

SPEAKING for the Record

By BILL SLIGER
The fate of the proposed 200-home subdivision on the Yorkus Farm...
"Due process of law" being what it is the 100-acre site annexed from Novi township by the City of Northville last June...

The company, with a great deal at stake, reached the deadline for assurance from the city that sewer and water facilities would be available to the subdivision. Without this assurance, necessary financing could not be obtained.

Originally, there was no question. City property is entitled to city facilities. But what if the court rules that the property belongs to Novi township?

The developers plan to build approximately 200 modern homes on paved streets with sidewalks, curbs, gutters and water and sewer systems ready to be hooked-up to the city's.

The homes, councilmen reasoned, are vitally needed. In addition the area will be an attractive improvement. To turn thumbs down on the request might result in a less desirable use of the land in the future.

And, there was still the strong possibility that the property would officially become a part of the city.

With all these points on the favorable side of the ledger, councilmen agreed to provide needed facilities. Cost to the subdivision, should it not be a part of the city, would be determined later.

Councilmen do not deny that the additional homes may make it necessary for the city to expand its sewer facilities. So may a new high school and an addition to the American school. So will the future, regardless of what happens today.

The strange set of circumstances required councilmen to set something of a precedent by their decision. It was done, we believe, with the welfare of the community in mind. Their thorough investigation and consideration of the many problems involved deserves to be recognized. Even those who may oppose the decision should not deny that Northville's council acted deliberately, and with an eye to the future and a better community for everyone.

Last week end we attended the 89th annual convention of the Michigan Press association at Kelllogg Center in East Lansing.

Like all other conventions, it gives representatives of the 360 member newspapers a chance to exchange ideas and renew old acquaintances. The latter activity generally takes half the night.

While we missed Friday's program, we enjoyed hearing speakers at the noon luncheon and the All-Michigan Dinner in the evening.

Basil L. "Stuffy" Walters, executive vice president of the Knight newspapers, spoke at noon. He told fellow newspapermen something of the inside operation in the expose of Illinois State Auditor Irving Hodge.

Walters related that two key members of his four-man staff seeking proof of misappropriation suffered heart attacks during the pressure-packed job. His Chicago Daily News finally broke the story and a possible Pulitzer prize.

Congressman Walter H. Judd of Minnesota won acclaim from his audience of newspaper people with his analysis of our foreign relations' problems.

A most outstanding speaker, Judd reduced the complexities of foreign policy to an understandable cause and effect status. In calling for a strong stand against Russian aggression he pointed to the peoples behind the iron curtain as our hope for the future. "They do not want equality, but freedom," he emphasized. Judd so impressed the audience that one publisher asked him why he did not accept a position in the state department.

At the Friday evening dinner we had the feeling that we had seen our waiter somewhere before. Finally, we had to ask. It was Charles Weyer, senior hotel student at MSU who also works at Plymouth's Mayflower hotel during vacations.

Grayling Bids for Boys' Vocational School

A "SCHOOL THAT NOBODY WANTED" is the state Boys Vocational School at Lansing now finds it has many friends. BVS, an institution caring for boys with criminal records, has been a controversial issue for the last few years in attempts to find a new location.

Pressure mounted beginning years ago to move the school out of Lansing. In 1952 some land near Grayling was purchased for this purpose, but later diverted to other uses. An attempt to build a new 600-unit for $500,000 at the present site three years ago was not approved by the Legislature. A new location was suggested by the Legislature.

A site at Whitmore Lake was selected by the Department of Social Welfare. The controlling body, the Michigan Board of Social Welfare, is seeking a legislative appropriation for the construction of a security unit at the Whitmore Lake BVS site. The request for funds may be defeated by a combination of legislative and executive actions.

MICHIGAN'S ONE MAN grand jury system was taken before the U.S. Supreme Court to test its constitutionality. Judge Timmons of the Michigan Supreme Court, in a majority opinion, held that the system is constitutional.

Several specific powers and purposes are vested in grand juries. They hear only testimony by the prosecution and by witnesses important to the specific case. Hearings are held in secret so that witnesses may be free to testify.

Several advantages for a site at Grayling are pointed out by Judd. He says that the site is less than that at Whitmore Lake. But the grand jury is limited by purpose. It does not try a case. Its main power after conviction is to make public.

Thousands of Buttons - And There's a Hobby

BOTH SIDES OF THE STAIRWAY at Mrs. Fred Carter's Sunset avenue home are lined with samples of her button collection. Just a small part of more than 10,000 buttons she has classified and framed on trays.

You've seen stories told with pictures — but did you ever see one told with buttons?

Mrs. Fred Carter of Sunset avenue has told the story of the hobby with them, for she has illustrated every book of that work — all 66 of them — with buttons from her collection.

