SPEAKING for the Record

Two long-time officials of the city of Northville were honored Tuesday evening at a special dinner held at Danny's Chop House.

Members of the city's official family and their wives turned out to express their individual appreciation for the outstanding contribution retiring Councilman John Stubenvoll and Treasurer Russ Clarke have made to Northville.

Clarke became village treasurer in 1942 and Stubenvoll was first elected to the commission in 1946. Clarke has asked to be relieved of his duties on May 1 and Stubenvoll did not run for reelection. Both are officials of the Manufacturers National Bank and have assumed new responsibilities since the merger that leave less time for outside activities.

Just how well they performed their duties was evidenced from the expression of the people who have worked with them.

While Northville is bound to miss Clarke and Stubenvoll, some comfort can be garnered from the fact that they'll be around for counsel and advice.

A close look at the highly-sensitive relations existing between Northville and Novi is being taken by officials on both sides. There has been no real action that would raise any hope that a solution to this touchy problem is near, but the signs are there.

Elections, lawsuits and appeals cost money. The results of such actions are never satisfactory on both sides and always leave deep scars. Yet the pressure of expansion and the need to provide services for new residents is constant upon both areas. They cannot stand still.

Northville needs more area. Novi needs more services. Novi, feeling unprotected from land annexation, is fearful of losing its identity completely. Northville, ready and willing to provide services to newly developed residential areas, will not do so unless these residents pay city taxes.

It's a situation that exists wherever there are cities and townships. Even now new laws are being studied that would change, but probably not solve, the problem. The possibility of solving the differences across the table is undoubtedly very slim. Still, it could be tried.

Lincoln, Novi, Wixom Shake Hands

The opening of the new Lincoln headquarters in the Novi-Wixom area today marks an important milestone in Ford Motor Company's program of advancement in the prestige car market.

While the future of Lincoln may be left to your imagination, very little of its past has been overlooked in this 16-page tribute to Novi township's "newest neighbor."

Articles, features and pictures take the reader back to the very beginning of the Lincoln automobile company, founded in 1919 by Henry Ford.

WHEREAS Lincoln Division of the Ford Motor Company has recently constructed in the incorporated area of the Village of Wixom a beautiful and modern building for the manufacture of the Lincoln automobile.

WHEREAS the Ford Motor Company has acquired an increasingly prominent reputation as a progressive corporation which is aware of both the impact of its activities upon the community and the manner in which corporations can participate in the improvement of the community's general welfare.

WHEREAS the Wixom Civic Association is representative of the people of the incorporated area of the Village of Wixom until such time as a Council and President are elected in accordance with the provisions of a charter which is currently being framed by its duly elected charter commission;

AND WHEREAS, the Wixom Civic Association is representative of the people of the incorporated area of the Village of Wixom until such time as a Council and President are elected in accordance with the provisions of a charter which is currently being framed by its duly elected charter commission;

BE IT RESOLVED that the Wixom Civic Association extend the congratulations and best wishes of its people to the management of the Lincoln Division, Ford Motor Company, for continued success and growth in the manufacture and sale of its pre-eminent products.

Lincoln Opens New National Headquarters

YOU KNOW WHAT'S HAPPENING IN NOVI TOWNSHIP IF YOU READ THE NEWS. Sixteen Pages Special Lincoln Edition Thursday, April 18, 1957

Edition Tells Full Story Of Division

The opening of Lincoln's new national headquarters marks the biggest step in the 35-year history of our automobile. Lincoln's new facilities, the finest facilities in the world for the production of a prestige car, symbolize the confidence we have in the future of Lincoln and the American economy.

Henry Ford II, President Ford Motor Company

Ben D. Mills, Vice-President and General Manager Lincoln Division

It is a privilege to welcome the Lincoln Division of the Ford Motor Company to Novi Township. Our citizens have been honored by this company selecting our area for the future home of this great organization.

Our township is growing rapidly and already the Lincoln Division has played its part in our growth. This company, its officers and employees, in the year they have been with us, have been good neighbors and very good friends.

New Plant A Milestone In Industry

Years of planning reached a climax this week in the Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company's move into its new national headquarters in Novi township.

The new headquarters gives Lincoln its first completely separate facilities for the manufacture, production and world-wide distribution of its cars.

For Novi, Wixom, Northville and other communities surrounding the plant the move marks the beginning of the greatest period of industrial growth in their history.

As supervisor of this Township, I welcome you here and wish you much continued success.

Fraser W. Staman, Supervisor Novi Township

Suburban Trend Comes to Area with New Lincoln Plant

When government, civic and business leaders in and around Novi township say that the new Lincoln plant will be a boon to progress in their area, they are not merely expressing a platitude.

They are dead serious—and are extremely pleased with the development.

For several years, the communities of Novi, Northville, Wixom and the several other villages and cities surrounding them have known they were on the verge of the greatest advances in their history.

The pattern had been set early after World War II and picked up momentum during the ensuing years. Expansion was the byword for industry, and "Suburbia" had broken the ice.

Planning experts then predicted that it would not be long before Northville, Novi and Wixom began to benefit from the suburban movement.

Lincoln Executives Combine Youth and Experience

BEN D. MILLS VICTOR Z. BRINK WILLIAM D. SINGLETON

Youthfulness is no drawback to advancement at Lincoln, where new ideas are the key to continued success in the fine car field.

As a result, Lincoln has perhaps the youngest group of top executives in the automobile industry.

If the 16 highest-ranking Lincoln officials were to pool their experiences, they would average a startling 38 years.

Yet on the other hand, these Lincoln executives and managers represent a wealth of training and know-how in producing automobiles that belie their collective youth.

Together, they have attained nearly 90 years of college, have served upwards of 30 years on military duty, and have spent nearly 200 years in the various phases of manufacturing automobiles.

Nearly all have at least one college degree, and many have two. Others have trained in Ford Motor Company organizations.

For the most part, they have reached their present positions via step-by-step advancement through Ford and Lincoln. As top officials, they know their jobs inside and out.

There are, of course, newcomers to Lincoln in the group. But they are with the organization because they have proved their ability in similar positions with other firms.

In any case, Lincoln's young official family does have the experience, the ability, and — above all — the new ideas which consistently keep Lincoln ahead in the production of prestige automobiles.

BEN D. MILLS
Ben D. Mills was appointed vice president of Ford Motor Company and general manager of the Lincoln Division on April 15, 1955.

Mills joined the company in 1940 as a supervisor of programming, product cost analysis and facilities planning on the finance staff. He was also executive secretary of the Forward Product Planning Committee.

In 1940, he directed production programming and control on the manufacturing staff of the Ford Division. In 1941, he was named assistant manager of Ford Division defense production operations and later became assistant manager of the Ford Division aircraft plant in Kansas City.

In 1953, he became assistant general manager of the Aircraft Engine Division in Chicago.

Mills was born April 24, 1915, and attended public schools in Stillwater, Oklahoma. He attended Oklahoma A. & M. College, George Washington University and Southern University Law School in Washington, D.C.

He also studied statistical control at the Harvard Business School while an Air Force officer during World War II. Previously, he had held several administrative positions with the federal government.

He is married and has two sons.

DOUGLAS F. ALLISON
Douglas F. Allison, programming and facilities planning manager for the Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company, was appointed to his present position in May, 1955.

Allison was born in Windsor, Ontario, and was formerly programming assistant to the general manager of the Continental Division. He attended W. C. Kennedy College Institute, and was graduated from the University of Detroit with a bachelor of aeronautical engineering degree in 1946, when he enrolled in the Ford Motor Company orientation program.

Since joining the company, Allison has been a buyer and senior buyer with central staff purchasing, and an administrative engineer in the product engineering department of Special Products Operations, which became the Continental Division in October, 1954.

Allison is married and has two daughters. The family lives at 2414 Woodcroft Drive, Dearborn.

DONALD E. PETERSEN
Donald E. Petersen, merchandising and product planning manager for the Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company, was appointed to his present position in October, 1955.

He was formerly assistant chief planning manager for the Ford Division.

A graduate mechanical engineer from the University of Washington, Mr. Petersen received a master's degree in business administration from Stanford University in 1949.

He joined the company's Ford Division in the summer of 1949 as a financial analyst. In 1951, he was recalled into the armed forces.

He returned to the Ford Division's product planning office in 1952, where he coordinated various car planning activities until his appointment as assistant car planning manager in September, 1954.

Petersen was born September 4, 1920, in Pigeon, Minnesota. He graduated from Washington High School in Portland, Oregon in 1943 and attended Oregon State University in 1944 before entering the University of Washington.

In 1954, he was named car advertising coordinator of the Lincoln-Mercury Division.

VICTOR Z. BRINK
Victor Z. Brink, executive assistant to Ben D. Mills, Ford Motor Company vice-president and Lincoln Division general manager, was appointed to his present position in August, 1956.

He remains the vice president in the general administration of the Lincoln Division and also directs the activities of the organization and systems and administrative services departments.

He joined Ford Motor Company in 1940 and became assistant controller for the company until his transfer to the Lincoln-Mercury Division in 1953 as controller.

Born in Matlock, Iowa, Brink was graduated from the University of Nebraska and Columbia University. He was a lieutenant colonel in the Army during World War II and afterward was vice-president of Continental Industries from 1948 to 1949.

He then became a partner in the New York certified public accounting firm of West, Flint and Company.

JAMES H. BARNES, JR.
James H. Barnes, Jr., assistant sales manager of sales planning and analysis for Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company, was appointed to his present post in May, 1955.

He joined Ford in 1947 as product analyst in the purchasing office. From 1949 to 1952 he was a market analyst and sales analyst in Ford Division. In 1953 he was promoted to manager of Ford Division's market analysis department, a position he held until his transfer to Lincoln.

A graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, he operated an automobile and tractor dealership for two years before joining Ford.

He lives at 1221 Harvard Road, Grosse Pointe.

ALFRED D. WEIR
Alfred D. Weir, manager production engineering, Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company, was appointed to his present position in June, 1955.

A graduate of Southern Methodist University, he joined Ford in 1934 as maintenance foreman at the Dallas assembly plant.

In 1942 he left the company for a position as chief industrial engineer with North American Aviation where he was employed for four years.

From 1945 to 1949 he was self-employed. In 1949 he joined Fairchild Aviation as chief industrial engineer, a post he held for three years.

A native of Dallas, Texas, he is married and lives at 945 Harmon Avenue, Birmingham.

JOSEPH J. SEREGNY
Joseph J. Seregny, advertising manager for the Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company, was appointed to his present position in December, 1955.

