School board questions communications revision

BY PHIL CUSTODIO

Clarkston News Editor

A proposed communications policy isn't clear to some Clarkston School Board members.

"This seems like it says we can't speak to media at all," said Vice President Susan Boatman about one provision in the Recommended Procedures for Board Communications, June 8. "Any individual board member speaking as an individual should be able to talk to the media. I think it should up to the board member, if they want to respond to that."

Boatman was concerned with provision E4, which states "A board member who receives a call from the media for comment on board business or a board decision shall refer the reporter to the board president or superintendent as the official spokespeople for the board and district."

Board Secretary Craig Hamilton said section I, "appropriate communication topics for individual board members," also seems too restrictive.

"It struck me the wrong way – it seems like censorship a little bit," Hamilton said. "It almost seems like it's trying to limit what we can say."

The section says board members "have a responsibility to support decisions of the board and shall avoid speaking out against a decision of the Springfield Plains Elementary students spent Field Day trying new physical activities and enjoying old favorites, June 5.

Fitness help at Field Day

"It's nice to see all the kids moving," smiled Lars Covintree, physical education teacher, watching all of the students enjoy all the activities.

Local business owners also got involved and set up different stations for the students to enjoy. The businesses included Dignified CrossFit, FitnessQuest of Clarkston, Nueva Fitness of Clarkston, Stars and Stripes Kids Activity Center and Twisted Root Yoga & Fitness.

Bryn Butki, a parent volunteer, also brought a fun soccer activities from WAZA North FC for the students to enjoy.

Petition against city hall expansion

A group of citizens attended a June 8 Clarkston City Council meeting to inform city officials they were gathering signatures to stop construction plans for improvements to city hall and the addition of a DPW garage.

"We do not believe the city can afford this expense, and funds would be better used to continue to maintain the roads, sidewalks, trees, and provide other basic services," the petition states.

The three proposed plans, which include $23,000 in already approved architectural costs, carry a price tag ranging from $330,000 to $568,000, depending on the scope of the expansion. At a subsequent meeting, the first cut of the fiscal year 2016 budget assumed a cost of $400,000.

A representative from Milzow Building Company submitted documents regarding a storage garage built in Waterford for an irrigation company for $110,000.

"I think it would serve your purpose for additional storage for equipment and files. This has all heating, plumbing, insulation and lighting," said owner Forest Milzow.

Citizens continue to collect signatures to present to council at a future meeting.

Executive Director Wendy Clufetos, center, accepted Clarkston Cleaning Services employee donations, totalling $225.

Donation for SCAMP

On June 10, SCAMP Executive Director Wendy Clufetos accepted a $225 check from workers at Clarkston Cleaning Services.

According to Clarkston Cleaning owner Dawn Raffler, each worker has a specially designed, pink SCAMP tee-shirt to wear. And, when they do, they donate a dollar to the local non-profit group. SCAMP's mission is to provide a "unique summer program offering fun social and recreational opportunities for children and young adults with disabilities."

Raffler said she is a long-time admirer of the work SCAMP does, and added it costs, "about $1,200 for one person to attend the five-week SCAMP camp."

For more information about SCAMP, call 248-623-8089. For more information on Clarkston Cleaning, please call 248-620-9410.

Briefly

Fourth of July parade

The Clarkston Fourth of July Parade Committee is looking for floats, walking units, bands and performers for the parade, which starts at 10 a.m., Saturday, July 4, at St. Daniel's Catholic Church on Holcomb Road.

The parade will proceed down Miller Road, south on Main Street to Church Street, and on to the Renaissance High School parking lot.

Parade entry is free to non-profit groups, and $35 for businesses and politicians. Parade registration is available on the Clarkston Chamber of Commerce, Clarkston, and Independence Township websites, or call 248-922-7395. Registration closes on June 29.

Town hall on roads

State Rep. Jim Tedder, District 43, hosts a town hall to discuss the House roads plan, 7:30 p.m., June 18, at Independence Township building, 6483 Waldon Center Drive.

"The House has introduced a plan that, while not perfect, makes great strides in creating a long overdue solution for Michigan roads. I want to make sure residents have the facts on the bills and where they are in the legislative process," said Tedder, Clarkston resident.

For more information or to submit questions, call 517-373-0615, email JimTedder@house.mi.gov, or check RepJimTedder.com.

Road work

Work continues on Sashabaw Road from I-75 to Waldon Road. The project includes work on the I-75/Sashabaw interchange, construction of a new off-ramp from northbound I-75 to southbound Sashabaw and the addition of a second lane to the on-ramp to southbound I-75 from northbound Sashabaw Road.

Culvert replacement work also continues on Maybee Road between Pineknob and Clintonville roads. The road is closed through about the end of the month. Detour is Sashabaw to Waldon to Clintonville. The rest of the project is expected to conclude in late September.

Fourth fun

Independence Township's Fourth of July Independence Fest in Clintonwood Park includes a Veterans Ceremony and Military Museum for the fifth year in a row. I've enjoyed taking part – helping to organize and participating in this part of the festivities. Vets display their uniforms, photos, medals, and other memorabilia for people to check out.

The new addition to the senior center, constructed over the past few months, looks like a go for the military museum. It's set to move from its former location in the Carriage House.

I'll be there, along with Vietnam, Korea, and hopefully World War II and more recent veterans.

I'll be representing Desert Storm vets, wearing my old desert camouflage BDUs and displaying stuff from my time in the U.S. Army in the late 1980s, early '90s – photo albums, uniforms, books and magazines on Soviet military equipment of the 1980s, maps of southern Iraq, etc.

I wore those chocolate-chip fatigues for the first time since 1991 at last year's festival, which was a pipe-dream of mine after gaining lots and lots of weight after leaving the service. I got rid of those extra pounds a couple years ago and kept it off for at least another year.

All vets are invited to participate in the celebration, 11 a.m.-3 p.m. It will also include a ceremony with flag raising, 21-gun salute, and recognition for vets.

The whole weekend looks like lots of fun, with the Fourth of July parade through downtown at 10 a.m., and craft show, petting zoo, live music, and fireworks at the park after that.

The Concert in the Park has country singer Kari Lynch scheduled for the Friday before, on July 3. And a Toby Keith Tribute band is scheduled to play at the vets celebration at 1:30 p.m. on the fourth.

I can appreciate that. I was stationed at Fort Campbell in southwest Kentucky, an hour away from Nashville, Tenn. Growing up in Dayton, Ohio, I had no particular exposure to country music. But a visit or two to Opryland showed the appeal, especially the stars of the time, folks like Garth Brooks, Reba McEntire, Randy Travis, and Trisha Yearwood.

Kari looks to be more like the country stars of the 21st century, like Carrie Underwood and Miranda Lambert. That's fine. I like them too.

POETRY SLAM: About 30 people, including this group of teens, attended a Poetry Slam in Depot Park on June 10 to read works of famous poets or their own original poetry. The Slam was hosted by Clarkston Cultural Arts, a group of artists and volunteers working to build a strong culture of arts in the community. The group has several upcoming events including Easels in the Park, which offers painting, sponsored by Picasso's Grapevine. For more information find them on Facebook. Photo by Andrea Beaudoin

A Look Back

From The CNews archives

15 years ago - 2000

"School millage passes; Foyteck, McLean retain board seats" Clarkston Community Schools residents overwhelmingly approved a non-homestead millage restoration at the annual school election by a 844-481 margin, June 12. They also reelected Mary Ellen McLean and Karen Foyteck to the board.

"Power outages close four schools" Clarkston High School, Sashabaw Middle School, Bailey Lake and Clarkston elementaries were closed due to power outages from an early morning storm. According to Superintendent Dr. Al Roberts the storm came at the worst time as the students were already on their way to school.

"This is your guardian angel" Random acts of kindness are often considered a scarce commodity. However Clarkston resident Sue Johnson's stock went up. She accidentally left her fanny pack on a cart in the parking lot at CVS on Dixie Highway. GNC employee Cheston Carson found it and gave her a call.

25 years ago - 1990

"School budget is $24 million" The Clarkston Community School Board of Education approved a $24.6 million budget for the 1990-91 school year, beginning July 1. While $24.6 million was expected in expenditures the district expected to receive $24.69 in total revenues, a 12.1 percent increase over the previous year.

"Township, residents at odds in Thendara Park" The progress of the Thendara Park road-paving project had some residents fuming. But Independence Township officials and the engineering firm in charge of $2.5 million paving project said the construction was ahead of schedule.

"CHS alumnus designs fashions for Calvin Klein" Some only dream of making it in the Big Apple, but Danny Gee, a 1986 Clarkston High School graduate, did. He was a design assistant in Calvin Klein's Design Studio for the Collection.

50 years ago - 1965

"Voters elect Ronk, Funk to school board" Tallied votes from the June election gave Frank G. Ronk and Richard L. Funk season on the Clarkston Community Schools Board of Education.

"Drawings approved for school additions" Working drawings for the Bailey Lake Elementary addition was approved by the board of education. The board also approved a purchase agreement for a future school site on Maybee Road.

Going thru some changes in life

I guess I'm going through the same changes in life that my dad did (and there is absolutely no hint or indication it can be related to Bruce Jenner nor Caitlyn).

My change in life is when it comes to the changes in music.

The big difference to me is that I got accustomed to dad's music enough to be able to understand the words and neither he nor I will even try to understand the unrecognizable noise, arm waving, yelling, jumping and butt wiggling crap that fills my TV screen and sends me quickly to the mute button.

My father is deceased, but I'm sure I knew him well enough to know his genes are in me.