Of course, Mrs. Carter has a wide selection from which to choose — nearly 10,000 buttons. She has been collecting for some years now, ever since she and her husband retired from their farm at Whitmore Lake in 1950 and moved into Northville.

"I just do it for fun," she said, noting that the hobby filled many hours — sorting, cleaning and classifying the buttons so they could be displayed.

Mrs. Carter has arranged them into trays, which her husband makes, sorting them according to their matter or material, they are mounted on a cardboard mat and put into a frame much like that of a picture. Mrs. Carter has completed over 150 trays, many of which line the walls of her staircase.

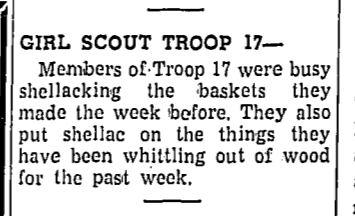

The varieties are endless — buttons made of carved pearl, colored glass, jet, silver, plastic, cloth, cut steel, china, pewter, celluloid and wood — buttons large and small — buttons with pictures of stars, jets, bees, birds, nuts, hearts, cupids, dragons — well, it just seems that every subject known to man — real or mythical — has been represented on a button.

Mrs. Carter has never entered her collection in a national show although she has attended them. And she admits that she doesn't spend as much money as some do on their collections. "I have fun just swapping them," she said, and explains that people aware of her collection have given her some very nice specimens.

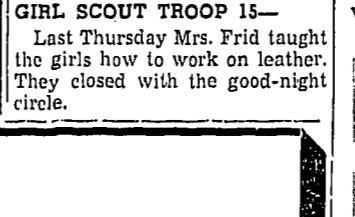

Mrs. Carter has four children and 14 grandchildren — and she would like to become a great-grandparent.

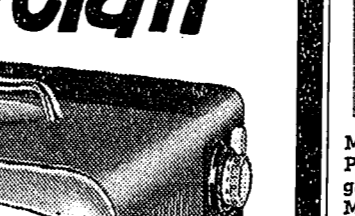

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 6 — At their last meeting, girls from Troop 6 were paid a visit by Hedi Trithart, exchange student from Austria, who told them all about her country.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 17 — Members of Troop 17 were busy shelving the baskets they made the week before. They also put shells on the things they have been whitening out of wood for the past week.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 13 — At their last meeting, the girls in Troop 13 melted records and painted them. Then they put bulbs in them. They also had the nibble.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 15 — Last Thursday Mrs. Frid taught the girls how to work on leather. They closed with the good-night circle.

The engagement of Carole Jean Lyke to Charles Styrke was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lyke of Plymouth.

Mr. Styrke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Styrke of Farmington. Carole Jean is a student at Ladywood. Her fiancé is a graduate of University of Detroit and attended Law Institute of Technology. No date has been set for the wedding.

Emphasizing the use of color, Mr. Bradshaw illustrated the effects that could be achieved using samples of fabric and carpeting.

Mrs. and Mrs. James Leo of Pennell street announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie Ann, to Thomas Slavens, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Borowski of Maxwell road. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mrs. and Mrs. Hiram Holmes of Novi road announce the engagement of their daughter, Irene, to William Barber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Barber of East Nine Mile road. Irene is employed at the Novi Equipment company. Her fiancé is a student at Michigan State university. No date has been set for the wedding.

Plymouth Theatre Presents Comedy

"Here Comes Mr. Jordan" will be the season's second major production of The Plymouth Theatre Guild at Plymouth high school auditorium February 21, 22 and 23.

The Kiwanis club of Plymouth annually sponsor the winter presentation of The Theatre Guild as one of the means of raising funds to support their many civic endeavors in the community.

"I Ain't Got No Body" could well be the plaintive theme song of this bit of fantasy that has to do with the eternal problems of one Joe Pendleton, heavyweight prizefighter, who is gathered to his eternal rest about 60 years too soon due to the over-zealousness of an emissary in charge of soul gathering in New Jersey.

The conversation that reigns in Heaven at this unheated of mistake is compounded by Pendleton's pugnacious and out-gaged demands to be returned to earth to live out his allotted span of life. Much to the dismay of the higher echelon in Valhalla however, Pendleton "ain't got no body" due to the fact that his mortal remains have been reduced to ashes in an urn on his manager's mantle.

From there on, the search for a suitable body to house Pendleton's soul leads to many amusing and hilarious situations.

"Here Comes Mr. Jordan" is produced by Jeannine Bahagale of Plymouth, and is under the direction of William Merrill of Will-O-Way Playhouse.

to a professor explain the workings of a subject so complicated. The major subject of conversation between the Republican lawmakers is that of the budget as submitted by the Governor. According to taxation chairman, Rep. Rolfe Conlin, the governor has over-estimated the state's income tax as he under-estimated its expenditures. There seems to be no question but what the tangled financial mess is the greatest headache in front of the session this year. I don't think of this writing anyone in Lansing has any idea just what the final outcome will be.

