss record in league play, good enough for third place, and eight and nine record over-all.
Although this record wasn't too impressive, it didn't tell the true story. The Wolves were in many games right up to the final buzzer. With a few good breaks, they could have turned this season into a real fine one and won the championship.

Between quarters, Coach McGrath gives last minute instructions to Chuck Granger, Kurt Maslowski, Eric

Hood, Jeff Keyser and Gerry Ostrom. Kim Beattie listens in from the sidelines.

Spirit, Excitement

This year's Freshman Basketball team, under the coaching of Mr. Paul Tungate and Mr. Douglas Pierson has compiled an 8-9 win-loss record. The team of twenty players played throughout the Wayne Oakland League, Rochester, Lake Orion and even our own Junior High. This is something no other team in recent years has done.

The coaches teach the basic fundamentals of basketlall to these boys, to make them ready for their future unior varsity and varsity tryouts.

Freshmen look forward to playing on the Junior Varsity squad.

Lead to Victory

After encountering a few "major difficulties" early in this season and losing by close margins, the J. V. basketball team began to jell and ended the year with a 11-7 record. Included in the eleven wins was a seven game winning streak. Their fine showing this year can be attributed to Coach Bill Hanson's fundamental basketball.

The high point of the year for the team was their victory over Waterford Mott, which is a varsity team. The leading scorer was Bruce Hardy with 263 points. Leading the team in rebounding was Tom Grace with 98.

Cheerleaders Win Second Place in State

The opening of the 1968 school year not only brought victory for the football team but also for the cheerleaders. The end of September they entered in Northwood Institute's state cheerleading competition, bringing home the second place trophy. This is quite an honor to place first and second in the state two years in a row. The girls worked hard to get their cheer, "Victory," perfect.

A new addition to the varsity squad this year was a mini tramp. The girls had to work extra hard to achieve the high goals which are required to be good on a tramp. By the end of the year they had mastered flips, jumps and had worked out several different cheers.

The special awards went to Jan Peters, Most Improved, and Nancy Weiss, Most Valuable. These awards were given at the annual Winter Sports banquet.

Neither rain, nor sleet, nor snow can keep Jan Peters from cheering for her team.

Skiers Gain Members

This year's Ski Team had a fairly successful season. When the first snow appeared the team was at Holly practicing for their first meet. They took second place against Southfield and Utica, but placed third against Walled Lake and Southfield three days later. Toward the end of January the boys skied successfully against Utica and Waterford Mott while the girls won a forfeit.

Throughout the year the boys skiied consistently while the girls bounced from first to third place.

In the league meet the boys' team took seventh place. Tracey Tuson came in fifth in the league and first for the team, Jim Kluesner was 26th in the league and second for the team.

The girls took twelfth place in the league. Debbie Head came in 11th in the league and first for the girls' team. Diane Wagner placed for the team.

Tracey Tuson was an All-League skier and was chosen Most Valuable. Debbie Head and John Lynn were elected Co-captains and Bill Conrad was chosen Most Improved.

Girls Display Athletic Ability, Skill

The Girls' Athletic Association has been more active this year than any other year. A new constitution, written to include even non-athletic girls, has increased its membership.

Intramurals and extramural volleyball teams, intramural basketball teams, swimming at Oakland University, and camping trips, along with other individual and team sports, have led to the further development of the girls as useful citizens.

The money brought in by the G.A.A. dance was used to buy awards for deserving girls. These awards were given out at the Mother-Daughter Banquet, and marked the last G.A.A. meeting of the season.

Enthusiasm Enters Junior Activities

Juniors this year worked more as aclass; and so we could Understand many more tasks. Did you happen to Notice that this year's float didn't fall apart? It's strange that everynight we had lots Of fun, and next day in history, pulled an "E" minus one! Running around with lots to do,
Sold refreshments and spilled them, too!.

Junior athletes and scholars came in mobs, and Upon week-nights some worked at jobs,
Never will sales be the same, after Juniors got Into the magazine game!
Our dances did much to keep us fit, Reviving us after a tense ball game Sit.

> Just picture a Freshman looking forlorn, who Undertook a box of our salted popcorn!

Senior Girls, Powderpuff Champions

So, at long last we have made an End to our high school days, It's
Not that we are happy to go, because
In school, we'll leave the halls we know.
Our Powderpuff team brought praise so fine, but on the trip we Ran out of time. When the prom came, we were all over town, and did the Smiles abound at Mock Election time!

Our only regret is that the year went too
Fast; but, we are prepared for a future great, ever brighter than
'68.

