4 for City Council

BY PHIL CUSTODIO
Clarkston News Editor

City Council will have at least one new face after the Nov. 8 election. Running for three open, two-year seats are two incumbents, council members Sharron Catallo and Michael G. Sabol, and two challengers, Rick Detkowski, Jr. and Sue Wylie.

Catallo's top three issues are communication, finances, and parking.

The top issues for Detkowski are community polarization, communication, and city productivity.

For Sabol, the top issues are the search for a new city manager, a facility for city DPW, and improved city council and administration relations.

Wylie's top issues are resolving differences among members of the community, communications, and city productivity and efficiency.

Runners snag league title

BY WENDI REARDON PRICE
Clarkston News Sports Writer

It was a boost into the post season as the Wolves claimed the OAA Red title after winning the league championship race last Thursday at Bloomer Park in Rochester Hills.

"We were very excited," said Clarkston Boys Cross Country Coach Larry Adams. "We did it with a team effort. All eight guys were all a pretty big part of us being successful. Everybody played a part in our victory which is nice we didn't just count on a couple of kids who run up front.

They finished with 61 points at the championship as Birmingham Seaholm finished in second, 62; Lake Orion, third, 84; Rochester Adams, fourth, 86; Oxford, fifth, 96; Rochester, sixth, 146; and Troy, seventh, 153.

They had four runners finish as All-League with Gavin Eisert leading the way in eighth place at 16:33.7; Mika Juuhl, 11th, 16:46.1; Brendan Favazza, 12th,

Tainted water at schools

BY PHIL CUSTODIO
Clarkston News Editor

Students at Springfield Plains and Bailey Lake elementary schools are drinking bottled water as work continues to replace and retest fixtures found to be contaminating water with lead.

The cost for replacing the fixtures so far is around $15,000, said Superintendent Dr. Rod Rock.

"We won't know the total until we have the final test results. We do not anticipate that insurance will cover these costs," Rock said.

"Student safety is our first concern. We are working to address the issues at hand," Rock said when asked if civil action is being considered against the contractor or manufacturer of the fixtures. "That is our focus at this time."

BLE, SPE, and Andersonville Elementary are on wells. The Oakland County Health Department requires the district to conduct water tests at these sites every three years, when school is in session.

In September, the tests identified fixtures at SPE and BLE that were above allowable limits.

Suspect charged in jogger attacks

Charles Gamble II of Independence Township faces assault charges in connection with attacks on two joggers in Genesee County.

Gamble, 40, was arraigned in Genesee County District Court on Oct. 21 with assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder and assault and battery.

He is charged with attacking a 33-year-old woman who was running in Davison Regional Park on Sept. 30, and a 36-year-old woman on an Atlas Township walking path on Oct. 7.

City Council hires interim manager

Clarkston City Council voted unanimously, Oct. 24, to hire Rich Little as interim city manager.

Compensation is a $100-per-week stipend from Oct. 24 until Dec. 31, 2016, or upon hiring a new city manager.

Little had been volunteering at city hall, along with Steve Percival, resident and candidate for mayor, to help with city administration.

"I'm amazed by how much goes on here, the interaction with people," he said. "There's a lot of activity here."

"Thank you Rich for your service to the city so far," said Mayor Protem Eric Haven.

Little said he is available until late January.

"We should have someone in place by then," he said.

As interim city manager, Little reported to City Council sidewalk repairs have been mostly completed.

"We're making some good progress," he said. "We'll try to complete them by Halloween."

Briefly

White Lake Road project moves forward

The Independence Township Board voted unanimously, Oct. 18, to approve first reading of a rezoning request for 3.16 acres north of White Lake Road, east of Andersonville Road.

The request is to rezone the vacant land from Limited Industrial to Planned Unit Development, for a new gas station, restaurant, and market.

The project will include fuel pumps for passenger vehicles and trucks; 10,054-square-foot market, coffee shop, and bakery; and 8,123-square-foot grill and entertainment center.

The developer is Holly Nannoshi Properties, LLC, of Bloomfield Hills.

Rotary wine tasting

Clarkston Rotary Club hosts A Taste of the Holiday food and wine event, 6:30-8:30 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 27, at Bordine's, 8600 Dixie Highway.

Attendees will enjoy dishes prepared by local restaurants, including Buffalo Wild Wings, Hamlin Pub, Joe's Crab Shack, Kruse's Deer Lake Inn, LA Cafe, Lakes Grille, MacPhee's, O'Malley's Galley, Overtyme Grill, Parker's Hilltop Brewery, Parties and Shindigs, Pita Way, and Via Bologna, along with wines and craft beers from around the world in the Bordine's nursery, decorated for the holidays.

Admission to the event, which will also include a silent auction and music entertainment, is $55 at the door. The fund raiser supports the Rotary's local and international projects, student scholarships, and Youth Exchange.

For more information, check www.clarkstonrotary.org.

Library board appointments

Clarkston City Council voted unanimously, Monday, to reappoint Mary Himburg and appoint Anne Rose to the Clarkston Independence District Library Board.

"We are truly lucky she (Rose) is part of the village," said Council member Sharron Catallo. "She has a longstanding knowledge of the library."

The city appoints two residents to the board, which sets policy, budget, and planning, and hires the library director. Independence Township appoints five members to the seven-member board.

Judge rules for city in FOIA case

BY PHIL CUSTODIO

Clarkston News Editor

The Hon. Leo Bowman, Oakland County Circuit Court, ruled in favor of the City of the Village of Clarkston in a Freedom of Information lawsuit filed by city resident Susan Bisio.

In the Oct. 19 ruling, the judge said records requested by Bisio were not public.

"The contested records are not public records because there is no evidence to support the claim the city used or retained them in the performance of official functions, or that (city attorney Thomas) Ryan shared the contested records to assist the city in making a decision," according to the ruling.

Susan Bisio, represented by attorney Richard Bisio, her husband, sued the city in December 2015 for violating FOIA.

The city was represented by James E. Tamm and Paul T. O'Neill, provided through the Michigan Municipal League.

The lawsuit stems from a FOIA request Susan sent to the city on June 7, 2015, requesting invoices to the city by Ryan.

The city responded on June 30, 2015, producing over 700 pages of documents, but declining to provide 18 records, saying they were not public records according to state law.

The contested records included emails from Jan. 30, 2015, to May 20, 2015, between Ryan and other attorneys and agencies related to 148 N. Main Street and a harmless agreement for its development, as well as vacant property at M-15 and Waldon.

