$240,000 more for parks and rec

BY KIRSTEN ISBELL
Clarkston News Intern Writer

Summer camp success means more than $240,000 in additional revenue for local parks.

"We opened up a new day camp at Bay Court Park," said Derek Smith, parks and rec director at the Sept. 25 Independence Township Board meeting. "Our summer camp program has really taken off. We have already turned people away at the door for the summer camp at Clintonwood."

The parks and rec department is budgeting $1,429,000 over the next 10 years, said budget analyst Rick Yaeger.

Overall, the budget increased by 15.4 percent compared to 2018, with a 7.4 percent increase in revenues, 12.4 percent increase in expenditures for wages, and 7.6 percent increase for operation costs.

Revenue increases are from fees for special events, summer camps, swimming classes, and tournaments. The new Clintonwood spray park is predicted to bring in high revenues as well, Yaeger said.

The department is looking to spend $200,000 in 2019—$10,000 for the Carriage House at Clintonwood and baseball roofs; $10,000 for Carriage House well; $10,000 for mowers; $50,000 Clintonwood east parking lot expansion; $40,000 for Sashabaw parking lot expansion and entrance work; and $80,000 for baseball field concourses.

Spending increases include higher wages for employees, additional employees for the spray park, payroll tax increase, supplies for Deer Lake, and contracted services.

The adult softball program will be cut due to decreased revenue of $7,000 from lack of interest in the sport, Yaeger said.

Soccer is also expected to decrease $20,500. Its projected income has not been met the last three years, so they are lowering the projected income. The tennis program has also been cut, he said.

"They were budgeting extremely high," he said. "The three-year average we usually come in right around $100,00 per year. I wanted to be more realistic with our budget and bring that down."

Youth baseball is projected to drop 12.7 percent, meaning there will be fewer staff scheduled. Contracted services are also decreasing based on previous years' average expenditures.

Unexpected items and events that could affect the budget include major staffing changes due to low or high attendance; major equipment breakdown; bad weather during Fourth of July events; Brady Lodge rentals and operations; and adding new events and programs.

The township is looking to spend $300,00 in 2020—$30,000 for mowers; $200,000 for a new Bay Court Park playground; and $60,000 for the Clintonwood walking trail.

In 2021, the township is budgeting another $300,000—$15,000 for mowers; $200,000 for Clintonwood ball field lights; and $85,000 for the Stickney-McCord park entrance, sign, and parking.

Renovations recognized in Depot Park

Volunteers gathered to celebrate playground renovations in Depot Park with a ribbon cutting, Sept. 22, with special guest Robin Nance, whose son Evan inspired the train set decades ago.

Robin and Stephen Nance of Traverse City lived across the street from the park in the 1990s, with sons Andrew and Evan.

The newly renovated Evan's Choo Choo collection was named after their son, who died of a rare condition in 1994.

"We are excited to hear the park is getting well cared for," Stephen said in a letter to Tom Lowrie of Clarkston Area Optimist Club, which spearheaded the renovation effort.

Evan was born on July 9, 1990, when the family lived in California.

"We moved back to Michigan when he was about 8 months old. At about this time, Evan started having some health challenges and in the next few years my wife Robin did an amazing job of both helping Evan thrive as best he could," Stephen said. "She worked with medical and alternative health practitioners to try to determine roots causes. Sadly, Evan got a virus in the winter of 1994 and passed away after a long stay in the hospital."

After being in the hospital for 16 days, Evan passed away on Feb. 16, 1994. A subsequent autopsy revealed Evan had Leighs Disease, a rare genetic disease.

"After Evan's death, so many kind friends, family and people in the community wanted to do something in memory of this sweet little boy," he said. "That summer, a volunteer led rebuilding project of the playground provided the opportunity, as many contributed to the park and new equipment in Evan's name. The train came about as Evan loved 'choo choo's.' My wife, older son Andrew, and I were honored to be a part of the playground renovation in 1994."

