

Turnpike Group on Ropes After Battle With Ziegler

A LONG BATTLE seemed nearly over when the Michigan Turnpike Authority conceded at its August meeting that it has no buyers for revenue bonds and there is likelihood for state toll roads in the near future.

The Authority announced decisions to cut its staff to a skeleton crew, and adjourned without fixing a date for another session. These moves greatly reduce the group's ability to continue its fight for "pay as you drive" roads.

A climax came to the conflict between the Authority and its opponents, which include State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler. The decision also ends a policy fight that cut across party lines.

The argument between the two groups started with the organization of the Authority on a bipartisan basis in 1953. Ziegler and his supporters claimed that the State Highway Department could build the same roads as the Turnpike Authority with existing funds.

Charges of obstruction were leveled at Ziegler in return by the Authority. They contended that the major block in issuing revenue bonds was Ziegler's refusal to cancel plans for highways parallel to proposed toll roads.

No bonding firm was willing to risk the needed capital against the Authority's revenue bonds. Ziegler's refusal to cancel plans for highways parallel to proposed toll roads.

Modern Isaac Walton's know the importance of their bait when going after the "big one".

It seems that minnows are becoming scarce in Michigan, and the Conservation officials aren't sure of the cause.

Ralph Hille, biologist of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, says that the shortage could be due to one of several factors: a poor hatch of minnow eggs, unusual weather conditions, or a long-term downward trend in minnow population.

The Familiar Ring

When Junior sits down at his desk next week to begin a new school year, he'll probably be thinking of only one thing. His vacation days are over for another year.

Everything will look very much the same. A few new teachers, perhaps a new girl in his classroom, but otherwise things will be pretty much as he left them in the spring.

Hidden will be all the preparations that have gone into the task of readying the schools for its yearly occupants. Teachers must be hired, or rehired. New schedules arranged. Tuition students must be considered. Adding new facilities, repairing old ones — all must be given attention.

Worth Repeating

NORWALK, CONN., HOUR: "Michigan State university announces that of 140,000 college scholarships with a value of $31 million available in the United States, 17,000 went begging last year. The list of unclaimed scholarships should go to the principals of every high school in the land, with requests to recommend candidates for them. It also should encourage every qualified boy and girl to go get them. Lack of money is no bar to higher education."

BOONE, IOWA, NEWS-REPUBLICAN: "More and more of America's cooking is being done, not in the family kitchen, but by food processors. Even on the farm, where good home cooking is traditional, easy-to-prepare foods from the supermarkets and grocery stores are making substantial inroads. ... Much has been made of the do-it-yourself rage in this country. But the trend in the nation's kitchens is exactly the opposite."

Books at Glance

From Northville Wayne County Library

Savola, by Winston S. Churchill. Published in 1900, this is the first and only novel by the British statesman. The plot deals with a revolution in a mythical republic, and in it the hero states the social and political principles which governed the author's career.

The Voodoo Queen, by Robert Talbot. Built around the amazing life of Marie Laveau — described as the last great American witch and the greatest of voodoo queens of New Orleans — this historical novel only guesses at the hidden truth.

Sweeney, by Margaret Truman. The autobiography of a girl who was thrown into the glare of world publicity, and how she reacted to this new light.

The Last Hurrah, by Edwin O'Connor. What could be more appropriate for 1956 than this novel of a dynamic man who dominated the political machine in one city for 40 years.

The Cases Beyond — The Story of Floyd Collins Crystal Cave, by Joe Lawrence, Jr. and Roger W. Brucker. A quarter a century ago, Floyd Collins was lost forever in an episode that made headlines. The documented adventure story presented here is of men who made an expedition into the same unknown caverns — but lived to tell about it.

The Rhine, by Felizia Seyd. For arm-chair travelers, a panoramic trip is waiting in this guide to one of the great rivers of Europe.

CHILDREN'S BOOKS

Doctors and What They Do, by Harold Coy. (grades 5-8). Some of the mystery children connect with the word "doctor" is removed in this story of a doctor's day.

Jump-Shy, by Joan Houston. (grades 5-8). For the boy or girl who loves horses.

Slim Green, by Louise Dyer Harris and Norman Dyer Harris (grades 3-4). Slim is a snake — a friendly one, who introduces his friends in the animal and insect world to young readers.

Mr. Petersen's Cats (and Kittens), by Louise Slobodkin. (grades 3-4). If you have a cat, you'll like this story about a lot of them left to fend for themselves.