The issue in this case was whether the contested records are "public records" subject to FOIA. The city argued its attorney is not a "public body" and his records are not public records, as defined by FOIA.

The City Charter says the city attorney is a city administrative officer but not its employee, receives no benefits, and doesn't send or receive emails from the city email address or have an email address associated with the city.

Ryan said the records were never in the possession of city officials or personnel.

The defendants also said state law and case law intentionally omits "city attorney" from its definition of "public body."

Susan said the records of a public official who conducts public business are subject to FOIA even if they are in its attorney's private files.

"It is irrelevant the defendant's attorney is not a 'public body,'" according to the complaint.

She argued she filed the FOIA request for city records, not its attorney, and the records are public even if in possession of a public body's agent because "to conclude otherwise would mean no records would be in the possession of a public body."

Indisputed facts in the case included the contested records were not in the possession or owned by the city; private parties, not the city, prepared the contested records; there was no evidence the contested records were ever used or retained in the performance of an official function of the city; and Ryan had the contested records in his private files and he never shared them with the city council.

Richard Bisio, who said they will appeal the ruling, said FOIA should be construed in favor of disclosure, the records meet the definition of public record because Ryan was acting in his official function, and their physical location should not matter.

Richard filed a lawsuit against the city on June 2, 2015, for violation of the Open Meetings Act at a closed City Council session on March 9, 2015, and with email discussions in November 2015.

In a consent judgement agreement filed on March 14, 2016, the city admitted the closed session was improper.

A review by the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office found Clarkston City Council probably violated the Open Meetings Act last year, but declined to file charges.

Friendly Halloween

Hopefully you were able to catch last week's edition of The Clarkston News featuring photos from the Friendly Forest taken by our editor, Phil Custodio.

I had the chance to go to the annual event held by Independence Township Parks, Recreation and Seniors.

The decision was made like this - if Jonathan was awake from his nap in time and I could get his Halloween costume on him we would go. (I really didn't want to wake him up.)

He woke up so I put him in a Tigger costume (I bought for a great price from someone I grew up with - I really love garage sales.) Then, off we went.

Before he woke up I debated about going - he is 10-months-old. He doesn't know the characters, he can't eat the candy, he couldn't do a lot of the activities, and he wouldn't remember the experience. But, I still strapped him into his car seat and we traveled to Clintonwood Park because it was still an experience.

He went to all of the character stops except Frozen - there was a line for photos and I didn't want to take a spot of someone who wanted photos with Elsa, Anna and Olaf. Jonathan doesn't know who they are yet. The volunteers at Friendly Forest were great - most gave Jonathan a piece of candy (even though again he can't eat it, for that matter I can't eat it either.) I appreciated the vouchers for a snack and drink and gave them to a family on my way out. (Since I couldn't have those either - sacrifices one makes for plan with Nuviv Nutrition - but down over 50 pounds. The results speak.)

While I have been out and about at activities I have already flashed forward from elementary fun runs and holiday parties to high school events and senior nights for JD. Definitely need to slow down that thinking.

The next few weeks will be busy - fall sports are winding down, National Novel Writing Month is right around the corner, and the election is almost here.

The nation goes to the polls and votes on Nov. 8. I have heard a mix of camps but the most noticable are the ones who don't want Donald Trump or Hillary Clinton as president. As with any election, please do some research and don't opt for one because you dislike them the least. I understand the conflict thus why I am going third party. No matter what - your vote counts - make it heard.

Letters, columns &amp; Editorials

Reader offers positives suggestions

Dear Editor,

A while ago, I noted all the signs supporting the incumbent council candidates paid for by "Friends of CVC" and asked on Facebook for anyone to explain the reasons for this support. No response.

I was glad to see Frank Schoebel's letter in The Clarkston News ("Support for incumbents Catallo, Sabol," Oct. 19) explaining support for these candidates but disappointed because it does not go beyond nice generalities about what the incumbents can or will do if re-elected.

Rather, the letter is a jeremiad against citizen participation in city government. It lambasts people "disrupting" council meetings, apparently by asking questions and criticizing things like the council's spending tens of thousands of unbudgeted funds on planning for an unnecessary addition to the village hall that was ultimately rejected because the city can't afford it.

The letter says people "unfairly imply improprieties by our public servants," yet the same edition of The Clarkston News shows the council members escaped criminal liability for violating the open meetings act only because they were supposedly confused about what the law requires.

The letter says people "falsely accuse City Council members of their intentions to raise taxes" after several council members repeatedly stated they want to renege on the promise to reduce the city's operating millage after the library millage was adopted. And then there are those "newspaper columns to polarize the community."

Apparently there should be no criticism of what city government is doing because the incumbents have "good intentions."

The letter asks for positive suggestions. How about these changes from what the incumbents have consistently supported: Budgeting before spending taxpayer funds. Meaningful and accurate minutes so people can tell what the council did and why. Respectful treatment of people who speak at council meetings. Making public records available without delays and abstruse theories of why city records should be kept secret.

Interest in doing best for the city

Dear Editor,

I am Mike Sabol, current Clarkston City Council member and I am running for reelection to the council this year. This will be my third term to go along with nine months as an interim appointee. I am also the ex-officio council member on the city Planning Commission.

Over the past year or two there have been many statements and inferences by a group of people opposed to the activities of the City Council. It is often very hard to respond to such statements that come from a non-factual basis.

As an incumbent council candidate, I and my fellow incumbent candidate, Sharron Catallo, ask you look at our words and the facts. Our votes and discussion as council members show our real intent.

As a case in point, there have been recent statements, in print and verbally, inferring we are planning on raising taxes. Please review the City Council minutes on the city website and Independence TV regarding tax rates from the meetings of June 13, 2016, and September 12, 2016, to see our real intent.

To be clear, outside of the improbability, let alone near impossibility of such a thing, there is no reason for us to even be considering any tax increases at this time and we have no intention to vote to support any tax increase proposals.

Another issue is the discussion regarding the DPW building. Many were told it was a foregone conclusion - a new building being proposed would happen regardless of the cost. Signs were posted throughout the city, letters were written - nothing based in the facts.

To prove this point - when the final data was presented, the proposal failed before the council. My position all along was I needed all of the data to make my decision and that was also the position of every other member, including Sharron.

More broadly, we ask you think through our words and actions when considering how you will vote. We are citizens, your neighbors and friends, volunteers, giving our time to the city and yet this small group claims there are nefarious deeds taking place to support their positions.

