Signs mean file closing, not shop

Morgan's staying put, owner says

BY PHIL CUSTODIO
Clarkston News Editor

Michigan Department of Transportation installed four metal signs on M-15 around 148 N. Main Street for a "site closure," but current occupant Morgan's Auto Repair isn't going anywhere.

"Site closure means they're closing their file — there's no more work to be done," said Scott McIntyre, owner of Morgan's. "We're not closing the business or anything like that."

The MDOT signs, which all say "Restricted Excavation Area, MDOT, #63071-51847-18," are part of an Environmental License Agreement allowing property owners to leave contamination in place within the MDOT right of way, said Stacey Gough, utility and permits engineer with MDOT Oakland, in an email to City Manager Jonathan Smith, Aug. 14.

"The ELA may also be required in order for the liable party to obtain a site closure from the MDEQ," Gough said. "As part of the permit and ELA, MDOT requires the liable party to place markers within the MDOT ROW in order to mark the limits of contamination. This then alerts anyone in the future, MDOT crews, RCOC, city, utility companies, etc., that may be excavating or drilling within that area that there is known contamination that may be encountered."

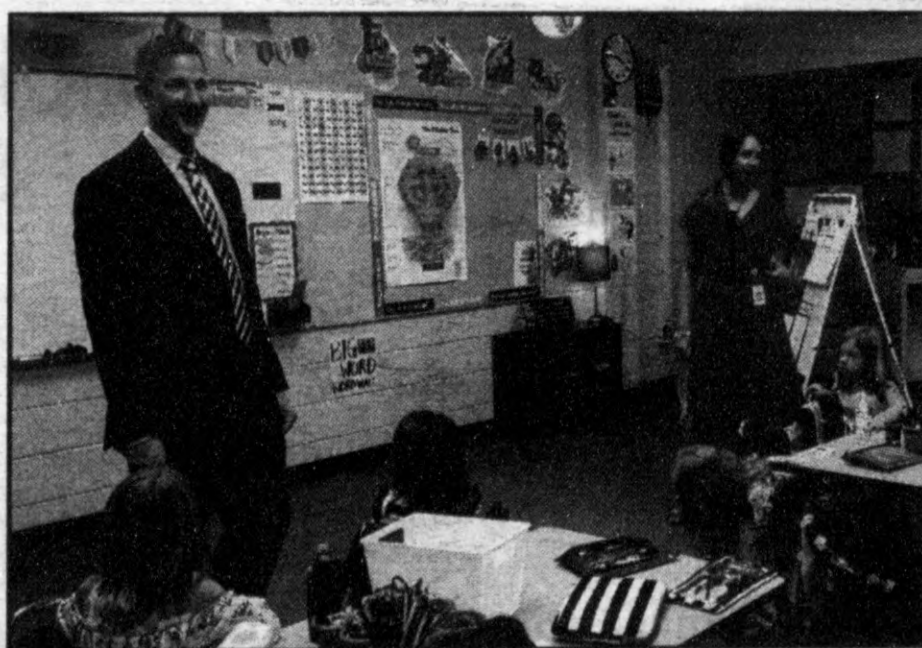

Chet Pardee, city resident who previously requested information on the pollution issue, still has concerns about it.

School chief's goal to help students bloom

BY KIRSTEN ISBELL
Clarkston News Intern Writer

Facing his first full year as superintendent of Clarkston Community Schools, Shawn Ryan has bright ideas for students.

"In the first few weeks of school I would rather have teachers focusing on building relationships with their students rather than focusing on lesson one point one, and reading Chapter One," Ryan said.

If students have good relationships with their teachers, they're more willing to learn and enjoy it, too, he said.

Rather than numbers, he focuses on the student as a whole, including fundamental skills, helping students find their passions, and having a purpose when they graduate.

Fundamental skills he views as non-negotiable for students include reading, writing, arithmetic and thinking.

"These are basic and important for students to learn and have a foundation for learning," he said.

Focusing on the student as a whole includes mental health. On Aug. 24, Ryan attended a seminar at Clarkston High School about mental health first aid.

"I included all of the teachers and even opened this up for the community to be able to attend. We need to be a community and work together and we need to take responsibility for supporting them," he said.

Helping students find their passions is another focus.

"Kids all have dreams," Ryan said.

His goal is to make sure each student finds what they love and experience school through what they love, rather than just sitting inside in rows for six hours a day.

This has already begun to be implemented in the school district, he said.

Last year, Clarkston Junior High School teachers created a skilled trades program for students, and this year they are building a new outdoor classroom. This classroom will help students practice skills they learn in the classroom, such as building a house.

"These students will be experiencing an environment they will be working in if they stick with the skilled trade," he said.

Focusing on passion and purpose after graduation is the last part of his vision for the district.

"This looks different for every student and this purpose could change many time within the next months and years to come," Ryan said.

His goal is to have students moving forward, whether to college, military, or skilled trades. The options are endless, but he wants each student on a path.

Ryan was appointed interim superintendent after the resignation of Superintendent Rod Rock. After interviews, he was chosen unanimously by the Board of Education to be the new superintendent. Ryan has been a teacher and administrator with Clarkston Community Schools for the last 22 years.

Residents call for more info

148 N. Main property as evidenced by standing water, potholes and orange cones," Pardee said at the Aug. 27 City Council meeting. "I suggest the city ask HRC (Hubble, Roth and Clark) to recommend some solutions, as the city's engineering resource. HRC has knowledge of the 148 N Main site based on their invoices in April 13, 2015 consent agenda regarding the site and storm water flow when development was being considered. They should be able to recommend the safest solutions."

Pardee was told by MDEQ part of the plume at 148 N Main has moved south.

McIntyle was told the plume has been dissipating since the leaking underground fuel tanks were removed in 1992.

Pardee called for expert input on the 148 N. Main contamination issue at a future City Council meeting.

"The discussion should include professionals familiar with the contamination who can explain to our citizens about the contamination and its southward movement," Pardee said. "I suggest that MDEQ's Terri Golla and HRC engineers familiar with the situation be present."

According to MDEQ, 148 N. Main has been an automotive related business since around 1920. In 1991, MDEQ found four underground tanks leaking gasoline. Two were installed in 1951, and the others in 1972.

The DEQ found a plume of pollution around the property in 2015, when it was being considered for use as a coffee shop.

Thirteen of 18 records at issue in Susan Bisio's Freedom of Information Act lawsuit against the City of the Village of Clarkston are in regards to the 2015 development proposal, including storm water system review, detention system options, and a hold harmless agreement.

"The invoice descriptions in the consent agenda of the April 13, 2015, council meeting appear to suggest that (city attorney) Tom Ryan was discussing indemnification or a hold harmless agreement associated with 148 N. Main," Pardee said. "Eight lines of the invoice mention 'indemnity' or 'hold harmless' in Tom Ryan's communications with Neil Wallace and HRC employees. Was the village being asked to indemnify the property purchaser from environmental risks?"

David Marsh, who is running for City Council in the fall, said it is not out of the ordinary to seek an indemnity agreement when developing property with contamination issues. However, he is filing a Freedom of Information Act request with the DEQ for all documents regarding 148 N. Main.

"The city has a right to know about it," Marsh said. "They should know about it."

Parking fund not for patrols, city says

BY PHIL CUSTODIO

Clarkston News Editor

City Council considered but declined a proposal to spend $10,000 in parking meter funds for more police patrols to slow speeders on Holcomb Road and M-15.

"Is this a proper use of the parking fund – no, it is absolutely not," said Council member Jason Kneisc.

"It should not come from the parking fund – that's pretty clear," said Mayor Pro Tem Susan Wylie.

When setting up paid parking in the city parking lot at Main and Washington, City Council approved using proceeds for new parking, and street, sidewalk, and parking maintenance, said City Manager Jonathan Smith.

Smith proposed increasing patrols for a year, until more permanent speed humps and electronic "your speed is" signs become available.

"Concrete speed humps are recommended (by the city engineer)," he said.

Two speed humps on Holcomb between Washington and Miller, 10-12 feet wide with crosswalks on top, would cost $40,000-$80,000, the city manager said.

The patrols, contracted with the Oakland County Sheriff's Office at $67.58/hour for four hours per week, would be dedicated to speed patrol, he said.

The math didn't add up for Council member Joe Luginski – the $10,000 would fund about 26 minutes of extra patrols a day on Holcomb and Main.

"The problem is M-15 is a designated truck route for MDOT," Luginski said.

City Council previously discussed adding stop signs on Holcomb Road at Washington and Surrey. The Road Commission for Oakland County, which has jurisdiction over part of the Holcomb and Washington intersection, would oppose a four-way stop there.

Also, the city engineer does not recommend stop signs at Holcomb and Surrey, saying it could create a false sense of security for pedestrians crossing the street, Smith said.

Kneisc called for more explanation from the city engineer, as well as consideration of other new ideas, such as breaking Holcomb Road into two sections with the break between Miller and Washington.

"A real radical idea – cut Holcomb in half," he said.