The new renovation project started last spring included strip and recoating work donated by Android Industries of Flint, and Clarkston Cultural Arts artists Denyse Couture and Dana Blust creating intricate and ornate artwork for them.

Sentencings scheduled in Rumble case

Jeremy Atkins and Heather Bradley of Independence Township are facing sentencing hearings after pleading guilty to animal abuse charges for the abuse and abandonment of Rumble the dog ("Rumble recovering from abuse," Sept. 12).

Atkins, who was charged with misdemeanor Abandoning/Cruelty to One Animal, has a sentencing date of Oct. 24 at 2:30 p.m. at 52-2 District Court, 5850 Lorac Drive off Citation Drive east of M-15.

Bradley, who was charged with misdemeanor animal abuse, has a sentencing date is Oct. 30 at 8:45 a.m.

Rumble, a 2-month-old puppy, suffered severe injuries and was found dumped in the bushes covered in maggots at Sashabaw Mobile Homes, July 24.

Canine Companions Rescue Center took in Rumble and provided medical care. They had a silent auction with artwork made by Rumble to help raise money for his medical bills, raising about $10,000. Contact Oakland County Animal Control at 248-858-1070.

Case closed on 148, lawyer says

BY PHIL CUSTODIO
Clarkston News Editor

Neil Wallace, attorney for Curt Catalo, called for misinformation about 148 N. Main Street to stop.

"Over the last weeks and months, your council meeting has been being used as a forum for fear mongering," said Wallace, attorney for Catalo, at the Sept. 24 City Council meeting. "The disinformation about the property, that's tantamount to slander."

The site was used as a gas station and muffler shop since about 1920, before contamination from underground fuel storage tanks was found in 1992. Prior owners removed the tanks along with 800 cubic yards of contaminated soil, and in 2002 placed 300 pounds of oil-eating microbe and absorbent chemicals in the plume.

The remaining plume of petroleum contamination has been monitored and found to be shrinking, Wallace said.

Catalo sought to redevelop the property in 2012.

"We knew when we took it on that there was an environmental issue – we spent a lot of money on our own environmental consultants before we agreed to purchase the property," Wallace said. "We made a determination that we could go forward with the project, that it would not be a problem or a threat to the city or the community."

They signed a conditional rezoning agreement with the city in 2014 to rezone the property from residential to commercial, which called for a slab to be placed over the plume.

"Unfortunately, we were thwarted by some of the city's consultants – it was a breach of the city's conditional zoning contract," Wallace said. "I advised my client we should be suing for the breach of contract, and my client said, 'no, this is our community, we're a part of this community. We're here to try and help improve this community and make it better. We're not going to sue.'"

Development of 148 N. Main Street was at issue in 13 of 18 records in Susan Bisio's 2015 Freedom of Information Act lawsuit against the City of the Village of Clarkston, including storm water system review, detention system options, and hold harmless agreement.

David Marsh, who is running for City Council in November, filed a Freedom of Information Act request with the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality for all documents regarding 148 N. Main, and provided them to City Council and the public last month.

The records include the DEQ's closure report on the case. According to the report, Innovative Environmental Solutions conducted field assessments, observations, and evaluations of the soil and ground water in December 2017, and recommended closure.

Excavation will remain restricted at the site under Main Street and Clarkston Road, marked by four permanent ground-level signs. Water for residents in the area is provided by the Independence Township system.

School strategic planning through next year

BY BRENDA DOMINICK
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The community can weigh in on Clarkston Community Schools' mission and vision this month with a survey, Oct. 19-31.

School officials will review the results of the survey and prepare a finalized version in November, said Marketing Director Mary Ellen Rowe at the Sept. 24 school board meeting.

"It really sets us up in December when we are going to be doing a moderated community discussion. Then, at the start of the year, we will really be set to start the actual planning," Rowe said. "We'll be able to hit the ground running and have a strategic plan around August of next year. We'll go out to the community and they will all feel like they had a hand in the development."