They act as if our motto is "Today Clarkston, Tomorrow the World." Our true interest is to do what we believe is best for the city. We have been doing that all along. We ask that you take this into account when you vote.

When announcing the phone number for Florida Fungal Meningitis hotline this week, Gov Rick Scott inadvertently gave out the wrong phone number, directing Floridians to call a phone sex hotline to answer their questions. The meningitis outbreak is linked to a batch of tainted injectable steroids that were shipped to 76 facilities in 23 states, including Florida. Scott misread the 866-523-7339 hotline number; sending callers to a phone sexline that began with a woman's voice saying, "Hello boys..."

Hotline: Hello boys.

Caller: Is this the hotline?

Hotline: Couldn't be hotter.

Caller: Good. I've been having this stiff neck, and I hear that's a symptom.

Hotline: Yes. I'm so glad you called. I want you to tell me everything.

Caller: OK. I think I'm running a fever.

Hotline: Ooh, this call is making me hot, too. Sooo hot.

Caller: You too? Did you get an injection recently?

Hotline: Mmm. Would you like to hear about it? Is that what you want?

Hotline: Maybe you just need to lie down and close your eyes and let your nurse take over.

Caller: OK. I'm ready. Let's get started.

Hotline: Not so fast, dear. Before we get started, you're going to have to give me your credit card information.

Caller: You medical people are all alike. Payment up front. Do you have an HMO?

Hotline: But I almost forgot Cinemax After Dark.

Caller: How expensive is this going to be?

Hotline: Depends how long we take.

Hotline: And I'll need the credit card expiration date.

Caller: How am I supposed to do the lab tests on the phone?

Hotline: ... and the three digit security code on the back of the card.

Caller: Aren't you going to need to draw some of my spinal fluid?

Hotline: Listen up, Pal. We're not talking about your fluids until I have that credit card information.

Caller: You know you seem way more interested in the money than in meningitis.

Hotline: Buddy, I don't even know where Gitis is, but I've had men from all over call me, and if they don't have money, we don't talk. That's the rules.

Ladies and gentlemen, your next President! Zoltan Istvan?

So, there I was on the couch -- actually kinda excited -- because this would be my first time. My first time voting via Absentee Ballot. I have spent the last, what 18 months, reading and listening to and about those who would be president of these here United States.

I have spent a fair amount of time talking about the entire process with both my sons -- Shamus, almost 19 and Sean, a solid 16. I like to hear their thoughts, based on what they read and hear in their perspective circles. There are no right or wrong reasons for liking or disliking any candidate, I let them know, "I just want to know your thinking." And, sometimes because I am the meanest dad in town, I challenge them or their thinking.

So what are they thinking?

Shamus, well, I don't know if he will even vote this year. I believe he is put off by what he sees. Sean, I know will not vote this year because of his age, but the other week, out of the blue he announced, "I have spent some time looking into Zoltan Istvan."

"What?" said I, tilting my head to the side, because I am old and maybe I didn't hear my son's words correctly.

"Zoltan Istvan," he repeated, louder, because I am old. I had heard correctly.

"What is a 'Zoltanistvan?'" I said, not having any context or knowledge of this zoltanistvan thingy.

Said my son, "He's a Transhumanist."

Sean must of have noticed my blank, non-comprehending stare.

"I have been reading up on Zoltan Istvan who is running for President as a member of the Transhumanist Party."

Obviously, still sensing I was not with the program he continued to clue me in. "He's talking about the future, what we need to do with artificial intelligence, transferring human intelligence, robots, prolonged life for people -- as in hundreds or thousands of years. Science and the human experience in a future that may not be too far away."

"Oh," I think I said. "Interesting. So, how about those Detroit Lions?"

***

Not knowing much about this guy with the Russian sounding name, I looked him up on the internet. What do you know! He looked like a regular, all-American honkey/cracker. Just another almost middle-aged white dude. Like me (a few years ago), except he's a successful journalist, author and "founder and US Presidential candidate of the Transhumanist Party." A safe bet to vote for in my book.

So, I ripped open the big brownish envelope with my very first Absentee Ballot and much to my chagrin nowhere could I find, meaning I could not fill in the little blank dot with either black or blue ink (only), thereby casting my vote for Zoltan Istvan.

What a let down! I mean with a name like Zoltan Istvan, he's gotta be good, right? I wanted to vote for an Artificial Intelligent Cyborg because AI is a better choice for president than either the Republicans or Democrats have produced this year.

Besides the right and left nuts (commonly referred to as Trump and Hillary), on my ballot were these choices: Libertarian Gary Johnson, Green Party-ian Jill Stein, Socialist Emidio Mimi Soltysik and Darrell Castle of the Constitution Party.

Sadly, I filled in my circle with my black ink pen for a candidate that wasn't Trump or Clinton, but really wanting to vote for the REAL forward and future thinking candidate, Mr. Zoltan Istvan.

I filled in a ton of those little circles, front page and back and got it all ready to take to the township clerk's office. My first time had come and gone. Ah.

Fate, however, had other plans for my voting experience. The next day in my mailbox was another big brown envelope with another Absentee Ballot. Seems the first batch of ballots had an issue with running through the counting machine, so we all got new ballots. As of today, Monday, October 24, I have yet to fill in that ballot -- so I reckon there is still time for me to change my mind on everything and every one I voted for last week.

Feel the power of Zoltan Istvan, a president for the future from the Transhumanist Party.

I wonder if I can write-in Zoltan Istvan? Oh, hell. As Don Cornelius used to say, it's time to get on the "Zo-o-o-o-o-o-ol-train!"

Your thoughts?

Serving those in need at Oktoberfest

Clarkston-based nonprofit, Choices Detroit-Women Discovering What Matters, hosted an Oktoberfest fundraiser on Oct. 5 to benefit and highlight the works of The Empowerment Plan, a Detroit-based nonprofit organization dedicated to serving the homeless community.

Over 100 people from the Clarkston area attended.

Choices Detroit (www.choicesdetroit.com) has collaborated with other nonprofits who support the needs of others over the past four years. The women involved have provided more than 10,000 lunches, 1,800 blankets, 900 coats and supplies to the homeless and those in need.

This year, the organization partnered with The Empowerment Plan (TEP) group, which is creating jobs to lift women out of poverty. The women employed, previously in shelters, are given training and full-time employment as seamstresses so that they can earn a stable income, find secure housing, and regain independence.

Four women from TEP attended the event and offered testimony, appreciation for Clarkston's support, and witness to the benefit of uniting for a common cause.