A native of Detroit, he was graduated from Dearborn High School. In 1940, he was graduated from Colgate University with a bachelor's degree. In the same year he went to work as a finance trainee at American Telephone and Telegraph.

He joined the Lincoln-Mercury Division in 1950 as a cost analyst. Two years later, he moved into the sales department and within a year was a section supervisor in the administrative department.

In 1954, he was named car advertising coordinator of the Lincoln-Mercury Division.

WILLIAM D. SINGLETON
William D. Singleton, general manufacturing manager for the Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company, was appointed to his present position in May, 1955.

Singleton's career began in Ford's Dallas assembly plant in 1931, where he was hired as a maintenance helper.

After serving in hourly and supervisory positions at Ford assembly plants in Dallas, Kansas City and Memphis, he became manager of the Chester, Pennsylvania assembly plant.

In 1945, he was assigned to Ford Division's general office as production manager for all of the division's assembly operations.

He became assistant general manufacturing manager at Ford in 1951 and served in this capacity until his appointment with the Lincoln Division in 1955.

His initial assignment at Lincoln Division was to direct the building of a 1,300,000 square foot assembly plant for the manufacture of Lincoln automobiles at the new headquarters in the Novi-Wixom area.

Singleton was born in Dallas, Texas and was graduated from Texas A & M College with a degree in mechanical engineering. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi, Honor Engineering Fraternity.

He is married and lives with his family at 1341 Kirkway, Bloomfield Hills.

JAMES L. CRAW
James L. Craw, manager of the industrial relations office for the Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company, was appointed to his present position in March, 1956.

Craw is a native of Flint, and was graduated from Flint Central High School and attended Flint Junior College.

After serving in the U. S. Air Force, he went to the University of Michigan, where he was graduated in 1948 with a bachelor's degree in industrial psychology.

He joined the personnel office of the Ford Division in 1953 and became a supervisor of personnel at Highland Park in 1953.

In 1954, he was made a staff assistant in the Ford Division general manager's office. A year later he became a staff assistant in the office of the executive vice president of Ford Motor Company.

In June, 1955, he was named salaried personnel manager at Lincoln Division and served in this capacity until his present appointment.

Craw resides with his wife and four children at 4504 Mayo Drive, Northville.

JOHN E. ZIMMERMAN
John E. Zimmerman, manager of manufacturing planning and control for Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company, was appointed to his present post in January, 1956.

He joined Ford Division in June, 1952, as supervisor of financial studies. In January, 1954, he transferred to the staff of the general manufacturing manager as manufacturing operations analyst. He moved over to Lincoln in May, 1955, as manager of manufacturing planning.

A graduate of the University of Wisconsin, he also attended George Washington University and the University of Chicago, where he received his law degree.

Zimmerman served in the U.S. Navy for five years during World War II.

A native of Neillville, Wisconsin, he is married and lives at 1114 Claremont Drive, Dearborn.

DON R. LEARNED
Don R. Learned, controller for the Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company, was appointed to his present post in August, 1956.

Born in Kansas City, Missouri, he attended high school in Belmont, Massachusetts, and was graduated from the University of Kansas in 1945.

He later received a Master of Business Administration degree from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

Learned joined Ford Motor Company in 1946 as financial analyst at Ford Division in 1949 and was appointed controller of the division's Atlanta assembly plant two years later.

In 1952, he was named manager of Lincoln-Mercury Division's financial analysis department. He returned to Ford Division a year later as assistant divisional controller and held that post until his present appointment.

HAROLD W. JOHNSON
Harold W. Johnson, chief engineer for Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company, was appointed to his present post in August, 1956.

He joined Ford in 1933 as supervisor of product engineering in the Special Products Division. In 1955 he was promoted to manager of the product engineering department of Continental Division. Before his transfer to Lincoln he was chief executive engineer at engineering staff.

A graduate of Wayne University, he was employed from 1941 to 1944 in the body engineering department of Briggs Manufacturing Company.

From 1945 to 1953 he was chief chassis engineer for Kaiser Motors.

A native of Detroit, he is married and lives at 23275 Powers Road, Farmington.

JOHN F. MAYHEW
John F. Mayhew, manager of public relations for the Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company, was appointed to his present position in November, 1955.

A native of Detroit, Mayhew joined Ford in 1933 as a member of the sews department, public relations staff. In August, 1953, he was named public relations assistant, Lincoln Division.

After graduation from Wayne University, he was an English teacher in the Detroit public school system for three years. In 1945, he joined the Associated Press and served 10 years as an editor in Detroit and a correspondent in Ann Arbor.

Mayhew is married and lives with his family at 1420 Morton Avenue, Ann Arbor.

JAMES M. WOODMAN, JR.
James M. Woodman, Jr., assistant general sales manager in charge of advertising, sales promotion and training for the Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company, was appointed to his present position June, 1955.

Woodman had been vice president in the Detroit office of Kenyon and Eckhardt since February, 1954. Previously, he was a vice-president of Roche, Williams and Chery, Chicago advertising firm, which he joined in 1950.

Woodman was born December 27, 1901 at Elgin, Illinois, and was graduated from Lake Forest University with a bachelor of arts degree in Psychology and Economics.

He is married and has two sons. The family lives at 555 Wooddale, Birmingham.

HENRY B. DANIELS
Henry B. Daniels, general sales manager of Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company, was appointed to his present position in November, 1955.

He joined the former Lincoln-Mercury Division in February, 1949, as supervisor of sales districts. In September, 1953, he was named assistant general sales manager, transferring to the Continental Division, where he served as assistant to the general manager and later as purchasing agent.

A native of Whitewater, Wisconsin, Hulce received a bachelor of science degree in engineering from the University of Michigan and a master of science degree in industrial management from Columbia University.

RAY A. HULCE
Ray A. Hulce, general purchasing agent for the Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company, was appointed to his present position in November, 1955.

Hulce joined Ford Motor Company in 1948. He became assistant to the purchasing agent of the former Lincoln-Mercury Division before transferring to the Continental Division, where he served as assistant to the general manager and later as purchasing agent.

A native of Whitewater, Wisconsin, Hulce received a bachelor of science degree in engineering from the University of Michigan and a master of science degree in industrial management from Columbia University.

JOHN E. ZIMMERMAN

LINCOLN -NEWEST MEMBER OF A GROWING COMMUNITY

NEW HOME OF THE FINEST IN THE FINE CAR FIELD

This week we moved into the new Lincoln Division headquarters which we've been building here in the Novi-Wixom area. This will be the center of all the assembly, administration and sales activities of the Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company.

Our move is a milestone in Lincoln's successful 37-year history. It symbolizes our confidence in the future.

Naturally, we're proud of our new plant. It is the most modern in the automotive industry—befitting the quality and prestige of the Lincoln.

And we're also pleased that this plant is located here in the Novi-Wixom area. You have already accepted us and made us feel at home.

We appreciate your friendliness and will do our best to be a welcome neighbor and a good citizen. We look forward with enthusiasm to continued growth for Lincoln and the community.

LINCOLN DIVISION • FORD MOTOR COMPANY

It Takes More Than an Assembly Line to Make an Auto

SOME 34 RAILROAD CARS can be accommodated simultaneously in the new Lincoln plant where 1,800 tons of materials will be unloaded daily. There are also facilities for handling 24 trucks. The tracks are located inside the plant in such manner that freight cars can enter or leave either end of the manufacturing building.

Behind the scenes at the bustling new Lincoln plant, there occurs a daily complex of activity which hardly seems part of the business of automobile production.

Just as an army is dependent on the man in the rear areas for support, so Lincoln relies on the work of hundreds of employees who seldom see the hulking interior of the assembly plant itself.

In one room, a class in quality control is in session. Trained educators explain the principles which guide production of Lincolns.

In another, a nurse takes a blood sample. Or she might loosen a man's cramped muscles in a swirling whirlpool bath.

Behind the gleaming stainless counter in a cafeteria, white-uniformed nutritionists prepare thousands of meals daily.

Outside the building, a group of men gain practice in operating Lincoln's fire truck. Or they study the jeep-size truck which can be taken upstairs in an elevator to fight blazes if they occur.

In a vast drafting room, engineers plot the diagrams which may be next year's model.

In a sound-proofed room on an upper floor, switch-board operators answer the thousands of calls which come in on Lincoln's 800 lines.

Out in the plant, long lines of railroad boxcars slowly come to a halt. They bring the raw materials and assorted parts which go together to make a Lincoln.

So it goes throughout the giant Lincoln facility. For each man on the assembly line, there is another who performs his task in an office or a kitchen. Put together, their efforts yield the long rows of new Lincolns.

MASTER PLAN OF THE NEW PLANT — Three Lincoln executives view the layout table on which all plant operations are portrayed in movable templates. By shifting the templates — each of which represents a small unit of the plant — officials can determine the best production scheme. Left to right are plant engineering manager William Slattery, production engineering manager A. D. Wier and general manufacturing manager W. D. Singleton. On the table is Charles Dettler, supervisor of layout section.

A FIRE BRIGADE tests new fire-fighting equipment at the plant. The fire protection section's apparatus includes a hose and chemical truck (shown above) and a jeep size in-plant truck which can be transported by elevators to the second floor of the manufacturing building. Under the direction of Glean E. DeBerti, of Northville, plant security head, guards and maintenance employees receive periodic training in fighting plant fires.

MEDICAL INTERVIEW in the fully-equipped Lincoln hospital is conducted by Mrs. Sid Fetterly, R.N., senior plant nurse. A full-time doctor serves the plant also. Among the facilities are an oxygen resuscitator, two whirlpools, an X-ray unit and an eye and ear testing room.

LINCOLN STYLIST works on a model of what may be a future Lincoln. The styling section has the responsibility not only of turning out an acceptable design for current production, but also exploring future trends in automotive styling. With insistence, the models are analyzed to see if they fit mechanical requirements as well as design specifications. If they do, the chances are good that some of the design features will eventually be incorporated in production models.

TRAINING SESSIONS are conducted daily at the plant to orient production personnel in manufacturing procedures. Here, such subjects as quality control, material handling, assembly techniques and other aspects of automobile manufacturing are discussed with supervisory employees. The daily sessions are under the direction of Robert C. Froelich, training supervisor, of Milford. The supervisors, in turn, instruct hourly employees in on-the-job techniques.

If You Like Figures, Try: 1,300,000; 1,080; and 35

The new Lincoln assembly plant contains more than 1,300,000 square feet — an area in which every major league opening day baseball game could be played at once, under one roof.

