How strong the mayor?

BY PHIL CUSTODIO
Clarkston News Editor

The city attorney is expected to weigh in on who gets to appoint members of the city Historic District Commission at Monday's City Council meeting.

Council members and residents were at odds over a proposed amendment to city ordinances regulating the matter.

"I should be able throw names up if I think they're qualified for the position," said Council member David Marsh at the Sept. 25 meeting. "The mayor still runs the meeting – if there are problems, at least others could put up names."

"If you don't trust seven elected City Council members to do that, you need to look in the mirror and ask some serious questions," said Council member Jason Kneisc.

Council discussed a proposed amendment to Chapter 152 of the city Municipal Code. It would add to "the (HDC) members shall be appointed by the mayor," the provision "with the advice and consent of City Council. A member may be removed from the Historic District Commission pursuant to Section 4.21 of the City Charter."

Section 4.21 says commission members can be removed for misconduct in office only after a hearing with 10-day notice and opportunity to cross-examine witnesses

Scores average in M-STEP

Results just part of story, officials say

BY JESSICA STEELEY
Clarkston News Staff Writer

M-STEP and PSAT/SAT scores are back from tests last spring – Clarkston's in the top third of all school districts in Oakland County, with Oakland the highest performing county in Michigan.

Many scores are up compared to last year, but most remain in the 40-50 percent proficient ranges.

The scores only tell part of the story, though, said Superintendent Dr. Rod Rock.

"Clarkston's kids perform at the highest levels in the arts, academically, in our community, in non-school activities, and athletically," Rock said. "We know Clarkston kids are more than their M-STEP scores. They are artists, and rock skippers, and Lego builders, and computer coders, and animal lovers, and writers."

The M-STEP assessment is a tool to rank schools and districts on a single indicator and doesn't say much about individual student growth, he said.

"Data helps us understand what is working, what needs to be improved, and where we're at in relation to other districts," said Staci Puzio, administrator of student growth and well-being.

Mathematics had an average proficiency across grades 3-8 of 52 percent. The 2015-2016 average proficiency was 49 percent. For Oakland County the math proficiency average was 51 percent and for the state, it was 38 percent.

For English Language Arts (ELA), the average proficiency across grades 3-8 was 58 percent, which was above state and county averages. The 2015-2016 average

At work to beautify city

Members of the new Clarkston Beautification Committee got to work on their first project last week, cleaning and weeding garden beds at Main and Washington streets for the Taste of Clarkston.

"This is great – we posted this on Facebook and people just showed up," said Committee Chair Jennifer Detkowski.

The cleanup is just a start for the committee, which plans to work its way down Washington to bring a consistent look to downtown green spaces, Detkowski said.

The committee offers lots of opportunities for Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and other community groups and volunteers.

"And not just gardening work," Detkowski said. "We need help organizing, bringing in volunteers, and other support."

For more information, email jendetskowski@live.com or Sue Wylie at wylies@villageofclarkston.org.

Lost trailer located

A city DPW trailer which was once lost has been found.

City Manager Jonathan Smith and DPW Director Mike Speagle are evaluating DPW equipment, during which the 18-foot flatbed trailer's absence was noted. But it didn't stay missing for long after that.

"Miraculously, the trailer showed up parked behind the Baylis barn," Smith said.

The city is leasing barn space on the M-15 property for DPW storage.

The trailer, along with an air compressor and hoist, had been missing for about a year and a half. They were reported to the Oakland County Sheriff's Office for investigation, said Mayor Steven Percival.

"Hopefully, we'll find a slip of paper showing we sold or donated them," he said.

The trailer, which needs new tires, was used for hauling equipment for service and to other parts of the city, Smith said.

"It definitely comes in handy," he said.

The evaluation is to determine which equipment is needed or can be sold off.

"The large front-end loader, for example, is only used 2-3 times per year because of its size – it almost needs a garage bay by itself," Smith said at the Sept. 25 meeting.

A smaller front end loader with attachments would be far more flexible and useful to the city, he said. The city manager will bring a comprehensive proposal to council in the next few weeks.

Drunk driving

A 47-year-old Waterford man was jailed for drunk driving after getting his pickup truck stuck on a rock off the roadway on Waterford Road at Pelton Road, 12:30 a.m., Sept. 23. He told deputies he had been to two bars and drank 10 beers. Preliminary breath test result was 0.236 BAC.

Kitchen fire

Deputies and the Independence Township Fire Department responded to the 4000 block of Clinton Drive for a residential structure fire, 7:41 p.m., Sept. 29. The fire originated in the kitchen. There were no reports of injuries. After the fire was extinguished, the Fire Marshal requested to have the OCSO Fire Investigations Unit respond to the scene. The investigator determined the source of the fire was the stove, but it is unknown at this time what had caused the fire. The incident remains under investigation.