Choices Detroit cultivates mentorship and bridges the gap between those who want to serve and those in need. To get personally involved, email your request to Choices president, Ann-Marie Neme, annmarie@choicesdetroit.com.

Suspect charged

Security footage from Goodrich Middle School caught the suspect leaving the area in a black Chevrolet Tahoe SUV with oversized, chrome, aftermarket rims and a carrier rack.

In the Atlas Township attack, the 36-year-old was with her 7-year-old son and 11-year-old daughter when a man jumped out from behind a tree and started punching her. Her son ran up and scared off the man, police said.

Genesee County Sheriff Robert Pickell said Gamble had been stalking the Atlas Township woman for at least a day leading up to the attack.

A Genesee County Sheriff's deputy on patrol pulled over an SUV in Goodrich on Oct. 12 because of excessive tint. The vehicle matched the suspect's vehicle description.

Investigators found Gamble changed the rims of the vehicle a day after the attack in Atlas Township. The chrome rims were found in garbage bags in Gamble's garage. Cell phone records showed he was near the scene of both attacks around the time of the assaults.

The victim in the Atlas Township attack had to have surgery because of a broken bone in her face and the woman in the Davison attack is recovering from a concussion, police said.

Gamble is being held in the Genesee County Jail in lieu of $3 million bond. His next court appearance is scheduled for Nov. 3.

For Clarkston and Independence Township

Vandalism after argument

A 20-year-old Independence Township woman and 21-year-old Independence Township man were driving separately in the 5000 block of N. Marshbank and arguing on their cell phones when the woman's phone battery died, 12:48 a.m., Oct. 12. She pulled into a gas station parking lot, signaled the man to pull over, and told him her phone died and she didn't hang up on him. As she was getting ready to leave, he punched the window and ripped off the handle to the driver's side door. He was cited for malicious destruction of property and sent the repair bill.

Moped without permit

A 36-year-old Waterford man was stopped for riding a moped without a registration sticker, 2:08 p.m., Oct. 17, on Andersonville Road at White Lake Road. He was cited for driving with a suspended license and an unregistered vehicle.

Expired plate

A deputy on patrol stopped a vehicle with an expired license plate tab, 3:51 p.m., Oct. 18, on Sashabaw Road at Bow Pointe Drive. The plate was also found to have been obtained fraudulently with no taxes paid, and was confiscated. The driver, a 26-year-old Auburn Hills man, was cited for improper plate and no insurance.

Woman found unconscious

A store employee called 911 after customers found an unconscious woman in a car in the 6000 block of Dixie Highway, 3:12 p.m., Oct. 18. When deputies arrived, the woman, a 35-year-old Waterford Township resident, had shallow breathing and a pulse, and her lips and nails were slightly blue. They treated her for a possible drug overdose using their Narcan kit. Independence Township paramedics administered a second dose of Narcan. She became alert and responsive after the Narcan was administered, and said she had taken pain medication. She was taken to McLaren Hospital for further treatment.

Tinted windows

A deputy on stationary radar duty stopped an SUV with tinted windows, 10:26 a.m., Oct. 20, on Pine Knob Road at Maybee Road. The driver, a 37-year-old Brandon Township man, accused the deputy of stopping him because he was Mexican. The deputy explained he couldn't see his nationality because of the tinted windows, and shouldn't be driving because his license expired in 2009. The driver was cited for driving with an expired license and obstructed view due to excessive tint.

Big return powers Wolves win

BY WENDI REARDON PRICE
Clarkston News Sports Writer

The gridiron heroes were back on the field Monday afternoon getting ready for a familiar foe after learning during the MHSAA Football Selection Sunday they would host Lapeer on Friday in the first round of playoffs.

The Wolves opened the season with a 28-7 win over the Lightning during Battle of the Big House, giving Lapeer their first of two losses for the season.

The boys prepped with their last game of the season against Rochester Adams for a 31-14 win.

The Highlanders pushed ahead of Clarkston with 3:48 left in the first half with a touchdown from Kyle Wood, putting the score, 14-7.

The Wolves pushed back seconds later with the kick off return. Junior Michael Fluegel caught it and took off on the east edge of the field. He broke away from defense and left them trailing after him as he landed in the endzone on his 97-yard return.

"It was huge," said Kurt Richardson, long-time head coach for Clarkston. "All the sudden they are getting momentum and kicking our butts in the first half. It was huge for us."

From there the boys struck three more times with two touchdowns from senior quarterback JT King and Fluegel and a 36-yard field goal from senior kicker Zach Mansour.

Richardson pointed out another aspect of the game were turnovers for Rochester Adams. Senior Ryan Prisby picked up one fumble midway through the first quarter. The Wolves captured possession on another fumble minutes later and started playing on the 31-yard line.

Three plays later Fluegel put Clarkston on the 20-yard line. King held onto the ball during the next play as he finished with the Wolves' first touchdown and with the lead with 2:06 on the clock.

"The difference in the game was them turning the ball over early," said Richardson. "They could have been up three touchdowns on us. Those turnovers were big and allowed us to stay alive. That's the one thing in our conference - you turn the ball over and people are going to take advantage of it."

Fluegel was the leading rusher with 98 yards on 18 carries for 98 yards. King carried the ball 15 times for 64 yards and had two touchdowns.

Mansour was 4-for-4 on PATs and had one 36-yard field goal at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

Junior Zach Scott led defense with 10 tackles, three assists and recovered a fumble.

Junior Gino Paese had seven tackles, three with loss in yards for Adams. Senior Carson Stottlemeyer had five tackles and four assists and seniors Nick Stalworth and Kyle Genter had four tackles and two assists each.

As the Wolves prepare for their next test this week Richardson noted they have to get better.

"We stunk the first half, and we were pretty darn good the second half," he shared. "We have to get off this Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde thing."

Clarkston (7-2) hosts Lapeer (7-2) in MHSAA Football Pre-Districts this Friday at 7 p.m.

JV-A reigns on field

BY WENDI REARDON PRICE
Clarkston News Sports Writer

The Clarkston JV-A Boys Soccer team finished their season on a successful note as they tied two longstanding school records.

They had the most mercy shutouts with a total of four and also had the most wins with a 13-3 overall record.

"I felt we, as a team, really bonded and that helped with our team chemistry," said captain junior Chad Morris. "This allowed us to reach these significant achievements."

Coach Brian Bridgeman contributed their success and high quality of goals scored, 47 total, as a result of their trust in each other.