Strategic planning started as a board goal in 2017. The school board and administrators met in August for brainstorming goals, actions to achieve those goals, and mobilizing resources, Rowe said.

"If we're thinking about our strategic plan as a road map, the mission and vision really are a set of values we need to agree upon before moving forward onto that journey of the strategic plans," she added. "You don't just go on a journey without coming to some agreement with your travel mates as to 'where are we going?'"

The current mission of CCS is "to cultivate thinkers, learners, and positive contributors in a global society." Its current vision, "each student is fully engaged in a globally focused education, from preschool through graduation, that fosters in her/him a sense of self, perspective, responsibility/ownership, and contribution."

"As a team, we looked at it and we really asked ourselves, 'is this reflective of a big aspirational/inspirational dream for kids in Clarkston?'" she said. "Is it truly reflective of our values and our culture here?"

The school board decided to reevaluate the mission and vision, she added.

"Some of the key themes that came out of the discussions were, if we're looking at our mission as the 'why,' this is the reason why we exist here. In previous conversations, I had related the vision to 'how' and I thought with input it needs to be that future aspirational piece. More like the 'where.' Where do we want to go? Where do we want to be," she explained.

Rowe said this is the time to "dream big" and start with steps to make it happen. Some of the ideas she pointed out were mentioned by both the board and Superintendent Shawn Ryan in his communications included ensure students are engaged, challenged, healthy, safe, supported; have meaningful, personalized relationships with students; help students discover their passions and sense of purpose; and help students discover sense of self.

"We want a lot for our kids. We want to differentiate ourselves from any school system that want to educate kids and help them move on and do what they want to do," Rowe said.

CCS partnered with Oakland Schools' Research, Evaluation, and Assessment consultants Dr. Elizabeth Pare, whose focus is school culture and climate, and Dr. Jonathon Good, focusing on school leadership and improvement – no fee for Oakland Schools services, Rowe said.

"We've met and they are so excited to be a part of the process," she said.

The director said she and her team considered research from 2013, census information, and MySchool online data, as well as previous surveys by CCS and Oakland Schools to understand the trends.

School finances for summer

Trustee Susan Boatman asked about a $25,671 spending increase in the Support for Other Pupils budget, during a Summer Monthly Financial Update, Sept 24.

Mary Beth Rogers, executive director of business services for Clarkston Community Schools, said the increase pays for a special education lab approved by the school board a month ago.

The school board approved the Practical Assessment Exploration System (PAES) Lab purchase on Aug. 20. The expenditure will be covered by IDEA (Individuals with Disabilities Education Act) federal funding, Rogers said.

Fund equity as of June 30, 2018, was around $8.8 million, falling to around $6 million in August. The district doesn't receive much income during July and August, she said.

"We don't start receiving our state revenue until October," she said.

The annual budget audit will be presented this month, she said.

Brenda's Beat

A column by Brenda Dominick

Pet peeves, faves

Ok folks, this week's column topic is going to come from the raw no-nonsense side of yours truly. I'm talking about those drive you crazy, irritating, under-your-skin, pet-peeves that bug us but usually keep to ourselves.

Recently, I've mentally recorded a list of annoying little buggers.

The invisible shopper: 9 out of 10 times I will end up by someone at the store, who, is of course, looking for the same item as I am, however, doesn't make it known. Picture this, I'm standing in front of a shelf, and after a minute, I look to one side and notice a lady/man with their cart, just waiting there behind me. No "excuse me" or any gesture toward the shelf, just silently waiting. Now, I will give them credit for politeness, but honestly, I would rather here or see something to avoid the feeling that a creeper is behind me...just watching.

To turn or not to turn: When people don't use their turn signal on their car. This is an obvious and probably more common peeve, so I assume no explanation is needed.

