

WM. FLYNN TO RESIGN INSPECTOR POST

Martin Elected Head of Willowbrook Group

James Martin, 24420 Willow Lane, was elected president of the Willowbrook Village Ass'n., and a set of by-laws for the organization was adopted at a meeting Tuesday night in the Novi Community Bldg.

Officers serving with Martin for the coming year are Robert Waugh, 1st vice-president; Fred Costello, 2nd vice-president; Jane Marinoff, secretary, and Leonard Berardi, treasurer.

Directors Named

Jack Carter and Mrs. Bernard Weisberger were elected to the board of directors for a two-year term. Robert Byrd and Mrs. Jack Carter were elected directors of the organization to serve a one year term, thus establishing a rotation system for the election of directors.

The by-laws of the organization, designed to "promote and maintain the well being of the community known as Willowbrook Village," were discussed with the group by Martin, then acting chairman.

A committee consisting of Weisberger, Waugh and Costello had been appointed at an earlier meeting to study and draw up the proposed set of by-laws, and their proposals were submitted to the group in written form. The laws were adopted with only minor changes.

Committees will be named, Martin said, to study various village problems such as the water system, schools, roads, etc.

Medlyn Speaks To Group

Superintendent of Schools William Medlyn of Novi School District No. 8 spoke briefly to the group on the need for a larger and more complete school system in the Novi area.

He said the Novi districts were all faced with similar problems and that he felt confident a solution to these problems could be worked out in the future.

Medlyn also invited the group to inspect the newly built $200,000 10-room addition to the Novi grade school at a later date.

Willowbrook wives served coffee and donuts to the group during an intermission early in the evening.

Two Cars and One Lane Equal . . .

LUCKILY, ONLY THE CARS WERE DAMAGED when two oncoming drivers decided to travel in Grand River's center lane at the same time. The accident occurred late Saturday evening at the intersection of Grand River and Meadowbrook Rd. According to Police Chief Leo BeGole, it is not known what caused the accident except that the two cars were in the center lane at the same time. That in itself, of course, was sufficient cause, he added. Charles Delouilleure, 21, of 48220 W. 11-Mile Rd., was taken to Sessions hospital in Northville for treatment of minor injuries, but was released on Tuesday. Willard Gay, 32, of Detroit, was the driver of the other car and escaped unharmed. Gay's car is shown on the right in the above picture.

Village Residents Warned By Police

The Novi Police Dept. released the following notice this week to be effective immediately for all Willowbrook motorists:

No parking in front of a public or private driveway, or within 5 feet of such driveways.

No parking within an intersection or within 15 feet of the intersection of property lines at an intersection of highway.

No parking within 15 feet of a fire plug.

Cars must be parked with traffic, that is, the right hand side must be against the curb.

The speed limit of 25 m.p.h. will be strictly enforced in all residential districts, but this does not mean that motorists can drive at that speed all the time . . . only when it is safe.

Chief BeGole also suggested that the young children of the village should not ride their bicycles on 10-Mile Rd.

Two Girls Hurt At Railroad Crossing

Two young girls were seriously injured Friday morning when their pick-up truck went out of control at a Novi Rd. railroad crossing and careened into a nearby light pole.

The girls, Dorothy Sanders, 28, of Wayne, and Georgia "Dixie" Goldsworthy, 16, of Walled Lake, were taken to Pontiac General hospital.

Georgia, who lives at 511 Leon Rd., Walled Lake, suffered from a concussion and back injuries, while her companion suffered from a concussion and multiple fractures.

According to Novi police, Miss Sanders was driving south along Novi Rd., and, after crossing the railroad crossing just north of 8-Mile Rd., evidently lost control of the vehicle. It traveled out of control for almost 200 feet, coming to a stop against a utility pole about 12 feet off the road. The vehicle was reported totally wrecked.

The Monday night meeting, which was marked by a sharp decline in attendance, was one of the quietest and most orderly meetings to be held in recent months.