The new Lincoln facilities will consume enough water and electrical power to supply a community with a population of 10,000.

Facilities at the new Lincoln plant include special automatic clothes washing equipment for workers engaged in paint operations.

There are 90,000 feet of paint pipes and almost 35 miles of lighting fixtures and lamps in the new Lincoln plant and office building.

Under peak operations, a total of 1,800 tons of materials will be unloaded daily in the new Lincoln plant. The plant has facilities for unloading 34 railroad cars and 24 trucks simultaneously.

PLANT PROTECTION is an important sideline of the new Lincoln plant. To insure safety and orderliness, a force of some 73 guards under Glenn E. Deibert are on duty throughout the plant.

From 8,500 Parts, a Made-to-Order Lincoln

The customer has the say-so when it comes to what sort of Lincoln he buys today.

Does he want a blue-and-white model? Or perhaps a red-and-cream job? Maybe black?

What about upholstery, trim, accessories and engine types?

Whatever the customer wants, he gets. And behind this satisfactory customer policy is one of the most remarkable processes of the new Lincoln plant: the "tel-automatic" system by which Lincolns are made to order.

Subassembly lines feed the parts to the main assembly line, and there the fenders the customer ordered are placed in the desired chassis and engine. On down the line the car moves, picking up the correct fittings and trimmings as it goes.

Body-type-and-color is the longest operation by far, so it begins first. The correct shell is selected from stock, welded and passed through the paint ovens.

When the freshly-painted body reaches the trim line, word is flashed back to the teletype room. From this point on, every department and sub-department must be ready for action, with each movement coordinated on an almost split-second basis.

The alert signal is sent from the teletype room to all production stations. It might read in part: No. 53 Body 73C Color Bottom and Top C Trim H.

This tells assemblers that the car is the 53rd of the day, its top will be one shade of blue and its bottom another, and it will have two-tone blue upholstery and a standard instrument panel.

In each of the assembly operations, employees turn their attention to the section of the message that applies to their own particular operation. And as each man does his job in turn, the subassembly and assembly lines merge to produce a car.

The trim line, for example, may take two hours to complete. After the molding has been put on, the instrument-panel assembly line has finished its job and the panel is placed on the car.

Meanwhile, the correct chassis has been sorted out and is going down its own line. Perhaps an hour later, the engine is moved onto the chassis. And a few minutes later, the body is taken from the trim line and dramatically set on the chassis frame.

The front-end assembly and wheels, which were pre-assembled, then go on. Then follow seats and front bumpers.

From 8,500 separate parts there has emerged a new automobile. And after a final inspection, Lincoln 53 is filled with gas, started up, and delivered to the customer—just as he ordered it.

END OF THE LINE—The final assembly line at Lincoln's new plant in Novi township. It is this point at which Lincoln's "tel-automatic" system pays off with a new automobile assembled on a made-to-order basis according to the wishes of the individual customer.

13 Districts Established Across U.S.

A new district sales group to direct the sale of Lincoln and Continental automobiles in the major marketing areas of the United States went into effect last August.

It was the first time in Lincoln history that its sales program was handled by an exclusive divisional sales organization.

Previously, district sales operations were managed through Mercury Division sales offices.

"This is another step in Lincoln's program of expansion in the fine car field," said general sales manager Henry D. Daniels at the time. "It will further augment the sales success achieved with the 1956 Lincoln model."

In the new organization, 13 district sales offices are authorized to assist operations of the 1450 dealers selling either Lincoln, Continental, or both automobiles.

Added to the 13 district sales offices are 15 resident zone managers in other major cities who work under their respective district sales offices.

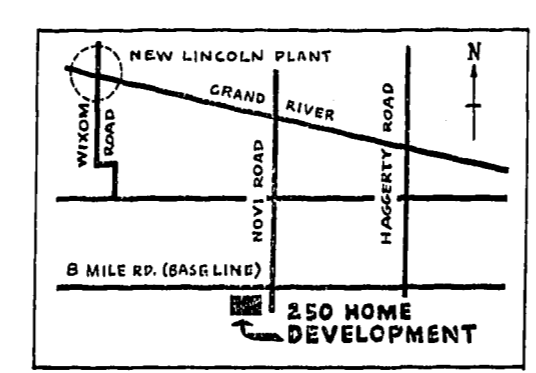

The new Lincoln organization assumed responsibility for the merchandising of the Lincoln and Continental cars at the time the 1957 models were introduced last fall.

Through the Years with Lincoln THE NOVI NEWS

1922 — First Lincoln produced under the Ford Motor Company

1923 — "Police Flyer" models equipped with four-wheel brakes

1924 — Custom building and styling stressed by Lincoln

1925-30 — Fleetwood, LeBaron, others built for Lincoln

The guns of World War I were hardly silenced when a famed auto pioneer turned his thoughts from Liberty aircraft engines to a more pleasant dream: production of the finest automobile possible.

Thus in 1919, Henry Leland unveiled a statue of Abraham Lincoln in front of a sprawling plant on the west side of Detroit, and with that the Lincoln automobile was born.

For two years, Lincoln grew quickly in prestige and admiration. But suddenly, the depression of 1921 took its toll, and Leland's company passed into receivership. The buyers were two other auto manufacturers who had made a name for themselves: Henry and Edsel Ford.

During the next two decades, Lincoln came to be synonymous with fine car construction. It was a period of expansion, of new concepts of automobile construction. By the mid-1930s, a new name had been added to the language of America — a name that stood for superior automotive craftsmanship: the Lincoln Zephyr, with its V-12 engine.

The Zephyr was followed in 1938 by the Mercury, and a year later by Lincoln Continental — a car once described as "a classic . . . heavy, but more than that, personality."

In 1940, war guns were sounding again, and Lincoln joined with other firms throughout the country in putting its industrial might to work in war production.

During the next five years there emerged a total of 25,332 tank engines, 145,000 jeep bodies, 12,785 amphibian bodies, and 24,939 nacelles for B-24 bombers.

But within two months after the surrender of the Japanese, the first post-war Lincoln was on the highway, and on November 1, 1945, full-time production started anew.

The end of the war brought changes in almost every operation of Lincoln-Mercury. New plants were constructed in such widespread locations as St. Louis and New Jersey. The sales program was given a major overhauling. New models were introduced—including the Lincoln Cosmopolitan.

Progress was blighted in 1947, however, by the death of Henry Ford. His son, Edsel, had died in 1943 — and Lincoln thus lost the two men who had taken it to prominence.

But progress continued. Benson Ford was named general manager of Lincoln Mercury. New plants were opened in Los Angeles and several cities in Michigan. The V-8 replaced the V-12. Lincoln-Mercury began to sponsor the Ed Sullivan "Toast of the Town" show on television.

In the 50's there were continued advances. Two custom-built coupes were introduced: the Lido and the Cosmopolitan. A fleet of custom Lincoln Cosmopolitans was delivered to the White House. Lincoln explored the future of automobiles in the '50's and came up with its experimental XL-500 and Futura.

For the third time, war entered the picture. And as American fighting men struggled with the enemy in Korea, Lincoln gave them an industrial helping hand by producing J-40 jet engines for the Navy.

In 1955, the 17-year formal association between Lincoln and Mercury ended, and Lincoln became a separate division of the Ford Motor Company.

Since then, developments have been rapid and notable. Ben Mills was named general manager. The Continental was revived — an improvement over the pre-war classic, yet one that retained the features that made the car what it was.

In late 1955, Lincoln made another fateful decision: it would shift its entire assembly operations from the overcrowded quarters in which it had lived for 35 years. Its new location: the open but vital countryside of Novi township.

Today, the move is complete. Lincoln is in business in its sparkling new home, and the most modern manufacturing facilities in the country are at its service. And with the move, Lincoln embarks on a new era of prominence in the manufacture of automobiles for America.

1948 — V-8 engines introduced to replace former 12-cylinder engine

1949 — Hydraulic transmission used on Lincolns

1950 — Two customized coupes introduced: Lido and Cosmopolitan Capri

1951 — Lincoln began production of J-40 jet engines for Korean action

1927 — All Lincolns equipped with four-wheel brakes

1928 — V-12 engine and power brakes introduced

1927 — Pender headlights, more streamlining introduced

1928 — Took 1-3-3-4 in the Mexican Pan-American Road Race

1928 — Welded "steel spoke" (wire type) wheels

1933 — Coils equipped with sloped grills, skirted fenders

1938-39 — More stripes added on hood louvers

1933 — Improved 205 horsepower engine introduced

1929 — New and deeper radiator shells on all Lincolns

1934 — Last of the KA and KD engine series; merged into K series

1940-41 — Very fine build; top price $5,000

1951 — Appearance enhanced by wrap-around bumpers, new interior trim

1930 — Some body styles eliminated sun visor

1935 — Engine, passengers moved 11 inches forward

1942 — Last pre-war Lincoln; company went into war production

1955 — Lincoln becomes a division of Ford

1931 — Lincolns equipped with "free wheeling"

1936 — Welded spoke-type wheels, convex fenders

1946-47 — 13,400 of the first post-war models produced

1956 — Striking new Premiere won IDI 1956 automotive styling award.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS TO LINCOLN DIVISION OF FORD MOTOR COMPANY ON ITS FINE NEW HOME!

FOR THE BUSINESS MEN OF NOVI WE SAY: "WELCOME"!

NOVI TOWNSHIP BOARD OF COMMERCE

New Lincoln Plant Was a

GROUNDBREAKING CEREMONY was held on a snowy day — December 2, 1955 — in a small tent on the Lincoln site. Looking on while Lincoln general manager Ben Mills turned the first piece of sod were Ford president Henry Ford II (left) and Novi township supervisor Frazer Staman.

BULLDOZERS LEVEL THE EARTH during the first warm days of 1956 in preparation for the hundreds of engineers and construction men who were to follow. Overhead looms the completed water tower — a Lincoln landmark which can be seen far out into the countryside.

The new Lincoln plant has gone into the record books as the fastest construction job of its size in the history of the Ford Motor Company.

From start to finish, the mammoth project took only 16 months and 13 days.

What's more, the feat was accomplished under adverse weather conditions and in the face of a paralyzing 23-day steel strike.

But in spite of the circumstances, the Lincoln plant surged ahead. And last Monday, when the division's employees reported to the new facility for the first time, Lincoln was able to mark an "on time" in the last column of its construction schedule.

The new national headquarters of Lincoln — from which all its activities will be directed and in which all its cars will be assembled — is the second largest plant in the Ford system of 21 assembly facilities. Only the Mahwah (New Jersey) and Dearborn Rouge plants exceed it in size.