Call Oakland County Sheriff's Office with tips at 800-SPEAK-UP or 1-800-773-2587

Auto theft

A deputy responding to an attempted theft from an automobile near Sashabaw and Waldon roads was nearly hit by a passing vehicle, and stopped it, 3:21 a.m., Sept. 27. When deputies approached the stopped vehicle, the driver placed it in drive and fled. Deputies pursued the vehicle southbound on S. Ortonville Road, crossing Dixie Highway into a parking lot. The suspects' vehicle was disabled when it hit a large decorative rock in front of a business, and three occupants fled on foot. A K-9 unit established a track and located two of the suspects, who refused to come out of hiding. The police dog bit one of the suspects on the arm. The search continued for the third suspect, and he was found hiding inside a pontoon boat. The K9 bit him on the leg as he was being taken into custody. All three, a 17-year-old Detroit man, 20-year-old Detroit man, and 23-year-old Detroit man, were medically cleared by McLaren – Clarkston, and jailed pending charges. The suspects' vehicle was confirmed stolen from Dearborn. Detectives from the Auto Theft Unit are continuing the investigation.

Briefly

City birthday

All are invited for cake and ice cream at a celebration of the City of the Village of Clarkston's 25th birthday, Sunday, Oct. 15, from 2-3:45 p.m. at Depot Park and Village Hall.

"Hopefully the weather will be nice," said City Council member Sue Wylie, who is organizing the event with Council member Sharron Catallo.

The organizers are springing for the cake and ice cream, Wylie said.

They may also have kids write birthday messages on the park pathways with chalk.

Volunteers and donations are welcome, she said.

Roof assessments

Clarkston Board of Education approved an assessment of school roofs district-wide, at their Sept. 25 meeting. The assessment by Roofing Technology Associates will use bond funds and will cost $29,500.

The $75 million bond allocates about $2.1 million to district roofing. The assessment will help determine how best to use these funds.

Parliamentary training

Michigan Municipal League will lead a Parliamentary Procedure Training session for members of City Council, Planning Commission, Zoning Board of Appeals, Historic District Commission, and office staff, Monday, Oct. 30, from 6:30-9:30 p.m. at Clarkston Independence District Library.

Topics will include public meeting procedures, public input at meetings, Freedom of Information Act, and Open Meetings Act.

The public is welcome to attend.

"I think it's important we all play from the same rule book," said Mayor Steven Percival. "We should all be professional and know all we can about it."

School additions

The Board of Education approved nine additions to their instructional staff at their Sept. 25 meeting. All are shared-services contracts with a combined pay of $115,485. There were also two subtractions approved, both shared-services contracts.

Two additions were approved, both café helper replacements at Bailey Lake Elementary. Two subtractions were OK'd, para specialists resigned from Pine Knob Elementary and Clarkston High School.

Leadership with Lions

BY JESSICA STEELEY
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Springfield Plains Elementary (SPE) students learned about leadership and leading a healthy lifestyle during an assembly with the Detroit Lions Football Education Division last week.

"The Detroit Lions use their professional athletes as leaders and hope for our kids to model themselves after that leadership," SPE Fifth Grade Teacher Alena Hall said.

Hall oversees the school's student lighthouse team, which she described as being similar to a student council. Each year they try to give back to Springfield Plains with money raised through fundraisers.

"Selling candy-grams during Valentine's Day, just doing little things around the school, like hosting a movie night, they collected money and they paid for an assembly where they're 'Lions for Leadership,'" Hall added.

The assembly discussed many topics Clarkston schools already focus on through initiatives such as Clarkston for Life.

Students learned about living a healthy lifestyle by eating right and being active for 60 minutes every day. They were also taught the importance of education and how they can continue to learn new things throughout their entire lives.

"Springfield Plains has been a Leader-in-Me school for the last two years," Hall said. "The Detroit Lions... they're kind of putting a spin-on-it, like leaders in the community reaching out to leaders in our school."

Poolmart moving to Dixie

BY PHIL CUSTODIO
Clarkston News Editor

The story "Bowman to expand to north, south" in the Sept. 27 edition of the Clarkston News wasn't clear about the fate of Poolmart & Spas, currently located in the expansion zone on M-15.

"People were asking if we're going out of business," said owner Jim Bishop. "We're definitely not going out of business."

Actually, they're building a new store to move into. They broke ground on the new building at 6581 Dixie Highway next to Weingartz on Sept. 25.