Governor Snyder's explanation he gave to the entire legislature: "Not every family agrees on everything!"

Sort of makes we voters swell with pride at his explanation of inactivity in Lansing.

Michigan's Rainy Day (slush) fund has just been expanded by $95 million, and, of course, Gov. Snyder is expected to sign it.

To me, this non-directed money could be spent on whims of legislators. It's like the education budget increase. They let us know later the "inactivities" it covers.

* * *

Might as well stay negative now that I'm hot. Study out of Washington: 33% of us will not go to a doctor. Too costly.

That many, too, can't raise $400 for any emergency. I don't think Obama made that promise, it just happened.

We probably can't blame Obama for the bees stealing honey from other's hives, but I do believe he could legislate a penalty of a few months in hives in ghettos.

See, I can be positive at times!

A little less conversation, little more . . .

Elvis Presley sang a song in the late 1960s for the movie, Live a Little, Love a Little. The song, I believe written by Mac Davis (who also wrote In the Ghetto), was titled A Little Less Conversation. It wasn't that cool of a song in the late '60s, but became popular with a remix/dance version in the 2000s.

Of course, the above tidbits entertainment insight are not the point of this column, they were just random thoughts which materialized into that vast darkness between my ears when I tried to write about what I am about to . . .

. . . I while back, I wrote a very lovely (if I do say so myself, and I just did) bit of verbiage dedicated to recent graduates.

I offered sage advice for the newly, anointed adults and at least one part struck somebody's nerve. I received a note that, in part said, "Don, can you do a little bit more on empathy?"

One quick answer is, "Yes."

Another is, "No, look it up for yourself."

Since a short answer will not fill column space, here comes a longer answer. I know, I know. Be still your beating heart -- I can see you all fist pumping the air now that you know what's about to follow.

What is empathy? I think it's caring about another person, even if you don't know that person.

So, you're in your office, by the water cooler, by a show of hands, how many of you have snickered to or with a co-worker something like this?

"Did you see that lardo, chugging along the walking path last night. Jeeze, I can walk faster than he's 'running!' Why do that? I don't want to see that!"

Laughter ensues.

How much empathy do you think was shown there? If you guessed little to none, you win the prize. That situation was the opposite of empathetic -- sorta, anti-empathy, if you will.

A person with empathy upon seeing a person chugging along on the walkway might think, "Good for you."

See, the thing is, it is quite easy to sit back and make fun of other people, especially if you have never had a set back in your life; if you've been given everything and blessed with awesome health. It is quite another thing if this isn't your life.

Why make fun of a person trying to better themselves? What good does that do that person -- heck how does that make you a better person?

Before pulling the trigger on the sweaty, little chugger jogger jokes, stop.

Have a little less conversation and a little more empathy. Think . . . do you know what ails this person? Do you know why they are out there?

Do you care they are only chugging because maybe their knees are in pain or their hips . . . maybe they've been out for a hour and are tired. Maybe their heart is broken and full of pain. Maybe they have been a prolonged sense of depression and this is their shot of getting out of their bad spot.

So, who are you to poke fun at these living, breathing human beings?

Where is your empathy?

What would you do, were you walking -- chugging -- along in that person's shoes? What would you have others think of you?

For those who don't know, it takes a certain amount of mental moxie to put yourself out in front of the world to affect change. It's probably easier to try and affect change for the benefit of others -- it is much, much harder to try and better yourself.

It is embarrassing to admit such things about yourself! I know when I first started walking again recently, I waited until it was almost dark outside before I laced up my white sneakers and started chugging.

The fact of the matter was I did not want anybody to know what I was doing. Rather than thinking positively, "Let's go old man, let's get out and stretch those legs, pick 'em up and lay 'em down."

I was embarrassed by myself. I did not want anyone to see me huffing and puffing. (I have since gotten over myself and now sweat, pant and walk-jog by the light of the sun -- in living color for all to see -- if they even care.)

So, back to empathy. You want to affect positive change in the world? Do you want to set a good example for your kids, or other young people? Be empathetic.

When you see that person chugging along in life (whether it is merely walking, or sputtering along emotionally) offer some encouragement. Give them a wave, a shout out, "Keep it up! You can do it!"

Or simply smile and think to yourself, "Good for you."

School budget readings OK'd

BY PHIL CUSTODIO

Clarkston News Editor

Clarkston Board of Education approved first readings of the final amended budget for 2014-2015 and original budget for 2015-2016.

Next year's budget includes $79,575,736 in revenue, based on a student count of 7,819 students as well as 497 shared-revenue students.

It assumes a net increase of $90 per pupil in state funding, considering the Conference Committee State Aid Recommendation and a loss of 100 students, for a net loss of $30,000.

"We're expecting an increase of $140 per pupil - we fare well there," said Mary Beth Rogers, executive director for business administration, at the June 8 school board meeting. "But the state is eliminating Best Practice funding, which brings it down to $90."

Net revenue from shared services is budgeted at $353,000. The district provides human-resource and other services to local private schools Our Lady of the Lakes, Orchard Lake St. Mary's, Oakland Christian, Everest, Loyala, and Gesu Catholic in exchange for sharing their state per-pupil funding.

Spending is budgeted at $80,412,999, which includes $889,429 in "critical needs" spending to be determined later in the year by administration and approved by the school board.

"It's a place holder," Rogers said.

Staffing cuts are budgeted at $504,662. Three teachers were issued lay-off notices this past April, but nine retiring teachers as well as higher than expected enrollment should cover the cuts, said board President Steve Hyer.

"We hope to recall the three laid-off teachers," Hyer said.

Fund balance is budgeted at $5,603,711, 6.53 percent of the budget. The school board set a parameter of 6 percent this year, Rogers said.

The 2014-2015 final budget includes total revenues of $85,868,528, and expenditures of $86,102,080.

Public hearing, second reading and approval of the budget is set for the June 22 school board meeting. Public hearing will be at 6:30 p.m., followed by the regular meeting at 7 p.m.

Public Safety

For Clarkston and Independence Township

Vehicle vandalism

A Clarkson man's 1967 Dodge Charger was keyed while he was at the Secretary of State Office on Sashabaw Road, 12 p.m., June 1.

Suspended license

A 30-year-old Flint man was stopped for running a stop sign on Clintonville Road at Waldon Road, 3:25 p.m., June 2. He was cited for driving with a suspended license and disobeying the stop sign.

Hit and run

An Independence Township woman was stopped at Sashabaw and Maybee roads when a van hit her vehicle from behind, 4:25 p.m., May 30. The driver of the van said he would pay for the damages, but when she said she was calling police, he got back into his vehicle, used it to push her car forward out of the way, and drove away. She got a picture of his license plate as he fled. Deputies tracked the vehicle to the 2000 block of Diane Marie Court in Waterford. Waterford Police located the driver, and an Oakland County deputy made the arrest. The van driver, a 44-year-old Waterford man, was arrested for drunk driving, reckless driving, failure to stop in assured clear distance, and leaving the scene of an accident.

Red light runner

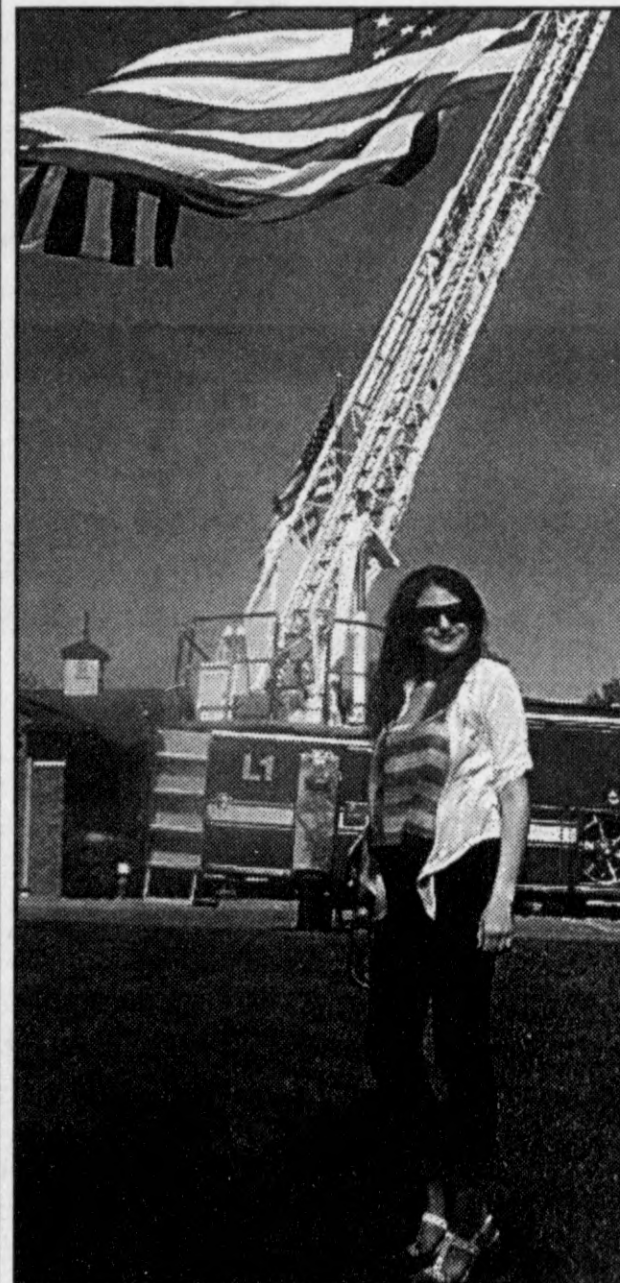

A deputy on patrol traveling southbound on Dixie Highway north of Ortonville Rd on June 4 at 5:30 p.m. noticed a car run a red light going northbound on Dixie Highway. A ticket was issued to the driver, an Independence resident, for an expired temporary Michigan driver's license.

