State Suggests Tour of Colorful North

FALL "COLOR TOURS" are in order as autumn brings glorious hues to trees and shrubs throughout northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula. So says Robert Furlong, director of the State Tourist Council. Plugging for leisurely drives through areas where color reigns as King, Furlong urges Michigan residents to see their state at its best. To help you plan a tour at exactly the time colors are at their height, the council offers a tailor-made information service. Send a self-addressed post card to the tourist office at Lansing stating where you plan to travel in Michigan. Just before the color is at its peak in the area you name, the council will remail your card to you saying "now is the time." And best of all—the whole majestic show is free. The autumn season also gives the Tourist Council a breathing period to evaluate last summer's tourist business. Figures now coming in indicate that this was a "pretty good" tourist year—although it did not reach pre-season expectations. Bad weather played a major role in limiting tourist spending. "Tourist traffic through Michigan was good, but people kept moving around in search of better weather," Furlong comments. "In all, we had four inches more rainfall this summer." Mackinac Bridge construction brought people flocking to the straits to see the new structure. Traffic between the two peninsulas was up 1 1/2 per cent, over last year. "Until all figures are in, best 'guesstimates' by the Council are: Summer tourist business won't reach the $800 million level predicted last spring. But it won't fall below the $500 million mark set last year. THE BIG JOB handled by the "little people" in Michigan's state government is being done well according to C. J. Hess, deputy civil service director. While politicians are making headlines in newspapers, the business of government continues to run smoothly in the hands of some 25,000 state employees who provide services through 117 state agencies. Scientific appraisal through promotional examinations gives employees seeking better positions shows that 71 per cent of them are qualified to handle more important jobs. The system of competitive examinations for promotion is popular with state workers, Hess asserts. It gives an employee a stake in his own promotion—a goal reached by personal achievement. Out of all those taking examinations, only 10 per cent are found unsuitable for advancement. The rating plan was introduced in 1949 to provide a standard yardstick for measuring worker aptitude, efficiency and satisfaction. Before that time promotions were based on recommendations of agency and department heads. If an employee is not satisfied with his rating, which is always presented for his signature, he can appeal for a change in jobs, Hess explained. "We have conducted surveys that show over those denied better ratings are for the most part satisfied with the test and show determination to do better the next time," he concludes. A UNIQUE MICHIGAN newspaper is served up each Friday to perhaps the most eager "topical" audience a publication could desire. This newspaper—"The Spectator" is the weekly at Jackson prison. In Novi's Future: City Status, Sewerage System

Staman Suggests Incorporation

Businessmen were told last week they should begin looking to the not-too-distant day when central Novi township can incorporate itself as a city. The suggestion came from Novi Township Supervisor Fraser Staman as he spoke to the Novi board of commerce last Thursday. Staman told the businessmen they should take the initiative in the move toward city status. He explained that he will help, but that it is not his duty to begin the action. Questioned later, Staman suggested specifically that a city of Novi should be formed with the so-called "Four Corners" at Grand River and Novi road as the core. The new city could then annex adjoining property. He said he believes the "Four Corners" has sufficient population at present to incorporate as a city, but that outlying territory does not. That territory could, however, be brought into the new city by annexation, he said. Staman said recent growth in Novi township has led to at least five units of local representation which now compete with each other. He listed these as the township board, the Novi Civic Association, the Willowbrook Community Association, Wilcox residents and Northville-area residents. He said city status for Novi would help solve conflicts and problems which have arisen from such competition. Furthermore, Staman said, incorporation would help prevent the township from losing its fringe areas by annexation to other areas and incorporation into villages. Specifically, he was referring to two currently-disputed annexations of Novi territory by Northville and to the move of Wilcox to incorporate as a village. "Before long," he said, "we're apt to find that most of our territory belongs to someone else and that all we have left is our own back yard." "It would be better," he added, "if we could become a city ourselves and secure this land before it's too late." Staman said other advantages of incorporation of a city would be found in more extensive services to the community. One such service—a sewage disposal system—is already contemplated. (See other story, this page.)