Educational Requirements

You do not need a College degree to understand the essential meaning of the Scriptures. So much emphasis is being placed upon education on these days that often one gets the idea that the understanding of the Bible is only for Seminary trained students and the laymen is not expected to understand the Bible anyway. The first requirement, as we have written before, is that we have spiritual life. Along with spiritual life comes spiritual insight into the secret things of the Word of God. The knowledge of the scriptures then is open to every child of God and not just a handful of specialists. Time and again a Christian is urged to get a knowledge of the Word of God. His very growth in the Christian life is dependent upon it. Acts 20:32 — "I commend you to God, and to the word of His grace, which is able to build you up and again in 1 Peter 2:2 "As new born babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby." The average Christian with the average share of intelligence and effort can, with the help of faithful sound Pastors and the institutions in Detroit, obtain books from reliable book stores (Beware of most peddlers), and read the meaning of the majority of passages in the Bible.

Mrs. Danny Laskey (nee Kay Kreger) of Dearborn celebrated her 21st birthday Thursday evening, August 23 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kreger on Clarke street, Novi.

Richard Zielsko of West LeBoit recently completed an electronic technician course at the Electronic Institute in Detroit. He received the valedictorian pin for highest marks and plans on going on to the television and engineering classes also.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rix of Willowbrook were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rix, at their Pretty Lake cottage in Macomb county over the Labor Day week end.

Last Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trickey, Jr. entertained at a family picnic at their home on Ponda street. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bertschinger of Detroit, Dr. and Mrs. Marvin in Bless and daughters of Grosse Pointe Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trickey, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Duane Bell and children.

Novi township police kept an especially close watch for traffic violations and accidents over the Labor Day week end but found highways and roads in the township surprisingly lightly traveled.

According to Police Chief Leo BeGole, major highways carried less traffic Monday night than they ordinarily do on an average week night.

Only a smattering of minor accidents marred the week and motorists apparently heeded warnings to take it easy over the holiday.

Carol Ann Given Check For $331 from Dinner

The recent Carol Ann Donnelly benefit dinner brought $331 to help pay medical expenses for the pretty little leukemia victim.

That was the total after expenses were taken out, according to Mrs. Helen Robertson, president of the Northville Eagles Auxiliary Aerie 2504, sponsors of the dinner.

A check for that amount was presented to Carol Ann by members of the auxiliary committee Saturday night.

Many other contributions — from $2 to $25 — have come from residents in the area direct to the Donnelly's.

The committee expressed its thanks to the many Northville area merchants who contributed to the dinner and to the men,

Walled Lake Youth Caught after Taking Money From Home

A 15-year-old Walled Lake youth was apprehended Tuesday morning by a man from whose house he was fleeing after rifling a purse and wallet for $17.

Jack Karl, 695 South Lake drive (Ship Ahoy apartments), had heard the youth in his house and caught him as he fled down the street, according to Novi township police chief, Leo BeGole.

In a statement to police, the boy admitted he had taken the money after letting himself into the house. He did not know Karl and his wife were home until he heard their voices, he said.

Police said he admitted opening a screen door "for a fast getaway" before taking the money. The youth was given in custody to Oakland county juvenile authorities in Pontiac.

Truck Rolls, Driver or Not

A runaway semi-trailer truck threatened scores of lives on Grand River Friday until it coasted to a harmless halt after plummeting from about 400 yards.

The truck started rolling near Novi road and careened down Grand River at speeds estimated as high as 30 mph. It reportedly stayed in its own lane throughout the trip.

Witnesses say that Michigan Secretary of State James M. Hare attempted to halt the truck with his car but after failing to do so, drove ahead and warned motorists away from the truck's path. Hare had been passing through Novi.

Novi township police chief Leo BeGole said the truck apparently started to roll after its emergency and trailer brakes loosened. BeGole said the brakes had been set by the driver, Theodore Black of Detroit.

No "traffic violation" ticket was issued.

Building Permits Total 141 In August

Final figures revealed this week that Novi township issued 141 building permits in August, according to Cameron Lodge, township inspector of public safety.

The permits were for construction of $12,800 and $13,500 homes adjacent to Willowbrook Village.

Of the 130, 102 were taken out by Paul LeBoit for construction on the north side of West Ten Mile and 28 were taken by Bert Smolker for construction on the south side. The homes reportedly will be similar to those now standing in Willowbrook Village.

Until then, things hadn't looked too happy for the pups. They were born in a ditch near Meadowbrook and Thirteen Mile roads, where rainstorms made their nest a soggy one at best. They could only crawl and would have been easy prey for larger animals. Their mother, a wild beagle, came to them only at feeding time.

May Even Reach Supreme Court

Novi township prepared this week to go as far as the state supreme court and possibly even higher in order to keep part of its territory from annexing to Northville.