"Everyone seemed to feed off of the unselfish team concept," he added. "The four 8-0 mercy shutouts were all a result of everything coming together as a team.

We had some great athletes, and when we created space and moved the ball quickly our opponents seemed to be 2-3 steps behind us. That is when we scored in bunches. All of the credit goes to the boys, true team effort."

Favorite moments during the season include games against Berkley and Avondale.

"We came into the game too confident," Morris said about the Berkley game, adding the boys were down 0-1 at halftime. "The varsity coach (Curtis Payment) challenged us to show him why we deserved to be moved up to varsity. As the second half started the intensity came back into our play style. We pulled

The Wolves faced Stoney Creek for the second time in a week as they played them in the MHSAA Boys Soccer District Semifinals at Rochester Adams, Oct. 19.

The Cougars came out fast at the beginning of the game and kept the momentum as they beat Clarkston, 3-1.

"We tried our best," said Curtis Payment, head coach for the varsity team. "We just didn't have it that night. The game against Rochester Adams (the first round of districts) took a lot out of us. We really had to give it our all to beat Adams. We might have left too much on the field against them. The Stoney game was frustrating because the boys were working hard and together. Our touch was just a bit off."

Senior Jacob Moreno scored the lone goal for Clarkston during the second half off of a penalty kick.

The Wolves bid farewell to nine seniors - Matt DeFinis, Robbie Farrell, Kyle Hayes, Ned Kenny, Josh McCaghy, Jacob Moreno, Justin Reinke, Brock Schultz and Christian Uhlig.

"We had a very talented senior class," said Payment. "They accounted for 80 percent of our goals this season so our younger players could dedicate themselves to improving their overall skill set."

The team has 12 returners coming back and talent from the two JV teams coming up including for the JV-A team which finished the season 13-3.

"Next season will be a transition year with many changes," Payment added. "We have a lot of talent in the program, but I do envision a formation and philosophy change for 2017. We shall see."

The Wolves finished with a 9-8-3 record and 2-3-2 in the OAA Red.

"We had a strong team we just struggled to stay consistent," Payment said. "We played a lot of tough teams so if we were a little off they generally made us pay. I liked the style we played, which was attacking and offensive minded. We just weren't able to enforce our style enough throughout the year."

Payment added a thank you to all the parents for their dedication and support during the season.

"Especially Patti Hayes for all her dedication and hard work this year," he said. "The program simply would not function as smoothly without her. Also, a huge thank you to our coaching staff. Coach Brian Bridgeman and Coach Herb Dula had great seasons with our JV teams and continue to provide great leadership for the young men on the Clarkston soccer teams."

The Rochester Knights get ready for the fourth annual Run with the Pack Special Olympics game hosted by the Clarkston Wolves, Oct. 16. Photo submitted

Players run with the pack

Players took to the field on a misty evening as the Clarkston Boys Soccer program hosted the fourth annual Run with the Pack Special Olympics soccer game, Oct. 16.

Twenty-eight players from Rochester Knights, Lake Orion Wildcats and Lake Orion Wild Dragons played in the ultimate battle at Clarkston High School after finishing their season two weeks ago.

"Getting the chance to play under the lights in the stadium is a thrill for these players," said Curtis Payment, head coach for the varsity team. "They love the sport and just want to share this love with others.

As one player told me, this is bigger for me than Christmas."

The opportunity to give back to the community is an important part of the program for Payment. He puts the power in the varsity boys' hands as they collect monetary donations, referee and fill all the necessary positions to make this event run smooth, while cheering and supporting these special guests.

All proceeds raised from the events goes back to Special Olympics. Over $500 donated during Run with the Pack will help to fund the program for the coming year.

Favazza was the only freshman to finish in top 15 and to be named All-League.

Finishing the top eight for Clarkston was Jacob Dolan in 16th place, 17:04.7; Nickolas Favazza, 23rd, 17:14.3; Nate Sesti, 33rd, 17:27.3; and Timothy Dalrymple, 42nd, 18:01.4.

They finished in first place in the previous two league Jamborees, putting them in first place for the final league standings with 28 points.

The Wolves finished in second place during the boys JV race with 59 points as Lake Orion finished in first with 29 points.

Christian Collis led the pack as he finished in second place at 18:11.6. Also finishing in the top eight were Grant Schreiber, fifth, 18:16.5; Jeremy Cavallo, 14th, 18:27.9; Ryan Nicosia, 19th, 18:36.1; Mark Sprague, 18:38.6; James Rothwell, 18:56.1; Ben Allen, 19:07.7; and Noah Juuhl, 19:21.7.

The Lady Wolves finished in second place at the championship race with 59 points as Birmingham Seaholm continued to hold onto the first place spot with 23 points.

"It was spot on with what we planned on accomplishing," said Kevin Breen, head coach for Clarkston Girls Cross Country. "We knew Troy was going to be tough, but if we went in there and ran like we normally do even if we didn't run our best race we would beat Troy."

He added he was happy with the finish because the last few weeks were important for the girls' training.

Troy finished in third place with 85 points with Oxford in fourth, 111; Lake Orion, fifth, 122; and Rochester Adams and Rochester tied for sixth with 146 points.

The girls had four runners place in the top 15 for All-League with Elizabeth Dalrymple leading the way in fourth place, 18:54.8. Mallory Ferguson finished in fifth, 19:20.5, with sister Emily Ferguson finishing 20 seconds later for ninth place and Mia Patria in 14th place, 19:49.3.

The rest of the top eight runners for Clarkston finished in the top 50 with Emily Gustafson in 27th place, 20:21.3; Hailey

Elizabeth Dalrymple keeps her pace with Birmingham Seaholm's top runners in the first mile.

Catania, 41st, 20:53.9; Grace Nolan, 47th, 21:16.2; and Megan Ford, 49th, 21:28.6.

"Hailey's not been 100 percent all season and she showed she is ready to run with the front group," Breen added. "It's good to see her back and she does well in competitions. She's a competition racer — they bring the best out of her."

The girls finished in third place in the final league standing with 21 points, one point below Troy who finished second. Seaholm finished first with 27 points.

"We are still a young team," Breen added. "We are still learning. We are not a veteran team by any means. We are going into the regional meet feeling a little bit more confident."

The Lady Wolves finished sixth in the JV race with 160 points and Rochester Adams finished in first place with 28 points. The top eight runners were Alex Gladding in 21st place finishing at 22:27.1; Heather Burrum, 22:55.5; Jillian Haas, 23:10; Rebecca Snyder, 23:31.5; Olivia Thomas, 23:39.8; Madeline Forshey, 23:55; Nicole Horner, 25:01.7; and Grace Spencer, 25:48.6.