Disposal Plant Would Come First

The first steps toward a $3,000,000-$4,000,000 sewage disposal plant and sewerage system in Novi township will be taken soon, Township Supervisor Fraser Staman announced this week. Speaking before the Novi board of commerce last week, Staman said the township is now prepared to begin initial studies of the sewage system. He said engineers will be consulted this week to draw up first plans and to estimate costs involved in the system. As outlined by Staman, the first step in the system would be a sewage disposal plant to be built "probably somewhere in the southwest part of the township." The plant would be paid for by revenue bonds, Staman said, so that only users of the system would pay for it. Initial money for the plant—probably some $300,000—would come from unannexed territory, he added. Staman said the network itself would be paid for by subdivision developers and would not require the issuance of revenue bonds. He added that several developers already have greeted the plan enthusiastically.

Further Details Disclosed For New Sports Center

The current controversy over a proposed Novi township race track and sports center will come to a head tomorrow at a public hearing of the township zoning board. The board is expected to decide whether to rezone the proposed site from "light industry" to "heavy industry" to make establishment of the multi-million dollar track possible. Scheduled to begin at 8:15 tonight (Thursday), the meeting is open to all members and interested citizens. The Novi Civic Association, which met tonight to discuss a possible slate of candidates for township office in the spring elections, is scheduled to begin at 8:15 tonight (Thursday), the meeting is open to all members and interested citizens. The sports center is proposed to be built on a site north of Grand River between Meadowbrook and Seeley roads. Covering some 600 acres, the land is now zoned M-1 (light industry) and must be rezoned to M-3 (heavy industry) if the track is to be built. Meanwhile, George Kovacs, a member of the syndicate which hopes to set up the track, outlined basic plans this week for a sports center far beyond general public expectation. Kovacs would not disclose all details, but did say that more than a race track is planned. The project would include a sports center, keyed to the development of Metropolitan Detroit as one of the country's most enthusiastic sporting areas. He indicated it would offer annual sporting events in a park with California's Tournament of Roses, backed heavily by civic and business concerns in the area. Some aspects of construction would be unique in the sporting world, Kovacs said. He mentioned an all-aluminum grandstand and an all-weather sliding dome as typical. He did not comment on vague rumors connecting the project with the St. Lawrence Seaway or future Olympic games. For race racing, Kovacs said only harness racing is now planned, but that "runners" might be added after several years, depending on how business had been up to that time. He said his syndicate has not yet received a state license for racing, but explained that such a license cannot be granted until a site is approved. He would not say if tentative clay for a license has been granted by the state racing commission. Kovacs reiterated an earlier statement that his group would not fight for establishment of the track. "If Novi township residents don't want the track," he said, "we will not try to force it on them." But he pointed out that such a sports center—valued at upwards of $5,000,000—would bring with it a new revenue but business in general into the township.

A young Novi township boy critically wounded himself in Detroit last Saturday as he waited in his parents' car while his mother shopped and his father visited a bar. Paul Holland, 5, of 4240 Grand River, was taken to St. Joseph Mercy hospital with a .32 caliber pistol wound in his abdomen. Detroit police said Paul and his four small brothers were left in a department store parking lot while their mother, Lillian, 25, shopped, and their father, James, 27, went into a nearby bar. Motorists Learn Lesson: Keep Off Expressway

Two motorists found out the hard way Sunday that they shouldn't use a new expressway until it's finished. In identical but separate accidents, the two motorists entered the new Farmington-Brighton expressway and blazed along without a care in the world until the pavement suddenly went out from under them at the Meadowbrook road opening. BeCole, who traveled at high speeds for two-and-a-half miles. At the Meadowbrook opening, the pavement was some 30 feet and the hapless drivers rammed across the first hole and into the concrete at the other side. BeCole said the 30-foot opening is used by earth-movers working on the new road.

Tempers Flare at Board Meeting

Tempers flared at the Novi township board meeting Monday night and were quieted only when Supervisor Fraser Staman threatened to eject a citizen for being out of order. Most of the verbal battle took place between Staman and Herbert Koester, president of the Novi Township Democratic club, who attends meetings regularly as a private citizen. Koester (interrupting): "We don't want that $60,000. Not from gambling."

Staman (interrupting): "You get in order." Koester: "I am in order, I'm in order bringing up this letter."