"Blue Hawaii"

Climaxes Memorable Year

A cafeteria changed into a dimly lit Hawaiian paradise was the scene of Clarkston High School's 1967 Junior-Senior Prom. To transform the cafeteria into a polynesian paradise the theme "Blue Hawaii" was used. Usually packed with student announcements, the bulletin boards were covered with gaily colored fishnets which held small shells upon which were written the names of the couples who were attending the dance. Blue lights set off this part of the dance floor. Large posters of Hawaiian scenes were grouped together where the band was scheduled to play. In the center of the floor palm trees surrounded a small pool filled with purple orchids. On each of the tables, a centerpiece comprised of a pineapple and colorful flowers waited to be snatched up by eager girls seeking a keepsake of a fun-filled evening. Girls dressed in Hawaiian mumus served refreshments.

An evening filled with music, color, and laughter, was one that many will remember with pleasure for a long time to come.

Talent, Beauty, Poise, Personality, Winning Combination

One of the highlights of any year is the Clarkston Junior Miss contest, and this year was no exception. Seventeen girls competed in the contest, sponsored by the Clarkston Area Jaycees. Even though only one girl could win the title, each gained valuable experience dealing with others, discussing current event topics with the judges and sharing similar situations with other girls.

The most important part of the competition is the judges' interview with each contestant. The girls are asked questions about current events and problems, such as "What do you think of our nation's policy in Vietnam?", and must answer them spontaneously.

The girls are also judged on scholastic achievement, physical fitness, poise, evening dress modeling and a talent. Nancy Weiss, this year's winner, did a pompom routine set to the music of "The Third Man Theme."

Nancy received a $$ 300$ college scholarship and the opportunity of going on to the Michigan Junior Miss contest in Pontiac. Dawn Evely, Runner-up, received a $$ 100$ scholarship. Leslie Surre was given the special Judges' Award.

Nancy used a political theme for the party which she planned as a part of the competition for the State Pageant in Pontiac.

Debbie Atwood watches the band warm up at an after game dance.

The varying emotions of graduation are represented in the faces of senior Dan Fife and faculty members, Mr. Smith, Mr. Mason, Mrs. Hanson, Miss Gabier, and Mrs. Gibson, during the Senior Assembly. The emotion felt by Seniors is a combination of the excitement of donning their caps and gowns for the first time and the apprehension of going out into the world on their own.

Victor Serda receives the special Principal's Award from Mr. Mason. This award is given only when the principal feels special circumstances exist. Mr, Serda returned as a Sophomore after having dropped out 10 years before. He earned his diploma while holding down a full-time job to support his family, and graduated as a member of the National Honor Society.

June . . . . . Graduation . . . . .

The Future

Mr. Bonner, sponsor of the National Honor Society, puts the special gold cord around Jack Frost's neck. The cords, symbols of scholastic achievement and leadership in school, are worn every year by Honor Society members.

Miss Gabier presents Caroline Giles with the cheerleading award, the first cheerleader to receive this honor.

Hugh Rose and Paul Taylor receive the annual speech awards from Mr. Moore. Usually only one Senior receives the award, but this year Mr. Moore felt both boys were equally outstanding speech students.

Where All the Lights Are Bright"

In a small community such as Clarkston the schools and local businesses are solidly woven into the lives of the people. Busienssmen are interested in the welfare of the students and school, and the students come into close contact with them. This association between the schools and tradesmen make for better cooperation between the generations. The merchants take an active interest, as shown in their contributions toward school activities. For this reason the students feel much closer to the older generation and a feeling of unity results. We hope that this tie continues for a long time to come.

What ever happened to the self-made man?

There's nothing wrong with digging ditches. It's healthy, and these days, it pays well. Too bad it doesn't often lead to something better. It's not as easy as it used to be to work your way up from scratch. Today the really good jobs go to those who have the background to get them. So whatever chance you have for more training and education, take it. If you dig ditches in the summer, get ahead by studying civil engineering in the fall. If you plan to work in an office, take night courses. If you have a newspaper route, sock some dough away for more schooling.
Remember what happened to the self-made man . . . he got educated.

How about you?

Another year has come and gone and the ' 68 HILLTOPPER is completed. For the last seven months, the staff worked hard putting together a yearbook which we hope the students will be proud of.

This book molds together the many phases of life that go together to make up a literary mosaic of Clarkston High School. Through this book it is our hope that the students, faculty, administration and community will be able to see the true picture of life at C.H.S. I would like to express my sincere thanks to Mrs. Ralph Kenyon who worked many long hours after school and at night to help us finish our book. I would also like to thank all those in this school and in the community who helped us make the ' 68 HILLTOPPER a success.

A special thanks goes to Sue Bennett for the cover design and Miss Gabier and her creative writing classes for the copy which they wrote.