Don Wells, Inc., a Detroit asphalt paving company, submitted final plans for their proposed plant and industrial site development adjacent to the railroad southwest of Grand River and Novi Rd.

The project, which calls for industrial site development along the northern side of the railroad and commercial sites along Novi Rd., is scheduled to get under way this fall if the board grants approval, a spokesman for the company said.

The board tabled the plans until the next meeting in order to make a further study of the proposed roads within the platted portion.

Novi businessman Leo Harrawood appeared before the board to appeal the township's demand for a 20-foot easement through the rear of his property. He was represented by Attorney Sylvester Pheny.

Pheny argued that granting the township full use of the 20-foot strip was all that could be required of Harrawood and he offered to submit Harrawood's shelved indefinitely.

Asks Board To Seek New Building Inspector

William J. Flynn, Novi Township building inspector, submitted his resignation to the township board Monday night after four years of service.

"The job of the building inspector," Flynn said, "is rapidly becoming a full time operation, and I am unable to give the job my full time." He added that he would appreciate the appointment of a successor at the board's earliest convenience.

Board action on Flynn's resignation was deferred until a successor can be found.

MEET Your Merchants . . .

Leo Harrawood

His phone number is 3034 but more than likely his wife will tell you he's at some meeting or other.

Whether it be Board of Commerce, Oddfellows, AM-VETS, Shrine, United Fund, Goodfellows, church, or any other local organization, Leo Harrawood will be found taking an active part. A born organizer, Leo himself puts it this way, "I enjoy people and I enjoy organization work."

A person might ask if all these activities leave him any time for family life with his wife, Bernice, and two daughters, Diana Lee, 10, and Debra Lou, 9. Leo emphatically says "yes" and a look around his home at 27000 Novi Rd. will bear him out.

A far cry from the 4-room log cabin they purchased in 1945, the home is as well laid out and livable as any in the area. Leo and his wife point with pride to the many additions and improvements made since they have lived there.

In addition to building an extra room and finishing

for the Record

by G. H. C.

A Sorry Situation

We direct that attention of Northville Township residents to the lead story on Page 7 of this paper this week. Though it is a straight news item, the record of facts which it relates makes it also an editorial on the subject of township government which needs no further argument or exposition on our part.

Our only observation is that there is one situation in the township that is even more disheartening than the sorry record of the township board. It is the disinterest of Northville Township residents in the manner in which their elected officials run the township. Occasionally someone attends the meetings to gripe about something he doesn't like—and then goes home without waiting to see how the board conducts its other business. But not in many months, if ever, has a township resident attended a meeting in the role of a private citizen interested in township affairs.

It will be enlightening to see who will be the candidates for membership on the township board if Ralph Hay and Fred Lyke go out when Northville formally becomes a city. Both will automatically be forced off the board unless they move into the township, and neither is likely to do that. Two other board members—Bob Merriam and Roy Terrill—are township residents whose terms of office will not be affected by the city election. Supervisor Lawrence likewise can continue in office if she moves into the township. Should the township be fortunate enough to have two strong men willing to run for the Hay and Lyke positions, they and Merriam could become a nucleus capable of administering township affairs as they should be handled.

Can two such civic-minded individuals be found?

City Commission To Be Commended

The Northville City Commission is to be commended for stepping up to the 8-Mile Rd. cut-off situation on its merits, rather than running for cover after receiving a petition opposing the cut-off which had been signed by 111 persons.

Since Wayne and Oakland counties first told the city they would jointly put in a road to link the two ends of 8-Mile Rd. east and west of the city and take its present traffic off of the thickly populated Randolph, N. Center, Baseline streets, Mayor Ely and Commissioners Allen, Welch, Reed and Peters had indicated that they believed its advantages to the city as a whole far exceeded its disadvantages to a comparatively few property owners along the route it will take through Oakwood subdivision.