Suspended speeder

A deputy on patrol stopped a car on Mann Road at Clintonville Road for going 51 mph in a 35 mph zone 8:20 p.m., June 10. The driver, a 41-year-old Independence Township man, was cited for speeding and driving with a suspended license.

Suspicious truck

A resident called police to report a suspicious white pickup truck driving through the neighborhood in the 8000 block of Oak Glen Court, 12:47 a.m., June 12. A deputy located the truck in the 8000 block of Oak Glen Court, noticed its license plate light was out, and stopped it. The driver, a 32-year-old Holly man, said he was out scrapping - there were full garbage cans by the roadside, and he had several items in the bed of his truck. He was cited for driving with a suspended license, no license plate light, and no proof of insurance.

Anna Mansour sang the National Anthem at a recognition ceremony for past and present Independence Fire Department employees, May 23. The event was funded by Firefighters Union Local 2629 and Independence Firefighters Association, and attended by over 80 guests. Awards were handed out based on years of service. The Sashabaw Middle School student sang Ed Sheeran's "I See Fire" to close the ceremony. Photo provided

Domestic violence

A 28-year-old Clinton Township man was arrested for domestic assault after a fight with his girlfriend, who was armed with a handgun, in the 8800 block of Clark Road, 11:15 p.m., June 13. The man and woman, a 33-year-old Springfield Township resident, got into an argument during a ride in a cab, which returned them to her Clark Road residence. The women went inside the house and locked the door, which the Clinton Township man kicked in. She fired one shot at the door, but he broke in and attacked her. Deputies responded and found her with injuries to her head. About two weeks ago, the man was arrested and charged with domestic assault in Clinton Township, and had a "no contact" order with the woman. The suspect was jailed pending charges with a valid bench warrant for Felony Probation Violation.

Season ends at quarterfinals

BY WENDI REARDON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

The Lady Wolves ended the season in the MHSAA Softball Quarterfinals against Farmington Hill Mercy after a successful season on June 9, 11-1.

"Nothing was going our way," said Don Peters, head coach for Clarkston Varsity Softball. "You always know you are going to have a day where nothing goes right and that's what happened with us. All the balls were dropping in and every play we made didn't work."

Mercy took the lead at the top of the first inning with three runs.

Clarkston scored at the bottom of the third inning off a triple from Alex Favazza, for one run.

"We were still in the game so I kept thinking somehow, some way we could come back and try to win," said Peters. "We just couldn't do it."

At the top of the next inning, Mercy struck again with three more runs and ended the game in six innings.

The Lady Wolves finished their season with a 40-3 record as well as claiming championships in the OAA Red, the district and the region. They also won the Mel and Josephine Vaara Pink Classic, Bay City tournament and the Ann Arbor tournament.

"We had a tremendous amount of accomplishments," Peters said. "There was a lot of great things. It was sad to end on that particular note because they are one of the best teams in the state and they played like that all the time."

He added the season and the heartbreaking ending will help next year's returners.

"It's so important to stay focused every second and you just can't get away from that," Peters explained. "The first inning of quarterfinal our focus wasn't where it was at and it was hard to get back into the game. I think it was the lights - the bigger the game, the bigger the lights are. It definitely helps to get that far and play that hard."

He added the girls worked throughout the entire season.

"Nothing was easy," Peters said. "We fought hard for the league championship. We fought hard for the district championship and regional championship and got ourselves at the quarterfinals which is something we haven't done in a long time."

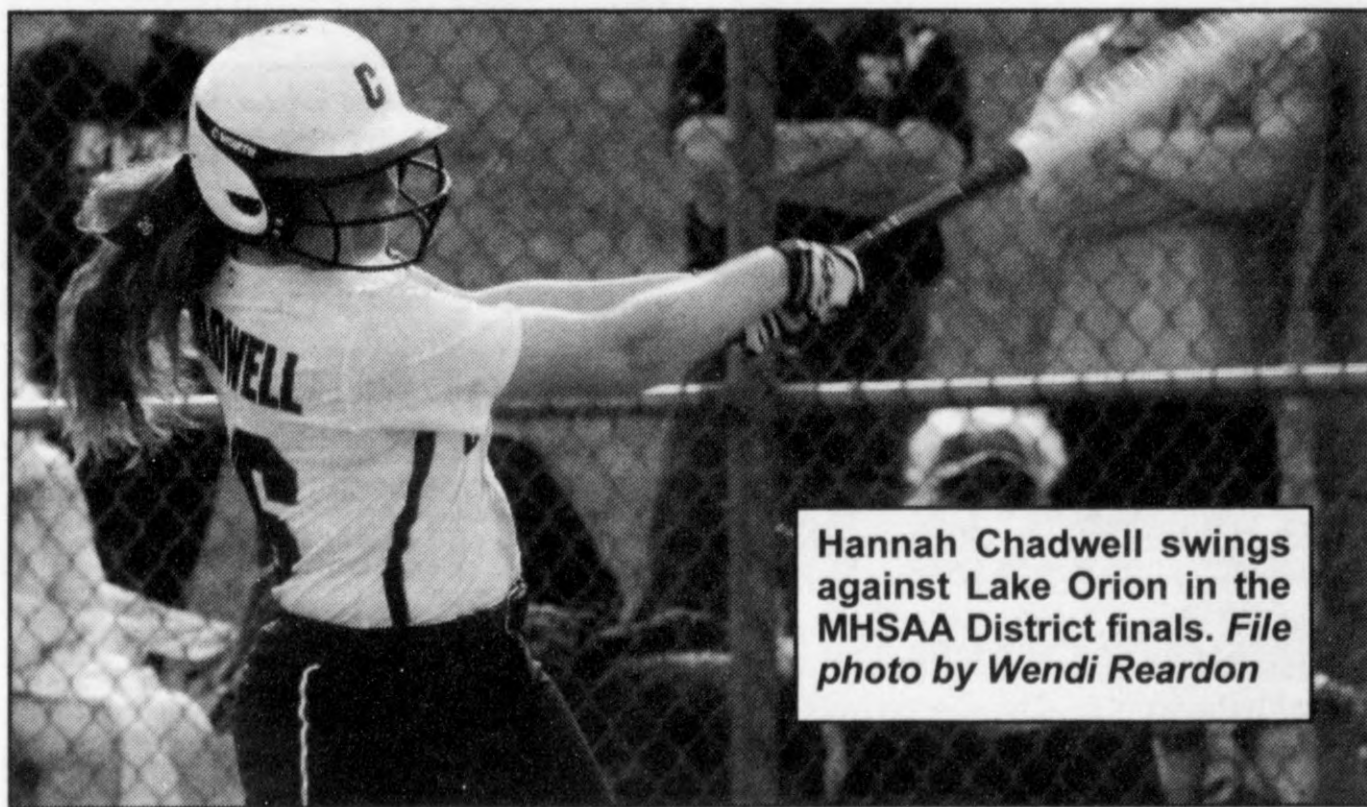

The Lady Wolves graduated eight seniors - Mikayla Blaska, Alex Favazza, Candace Kitchen, Madeline Maday, Ashley Skaggs, Abby Skvarce, Victoria Sharkey and Rachel Vieira.

"They have tremendous leadership and character," said Peters. "They really mentored the younger kids. It should carry on the next few years. They taught them how to play the game of softball and also how to conduct themselves as young ladies on and off the field and have fun."

He added the players had a lot of fun this year.

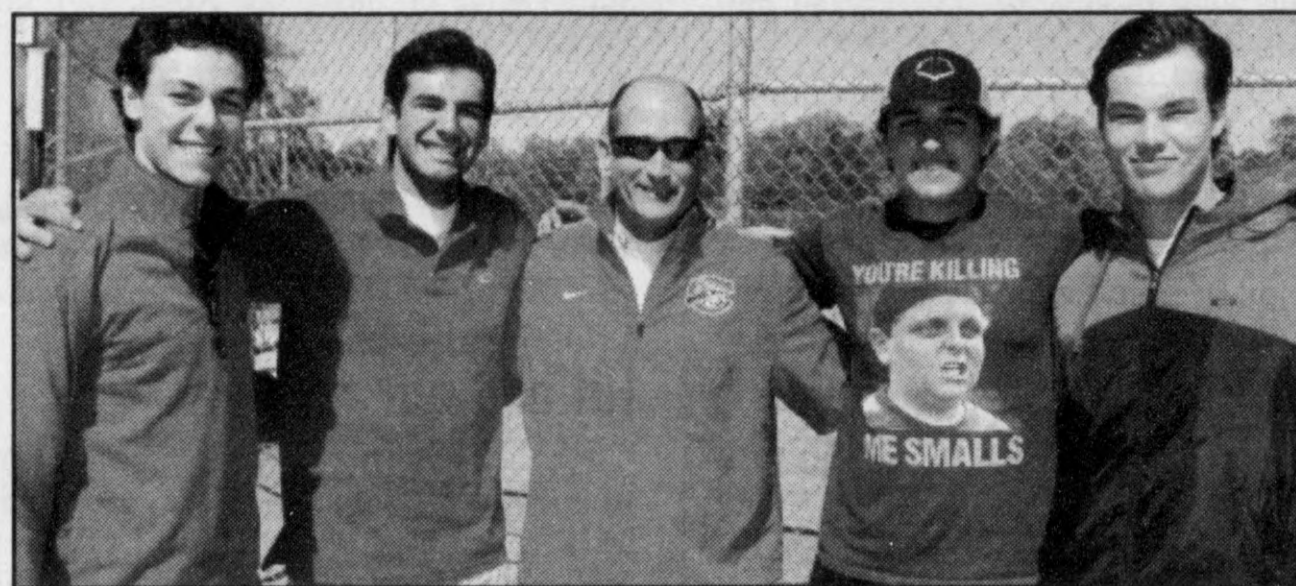

"It pleased me as a coach to see them have fun together," Peters continued.