I-Scream, U-Scream: The way most people eat ice cream is actually not very peevish...it's the moments when I see someone take more than five minutes to eat it that irks me. Case in point, I recently was at a party and observed someone peeling the chocolate coating off of a ice cream bar, followed by licking the whole bar, rounding it off for that perfect shape. Now I think about it, maybe ice cream eating is more of an art.

On the other side of the coin, there are some public moments I would put on my Finest Faves list...the little things that have put a smile on my face, and maybe yours as well.

Open door etiquette: The rare, kind, moments at stores or restaurants where someone goes out of their way to open a door for an elderly or handicapped person. This is especially heartwarming when a child does this, it gives me hope for our future's generation.

"I'd like to introduce you to": This is one of those that should go down as an "unspoken rule" when attending a party or otherwise meeting someone for the first time.

Breathe easy: When someone I am talking to (in close proximity) had the forethought to do a quick brush up or take a breath mint before our conversation.

Reader calls for continuing city progress

Dear Editor,

Two years ago the Clarkston voters elected Sue Wylie and Rick Detkowski to the City Council, and Steve Percival as mayor; those three new votes helped start a process of change in the city government.

One year ago the voters picked Scott Reynolds to constitute a council majority to continue the "rebirth" of the Council and the city.

Despite the distraction of problems left over by the prior administrations, such as the law suits and parking problems, the new leadership has begun to move the city in more positive directions, such as a new city manager, a fiscally responsible parking plan, more transparency, and plans for improving sidewalks.

Now we have the opportunity to continue the progress by reelecting Sue Wylie and Rick Detkowski, electing Mike Cascone to fill a vacancy, to the City Council, and reelecting Steve Percival as mayor. Their opponents are all previous City Council members.

The choice is clear: do we continue with the progress initiated two years ago, or return to the old ways of doing things.

Let us continue to chose progress by voting for Sue Wylie, Rick Detkowski, Mike Cascone, and Steve Percival.

Elissa Slotkin support from Judge McNally

Dear Editor,

If we are going to have an adequate response to our dangerous and unpredictable political situation, we must, as Lincoln said, appeal to our better angels.

More than a course correction is needed, it must be a complete reversal of our current trend. If we continue in our current direction, it will mean an elimination of the middle class and a complete unraveling of our political institutions.

Elissa Slotkin is the most likely to put the brakes on the current trend.

I strongly encourage you to vote for Elissa Slotkin for the Eighth Congressional District seat. If you don't vote, you forfeit your right to complain about our political system.

Summer memories live on for SCAMPPer

BY KIRSTEN ISBELL

Clarkston News Intern Writer

For Clarkston High School senior Nathan Murray, working at SCAMP over the last five years always put a smile on his face.

"It is really hard to be sad at SCAMP because all of the kids are wonderful and all of the helpers love what they are doing," Murray said at the Sept. 24 Clarkston Community Schools Board of Education meeting. "One of the biggest impacts SCAMP had on me was the atmosphere there. It is nice to go there. Everyday everyone is always positive and up beat."

The five-week SCAMP provides a great opportunity for over 200 kids and young adults with disabilities to attend summer camp, he said.

"I got to experience being both a student aid and a volunteer," he said.

He worked with children ages 3-7 years old in groups of about 10.

"I get to work one-on-one with a

SCAMPPer. Last year, mine was 3 years old. Most of the kids, especially my SCAMPPer, loved going to the park and Pump It Up," he said. "They loved going to Legoland. They love doing the specials, which is motor skills, basically gym, art, and music - let them do hands on activity with both their helpers and their other SCAMPers as well as kids they became friends with over the summer."

The camp is a partnership between Clarkston Community Schools, North Oakland SCAMP Funding Corporation (NOSFC), and the SCAMP program. The team is made up of 24 teachers and professional staff, 24 adult aides, 35 student aides, and 30 volunteers.

SCAMP tuition costs $500 for Clarkston residents and $700 for non-residents. The tuition is subsidized by NOSFC through fundraising. In 2018, NOSFC contributed $195,000 to SCAMP.