Red-Hot Clarenceville Comes Close

Mustangs Down Trojans In Final Period, 62-50

The Northville Mustangs had their fans in anguish for nearly three quarters Friday night, but proved in the last period there was nothing to worry about.

Spectators had to sit through some 25 minutes of heart-pounding basketball before the Mustangs finally caught up with a red-hot Clarenceville squad and ground them into a 62-50 defeat.

It was Northville's 9th straight victory—their 8th in a row over league opponents—and left them alone at the top of the standings.

For awhile Friday night it looked like the Mustangs might not make it.

Clarenceville jumped off to an early lead and held it solidly until midway through the third quarter. At one point, the Trojans led by eight points.

Time and again Clarenceville fought off Northville surges and moved back into the lead—despite the Mustangs' continued pressure and clutch baskets, which ordinarily have broken their opponents' spirit this season.

But in the end, Northville's superior size, teamwork and all-around skill won out as the Clarenceville's plucky determination.

"They started to tire and we started to hit," said Coach Stan Johnston. "And that was about it."

The Trojans were far from tired at the start of the game, however, and moved to a 15-13 first quarter lead. That was increased to 28-25 at the half, and to 47-29 in the third quarter.

But then Clarenceville fell apart. The over-anxious Trojans came up with enough careless mistakes to last a season—steps, fouls, sloppy shots, and even a few passes into the stands.

Northville took advantage of the lag and began pouring on the steam. Bell put the Mustangs ahead at 46-44, and by the time Clarenceville scored again, it was 55-44 against them.

The Mustangs outscored Clarenceville 20-8 in the final period to wrap up the game.

It was a team victory all the way, but there were plenty of sparkling individual performances. Among them:

—The work of Bud Bell who proved himself one of the best guards in the league. Bell, Northville's leading scorer, led both teams with 20 points.

—The under-the-basket play of "swerving" Jeff Goodrich. Despite Clarenceville's hard and aggressive rebounding, Goodrich took 16 of them, scored 17 points and made a number of key tip-ins.

—The play of Joe Krilich and Charles Gow, filling in for injured Dick Biery Gow, scoring action for the first time this year, took to the Mustangs' style of play like a year-long veteran.

—The steady back court work of guard Mac Burns who helped shake up Clarenceville with three consecutive long shots in the Mustangs' hot fourth quarter.

—The play of Dan Howell, filling in for Bill Yelme who picked up three fouls in the first eight minutes and was pulled from the lineup until the second half.

Colts Coast Easily To Third In A Row

The Northville Colts took their third straight win in easy style Friday night, dropping the Clarenceville junior varsity, 60-44.

The victory gave Coach Al Jones' squad a 6-4 season record.

The Colts got off to an early lead and had a 30-19 advantage at halftime. They held Clarenceville to three points during the second quarter.

The Colts played Clarenceville on even terms during the second half, content to maintain their lead and not risk throwing the game away.

Northville was paced again by Fred Schwarz with 15 points, while Bob Starnes had 13. Nelson Schrader, playing with the junior varsity for the first time, scored 11.

Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil.

—Mary Baker Eddy

ANGUISHED FANS cheer the Mustangs to victory over Clarenceville Friday night for their ninth straight win. Spectators swarmed through nearly three full quarters before the Mustangs regained the lead and went on to swamp the Trojans in the final period.

Lesson from Plymouth

Coach Stan Johnston looked about four miles to the south this week and gulped.

Reason for his dismay was that Plymouth—one of the region's powerhouse—was knocked off Friday for the first time this year.

And the team that did it, unheralded Belleville, which had lost eight straight before bowling over the Rockets.

"That's what happens," Johnston said. "No matter how good a team is, it can't have the breaks all the time."

"I hope Northville fans keep this in mind—just in case something goes wrong," he added. "They're out for our scalps. And they could get it—as Belleville proved."

All Eyes Will Be on Clarkston

Northville Mustangs Will Play Milford at Home Tomorrow Night

The Northville Mustangs will play Milford at home tomorrow night but their eyes will probably be turned toward Clarkston.

The reason for their interest: Clarkston and Brighton will take in the "game of the night," a game that could all but sew up the Wayne-Oakland championship for the Mustangs.

Clarkston and Brighton are currently in second and third place and both must win to keep up with the pace-setting Mustangs.

But this can't be, of course, and one or the other will face a gloomy night.

Northville will be rooting for Brighton, for a loss by Clarkston would put the Wolves three games back of Northville with only three games left to play. Brighton would have the same record—and the same somewhat hopeless prospect of catching up with the Mustangs in the last three games of the season.