"It's hard to say right now but there is so much more to the game than wins and losses."

Memories of 'Dawgs

BY WENDI REARDON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Clarkston residents and recent Notre Dame Prep graduates Matt Bur, Jacob DePillo, Luke Shilling and Joey Vyscosil glanced around the fields at Clintonwood Park.

They remembered playing there with the Clarkston Riverdawns and when they met on the 'Dawgs 9U team.

"We got together as a ragtag group of kids," Bur smiled. "I didn't know what to think of it. I wasn't any good."

"It was our first real baseball," Shilling added. "We just got to know each other."

The highlight of the season was beating the number one team in the league the Hit Dog in the last game of the season.

"We all realized at that point we were a decent bunch of kids, and it made us excited for the next year," Bur said.

The boys came back next year to play together and had a winning season.

"It was a fun year," said Shilling. "We kind of kept winning and just kept playing. I don't know if there was a team that improved more than we did from first to second year. It was a good time."

"From a team with no travel experience whatsoever to a bunch of guys coming together," DePillo added. "Then, in 10U we tore it up."

"It was a really good year - we went 49-8 - I just remember that stuff," Bur said about 'Dawgs 10U season.

Playing for the Riverdawns helped them grow as players and individuals.

"For all of us it was a great game for building character," said Shilling. "It will humble you and teach you a lot of life lessons. All of us getting to experience it together is really cool."

DePillo agreed, adding "baseball is awesome it teaches you a lot of life lessons. It's something I want my kids to experience and have the opportunity to go through it with such a great group of guys and a great coach that made it that much better of an experience."

Bur added playing with the Riverdawns created friendships. DePillo and Bur played baseball together every year and he never lost touch with Shilling and Vyscosil.

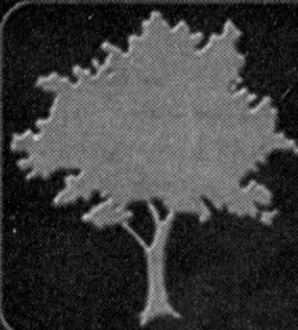

"What I take is the memories I will always have," Shilling said. "It was one of the best teams I have played with. It's just being able to be a part of it with these guys and playing with a great coach."

Camp fun

Summer is here and Clarkston coaches are offering several camps for interested players to learn a sport or improve their skills and work on their techniques.

Coach Don Peters, the Clarkston High School Varsity Softball coaching staff and varsity players have two camps for those interested in softball. T-Ball for Girls is for ages 4-6-years-old, June 22-25 from 10-11:15 a.m. The cost is $62.

Adventures in Softball is held for girls ages 7-12-years-old, June 22-25 from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. Players will participate in activities such as: athletic skill development, throwing, fielding, hitting, bunting, base running, pitching, catching, and sliding. The cost is $109.

Baseball players can learn from Coach Phil Price, his coaching staff and high school players during Baseball Camp for Beginner-Intermediate Level Players, for ages 7-14 years is June 22-25, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. for $160.

Fife Basketball Camp is July 13-16 and is open to boys entering grades 7-9 in the fall. From 8 a.m.- 3 p.m. The cost is $260 and participants need to bring a sack lunch, basketball equipment and a hard work attitude. The camp is coached by Dan Fife and his Clarkston High School Basketball staff. It is open to the first 104 applicants.

For boys entering grades 4-6 is Fife Fundamentals Basketball Camp. From shooting to defense, campers will learn the fundamentals of the game from Coach Fife and his coaching staff. The camp is July 6-9, 8 a.m.-12 p.m. The cost is $160 and is open to boys looking to improve their skills and hope to reach their full potential as a player. Please call Dan Fife with any questions at 248-623-4003.

The Clarkston Wolves Football Camp is July 27-30, 9 a.m. - 2 p.m. and is open to boys entering grades sixth through ninth and is held by Clarkston High School Varsity Football Head Coach Kurt Richardson with his coaching staff. Campers need to bring: football cleats, tennis shoes, football helmet, mouthguard, lunch, and water. All middle school and 9th grade players will be issued a helmet and mouthpiece for their season. The cost of the camp is $175. Please contact Coach Richardson with any questions, 248-623-4015. Online registration forms for camps can be found at www.clarkston.k12.mi.us/cec or register at Independence Township Parks & Recreation, 6483 Waldon Center Dr, lower level, open Monday - Friday, from 8 am - 5 p.m.

Riverdaws teach skills for life

They learned a lot from Riverdaws, especially from Coach John Kuczmanski.

"I can remember from coach John saying and my dad constantly regurgitating to me was you can't really worry about the things you can't control," Burr said. "In baseball, you can do just about everything right hitting and still get out. You can do everything right to win a game, give 100 percent effort but still lose. It's frustrating, but that's the way it is in life, too. It has definitely taught me to give it my all in life and in the field. Whatever happens, happens. You can't control the outcome all the time."

"It's a game of failure," Vyscosil added. "You take that to every aspect of your life. You can't fail if you try."

"These were more of the intense guys," Kuczmanski reflected. "They were four guys you could definitely tell were destined to play baseball. One thing I would tell these guys too is hard work, effort and attitude I don't see their report cards, but I imagine they are good students because they are good kids. I think that's important and they have good parents, too."

For DePillo, it also showed him he was meant to play baseball.

"Whenever you thought about are you supposed to do this and you are looking ahead at the future and asking I don't know if I am going to play baseball," he said. "But then you go back and remember the ups of 9U and 10U and it solidifies a feeling 'I am supposed to play baseball' this is fun. Ever since then I looked at it as I am a baseball player."

"If had not been for that team I don't know how long I would have continued baseball," Burr added about the team and coaches. "I don't know if I would have the same love for it that I do now. We played at such a high level and had so much fun together. We competed so hard. I look back at it as say 'wow, I wish baseball could be like that all the time.' You keep playing because of it."

Vyscosil added he wouldn't be where he is today without the Riverdaws.

The quartet is now off to college.

Shilling was selected in the 20th round in the 2015 Major League Baseball draft by the Texas Rangers, June 10. If he does not sign he will pitch for the University of Illinois.

He was able to visit a few other colleges and liked University of Illinois the best from an academic and athletic standpoint. He will study business.

He added continuing to play baseball was something he always wanted to do.

"It's really something hard to give up when you put as much time as we have all put into it," Shilling explained. "We have all been lucky to have opportunities to play the next level. It is something I wouldn't even think about passing up."

Vyscosil is attending University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee and will study computer engineering while he is a third and first basemen.

"They were one of the schools to give me a chance," he said. "I sent emails out to over 100 different schools. They were one of the ones to show interest. They came out to a few games. I really liked the school."

His love for the game is also why there was no question about not playing in college.

"I love the game," Vyscosil said. "When I am not playing baseball I am thinking about it, watching it, playing video games, reading books about it, and listening audio tapes about it."

Shilling laughed and added they both listen to an audiobook called Quality at Bat by Steve Springer.

"It just talks about hitting," he smiled. "I recommend."

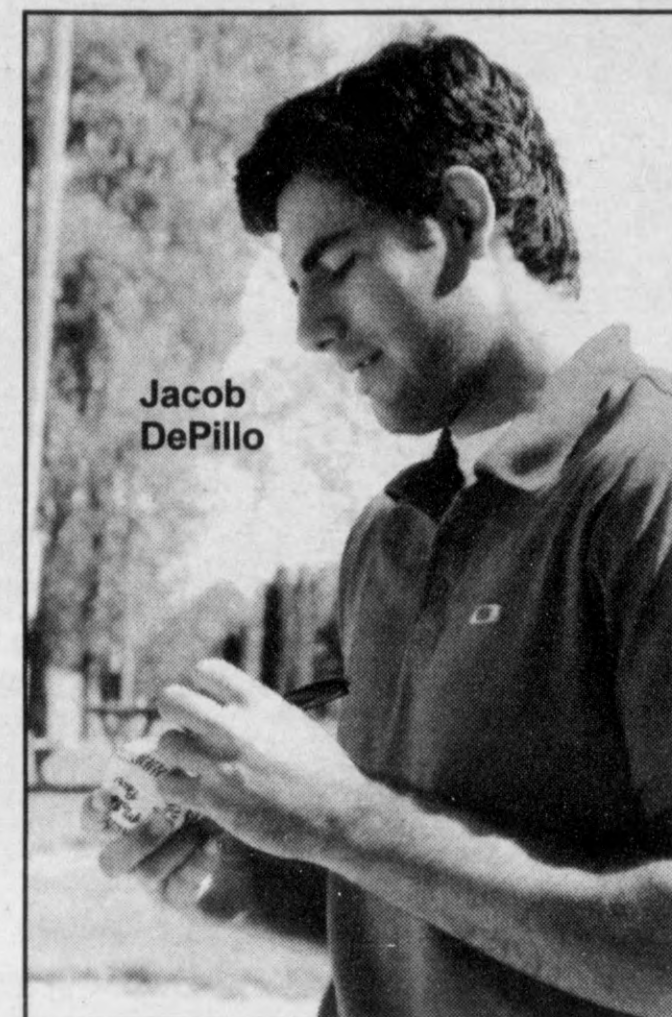

Burr is heading to Albion College to play outfield and it ended up to be a good fit for him academically. He will study education and is leaning towards going into a science.