Supervisor Fraser Staman said yesterday the township will take the fight as far as legal channels allow.

East Novi Passes Special School Tax By 67-3 Margin

Voters in East Novi school district No. 2 gave overwhelming approval Thursday for a special millage increase to allow the children to attend Northville schools this fall.

The township board met yesterday to give Staman full power to act in its behalf in carrying out the legal fight.

The move came just two days before Novi township's chance to file the annexation would have expired. By law, any challenge to an annexation election must be filed within 30 days after the election. The period ends this Friday.

At question is the validity of an election on August 7 in which residents of an 85-acre tract of Novi township voted unanimously to join Northville.

The tract lies adjacent to Northville, extending west from Center street for one-quarter mile. It includes the site of Northville's Amerman school and the proposed new high school.

The immediate problem, Staman said, is the possibility that the annexation will result in township residents having to repay part of the cost of certain township assets. The annexing homeowners would in effect take township assets with them, he said.

Staman said further that the current battle is designed not only to stop the immediate annexation but also possibly to correct legislation that gives a township no means of retaining its territory if that territory votes to annex.

Township attorney Archie Leonard has drawn up papers that challenge the validity of the August 7 election on grounds that it is "unconstitutional." His line of argument is expected to be that the township has had no voice in a matter which directly affects its own boundaries and assets.

Staman said at least one similar case has gone to the state supreme court, resulting in a decision that annexation is constitutional. But he added that he is optimistic that the township will get a favorable decision if the fight goes that far.

Novi Goodfellows Plan Special Auction

Novi Goodfellows will sponsor an auction September 22. It was announced this week.

The event will begin at 10 a.m. at a location to be announced later.

Proceeds of the auction will be used in the Goodfellows work with needy families at Christmas. But he added that he is optimistic that the township will get a favorable decision if the fight goes that far.

William "Bill" Wilson, who recently began working for the Castlereign Funeral Home, has a record that shows that he's a good man to have in Northville. The child had fallen on the prongs of a garden rake. Quick thinking in treatment prevented hemorrhaging and unnecessary movement and on arrival at the hospital he was in good condition.

Bill, who moved here from Flint about three weeks ago with his wife and four children, will go back to Flint in November to receive a citation.

Parents Must Judge If Tots Are Ready For Nursery School

Parents planning to send their children to nursery school this fall must make two important decisions, according to a recognized nursery school authority from Wayne State university.

Is the child ready for group experience, and if so, how is a good school?

Mrs. Esther Callard, mother of two children and director of Wayne's home economics department nursery school, says most children are ready when about three and a half years old.

"The mother must be the judge of when her child can make this big transition from home to school," said Mrs. Callard. "Babies are ready when other children are one of the first indications."

When children reach the age of three, mothers alone cannot usually satisfy their time-consuming needs for "playing games, reading stories, singing, painting and other activities."

Do not send a child to nursery school if they are under-going tension-producing situations such as the arrival of new babies, moving to a new home or environment, or loss of a parent, Mrs. Callard said.

A child needs the security of the home and parent when these unsettling changes take place. "This is not the time for the challenge of a new experience."

Picking the right school with a good teacher is important. The teacher-child relationship is most vital.

"Nothing is more important to the child than how he feels about himself. This feeling is a reflection of the attitudes of people most intimate in his life."

"Since the teacher acts as a mother-substitute, she must be encouraging, kind and strong enough personality-wise to support a child who is always open for parental observation. If after the school year you can answer 'yes' to the following questions, then the school is acceptable: (1) Does the teacher sincerely welcome the child and urge her to stay until the child has transferred his dependency to the teacher? (2) Are children free only allowed, but encouraged to use equipment freely? (3) Is the teacher able to place clear, firm limits on a child's destructive or hurtful behavior without making the child feel inferior and unwanted? (4) Does the school's program include a rich variety of experiences suitable to the age level of the child?"

THE FOURTH "R"

The air is full of the familiar little jingle:

"School days, school days, Dear old 'Golden Rule' days, Reading, 'Rising and Trillmette' Taught to the tune of the History stick."

I suspect it will be sung with a wide variety of moods from scorn to real enthusiasm. Yet these are those "back-to-school" days that many harried parents have been looking forward to since mid-summer, and for which the teachers and staff have been industriously preparing.

It would be quite "obvious" to anyone who has had something to do with this annual migration of the "young America" that I should not be surprised if I succumb to the temptation to say (as a matter of fact, I always experience a little nervousness) as the

Explorers Return From Canoe Trip

Six boys of Explorer Post 242 sponsored by the local Optimist club, returned last week from an eight-day canoe trip into Canada with their two advisors, Russ Reimer and Len Bogatilla. Outfitted by the Bill Rom Canoe Country Outfitters in Ely, Minnesota, the boys left August 18 for the trip into Quetico National Forest of Canada.