"We're starting fresh with a brand new building to better serve our customers while remaining part of the Clarkston community," Bishop said.

They plan to move in March 2018, and will continue operations at the current location until then.

"We're looking forward to staying in Clarkston and growing our business. We plan to be here a long time," he said.

Bishop grew up in the pool and spa industry and has more than 35 years of experience. Poolmart began in 1980, with 37 years in the same location. After the move, Bowman's will use the M-15 property for a used car sales center and display area, a larger dedicated internet sales area, and additional office space. The dealership will use property to the south on Dixie Highway, previously a restaurant, to expand its new-vehicle display area.

For more information on Poolmart & Spas, call 248-625-0729, and check out their website at www.poolmartspas.com, and their Facebook page.

New season for CVP

The new Clarkston Village Players season is well underway, with one play under their belts and the second set to hit the stage this weekend.

The players put on a great show with Steve Martin's "Underpants" in August, a comedy inspired by an early 20th century German drama.

CVP's new production of the comedy "Here on the Flight Path" opens on Thursday for two week-ends only. It's by my favorite comedy playwright from the Great White North, Norm Foster.

He wrote "Self Help," which Clarkston Village Players produced in the spring and in which I played a part.

There'll be lots of clever word play in the Flight Path production, as is typical with Norm Foster, along with obscure Canadian references.

Rehearsals are also underway for the next CVP production, set to hit the stage in late November. I'm in that one, too, "Mornings at Seven," by Paul Osborn.

It's a drama featuring four sisters dealing with long-standing family issues mostly caused by the men in their lives - I play one of those guys.

So far in my year and a half with Clarkston Village Players, I've played a soldier on guard in "Hamlet II," sort of like my experience in the Army; a bellhop fanboy on "Lend Me a Tenor," kind of like my experience in the service industry and as a fan at comic conventions; and an investigative reporter in "Self Help," vaguely like what I do here.

My "Mornings at Seven" role is an old guy, long retired, a teacher, which I've done a bit of, but low key and subtle in a 1930's, midwestern kind of way, which I'm working on.

Music can heal a broken heart, but what about when they happen at the same time?

Prayers for the heartbreakingly huge number of victims in Sunday's massacre at the country music festival in Las Vegas.

Prayers also for those who think they deserved it because of their supposed Trump support, patriotism, being white, or whatever.

And prayers for the family of the great Tom Petty, who also passed away on Monday.

Minimum wage math doesn't add up for reader

Dear Editor,

There is a current push to increase the minimum wage to $15/hour from the current $8.90/hour with a focus on fast food workers. Current average wages include EMT's, $18; Costco worker, $11.50; Walmart cashier, $9.80; average assembly line worker, $14; average housekeeping employee, $12; and so on.

Millions of workers would want the same $6 an hour raise or more causing an across the board cost increase in goods and services. Our goods would become less competitive in the world, reducing exports and increasing the trade deficit, and probably be less affordable domestically for many people. Significant inflation would occur causing people on welfare, receiving unemployment benefits, and retirees on minimal pensions and Social Security payments to fall further below the poverty level.

As fast food restaurants mechanize order taking - McDonalds is testing a kiosks in many restaurants - and even delivery, many of these workers will end up being laid off or fired. In order to control costs most other types of businesses will increase productivity efforts to offset these wage increases and reduce the work force to offset decreased sales.

Due to inflation, eventually $15/hour will become insufficient to live a middle class life since the minimum wage by definition is the lower tier on a pyramid wage scale. A communist economic system is about the only flat wage scale, which has many of its own shortcomings, politically and economically.

Entry level fast food jobs were never meant to provide a middle class life style, but enable high school and college students to earn some money and gain work experience. These jobs also provide retirees and other adults employment opportunities to supplement their income.

In conclusion, a 67% percent increase in the minimum wage will cause inflation, reduce employment, and increase the number of people below the poverty level with no long term benefit.

Appreciation for work on Taste of Clarkston

Dear Editor,

Compliments to the organizers and business participants of this year's Taste of Clarkston! They truly made it a family event.

With such a beautiful day, this year's attendance seemed by far the largest to date.

Kudos to the Oakland County Sheriff's Office, Independence Township Fire Department, Clarkston DPW, Clarkston Schools transportation, and numerous volunteers for a tremendous job providing traffic control and a safety presence for all attendees.

Thanks again to all for your hard work and service to the community!

Brother's sacrifice shows need for flag respect

Dear Editor,

OK, I've had it with all this kneel, don't kneel stuff, when we are paying respect to our country and flag. Maybe, while you're on your knees, you should say a prayer for your attitude.