"I couldn't see myself not playing baseball," he shared. "It's my first love."

He was in the same situation as Vyscosil - not many schools were giving him the opportunity.

He was looking at Division II schools but when he had shoulder surgery a year ago they lost interest. Albion didn't.

"Albion had faith I could recover from surgery," he added. "I really like the coach. Education, it's my first love. I couldn't see myself not playing. It was definitely worth all the hours to get back to playing.

DePillo is going to Hillsdale College where he will be studying finance and will be a first and third basemen. He added his main goal in looking for college baseball was going someplace he could through baseball.

"Hillsdale is academically rigorous and prestigious. When the coach came in contact with me I was really excited because I knew it was a really good opportunity for me to get a good education and good collegiate baseball. I got really excited and I couldn't pass it up after that."

He added he also couldn't see himself not playing baseball.

"It's one of those things if I were to choose not to play baseball I would probably regret it for the rest of my life," DePillo explained. "When you get an awesome opportunity like this to play college baseball I simply could not pass it up."

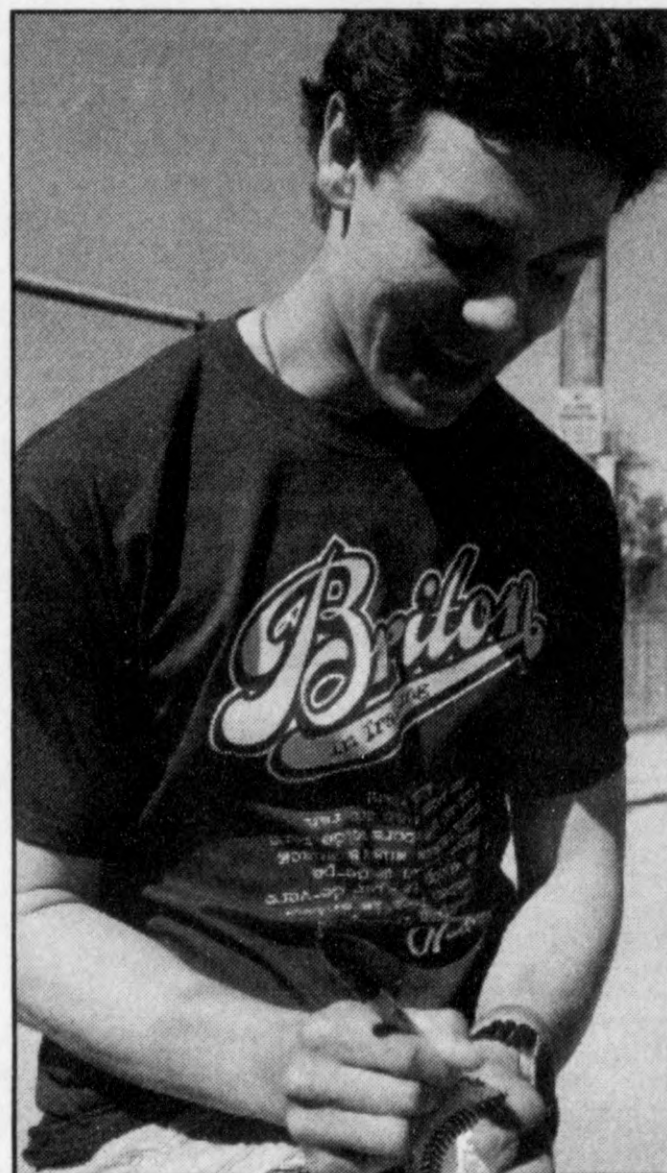

He finished his senior year being awarded All-American for strength and conditioning.

"For everyone here the day eventually comes we will have to hang up the cleats and put away everything," Shilling said. "It will be a sad day for all of us."

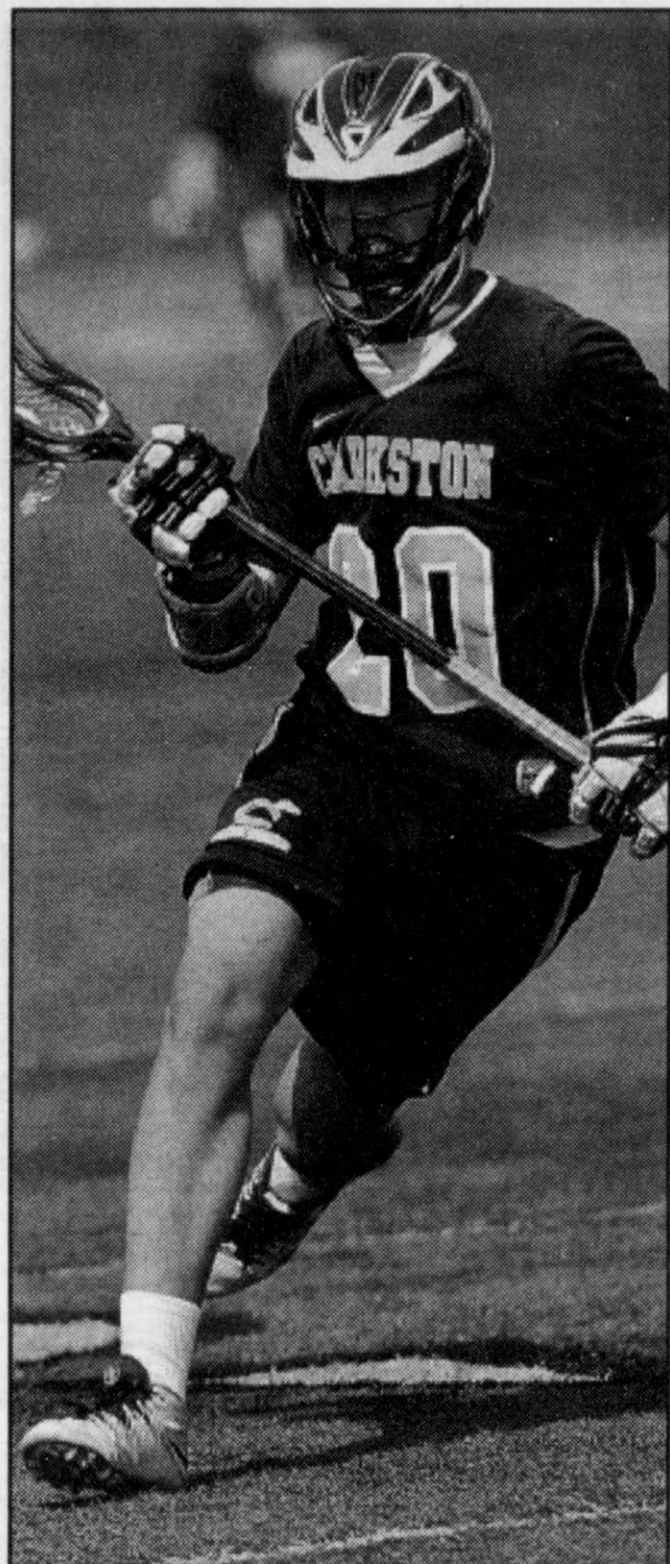

The four signed a baseball for Kuczmanski. They looked at the baseball fields one more time before thanking their biggest fans through the years.

"We want to give a shoutout to our parents without them we definitely would not be where we are today," said DePillo. "My dad is always working with me and my brothers just improving on baseball all the time."

"My dad didn't know much but now coaching," Burr added. "He would take score for Coach John. He has learned so much he is coaching my brother through Riverdaws. It's really a testament to the Riverdaws."

Tournament champions

Players from Clarkston in the Oakland Baseball Club 16U Tournament team added a few more achievements to their successful season.

They are currently ranked first in the state of Michigan and they won the championship in their first two tournaments - USSSA Great Lakes Challenge and the USSSA State Tournament.

They head to the Future Stars this Thursday for a tournament in the Lansing area. Then, they are in Toledo, Ohio for the 8th Annual Battle at the Border, June 27-28. They end the season at the 15U/16U Surf's Up tournament in Myrtle Beach, Florida, July 12-17, where they will be for the Cal Ripken/Ripken Experience for national exposure and competition.

Talks about communications

board," and should avoid speculating how the board could vote on a future issue.

It also says "board members and the superintendent may speak with the media, the community and legislators; providing they clarify they are speaking as individuals rather than as authorized representatives of the board when offering opinions on educational, legislative or community issues for which the board has not taken an official position."

This seems to contradict section E, Hamilton said.

"I have no problem with not speaking for the board," he said. "As an individual, I feel it's my right to express my opinion if I feel that need. I'd like that clarification."

The procedures, creation of which was a board goal for this year, are not meant to hinder individual trustee's response to questions from the media on how they vote, said Trustee Kelli Horst.

"Make clear it's your individual opinion," said Horst, chair of the communications committee, which also includes trustees Elizabeth Egan and Greg Need, Superintendent Dr. Rod Rock, and Heidi McClain, administrative assistant. "The intent is when we vote as a board, one person is authorized to speak to the vote, and that is the president – (but) in no way are we saying you can't speak to the press."

The proposal also includes a provision against "communicating with each other or using social media during board meetings."