All splinters know they could get married to somebody if they wanted to, so they are pleased to be alone as they survey the field of those who lost at the track.

Mustangs Look Better as Belleville Scrimmage Nears

Coach Optimistic Over Good Showing Of Bruising Line, Fleet Halfbacks

Northville football coach Ron Schipper looked across the field Tuesday at his Mustangs sweating through offensive drills and let a slight smile cross his face. Schipper wasn't saying much, but it was evident he is pleased with the way his football charges are shaping up. So far, at least. From a worried outlook last week, Schipper has changed to a feeling that "if they really want to play football, we can be rough."

Behind his more optimistic outlook were two factors: the rapid development of a bruising defensive line and the sudden appearance of a halfback transfer student from Ohio. The five-man line, looking more like a college forward wall than a high school line, averages more than 210 pounds per man. On it are ends Jeff Goodrich, 220, and Nelson Schrader, 210; tackles John Hoese, 286, and Jim Burrell, 222; and middle guard Bob Wagenschultz, 225. "These big boys are really making well," Schipper said. "Goodrich, at 6'7", looks especially good at defensive end," the Mustang coach said. "And he's shaping up well as an offensive tackle too."

The halfback is Dave Adams, a senior transfer student, who Schipper says has been running well in offensive plays. Adams hurt his neck in scrimmage, but is expected to be back in action soon. Schipper said further that Jim Hammond, halfback, letterman, is running well and is expected to fit in well at either end or halfback this year. "In general," Schipper said, "the line seems to be ahead of the backfield as far as shaping up is concerned. Even so, the backs are coming around."

Grid Team To Get First Tough Test In Preparation for Plymouth Opener

With two weeks of practice behind them, Northville's Mustangs will get their first taste of action Saturday when they meet Belleville's grid team in a pre-season scrimmage.

Coach Ron Schipper said the Mustangs will not pull any surprises in the way of new plays. "That just the same, we'll test ourselves thoroughly enough so that we know pretty well where we stand," he added. It will be the first workout under game conditions for the Mustangs this year. A scheduled inter-squad scrimmage was rained out last Saturday, though the Northville team did manage to run through a few minutes of scrimmage drills.

The following Friday, the Mustangs will open their season with what promises to be a tough game against Plymouth. The Plymouth team will scrimmage this week against Highland Park. With school opening today and classes beginning Monday, the Mustangs will practice only once a day instead of twice as they have since drills began last week. The Colts spent their season with a contest against Plymouth under the lights September 18.

Golf Deadline

The Plymouth-Northville golf tournament scheduled at Brae-Burn Golf club for September 15, 16 and 23 gained momentum this week as journey chairman Jerry Walsh reported a host of new entries.

According to Walsh, more than 40 from Plymouth-Northville have signed up for competition thus far. Deadline for entries is Monday, September 10. An 18-hole qualifying round will be played Saturday, September 15. Besides defending champion Jim McAllister, former champs Tom Lock, Ralph Lorenz and Harper Stephens are competing. Entries may be made at Brae-Burn, The Record, Plymouth Mail or Northville Electric. Pairings for the qualifying round will be published in next week's record.

Colts Begin First Drills

Looking ahead to their opening game less than two weeks away, the Northville Colts are beginning their first practices. Coach Stan Johnson said it is too early to predict much about the Colts, but added they should be able to win more games than they lose this year. The Colts will follow the Mustangs in changing from a multiple offense to a balanced-line T-formation offense. Johnston explained this will allow the reserves to step into the same type of football when they move up to the varsity team next year. The Colts spent their season with a contest against Plymouth under the lights September 18.

For big jobs, small jobs, all jobs

Ford Trucks Cost Less!

"I earn as much as $30 a day more because my Ford T-800 tandem job can carry more payload than comparable trucks," says timber-lumbar Clarence Landweg.

"Low cost, dependability, toughness—that's what I get in Ford trucks," says John Karke. "Ford's power takes me through tough going that would stop many another truck."

Only a Ford pickup gives you the economy of modern Short Stroke design in both Six and V-8!

Ford's low initial prices mean real savings, to be sure. But the on-the-job savings you get in Ford trucks count even more!

Take running costs; they're downright low. Because only Ford gives you the gas and oil economy of modern Short Stroke power in every truck. Only Ford offers Short Stroke engines backed by over 5 billion miles of on-the-job experience.

Upkeep costs are low because Ford trucks are built extra strong. They outlast all other leading makes—a fact certified by independent insurance experts. That same stand-up ruggedness means greater dependability, too.