Looks to me like some overpaid football players just want some attention.

Why do people have to protest about everything? Maybe some things are good the way they are. In my opinion, that would be gladly standing with your hand over your heart that is still ticking because so many men have died for you and that good feeling you get when you do it.

My brother Ollie Johnson Jr. died on Iwo Jima in 1945 at the age of 19, even after they raised that wonderful flag.

He was the oldest son of my mother who had been widowed three years earlier with 10 children. I'm sure she could have used him at home.

I have a decal on the back window of my car in memory of him. It is a picture of our wonderful flag raised that day on Iwo Jima.

I don't think my brother meant to die for people who are on their knees disrespecting our flag. If you don't like our country or flag, go live in North Korea. I'll bet you will stand up there.

I love my country and my flag and I'll always stand, gladly and gratefully, with my hand over my heart for it.

If you don't like my opinion, well, my brother died for me so I could be free to say this.

God bless our flag.
God bless America.

Meanwhile, back at the sick ward . . .

As I sit here at my desk, typing up another "gem" of a Don't Rush Me column, I looked down to see my roll of nose-blowin', snot-clearing TP has been depleted. It's been there on my desk for a few years. This week my nose killed it.

Like most folks, I do not like getting colds. Actually I hate it. And, one reason I hate it is because I have to be responsible and separate myself from society. I hate being in self-exile. It is boring.

On the upside, I did get to reacquire myself with that blast from the past TV show Johnny Sokko and His Flying Robot.

I am not certain, but I will venture to guess this show was produced by the same folks who gave us all the 1960s Godzilla movies — complete with full Japanese acting crew and English-dubbed voice overs.

By-the-way, if you're not a SciFi television geek, you might (mistakenly) mix up Johnny Sokko's Flying Robot with Ultraman — another gray and red, flying Earth defender from 1960's Japan.

Glad I was able to share some of my useless information with you. Carry on.

Speaking of Japan, a while back Japanese studies teacher Faye Valtadors made her way to my office — not my Oxford office, where I am typing, but my Clarkston office.

Her only vested reason to visiting me, high atop 5

S. Main Street in beautiful downtown Clarkston wasn't my disarmingly charming personality. Nope, she wanted some press for the upcoming Great Lakes JETAA jobs fair.

The what?

That's what I thought, too. I got Great Lakes and I understood what the words "jobs" and "fair" put together mean; JETAA I was not familiar with. By the blank look on my face, Faye figured I wasn't just playing dumb.

"It stands for Japan Exchange and Teaching Alumni Association," said she.

Faye and her Japan studies students in Clarkston every-other year visit Japan and every year they host Japanese students for a week or so.

That cleared up, she also explained there are a ton of job opportunities working with area companies who are either Japanese owned, or those who have business with Japanese companies. Did you know there is a Japanese Consulate General in Detroit?

I didn't — but it is true.

At any rate, the Jobs Fair is on Saturday, October 14. Both Japanese and American companies AND recruiters will be in attendance. The program starts promptly at 10:30 a.m. and concludes a couple of hours later at 1:30. It will be at the Auburn Hills Marriot (Salon C), 3600 CenterPoint Parkway, 48341.

Dress for success, bring copies of your resume and business cards. If you have questions you can e-mail gljetaajobfair@gmail.com. They also have a Facebook page, Great Lakes JETAA which you can ask to "join."

Whilst laying on my back, on my living room couch most of last week, I marveled at the sheer number of cobwebs up on my ceilings. I reckon, I need to kick up my dusting game a notch or two.

I found that chicken noodle and/or chicken rice soup IS good for you. I felt better after eating said soups. Know what makes those soups even more betterer? Wasabi peas or Tabasco sauce. The combination of spice and wholesomeness makes me happy.

One of the bummers when you're home alone sick, with no one to talk to AND you do not have cable TV is the limited amount of shows or movies to watch.

Daytime, network TV sucks! I could only watch Kathie Lee Gifford and Hoda Kotb drink wine, make crude jokes on NBC's Today show for about 97 seconds.

How many court TV shows with TV judges are there? Too many.

I often found myself letting all the shows on Comet TV (a free, over the air TV network) watch me while I recuperated — aka, slept.

Here are some of the movies Comet runs:

GAS-S-S-S (1970), a musical comedy starring Robert Corff, Elaine Giftons and Ben Vereen.

Dracula VS. Frankenstein (1971) a "horror" movie starring J. Carrol Naish, Lon Chaney, Jr and Zandor Vorkov.