"I'd like to give a great big thank you to Aimee Baker and all of her efforts. They donated $195,000 to cover the expenses above and beyond what parents paid for tuition, so thank you very much," said Kathy Christopher, executive director of student support services. "The actual cost of the five-week program, 15 days, is closer to $1,200-$2,000, because of the level of staffing. Most of these students, or SCAMPers, have pretty significant needs, whether it's medical, physical, emotional, behavioral. The staffing and the level of training the staff require is a very expensive. The North Oakland Funding Corporation subsidizes each one of those students beyond what the tuition is."

To volunteer, call SCAMP at 248-623-8089.

Come take a peek at the Clarkston Corner

I don't like some surprises (like, when I open a bill and it is double what I expected.) I like some surprises (like when I check my lottery numbers and see that I've won BIG money — actually I am still waiting for this to happen).

That said, I was oh so pleasantly surprised one afternoon a few weeks ago when I exited our Clarkston News office, at 5 S. Main Street, in downtown, C-Town. Unbeknownst to your truly, a little town eyesore, the little garden area the butts up to our parking lot, was being dug-up

And, faster than I could say, Supercalafragli, Supercagamasiti, grrrrr, that word Mary Poppins sings, that pain-in-the-rear corner turned from a dried up, weed-choked embarrassment, into something I now say, "wow" whenever I see it.

Don't Rush Me

A column by Don Rush

The area now is known not as that brownfield by The Clarkston News office, it's called The Clarkston Corner, professionally designed and executed by the Thom Tillier Team — Clarkston residents Thom and Melissa Tillier and their children.

So why would this area family take this on? Funny you should ask, because that's what I asked Thom a week or so ago. "We were walking on the path in Depot Park, and saw the planter boxes with community business sponsorship names on them and we thought it would be nice for our business to sponsor one. But, they were all sponsored up."

Sadness ensued over lost opportunities. But not for long did they wallow in their gloom. In a moment of American can-do-itiveness, the Tilliers had an idea.

"Melissa and I talked about it. Threw out some ideas and it grew out of that," Thom said. And, The Clarkston Corner was born. The Thom Tillier eXp Realty Team now two planters they have sponsored

The Clarkston Corner has two above ground wooden "L" shaped planter boxes Melissa designed, gray brick pavers, new rick, dark mulch and wonderfully colorful plants. The family plans on season arrangements, too — AND — wait, there's more, have a Phase 2 planned for next year.

To fund Phase 2, they are selling Engraved Bricks for the nearly completed Phase 1 (which they totally paid for themselves). The bricks come in two sizes, 4 inch by eight, and eight by eight. These pavers can be great memorials for local families or businesses. Prices range from $125 to $265. You can go to TheClarkstonCorner.com to place your order.

I am gonna get one that says,

Public Safety

For Clarkston and Independence Township

Expired plate

A deputy on patrol stopped a car with an expired license plate, 5:37 p.m., Sept. 5, on Ortonville Road at I-75. The driver, a 40-year-old Burton man, was cited for improper plate and no insurance, and the vehicle was impounded.

Broken light

A dump truck with a broken brake light on its trailer was stopped on Dixie Highway at White Lake Road, 3:04 p.m., Sept. 13. The driver, a 44-year-old Holly man, was cited for driving with a suspended license, given warnings for no medical certificate and burnt out trailer tail light, and jailed on a Friend of the Court warrant out of Oakland County.

Improper truck

A deputy on patrol stopped a truck and trailer with a broken brake light, 4:06 p.m., Sept. 17, on Maybee Road at Pine Knob Lane. The company was cited for license plate violation, trailer brake light out, no medical certificate, no fire extinguisher, and no triangles. They were given warnings for no trailer license plate light, unsecured load, and having a utility truck registered as a pickup.