Both Clarkston and Brighton kept pace with the unbeaten Mustangs by winning their contests Friday night, but the victories mean nothing as far as closing up on the winning Northville.

Clarkston walked over West Bloomfield, 69-65, while Brighton squeaked by Holly, 71-68, in overtime.

Wittenberg Lost, Gow Joins Varsity, Pethers Mending

The title-bent Northville Mustangs underwent a couple more personnel changes last week as slight rash of injuries continued to plague the cagers.

Ed Wittenberg, who had just moved from the junior varsity the week before, took an elbow in the nose during practice and was put out of commission for about two weeks.

Though broken, his nose is expected to heal quickly.

On the happier side, Charles Gow, who stands 5' 11" and can go at both forward and guard, was placed on the eligible list after missing the first semester because he was not in school last spring.

Coach Stan Johnston said he will use Gow primarily when the Mustangs go into a full court press against opponents' stalling tactics.

Meanwhile, forward Dick Biery is still laid up with a bad cartilage in his knee. Biery is expected to miss several more games.

Johnston also is keeping a happy eye on all-league "Cap" Pethers, who has missed the entire season so far because of a broken leg suffered in football last fall.

Pethers, one of the most highly-regarded basketball players in recent Northville history, is off his crutches now and has been working to limber up his ankle.

Whether he will see any basketball action this year remains to be seen, Johnston said.

Saga of "Four Chaplains" To be Observed Tonight

Behind the impressive "Back to God" ceremonies conducted annually by the American Legion on "Four Chaplains Day" lies a dramatic story of spiritual and patriotic sacrifice.

Probably no incident in World War II stirred the nation more deeply than the story of the immortal Four Chaplains who went down with the torpedoed USS Dorchester off Greenland, on February 4, 1945.

These four—a Jewish rabbi, a Roman Catholic priest and two Protestant ministers, all first lieutenants—saved their lifelives to 4 American soldiers and stood calmly on the sinking transport, arms around one another's shoulders and heads bowed in prayer.

The four chaplains of three faiths who stood united in prayer as they went down to their death on the Dorchester symbolizes for all Americans and for all time the unity of this nation, founded upon the Fatherhood of one God.

"That their loyalty even in death might inspire all Americans to a deeper sense of brotherhood, the 33rd national convention of the American Legion in 1954 adopted a resolution creating the organization's Back to God movement, and prayer and everlasting peace."

The 17th District Association of the American Legion will hold a Four Chaplains Day program tonight (Thursday) at the Myron Bentson Post No. 32 Hall on Newburg road in Livonia. The program will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Four clergymen of all three faiths to be present. The general calling for a continuing program.

NHS Debaters League Champs

Northville emerged in first place in Wayne-Oakland debate standings as the league season drew to a close January 29. The topic of this season is, "Resolved: that the federal government should sustain the prices of major agricultural products at not less than 20 percent of parity."

The Northville negative, represented by Sandra Strason and Bernhard Muller, defeated Bloomfield Hills for the seventh win of the season. The affirmative represented by Lillian Zimmacher and Chuck Hix were not so fortunate, however, and lost to Clarkston for their first loss.

At the end of the season the league stood this way:

Northville	7
Holly	7
Clarkston	5
West Bloomfield	4
Brighton	4

From now on, all debates will be sudden-death. The next round to face Northville and Holly are the regionals. There will be eight regional contests in Michigan consisting of eight schools each.

During the three rounds of the regional contests, to be held between February 9 and 23, the 64 remaining schools will be narrowed to eight, one from each regional. The eight remaining schools will be narrowed to four in the quarter-finals. The two teams left after the semi-finals will battle it out for the state championship some time in March. Last year Northville made it to the quarter finals, but were eliminated by Ann Arbor high school.

Juniors Now in Production For "One Foot in Heaven"

"One Foot in Heaven" will be the junior class play at NHS this year, and last Thursday the final casting for parts took place.