Mars Needs Women (1966), a science fiction movie starring Tommy Kirk, Yvone Criag and Byron Lord (who ever they are).

and The Curse of the Cat People from 1944.

Looking for league victory

BY WENDI REARDON PRICE
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Clarkston's gridiron heroes have seen some tough opponents and this Friday's game at Rochester Adams won't be any different as both are battling for the OAA Red crown.

"They are pretty good," said Kurt Richardson, long-time head coach for Clarkston Varsity Football, about the Wolves' familiar foes. "We have to stop their running game. They are pretty solid all the way around, but their running game is their strength. We have played them in the past as our crossover because they are a good program with good kids."

He added, "Adams is very, very good. We will have to play our best game of the year so far to beat them."

The Wolves added one more win to their record last Friday in their battle at Troy Athens, 45-13.

"The score is deceiving," Richardson shared. "I don't think we played real well. It was sloppy, too many penalties. We didn't execute real well."

Senior runningbacks Michael Fluegel and Josh Cantu led in scoring with two touchdowns each. Fluegel scored on a 32-yard run and a 72-yard run while rushing the ball 124 yards on six carries. Cantu scored on a 2-yard run and a 15-yard run as he rushed 16 times for 132 yards.

Junior runningback Jake Billette had a 25-yard touchdown run to help the boys in scoring.

Senior quarterback Nate Uballe was 6-for-14 for 116 yard with one touchdown to senior wide receiver Spencer Lenardson on a 42-yard pass. Lenardson had two receptions for 64 yards.