Only Commissioner Stabenoville was skeptical at the commission's meeting Sept. 19, perhaps because as a resident of the Oakwood subdivision he may have been more sensitive to the feelings of his neighbors who had signed the opposing petition. But Stabenoville too, after joining Commissioner Welch in a final meeting with Wayne Road officials, told the city commission Monday evening that his trip to Detroit had convinced him the cut-off will be good for the city. His "conversion" made unanimous the commission's decision to give the counties permission to use the Carlyle St. route for the cut-off.

FROM THE LIGHTER SIDE OF THE READER'S DIGEST

When we moved from an old house in the city to a brand new house in a small suburban town, our youngsters were intrigued by all the modern conveniences and mechanical marvels. The eight-year-old took particular notice of the new and shiny telephone. "What's that?" he asked. "Why, that's the telephone," his mother said, surprised at the question.

"But it hasn't any numbers on it or a dial like our phone. How does it work?"

"You just lift the receiver and a woman answers, and you tell her what number you want."

"The boy's eyes widened in astonishment. "Boy!" he exclaimed. "How easy! Is everything modern out here!"

New Army Reserves Program Explained To H.S. Students

Northville high school students in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades were informed of the new army reserve program Tuesday afternoon by Reserve Instructors from the Ann Arbor sub station, Major Krenitsky and Sgt. Gillespie. Krenitsky and Gillespie explained the six and eight year reserve program. Enlistment in the former includes two years of active duty and four years of service in the reserves. The eight year program was recommended for boys and girls wishing to enter college since they serve only six months of active duty and seven and a half years in the reserves.

Local civic organizations wishing more information about this program are asked to contact the local reserves representative Captain Frederick Stefanski who is also assistant high school principal.

A REPORT FROM THE CAPITOL

By Elmer White

REPUBLICANS ARE HOPEFULLY JUGGLING FOUR candidates for governor, whichever gets the nod will have to go against Gov. Williams. Plans of State Chairman John Felkens, who said both Gov. Williams and President Eisenhower will run in 1956, may be changed if the president announces his intention to run.

The illness of the president will have a bearing on his availability for a second term. But Democrats are looking for Gov. Williams to try for a fifth term, regardless of the national situation. Williams is in the habit of breaking precedent. He won his first term in 1948 in a nominally Republican stronghold and his popularity with the voters is still at a high pitch.

Because of an early primary in Michigan, Williams will have to cast off from hopes for a fifth term if he wants to go for a spot on the national Democratic ticket. "Most governors can go into the convention and keep a grip on the job back home," said one top Michigan Democrat. "If Sospy wants to try it, he has to abandon Michigan."

Republicans have one question now: Who can beat Williams? Separate groups have rallied support for the nomination behind Mayor Cobo and Detroit Congressman Ford of Grand Rapids; Congressman Bentley of Owosso; and Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University. The two congressmen appear to be the best odds.

Cobo said he would like to see a good, strong, willing candidate appear on the scene so he could forget the boom that has been created for his own candidacy.

"There are a lot of people in the state who know who they know one from a bale of hay," he said.

Republican legislators, who launched the trial balloon for Cobo, figure he could cut into Williams' vote. They also predict that outstate areas, as usual, will go Republican.

But Democrats, who "state farm program" in the making, are going after outstate votes, too.

Dr. Hannah carries the idea of close association with President Eisenhower, having been assistant secretary of defense for manpower.

His potential candidacy has been launched by a group of "Young Turks" from the legislature.

It happened at a Sunday afternoon picnic at the home of Rep. George Saldaña (R-Ann Arbor) and the news stirred political thinkers.

Dr. Hannah immediately refused the bid of the Young Turks, stating that he could better serve Michigan as the president of a great university.

Republicans backing him, still insist he could be drafted to go against a Democratic candidate for governor. He has built the university into a powerful force in the state.

Republicans are making history with their activity during an off year. Democrats have campaigned the year around since 1948. Williams' weekly schedule is as strenuous as any campaign. Wherever he stops, he shakes hands with everybody in sight and spreads the word. People like him.

Whenever the Republicans pick will have to outdo the governor, who already is about 5 million handshakes ahead of the game.