And when it comes time to trade—you'll gain from Ford's traditional high resale value, too. You'll find that, from start to finish, Ford trucks cost less.

In Planning Picture Windows, Consider Landscape Changes

Ann Arbor — Planning to build a modern home with a picture window in the rear? Care in locating the window to give the best view can not be overemphasized, says Harlow O. Whittemore, professor of landscape architecture in the University of Michigan college of architecture and design.

The college celebrates its semi-centennial this coming October.

Professor Whittemore advises, "Study all the views your property offers before making your choice, keeping in mind any possible landscaping improvements before planning your home."

He explains that there are two major views through a picture window. "There is the near one, which is completely within your property, and there is the landscape view beyond your lot."

He continues, "Your near view most likely will be an informal landscape, or a formal pattern of walks, lawns, trees, hedges and flower beds. Or it may be a utility area, such as a play yard for the children, a vegetable plot or an orchard."

"If you want to be sure of almost perpetual protection of your view, you will think long and carefully before selecting the site for your house, looking ahead to estimate what may happen to view in front of the house," he says. "In general, it is advisable to own a rather generous foreground. In that case, if a neighbor's house is built within your view, it will still be far enough away to become just an incident in the total picture."

"Some trees whose branches will stay low and form a complete wall of green are spruces and firs, Swiss mountain pines, Swiss stone pine, European beech or linden and pin oak," he continues. "Shrubs such as lilac, forsythia and honeysuckle can be used to fill in around the trees."

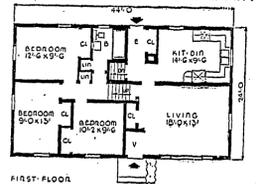

Even in the middle of winter you can have a pleasant picture from your window. "Just choose trees which are decorative in shape all year. And don't think only in terms of foliage masses and bloom when you select the plantings," says Professor Whittemore.

Color and texture are also important. "Pines, spruces and hemlocks keep their green color through the winter where large specimens are needed. The Japanese yew and Black Pyramid arborvitae can be pruned to scale," the professor said.

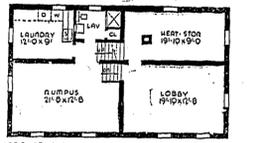

If you want to produce the visual illusion of greater depth or distance, there's something you can do about it. "Make the scene from your window appear narrower as it goes toward the rear by using trees that are smaller progressively or by using smaller foliaged trees in the distance. You can also capture the feeling of added distance by using strong color foliage nearby and soft, blanketed colors or smoky blues and greys farther away," the professor advised.

Complaint Bureau

Like most newspapers, The Record welcomes "Letters to the Editor." Besides making interesting reading, they generally present an opinion on a local problem which many times results in a solution to the problem.

This week we received a letter complaining about the manner in which a neighbor disposes of her laundry water. Because the letter was unsigned, we cannot publish it. Our policy, like that of most newspapers, is to require a signature on a letter for publication, even though this signature may be withheld upon request.

We mention the complaint because our attention was drawn to an article published in the September issue of American Mercury entitled "Has Your Town a Gripe Center?"

The article describes the City of Dearborn's "Complaint Bureau", officially created in 1950 to handle all gripes of the citizenry. Patterned after modern department store complaint departments, the experiment has been highly successful. At least seven other cities have copied the plan.

The article concludes that "Dearborn officials, at first largely opposed to the idea, hail the Complaint Bureau as a remarkable medium for improving a host of services to a city of more than 85 per cent homeowners. They insist that it relieves citizens and officials, extirpates chronic trouble spots and — well, it's an idea worth trying in anyone's town."

Striking Out Taxes

We've finally discovered a way to lower our income tax. And just to show our readers that we're always willing to pass along a good tip, here's the story right from the pages of U. S. News & World Report.

The magazine says: "A baseball player's angry gesture, during a ball game, may cost the Federal Government $4,200 in income taxes. It also may bring the athlete a personal profit of $4,200."

The world's highest-salaried ballplayer ($100,000 a year) was fined $5,000 by his club for a display of temper toward the fans. This is considered a business expense, for the reason that the fine must be paid if the player is to keep practicing his profession. Thus, his taxable income is reduced by the $5,000.

After deductions, the top tax rate on this player's income is 84 per cent. So the fine gives him a tax reduction of $4,200, leaving him only $800 out of pocket.

But that isn't all. Admirers of the player are reported to be making up a fund to pay the fine. U. S. News says: "If they give him $5,000, that amount is not taxable at all. In that case, the ballplayer would stand an $800 loss and a $5,000 gain, for a net profit of $4,200."