Under the roof of the manufacturing plant itself are 1,300,000 square feet. And the adjoining general offices cover another 200,000 square feet.

Ground for the imposing new building was broken amid swirls of snow on December 2, 1955. With Ford and Lincoln executives and Novi township officials gathered in a small tent for the symbolic ceremony, Lincoln general manager Ben Mills turned the first shovelful of earth with a chromium-plated spade.

Grading of the 325-acre site began shortly after ground was broken. In all, more than 250,000 cubic yards of dirt were moved by the fleets of bulldozers and steam shovels.

Foundations were then dug,

Record Construction Job

and concrete was poured. By summer, the project was nearly ready for its superstructure.

Then began the job of moving in giant steel girders and huge slabs of concrete. Together they were to form the shell of the facility.

Meanwhile, electricians, painters, carpenters, plumbers and other construction workers began the task of fitting out the plant's vast interior.

As winter approached, the first production equipment was brought in. Thousands of tons of hulking metal giants were moved into place, and gradually the plant took on the appearance of an auto-making facility.

Finally, it was complete. The manufacturing area itself was ready for production. Two dining rooms and a cafeteria were preparing to serve the thousands of employees. A hospital was in readiness. The general offices were full of sounds of typewriters, teletypes and adding machines. An 800-line switchboard was in operation.

A railroad spur, capable of holding 34 boxcars inside the plant, was laid. Parking lots for 3,000 cars were started and finished. Air-conditioning equipment was installed. Two boilers for processing steam heat throughout the entire plant were erected. A loading dock for 24 trucks took shape. Outside, a test track and truck convoy lot were worked on.

Finally, less than a month ago, two construction men unceremoniously slipped the last piece of plating onto the assembly line. After a little more than 16 months, Lincoln was ready to roll at the sparkling new plant.

In all, some 200 contractors contributed to the feat of transforming the rolling farmland site into the industry's most modern and efficient plant.

Today, Lincoln is in operation at its new location. And for that fact, the division can thank a record performance on a record task: the fastest construction job for the second largest plant on the second largest site in the entire world-wide Ford chain.

INTRICATE PATTERN OF STEEL began to take shape as the mammoth plant gradually rose from the former farmland. Together, the plant and office cover more than 35 acres of the 325-acre site — an area large enough to host all of this week's major league opening baseball games.

MOVING DAY — Less than a month ago, resident engineers and architects finally tucked their blueprints under their arms and moved into the new plant. Under resident engineer Luther Odell and architectural superintendent Harold Hadden, they had guided construction of the giant facility from a small, brick, house 300 yards away.

Congratulations to Lincoln and Novi—Partners in Prosperity

Why the auto industry stays home

Projects like Novi's new Lincoln plant prove that Southeastern Michigan offers more to industry. Near large manufacturing and research centers and with excellent transportation facilities, Novi fits the needs of the Lincoln Division of the Ford Motor Company admirably. And there are other reasons why Lincoln chose Novi: a wealth of skilled manpower, beautiful recreation areas, plenty of engineering talent, ample electric power.

Yes, the Lincoln Division chose wisely when it picked Novi for its new national headquarters and plant. It's more proof that Southeastern Michigan means prosperity for its industries and its people.

$250,000 EXPERIMENTAL CAR — the Lincoln "Futura" is the most revolutionary car to have been driven on the American road in the past decade. The 13-foot dream car, only 42.8 inches high, has a special body designed by Ghia of Turin, Italy. It is completely operational and is being used as a laboratory on wheels to test new innovations for future Ford Motor Company cars.

Hi-Fi Takes to the Road for Lincoln

How quiet is a quiet automobile? The answer to this question is being pursued by Lincoln engineers in sound and vibration studies of the Continental Mark II, the most carefully assembled car in the industry.

Lincoln engineers place a hi-fi fidelity tape recorder inside a Continental to record sounds.

At various speeds, on different road surfaces, the engineers record noises caused by engine, road, wind, tires or body vibrations.

After the test run, they audition the tapes before a "listening jury" of engineers who analyze the sounds and decide whether the car's insulation has been improved by the addition of acoustic material.

Such evaluations pointed the way to engineering changes which made possible the Continental's quiet operation.

Engineers test the newest acoustic materials and sound deadeners in the company's sound room. Here, where even a blink of the eyelids causes an audible sound, the acoustic materials undergo exhaustive tests to measure how effectively they deaden noise.

If the material is effective, costs

1956 Set Sales, Production Records

The year 1956 was the most successful year in the 25-year history of the Lincoln automobile.

The year saw new records in both sales and production.

The new production peak was achieved on December 5, when the 43,800th Lincoln was built. Lincoln finished the year with a production total of about 47,000, well above the previous record of 43,000, set in 1948.

Sound analyzing is accomplished on the basis of how the individual responds to the noise he hears. Some vibration is not within range of the human ear — it can be felt but not always heard. By using an octave band analyzer the sound is measured in decibels, units which measure the intensity of the sound.

Because it is impossible for the human ear to remember accurately sounds it hears, the tape recordings serve as a memory system to compare sounds before and after experimental acoustic material has been installed.

As part of their test technique, Lincoln engineers can pinpoint a sound and discover its source. Once this is done, the acoustic material may be rearranged or improved to eliminate or minimize noises.

Among other factors which provide the Continental's extremely quiet operation are self-adjusting shock absorbers which produce a smoother ride, a specially designed heavyweight frame and an engine which has undergone exhaustive tests to assure quiet performance.

Quality Begins with the Man on the Job

It takes more than a set of gauges and a pair of micrometers to build quality into an automobile. Through its 35 years of auto-making, Lincoln Division has found that mechanical and statistical devices alone will not insure quality if they are not supplemented by a human desire to produce the finest in workmanship.

Thousands of components go into a Lincoln — whether they are castings, stampings, fabrics, lubricants, rubber, cables or fuels. Yet even rigid inspection and control of every one of these parts is not enough to assure quality. "The master control is not a machine — but a man," says Lincoln general manufacturing manager W. owner.

The department is broken down into four sections, each with a different responsibility in the complicated process of manufacturing of cars. The four sections: —program control —receiving and gauge inspection —technical services —product inspection

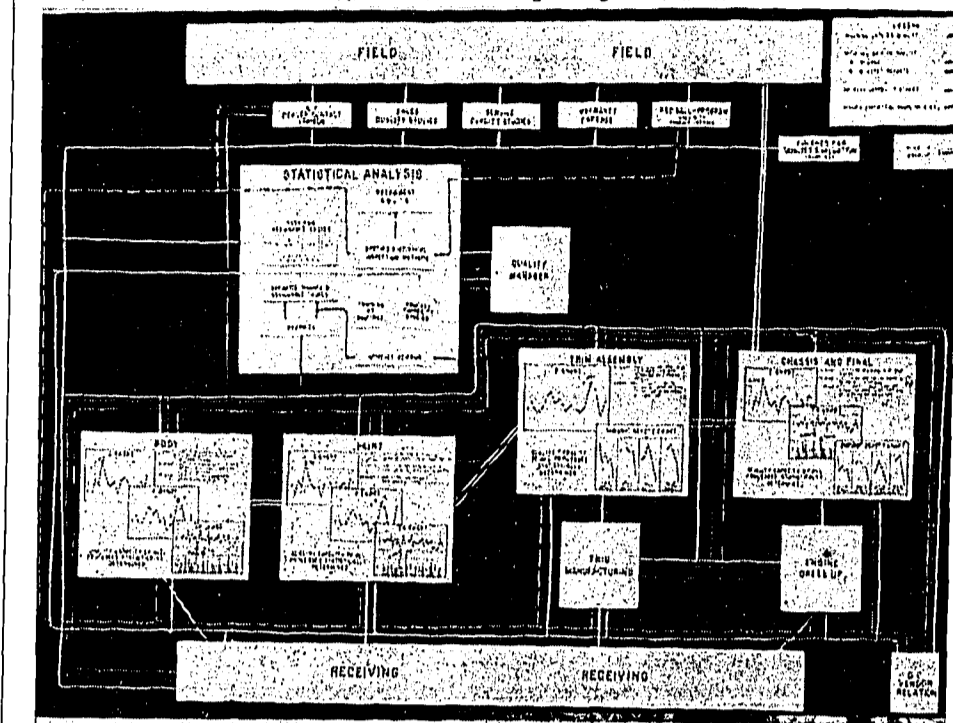

Through these four sections, Lincoln controls the quality of its automobiles from even before they go into assembly until after the new car reaches its ultimate destination.

Yet the matter of quality control always goes back to the individual Lincoln employee. It is with him that Lincoln's reputation succeeds or fails.

As Singleton puts it: "Quality is a product with Lincoln — not a by-product." Thus, each employee concentrates on producing quality, and not just an automobile. This attitude is developed through adequate training, through careful supervision, through wide-awake leadership. And to a great degree, it is also the result of Lincoln's continuing reputation for careful workmanship — a reputation that insures in each employee a pride of craftsmanship.

Regardless of the intricacy of planning, the preciseness of tools, the expense of materials, an automobile cannot have true quality unless the man on the job gives quality performance.

"Just as each part of the automobile depends on every other part," said Singleton, "so each employee depends on every other employee if Lincoln is to continue to stand for quality in automobile production."

PLANS FOR USE OF STATISTICAL TECHNIQUES IN CONTROLLING QUALITY OF THE LINCOLN AUTOMOBILE

QUALITY CONTROL CHART helps guide Lincoln employees in assuring that each Lincoln meets the division's high manufacturing standards. Lincoln officials stress, however, that charts, gauges and statistics alone will not make for a quality automobile. The real key to Lincoln's reputation, they say, is the pride of craftsmanship of the individual employee.

New Convertible Top Is Automotive First

Lincoln had the first self-locking convertible top in the automotive industry — the Robot Top. Standard equipment on all new Lincoln convertibles, the top is locked into position electrically. The Robot Top replaces the old-style hand cranks and makes top operation responsive to the touch of a knob. As the Robot Top opens, a pair of motorized screws in the leading edge of the top are automatically disengaged from the header bar of the windshield. As the top closes, only a touch of the hand is necessary to guide the screws back into position for locking.