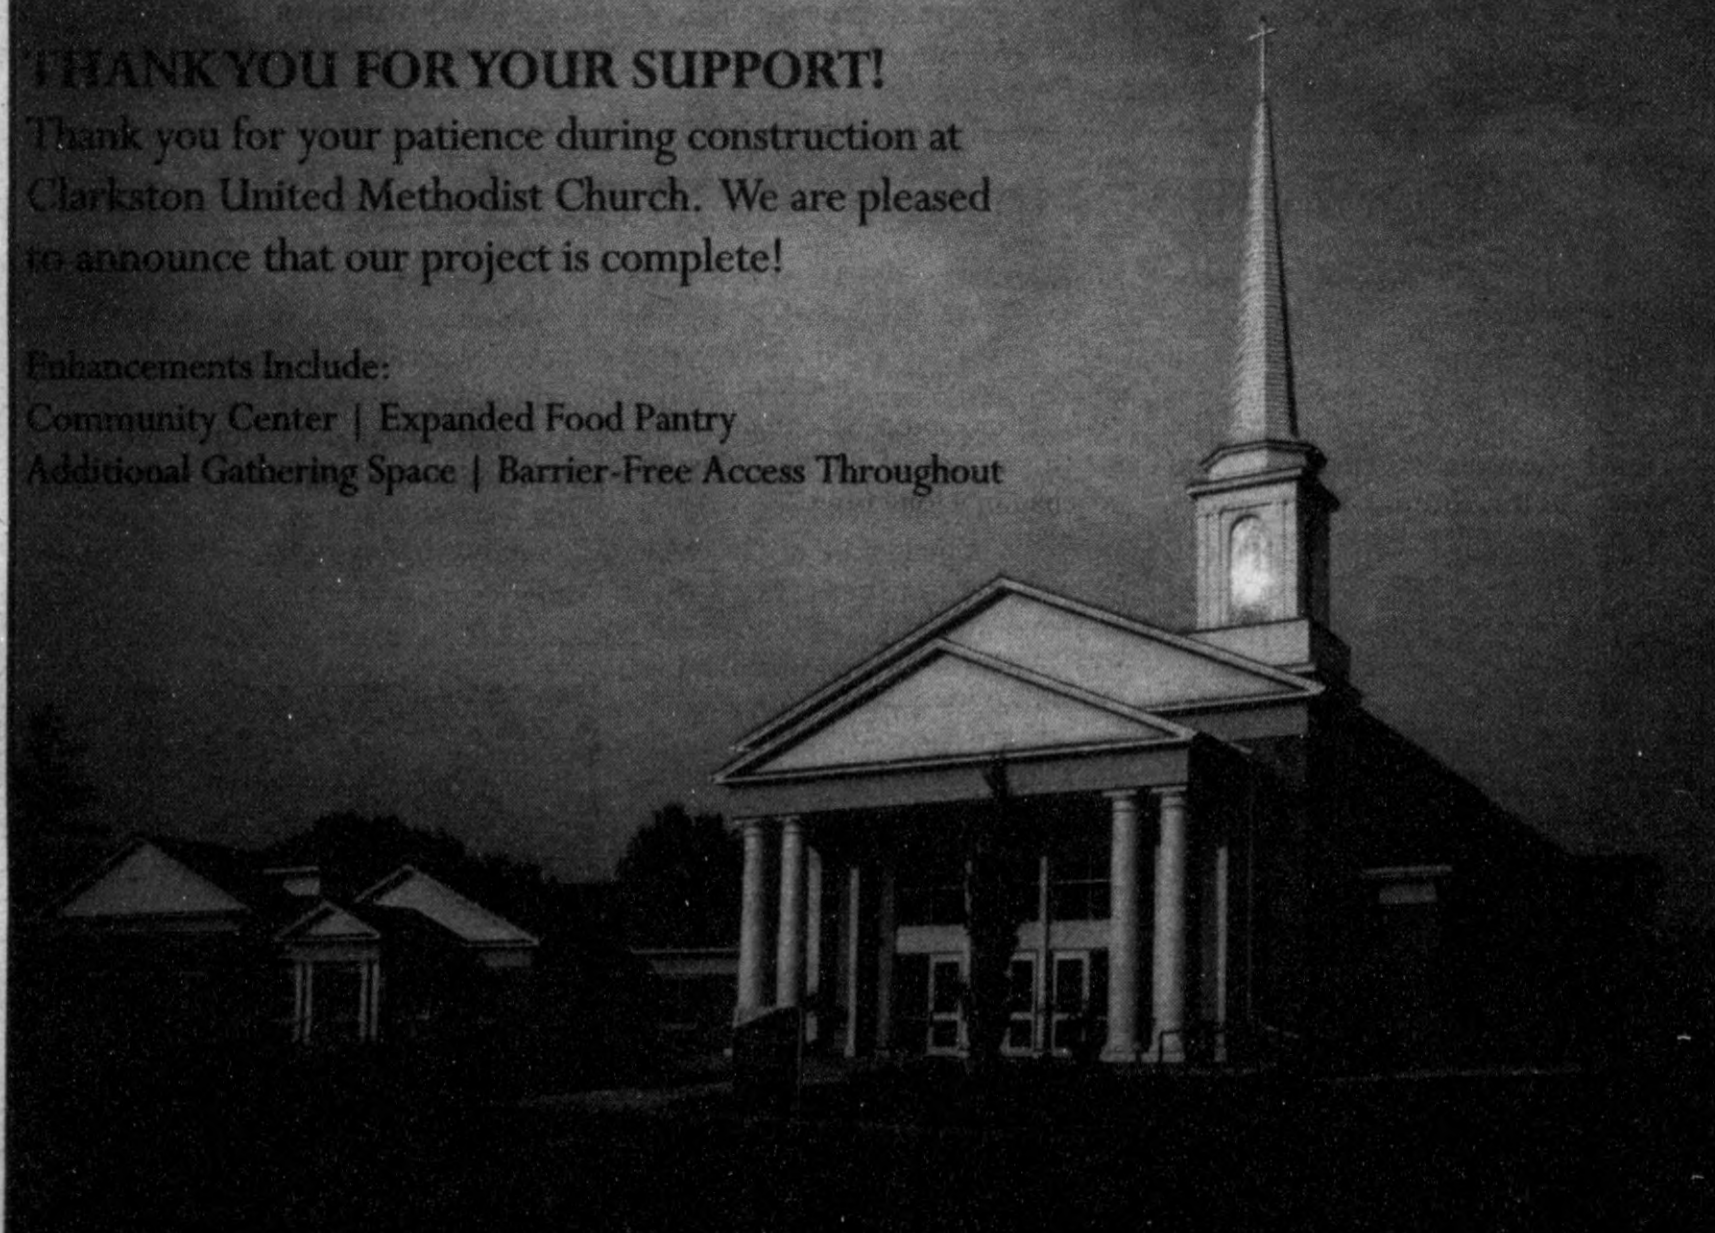

Council member Rick Detkowski proposed a resolution to approve the $10,000, but rescinded it after discussion in favor of looking more into speed humps and electronic signs.

2019 off and running

BY BRENDA DOMINICK
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Monday kicked off the first day of classes with packed backpacks and bright smiles at Clarkston Community Schools.

Some elementary schools had Kindergarten and Young 5's Open Houses, along with Meet the Teacher events, so students could get acquainted and more comfortable with the teachers and classrooms. Other schools, from elementary to high school, had 1/2 day classes.

At each school, teachers familiarized students with the basic rules and expectations of their classrooms. They also provided personal introductions of themselves and handed out information on school events and class subjects.

During the Open Houses and Meet the Teachers events, students and their parents brought in school supplies, participated in fun activities, and were given tasty snacks. Parents were also welcome to speak individually to teachers with their questions and/or concerns.

At Clarkston Elementary, Superintendent Shawn Ryan and Principal Brian Adams gave a brief assembly in the gym to the fifth graders, encouraging kids to be positive and do their best in school.

"You guys are going to have an amazing year," Ryan told the kids. "We're so excited, Mr. Adams tells me this is one of the best classes he's had in a long time."

Adams said, "First group I went to visit, Mr. Ryan, was this group of kids. I told them how important it was to have great leadership from our fifth graders. I said I was excited for this group because we've got a lot of fine students sitting in front of us and they have good qualities and they're going to help us have a great year."

Ryan agreed, smiling, "That's right."

All Clarkston Community Schools began full day schedules the following day, Tuesday, Aug. 28. A holiday break for Labor Day will be Friday, Aug. 31, to Monday, Sept. 3, resuming school on Tuesday, Sept. 4. For more information, visit <https://www.clarkston.k12.mi.us>.

Briefly

Class outside

Clarkston Board of Education voted unanimously, Aug. 20, to approve an outdoor trades platform at Clarkston Junior High School.

"This will be the outdoor classroom space where the building trades program is going to have a space to safely build and expand on the projects that they started in their first year of the project," said Superintendent Shawn Ryan. "This will be outside because it will be more physical space and the reality of the trades actually being outside."

Cost is $146,958, from contingency funds in the 2016 bond phase two projects.

"This is a great use of contingency funds," said Trustee Cheryl McGinnis. "This is a great use of our bond money to take care of this new idea, and the opportunity it provides for our students."

New plants soon on Mill Race

Volunteers joined the Clinton River Watershed Council and Clarkston DPW workers in cleaning up the Mill Race banks in Depot Park, Aug. 22.

They worked to remove existing vegetation and install an erosion-control mat on the west side of the stream, off Depot Road.

They'll be back on Saturday, Sept. 22, to plant about 2,000 native plants from the outlet to the bridge.