Last year, school attorney George P. Butler issued a legal opinion recommending Board of Education members not post to social media about board business. Egan, board President Steve Hyer, who was a trustee at the time, and Trustee Cheryl McGinnis were found to have done so at a previous meeting ("Tweets continue," May 21, 2014).

As board president, Hyer said the procedures are to ensure transparency.

"At this table, you can say anything you want – that is the place for that," he said. "We operate 100 percent in public, in the open – we should not be debating outside this table."

The recommendations were approved 7-0. The committee will reconcile the recommendations with existing board bylaws and policies and bring back the remainder for approval, Horst said.

"We'll work on the language a little bit," she said.

Policy changes will be submitted to the board for approval at a future meeting, probably June 22, she said.

Recommended procedures

The Clarkston School Board recommended a nine-part Procedures for Board Communications, including:

A. Communicating During Board Meetings – use formal names and titles, direct all comments and questions to president;

B. Requesting Information About Meeting Agenda Items – superintendent provides information to board members 72 hours in advance of meetings, deadlines for board-member question submission;

C. Requesting Information Not Related To Meeting Agendas – submit in writing. If superintendent determine request requires significant staff time, board president will place the request on an upcoming meeting agenda

D. Communicating Among Trustees Between Meetings – weekly board update from superintendent; board president can canvass individual board members for support or perspective on board issues;

E. Communicating Using Traditional and Social Media – board president is board spokesperson to the media, superintendent is district spokesperson to the media, board member who receives call from the media for comment on board business or a board decision refers reporter to the board president or superintendent, board members refrain from deliberating via electronic or social media, refrain from communicating with each other or using social media during board meetings;

F. Communicating with the Community, participate in community activities as liaisons between public and school district, while following guidelines;

G. Responding to Community or Employee Feedback and Complaints – board members who receive complaints from community members or employees will listen respectfully and empathetically, but make no attempt to respond to the concern or "solve" the problem, and refer complainant to the board president if regarding a board decision, or "chain of command" within the district;

H. Communicating With Legislators – approved resolutions are the board's official position on legislative issues and are treated as any board action, invitations for legislators to visit the district or its schools coordinated with the superintendent.

I. Appropriate Communication Topics for Individual Board Members – support decisions of the board, avoid speaking out against board decisions, clarify speaking as individuals when talking to media on educational, legislative, or community issues.

Pink flocks help mission trip

Flocks of pink flamingos have been appearing in Clarkston area front lawns lately. The teenagers responsible have come forward – it was all to raise money for a mission trip to Costa Rica.

"It was a fund raising tactic," said Jake Giola, member of the Clarkston United Methodist Church international mission trip for high school graduating seniors.

In exchange for a donation, the students would surreptitiously set up the plastic birds in a spot of the donor's choosing.

"A lot of people had us flock someone else," Giola said.

The group "flocked" about 100 places, including Bailey Lake Elementary School, raising more than half what was needed for the trip.

The students' trip to the Central American nation, June 14-20, is with the Rice and Beans Ministries. They'll help with building projects, feed the hungry, pray with the people, provide children with uniforms for school, and put on day camp Bible Schools.

For more information, email Mary Gladstone-Highland at mgh@clarkstonumc.org or check www.riceandbeansministries.com.

It was a day of celebration at Deer Lake Beach on the last day of school, June 9. There was plenty of fun in the sun and fun with friends. Photos by Andrea Beaudoin

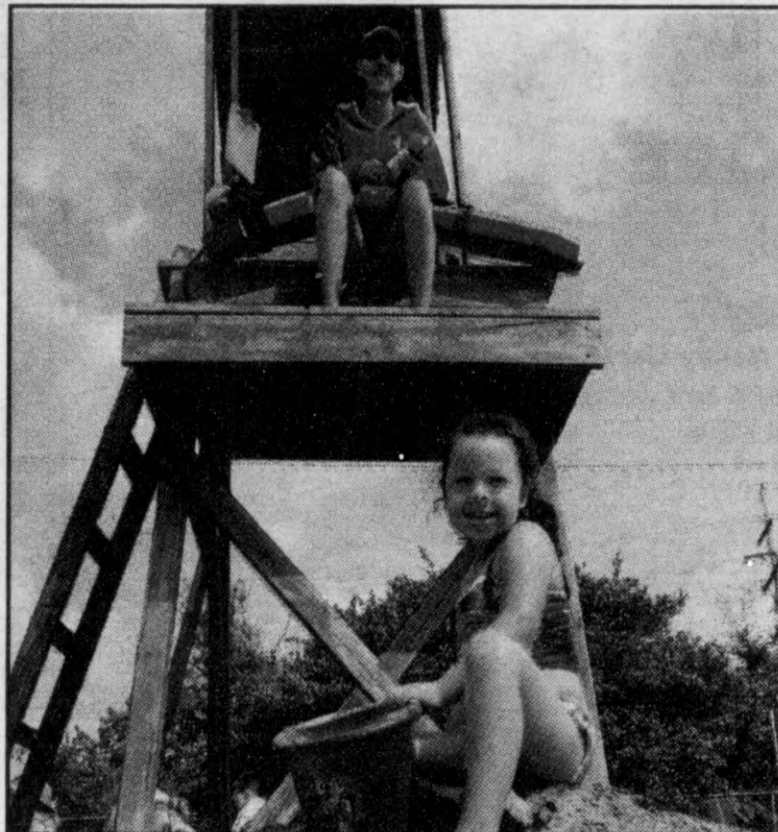

A group of friends enjoy a visit to Deer Lake Beach.

Fun in the sun

The 2015 Splash Into Summer Party at Deer Lake Beach was a fun and free event for kids on June 9.

It was the last day of school and festivities at the beach were free after 3 p.m. The beach was full of groups of friends celebrating summer together, families enjoying the lake and adults soaking up the sun.

Andrea Beaudoin

Deer Lake Beach activities include digging in the sand, under the watchful eyes of the lifeguards.

It's time to for mom to help build a sand castle on the edge of Deer Lake.

STATE SOLOIST: Grace Harmon of Clarkston, 14, was chosen to be a soloist in the Youth Arts Coalition's Honors Recital in Lansing, May 14. Based on her perfect score at the YAC Solo and Ensemble Festival earlier in March, she was selected to be one of 18 homeschooled students across Michigan to perform in the recital. Harmon was the only piano soloist, performing Brahms' Waltz, Op.39, No. 15. Photo provided

Carrying the torch for Special Olympics

Michael Lowther of Clarkston helped see the international Special Olympics Flame of Hope through Michigan, June 8.

"I'm eager to be part of it," said Lowther, who led a team of fellow Bank of America employees, escorting the flame through Detroit. "I've always seen Special Olympics as family – it's always good to help kids prepare for Special Olympics."

Growing up, he remembers his older brothers, twins Rob and Joe, participating in the sports competition every year.

"Sports were important, and Special Olympics was a way for everyone to be involved," he said. "It was always a good time, a great way for them to participate."

Thirty years ago, it was tough for special needs athletes to be involved in team sports. That's different now, he said.

"I've learned how much the community has grown," Lowther said. "It's a way to be part of a team and learn the benefits of hard work, life skills, how to win and lose in the right way."

Lowther, who has been with Bank of America since 2008, was one of 15 Michiganders selected to carry the torch in the Flame of Hope's route through Michigan, June 8-10.

"You see some of the happiest people there, purity of happiness. We could all use more of that," he said. "It's a good cause."

He led the team as the Special Olympics Unified Relay Across America made its way through Detroit, heading to Ann Arbor, Lansing, and Ypsilanti.

The torch relay began on May 26, where it was split into three simultaneous routes starting in Augusta, Maine; Miami, Fla.; and Washington, D.C.

Thousands of participants across the United States are running, walking or biking a segment of the Unified Relay as it passes through all 50 states.

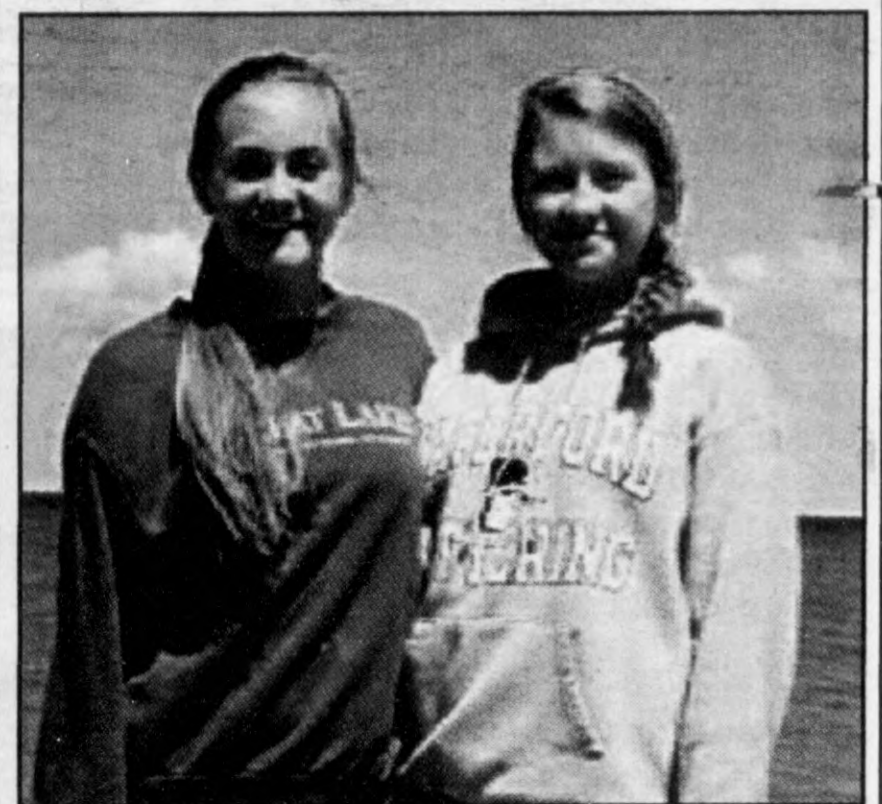

Traveling west, all three routes will converge at the Opening Ceremony of the 2015 Special Olympics World Games in Los Angeles on July 25.