Ike's 'Bubbletop' Lincoln Was Born on a Rainy Day

President Eisenhower's famous "bubbletop" Lincoln was his own invention. Each piece has an aluminum frame which locks together, and sponge rubber inserts to seal out rain and drafts. The frame for each piece was machined out of solid sections of aluminum bar stock. When not in use they are put in special fabric containers and packed in the rear trunk. The rear seat was widened more than five inches and the leather trim reupholstered. A new interior light was installed behind the center arm rest so that the president can be seen more clearly at night.

Expect 1957 to Be Lincoln's Best Year

The model year 1957 promises to be the most important in the history of the Lincoln automobile. Lincoln officials predict the new Lincoln will win even more acclaim in the fine car field than the style award winning 1956 model which reached a domestic sales total of 49,000 units. Announcement Day crowds viewing the 1957 Lincoln in dealerships were 80 per cent greater than a year ago. According to a sample survey taken in Lincoln's 13 sales districts an estimated one million people visited 1,450 Lincoln dealerships throughout the country.

OUT OF THIS WORLD? Maybe in looks and performance, but not in price — for statistics show that the average buyer of the Continental Mark II is a businessman with a $30,000 annual income. More specifically, he heads a small manufacturing plant, owns a $50,000 home, has a college education, and is a country club and sports enthusiast.

Who Buys the $10,000 Mark II?

What sort of person buys an automobile costing $10,000? On the average, he is a married, 35-year-old businessman with an annual income of $30,000 as head of a small manufacturing plant. He is college educated, has three dependents, owns a $50,000 home, belongs to a country club and is a sports enthusiast. That's the conclusion of a recent survey of Continental Mark II hard-top coupe owners conducted by the Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Company. The survey disclosed that some 70 per cent of all sales since introduction of the car in October, 1955, were to individuals. The rest went to business firms. According to the survey, a significant minority of owners are professional people. Approximately 10 per cent of total sales have been made to doctors. A smaller percentage of owners are persons living from investments or who have inherited wealth and engage in business as a sideline. Women account for 10 per cent of the total sales. And of the 90 per cent of sales to men, some 30 per cent of those sales were influenced by "the woman in the family". The survey also pointed out that the Continental is not only a "millionaire's car" but that a minority of owners earn less than $20,000 a year. Surprisingly, the income of owners ranges from a low of $15,000 to the multi-million-dollar bracket. The greatest number of Continentals sales has been made in Los Angeles, Chicago, New York, Detroit, San Francisco and Denver follow in that order. J. E. Coberly and Elsie Sales, both Los Angeles Lincoln dealers, have sold the most Continentals. A total of 37 Continental Mark II hardtop coupes has been exported to foreign countries, while Ford of Canada has accounted for sales of 67 cars. The list of Continental owners reads like a condensed version of "Who's Who in America". Among the nation's notables who own the car are prominent figures in industry, sports and the entertainment field. A study by Ford Motor Company economists indicates there are about 250,000 persons in the United States who could afford to buy a car at the $10,000 price. The Continental Mark II hardtop coupe is being produced as a custom-made automobile in limited volume at an assembly plant located near Dearborn.

BEN D. MILLS, Lincoln division general manager, takes a preview look at the Northville Record-Nov News special edition marking the opening of the huge plant in Novi township. With Mills (center) are William C. Siger (left), publisher, and Robert Webb, news editor. Monday was the first day that operations officially began in the division's national headquarters.

Ford Motor company's Lincoln division officially opened the doors of its new national headquarters in Novi township this week. When full operation of the plant gets underway this summer some 5,000 persons earning an estimated $30,000,000 a year will be employed. From the brand new assembly lines of the completely all-new Lincoln for 1958. In a special observance of the event The Northville Record-Nov News has prepared a complete 16-page Lincoln edition. The blue colored supplement will accompany regular editions of The Record and News to every resident of the Northville-Nov area. In addition special copies of the Lincoln edition will be sent to every employee and dealer of the Lincoln company throughout the country. The Lincoln edition, prepared by The Record-Nov staff in cooperation with Lincoln public relations personnel, tells the complete story of the automobile firm. Taking more than two months to prepare, the Lincoln edition carries special messages from Henry Ford II as well as Ben D. Mills, Ford Motor company vice-president and Lincoln division general manager. First pictures taken inside the plant, a full eight-column outside picture and pictures of every Lincoln ever produced are featured highlights of the edition. Published along with a 20-page edition, the April 18 paper becomes the largest ever produced by The Record-Novs. Nearly 7,000 homes in the immediate and surrounding areas will receive the complete 16-page paper.

New Board Off to Rocky Start

Most Items On Agenda Are Tabled

The agenda at the next Novi township board meeting is apt to be packed. Board members will have not only current business to attend to, but a host of left-over items that were tabled at their meeting last Monday. Asking time for further consideration, the board's two new members — Treasurer Ray Harrison and trustee Stan Balon — led the way in tabling more than half the board's business. They were backed up by clerk Hadley Bachert. Supervisor Frazer Staman was obviously displeased with the delay but did not press the issue. Among the business that was tabled — a request from the township zoning board for permission to have the township engineer begin long-range studies to draw up a master plan for land use in Novi. — discussion of the future of the township park and whether to allow continued use of it as a trailer park. — adoption of the state plumbing code to provide some means of enforcing plumbing standards in the township. — renewal of township attorney Archie Leonard's contract. The rash of tabled business brought repeated bursts of laughter from the audience. The board did transact several items of business, however. Bachert said after the meeting that he, Harrison, and Balon had tabled the items of business because they had had no previous knowledge of the agenda and did not want to act without a chance to consider all aspects of the questions. "We requested an agenda of the meeting when we were sworn in more than a week ago," he said, "but we didn't get it."

HELPING HAND FOR THE EASTER BUNNY — Judy and Terry Broderson were concerned this week with whether the faithful rabbit would have enough eggs to go around. So they decided to pluck in and help him out. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Broderson, 2350 Meadowbrook, Willowbrook Village.

Novi Highlights: IOOF Hosts District Lodges

By Mrs. Luther Rix — Phone Northville 2741

Novi Odd Fellows were hosts to the lodges of their district Tuesday evening, April 8. Mrs. Margaret Marshall, Noble Grand, of the Bebekas, was in charge of the lunch served after the meeting. Friends of Frank Wain will be interested to know that he returned to his home on 11 Mile road last Wednesday. He is recuperating nicely from his major operation at Ford hospital recently. Miss Carol Clemens was honored at a pre-ecological shower at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Clemens, in Livonia Tuesday evening. Carol will be married to J. Allan Turner of Redford township June 22. Mr. and Mrs. John Turner, parents of J. Allan Turner, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clemens, parents of Carol Clemens, on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Steven Stephens were the Sunday dinner guests of their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Stephens. This was the first outing for Mrs. Stephens since her operation at Wyandotte General hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cook will entertain Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Whitrow and children of Detroit, and the latter's relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rem and children, and Mrs. John Gotro. Mr. and Mrs. George Atkinson, and Mrs. Glen C. Sabor, Mr. and Mrs. Hadley Bachert and Mrs. Nellie Rackow are planning to spend the Easter vacation, from Thursday until Monday, in New York City. Company at the L. C. Rix home on Palm Sunday were Mrs. Rix's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Goetz of Williamston. In the afternoon they called on Edward Rix at Maybury Sea, and Mrs. David O'Leary in New Hudson. Mrs. Henrietta Hicks of Detroit is spending a few days with her daughters, Mrs. Erwin F'Gepfert and Mrs. Russell Taylor, on Tuesday, she helped to celebrate her granddaughter, Sue F'Gepfert's 12th birthday. Mrs. John Kliesner, Mrs. Cora McDonald and Mrs. Mat Houser of Northville will attend the opening Tiger baseball game at Briggs stadium this week. Charles Holmes, formerly of Novi who spent the winter months at his home, Elmer Holmes in California, is back in Michigan again. He visited his son, Hiram, and family here recently. (Continued on Page 12)

Sponsors Needed For Little League

Two more sponsors are needed for the newly-formed Novi Little League. Two firms have so far offered to support teams in the Junior baseball program, but another two are needed to complete the program will be fully sponsored. According to president William Hanson, Jr., sponsorship requires an initial donation of $75 and some $80 to $100 in succeeding years. Smaller donations are needed occasionally to pay for insurance, first-aid equipment, franchise fee, incorporation fee, and several smaller items. "Individual or group donations would be greatly appreciated," Hanson said. The program is open to Novi boys between the ages of 8 and 12 and will be conducted under the national Little League program. Recent bad weather has postponed the Little League opening until the first week in June, but try-outs are scheduled for late this month or early May. Tryout dates and procedures will be announced soon. Persons or organizations interested in sponsoring a Little League team may contact Hanson (Northville 1520), Charles Trickey, Jr. (245-W) or Kenneth Rippey (Greenleaf 4-882).

Novi May Press Wixom Fight

Wixom's new charter has gone to Governor G. Mennen Williams for his approval, but rumors continue to circulate that Novi township has not given up its fight against the village's incorporation. At the heart of the Novi-Wixom controversy is the new Lincoln plant which opened there this week. The plant now lies in the joint jurisdiction of the township and village, but if Wixom should become a city, Novi would lose all tax rights to its own jurisdiction. In the meantime, Novi supervisor Frazer Staman has indicated that some action against the village may be expected. Staman hinted at such action at the township board meeting Monday night. He did not say what might be done, but did state that Novi has not heard the last of the matter. A suit to invalidate the Wixom incorporation election was dismissed two weeks ago by Oakland county circuit court Judge Clark J. Adams. In his opinion, Clark said the election was legal and proper. The suit was brought by two Novi residents — Vernon Spencer and Lloyd Croft — and presumably further court action would have to be taken by them. Staman countered by pointing to a long-standing resolution that eschews a five-man board to resolve the hiring and firing of township employees. Staman called for a public hearing before the incorporation election was dismissed. Staman's suggestion and again called for Lodge's discharge, but Staman pressed his defense of the building inspector. "Regardless of how blunt he may be, Lodge has done an excellent job for the township," he said. "People have praised his work — and I know of at least three jobs of bad lumber he detected and ordered sent back."

GOING HOME EARLY — Novi post office, like hundreds of others across the country, has new hours as a result of the current trend between Congress and Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield. For Mrs. James Mitchell (rear) and Mrs. Rudolph Wendland, as well as for Novi residents, it means that the post carts of others across the country, has new hours as delivery, it's apparently an agala.

New Subdivision Approved by Board

Another subdivision is on tap for Novi township. The Novi township board gave tentative approval Monday night for a 228-home subdivision south of its Mile road between Beck and Wixom roads. The land is owned by Harry Nicholas. The subdivision, to be known as Echo Valley Estates, will feature homes in the $20,000 to $25,000 brackets. Some 100 homes are scheduled for initial construction.