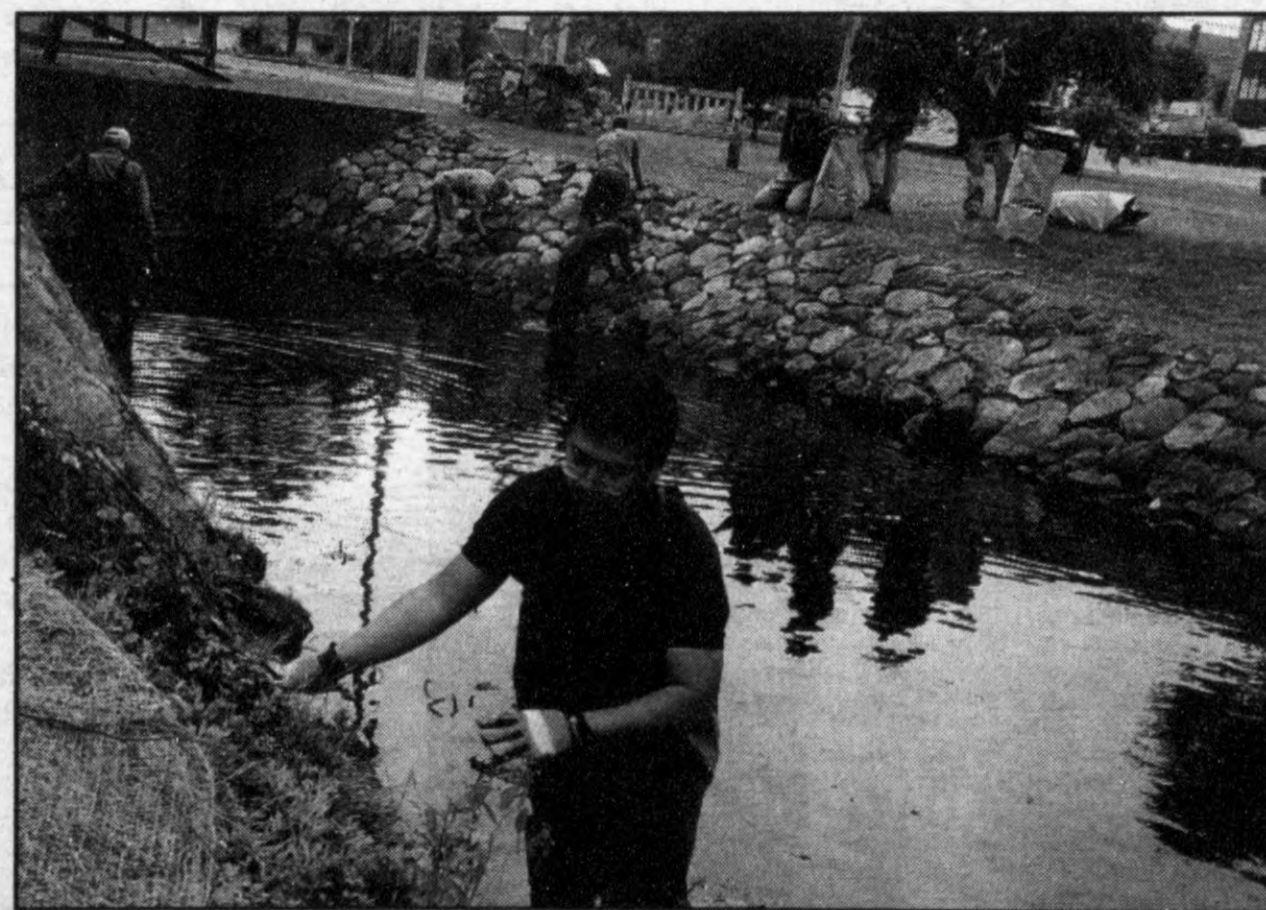

"The plants will be arranged to maximize beautification of the bank while also controlling erosion," said City Manager Jonathan Smith. "We do need some help - volunteers are actively being sought."

The project is funded by Friends of Depot Park and a $5,000 grant from CRWC, and is in consultation with the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality and Oakland Water Resource Commission, Smith said.

Of the grant, $1,000 will be set aside to maintain the plants, he said.

They also cleaned up the other side of the mill run.

1. All developments within the Sashabaw Town Center Overlay District shall be submitted for approval in accordance with the standards and procedures set forth in this Ordinance; provided, however, that all development of property within the Sashabaw Town Center Overlay District shall comply with the standards and requirements of this section in addition to all other regulations under this Ordinance. The standards and requirements of this section are in addition to and supplement all other regulations under this Ordinance, which remain applicable to the extent that they do not expressly conflict with the provisions of this section. D. Town Center Design Guidelines and Other General Design Principles and Standards Within the Town Center Overlay District. [Unchanged].

E. Specific Design Standards within the Town Center Overlay District. [Unchanged].

Section 4 of Ordinance

Chapter 50, "Zoning Ordinance," Article 13, "Nonconforming Lots, Uses, and Structures," Section 13.05, "Nonconforming Lots of Record," of the Independence Charter Township Code is hereby amended to delete subsection 13.05(F) and read as follows:

SECTION 13.05 NONCONFORMING LOTS OF RECORD

A. This section applies to those districts in which single-family residential is the principal permitted use and is intended to provide relief for the owners of nonconforming lots of record where said lot or lots in combination do not meet the minimum standards of this Ordinance. It is not intended that this section be used to permit construction of a dwelling on all nonconforming lots of record; it is recognized that some such lots are simply too small to permit the construction of an adequate dwelling, the storage of family automobiles, (in recognition of the fact that on street parking is not desirable) the maintenance of sufficient open space to permit fire protection and reasonable light and air, as well as room and views to permit and encourage property maintenance.

B. All nonconforming lots of record shall have required side yard setbacks of at least one (1) side of five (5) feet, and a total on two (2) sides of fifteen (15) feet.

C. No permit shall issue hereunder, except as provided in subsection D. of this section, except with approval of the Board of Appeals after public hearing in accordance with Article 14. The application to the Board of Appeals shall simply state, "Nonconforming Lot of Record," and the Board of Appeals shall permit the use of such nonconforming lot or lots if it finds that the following standards have been met:

1. Permits shall not issue hereunder unless the construction that will result from the issuance of said permits will be in keeping with the general character of the neighborhood in which the construction will take place;
2. The proposed use will not have an adverse effect on adjoining and nearby property owners;
3. Subject to the above, where the owner of a nonconforming lot of record cannot reasonably acquire sufficient land to enable him or her to conform to the requirements of this Ordinance relating to lot area, lot width, or both, such nonconforming lot of record may be used by such owner as a building site; provided that such owner meet such conditions as required by the Board of Appeals; and
4. The nonconforming lot of record shall meet all other requirements of this Ordinance, which requirements for the purpose of this section shall be deemed to include reasonable provisions for automobile parking.

D. For the purpose of maintaining building sites in compliance or near compliance with this Ordinance in those instances where the same owner has adjoining nonconforming lots of record, the following regulations shall apply:

1. Where two (2) abutting lots of record or portions thereof are held under one (1) ownership and where one or both of these lots or portions thereof are nonconforming, they together shall be considered as a single lot of record and are subject to the provisions of subsection D. of this section, and no portion of said parcel shall be used or sold in a manner which diminishes compliance with lot width and area requirements established by this article; and
2. Where three (3) or more abutting lots of record are held under one (1) ownership, and where one (1) or more of these lots are nonconforming, the lots shall be held and maintained in such a manner as to comply with the area and width provisions of this Article, and the provisions of this Ordinance relating to lot area and lot width shall not be avoided by the sale or conveyance of or any portion of such lots of record.

E. Where three (3) or more abutting lots of record are held under one (1) ownership, and where one (1) or more of these lots are nonconforming, the lots shall be held and maintained in such a manner as to comply with the area and width provisions of this Article, and the provisions of this Ordinance relating to lot area and lot width shall not be avoided by the sale or conveyance of or any portion of such lots of record.

Section 5 of Ordinance

Savings. Amended only as specified in this Ordinance, the Zoning Ordinance shall remain in full force and effect.

Section 6 of Ordinance

Severability. If any section, clause or provision of this Ordinance shall be declared to be unconstitutional, void, illegal or ineffective by any Court of competent jurisdiction, such section, clause or provision declared to be unconstitutional, void or illegal shall thereby cease to be a part of this Ordinance, but the remainder of this Ordinance shall stand and be in full force and effect.

Section 7 of Ordinance

Effective. The provisions of this Ordinance shall become effective eight (8) days from the date of publication, unless a notice of intent to file a petition requesting submission of this Ordinance to a vote of the Township electors is filed within seven (7) days of publication. If the notice of intent is filed within seven (7) days of publication, the Ordinance shall take effect thirty-one (31) days from the date of publication, unless a petition determined to be adequate by the Township Clerk is filed within thirty (30) days of publication, in which event the Ordinance shall be submitted to a vote of the Township electors, and if approved, the effective date of the Ordinance will be the date that voter approval is determined. A petition requesting submission of this Ordinance to a vote of the Township electors shall be deemed adequate by the Township Clerk if it is signed by a number of registered electors residing in the portion of the Township outside the limits of cities and villages equal to not less than fifteen percent (15%) of the total vote cast for all candidates for governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected.

Section 8 of Ordinance

Enactment. This ordinance is declared to have been enacted by the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence at a meeting called and held on June 19, 2018 and ordered to be given publication in the manner prescribed by law.

Barbies need new home

For many, the school bell ringing marked the end of summer, not only in Clarkston but the district I live in.

As my son hasn't turned 3-years-old and isn't in preschool yet, to me the end of summer isn't marked by the beginning of school.

The beginning of fall sports marks where summer ends as it's then I am no longer thinking summer but penciling games on the calendar and in the planner.

Last Friday was the first of nights filled with games. During the summer I was spending mere hours on Friday nights purging my childhood of Barbie stuff and before games started we finally held a garage sale. A good majority of Barbieland from the 1980s and early 1990s is gone.