The varsity teams head to the MHSAA Regionals hosted by Anchor Bay at their home course, 6319 County Line Road in Fair Haven.

"We are in the hunt," said Adams. "There are a couple of teams in our region we haven't seen yet this season. It is a unknown factor. From the east side Macomb Dakota, Utica Eisenhower and Romeo have good quality programs who have posted good times. We haven't raced them so we don't know how we match up."

"It looks pretty good," Breen added. "All the teams in our region that seem will pose a bit of a threat we have beaten and fairly handedly. Being able to go into regionals feeling good, feeling strong, feeling healthy is going to play out in our favor for a chance to win it. If we can pull it off it will be our third regional in a roll. I think it is a good challenge for us."

Breen and Adams noted the OAA Red races, as one of the toughest leagues in the state, prepares the runners.

"It gets them ready," said Adams. "They know every time they put their spikes on for the OAA Red meets they have to run against tough competition. They feed off each other in those meets so it definitely prepares them for the regional."

For the Lady Wolves it helps to see Seaholm, one of the top teams in the state.

"We have had our shots at them," said Breen. "It is a good thing for the girls to see that, to know what they have to aspire to to get to that point. It's motivation to keep our mileage up, to work hard in workouts and stay healthy. It's a good group and a good solid group."

They will compete against Anchor Bay, Chippewa Valley, Lake Orion, L'Anse Creuse Noth, Macomb Dakota, Oxford, Port Huron, Port Huron Northern, Rochester, Rochester Adams, Romeo, Stoney Creek, Utica, Utica Eisenhower, and Utica Ford II.

"We just have to make sure we take care of our business and do what we need to do," said Adams. "Then, hopefully earn one of the top three spots in the regional so we can go to states as a team. We are optimistic."

The Division 1 Boys Race is at 10 a.m. and the girls race is at 11:30 a.m. Awards are scheduled for 1:15 p.m.

together as a team with five minutes left and scored the tying goal. Then, we scored the winning goal with 12 seconds left."

For Bridgeman it was the Avondale game and junior Derek Hanson, their backup center midfielder, with a hat trick.

"His first goal was from 30 yards out," he shared. "He noticed the goalie was off of his line, so he hit a bending shot over the goalie into the far post."

"His second goal came halfway through the second half, when he finished on a beauty corner kick from Austin Hayes," he continued. "His head seemed to be two feet above everyone when he headed into the corner. Then, with eight minutes left in the game, his teammate Zach Senko was taken down in the box for a penalty kick. Zach immediately told Derek to take it, to give his teammate the opportunity for the hat trick, complete unselfishness, what it takes to be great."

Morris added the season was a great experience and the players grew from each competition.

"I believe the accomplishments were a reflection of how good these boys were as a team," said Bridgeman. "Their chemistry just improved game by game and practice after practice. They just completely embraced the team idea, with complete unselfishness and total trust in each other. As a result, they played a very consistent high level of soccer."

The team includes freshman DJ Morgan; sophomores Hayes, Senko, Nathan Murray, Kyle Roland, Alex Scholte, Zachary Senko, Alex Stuenkel, Justin Spehar, Maclain

Zaremba; juniors Hanson, Morris, Jacob Bore, Andre Cumurca, Parker Daly-Seiler, Finn Eblenkemp, Cody Hurren, Trevor Massey, Daniel Prada, Michael Weiler and David Zurek.

"The season as a whole was one where everyone learned and improved as individuals as well as teammates throughout the season," said Bridgeman. "Each player had some sort of adversity and overcame it. Each player had success and his entire team embraced him for it. This year proved to me role players can create that ultimate team experience, which is what Clarkston JV-A Boys Soccer had this year."

Another Letter to the Editor . . .

Catallo committed to city

Dear Editor,

In 1980 my husband and I moved to the Village of Clarkston. We raised our children here and now they are raising their children here.

In the early 1980s, I took part in an M15/Main Street study group. Even then, I recognized how fragile the preservation of character and charm was.

In 1984, I was elected to council and in 1986 I was elected Village President. In 1992, when we became a city, I was elected mayor and I held that position until I retired in 2008 to care for my aging parents.

During my time on council we became a city and created a charter: "to secure the benefits of local self government." We established our own police department and had a dedicated force from 1992-2009. We installed community water lines to all homes and businesses.

The City of the Village of Clarkston made major improvements to the downtown streetscape and repaved the roads within the city. In Depot Park, we rebuilt the gazebo and increased the size and equipment in the playground thanks to the generosity of residents and community organizations. The charm of the city was also protected by a strengthened Historic District ordinance and repairs to the city's own infrastructure.

I believe the City of the Village of Clarkston today represents the vision of what so many were working to achieve: a thriving downtown and charming and beautifully-kept neighborhoods with new families joining our long-time residents in our small and unique city.

Today, I am more committed to the City of the Village than ever before. Since returning to council in 2013, working with the present council has been a great experience and has made me realize there are very good people who are still committed to do what is best for this great community.

Mike Sabol is one such person; and I believe that supporting Mike for re-election benefits the community as a whole.

I know that while I have many years of experience to draw upon, this election calls for candidates who are dedicated to doing what's best for the Clarkston in the years to come.

I believe that I have demonstrated a commitment to working for what's best for the community for the past 36 years and am committed to working to maintain the charm and attraction of this place we call home for all of us.

Sincerely,

Sharron Catallo
Clarkston

Varicose Vein treatment covered by insurance?

"Americans who are suffering from unsightly, swollen, painful varicose veins might want to take closer look at their insurance", says Dr. Charles Mok D.O., at Allure Vein Center.

"What most people don't know is that the Affordable Care Act, commonly referred to as Obamacare, covers treatment for varicose veins," he adds.

"We're seeing more and more people for this condition. Why wouldn't you have it treated when it's an easy procedure with little to no out-of-pocket costs?"

Forty million people suffer from varicose veins, which can result in substantial pain and complications if not treated. Symptoms may include:

- bulging veins
- restless legs
- aching, throbbing, cramping

"Early detection with free vein screening is essential," says Dr. Mok. "Wait too long and you could experience unwanted skin changes including swelling and skin ulcers."

Clarkston grad aims at language app

BY WENDI REARDON PRICE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Lisa Sickman, a 2006 graduate of Clarkston High School, and Dan Sundberg are ready to help travelers explore the world.