Staman: "We're not interested in your letter, and we don't have to consider it because it is all about. For instance, a track like that would bring in $60,000 in school taxes..."

Staman: "I've told you either to get in order or get out." Koester: "For one thing, this letter should come from the secretary of your club."

Koester: "Well, I'm the president. And that doesn't alter the situation at all."

Staman: "There will be a public meeting for the rezoning this Friday. You can bring the matter up in your letter, and we don't have to consider it because it is all about. For instance, a track like that would bring in $60,000 in school taxes..."

Newcomer's Corner

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance." - Samuel Johnson

The urge to have a little more "living room" prompted the William Wileys to move from Detroit to Northville where they settled at 4148 West Eight Mile road with their two children, Kurt, six and Mark, four.

Mrs. Wiley, whose hobby is gardening, was president of a cooperative nursery school group in Detroit last year.

A Yankee fan, Mr. Wiley was needless to say pleased with the results of the recent World Series. His more active past-time is photography.

Mr. Wiley is a physicist with the Bendix Aviation Research Corporation. He recently directed a research group which perfected a machine for industrial use called a "mass spectrometer".

Although this is not the first mass spectrometer that's been developed, he said, it works much faster than previous types and will be a great aid in certain fields, the chemical industry, for example.

What's Cooking?

(What's your favorite dish? If you will share it with other Northville housewives, please call The Northville Record's society editor, telephone 200.)

Mrs. John Hanna of 4185 McMahon Circle, Willowbrook Village, gives us this tangy tomato aspic recipe that will go so perfectly with fall meals.

TOMATO ASPIC
WITH CHEESE BALLS
2 cups tomato juice
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar
1 package lemon gelatin
3 oz. package cream cheese
1 teaspoon grated onion and juice
Heat tomato juice with vinegar, salt and sugar and add lemon gelatin.
Fill salad molds half full and place in refrigerator until firm. Mix cream cheese and onions into balls and place in center of each mold. Fill with remaining mixture.
If plain gelatin is used, add two tablespoons of lemon juice to first mixture. Instead of two full cups of tomato juice, measure out one full cup—but on the second cup put vinegar and lemon juice in first and fill remainder with tomato juice. Put gelatin in two tablespoons of water, mix and add after tomato juice.

Newcomer's Corner

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."
— Samuel Johnson

The urge to have a little more "living room" prompted the William Wileys to move from Detroit to Northville where they settled at 4148 West Eight Mile Road, six and a half blocks from Mrs. Wiley, whose hobby is gardening, was president of a cooperative nursery school group in Detroit last year.

A Yankee fan, Mr. Wiley was needless to say—pleased with the results of the recent World Series. His more active past-time is photography.

Mr. Wiley is a physicist with the Bendix Aviation Research Corporation. He recently directed a research group which perfected a machine for industrial use called a "mass spectrometer". Although this is not the first mass spectrometer that's been developed, he said, it works much faster than previous types and will be a great aid in certain fields, in the chemical industry, for example.

Joining in while mother plays are Kurt, six, and Mark, four, children of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Wiley, of 41845 West Eight Mile road.

The Sunset District is the largest district of the Detroit Area Council, the largest Boy Scout Council in the United States. The district gets its name from its location on the western side of Wayne county.

It includes all of Wayne county west of Inkster road with a jog to the east to include all of the Village of Inkster. More than 1000 adults are engaged in scouting activities within the Sunсет district.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Mitchell and Mrs. Robert Hunt were in Detroit last week Sunday to see "Oklahoma".

Mr. and Mrs. D. Clark were guests of Blanche Parent Wise of the Common Council last Sunday evening for the dedication of the Henry and Edsel Ford auditorium in Detroit Sunday evening.

Carolyn Ann Burdman of Bassford road pledged Phi Mu sorority at the University of Michigan.

Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Howard of Eight Mile road left Sunday for a week's stay in New York. On Wednesday and Thursday, Mrs. Walker will attend the national council meeting which they were the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Little in Glen Arbor.

Mary Lee Bryan, a freshman at the University of Michigan, has been appointed athletic co-chairman of Angell House, Alice Lloyd Hall.

Mrs. Marion Weiss of Novi is a new member of the Record staff. She will be with us Monday through Wednesday each week.