The orange and yellow Dream House - gone. It was sold as my husband had it laid out in pieces and was scrubbing all the dirt away. The buyer wanted the furniture which came with the house, but the pieces I could remember original to the house had sold. It wasn't much and I couldn't exactly remember what came with the house - I was five- or six-years-old when Santa Claus left it in our living room one Christmas morning.

The person who bought the house also bought the whole bin of Barbie clothes - over 160 outfits as many matched as possible by memory in sandwich bags. Those I couldn't remember, I asked for help from others to create their own outfit mixes.

Barbie, Skipper, Ken dolls- half were sold. Actually a lot of male dolls in the first hour. A teacher needed them for her classroom. Awesome, I had something you needed. I was fearful not much would sell.

On the last day, there was one girl I remember. She jumped out of her mom's vehicle holding her doll and went right up to the wooden doll crib my dad made.

Then, she grabbed three Barbie dolls. She ended up with a friend of Kelly doll new in the box and asked if I would take $2 - she was so sweet. I said yes and told her to grab another doll from the bin. (She grabbed Kelly). She was sweet. I say this because one person asked to take less but I sensed she was a dealer and would just mark it up in price.

There is still a ton of Barbie dolls left, if you need some.

Thanks for supporting Rush for Food

Dear Editor,

We would like to thank the Clarkston Community for their support in the 21st Annual Rush for Food that was on Saturday, Aug. 18.

Every year at this time our Clarkston football players and cheer teams enjoy the opportunity to give back to the community. Varsity and JV players canvassed over 35 neighborhoods while the Freshman team worked all afternoon sorting and stocking the pantry of Lighthouse North. The teams collected over 6,000 pounds of food and toiletry items!

Special thanks goes to the Clarkston parents, Dunkin Donuts, Nieman's Family Market, The Royal Diner, and The Fed for the wonderful breakfast provided to our young volunteers.

Thanks also go to the Clarkston Chiefs, Clarkston Dance Team and Clarkston Cheerleaders for contributing donations. Thanks to the many other parents and coaches who pitched in and volunteered at the event and provided additional support! Thanks to the coordinators on the 21st annual Rush For Food parent committee which included Jen Ladd, Lisa DiPillo, Karen Nicklin, Nancy Tedder, Kim Visintine, Jen Ferman, Alisa Sherwood, and Stephanie Jensen for their time and commitment in organizing another successful year!

Finally, we would like to thank the Chiefs, Clarkston News, St. Daniels Catholic Church, Clarkston Library, and Nieman's Market for hosting community drop-boxes and the Clarkston citizens who generously donated to make this event, the 21st annual Rush For Food, such a great success!

Together, we once again proved what a wonderful community Clarkston is to live in!

Thank you,

Erika Arms

Charter violation was lesser of two evils, reader says

Dear Editor,

On Aug. 15, The Clarkston News ran an editor's column followed by the usual comment from Cory Johnston, both of which questioned my use of the phrases "de minimis" and the "lesser of two evils" at the Aug. 8 special City Council meeting.

However, the full context in which these comments were made was not presented and is important.

My comments were not offered in an attempt to minimize or trivialize the problems caused by the change in the candidate filing deadline from July 24 to Aug. 7. Rather, they were made in response to statements by the mayor that the city should enforce the original July 24 filing deadline, set by resolution last April, despite having just been informed by the State Elections Division that, under the state law setting such dates, the City Charter provision requiring an Aug. 7 date was indeed controlling, despite other state law date language.

I invite your readers to watch the video of the whole meeting and especially the mayor's initial and very lengthy comments, upon opening the meeting. He clearly proposed the best solution for last April's unintended departure from the ultimately controlling charter language was to ignore the recent extension of the filing date to Aug. 7 and throw out all the candidate petitions filed after July 24, which would intentionally and knowingly violate that charter provision.

It was in this context I noted that the prior unintentional error, later corrected to the extent feasibly possible given the time allowed, was certainly "de minimis" when compared to an intentional and knowing disregard of the charter established filing date recognized by the state. This conclusion is further supported by the fact that such a retroactive shortening of the filing date would also wholly defeat the attempt which had been made to mitigate the prior unintentional error.

In fact, six days notice was given on the city's website and all involved in city government urged to get the word out. Also, additional candidates did indeed file during the extended time frame.

Further, it was noted potential candidates who for some reason did not become aware of the extension nonetheless had until October to file as a write-in candidate. Finally, it was also noted extending the deadline was obviously less harmful than shortening it to the original July 24 and excluding already filed candidates.

Thus, when I stated it was the "lesser of two evils" to abide by the Aug. 7 filing deadline, it was in reference to the prior discussion that since notice of the extension did not meet the seven-day publication deadline, possibly all candidates who filed during that extended time should be removed from the ballot.

In that light, the harm caused by not absolutely complying with the charter's seven days "published" notice requirement was clearly far "lesser" than that which would be caused by removing several candidates from the ballot who rightfully assumed they had complied with the corrected later filing deadline as specified by the charter. That is why the courts have held that "substantial compliance" is sufficient if holding otherwise would be to unjustly penalize candidates and also thereby limit the voters' choices.

Sincerely,

William Basinger

New year at Everest

Everest Academy and Collegiate High School launched the new school year with a scriptural passage.

"In preparing for [the students] return we have chosen as a scriptural framework for the year the following passage from 2 Timothy 1:6, 'Rekindle the gift of God that is within you,'" said Headmaster Greg Reichert. "Realizing the belonging that we receive through God's love and His sacraments, we can better see ourselves as gifts for others, while also recognizing our friends and family as special gifts from God, deserving of inherent love and respect."

Teachers and staff paint a wall mural in the faculty and staff lounge at Everest Collegiate High School. During preplanning week, the team came together for a potluck lunch and painting session.

How to maintain your insanity

Don is sick, so please enjoy this totally unrelated Don't Rush Me from Sept. 3, 2003.

Life is apt to throw you curve balls when you least expect it.

And, as I am behind the count, I'm just gonna' try and make a connection. Try for a basehit, versus a homerun.

Here's a cute e-mail I received the other day to make me smile.

20 Ways To Maintain A Healthy Level of Insanity

1. At lunch time, sit in your parked car with sunglasses on and point a hair dryer at passing cars. See if they slow down.

2. Page yourself over the intercom. Don't disguise your voice.

3. Every time someone asks you to do something, ask if they want fries with that.

4. Put your garbage can on your desk and label it "In."

5. Put decaf in the coffee maker for 3 weeks. Once everyone has gotten over their caffeine addictions, switch to Espresso.

6. In the Memo Field of all your checks, write "For Sexual Favors."

7. Finish all your sentences with "In Accordance With The Prophecy."

8. Don't use any punctuation

9. As often as possible, skip rather than walk.

10. Ask people what sex they are. Laugh hysterically after they answer.

11. Specify that your drive-through order is "To Go."

12. Sing along at the opera.

13. Go to a poetry recital and ask why the poems don't rhyme.

14. Put mosquito netting around your work area and play tropical sounds all day.

15. Five days in advance, tell your friends you can't attend their party because you're not in the mood.

16. Have your coworkers address you by your wrestling name, Rock Hard.

17. When the money comes out of the ATM, scream "I Won!, I Won!"

18. When leaving the zoo, start running towards the parking lot, yelling, "Run for your lives, they're loose!!"

19. Tell your children over dinner. "Due to the economy, we are going to have to let one of you go."

And The Final Way To Keep A Healthy Level Of Insanity.....

20. Send this to someone to make them smile. . . It's called therapy.

***

Great truths about growing old

1) Growing old is mandatory; growing up is optional.

2) Forget the health food. I need all the preservatives I can get.

3) When you fall down, you wonder what else you can do while you're down there.

4) You're getting old when you get the same sensation from a rocking chair that you once got from a roller coaster.

5) It's frustrating when you know all the answers, but nobody bothers to ask you the questions.

6) Time may be a great healer, but it's a lousy beautician.

7) Wisdom comes with age, but sometimes age comes alone.

Man run over in domestic violence case

A 28-year-old Orion Township man was run over by a car driven by his girlfriend, a 26-year-old Clarkston woman, during a domestic dispute, 8:54 p.m., Aug. 22.

Detectives and the OCSO Forensic Science Laboratory responded to investigate the incident. According to the investigation, the Lake Orion resident assaulted the woman at a residence in the 500 block of Mayer Court in Orion Township.

She attempted to leave the residence in her vehicle to get away from the boyfriend, who jumped onto the hood of the vehicle. She backed up the vehicle, striking a tree and the boyfriend fell from the hood onto the ground. The woman then drove forward, running the man over.

She immediately stopped the vehicle when she realized he was trapped underneath the vehicle. Several neighbors called 911. The Orion Township Fire Department used a jack to free the subject and began administering life-saving measures to the victim. The male was taken to McLaren-Oakland Hospital where he was listed in critical condition.

The woman was taken by deputies to St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital in Pontiac for medical treatment regarding injuries she sustained from her boyfriend. She was listed in stable condition and has since been released from the hospital.

Detectives are continuing with the investigation.

Neighbor with shotgun

out of her home with the shotgun and began to rack a round into the chamber. Deputies located the suspect, highly intoxicated, at her residence. When interviewed, she denied the incident. When deputies were invited into her home, they recovered a .410 shotgun from the living room. The suspect was taken into custody and jailed pending charges.