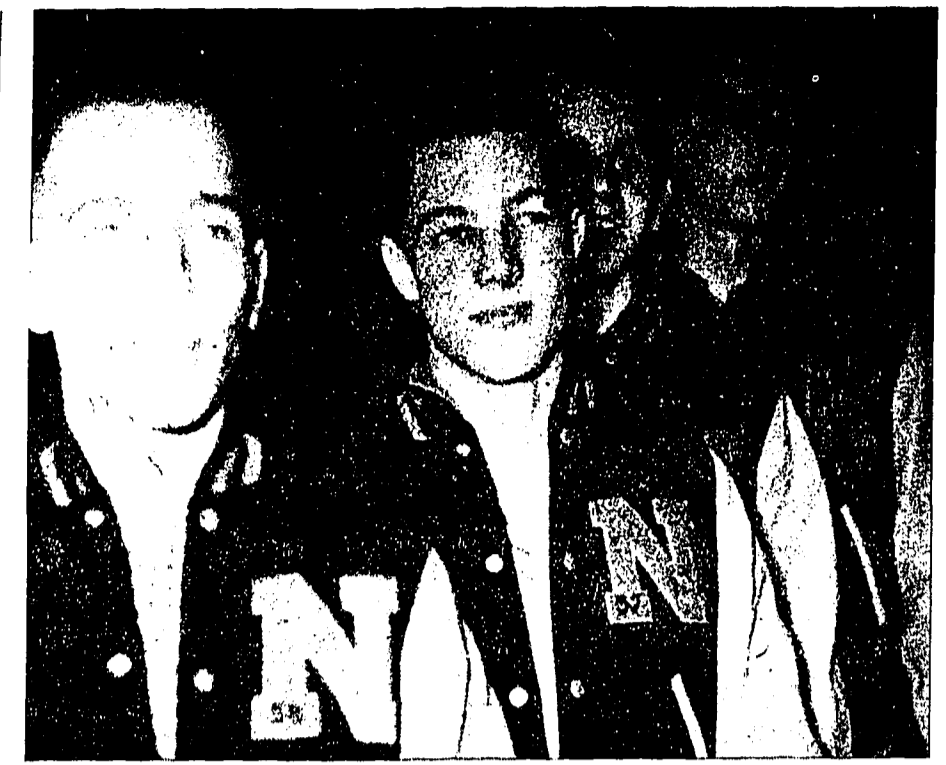

Director Alvin Skow met with Junior boys who were interested in trying out for parts on January 29. They were given play books and instructed in procedures for play presentation. Last Thursday the prospective actors met again and parts for the play were cast.

The playbill reads as follows: Rev. William H. Spence, Bill Yahnke and Cap Pethers.

Band Begins Work On Festival Music

Now that All-League Band tryouts are over, the band members and directors are busy working on Festival Music. The required number this year is "Cathedral Canyon" by Eric Johnson.

The District Festival of Bands, ordinarily held in Ypsilanti, is being held this year in Plymouth February 23.

Forensic Activity Begins for Students

Spring forensic activities have again started at Northville high school. There are six divisions in which a student may participate—criminal, humorous or interpretive readings, and oratory, declamation or extemporaneous speeches.

Miss Florence Panatoni and Alvin Skow are the advisors of these contests. At present there are over a hundred students who have shown an interest.

Dramatic, humorous and interpretive readings are to last not over eight minutes and rules state that each contestant must hold a script to avoid memorization.

Declamation is open to ninth and tenth graders only. This involves memorizing an eight minute prepared speech.

All bands receiving a "one" rating will go to Lansing to compete in the State Festival. Individuals and groups are preparing selections for Solo and Ensemble Festival competition to be held at a later date.

"LET'S GET THE FAMILY TOGETHER if the weather's good." That "if" used to be a mighty big one. But now you can get the family together no matter what the weather or how far apart all of you live. A Conference Call will do it. You just give the operator the names and addresses or telephone numbers of the members of your family. She'll get them all on the line at the same time, whenever you want. Call the Long Distance operator soon and have her arrange a Conference Call. It'll be fun.

HERE'S A WONDERFUL IDEA for you folks with a son or daughter stationed with the armed forces in Europe. Why not enjoy a telephone visit with them over the new overseas telephone cable. After 6 p.m. or all day Sunday you can call just about any place for as little as nine dollars, plus the 10 per cent federal tax. Would he quite a thrill to talk to loved ones across the ocean, wouldn't it? Lots of people are doing it. More than 15,000 made overseas calls during the first month the cable was in use. And the number is growing every day. To place your call to Europe, just call Long Distance and ask for the "Overseas Operator."

Roger Babson Education was Better Fifty Years Ago

Babson Park, Mass. — Two basic financial problems are facing every city and town today. (1) Higher interest rates must be paid for all money borrowed, including that for new school and there is a shortage of money at any wage. (2) Higher salaries are being demanded by teachers, and there is a shortage of teachers at any wage.

Why Teachers Get No More Pay

Almost all other groups of workers have increased production as their wages have risen; but the carpenters use electric tools; the painters spray, instead of using hand brushes; the doctors make quicker "calls" by telephone; while others are adopting "self-service". Even the blond typist uses an electric typewriter while her boss uses a Standardizer. The housewife herself has cut down her work so as to make it unnecessary to employ maids and laundries; and, in fact, she can even earn money by a outside part-time job.

With faithful school teachers, the results are often the opposite. It is true that she has been given more "things" to teach and to talk about. These have been winged upon her school superintendent by high-pressure textbook salesmen and politicians. These outside "things" take the teacher's time and strength. It tells them of the marvelous machinery inside their own heads; they were fascinated. I gave them only one illustration of what happens when they see an object, and how the light waves reflected therefrom are changed to electrical impulses which in turn are registered and stored in a minute memory compartment of their brain to be taken out and used years later.