They created a Kickstarter campaign to fund Tandem Traveler, a mobile language-learning app for iOS and Android phones.

They are aiming for Italian to be first language, to be released in March. Users can look for French, Spanish and German to be added shortly after Italian.

"After German, we are letting our users decide on the next few languages," Sickman said. "We plan on continuing to add languages for all countries where learning the language essentials would be helpful."

She added they think people should learn language essentials before traveling - it keeps the travelers safe and makes it a better trip.

She shared they had traveled before without learning the language and had a great time.

"On this last trip, we decided to learn a bit of the language before the trip, which lead to amazing experiences we wouldn't have had otherwise," she said.

They also made the language app because they discovered what they wanted didn't exist yet. They had tried other programs and noticed it didn't teach them anything they could use.

The Kickstarter campaign the app will help them pre-sell and fund the creation of this app, and to pay the programmers to make it.

Backers pledge money to projects on Kickstarter and it only pays if the goal is met in the time frame. They have until Thursday, Nov. 17, at 11:59 p.m. Pacific Standard Time to meet the goal of $50,000.

Candidates campaign for City Council

Sharron Catallo said she wants to be re-elected to council to use her experience to benefit the community.

"I have had the honor of serving Village of Clarkston residents for quite a few years, but never before have I felt more committed to what this community represents than I do now," she said. "I have known changes through the years, welcoming new families and businesses, new little faces on the playground in our beautiful Depot Park. I've had the pleasure of seeing families refurbish and maintain our beautiful homes, many of which are historic, and witness our tight-knit neighborhoods thrive. Decades ago, we hoped this would be our future. It took the forethought and planning of many to achieve what the village is today."

The city has an active communication committee examining the current system to offer suggestions to correct any lapses they see.

"Do we need to tweak our website and communications through it? Maybe. I admit, I prefer telephone or in-person conversations over e-mail, but we need to determine how best to respond to property owners and residents who have questions," she said. "Also, residents should know that even though our staff at Village Hall is part time, they are very helpful and can often answer questions, so if electronic correspondence through the website seems lagging, consider picking up the phone."

In 2017, the city should have an increase in revenue sharing for the general fund and a bond payoff for the residents, Catallo said.

"We have a pretty healthy infrastructure and no current plans for any big expenditures. We do owe money to the reserve fund for over-budget expenses in the last fiscal year, but we should be able to repay the fund in a reasonable amount of time. I am in favor of a plan to continue to increase the reserve fund," she said.

For parking, the Traffic Improvement Association of Michigan conducted their study, and Main Street Oakland County also looked at parking within the business district.

"We have a draft report to consult in this preliminary phase to determine if we have a problem and possible solutions," she said. "We are hoping in the very near future to offer a town hall meeting for public input. Mike Sabol and myself are the council members who live downtown and are both familiar with parking patterns."

Richard Detkowski said people ask him, "Why are you running for City Council," and some ask "Why in the heck would you want to run for City Council?"

"The answer to those questions is simple - I want to step up and help my home town in whatever way I can," he said. "I want to do my part in learning the workings of the city and help it move forward while maintaining the aspects that make it special. But most of all, I want to help redevelop a sense of community amongst residents."

The biggest issue is the perceived polarization. For various reasons, there's a feeling in the community that taking sides has stagnated our productivity, he said.

"I want to use my facilitation skills to get people on all sides to move forward in a positive and productive direction," Detkowski said. "We've experienced our share of strongly-worded letters, social media confrontations, and awkward City Council meetings. In the past, I have been guilty of looking at only one side of city issues and letting it cloud my opinions. This is an opportunity to rectify that, and help others do the same in working together for solutions. Throughout this campaign, I've learned that people on both sides of the meeting table have legitimate reasons for their opinions and the best intentions in mind. I want to understand all stakeholders and their reasoning in order to produce positive results that benefit the entire community."

In order to achieve this, improved communication is needed, he said.

"This has been a culprit in many of the gaps, an example being the DPW building plans. It took community polarization to a new level and may have been mitigated with improved communication," he said. "Why decisions are being made and the data to support them should be made clear, as well as clear reasons for opposing opinions and making sure those voices are heard. Clear communication will identify whether there's lack of data or a lack of understanding. New and creative ways for facilitating discussion are what I'm committed to."

Lastly, the city has a productivity issue likely stemming from these points.

"Quite simply, let's get things done. Let's get busy with solving the parking issue, generating revenue in new ways, and keeping our city streets looking their best. I want to get to work being a community of friends and neighbors focused on the future, not our past disagreements, Detkowski said.

Mike Sabol said his passion, education and experiences provide great benefits to the city.

"After 11 years of living in the city, I continue to value the life being a resident provides. We have wonderful people and I want to continue to be their voice," he said. "We need to maintain and grow this naturally beautiful place and yet preserve the historic beauty of the streets, businesses and homes."

The city manager is the most critical position to the everyday operation of the city, he said.

"The council is responsible for filling this position so we must find a capable and competent candidate. As a former hiring manager at GM, I will use my skills to make sure the right questions are asked and the most qualified candidate is chosen," Sabol said.

The city still needs to find a permanent replacement for 3 East Church and the space needed for DPW equipment, he said.

"The most cost-efficient methods must be used to meet these needs and protect the budget. I did not and will not support a proposal in which the costs exceed those of the building we vacated. The Facilities Committee needs to be prompted to move quickly and make sure any proposals do not exceed these budgetary requirements. As with my prior efforts, I will continue to be the voice of this viewpoint," he said.

The city also continues to face an identity crisis, Sabol said.

"Among many efforts, we have formed a Communication Committee to engage residents and businesses but a vocal minority has chosen to create the perception that City government is ineffective," he said. "The city has a functioning council and administration, Planning Commission, Historic District Commission and other committees working regularly and taking action on city business. The vocal minority chooses to focus on negative points that in some cases they have induced. It is incumbent on me and the rest of the council to make sure that all of the positive aspects are brought forward and communicated. We must fully support the city ordinances and enforcement equally and fairly, and support the Planning Commission and HDC. Social media and emails cannot be the only methods of communication within the City. There are many citizens who do not use them. We must promote methods of communication that will reach everyone regarding City business," Sabol said.

Sue Wylie is running on a "Have a Nice City" with a Smiley Face campaign.

"We need to resolve the differences among members of the Clarkston community," she said. "Second, we need to upgrade the communications and transparency between all city stakeholders. Third, we need Clarkston to remain financially independent by increasing our productivity and efficiency."