Pretrial set in downtown truck crash case

Hutchinson's Electric and Clarkston Department of Public Works were downtown, Monday, to install a new light pole on Main Street north of Waldon, replacing one destroyed by an out-of-control truck last April.

Robert Eckola of Oxford was charged with reckless driving for driving a double-tandem gravel hauler into a downtown Clarkston business, April 20. A pre-trial hearing is scheduled for Sept. 20, 1:30 p.m., at 52-2 District Court before Judge Kelley Kostin.

The truck collided with two vehicles and destroyed a brick wall before plowing into Clarkston Village Dental, 55 S. Main near Waldon Road, at 1:17 pm on April 20, according to investigation by the Oakland County Crash Reconstruction Unit.

The drivers and a passenger in the two vehicles suffered minor injuries in the crash, but refused medical evacuation. Eckola was also treated at the scene.

Oakland County Prosecutor's Office reviewed the case on April 26, and issued an arrest warrant for reckless driving, a misdemeanor punishable by up to 93 days in jail and $500 fine.

Expired license plate

A deputy was parked on Bow Pointe near McLaren Clarkston in a marked patrol vehicle when a car pulled into Bow Pointe, came to a stop with its headlights shining directly at the deputy, made an abrupt U-turn, and drove back towards Sashabaw Road, 9:16 p.m., Aug. 23. The deputy followed and stopped it after noticing its license plate tab was expired. The driver, a 32-year-old Flint man, was cited for driving with a suspended license, expired license tabs, and no insurance.

Motorcycle crash

A 54-year-old Clarkston man and 20-year-old Clarkston female passenger were critically injured when their motorcycle was hit by a pickup truck, 6:59 p.m., Aug. 23, on Clark Road near Big Lake Road. They were approaching Big Lake Road when their 2006 Liftan C25 motorcycle slowed down to make a right turn and was rear ended by the 2017 Chevrolet Silverado. Both were wearing helmets. Paramedics from the Independence Township Fire Department transported the motorcycle operator and passenger to Genesys Health Park, where they were listed in critical condition. The driver of the Silverado, a 56-year-old Clarkston woman, said she was distracted with something inside her vehicle when she rear ended the motorcycle. She was not injured in the crash. Alcohol and drugs do not appear to be a factor in this crash, which remains under investigation.

Victory at Big House

BY WENDI REARDON PRICE
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Defense ruled the field as the Wolves posted their third consecutive win at University of Michigan for Battle of the Big House III last Friday night against Grandville, 12-9.

"Too many mistakes," admitted head coach Kurt Richardson on the boys' season opener. "We move the ball, we get a hold. We move the ball, we jump offsides. But there are good things that happened. Grandville is a good football team so I will take it."

Grandville opened the game starting on the 20-yard line, but were unable to hold onto the ball for long as their weren't able to get past Wolves' defense to convert any of their plays into first downs.

Clarkston took over on the 48-yard after Josh Luther caught the Bulldogs' punt with 96 seconds into the game.

The Wolves held control of the ball and senior kicker Tristan Mattson posted their first score with 2:38 remaining in the first quarter off his 20-yard field goal, putting the Wolves 3-0.

The Bulldogs gained ground in the second quarter and made a go for a touchdown being stopped by Luther twice and Garrett Dellinger, putting them at their fourth down with two yards to go.

Zach Reid stopped them on their final attempt on the 1-yard line, sending Clarkston players and fans into a cheering frenzy with nine minutes to go in the first half.

The Bulldogs fought back and intercepted with 4:17 remaining. Less than 90 seconds later, Conor Donahue intercepted Grandville's pass to get possession back.

With only a few seconds remaining, Mattson scored his second field goal of the night on 22 yards to put the Wolves at 6-0.

Keagan King caught the opening punt of the third quarter, bringing the ball to the 27-yard line before he was stopped.

Quarterback Jake Jensen handed the ball to runningback Jacob Honstetter three times. On the third play and a minute into the quarter, Honstetter went on a 69-yard run into the endzone to put the score, 12-0.

Grandville got onto the scoreboard with 6:40 remaining in the game with a touchdown and PAT, 12-7.

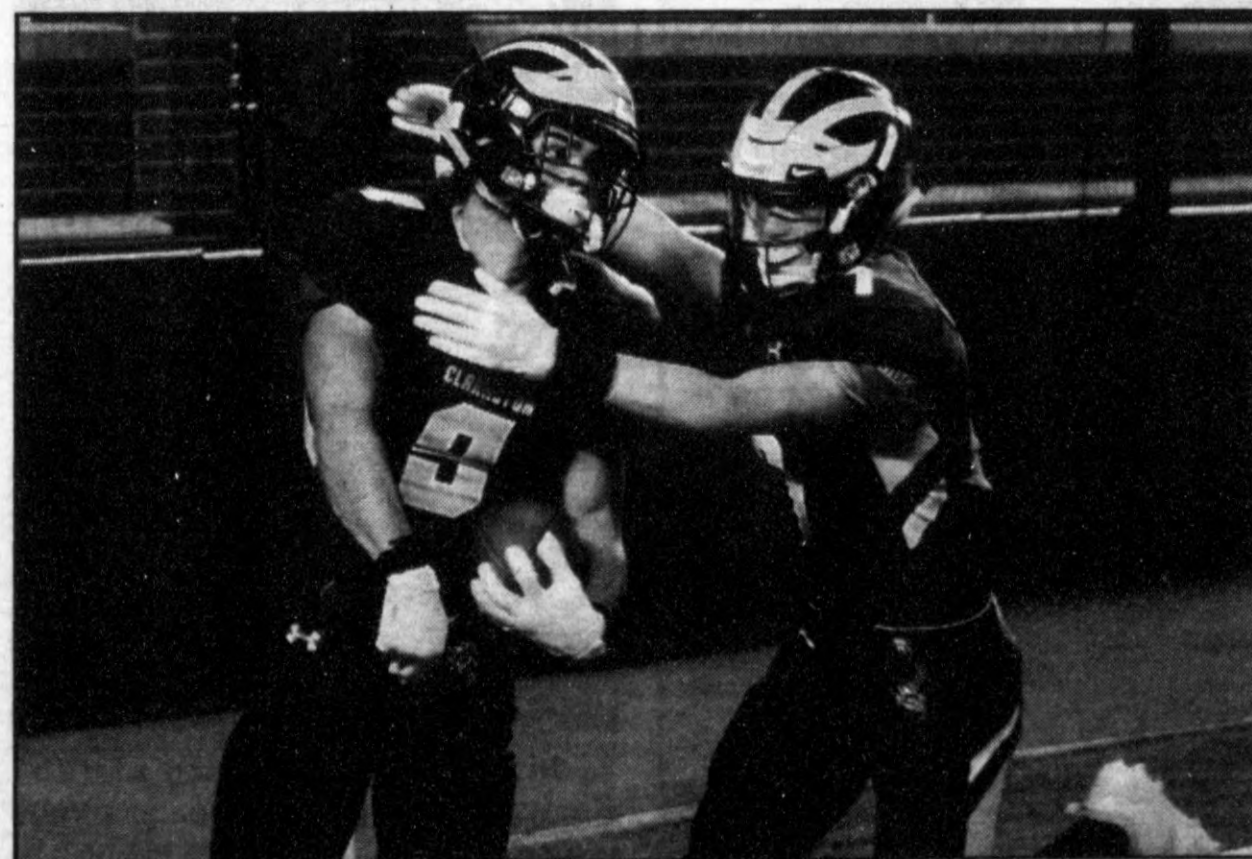

The Bobcats had two more points added to their score with 2:06 left in the game when Clarkston's punt didn't go as planned.

The snap went over Mattson and he chased the ball down and threw it out of bounds into the endzone for a safety instead of Grandville being able to start so close to Clarkston's endzone.

Richardson shared they have been burned by it before.

"We fell on it on the two. Then, they had the ball at first and goal on two," he said.

Everest Collegiate Football visits Ford Field for the Third Annual Rosary Rally. Photo submitted

Win at season opener

The Everest Collegiate Football team kicked off its week one game preparation by participating in two preseason traditions on Monday, August 20.

The Mountaineers joined the Catholic High School League at Ford Field for the 3rd Annual Rosary Rally at Ford Field. Coach Michael Pruchnicki and senior Josh Legg provided testimonies following the rosary.

Later in the day, the players joined their dads for Father-Son Jersey Night, where they were presented their game jersey. The team tradition began with the inaugural EC football team in 2013 and continues to be a memorable night for all. The night was particularly moving for the seniors and their fathers who participated for the final time.

The Mountaineers opened the season with a 36-13 victory over Oakland Christian last Friday.

They host their home opener against Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest this Thursday. Kick off is at 7 p.m.

Football victory

"It's something we practiced. You've got to coach those things."