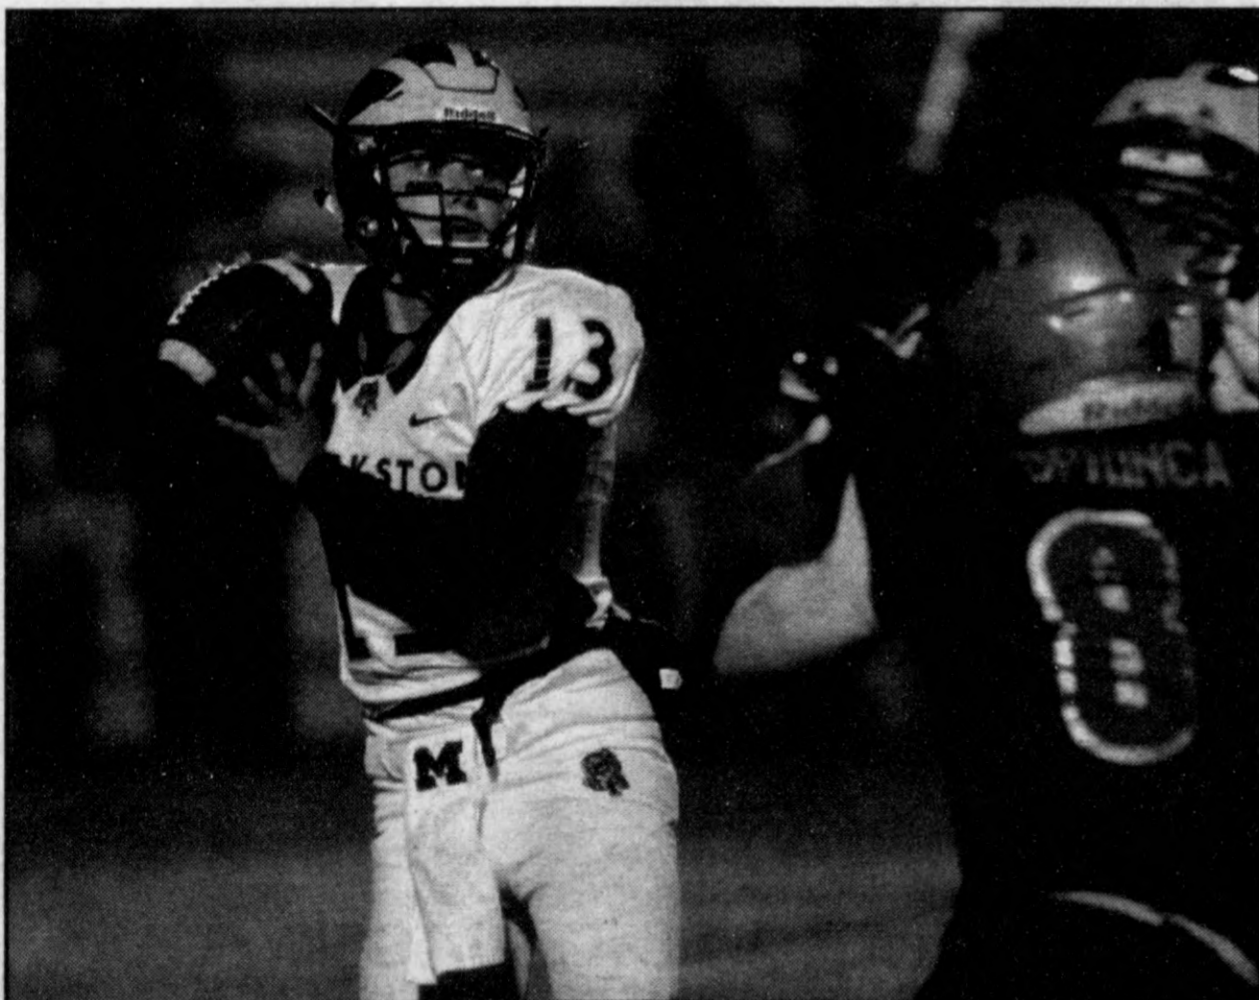

Junior kicker Tristan Mattson had a 43-yard field goal and went 4-for-4 on PATs. Senior Jermaine Roemer went 2-for-2 on PATs.

Senior Maxx Brennan led defense with six tackles and one interception. Senior Anthony Simmons had four tackles for 17 yards loss. Junior Josh Luther had five tackles and junior Conor Donahue had three tackles.

"The good thing is we got out of Athens pretty much injury free," Richardson said. "To be healthy going into Adams against them is big."

Kick off at Rochester Adams High School, 3200 West Tienken Road, is 7 p.m.

Both teams go in 5-1 overall and 4-1 in the OAA Red.

Twice tied but falls short

Spikers battled it out against rivals Lake Orion and lost for the fourth time on Sept. 26, 3-0.

The Lady Dragons opened the first game with six points and the Clarkston Varsity Volleyball slowly added points.

They closed in when senior Corrin Gualtieri scored putting the score 21-15, starting a six-point run for the Wolves until they were tied with Orion.

Lake Orion broke the tie only for Kayla Luchenbach to bring the score to 22-22. Clarkston took the lead with a hit from Abbey Malinowski, 24-23. The Dragons scored the next two points to win the game, 25-23.

The Wolves opened the second game with the first three points with one from a block from the duo of Luchenbach and Sierra Kersten.

Lake Orion put two points on the board before Olivia Johnson scored on for Clarkston to slow down their opponents.

Each team scored a round of points before the other team slowed them down with their round of points before Lake Orion tied the game at 16 points.

Clarkston rised, scoring three points with two from a block by Gualtieri and a hit from Malinowski. The hosts scored one more point before the Wolves put three more on the board.

Orion closed in again with side out calls in their favor putting the score at 23-23. They made the final two points to win, 25-23.

The Dragons finished the night winning the third game, 25-12.

Malinowski, one of the ten finalists for Michigan's Miss Volleyball, led the team with 11 kills, 14 digs, two aces and two blocks.

Clarkston followed the loss with a 3-0 win over Birmingham Seaholm last Thursday, 25-22, 25-11, 25-12.