In Willowbrook: Episcopal Mission Formed

Bill and Sue Dean of East LeBont had a meeting at their home Tuesday night to discuss the formation of an Episcopal Mission in Willowbrook. Architects Charles Parks and Mrs. Ethel Hoyle of Detroit were present. Those from the area who attended were Bill and Joan Gould of Glen Ridge, Mrs. Thomas Dukes, Mrs. Edwin Coan, Mrs. Ed Frutley and Mrs. Cameron Campbell of Malott. Donald Bohaker and George Ames of Mooringside, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bowen of Willowbrook drive and Tom Johnson and Harry Johnson of Novi, April 23 the women will meet at the home of Joan Gould to organize a women's auxiliary. Nancy Morrison's science class from Northville are on a field trip now in Chicago. They are staying at the Palmer House and will make Snow in Novi. The lesson was "Living with Teen Ageds". (Continued on Page 12)

Clothing Drive Ends in Willowbrook

More than 1,000 pounds of clothing is on its way to refugees in Korea. It got its start in Novi last winter when a group of Willowbrook Village women. They collected the clothing last month in the national World Service Organization drive, sponsored locally by the Willowbrook Community church under Rev. Byron Chapman. The clothing was sent to a collection point in Nappanee, Indiana, for processing last week. Slogan for the campaign was "One Great Hour of Sharing."

Driver Examinations No Longer Offered

Driver examinations no longer are being offered at the Novi township. The Novi township board announced this week. The service, formerly offered every other Wednesday by Oakland county sheriff's officials, was discontinued because of a lack of applicants. Novi residents may take driver examinations at Walled Lake and Farmington.

Lodge Out; Leonard Under Fire

Hope for political peace in Novi township dwindled Monday as building inspector Cameron Lodge was fired and township attorney Archie Leonard drew near the same fate. The action saw a clear split between supervisor Frazer Staman on one hand and three other members — clerk Hadley Bachert, treasurer Ray Harrison and trustee Stan Balon — on the other. Harrison and Balon were sitting in office for the first time since being elected April 1. With Bachert, they constitute a majority opinion on the board. Lodge was fired effective May 1 in an hour-long debate marked by confusion and heated exchanges. However, Lodge submitted a resignation early Tuesday morning and was through with the job by noon. He said he had no comment on the firing or on the charges made against him. Leonard was saved from being fired when a motion for his discharge was called out of order by Staman because another motion was still pending. When the board got back to Leonard, it decided to table the matter. The discussion of Lodge's future with the township took several up-and-downs before being settled, and even then was not entirely clear. Bachert made the original motion to fire Lodge, but it was not backed by Balon. They said Lodge had incurred the wrath of many township residents by his "un diplomatic" methods and had ignored requests to be more careful. Leonard said Lodge has been "badly happy," adding that Lodge has occasionally performed poorly outside of his official capacities. Staman countered by pointing to a long-standing resolution that eschews a five-man board to resolve the hiring and firing of township employees. Staman called for a public hearing before the incorporation election was dismissed. Staman's suggestion and again called for Lodge's discharge, but Staman pressed his defense of the building inspector. "Regardless of how blunt he may be, Lodge has done an excellent job for the township," he said. "People have praised his work — and I know of at least three jobs of bad lumber he detected and ordered sent back."

FAVORITE RECIPES OF NORTHVILLE HOMEMAKERS

IN THE KITCHEN with their mother is a favorite spot for the three children of Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Reifers—Mickey, Greg and David.

A bar-b-que main dish is always welcomed by a hungry family especially when they've been teased for an hour by the wonderful spicy smell creeping from the oven.

Such a dish — bar-b-que pork chops — is contributed this week by Mrs. Lavern Reifers, who lives at 529 Orchard drive. The Reifers have three sons — Greg, 6, David, 5, and Mickey, 16 months old.

BAR-B-QUE PORK CHOPS
Season six to eight lean pork chops with salt and pepper and brown in a heavy skillet.

SAUCE
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 can tomato juice
1/4 cup vinegar
1 medium dried onion
Dash of chili powder if desired
Mix all ingredients together and pour over browned chops in baking dish. Bake uncovered for about one hour at 375 degrees.

Brownie Troop 1—Members of Troop 1 were entertained by their sponsors, the VFW Auxiliary, at an Easter party at their last meeting. After refreshments, the girls dyed eggs and filled 30 baskets with cookies and candy for the auxiliary to take to Mayour Sunstrom.

Girl Scout Troop 17—Members of Troop 17 worked on their badges. Those working on their second class rank put on a play of Little Red Riding Hood. Those working on their first class badge, which is "hospitality", divided into three groups to prepare for skits which they will put on.

Girl Scout Troop 6—At their last meeting, members of Troop 6 made gifts for their mothers for Mother's Day.

D.A.R. Chapter To Meet Monday

Reports of the 66th Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be given at the next meeting of Sarah Ann Cochran chapter by Mrs. Claude Cruso, regent, and Mrs. Ernest Shupe, who attended the meeting in Washington, D.C. last week. The meeting will be next Monday, April 22 at the home of Mrs. Walter Kemperling, 1747 North Territorial road, Plymouth.

THE WINNING SLOGAN—"Pick Up Litter, Make Northville Glimmer" proved to be the winner for Dale Dickey, seventh grader at Northville high school.

THE WINNING POSTER—Michael Hestlo, eighth grade student at Our Lady of Victory school, won the prize for his entry in the Northville Garden club contest.

Garden Club Prepares to Fight Litter

Through the efforts of the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association, it could be an easy job to "Keep Northville Beautiful". The official drive begins April 29, but the Garden club committee, headed by Mrs. William Cansfield, has already been busy collecting the aid of local merchants and both grade school and high school students.

Oil drums, donated by Mergal Oil company, were recently painted by members of the Northville high school student council. Paint and brushes were given at cost by the Northville Hardware. Placed in strategic spots around the business area and school grounds, they bear the winning slogan in the high school contest, "Pick Up Litter, Make Northville Glimmer". The prize was won by Mrs. seventh grader Dale Dickey.

There won't be any excuse for throwing trash from moving cars to, remind them that helping to keep the city clean is their job, too. Posters will appear in the business district — one of them being the prize winner submitted by Michael Hestlo, eighth grader at Our Lady of Victory school. Another contest for elementary school students will be judged next week.

Everyone who shares in the responsibility to put waste paper in a proper receptacle — to keep the streets of Northville really "glimmering" — can share in the prize that comes from living in a shining, spotless town.

on Easter is with a Long Distance telephone call.
Your voice over the telephone will be welcome as Spring. And it will cost you very little. For a dollar or less you can call places a day's drive away. The usual low "after 6 p.m. or all day Sunday" rates apply all day Easter. Make a list now of those you want to phone a "Happy Easter."
HAVE YOU NOTICED
how much more color
there is around today?
Even familiar objects, the telephone for one, have colorful new personalities.
We have a talk on the subject called, "Color Comes Calling," that's available to clubs. In an entertaining 30 to 45 minutes, the audience learns a lot about basic color rules and popular color schemes in decorating. You'll hear how to use your color ideas, too. And men like the show as well as women. If you'd like to know more about "Color Comes Calling," call our Business Office.

Young Artists Plan Exhibition
"PRINCESS AMILIA" — a work by Zoffany — is studied
bacher, Martha Kierke, and Chuck Hill, all art students at Northville high school, during a visit to the Detroit Institute of Arts last week.
Art students at Northville high school, preparing for an exhibition of their own next month, took a look last week at the works of both the old masters and contemporary artists.
Some 40 students under Mrs. Donald Van Ingen visited the Detroit Institute of Arts last Thursday as part of their regular training.
After studying the works of painters and sculptors from the Renaissance down through the present, the students were free to explore the institute on their own.
On May 16, they will put on an exhibition of their own works at the Northville Community building.
An annual event, the exhibition includes all work done by the art students during the year.

I Love Easter...
Maybe I'm prejudiced because it's my day, but I'm just nuts about Easter. I like the chocolate bunnies, the beautiful flowers, and all the good things to eat.
Speaking of good things to eat just look at all the good things Kroger has for you this Easter.

Obituary

MERVIN T. GREEN
Mr. Green, who lived at 621 Fairbrook, died April 9 at Henry Ford hospital. He was born November 13, 1883 in Manchester, Michigan, to Edwin and Elva Green. His wife, Adelaide, preceded him in death in 1952. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. William (Margaret) Wether, and Mrs. Gerald (Barbara) Daub, both of Northville, and a son, Robert, of Dearborn. Other survivors include a sister, Mrs. Marietta Bentley of Ypsilanti; a brother, C. E. Green, of Tampa, Florida, and eight grandchildren. A retired electrical wholesaler, Mr. Green moved to Northville from Highland Park five years ago. Funeral services were held from the Catherine Funeral home, Rev. John O. Taxis officiating. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery.

MISS GRACE S. BALLANTINE
Miss Ballantine, a retired Ann Arbor school teacher, died April 10 at Northville State hospital. She was 89 years old. Services were held at the Catherine Funeral home, Rev. John O. Taxis officiating. Burial was in Rural Hill cemetery.

AAUW to Discuss Current Legislation

Current state legislation will be under discussion at an April meeting of the American Association of University Women tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. Hostess for the group will be Mrs. B. William Secord, 46675 West Seven Mile road, Northville. Assisting her will be Mrs. C. L. Patterson, Miss Lucille McLaughlin and Mrs. T. N. Cummings. Current bills before the state legislature will be discussed in a panel consisting of members of the different study groups. Under consideration will be the new legislation concerning social security taxes, and the bill affecting the location of the proposed Boys Vocational school, according to Mrs. R. E. Houston, legislative study group chairman. The legislative study group is in charge of tonight's program.

Legion Auxiliary Packs Easter Baskets For Maybury Vets

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary packed 130 service baskets for veterans at Maybury Sanatorium following their last meeting, April 10. Presiding was Mrs. John Steimel, who resumed her duties as president following the birth of her baby. Working committees gave their reports, announcing that a Memorial Day post-lunch dinner is being planned for after the parade. The national defense chairman urged that all children who have savings stamp books to be filled be reminded that the school year is nearing its end.

Chemistry Classes Visit Laboratories

The chemistry classes of NHS made a field trip to the Edlyl corporation recently. Because of its size, the group was divided into four smaller groups, each guided by a chemist or chemical engineer.