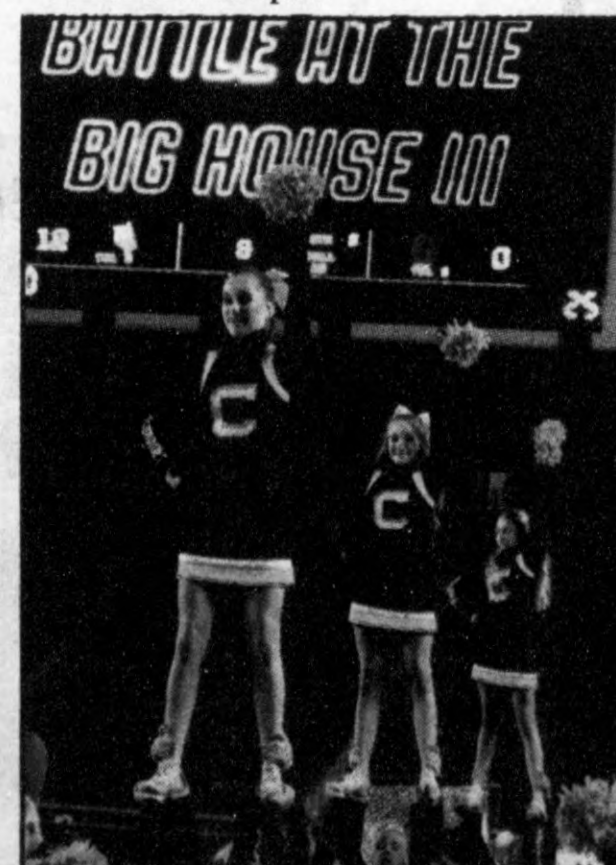

Spindler led defense with a total of seven tackles, two for losses. Josh Luther also had seven tackles while Brendan Barker had six tackles. Jayviar Suggs had five tackles, three for losses a huge sack during Grandville's fourth down in the final quarter. Max Nicklin had four tackles.

"Defensively I think we played well all the way around," Richardson said. "They are going to score a lot of points. Spindler and Dellinger are pretty darn good young pups."

Honstetter carried the ball 12 times for 128 yards and had two first downs. Jake Billette carried the ball 20 times for 93 yards.

The Wolves (1-0) host West Bloomfield (1-0) on Friday. The Lakers will be looking to avenge their 3-2 loss in the state championship game last season to Clarkston.

Kick off is at 7 p.m.

Lifelong Clarkston artist picked for national art show

BY KIRSTEN ISBELL

Clarkston News Intern Writer

For local artist Margret McDermott, reaching the national art stage has been a long road.

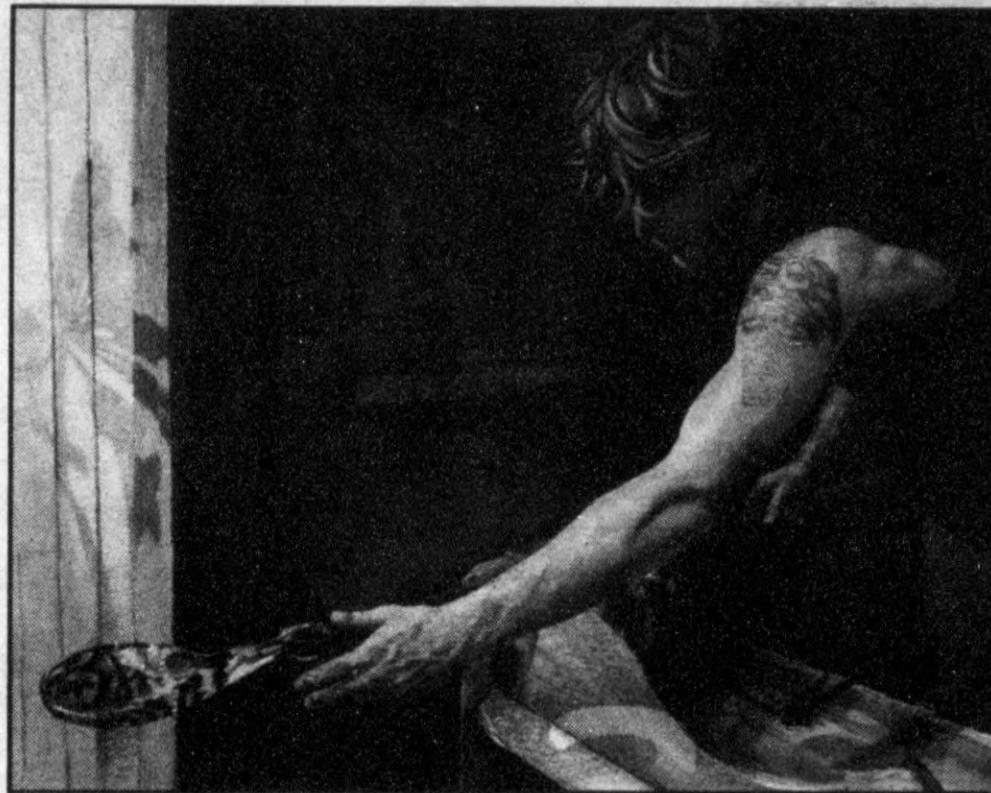

Both her mother and grandmother were artists, so art was something she was surrounded by her entire life.

"Art is an antidote for all of the crazy things going on in the world," McDermott said.

Her oil painting, "The Glass Blower," was accepted into ViewPoint 50, 2018, a national level juried art show celebrating its 50th anniversary this year. Her work will be among 90 selected for the show.

"I feel honored to have been selected to be in this showcase – only in the last three years have I really started submitting my paintings," she said. "Doing this type of work is not easy. I come home from my day job and work on my paintings, there was lots of hard work and late nights involved."

Art, especially realism she focuses on, can help find your inner peace, whether it be as a creator or a consumer of art,

Margret McDermott's painting, to be featured at the ViewPoint 50 showcase. Photos provided McDermott said.

Advice for young artists, "keep pursuing your dreams and never give up. It takes time and hard work."

The ViewPoint 50 exhibit opens on Sept. 15 with an artist's reception and awards ceremony from 6-11 p.m. at Greenwich House Gallery, 2124 Madison Road, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Awards include First Place, $3,000; Second Place, $1,000; Third Place, $750; plus additional cash prizes. Regular hours for the exhibit will be 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday

Color Guard practice their flag tosses.

Busy band camp starts season

Clarkston High School finished a great week of Band Camp, Aug. 12-17. They worked very hard on their fall show in Tustin, Mich., for six days. They have over 160 members in the Marching Band which includes Color Guard. The show this year is entitled "Kinetic Sculptures."

They started early every morning with breakfast before hitting the field for stretching, exercises, and learning drill.

In the afternoon they had lunch and broke into groups to practice. After dinner, all the sections came together and put drill, flags, and music together, ending about 9 p.m. — very long days but very productive.

On the last day they returned to the school and performed the show in the rain for friends and family.

They perform at home football games on Aug. 31, Sept. 14, Oct. 5 (Homecoming), and Oct. 19, and will compete at the Lake Orion Invitational, Sept. 22; Livonia Franklin Invitational, Oct. 13; Clarkston Invitational, Oct. 20; and Plymouth-Canton Invitational, Oct. 27.

The road ends on Nov. 3 when the top bands compete at Ford Field for the state championships. They were a finalist last year and look forward to making it back there for a chance to compete again in the finals.

Welcome to families at NSE

Kids and parents felt anticipation and excitement as they visited North Sashabaw Elementary last Friday during their annual "Meet the Teacher" event.

Teachers and other staff members welcomed future students in for an open house — and a meet-and-greet so that both parents and students can get to know their future teachers.