My point is this: Psychologists tell us that we are using our brains at only 3 percent capacity. If so, think what it would mean to our future and the future of our schools is not as good as it formerly was. Furthermore, we employers are not allowed to "return the goods and get our money back" when the work of a graduate is inefficient and careless.

Basically, the job of a school teacher is to help her pupils develop their brains. If this has been properly accomplished, the

State Seeks to Strengthen Poultry Inspection Law

ELIMINATION OF diseased poultry from Michigan Markets is the aim of a program under way in the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

At present there are no Federal laws requiring inspection of poultry. Many of the chickens and turkeys eaten in Michigan come from Southern States where there are few quality controls.

To combat the problem, the agriculture department is offering Michigan poultry producers an inspection service which guarantees the consumer that the "chicken in the pot" is entirely wholesome and free from disease.

It is voluntary — for the farmer — and its success can only be insured if "Mrs. Housewife" demands the protection.

Any producer can avail himself of the service. He contacts the department of agriculture, which sets the machinery in motion. A veterinarian (usually local) is hired by the department to inspect the birds during processing for market.

The inspector removes diseased birds and assures that the processing is conducted under sanitary conditions.

"Perfection is our primary problem," says E. Howard Perkins, president of the company. Personnel connected with the project can only estimate some of the difficulties that may arise when the launching is accomplished.

The sphere is made from magnesium, a metal known for its combined lightness and strength. The manufacturing process involves machining the hollow globe to a three-hundredths of an inch thickness. The outside is then polished to perfection to minimize possible friction. Finally the globe is taken to the firm's Livonia plant where a gold plating is applied to deflect the sun's heat rays and keep the recording instruments cool.

Five spheres are already completed. Plans are now scheduled for a launching sometime after January, 1958 from a Florida site.

And what does the firm of Brooks and Perkins think about the role they are playing in this history-making event? They couldn't be happier. As they point out, before the satellite contract came to Michigan, they were practically unknown in Detroit. The contract changed that and brought them a host of new friends.

IF MICHIGAN were suddenly cut off from the rest of the country for food supplies how well would we eat?

Michigan's diversified agricultural economy provides a pleasant "barry" of satisfaction in answer to that question once each year at an annual "All-Michigan Dinner".

This unique banquet is sponsored by the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Michigan Press Association every January for newsmen from all parts of the state. Purpose: to "show Michigan food products the way in quality and "intelligibility" that Michigan's farms produce many different kinds of crops. Only Michigan food is served. And from the variety presented, no one should expect more.

This year's menu included such tasty items as half of a "golden fryer", spiced tomato juice, fresh ribarhub pie and cheese, buttered peas and mushrooms, fresh lettuce and cottage cheese, whipped

ELECTRICITY--AND YOU

You use electricity in increasing amounts to do the monotonous, the tiresome, the time-consuming household tasks. It makes life more enjoyable. But there is a problem related to this growing trend.

4 out of 5 homes, including the newest, have electrical systems incapable of supplying all the electricity needed for daily living. The solution is wiring modernization—fortunately, neither a costly nor an involved process. Benefits: a home that operates smoothly and effortlessly because electricity becomes available in efficient abundance. And a house that has greater re-sale value too.

There are electrical contractors especially well qualified to do this sort of work, the HOUSEPOWER Services Contractors. They tailor the mechanics of electrical distribution to your individual needs and living habits.

You seek plenty of horsepower in your car for maximum comfort, convenience and safety. For the same reasons you need plenty of HOUSEPOWER* in your home.

*HOUSEPOWER is a simple, one-word way to say...
plenty of electricity in the home, wherever and whenever needed, now and in the future

Any HOUSEPOWER Services Contractor will be glad to survey your home's electrical needs with you. The service costs nothing—doesn't obligate you.

If you do not know a HOUSEPOWER Services Contractor, just phone your Edison office

Novi School District Requests Expansion

The Novi school board has started action to increase the size of the Novi district by more than half and gain the right to levy school taxes on the new Lincoln plan.

The board's action was in the form of a petition to the county board of education last week.

The petition requested boundary alterations that would enlarge the Novi district so that it extends between the east and west township boundaries, and from 13-Mile road on the north to 9½-Mile road (west of Novi road) on the south.

(East of Novi road, the boundary is now roughly Eight Mile road. It would stay that way under the request.)

Novi superintendent William Medlyn estimated the change would increase the district from 16 square miles to about 24 or 25 square miles.

At present, it would affect only some 100 children, he added.