Lowther moved to Clarkston with his family in August. His wife, Lindsay Lebow, works in Bloomfield.

"This is a central location and we have friends in town," he said.

Keeping the music alive this summer

BY JULIE GOLDBERG

Special to the Clarkston News

School's out for five Clarkston High School students and grads, just the right time for their own jazz ensemble.

"We wanted to have fun playing jazz music outside of jazz band," said Jake Vanderheyden, who will be attending Grand Valley State University in the fall, focusing on management and finance.

Vanderheyden, fellow graduate Thomas Lowe, and juniors Mark Stout, Dylan Gray, and Evan Scott formed the band Out of the Blue in late March and are playing at restaurants and parks this summer.

Vanderheyden plays the alto saxophone, Lowe plays bass guitar, trumpet for Stout, Gray on drums, and piano for Scott.

"I wanted to get better at bass and get better at guitar and music in general," said Lowe, who is attending University of Michigan-Flint in the fall, focusing on computer science and music. Lowe is also in the band Sail, another successful local band.

They play a variety of jazz music, bop, swing, Latin, and ballads.

"I love playing music, especially jazz music," said Stout. "I want to inspire younger kids that want to join jazz band in the future."

Charlie Fallis was a big mentor for him, he said.

"The fact he was so good inspired me to be what I could be today," Stout added.

Fallis was in Clarkston's jazz band for three years and is now a music education major at Central Michigan University.

The boys want to become better musicians and learn more about jazz outside of the classroom. With performing the right jazz standards, they will learn what it is like to perform in the music industry.

"I want to keep playing jazz, and playing with these guys gives me the opportunity to do so," said Scott. "When I listen to music, like epic classical works or amazing jazz pianists, it makes me want to get better and practice so that maybe someday I too can play such powerful music."

Vanderheyden said his mom is one of his biggest influences.

"Since my mom is an accomplished musician, she has always supported my involvement in music and has always provided me with a good music education outside of school," he said.

Gray's parents paid for his first drum set when he was 9 years old, and supported him with everything he has done with band.

"I want to keep playing the drums," he said. "We are all worried about what is going to happen to music education."

It's important to keep supporting music education so that it stays a part of Clarkston for many years, he said.

Power of words on Fathers Day

A woman came to a lawyer and said, "I want to get a divorce. I really hate my husband, and I want to hurt him. Give me some advice. I want to get his gold. I want to give him the shaft. I want to hurt him every way I can."

The attorney said, "All right, here's what you do. For the next three months while we're going through the divorce proceedings, don't criticize your husband. Only speak kind words to him. Build him up. Every time he does something, commend him for it. Tell him what a great guy he is, and do that for three months."

Spiritual Matters

Pastor Greg

told him what a great man he was.

Guess what happened? After three months, they forgot about the divorce and went on a second honeymoon!

Words are powerful! We shape our words and then our words shape us. The Bible says, "If you claim to be religious but don't control your tongue, you are just fooling yourself, and your religion is worthless." James 1:26 (NLT)

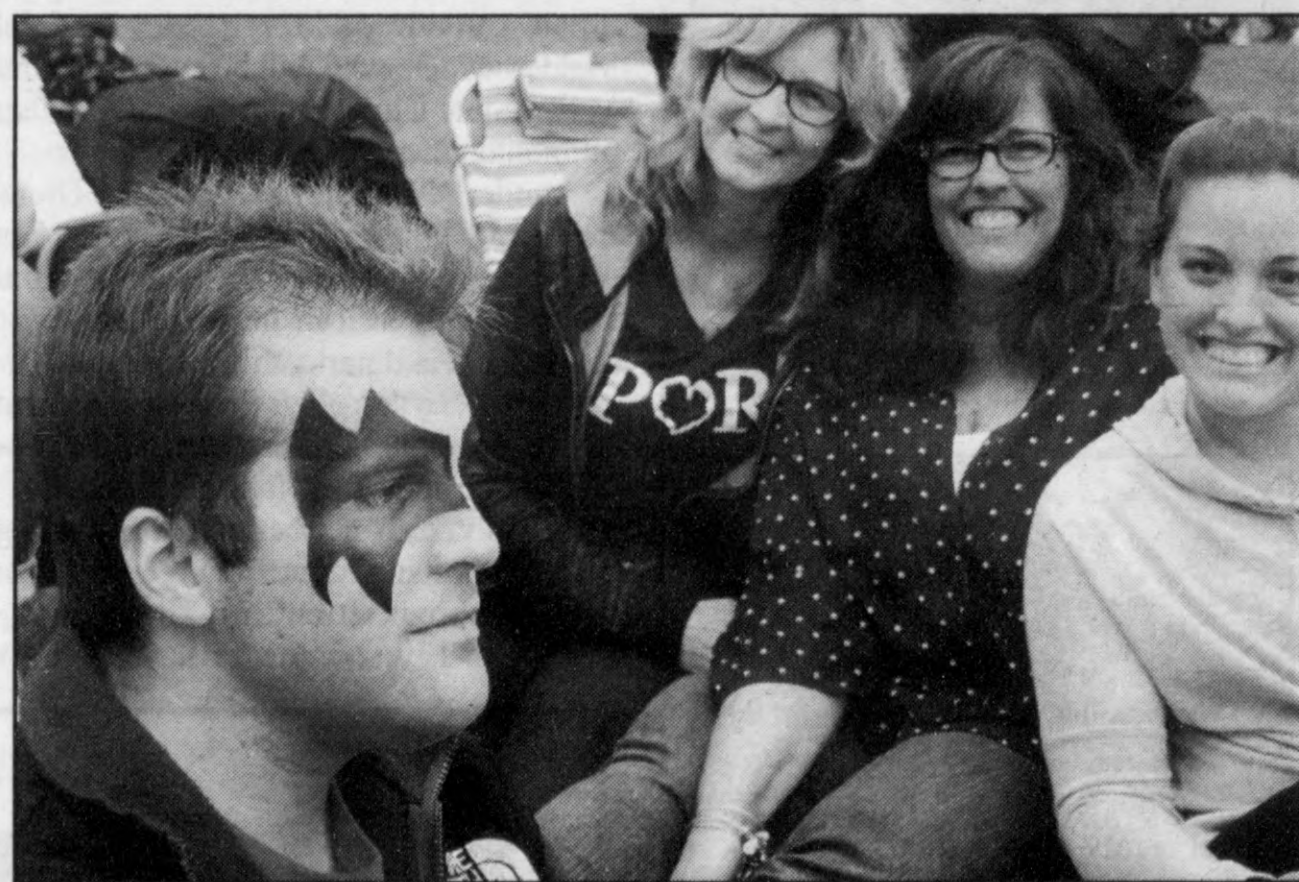

How's your home life? How's your marriage?

Maybe you've been a Christian for years, but you have no control over your tongue. Maybe you swear and use profanity. Maybe you and your spouse are verbally at war with each other. Criticism and harshness are common.

God says, "If you want my power in your lives, you've got to get control of your tongues, because the words you use are powerful and shape your life!"

Fathers, this Father's Day use the power of words to bless your family. Mothers, tell your husband how great he is, and see what happens.

The Rev. Greg Henneman is pastor of Clarkston Community Church.

Bonnie McNeill, 68

Bonnie Lynn McNeill gracefully and peacefully passed away Sunday, June 7, 2015, 5 p.m., at 68 years old.

Her passage comes after 18 months of courageous time with ampullary adenocarcinoma. Bonnie is a life-long resident of Michigan; raised in Walled Lake, raising children in Clarkston, and retired to Oxford with husband Dale.

Bonnie spent many years working for Yellow Freight as an Executive Secretary and then as a Recruiter with Oaktek Professional Temporaries.

Bonnie's true life work however, was being a source of complete unconditional, tender, nurturing love for her family, friends, and anyone whom had the privilege to meet her. She was radiant with external beauty, but even more her warm light shined bright from the kind and generous heart she gave lovingly to this world.

Bonnie was a gentle, deeply spiritual soul, but also strong as an adventurer without fear to play hard, get dirty and ride fast. She was gifted in countless ways, most especially in athletics, organizing, and nurturing.

Bonnie loved dancing to Bob Seger, reflecting with Barbara Streisand, nesting in her second home in Garland, Mich., trips to Cabo with dear ones, and exploring the mountains of Montana with family.

Cherished time with husband, children and grandchildren, was the source of her happiness.

Bonnie is survived by husband Dale married 33 years; children Beth and husband Al, Kellee and husband Steven, Tommy and wife Kelly; grandchildren Jen, Wes, Evan, Noah, Jameson, and Ben; four great grandchildren and three siblings. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

Gordon F. Sawyer, 79

Gordon F. Sawyer of Clarkston passed away peacefully on June 8, 2015, at age 79.