The tour included the research laboratories, the infra-red spectrophotometry laboratory, dynamometer rooms and garages.

Of particular interest was a room containing a car for fuel testing. The car is mounted on rollers so that it can accelerate but remain standing still.

At the front of the car is the outlet to a wind tunnel creating a wind of a speed equal to that of the car.

28 Local Bandsman in League Concert

Wednesday evening of last week the fourth All-League Band concert was held in the Northville Community building. Previously, concerts were held in Clarencville, West Bloomfield and Clarkston.

The All-League band is composed of members from eight high schools of the Wayne-Oakland league which are Bloomfield Hills, Brighton, Clarkston, Clarkston, Holly, Midford, West Bloomfield and Northville.

Of the 67 members in the band, Northville is privileged to have 28 participants over one-third.

The April 10 program opened with the "Star Spangled Banner," followed by the "Manhattan Beach" march. Other selections included the overture, "Morning, Noon and

Spanish Students Learn of Mexico

The Northville high school Spanish class, taught by Charles Yalme, believes in learning all they can about Mexico.

A short while ago, Reverend E.J. Pankov, who lived there nine years, talked to the class about the habits and customs of the people. He also showed them much of his souvenir handicraft work, done by the Mexican Indians.

Recently the class was also shown pictures of Mexico by Mr. and Mrs. Gunn at the home of Kay Spicer, one of the students. The pictures were taken by the Gunns on a recent trip.

Commercial Club Plans Banquet

The Commercial club held a meeting Wednesday, April 10, at which they discussed a banquet on May 6 at Black's White House for members of the club.

The possibility of awarding a scholarship to a student was also considered. Only Commercial club members who plan to go into secretarial work after graduation would be eligible for this benefit.

EVERYTHING YOU DO!

FROM THE MOMENT you awaken until you go to bed, almost everything you do is closely dependent upon the operation of trucks. In fact, even while you're asleep, trucks are working for you. (Beds arrive by truck, too, of course.)

Without trucks, your favorite food market would have empty shelves. Without trucks, you wouldn't find gas stations located conveniently almost everywhere you turn. Without trucks, the building of new homes, factories, and stores would slow to a walk and businesses of all kinds everywhere would suffer.

Sooner or later, everything you eat, wear, or depends on trucks for transportation. Eventually, everything has to get to you—the consumer. So, when you consider that trucks haul three times the tonnage handled by all the other forms of transportation combined, you realize how very important they are to you!

Golfers Still Sought For Novi League

Golfers are still being sought this week for the Novi Men's Golf League, although plans for the league may undergo revision before members actually tee off.

According to organizational chairman William MacDermaid, the league may have to play on an individual basis this year.

MacDermaid said full schedules at Bob-O-Link Golf club have restricted the evenings available to the Novi league. He added that members may have to play on individual matches, compiling results at the end of each week.

"In any case, we will play golf this year," he said, "whether it's in a league or just a group of fellows getting together."

MacDermaid said some 20 men have indicated they are interested in the league, and that another 10 men would bring the group up to desired strength.

Men interested in the league have been asked to contact MacDermaid. Golfers would play nine holes a week, probably after 5 p.m.

Save You Money

IF RUGS and carpets are to wear well and stay attractive they must be kept clean. Dirt on the surface dulls the color of the rug. Embedded grit wears and cuts the fibers. Damage from clothes moths and carpet beetles is less likely to occur when rugs are kept clean. The time to spray rugs against these insects is after they have been thoroughly cleaned.

Novi Highlights

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Greer and their Detroit friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown attended the "Syrup Festival" in Vermontville on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wendland are the parents of a daughter, Georgia Ann, born at Sparrow hospital in Lansing March 23. Mrs. Wendland is the former Laidie Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Larson. The other grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Wendland.

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Tuck returned last Saturday from a few weeks of vacation in Florida.

Mrs. Marietta Cabell, whose birthday occurs this week, was given a party by the WSCS of the Novi Methodist church at their meeting on Wednesday night.

Novi Baptist Church at 10:30 morning worship Easter Sunday service a guest speaker will supply the pulpit. At 11:30 an Easter program will follow, put on by the Sunday School classes.

Novi Methodist Church Good Friday service in the church from 12 to one o'clock.

OUR IDEAL OF SERVICE ONLY THOSE who have suffered a loss know what a relief it is in the suddenness of bereavement to be able to call someone who knows what must be done and how to do it. What a comfort it is to shift the burden of practical details on the shoulders of a kindly, thoughtful friend. This is the ideal which inspired the evolution of the modern funeral director. We are not merchants or masters of ceremonies, but professional men who must combine extensive ability and knowledge with sympathetic service.

IS CHRIST RISEN?

A recent survey among the top ranking scientists of our nation reveals that only one out of five believe that Jesus Christ arose from the dead. The survey was taken by Dr. Willbur M. Smith who is professor of English Bible at Fullerton Seminary in Pasadena, California. Thank God, this historical fact is not dependent upon the beliefs of these men of learning. It's so anyway! The most tried and trusted History Book of all the ages states plainly that Jesus Christ did arise from the dead. There was the proof afforded by the empty tomb. Proof of the soldiers who took refuge in the lie of the Scribes. Proof of eye witnesses numbering over 500 besides the Apostles. Yes, more evidence than is needed. But there is another proof, and that is the evidence of the lives that have been changed by belief in this Risen Saviour. If Jesus Christ did not arise from the dead then we Christians are of all men most miserable! In that popular Christian hymn entitled "He Lives" the reply to the question "You ask me how I know He lives?" is answered — "He lives within my heart!"

They're Off at Downs Tonight THE NOVI NEWS

KINGLY COMPETITOR IN THE SPORT OF KINGS—Northville Downs is not a Roman amphitheater and sulkes are not glued chariots, but those who follow racing find that the thrill of horse and rider is the same that existed since ancient times.

DAKERNED TOTE BOARD will soon flash the combination of numbers that will mean fortune for some, heartbreak for others. In recent weeks, however, it has been just another piece of equipment that had to be taken out of mothballs.

Racing will come to Northville again tonight when Northville Downs—Michigan's pioneer pari-mutuel harness track—opens its 1957 meeting.

With the running of the first race, the Downs will embark on a 38-night meeting that will last until June 1.

Northville will be the only Michigan track in operation until May 24 when the runners open at Hazel Park. Until that date, the Downs will have no competition.

Because of Good Friday tomorrow, general manager John Carlo has scheduled a double opening. The Downs will shut down completely tomorrow and re-open again Saturday. The opening date this year is the earliest in Michigan history and breaks the Downs' traditional string of mid-summer dates.

Nine pari-mutuel races will be run nightly, with the daily double on the first two races. Post time is 8:30 p.m.

The 1957 meeting will see several new faces at the Downs and an absence of several familiar ones.

Bill Connors, racing secretary at Wolverine and Hazel Park, will return to Northville after an absence of four years. He succeeds Harry Hatch, who has a commitment at Santa Anita.

John DuCharme, former presiding judge at Wolverine, returns as state steward. He replaces Malcolm Linahan, who resigned in September when he and his brother, Al, purchased a partnership in the Downs.

Foy Funderbank, veteran reinsman who took the 1956 driving championship at the Downs, died of a heart attack last winter. His death leaves the fight for the 1957 championship wide open—with Joe Lighthill, Wally McMurray, Don McMurray, Donnie Hall, Tommy Winn and Eddie Morgan racing among the favorites.

The Downs set an average mutuel handle record last year of $255,843 for 35 nights. Four other all-time records, established in 1955, also will be under fire this year: largest single night, $340,150; largest opening night, $206,621; highest betting on one race, $59,193; and largest daily double pool, $23,134.

SMOOTHING OUT THE TRACK after the long winter months, a tractor or tractor the course line after time, fighting for space with its four-legged competitors.

SERVING A GROWING COMMUNITY

SPRING CLEANING AT NORTHVILLE Downs finds maintenance men painting, hanging lights, unloading chairs and taking care of the dozens of preparations necessary to get the Downs in readiness for the thousands of fans who will file into the grandstand this year.

LAST-MINUTE WORKOUT — Some 800 horses have been put through their paces in the past few weeks as the Downs prepares for its 1957 meeting. Though racing fans never see the horses coming in this direction, trainers know that a wrong-way run is a necessary part of their conditioning.

Touch a button—in less than a minute the steel top disappears magically into the trunk—and you're in a supremely elegant convertible. It's two cars in one!

It's the newest new kind of Ford

1. It's an all-steel hardtop with sleek Victoria styling... 2. Touch a button and presto! It's a top-living convertible!

Once in a long, long while a car comes along that people remember and talk about for years after its introduction. The first model "A" Ford was such a car... The first Ford V-8 was such a car... The first Ford Thunderbird was such a car.

Today Ford Division is proud to announce still another car that many say is destined to become the most famous Ford of all. The Skyliner—world's only hide-away hardtop.

If you plan to buy a new Ford, or already own one, the fact that Ford created this car is important to you. For all the exhaustive research, planning and testing that went into the Skyliner is evidence of the engineering skill you get in every Ford model.

The Ford SKYLINER, the only all-steel hide-away hardtop, is a car for history. This is an old dream of Detroit, a dream of two generations of motorists. And today Ford has made that dream come true—in steel.

But the story behind this dream is a story of men who refused to accept "no" for an answer. In the Ford tradition they kept striving toward the goal long after others had given up the chase.

To understand this Ford spirit you must go back to 1908. That was the year

All Michigan pipe-smokers have been invited to compete for the Michigan regional pipe-smoking championship in Flint next week.

The contest will be held in Flint's Kishina Grotto Hall on April 27. Sponsored by the Arrowhead Pipe Club, the contest is dedicated to the memory of Max Igro, late world champion and record-holder.

There is no entry fee.

(Editor's Note: If somewhere in our readership there exists an avid pipe-smoker, The Record would appreciate the answer to a rather compelling question: what is contested in a pipe contest? Is it a matter of endurance... technique... stamina... ash quality... gross consumption... or what?

Rare occurrence: February 1956 had no full moon — an event which occurs only once each 2 1/2 million years.