The county school board has scheduled a public hearing on the request for July 18. Unless contested, its decision will be final. If contested, the decision will go for a final decision to the state board of education.

The action is complicated by the fact that it involves four other districts and four counties, Medlyn pointed out.

The change would mean that portions of the territory of four school districts — Farmington on the west, South Lyon on the east, Northville on the south, and Walled Lake on the north — would come into the Novi district.

In all the above requests only one was acted on by the township board, and that was the Northville and Novi annexations which are still pending in court. Referendum vote on the race track was accomplished by presenting petitions from qualified citizens. Police protection at school crossing was submitted on February 17, 1956, along with improved Novi road and speed control for Novi. Change in the second precinct polling place was denied by the board.

Novi Set for Primary Election Monday Candidates Tell Views

Several months of electioneering will reach a climax Monday when Novi township voters go to the polls and name the Republican and Democratic slates that will face each other in April.

In addition, Novi will vote on the controversial "race track reopening" amendments.

Some 33 candidates have tossed their hats in the ring for the primary election Monday. All but eight are Republicans.

Voters will name candidates for supervisor, clerk, treasurer, trustee (two), justice of the peace, board of review, and constable (two). In addition, Republicans and Democrats each will endorse uncontested three-member township party committees as required by a recent state law.

Polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Precinct 1 voters will cast their ballots at the Novi township hall. Those in Precinct 2 will vote at the Novi Community Building.

No candidates for state or county office will be on the ballot. They have been named by party convention, and will face the public in the general election April 1.

Novi clerk Hadley Bachert said a heavy turnout is expected. Most of the record 2,500 voters from the November election are still eligible, he added, and a large number of absentee applications for absentee ballots has boosted the total still further.

In addition, the election campaign has been one of the most spirited in Novi history. Especially among Republican ranks. Three separate GOP slates will vie for the right to represent their party in the April election.

Furthermore, the ballot will include a controversial proposition to zone a Grand River-Meadbrook road site from light industry to heavy industry.

The site has been under consideration for several months for a multi-million dollar race track and sports pavilion. A proposal which has drawn severe criticism from some sections of the township.

A public referendum on the rezoning — which has already been passed by the township board — was made necessary in November when petitions demanding the vote were submitted.

HERBERT KOESTER
As the Democratic candidate for township supervisor, I would like to state these objectives as being part of the proposed program of the Novi Township Democratic Club:

1. To restore unity, cooperation and efficiency by functioning as a team.
2. To give the people of Novi township a chance to voice their complaints and actively participate in their Government at all "Township Board" meetings, with both winter and summer. Shopping centers etc. But before one goes ahead with these projects a planning commission must be consulted and make a thorough study so we don't make the same mistakes that other cities have experienced, and that is to build all over again in the future.
3. Looking back over 1956, following matters were presented by Democratic Club representatives to the township board for its action:

HERBERT GUNTZVILLE
I elected your township supervisor, I will do everything within my ability to carry out the following program for the betterment of Novi township:

1. To restore unity, cooperation and efficiency by functioning as a team.
2. To give the people of Novi township a chance to voice their complaints and actively participate in their Government at all "Township Board" meetings, with both winter and summer. Shopping centers etc. But before one goes ahead with these projects a planning commission must be consulted and make a thorough study so we don't make the same mistakes that other cities have experienced, and that is to build all over again in the future.

FRAZER W. STAMAN
For the past four years it has been my privilege to serve you as supervisor of Novi township. During these years marked by a record population growth, many projects beneficial to the entire township have been accomplished.

I would like to point out some of these:

1. Your township hall, formerly open only for special meetings, is now open 3½ days a week.
2. Building, electrical and heating work and revised zoning laws have been adopted to protect you and your neighbors.
3. A police department has been established with four full-time policemen operating on a 24-hour basis for your protection.
4. Your fire department equipment has been improved through purchase of the most efficient, up-to-date equipment available. As a result, fire insurance rates have been lowered in many areas of the township.
5. Large industries, furnishing tax revenue and local employment, have been secured through a planned program of industrial development. Paragon Construction company, employing approximately 300 workers, opened its plant in 1955. Ford's Lincoln plant, employing almost 5,000 people, will open this fall.
6. A mail route from Novi, 1955 operating from Farmington road, is now being made available in many areas of the township.
7. Natural gas service, formerly unavailable, is now being made available in many areas of the township.
8. A new shopping center, Greenbriar, vice-president; Walter Thompson, secretary; Jack Crawford, treasurer; Dr. H. Morris, trustee, and Don Arnold, trustee.

Past President Leo Harward will preside at the meeting. Other members of the board are: George LaFino, president; Stanley Baber, vice-president; Walter Thompson, secretary; Jack Crawford, treasurer; Dr. H. Morris, trustee, and Don Arnold, trustee.