Junior High Dumps Clarenceville, 12-0

Northville junior high griders ground out their second straight win last Wednesday by dropping Clarenceville 12-0.

The victory gave Coach Jim Madigan's squad a perfect unblemished, unscorred-upon record for the season.

Bob Bryant ran 30 yards for one Northville score, after David Hay set the touchdown with a 21-yard dash. Kent Frid scored from six yards out.

Northville met Dearborn Ford last night. The score was not available at press time.

Juniors Earn Funds With Popcorn Sales

Sometimes on late afternoons just before the school bell rings students lift their heads from studying to inhale the tastiest temptation of fresh-buttered popcorn.

"What," a stranger might ask, "is that frivolous odor doing in the halls of learning?" A good question. It is merely the advertisement for a money-making project, sponsored by the junior high.

They operate a popcorn machine similar to those seen in theaters. The popcorn is also sold at football games, the average consumption for a Friday night being 348 bags.

"Some people judge every opportunity by asking, 'What's in it for me?'" But when we start fulfilling the teaching of the Sermon on the Mount we forget personal benefit and ask instead, "How much good can I do?" —Good Business

Forensic Club Plans To Produce Plays To Help Earn Funds

The Forensic club plans to present a few plays in the future for the double purpose of gaining dramatic experience and earning money.

The play selection committee is already working in cooperation with the sponsors, Miss Florence Panatier and Alvin Skow, to choose several good plays for this objective.

Club members began their dramatic presentations at their Thursday meeting by putting on two skits, using props, provided by the entertainment committee. The skits were part of a game which consisted of dividing up into two groups, being given a bag full of the props and devising a short story revolving around the props.

The Forensic club was organized with a purpose in mind—that of teaching young people the basic skills of acting and public speaking and to provide recreation for them.

Although the club already has a large membership, more interested teen-agers are always welcome. Sponsors and members would like anyone who wants to join the club will gain a useful and pleasant experience.

Magazine Profits Go for Senior Trip

Board of Commerce Hears Director Of Insurance Group

Member of the Novi board of commerce heard Thomas Paton, a director of the Michigan Medical Service, discuss the Blue Cross and Blue Shield insurance plans at their monthly meeting last Thursday evening.

Paton first pointed out the distinction between the two plans. The Blue Cross, he said, offered hospitalization benefits, while the Blue Shield plan was initiated to provide for doctor fees.

According to Paton, the plans were organized as a non-profit enterprise with the approval and endorsement of hospitals and medical doctors. Answering questions concerning the rates of insurance, Paton pointed to rising service and labor costs as factors in boosting rates. "People want more service now when they are confined to a hospital; competent attendants must also be paid more money," he pointed out.

Board of Commerce President Leo Harwood introduced the speaker and later called upon Township Supervisor Fraser Staman to address the group. Staman complied with a plea to Commerce members to consider two problems facing the township. "We should begin now to plan for incorporation as a city," he said. This, Staman said, was necessary to prevent further annexation movements. He also called for consideration of a sewage disposal plant.

Superintendent of Schools William Medlyn also reminded members of the school consolidation vote scheduled for October 30. He said an open meeting will be held October 24 in the Novi Community building to answer any questions on the proposed consolidation.

NO REAL LOVE

There is no real love for Christians today! The world may at times be tolerant because of the benefits it receives but underneath it hates what the Christian faith stands for. Its dislike centers around three things. First, it hates Christianity because it humbles man in the dust. It declares that he is a sinner by nature and practice and "there is none that doeth good, no, not one" (Romans 3:12 & 23). It humbles him in that it declares he can do nothing that pleased the mercies of God through Jesus Christ for salvation. How distasteful this is to the worlding who insists upon coming in his own way. The second hatred for the faith stems from its opposition to the pleasures of the senses which are not in harmony with God's holiness. Drunkenness, immorality, filthy talk, lechery, nakedness, abuse of the body, and the like are condemned in no uncertain terms. Naturally the world fights back to maintain her pleasures. Then third, their hatred is derived from the "other-worldliness" of the Christian. The world is trying to make a heaven of their own dimensions here on earth. They adopt enough of the Christian principles to make it look religious. When a Christian doesn't go along with their program, naturally they become an offense to them.