Neighbor trouble

A 66-year-old Independence Township man was cited for disorderly conduct after driving his Jeep at his neighbor who was mowing her backyard, 12:39 p.m., Sept. 19. The neighbor, a 62-year-old resident, said the 66-year-old threatened her in the past. He said he was driving across his lawn, was startled by his neighbor, and swerved away to avoid her. Asked why he drove under and between trees where branches would hit his vehicle instead of going straight where there was a clear path, he had no answer.

Tabs no good

A 32-year-old Davisburg woman driving a vehicle with expired tabs was stopped on Dixie Highway near Maybee Road, 11:31 a.m., Sept. 20. She was cited for driving with an expired license and expired plates.

Marijuana arrest

Deputies on patrol stopped an SUV with a broken brake light, 6:50 p.m., Sept. 22, on N. Holcomb Road at Miller Road. The driver, a 17-year-old Independence Township boy, smelled of marijuana. Asked if he had any drugs in the vehicle, he said, "ya, I have a bowl." He later said he had a lot more than a bowl. After a K9 search, deputies found a bag of marijuana, bag of pills, glass pipe, and other drug paraphernalia. He was cited for possession of marijuana and paraphernalia.

Runners hang together for win at OAA meet

BY WENDI REARDON PRICE
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Clarkston runners continue to dominate the league as they finished in first place in the second OAA Red Jamboree at Lake Orion, Sept. 25.

The Clarkston Girls Cross Country varsity runners finished in first place with 29 points and the boys won their race with 42 points.

"It was good," said Kevin Breen, coach for the girls team. "We had some surprises when we got there. We pulled two of our top runners out of the top group there, but the race played out in our favor."

"We ran very well for our first time all together," added Larry Adams, boys coach.

Grace Nolan led the girls, finishing in first place at 19:07.4.

"Grace had a great race," said Breen. "Her directive was just to go out there and just do her thing. For the rest of them the goal was to group up - which a beautiful moment coming out of the mile mark all the girls popped out of the woods and they were all together. They held their positions, held their spots. They all came through the finish line relatively close."

Elizabeth Dalrymple finished in fifth place at 20:19.2; Mattie Drennan, sixth, 20:22.5;

Emily Ferguson, eighth, 20:35.7; Elyse Wilhelm, ninth, 20:49.9; Shannon Billette, 26th, 21:55.1; and Ashleigh Strong, 35th, 22:24.6.

Lake Orion finished in second place with 44 points; Troy, third, 67; Oxford, fourth, 84; Birmingham Seaholm, fifth, 125; and Rochester Adams, sixth, 135.

Nathan Sesti led the boys as he finished in third place at 16:35.1. The top seven runners for the Wolves also included Brendan Favazza, fourth, 16:41.3; Shawn Slater, 16:44.8; Mark Sprague, 14th, 17:55.1; Christian Collis, 16th, 18:02.1; Jeremy Cavallo, 22nd, 18:17.4; and Carson Brock, 27th, 18:26.5.

Troy and Oxford tied for second place, both with 76 points; Lake Orion, fourth, 91; Seaholm, fifth, 99; and Rochester Adams, sixth, 131.

"Brendan was in the race for the first time with the rest of the guys," said Adams. "They challenge themselves. We really tried to team race a little bit on Tuesday. Our goal was pack it up in a couple of different packs. My second pack did a little better job, but that's because the front pack guys from other schools push our front pack guys to do a better job. They ran controlled and relaxed and they all ran tighter."

The final league race is at Clintonwood

Park, Oct. 18.

Both teams finished in first place at the Waterford Mott Fall Classic on Friday, both scoring 28 points.

The top five runners for the boys varsity race were Favazza, first, 15:44.4; Sesti, fourth, 16:33.3; Slater, fifth, 16:36.2; Sprague, seventh, 16:58.2; and Collis, 12th, 17:11.7.

The top five runners for the girls varsity race were Mia Patria, third, 19:22.5; Dalrymple, fourth, 19:40.2; Mallory Ferguson, sixth, 19:56.4; Drenna, eighth, 20:01.5; Nolan, tenth, 20:09.8; and Emily Ferguson, 11th, 20:14.8.