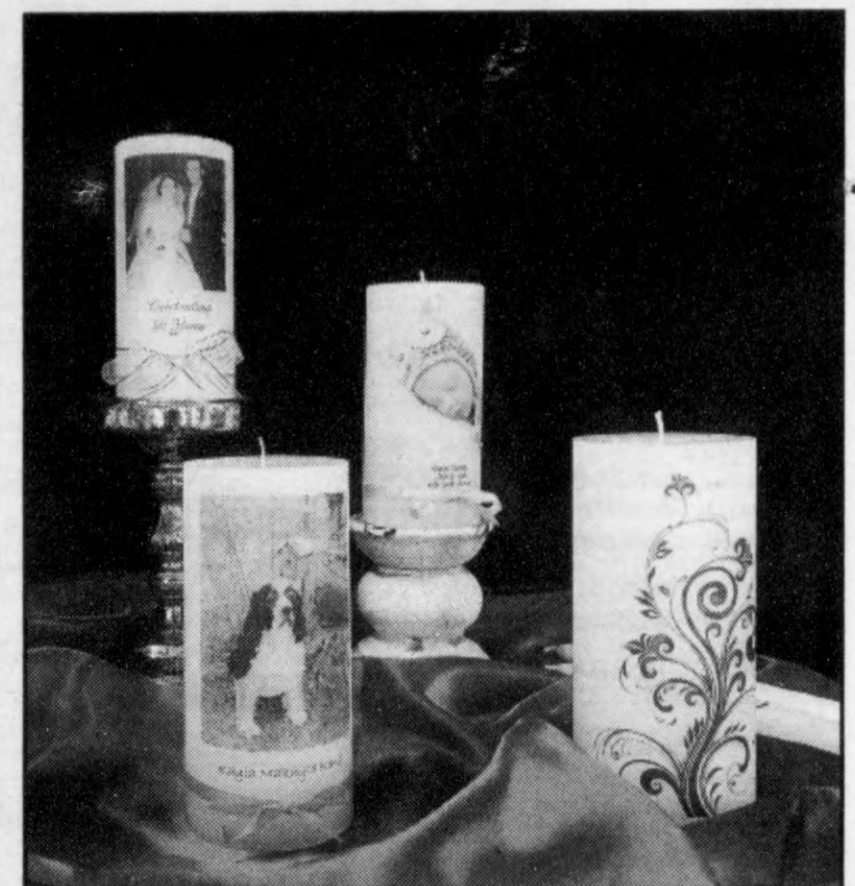

He was the loving husband of Sue for 59 years; proud father of Mike (Jodie), Steve and Jeff; grandpa of Amanda (Jake), Lindsay, Kristine (Adam), Michelle and Jenna; great grandpa of Sawyer; brother of Earl (Betty), Joe (Rosie), Ray (Mary), Tom (Kathy), Tim, Janice, Sharon and Gena; brother in law of Chuck and Carol Wilkinson; preceded in death by brothers Butch, Jim and parents Gerald and Earla; also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Gordon worked at GM for 30 years. He retired to Myrtle Beach and enjoyed his passion for golf. Gordon was one of the original founders of Clarkston Chiefs Football and was a little league baseball coach.

Davisburg Candle Factory now offers candles imprinted with photos.

Davisburg Candle Factory, 634 Broadway in downtown Davisburg, now has the ability to apply photographic images to their hand-made candles. There are many styles to choose from and the photo candles can be further embellished with names or monograms.

"This is a great way to preserve precious memories. Customers are having their favorite wedding, anniversary, baby and pet photos made into lasting works of wax art," said Melissa Beznitz, one of the factory co-owners.

Photos can be emailed to candlepicsdcf@outlook.com or brought into the Davisburg Candle Factory to be turned into mementos and gifts. Most candles are ready for pick up within a week, depending on complexity.

For more information, call 248-634-4214 or email contactus@candlefactorymi.com.

Geese control plan

Independence Township Board voted, June 9, to approve a resolution in favor of a plan to control Canada geese in the Cranberry Lake neighborhood.

The neighborhood representative requested approval to round-up and capture the geese. The requests were forwarded to the Department of Natural Resources.

Lions raised over $10,000

The Clarkston Area Lions Club's annual White Cane Week, April 24 to May 2, was successful.

"We received over $10,600 in donations at our various collection locations," said Lion Jerry Baumgart.

All proceeds fund programs and organizations including Leader Dogs for the Blind, Bear Lake Camp for the Blind, Eversight Michigan, Penrickton Center for Blind Children, Beaumont Silent Children's Speech Fund, Clarkston Lighthouse, and O.A.T.S.

"Additionally, we support eye examinations and eye glasses as well as hearing aids for those in need in our community. We also perform free vision screening of local children monthly at our Library as well as at other community events," added Baumgart.

Eddy Kaleel, with his project.

Eagle Scout

Eagle Scout Eddy Kaleel of Troop 139 hosted his Eagle Scout Court of Honor Ceremony at the Independence Township senior center, June 7, with fellow scouts, family, and friends in attendance. State Rep. Jacobson presented a certificate from the state.

Kaleel, son of Ed and Sue Kaleel of Ortonville, organized a project to build a new brick walk in the Memorial Garden at the center, where Eddy's grandmother is an active member.

Wolf Day

Sashabaw Middle School sixth and seventh graders enjoyed a sunny day filled with activities on Wolf Day, June 5.

Activities included games inside of the school and inflatables in the gymnasium.

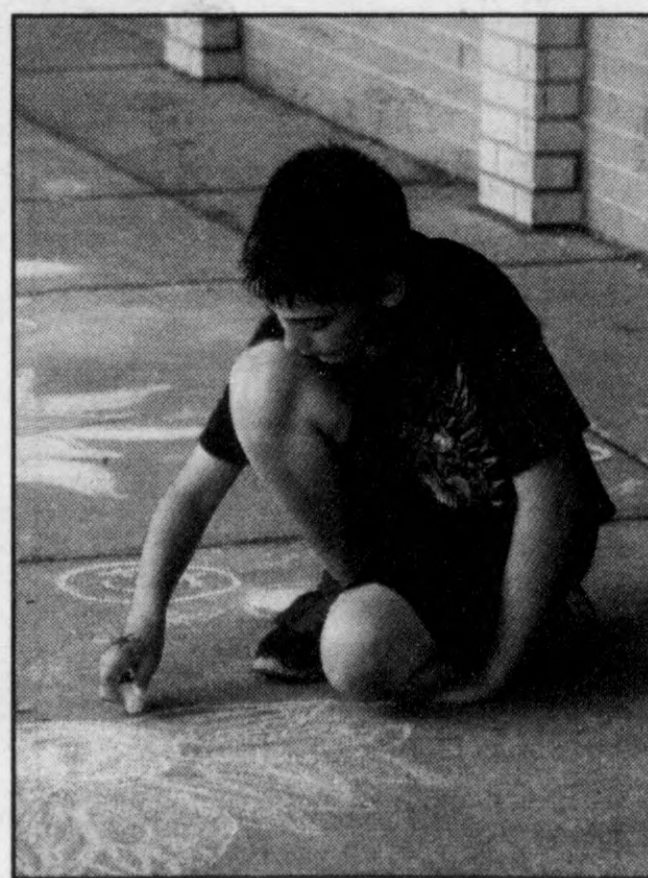

The students enjoyed an array of activities outside with volleyball, kickball, yoga, and drawing with sidewalk chalk. The girls got henna tattoos and had their hair braided.

During the morning, the seventh graders enjoyed a visit from the Flying Aces.

So long, Class of '15

Independence Township resident Grace Pryor was all smiles and laughter during Clarkston High School's graduation ceremonies at Pine Knob, last week.

A Special Salute To The Area's Graduating High School Seniors in the June 17, 2015 Clarkston (Mi) News

Shivajee Nallamothus -

Doctor of Orthopedic Surgery, husband, father, and Clarkston area resident

Congratulations Graduating Seniors!

Your hard work and dedication has paid off!

Now, as you enter the next chapter of your life remember your core values of honesty and integrity.

Thank You.

It has been an honor being a part of this community for many years, raising our family here, sending our kids to school here and growing my practice here. It has been my privilege to have helped many of you, your brothers and sisters through your injuries to recovery.

Convenient access to comprehensive healthcare

Our focus is providing your family with a complete healthcare solution. Our goal is to provide you with comprehensive care in the most convenient and efficient manner possible. Need a test done? Let's not wait two weeks, we'll get answers now. Can't make it here during the day? We're here early and we stay late. We have your entire family's medical care covered by the best and brightest healthcare providers in our area.

- A preventative medicine model
We find the problems before symptoms develop through comprehensive physical exams. We also promote a healthy lifestyle so you can live life fully.
- Board Certified Staff
Our physicians are board certified in Family Practice, Internal Medicine and Pediatrics. Our experienced PAs and NPs add additional expertise to give your family their own health care team.
- Weight Management Program
A safe, proven way to achieve and maintain a healthy weight
- 24-Hour Urgent Care
Our team is always here for any unplanned illnesses or injuries
- An Independent Practice
We are an independent physician group but we work with the area's best hospitals. Our providers are on staff at WBH, GRMC, McLaren-Oakland, SJMH and Crittenton.

We are located within the state of the art Clarkston Medical Building with convenient access to:

- Advanced diagnostics
 - o Women's breast center
 - o MRI
 - o CT and X-ray
 - o Ultrasound
 - o 24 Hour laboratory services
 - o Cardiac Stress Testing and Vascular Imaging
- The Clarkston Surgery Center
Outpatient surgeries can now be done minutes from your home
- Pharmacy
Locally owned, The Pine Knob Pharmacy serves our community
- The area's best specialists
Over 100 specialists representing 25 different subspecialties

Visit us today and discover why we're the better choice!