Republicans are counting on the latest merger of the national and state ballots to give them the pull of Eisenhower at the top to elect a governor halfway down.

The President's illness may make a difference, but that's the way the tune is going now, eight to the bar.

The more you lean on others the leaner your chances are for success.

Any question settled by force invariably comes up for re-settlement.

TRAPPED, Sgt. Gil Glasson and Police Chief Joe Denton "nailed" Mayor Claude "Pete" Ely last Saturday on the City Hall steps to buy the first ticket and button to the 2nd Annual Northville Football Bust Banquet and dance.

Needless to say, the Mayor offered no resistance, just dug in and paid.

Football Bust Banquet Nov. 12; Boosters To Sell 1,000 Buttons

The Northville Boosters Committee has set November 12 as the date for their 2nd Annual Football Bust Banquet and Dinner to be held at the high school.

Members of the committee are Allan Buckley, chairman; Gill Glasson, Dr. J. K. Eastlund, Mrs. Clayton Meyers and Dr. Snow.

These to be honored at the banquet include the varsity football team, reserve football team, junior high school football team, varsity cheer leaders, junior varsity cheer leaders, the football queen and her court, Our Lady of Victory parochial football team, Northville high school marching band, the football coaches and the band leaders.

PROGRAM The program is still incomplete, but according to Dr. Snow, publicity chairman, it will include the presentation of letters to members of the football squad, a short address by a speaker still to be announced, and a magic show.

Tickets for the banquet are being limited to honored guests and their parents, however, the gate is invited to purchase orange booster buttons at a cost of 50¢ which will admit them to the entertainment program and the dance. Boosters are trying to sell 1,000 buttons to defray the banquet expense.

Buttons may be purchased from members of the Rotary club, American Legion and the auxiliary, VFW and the auxiliary, Optimist and Exchange clubs.

Commission Approves Million $$$ Program

Northville city commissioners gave their approval Monday evening to the Baseline cut-off which has been estimated as a million dollar project.

Planning of the road is in the early preliminary stages which involves the acquisition of a 70-foot strip of land along the north side of Carlyle St. The additional land will be used to widen the 50-foot road to 120 feet, a county road requirement. The county will attempt to secure right-of-ways after Dec. 1 of this year; however, actual construction is not expected to begin until 1957.

Financing will be distributed among the following: Federal Government, $500,000; Wayne county, $400,000; and Oakland county, $100,000.

According to the engineers, the new road is expected to take care of traffic for at least 15 or 20 years.

At the Sept. 6 meeting of the Commission, Oakland subdivision property owners presented a significant petition with 111 names protesting the cut-off. At that time, Commissioner Stubenvoll was doubtful about the "rightness" (Continued on Page 12)

NEW WELL - The Northville City Commission this week passed a resolution to instruct the firm of Lewis, Harris and Noy, water consultants, to submit a test well on the triangular parcel of city-owned land where Northville Rd. and Main St. meet.

A geological survey was made and approved by the state. The surveyor's report included three possible sites, two of which Commissioner Stubenvoll was reluctant to disclose.

Stubenvoll said that Ford Motor Co. has three 60-foot wells surrounding the proposed site now and they are pumping 900 gallons per minute.

The test well will be 8 inches with a 12-inch casing and will cost approximately $10,000.

COMMERCIAL RUBBISH - A commercial rubbish container, made of corrugated metal and mounted on skids is scheduled to be constructed in the near future as an experiment in commercial collections.

Commissioner Allen said that if the plan is successful, three such containers would pay for themselves in one year by man-hours saved.

With this sort of arrangement it would be necessary for merchants to deposit their rubbish in the containers, placed in certain points in town. The rubbish collector would need to stop only at the three (or whatever number is decided) on containers.

Board Stymied in 5 Month Tilt on Zoning Enforcement

Northville Township officials instructed Township Attorney James E. Littell last week to look for some legal grounds that can be used to improve the Gerald Ave. section.

The board's action was taken at a "private" meeting in the home of Supervisor Mollie Lawrence Sept. 27, according to minutes of the meeting which were read at the board's regular monthly meeting Tuesday, Oct. 4.