The Wolves prepare for the Oakland County Meet this Saturday at Kensington Metropark in Milford.

"Both of our goals is to win the county meet," Adams said, adding the boys won it in 1999. "They are getting there and we are pretty healthy for the most part."

"Hopefully if everyone remains healthy we can make a run for it this year," Breen said, adding the girls hadn't won it since the early 2000s but have finished as runner-up.

"I told the boys be proud," Adams said. "Our two programs combined are the best combined programs in the state where you rank right now. On and off the field you have to represent."

Homecoming upcoming

BY WENDI REARDON PRICE
Clarkston News Sports Writer

The Wolves are using this week to prepare for their next opponent as they host Oxford for Homecoming this Friday.

"We are going to have to play our best game of the year to beat Oxford," said Kurt Richardson, long-time head coach for Clarkston Varsity Football. "They are a very good football team. They are a tradition power run football team and that hasn't changed a lot. They are well-coached and they are tough kids. It is going to be a war."

The Wolves posted their sixth win and secured their spot for playoffs with a 55-7 win over Bloomfield Hills, Sept. 28.

"It was nice to get everyone in and see some kids do well," said Richardson.

The boys opened the game with a 7-yard touchdown by Matt Miller to take the lead. They scored again before the first quarter closed with a 24-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Jake Jensen to Max Nicklin.

They scored three more times in the second stanza with touchdowns scored on a 46-yard run by Jensen, a 43-yard run by Jake Billette, and a 18-yard pass from Jensen to Joey Steger.

"There were a lot of good things," Richardson said.

The Wolves kept the scoring going in the second half with an 8-yard touchdown run by Conor Donahue and a 48-yard interception return for a touchdown from Hayden Temple.

The night closed with a 8-yard run for a touchdown by Kidus Johnson.

Jensen was 5-for-9 in passing for 77 yards with two touchdown passes:

The leading rushers were Johnson, who carried the ball six times for 60 yards and Billette who rushed the ball 55 yards on five carries.

Chris Acevedo was 7-for-8 on PATs, one attempt was blocked.

Nicklin and Javiar Suggs led defense with four tackles each. Suggs also had one interception in the first quarter. Rocco Spindler had one interception.

Temple had two interceptions with one returned 28 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter. Seamus O'Donnell and Jacob Jones both recovered fumbles.

Richardson added the boys still have things needing to be cleaned up.

"We still made too many unforced errors," he said.

Kick off against Oxford is 7 p.m.

Love of music, scholarship

Tuesday Musicale of Greater Pontiac presents Kerry Price in a Grand Night for Singing, 7:30 p.m., Oct. 9, at Central United Methodist Church, 3882 Highland Road, Waterford.

"This lady is absolutely fabulous," said MaryAnn LaMonte of Waterford, president and chairman of the group's Dora Dawson Scholarship Fund. "She's so much fun. I saw her play in Detroit. She plays, talks, and sings. When she was finished, you're like, is that all there is?"

Price will perform music and share memories about composers and musicians Richard Rodgers, Oscar Hammerstein II, and Lorenz Hart. The performance is a fundraiser for Dora Dawson Scholarship Awards for music majors and minors. The 95-year-old group performs and encourages music in the community, with bell ringer groups, chorus, and events.

"Tuesday Musicale is a wonderful group of people and programs, and it's a wonderful scholarship the group gives out," said Kay Johnson of Clarkston, past president and member for 36 years, and an avid music lover.

"It's a great group, very active," LaMonte said.

"We're happy to support cultural arts in the community," said Sandra DeRemer of Waterford, past president of Tuesday Musicale and president of the North Branch District, Michigan Federation of Musicians Club.