Parents, Too, Learn at Nursery

LET'S DRESS UP — And let's dress up our dolls, too. These little mothers take advantage of the toys furnished for them at the Cooperative Nursery.

"Let's play dolls." "I want to work puzzles." A disagreement — and there's a conflict to resolve for the little people at the Northville Cooperative Nursery school. The "students" who learn most from this school, however, are not the children. Primarily a parent education program, the group requires parent attendance at a monthly educational meeting. At these meetings, mothers, fathers and even grandparents hear educators, child psychologists, doctors and other experts speak on such subjects as child care and marriage. Parents also learn to keep order among the children and gain a better understanding of their own children who range in age from two and a half to five. Four mothers help the two qualified teachers each Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings when school is in session, from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Their service averages once a month. Fathers help out by repairing worn and damaged equipment that receives heavy wear. The local nursery is housed in the Presbyterian church building, but the group itself is non-sectarian. Costs are lower than in private nurseries within reach of the average family. The fees are used for teachers, new play equipment and morning refreshments. The co-op program began on the West coast about 25 years ago, and has been very active in Michigan for about 10 years. Of the more than 70 groups in Michigan, between 55 and 60 are in Wayne county, under the guidance of the area council for Wayne and Oakland counties. Each Monday evening, a television program on cooperative nurseries is presented on Channel 56 under the direction of Mrs. Maxine Nordquist of Wayne university. The Alton Park group, which presented a dramatization on the show, soon will repeat their performance before the Northville group. President of the local group is Mrs. Gwen Marburger of Thayer street. The advisory group for the community consists of Dr. V. George Clark, pastor of the First Baptist Church; Harold Harley, Taxicab, minister; Harold Harley, president of the P.T.A. Clifton Hill, attorney; Carl Johnson, representative of the Retail Merchants Association; Joseph Denton, chief of police, and Mrs. Sherry Meyer, chairman of the Wayne county, under the guid-

Mustangs Take W-O Lead As Brighton, Milford Lose

Northville backed into first place in the Wayne-Oakland County League last week end as the previous week's leaders were both defeated.

The Mustangs, playing Thurston in a non-conference game, took over first place with a 1-0-1 record.

Brighton and Milford, last week's leaders, both lost. West Bloomfield surprised Brighton, 28-0, while Holy sank Milford 18-0.

Northville can clinch the league title by winning its four remaining games. Those include contests with Clarkston, Holy, Brighton and West Bloomfield.

Northville Gives Thurston Season's First Loss, 18-6

Even a knockout couldn't stop Northville left halfback Dick Biery last Friday night as he paced the Mustangs to a stunning 18-6 victory over previously-unbeaten, unscathed Thurston.

Biery, who has made a habit of spectacular play in recent games, once again put on almost a one man show in dumping the highly-regarded Thurston 11, among his accomplishments:

- scored once on an electrifying 64-yard pass play less than two minutes after being knocked cold on the middle field stripe.
- set up a second touchdown by passing to end Bill Yahnke for 32 yards.
- set up another touchdown by galloping 48 yards to the Thurston 28.
- rushed for 73 yards in eight carries, for a respectable nine-yard average.
- pulled down two passes good for 91 yards.
- passed once for 32 yards.
- returned two punts for a total of 78 yards and a kickoff for 27.

Thurston, entering the game with a perfect record for the season, scored first but was never really on a par with Northville. The Mustangs ran up 304 yards PUSHING? Looks like it, but the penalty was never called. Northville end Bill Yahnke was just about to intercept a Thurston pass when the incident occurred. If you think it's just the camera angle, notice that the Thurston player's hand is inside Yahnke's elbow.

TOUCHDOWN — Somewhere in this jumbled heap is Mustang fullback Gary Holman who just crashed over for Northville's first score. Holman also scored a second touchdown to give Northville a 12-6 halftime lead.

A Queen is Chosen

Perhaps there was more poignancy when Elizabeth was crowned, but it could have hardly been more exciting than the coronation of Judy Junod as Homecoming Queen of Northville High school.