The regular meeting was held in the usual room in the basement of the Northville Public library.

Same Complaint for Years The minutes of the private meeting quoted Supervisor Lawrence as saying the board's decision to try to improve the Gerald Ave. section was the result of numerous complaints by township residents. Supervisor Lawrence said at the meeting this week that the complaints were similar to those which have been made in past years.

Littell reported to the board that the township lacks authority to enter into a nuisance project in the Gerald Ave. section, as is recommended in the township's new zoning ordinance. He said he will explore other means of improving the situation.

Orders Nuisance Stopped The board also instructed Littell Tuesday evening to notify Grady Thompson, said to be the new owner of property at Northville, near 7-Mile to cease and desist in maintaining a nuisance on the premises in violation of the zoning ordinance. The nuisance was said by Littell to be an outside privy. Littell issued such orders in early May. He also sent similar letters to the owner of an adjacent piece of property and to the township inspector, who supplied the other piece of property.

Board Ignores Amerman, Smith, Ellison, Kay

The Northville Board of Education ignored the recommendation of Superintendent of Schools Amerman and three school principals, Ellison, Smith and Kay, and turned down the request of the Parent Discussion group for $400 to further their adult education program.

Bural Clark, board member, moved to grant a request by Mrs. William Milne for up to $400 to cover the first term of the program. Nelson Schrader seconded the motion; however, in a roll call vote Schrader voted "no" and (Continued on Page 12)

Work started this week on paving the S. Center St. and 7-Mile Rd. cut-off, both of which were closed to traffic a few days ago.

Before the actual paving can start, a storm sewer must be installed on the two-block stretch of Center St. between Cedar and Elm. Hines Dr. The grade of this portion of the street also has been lowered. Both sections of road are being paved by Louis and Frisinger, Ann Arbor contractors, who were successful bidders for the Center St. job and who have taken on the 7-Mile cut-off as a sub-contractor for the original low bidder.

Help Wanted!

The Record regrets its inability to publish a detailed story about the football game last week with Milford. Our staff works two and three evenings each week in getting out the paper and we have no one available to cover the game. Cash Ron Schipper has helped out by writing the stories of the previous two games but he has so many other things to do that we believe it is an imposition to ask him to write our stories also.

Athletic Director Al Jones tried earlier this fall to find some high school student who would report the games for pay, but without success. The Record would like to give better news coverage to high school athletics but this can be done only if someone can be found who is willing to handle the job.

City Waits For News On Closing Of 85 Year Old Fish Hatchery

The Northville fish hatchery has ceased to function as a rearing place for large mouth bass, blue gills and trout. Most of its ponds are dry, its fish have been given away or recently destroyed by pollution in the river, and the spring which has been providing water for the rearing of fingerling minnows for 85 years is so low that it poses a serious threat to future operations.

Only 57 bass and 105 blue gill remain at the hatchery for brood stock and it takes three years to grow a bass and two years to grow a blue gill. There can be no fish for distribution during the next two to three years.

This drab situation was learned by the Record this week when it asked Captain E. R. Widmeyer, head of the hatchery for 23 years, if the pollution reported two weeks ago in the river had affected the hatchery. Capt. Widmeyer replied that about two weeks ago the water in the hatching ponds became so low an investigation was made to learn the cause. "When we went to the inlet through which water from the stream enters the ponds, we found it plugged up with dead fish from the stream," he said.

He explained that the hatchery had lost 155 large mouth bass and 120 blue gills due to the pollution. These were removed and buried, together with those plugging the inlet, he said.

Although Capt. Widmeyer has received no official word from the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service that the hatchery is to be closed, the fact that its operations are virtually at a standstill already, coupled with the low water level and Widmeyer's approval of retirement, make this appear a virtual certainty.

F. B. Frost, sanitary engineer for Michigan Water Resources, was contacted in his Lansing office this week by the Record. Frost said that his department had no idea about the cause of pollution. "When we arrived in Northville last week," Frost said, "everything was normal. There was no evidence of pollution except for the dead fish."