Drizzly weather Sunday afternoon kept the crowd size down a bit, but food fans still filled much of Main Street for Taste of Clarkston, featuring more than 30 restaurants, two KidZone areas, and live music. Drone photo provided by Diana Casetti

Love of music, scholarship

Tuesday Musicale of Greater Pontiac presents Kerry Price in a Grand Night for Singing, 7:30 p.m., Oct. 9, at Central United Methodist Church, 3882 Highland Road, Waterford.

"This lady is absolutely fabulous," said MaryAnn LaMonte of Waterford, president and chairman of the group's Dora Dawson Scholarship Fund. "She's so much fun. I saw her play in Detroit. She plays, talks, and sings. When she was finished, you're like, is that all there is?"

Price will perform music and share memories about composers and musicians Richard Rodgers, Oscar Hammerstein II, and Lorenz Hart. The performance is a fundraiser for Dora Dawson Scholarship Awards for music majors and minors. The 95-year-old group performs and encourages music in the community, with bell ringer groups, chorus, and events.

"Tuesday Musicale is a wonderful group of people and programs, and it's a wonderful scholarship the group gives out," said Kay Johnson of Clarkston, past president and member for 36 years, and an avid music lover.

"It's a great group, very active," LaMonte said.

"We're happy to support cultural arts in the community," said Sandra DeRemer of Waterford, past president of Tuesday Musicale and president of the North Branch District, Michigan Federation of Musicians Club.

For reservations, send name, address, and check for $20 payable to Tuesday Musicale of Greater Pontiac, to Hazel Lawrence, 2698 Escondido, Waterford, MI 48329. Visit Tuesdaymusicale.org.

Brothers rack up Grizzly awards

BY BRENDA DOMINICK
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston brothers and their GrizzHacks team of four were growling with excitement last week when they brought home multiple hackathon awards.

Nathan Dimmer, a sophomore at Clarkston High School, and his brother Andrew Dimmer, a CHS graduate and computer science major at Oakland University, participated in their first hackathon, GrizzHacks 3, and brought home four awards.

Nathan was one of only a few high school students in attendance at the event at Oakland University in Rochester, Sept. 22-23.

No prior experience was necessary to participate at GrizzHacks, Nathan said.

"In only 24 hours, I learned real-world skills like designing a website quickly with Bootstrap and creating engaging content using JavaScript," he said. "Being surrounded by passionate, creative students was exhilarating, and the amount of knowledge and energy in that one building was very powerful."

GrizzHacks is the largest hackathon in the metro Detroit area, and a member of Major League Hacking (MLH). Each year, MLH sponsors over 200 weekend-long invention competitions to inspire, support, and teach computer skills to more than 65,000 high school and college students in the U.S., Canada, Mexico, and Europe.

This year, over 300 students participated in creating hardware and software projects from scratch, including websites, mobile apps, virtual reality apps, and robotic rubber duckies.

Students were not allowed to begin working on their hackathon projects before GrizzHacks. Participants were, however, encouraged to familiarize themselves with third-party APIs (Application Programming Interfaces) and tools they planned to use at the event, such as specific programming languages.

"It was really cool to see how all the theoretical knowledge I've learned in the classroom can be applied to create a real-world solution in such a short time," Andrew said. "The collaborative portion of the project development was incredible as well. I had never been on a team for programming before. It was an awesome experience I can't wait to repeat."

The Dimmer duo, along with their team members Jack Biggin from University of Leeds in England, and Fabian Kim, from Georgia State University, created "MyPiggybank," a web app money management tool to improve children's financial literacy.

A panel of judges assessed each team's project based on innovation, design, difficulty, and potential for implementation. MyPiggybank won four awards, the most of any project presented:

- Best Web Application, sponsored by LyonsCG;
- Best use of Google Cloud Platform, sponsored by Google;
- Best Money Management Tool, sponsored by Comerica Bank; and
- Best use of HERE.com, sponsored by HERE.com.

As a professional land surveyor, Gary worked for the Michigan Department of Transportation, Darin and Armstrong and Giffels and Webster, before he began his own company in 1968, Air-Land Surveys Inc. of Clarkston.