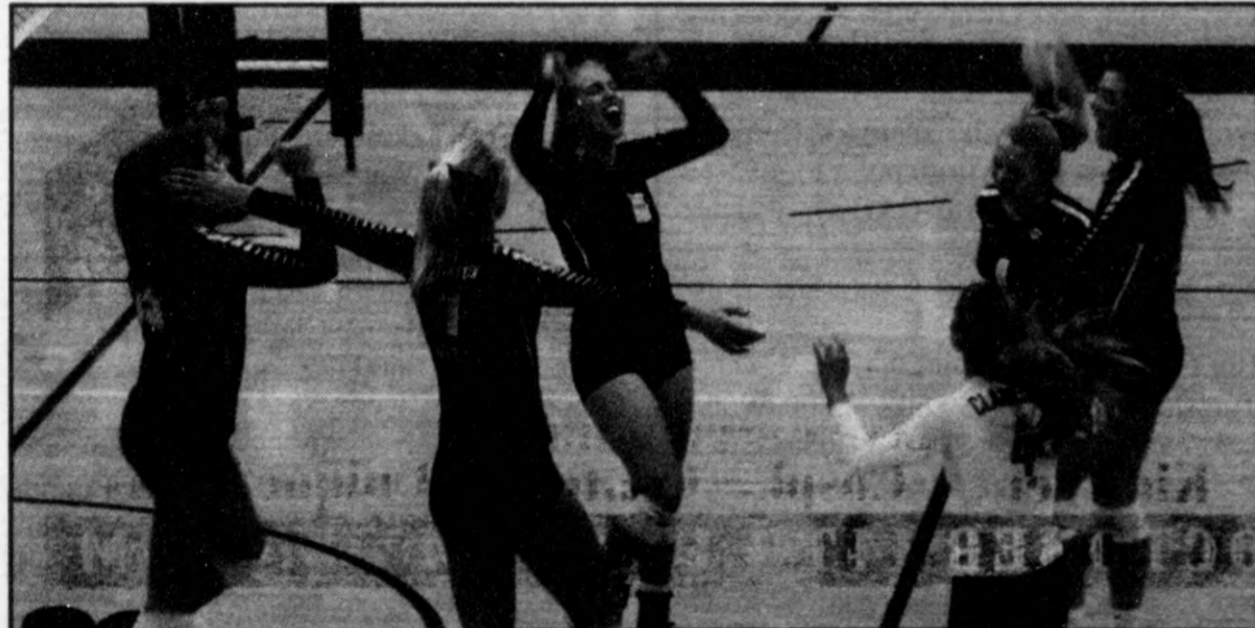

The Lady Wolves (21-9, 4-1 OAA Red) opened the week on Tuesday against Bloomfield Hills and head to Oxford on Thursday. JV begins at 5:30 p.m., varsity follows.

They close the week at the Marian tournament on Saturday.

The Clarkston Freshman Volleyball team battled close games against Lake Orion and defeated the Dragons, 2-1. They won the first game, 25-23, before Lake Orion tied the series with their 25-19 win. The Lady Wolves finished with a 25-18 win in the third game.

They also posted a 3-0 win over Birmingham Seaholm, 25-14, 29-27, 27-25, to improve their record to 34-15 and 5-0 in the league.

Soccer ties, win for tennis

The Clarkston Boys Varsity Soccer team tied their game at Berkley on Sept. 26, 3-3.

The Bears opened the game with an early goal and Clarkston was quick to tie the score with a goal from sophomore Ethan Wise with an assist from senior Matt Heilman on a throw in.

Before the first half finished, Berkley took the lead back with their second score for the night. The Wolves opened the second half, tying with a header from senior Mason Gergar off a corner kick. Berkley came back five minutes later to take the lead and held onto it until 15 minutes to go in the game when senior Finn Eblenkamp tied the score at three with another header.

The Wolves (6-4-4) opened the week on Tuesday against Stoney Creek. They head to Lake Orion on Thursday and are back home on Friday when they host Royal Oak and Youth Soccer Night.

JV begins at 5:30 p.m., varsity follows.

The Clarkston Boys Varsity Tennis team came out with two wins against one of the top teams in the state on Sept. 26.

They hosted Troy during the 6-2 loss, where Jacob Burkett on Singles No. 3 court defeated Jagan Nallani, 6-2, 4-6, 7-5; and Noah Faszewski had a 6-2, 6-2 win over Sohan Vittalani on Singles No. 4. Wolf Luke Baylis gave Steven Forman a showdown on Singles No. 1 court but finished with a 6-2, 6-0 loss.

The Wolves head to Troy on Thursday for the OAA Red league meet. They host Utica Eisenhower on Monday, 4 p.m.

Mandisa joins fellow American Idols in inspirational concert

BY PHIL CUSTODIO

Clarkston News Editor

A music tour coming to town is called "Rise Out of the Dark." Mandisa and Danny Gokey, both American Idol alum and featured performers, have first-hand experience with that.

"We really want to use our stories to help bring some other people out of the dark," said Mandisa in a phone interview. "We're praying and asking God to bring people who are battling that darkness to that night because we really believe he wants to encourage and bring some hope and healing to people."

The tour, also featuring special guests

Love & The Outcome and American Idol Season 8 finalist Jasmine Murray, will be at 7 p.m., Friday, Oct. 13, at Mt. Zion Church.

The event will include music and sharing their stories.

"That's a big part of what we want to do. We both battled depression recently and that's why we call it the 'Rise out of the Dark' tour," Mandisa said.

Also, Gokey's latest album is "Rise" and her album is "Out of the Dark," she said.

For her, the darkness was three years of depression triggered by the loss of a close friend to breast cancer.

"I remember when I was in the lowest of lows, I thought no one knows what this feels like. There's nobody who could understand how a Christian who loves the Lord wants to take her life," she remembered. "I felt like I was the only one to feel that way."

Evangelist Charles Stanley said to be on guard anytime you are hungry, angry, lonely, and tired, and from 2013-2016, she was all of those things, Mandisa said.