It was a time of tension, thrill and delight... a time of riding in an open car through the city streets, of accepting homage of her subjects and of humor mixed with an insurmountable pride.

It began weeks ago when Judy and three senior classmates were nominated for the honor. Then suddenly, on Thursday, it was time to cast ballots. And the students designated that Judy should wear the crown this year.

Her court was named — one girl from each class, Sandy Goffo represented the ninth grade; Barbara Maps, the tenth; Mary Hill, the 11th, and Virginia Sutton, the 12th.

The Queen's first official function was to preside over a throng of fellow students, cheering and singing praises of their queen and school.

The coronation itself had to wait until half-time at the game. From then on, events moved rapidly.

Smiling gracefully from an open car, she rode through the crowd-packed streets to the football field. In front of her stepped ward, Fullback Gary Holman carried a floral crown and a bouquet and presented them to the new queen.

Then the kissing began. How or why, no one knew. But before it was over, the queen and her court were each roundly kissed by the football stars — not once, but twice, and possibly more. The stands jingled with laughter and applause. It had been a long time since royalty had been so fittingly honored.

The only question was whether the co-captains would still be in shape for the second half. (They later proved they were.)

And so it went. Queen Judy returned to the high school and presided over the homecoming dance, and girl friends and "the guys" congratulated her for her honor.

And then it was over. All that remained was to paste a picture in a scrapbook or preserve a flower between pages of a year-book. But the memories of the night will never be put aside, neither by the Queen herself nor by the hundreds of students who gave her the honor.

ROYAL PROCESSION to the stadium began the queen's reign. In front of her marched the Northville band, while several hundred fellow students — led by cheerleaders — sang and cheered down the city's streets.

Mustang Marching Band Invited to U-M Band Day

Saturday will be "Band Day" for the Northville high school marching band and bands from 170 other high schools from throughout the state.

Under the direction of Leslie Lee and Robert Williams, they and the other bandmen will join the University of Michigan Marching Band in a big half-time performance at the Michigan stadium between halves of the Northwestern-Michigan football game.

- Mustang Hoof Prints - Seniors Choose Play Cast

The seniors chose as their class play this year, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street".
Tryouts were held October 3-5, with 24 students receiving parts. Susie Dowstbury and Emilie Seguin were given the lead part of Elizabeth Barrett Browning. Chosen to play the role of Robert Browning were Dave Adams and Brody Humphries. Mr. Barrett will be portrayed by Tom Slavens and Bernhard Mueller. "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" is a dramatic story about the life of Elizabeth Barrett Browning. Such a play has never before been attempted by any class at Northville high school. Miss Florence Panatoni is the director with Mary Palmer, Betty Wilson and Nancy Lawrence as assistant directors.
The seniors have already had two play practices. They are looking for antique furniture. If you know of any they might use contact Mary Palmer.
The play will be held December 5 and 6 at the Community building.

Seniors To Take Scholarship Tests

Several seniors at Northville and others from high schools around the nation will participate next Wednesday in a scholarship test which, if won, will enable them to attend any college they choose.
Even the taking of the test will be especially helpful in entering many colleges.
The test will last two hours and will cover such subjects as science, mathematics and English. The questions are designed to be especially difficult for the student taking the test. The chance of completing the test, much less getting all the questions correct, are very small.
E. V. Ellison, high school principal, warned the seniors in advance about the test and pointed out the toughness of the questions. His remarks, however, seemed not to have dulled the enthusiasm of several of the seniors for they are planning to take the test, no matter what the risk.

Austrian Student Finds First Dance Surprising

Editors Note: This is an article written by Heidi Trihart, Northville High's exchange student from Austria. Through her eyes, we are shown how something commonplace to us may be an unusual and exciting experience for her.
It happened last Friday night after the football game that I had my very first dance. Since I didn't expect to get a scholarship as an exchange student, I never thought my first one would be here in America.
Well, when the football game was over and everybody was happy that we had won, I got shivering with cold in the car. This might be because I didn't wear warm slacks, but rather a skirt and nylon, which weren't warm at all.
Mr. Al Jones, my father in America, went with me to the dance party, which took place in the gym at our school. I went in and saw a lot of girls and boys standing around and talking.
Just a few couples were dancing. I waited. Several dances were played, but most of the kids didn't dance. What a dance party, I thought!
I talked with more friends and they showed me some dances. When Mr. Jones came in, I was well prepared to try my first dance. They played all kinds of quick ones, but it was not until the last number that we found what we wanted. So Mr. Jones took me and I had my first dance, which I really enjoyed.
I can dance waltzes, which I like so much, but our band didn't play any. This disappointed me a little. Well, perhaps there will be some at the next dance party.

