At What Age Should SAVING Start?

Many, many First Federal customers have had savings accounts for their children, opened soon after the youngsters were born. They start with a small account for the new baby. Then, it's surprising how such savings grow with money gifts for Christmas and birthdays. Later, the child's own after-school earnings are added. Besides offering important training in thrift, this plan builds savings for college, or for a start in business. Savings here are insured to $10,000.

YOU may be able to kid yourself, but you can't kid me. Even if I am still wet behind the ears, I know that the way you do the shopping doesn't save any money. In fact, if we really figure it out, we'll discover several dollars a month going down the drain.

I'm talking about your habit of gallivanting off to the big-city stores. That kind of shopping is just about all washed up with the really smart women around town. They've decided against spending money for gas, oil, parking, and car repairs. They've decided there's no point to fighting heavy traffic into the city and back, wearing themselves out, spending hours away from their homes and chil-

There's no need for it at all, because all the merchandise you want has been brought here by the merchants of this community—and the prices are just as low here as anywhere else.

You could soak up some good advice from the really smart shoppers. They've found they get extra special service from the local businessmen . . . the kind of friendly consideration that big-city stores just aren't set up to provide. They find shopping in the local stores is pleasant and relaxing, without a lot of rushing and pushing . . . and they know they'll be home in plenty of time to fix dinner.

The folks who shop near home are saving money, Mom; and you're just kidding yourself if you don't get into the swim with the smart buyers. You'll be dollars ahead . . . you'll be hours ahead. And you'll be playing the part you should in our own community by dealing with the folks who pay for our schools and streets and parks . . . the people who support our charities and civic organizations.