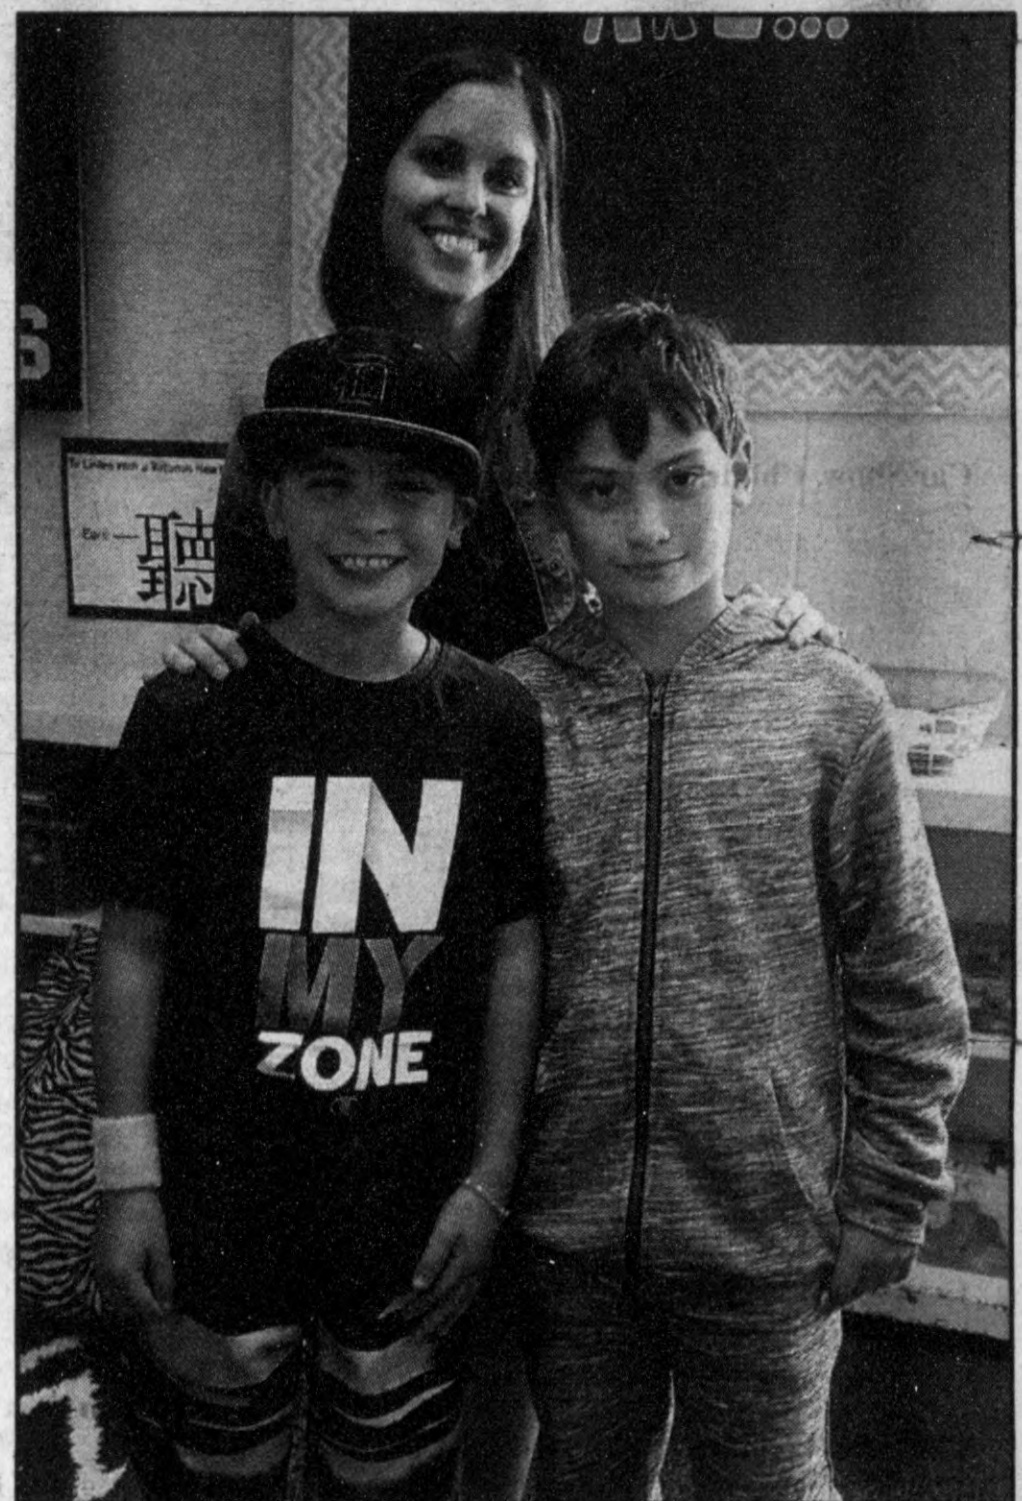

Snacks, crayons, and information packets on supply lists, important dates, registration forms and more were also provided to the families, to help them prepare for the upcoming school year. Clubs such as The Girl Scouts and services like meal programs and other services were also offered.

NSE also welcomed three new employees this year; First grade teacher Jessica Lyons; LRC Special Education Teacher Melanie Peterson; and Lead Custodian Amy Coutelle.

Spiritual health also includes emotional health

I've been grappling with something lately. Can I be honest with you? Even though I am a Pastor, I have to admit that there are Christians who are lousy human beings.

Just because you're a Christian does not mean you have your act together.

Joe is an usher at his church. He smiles at people as he hands out the Sunday programs. As he drives home he pronounces the death sentence on another driver who pulled out in front of him.

Susan is a leader of the women's group. She has been a believer for over 20 years. She knows the Bible quite well and is a good teacher. Yet she enjoys gossiping and complaining about other people in her church.

Pete serves on the board of his church. He is intelligent and is a creative business leader. Yet his marriage is on the rocks because he yells at his wife and kids and can be so insensitive.

You get my point. (By the way, none of these people attend my church. I think they attend the church across town...ok...just a joke!)

I am coming to realize that so much of our discipleship and spirituality does not address our emotional health.

Spiritual Matters

Pastor Greg Henneman

As Christians, we can carry with us years of sadness, hurt, pain, and bad tempers. And honestly, I struggle with these things too. No one is immune.

So what do we do? Did Jesus come just to forgive us and not to change us? What about all those Bible verses that talk about change and transformation?

When I look deep into Scripture, I see that spiritual health includes emotional health.

The more "Christian" I become, the more my emotions and feelings align with Jesus. If I really am being filled with his Spirit, I will experience the Spirit's fruit.

You may know that passage in Galatians chapter five that lists the fruit of the Spirit. Love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control.

If I am really following Jesus and being filled with his Spirit, these are the virtues and the emotions that I will experience.

I don't intend to pull you away from any other church in town, but if you aren't plugged into a local church, I encourage you to give us try.

This September I am starting a nine-week sermon series on the fruit of the Spirit. We will explore what it means to be an emotionally healthy person. Peace be with you.

Pastor Greg Henneman, Clarkston Community Church

Wildcats are 'all in' this season, Rowley says

By C.J. Carnacchio
Oxford Leader Editor

"All in."

Those are the two words Head Coach Bud Rowley repeatedly used to describe the 2018 Oxford High School varsity football team.

The players are "all in." The coaches are "all in." The team's support system is "all in."

"It's so much easier coaching football when everybody's working for the same thing," he said. "There's no complaining - no ifs, ands or buts. Everybody's rolling. It's all in."

Rowley couldn't be happier. "There's a lot of enthusiasm at practice," he said. "We're getting great effort. I'm very pleased with it."

Practice officially began Aug. 6, but for the scrappy Wildcats, the 2018 season started last fall. After beating Berkley 43-7 in the last game of the season on Friday, Oct. 20, Rowley said the team "took two days off" and went right back to work, preparing for this year.

"We started lifting weights the following Monday," he said. "We've been busting and cranking ever since. The kids put a ton of time in."

It's no secret last season was a bitter pill for the Wildcats to swallow. The team went 2-7 overall and 1-6 in the Oakland Activities Association (OAA) Red Division.

But Rowley isn't one to dwell on the past. He's always pumped up, he's always looking ahead and he's always positive. He wants his players to have the same attitude.

Oxford is fortunate to have players with lots of experience this season.

"We've got a ton of seniors," Rowley said. "Our seniors are our leaders and we have 22 of them. They're doing a great job. All of them are contributing. It's just a good group."

This year's captains are Thomas Wandrie, Evan Brunning, Joe Vackaro and Caleb Tabert. "All four are very good players. All four started last year," Rowley said.

But the seniors alone can't win it all. That's why Rowley expects maximum effort from every single one of his 43 gridiron warriors.

"We need everybody to play," he said. "It doesn't matter if your first team, second team (or) third team, when you're in there, you've got to play, you've got to compete. You've got to strive to be the best you can be."

Rowley is confident his kids "can play."

"It's not like we haven't got any talent," he said. "We have some talent."

The biggest thing the Wildcats need to concentrate on is avoiding mistakes on the field.

"We've got to be really disciplined because we're not the kind of team that can afford a 5-yard penalty on either the offensive or defensive side of the ball," he said. "We need to be disciplined. We need to be focused."

Discipline and focus are going to be key as Oxford prepares to face tough teams like Romeo, Lake Orion, Clarkston, Rochester Adams, West Bloomfield and Bloomfield Hills.

"There is not one walk in the park," Rowley said. "Every one of those teams is a bear, from top to bottom. The OAA is the best league in the State of Michigan. Adams made the playoffs. Clarkston won the state championship. Bloomfield (Hills) made the playoffs. West Bloomfield was runner-up in the state. Romeo got beat in the regional finals."

Oxford will face its first big test when the Wildcats square off against the Romeo Bulldogs at home on Friday, Aug. 24. Game starts at 7 p.m.

Make no mistake, Rowley is not complaining about the constant stream of stiff competition. He relishes the challenge.

"I love it," he said. "The harder the schedule, the tougher the schedule, the better. When you win games in this league, it means something."

Rowley wants the Wildcats to be in the running for the OAA Red title this season, make it to the playoffs and make a run there.

"You've got to want to win. You've got to believe," he said. "I don't want to be second because when you're second, they ask, 'Who beat you?' You win it, nobody beat you."

Rowley's been coaching football in Oxford since the 1970s and shows absolutely no signs of slowing down. He's still as energetic, motivated and joyful about what he does as a 20-year-old.

"I have been very fortunate to be a head coach for 40-plus years," he said. "I work in a great system. I've got great kids. I've got great coaches."

"I love the game. It's the greatest game in the world. I love the kids. I love the coaches. I love my community."

Dragons' athleticism and hunger drive team in 2018

By Joe St. Henry
Review Sports Contributor

What Lake Orion's varsity football team may lack in experience as the 2018 season approaches, it more than makes up in athleticism and hunger, according to Head Coach John Blackstock.

The team's desire to return the Dragons to the state playoffs after a one-year drought provided plenty of motivation this past off-season, he said. This commitment was clear in the team's work in the weight room and special conditioning sessions, led by professional trainers from a local gym; 16 players participated in speed training over the summer.

"I always thought we did a good job with our off-season training, but we tried something different and these guys took it to another level," Blackstock said. "The kids bought into it. The training really focused on building the total athlete with a focus on the core body."

"We're seeing the results on the field already. I think we are faster overall and more athletic."

Blackstock says the team's opening day roster will feature about 65 players, an ideal number for a varsity football program, made up of an even split of juniors and seniors.

"Both classes have their strengths," he said. "Line play for seniors, skill positions for juniors."

The head coach added preseason camp is usually an eye-opener for the juniors, who now have to compete against another class for playing time.

"They're lining up against guys who are a year older and often stronger and faster, plus more familiar with our schemes," Blackstock said. "It's a real challenge for them."

A group of these seniors are projected to start on the offensive line, one of the Dragons' projected strengths. They will be led by returning lineman Hunter Chambers, a second team All OAA selection last year.