Work started this week on paving the S. Center St. and 7-Mile Rd. cut-off, both of which were closed to traffic a few days ago. of approving the project without further consideration. Consequently, actual voting on the issue was deferred until the Oct. 3 meeting to give Stubbenvoll the opportunity to confer with Wayne County Road officials. Attending the meeting with Stubbenvoll was Commissioner Ed Welch and City Attorney Ogilvie.

Commissioners Stubbenvoll and Welch reported that the commission has no alternative insofar as the proposed construction is concerned.

"The planning is being done in the interest of Northville's present and future and the commission will be acting in the interest of the majority if it passes this resolution," Welch said.

Facts About the Road
Carlyle St. meets the specifications and any location more distant would not be in compliance with the law and therefore, impossible.

The road will be an alternate route leading to M-23 going to Lansing, Grand Rapids, and some day Lake Michigan. It will also be a direct route to Detroit.

The proposed route will eliminate four dangerous intersections at the C&O Railroad and Novi Rd.; 8-Mile Rd. and Novi Rd.; C&O Railroad and Baseline, and the curve on Novi Rd.

Safety precautions will be taken and foot overpasses will be erected for school children.

About the Storm Sewer
A storm sewer will be installed on the south side of Carlyle St. during the spring of 1956. The city will be obliged to pay 50% of the cost.

Natten's comment to the Township Board was enlightening. Without specifying who he was referring to, he said that "All I've got out of him is just conversation. . . He hasn't done one damn thing yet."

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. McCormick of Maxwell Rd. returned Tuesday from a vacation trip to Manistee lake.

Littell said this week that he had not been supplied with Thompson's name as a tenant of one of the properties and accordingly, Thompson had not been notified of the violation officially.

At its original August meeting, three months after the original complaint, the board voted to give Schoultz another month to comply with the ordinance. Thirty days more passed, and at the September meeting the board heard a report that Schoultz had sold the property to another party.

After another 30 days, on Oct. 4, the board asked Littell to send Thompson a cease and desist order similar to the one he sent Schoultz 90 days ago.

The total elapsed time since the first complaint was voiced to the township board has now reached five months.

Donald Severance voted "no," Mrs. Wagnerschutz was absent. Schradler explained his "no" vote by saying, "I voted no because I don't think that I'm qualified to decide the matter."

Mrs. Milne retorted with, "Then you are not prepared to accept the recommendation of Superintendent American and the three school principals?"

"No," said Schradler. Severance said that he voted "no" because he didn't think there would be enough parental participation to warrant such a program.

Mrs. Milne was contacted the following day, Tuesday, and said that the discussion group would proceed with their plans without the financial backing of the school board.

"The study group has great merit and great value to the present situation," Mrs. Milne said, "and Mr. Schradler didn't understand that. Schools have to be concerned with the health. Furthermore, the schools were going to have Miss Patton help to have the school in Detroit at their service one day a week to help teachers and parents with problem children."

The discussion group will continue their meetings on a tuition basis with the help of the P.T.A. Meetings will be held in the home economics room in the high school. Miss Patton has agreed to act as a moderator for the beginning group this first semester.

NEW POLICEMEN - Police Chief Joseph Devlen and Mayor Claude Ely announced the appointment of a new policeman, Alex Fank. The two men are planning a meeting for next week to be held this coming week end. At the meeting, captains will be briefed as to their work and will start to select the members of their teams.

Mrs. Walter K. Sumner is serving as chairman of a committee arranging for a series of 30 neighborhood meetings for all members of the congregation, Mrs. John P. Vos is vice-chairman.

The meetings will be held Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week at the homes of members of the church. The meetings are intended as a means of explaining to all in the church the plans for the building fund campaign. No solicitation will be carried on in any form, according to the committee. The meetings will be entirely informal and full discussion of the program is to be encouraged. Each adult in the parish is to be invited to one of these meetings by one of the hostesses, over the coming week end.