New Student Likes Football And Friendship at Northville

A newcomer to the senior class of Northville high school is Dave Adams. Of course, his first thought was upon meeting Dave one immediately notices his confident, yet congenial personality. This might be a contributing factor to Dave's quick adaptation to the ways of things.
He occupies the position of right halfback on the football team and more recently, he was chosen as one of the leading men in the senior play cast.
Dave was asked the usual questions, such as "What is your favorite food, song, subject and teacher?" Rather than give the usual answers to such routine questions, he asked if he might give his impressions as a new student of Northville high school is Dave Adams. Scholarship Offer Made by Magazine

Any student interested in earning part or all of their costs for a college education may be interested to know that this year Time magazine, in cooperation with Life and Sports Illustrated magazines, is sponsoring a program enabling students to earn money through selling magazines in their spare time.
Here's how it works: when a student has sold five 1-year subscriptions to Time for $6 each, he has earned $16, and in addition Time will award him $7.50 so he will have a scholarship credit of $23.50. For 20 such subscriptions, his credits would total $90 and so on.
All subscribers are billed by the publisher of the magazine so that the students are not responsible for handling any money.
The program is not a "contest". Each student can earn as much or as little toward his scholarship as his time allows.
He will get a 50 per cent commission for each sale. Any money earned by the student is kept in a fund by the magazine company until the student is ready to enter college.
Roy K. Wilson, executive secretary of the National School Public Relations Association, writes:
"The Earned Scholarship program is a wonderful opportunity for high school principals to team up with Time magazine in coming to the aid of parents who are hard-pressed to raise the funds for a college education for their sons and daughters."
This program is open to all students through grades 9 to 12. A certain number of students will be nominated for the opportunity. If interested, contact the high school office for more detailed information. The program will

Panel Discusses Teenage Problems

Miss Corine Clark's home and family living class recently sponsored a teenage-adult panel in the grade school lunchroom.
The class had been discussing the various phases of teenage-adult relationships for a few weeks and decided to get the adult viewpoints on the subject.
Miss Margaret Bondy acted as chief organizer and panel moderator. The questions under discussion included "What is a reasonable hour for teenagers to come home at night?" "Should parents take a hand in their son's or daughter's social life?" and "Should teenagers smoke?"
Teachers who comprised the adult part of the panel were Miss Patricia Dorrain, Mrs. Violet Bradford, Ronald Schipper, Robert Williams, Clarence Mason and Fredrick Stefanski.

Students Conduct Honor Study Hall Without Teachers

Due to the overcrowded conditions of the study halls in Northville high school, Principal E. V. Ellison has set up an honor study hall.
This study hall is made up of students who were chosen from seventh hour study hall. It is conducted by the students without the attendance of an instructor or a faculty member to supervise them.
The students take roll and are free to use hall passes as they see fit. The rules that prevail in the normal study hall also prevail there.
This study hall is an experiment to see if there may be others like it.
Students feel that it is working out fine, as they seem to get more work done in the honor study hall than they did in the regular study hall. It is hoped that the study hall will be able to continue as it helps solve the overcrowded conditions in the high school.

Here's what put the magic in the new kind of FORD!

It all started with the new "Inner Ford." When Ford engineers planned this baby, they didn't just think in terms of new springs, new brakes, new axles. They thought in terms of a car through-and-through new.
The wheels got smaller. Yes, this new Ford is so new in every detail that even the wheels have changed. Now smaller and broader for a better grip on the road, they help you get going quickly . . . give you a better ride.
The wheelbase got longer . . . so now you can choose between a Ford that's over 16 ft. long—or one that's over 17 ft. long!
The frame got wider. Side rails bow out to give a more stable riding platform . . . a lower, sleeker silhouette.
The ride got smoother. With new suspension, new springing front and rear, the ride this new Ford gives you is the closest you'll ever come to coasting on velvet-covered clouds. And that holds true on back roads, too!
The handling got easier. Poised and balanced like a panther, this car has new sweepback foot suspension that works its magic when you need it most.
The power got hotter. This new kind of Ford is packed with Thunderbird GO! It offers a wide range of Silver Anniversary V-8's to fit every horsepower need . . . plus a new version of the famous Mileage Maker Six.