Rezoning Proposition, 33 Names on Ballot

Several months of electioneering will reach a climax Monday when Novi township voters go to the polls and name the Republican and Democratic slates that will face each other in April.

In addition, Novi will vote on the controversial "race track reopening" amendments.

Some 33 candidates have tossed their hats in the ring for the primary election Monday. All but eight are Republicans.

Voters will name candidates for supervisor, clerk, treasurer, trustee (two), justice of the peace, board of review, and constable (two). In addition, Republicans and Democrats each will endorse uncontested three-member township party committees as required by a recent state law.

Polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Precinct 1 voters will cast their ballots at the Novi township hall. Those in Precinct 2 will vote at the Novi Community Building.

No candidates for state or county office will be on the ballot. They have been named by party convention, and will face the public in the general election April 1.

Novi clerk Hadley Bachert said a heavy turnout is expected. Most of the record 2,500 voters from the November election are still eligible, he added, and a large number of absentee applications for absentee ballots has boosted the total still further.

In addition, the election campaign has been one of the most spirited in Novi history. Especially among Republican ranks. Three separate GOP slates will vie for the right to represent their party in the April election.

Furthermore, the ballot will include a controversial proposition to zone a Grand River-Meadbrook road site from light industry to heavy industry.

The site has been under consideration for several months for a multi-million dollar race track and sports pavilion. A proposal which has drawn severe criticism from some sections of the township.

Paragon Reveals Expansion Plans

Plans for an addition that will nearly double the plant area of Paragon Construction Company were announced this week by Frank DePodesto, president of the Novi firm.

According to DePodesto, the steel fabricating company will begin within 30 days to build a 69,000 square foot addition. At the third time the firm has expanded its facilities since moving to Novi in the fall of 1954.

"The new building is intended to increase our capacity to meet the demand of business," DePodesto optimistically stated.

The major portion of the new addition will face the new Grand River Expressway. It will be 800 feet long and 90 feet wide. A 40-foot addition to the present plant will connect to the new section giving the building an "L" shape. Construction is expected to be completed in six months.

Paragon, which employs 600, is the state's third largest producer of structural steel. Their products include steel for highway bridges, supporting railroad cars, miscellaneous iron work and shipping and material handling racks. DePodesto indicated the addition would boost the employment of the company. "I can't see an end to our growth," he added. Paragon will celebrate its tenth anniversary in September.

Other officers who direct the young firm located at 4400 Grand River are: Gil Innes, executive vice president and secretary; John DePodesto, sales manager; Evan Barnab, vice president in charge of manufacturing; Paul DePodesto, vice president in charge of material control; and Arthur DePodesto, vice president in charge of erection.

Major construction jobs for which Paragon has provided structural steel are the John Lodge and Edsel Ford expressways and the General Motors industrial buildings and A. C. Spark Plug buildings in Flint.

Final Route Is Decided For Eight-Mile Cutoff

The Eight Mile road cutoff came back into the news this week with the announcement that a final decision on the new road's route apparently has been made.

Wayne County Road Commission officials also revealed they will soon go about acquiring land for the cutoff.

The road will follow the southernmost of two routes that had been under consideration, according to the Novi News.

The commission's land and legal division.

Specifically, it will begin at Base Line off of Griswold in the northwest to a point directly in line with Carlyle street, and then proceed east along the line of the new Eight Mile but will be to the southwest to join again with Base Line near Tait road.

The decision brings to a close several years of indecision on the cutoff's eastern route. The commission has been asked to consider a route north of the now-decided path, but apparently has discarded the idea.

Nagle said appraisers and surveyors are beginning the work that eventually will lead to acquisition of necessary land.

Some land already has been acquired or optioned, he said. The commission will attempt to buy the rest of the land outright, but will take condemnation action if necessary, he added.

George Lynch, commission road division spokesman, said plans call for Novi road to swing west of the C & O millinery, paralleling the track as far as the new Eight Mile. Motorists would then turn down Novi street to come into Northville.

The present section of Novi road south of the track will be widened on the northern end. Residents of the Warren Products area will have access to the new Eight Mile but will not be able to go straight through on Novi road as they now can.

Particular plans for a boulevard connecting the new Novi road with the new Eight Mile have been discarded, Lynch said. The amount of traffic using the roads will not warrant such an elaborate intersection, he added.

To Meet Next Week For Little League

All sports-minded men in Novi have been asked to attend a meeting next week to help set up a Little League baseball program for township youngsters.

The meeting will begin at 8:30 p.m. next Thursday (February 21) at the Novi Community Building.

The proposed program calls for a township-wide program affiliated with the national Little League movement, which has brought organized baseball to thousands of young boys throughout the country.

Residents of the Warren Products area will have access to the new Eight Mile but will not be able to go straight through on Novi road as they now can.