"I was on a weight loss journey so I was always hungry. Food has always been a comfort for me and I have been denying so much," she said. "That was a season of hunger. I was angry because my friend passed away, who I thought was going to be healed here on Earth. I was mad at God for letting that happen."

A turning point came when friends sought her out and staged an intervention. This convinced her to go to counseling to deal with her grief.

"The Lord definitely moved my friends, my loved ones — that was a huge part," she said. "He also used things like songs on the radio, messages from total strangers, tweets, posts on Instagram. He literally used anything and everything to get my attention and that's just the kind of God that I serve."

As she came out of it and started to share her story, she could not believe how many experienced similar depression and thought they were the only one.

"I thought I was the only one, too," she said. "It's just amazing to me. I feel like that's the trick of the enemy, to isolate us."

The truth is so many people experience it, she said.

"There's power in sharing it. There's power in letting people know not just how God brought me out of it," she said. "I definitely want to share that. I feel people need to know that I was in it, that it was dark and it was low and it's never been so bad in my life, because there's power in knowing that you're not the only one, that even Mandisa, who stands on a stage and is proclaimed an up-and-comer, has been through the valley of the shadow of death."

Now she has a second chance, she said. "I know it's not an immediate, hey, I'm out of the dark," she said. "I have to work every single day to make sure I don't go back."

At the concert, she plans to share devotionals she wrote for each song in her new album.

"It's not something I can put completely in a song. I feel like I can pour out my heart in these devotionals," she said. "I only wrote them for this tour. I'm not going to release them publicly. I'm not selling it, I only wanted it for this."

She also hopes to meet a Michigan friend who has been following her on Twitter since American Idol.

"I'm really looking forward to seeing her because she's been such a faithful supporter of mine for so many years. She has a special place in my heart," Mandisa said.

Born Mandisa Lynn Hundley, she finished in ninth place in the fifth season of American Idol.

She won a Grammy Award for her album "Overcomer" in the Best Contemporary Christian Music Album category.

Her first new album in four years, "Out Of The Dark," earned the No. 1 spot on Billboard's Christian and Gospel Chart.

Gokey, a Dove Award winner, two time KLOVE Male Artist of the Year, and a top-three finalist on Season Eight of American Idol, is the founder of Sophia's Heart, an organization in honor of his late wife, who passed away from a heart condition just prior to his time on American Idol.

Gokey is a native of Milwaukee and currently lives in Nashville with his wife, Leyicet, and their two children. The couple is currently expecting their third child in fall of 2017.

Tickets for the 32-city tour, also a benefit for Food for the Hungry, can be purchased via iTickets.com or by calling 800-965-9324. VIP tickets including early entry are $49.50; general admission, $26.50.

City Council tables HDC appointment amendment

and to present testimony.

Marsh and Kneisc wanted the "shall be appointed" provision to be changed to allow any member of the council to make appointments.

"Anyone can nominate, is essentially what we're saying," Kneisc said.

Mayor Steven Percival said that could lead to a "free-for-all" of nominations.

"I'm OK with the mayor appoints, council confirms," Percival said. "I don't know if we want just anybody to be able to pop up and make appointments."

Council member Sharron Catallo said council members traditionally make nominations, which were considered by the mayor who then made the nomination, with confirmation by City Council.

"Basically that's how we did it – we've always voted," Catallo said.

Resident Bill Basinger, member of the Zoning Board of Appeals, agreed, saying past mayors had a "gentlemen's agreement" to allow it. The "mayor shall appoint" provision is left over from the strong-mayor type of government used as a template for the city ordinances decades ago and has no place in the city's manager-type government, he said.

"The mayor has no administrative authority – he or she is considered equal with other council members," Basinger said. "It makes no sense to have one person be the gatekeeper – suggestions have always been considered in the past."

"That's not true," said Council member Sue Wylie.

Under Chapter 30.01, if the city manager is disabled or sick and can't perform his or her duties, the mayor "may perform the city manager duties and may designate a city employee, a member of the City Council or a member of a city commission or board to perform specific duties."

Cara Catallo, whose non-nomination to the HDC by Percival kicked off the ordinance amendment drive, said tabling just delays the matter.

"My concern as a citizen is that I don't want this to go on for months and months without being rectified," Cara said. "Every other mayor we've had, it's always been brought up at the table and there was a vote – the current way is the radical change."

City attorney Thomas Ryan, who was not at the Sept. 25 meeting, wrote the proposed amendment. He's scheduled to be at the Oct. 9 meeting.

"If you're saying, have Tom Ryan look at it, I'm totally fine with that," Kneisc said. "I'm fine with postponing first reading until it's changed."

The council voted unanimously to table the proposed amendment.