Wylie said she wants to serve her city and offer solutions.

"I became involved in Clarkston politics when the city was considering an expansion to the city hall," she said. "I thought the amount of money the city was considering spending on the addition was much more than our city could afford. I would like to resolve some of the issues I witnessed during that time."

Improving the culture of Clarkston will require all city officials treat all citizens with respect, plus, citizens and the business community must give city officials the same courtesy, she said.

"During my campaign I have reached out to members of the community to remind them city officials should be treated with respect. I would encourage the council and mayor to lead by example, with both language and mannerisms. Employees and appointees should be instructed to treat everyone civilly and respectfully. The city manager and the mayor would need to ensure that these goals are met," she said.

Communication and transparency can be improved with more detailed city council, committee, and commission minutes, Wylie said.

"This is the primary way that the city communicates officially with the citizens. Once again, the council must lead by example. The mayor should require all city commissions and committees to submit timely agendas and detailed minutes, which would be available on the city website and at city hall. All spending should be clearly documented. For all communication, the city should expand its use of the city website and social media," she said.

The third issue is to keep Clarkston financially independent, she said.

"For the last four years, the city has spent more than it has taken in. As a result, the city reserves have dropped," Wylie said. "The city needs to have a city council, mayor, and finance committee that can develop a long range budget plan, stick to the yearly budget, and look for more efficient methods of maintaining the city. In addition, the city must search out more sources of non-taxpayer revenue."

Steven C. Percival is running unopposed for a two-year term as mayor of Clarkston.

Schools replacing water fixtures, retesting supply

at certain fixtures within the buildings, we shut off access to those fixtures and provided bottled water to students in those rooms. Since then, as a precautionary measure, we have cut off access to water in each of the buildings entirely and provided bottled water. Additionally, we are not using the water for food preparation," Rock said.

Letters were sent to parents on Sept. 30 and Oct. 14.

"Once we have the results of new testing, we will turn on access to the fixtures we've replaced and continue to limit access to the others that tested above limits until they are replaced," said BLE Principal Glenn Gualtieri in his letter. "In exercising an overabundance of caution to ensure the safety and wellbeing of our children, we are conducting an additional test of the water source at BLE. This test will take approximately one week. We continue to work closely with the Oakland County Health Department and the DEQ in this matter."

Handwashing in the bathrooms is safe, Gualtieri said.

"Until we have the results of our final test, we will continue to use bottled water and not utilize water from the kitchen for food preparation," he said. "Additional sources showed raised levels of lead and copper. We are replacing all of the fixtures that tested

The contamination was traced to the pipes and other equipment in the schools.

"It is fixture related and that is the reason to replace the fixtures and retest," Rock said. "We immediately took these fixtures offline and provided bottled water for drinking purposes. We will continue to use bottled water until the tests results are returned."

The district is working closely with the health department throughout this process.

"We have had several direct meetings with them and followed their guidance in notifying parents. Our ongoing testing and actions mean that students are not at risk," he said. "As the rest of the buildings within the district are on a municipal water system, tests are conducted at the source by other entities. As an additional safety step for our students, we have regularly conducted tests at all buildings to determine that the water is safe for drinking."

No other buildings within the district require interventions or additional testing at this time, he said.

Lost confidence this election?

The election for the President of the United States will be settled shortly.

Many have said that the two candidates are the most disliked candidates in history. They both have very high negative ratings, as well as devoted followings.

As I watch the news, I laugh when I see the hypocrisy of the media.

The other day, I watched a show that made the first segment about the controversy surrounding accusations of improper behavior by Donald Trump.

The second segment questioned Hilary Clinton's integrity and hypocrisy through all the WikiLeaks.

The final segment focused on the dirty campaign, and accusations asserted against each other, rather than dealing with the real issues.

I thought to myself, "Do they not know they are the driving force behind what is debated?" or "Do they think we are so simple that we won't know what they are doing?"

The media wants ratings—and controversy is the best way to get it. The majority of Americans no longer trust the media to give them factual or unbiased news.

It will be interesting to see what the turnout is for this election.

With all that said, this election provides very different views of the future of our country.

I believe all Christians should prayerfully consider who they will vote for, and be very careful to not be influenced by the noise around us, but answer the inner call to follow God and His word.

Where Will You Find Guidance?

Many Christians are very concerned about the direction of our nation. We are definitely being pulled into a secular, non-Christian society.

Our country has never had an official religion, since we learned from history the bad outcome of a country influenced by one particular church. This is not good for the country or the church.

However, even though we all have different Christian traditions, Christianity has always been the fiber of American culture and society.

In fact, Christianity formed an overriding guidance that has kept us from simply living for self-centered purposes. We are moving into a time when there will be no moral compass bigger than ourselves as our guide.

Spiritual Matters

Pastor Loren
Covarrubias

Without guidance from above, we will become a people guided by personal desires and passions, with each individual defining life from their personal desire.

In our Bill of Rights, we are given the freedom for "the pursuit of happiness." This pursuit has been good for our country, as it was under the confines of a morality above us setting the perimeters.

Will the pursuit of happiness be good if it comes at the expense of others, or society as a whole? The answer for most people is, "Of course not," but what is the basis for that limitation?

This election is a good example of what will happen. Rather than being guided by principles, we will be caught up in an anything goes society, where issues are settled through power groups trying to exert their influence, rather than through persuasive arguments based on principles that we all aspire to achieve.

God Help Us Find Your Way

As we continue to move in this direction, I am convinced that we should not only live by principles that are above us; we need to see God above us too. My prayer to Him is, "Oh God have mercy on us that we will find your way." My word to the Christian church is: we should know that ultimately, our God reigns in the affairs of men. In the end, our confidence must be in His reign. We also need to remind ourselves that His ways are not our ways! One thing the scripture tells us in 2 Thessalonians 2 is that sometimes God takes restraint off of mankind to reveal motives and evil intentions. When evil is exposed, He will then destroy it with the "brightness of His coming."

As we move into this time, we, as Christians, must not lose our cool and think the forces of evil will win. We must prepare ourselves for God's end game. We must not become so overly concerned with the behavior of others that we forget the only behavior we can really control is our own!

I counsel you to buy from Me gold refined in the fire, that you may be rich; and white garments, that you may be clothed, that the shame of your nakedness may not be revealed; and anoint your eyes with eye salve, that you may see. <sup>19</sup> As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten. Therefore be zealous and repent. <sup>20</sup> Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears My voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and dine with him, and he with Me. Revelation 3:18-20