The new Ford Fairlane 500 (118-inch wheelbase). Longer, lower, larger than many medium-priced cars, yet lower in price than most of them!
The roof got lower. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.
The body got quieter. It's the strongest body ever built for a low-priced car. And no car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing.
The rooms got bigger. There's head room to spare for a 1500-1600 type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too.
The lines got sweeter. Ford gives you the longest, lowest, low-priced car ever. Each graceful contour of its sculptured-in-steel body says, "Let's go!"
The style got smarter. With this new-look Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! Example: All Fairlane models, including sedans, have the look of a hardtop.
The value got greater . . . and the price is still Ford-low. The result—seven more promises of buying a car that will keep its value high . . . a car that will stay worth more.

Coon Hunt in Thirties Near Northville Turned Out to Be Wild Adventure

A coon hunt in the woods near Northville in the 1930s ended in an all-out screaming adventure when wolves surrounded the hunters.
In account now in the possession of the University of Michigan Historical Collections, the Reverend Norton Taylor says a boyhood coon hunt between Plymouth and Northville quickly changed character when he and his friends found themselves "entirely surrounded by a choir of screeching wolves."
"I've spent most of the night chopping wood and keeping up a great fire (in the forest)," he states. "We kept poles with one end in the fire so that we could have fire-brands as well as guns to fight with. Every little while, we would see the wolf-forms moving about us and see their eyes glaring in the fire light."
Eventually, the wolves moved away in the night. When young Taylor returned home, he found the wolves had "had several fights with the cattle in the yard, clambered over the fence, and howled around the sheep pen." He states his father had shot one of the wolves, "a great gray wolf seven feet long from the tip of his nose to the end of his tail."

Whitmore Lake Residents Oppose Boys Institute in Area

THE PROPOSED EXPENDITURE OF $15 MILLION when $500,000 could fill a need as well will receive staunch objections from residents in the Whitmore Lake area, 10 miles north of Ann Arbor.

Whitmore residents are organizing opposition. A meeting of persons who object to plans to relocate BVS less than a mile from this established resort center will be held October 23. Also attending will be W. J. Maxey, director of the Michigan Department of Social Welfare, whose office is responsible for BVS, and James Miller, state controller, who will explain the position of the state administrative board.

argument advanced by Lansing residents will soon apply to the Whitmore area. They further argue that Lansing people who object to BVS, chose to move into the school's locality. By moving the school into the lake area, residents are deprived of any choice in residing near it. They also point to the field house, swimming pool and other facilities at the present site, which cannot be replaced for years.

Some Whitmore people are anxious to express their strong feelings in hopes that state officials will reconsider submitting the problem to the next Legislature. They want either a new and different site for BVS—or the development of the present site as the most economic move.

SCHOOL VOTE SET FOR TUESDAY

The long-standing question of consolidation of four Novi township school districts will go before the public next Tuesday. Voters in the four districts — Novi & East Novi 2, Durfee and Putnam — will then decide whether to unite into a single district serving children in a 15-square mile area.

Three Proposals To Be Considered

The present four districts are too small to support a complete kindergarten-high school program. State law requires that all closed districts (those not operating their own schools) be attached to a nearby school district by July 1957. It is best to act now.

Old WPA Drain is Inadequate

An unusual meeting at a county crossroads was called last week to discuss plans for alleviating still another drainage problem in Novi township.

Race Track Rezoning Okayed after Stormy Meeting

Leonard explained that opposing residents filed out, board members voted to rezone the site. Though Irwin consistently denied official knowledge of race track plans and said the board was considering only a rezoning of the site and not future use of it, he requested Township Attorney Archie Leonard's opinion on what recourse township residents have if they continue to disrupt court for a bill of relief.