Other key senior offensive lineman include Chris Vernon, Sebastian Marku and Zac

Foote.

Blackstock said the Dragon receivers will battle it out for playing time, led by returning wideout junior Drew Van Heck, seniors Branden Robinson and Matt Freeman and junior Mitch Howell.

Senior tight ends Ben Ulrich and Matt Metter should also play key roles on offense. The head coach says they are both multi-sport athletes with good hands and can run well.

The running game will be handled by four backs, each with a different running style. They will be led by senior Jack DeBrincat and junior Kobe Manzo, a physical runner with deceptive speed, Blackstock said.

Junior Blaze Lauer returns at quarterback after a strong off-season. He was the starting signal caller for the last six games of the season last year, often extending plays with his speed and elusiveness. He passed for six touchdowns and ran for three more.

"Blaze is ready," the head coach said. "All his throws are stronger and he has a much better understanding of what we're trying to do offensively."

Blackstock is excited about the team's improved depth at the skill positions, something that hampered the team last year, especially when players got hurt.

"Our depth will enable us to do more things and open up the offense more," he said. "It will also help us work through injuries better."

Defensively, the Dragons strength will be its secondary, led by Van Heck. In addition to starting on the varsity football team, he also was on the varsity basketball and baseball teams last year.

Cornerbacks Marcus Brown, another multi-sport athlete, and Sanai Pillot round out the unit.

Leading the linebacker corps will be junior linebacker Isaac Kinne, who started nine games last year, and senior Josh Wuensch.

Blackstock admitted the defensive line is the Dragons' biggest question mark. The unit lacks experience, but he said they are ready to make their mark. Senior Ben Sally will anchor this group.

"It will be hard to replace some of our seniors from last year from a physical standpoint," he said. "But our defensive unit always plays hard and I expect the same this year. We'll see who steps up."

The defending Division 1 state champion Clarkston Wolves are the favorites to again win the tough OAA Red, but Blackstock thinks West Bloomfield and Rochester Adams cannot be counted out. He stressed the league is one of the state's best, with no "week off" for anybody.

"There's no let down in the OAA Red," he said. "It's intense every week. Success for us will be to be in the hunt all season and qualifying for the state playoffs."

The Dragons opened the season against Lapeer High School on Aug. 23, at the University of Michigan. The Big House showdown will be the first time these teams have met since the two Lapeer high schools merged a few years ago.

"We've been talking for a long time that Lake Orion and Lapeer should play each other," Blackstock said. "We're both close-knit communities with one high school and strong football traditions."

"It will be a great way to start the season."

Blackhawk Football: 'We've come to build a winning football program.'

By David Fleet
Editor

In his third year at the helm head coach Brad Zube will look to return to the playoffs.

Last year the Blackhawks tallied the first playoff game win in 18 year with a thrilling come from behind 45-44 win on the road over Auburn Hills Avondale, before falling for a second year to Linden.

The post season success is part of a 15-6 record for Zube in his first two seasons including two playoff appearances. Zube will start his ninth as a year as a high school football coach following stints at Pontiac High School and Stoney Creek High School.

"We believe in our blueprint and pride ourselves on getting the most out of our kids on the field," said Zube. "We want to build on our success. I've preached family, you win, lose and believe as a family. We've come here to build a winning football program from the ground up. Our youth camp has gone from 40 to 55 now to 70. The young players are the future of Blackhawk football. We strive to build a bridge for players from 7 years old until he's 18 years old."

Zube

It's start to finish a Brandon Blackhawk."

The Blackhawk family includes an experienced coaching team.

Each June coach Anthony Higdon along with staff, coordinated a three day per week summer weight program.

"Coach Higdon did a fantastic job," said Zube. "From a summer passing league to mini-camps this group has worked hard this off-season. We have a fantastic coaching staff, with Kyle Schultz returning as offense coordinator, he has vast experience as a play caller. We also have former NFL and Division I college players Matt Lentz and Lewis Adams on our staff."

Key in the 2018 Blackhawk playoff run will be senior quarterback Mathew Harrison—a run and pass dual threat.

"Mat's worked hard in the off season," said Zube. "He was last years top receiver with some limited action at quarterback. Look for Mat to be lead this team and move on to the next level."

At fullback is big junior Adrien Williams.

"At 6-2, 225 pounds he's a load and very hard to bring down," he said. "For his size he moves well. He's part of a balanced offense that rushed for more than 3,000 yards last year."

The offensive attack includes seniors Jake Irwin and Mike

Niaj, along with juniors Brendan McClusky and Brandon Gunn. At wide receivers will be seniors Devin Krause and Justin Bowman.

"They all can carry the ball and will catch a lot of passes this year," he said. "They are fast kids, who bring a special element to the game."

Senior tackle Matt Hill will be a 40 game starter and anchor the offensive line.

"Matt has 'All State' potential," he said. "Right now we have five competing for top spots on the line."

A strong linebacker crop will make the Blackhawk defense tough to score on.

"Senior linebacker Mike Nicaj has 200 tackles in two season," he said. "Mike along with senior Jake Irwin who calls the defensive plays, are three year varsity players."

Senior cornerbacks are Deiven Krause and Jacob Turner, who along with sophomore Austin Matusik and free safety junior Brandon Gunn comprise a tough defensive secondary.

Rounding out the linebackers is sophomore Peyton Gullledge, along with senior Cooper Hickmote.

Go Blackhawks!

2018 Brandon Blackhawk Band program

The Brandon Band Program has enjoyed a tradition of success both on and off the marching band field because of the tremendous support of the students, parents, teachers, and administration in the Brandon School District. Of all the bands at Brandon, the marching band is the most visible and offers a unique opportunity for students to grow not only as musicians, but as people as well. Students engage in personal discipline, respect, selflessness, commitment, and teamwork.

Dodge

The marching band season begins with band camp. This year's camp was July 30-Aug. 3 at Brandon High School, with rehearsals from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. each day. At camp, the goal is to learn music and marching drill for the half-time show, while simultaneously improving teamwork and student leadership. Individual section rehearsals, full ensemble music rehearsal, marching fundamentals, and drill rehearsals are balanced throughout the day to ensure the band's success. While band camp is hard work, the students also get to relax, have fun, and make lasting friendships.

The 2018 Brandon Blackhawk Marching Band currently consists of 103 members. The students are divided into multiple sections including 75 winds, 14 percussionists, 11 color guard members, and three drum majors. The band rehearses during the school day, as well as on Tuesday nights from 6-9 p.m. The band's show this year is entitled "The Samurai and the Maiden" and is a tale of life, love, and battles in the Japanese culture.

This year's Drum Majors are Elijah Buell, Ben Davis, and Olivia Levers. They will lead the band in performance at five home football games, three Scholastic Marching Band Competitions, and multiple parades. The color guard is taught by Savanna Grewe, and the band is taught by Directors Christine Dodge and Russell McMartin.

Thank you to the Brandon Band Boosters, all of the band parents, the community, and the Brandon Administration for their support! Their efforts in funding, fundraising, and volunteer support make success possible for our students. GO BAND!

Defense key to continuing championship tradition

The Wolfpack is excited to get back on the field after winning their third MHSAA Division 1 Football State Championship in five years, last season.

"Fans can expect the style of play they have seen in the past," said Kurt Richardson, going into his 32nd season as head coach for Clarkston Varsity Football. "We don't make a lot of mistakes. We run the spread. We have a lot of different people do a lot of different things well. We are not reliant on a superstar."

He added this season will be exciting to watch because of their schedule.

"Our schedule is currently the hardest it has ever been," Richardson said. "We play quality people from week one through week nine."

He added the Wolves have always played quality teams but this year they are ranked high in the state, including their competition in the OAA Red.

"West Bloomfield is a favorite, no doubt about it. They have Division 1 kids," Richardson said about the league and their opponent they defeated 3-2 in the state championship. "Everyone in the league is going to be better this year."

Richardson

The Wolves will block their opponents from scoring and build their defensive line around sophomores Rocco Spindler and Garrett Dellinger, who proved to be tough last year. They also have senior Jayviar Suggs returning as a starter.

"We are counting on those guys big down there," Richardson said.

Quarterbacks are senior Jake Jensen and junior Darius McKinney.

"They are both looking good," Richardson said. "Darius has been pretty solid so far."

Seniors Jake Billette and Jake Honstetter step into the roles as running backs.

"They will carry the load in the back field," said Richardson. "They are both quality backs. There's probably going to be times you will see both of them in the same backfield."

Other key returners include Conor Donahue and Josh Luther at slot and defensive back; Zach Reid, corner back; Max Nicklin, wide out and linebacker; Brendan Barker, tightend and linebacker; Joey Steger, wide receiver; Keagan King, wide receiver and defensive back; Tristan Mattson, kicker; and Max Mengyan, offensive and defensive lines.

"Conor played a ton for us last year," Richardson said. "He was a key player so we expect big things from him. Joey worked really hard during the off season. He's doing a great job for us now. Keagan is very instrumental for us."

New players include Dylan Erskine who moved up from JV and will be at safety and Matt Miller at receiver.

Richardson added linebackers are pretty solid and there are about two offensive line slots wide open at press time.

"It will be the key, filling in those two spots," Richardson said.

All of the experienced staff is back, including Luke Denver, Ryan Kaul, Jeff Long, Tony Miller, Steve Pearson, Justin Pintar, Rich Porritt and Phil Price.

Kaul takes over as offensive coordinator and Porritt is still on staff working with the offensive line.

"It's a tremendous help to us having that continuity in the coaching staff," Richardson said.