OUT OF THE PAST

One Year Ago... Mac Pierce was chosen for the first team, Dave Pottinger for the second team with Dean Nitzel and Bob Campbell receiving honorable mention. The lead story in the Northville Record and Novi News announced that the Lincoln plant would have a payroll of 5,000 persons. Northville took steps for the third successive year to protect 250 elm trees on city property from Dutch elm disease. Leen Republican women were making plans for their Republican kick-off luncheon, one of a series to begin their fund-raising campaign. Dr. W. L. Howard and Dr. W. K. Steinger of Maybury Sanatorium presented the program for the Northville Camera club. Work on enlargement of the post office began five years ago this week. The Couples club of the First Presbyterian church was shaking off stage fright for presentation of their three-act play, "Alice Sit-By-The-Fire" by James M. Barry. Miss Florence Panattoni's forensics students made a clean sweep of the district speech contest at Northville high school, winning first places in all five divisions and second in two. Mr. and Mrs. Pieter W. Schipper of Brander road were among 225 Distinguished Dutch descent who were personally introduced to Queen Juliana of the Netherlands during the Queen's visit. Two Northville basketball players were named to the Inter-Lakes conference basketball team.

By the Rev. Fr. John Witwicki
Our Lady of Victory Church

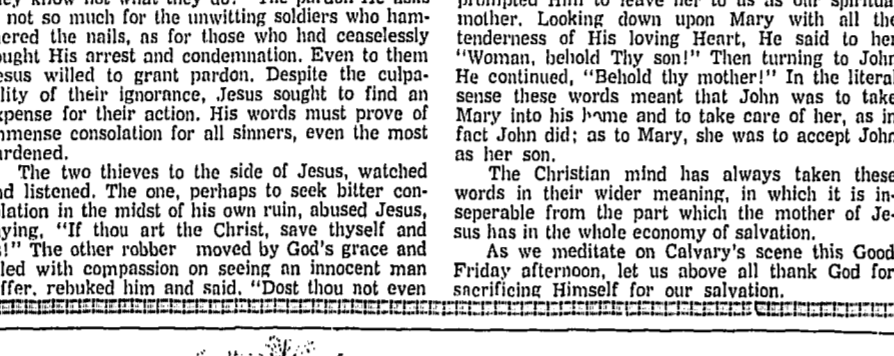

JESUS TALKS FROM THE CROSS
Since this is Holy Week for all Christians it would be well if we meditated on the first three utterances of Christ as He hangs on the cross. In silent prayer He makes the final offering of His life for the honor of the Father and the salvation of the world. There on the cross during the last hours of His life He burns the brightest, his last flickering flames, as they consume His strength, send their light and warmth over this dark and cold world and will endure with divine love countless years to the end of time.

GOOD FRIDAY SPEAKER — The Reverend Dr. Everett K. Seymour will deliver the Good Friday message at community services at the First Presbyterian church. He is the pastor of St. Mark's Methodist church of Detroit. His pastorate has taken him to fields of service in Orono, Saginaw and Houghton, Michigan, prior to his associate pastorate in the metropolitan Methodist church. The community service is jointly sponsored by the Presbyterian and Methodist churches of Northville and the King's Daughters.

Churches Plan Services For Holy Week, Easter

The solemn Lenten season of worship will culminate Sunday with rejoicing for the rising of Christ, and worshippers in Northville church will join in preparation for Easter and Maundy Thursday and Good Friday services.

Easter theme, "The Repeated Embrace"
Community Services
Community Good Friday services, sponsored by the Methodist and Presbyterian churches, will be held at 1:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian church. The Adult Chancel choir, directed by William G. Williams, and the combined youth choir, under the leadership of Mrs. Bart Connors will both sing special choral presentations.

Construction Up in Northville

Building activity in Northville soared in the first three months of 1957, but in the township of Novi and Northville it showed a sharp decline as compared with the same period a year ago.

Northville's permits totalled a whopping $257,200 — one of the highest figures in many years. The permits called for only four new homes, however. Most of the value proposed new Our Lady of Victory church.

Even so, Northville showed more than $100,000 worth of new building for the quarter, inspector Stanley Waterloo pointed out.

Novi township — which trails highest permits in Northville and Northville township — had a respectable first quarter, although its total was far below last year.

According to building inspector Cameron Lodge, Novi issued seven house permits for a total of $159,800. In the first three months of 1956, Novi issued 50 permits.

Lodge said all seven permits in Novi were for home construction. There has been no industrial activity in the period.

In Northville township, only one building permit was issued during the three months. But permits for garages and additions brought the total for the quarter up to $44,000.

According to building inspector William Pezz, that total has already been surpassed in April. Two home permits have been issued for a total of $55,000.

Oakland UF Joins Detroit

Novi township United Fund leaders learned this week that the Oakland county UF organization has merged with the United Foundation of Metropolitan Detroit.

The move was taken last week by the board of directors of the Oakland county Township's United Fund and under president Vern Willard.

The fund represents 15 Oakland county townships with a total population of 50,000. At present, four townships in South Oakland county, with a total population of 205,600 are included in the United Foundation of Metropolitan Detroit.

The Oakland County Township United Fund raised a total of $87,053 in last year's drive, against a quota of $100,310. It is a participant in the Michigan United Fund and gave $38,000 to the American Red Cross this year.

Willard said the board "further recommended that definite steps be taken to accomplish affiliation with the UF at the earliest possible date, compatible with administrative policies and procedures."

Car Hits Tree; Two Persons Hurt

Two persons were injured April 8, when their automobile crashed into a tree on Griswold near Base-line.

William A. Breslett, 43, of Dearborn, suffered cuts of the face and right knee and one fractured rib, and is reported in good condition at Wayne County General hospital.

Geraldine Roberts, 31, of Livonia, received cuts of the face, fractured ribs and a fractured knee. She is reported in fair condition at the hospital.

Neither would give statement to officers of the Wayne County Sheriff's office as to who was driving when the accident occurred.

SPEAKING for the Record

By BILL SLIGER
This week the largest edition of the Record and News ever published was distributed to more than 6500 homes in and around the Northville-Novi area.

I hope we can be excused for breaking forth with a small smidge of satisfaction. Probably only someone connected with the newspaper business can appreciate the effort that has gone into the 16-page Lincoln section.

Naturally we hope the section serves the purpose for which it was intended: to acquaint residents with the history and personnel of Lincoln motor car company, and to let the latter know that Novi township and Northville are happy to welcome them as new neighbors.

Northville is scheduled for a "beauty bath". Under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Cansfield the Garden Club has chosen April 29 to May 4 as "Keep Northville Beautiful" week.

That all-night "sell-a-thon" conducted by Gambles, Freydl's Men's, Old Mill restaurant and Tewksbury Jewelry had such wanting results that there may be a repeat. This time the complete Retail Merchants' association wants to get into the act.

I wonder if anyone would come in for some printing between midnight and 6:00 a.m.?

Michigan Mirror
New Financing Plan To Aid MSU, Taxpayers

AN IMMEDIATE savings of $3 to $4 million will benefit Michigan taxpayers this year if the legislature approves a new financing method for a Michigan State University building program.

Additional advantages provided by the plan were listed by MSU's President John A. Hannah, who heartily endorsed the proposal, Hannah stated that:

- 1. The buildings will become available over for immediate needs.
2. The bill provides for necessary expansion without placing large demands upon the current income of the State of Michigan.
3. Assuming that building costs will continue to increase, an additional savings will result by immediate construction.
4. Costs of the new educational buildings will be spread over future generations of students — those that will benefit most.

The new plan is an outgrowth of the program adopted by President Hannah after World War II. At that time he borrowed capital from private sources to construct dormitories, married student housing, laundry facilities, and to add to the athletic plant, health center, music and student services buildings. Loans were repaid through the earnings of these facilities.

Only classrooms and laboratories would be included in the new program if it receives legislative approval. Student fees will replace the "earnings" of the earlier project to ensure continuity for the loans.

SURE SIGN OF SPRING (VACATION) — It wouldn't be vacantime without a ball game and a dog. And it didn't take long to find both in Willowbrook subdivision this week.

In Willowbrook: Association Holds Egg Hunt

By Mrs. John Parent — GReenleaf 4-2660
A very successful Easter Egg Hunt was held Saturday at Cassin Park.

The John Parents of West LeBois are happy to announce the adoption of a baby girl, Mary Kay, on April 18.

The Robert Brice family of West LeBois had a double celebration Tuesday night in honor of Agnes' birthday and their 15th wedding anniversary.

A belated birthday to Gregory Ramo, who was one year old April 16. His birthday party guests included Marguerite Parent, Bobbi Sline, Gladys Earl and her children, Claudia and Mark, and Mary Redmond and her children, Ralph and Jeff.

The Wickham family of Northville has already agreed to supply water and sewerage facilities for the subdivision, and therefore wants political jurisdiction over it.

Novi Highlights: Crusade Ends With Film

By Mrs. Luther Rix — Phone Northville 2741
The Novi township council crusade for the month of April came to a close with a film showing in the Novi Community building Wednesday afternoon with Dr. Johnson of Northville present to ask and answer questions.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Doan was honored at a surprise birthday luncheon at the home of her niece in Detroit April 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Doan and their children, Corral, Walt and Tommy, were Easter dinner guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Doan in Dearborn.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Race entertained on Easter Sunday their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Race, at their home in Highland.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thurman are the parents of a son, Kenneth Lloyd, born April 8 at Sessions hospital in Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kohrt spent the week end with a group of friends in Washington, D.C. and New York City.

Saou New Building Inspector

Is Harmony On Horizon For Board?

A special meeting of the Novi township board Tuesday night may have been the first step toward increased harmony among members of the new group.

The meeting was called to appoint a temporary township building inspector (see other story, this page) but more than an hour of it was devoted to discussing ways of improving relations among the board members.

Foremost decision was to hold a series of private meetings at which five members would inform themselves of the background of Novi problems and possibly thrash out any personal differences that would otherwise mar public board meetings.

Just how the private meetings would be held was not determined but it was agreed that they would be held at the homes of board members only.

Trustee Frank Clark offered the use of his home, but made it clear that such meetings would be for board members only.

Trustee Stan Balon asked that such meetings be attended by "one, two or more" of the interested parties. The only one he mentioned was The Novi News.

No plans for such a meeting have yet been made, but supervisor Fraser Staman indicated Wednesday morning that some get-together sessions are being considered.

Staman agreed that a series of meetings might produce better understanding. He noted the Pontiac city council often meets privately to discuss current issues.

Staman also suggested that board members hold an hour before each board meeting to brief themselves on the evening's business.

Balon and Backley said they would prefer a written agenda rather than such a meeting.

Similar pre-meeting get-togethers by the township board often drew criticism — especially when some board members were not invited — though occasionally led to charges of "railroading."

In other business Tuesday night, trustee Frank Clark was re-appointed as the board's representative on the township zoning board after himself.

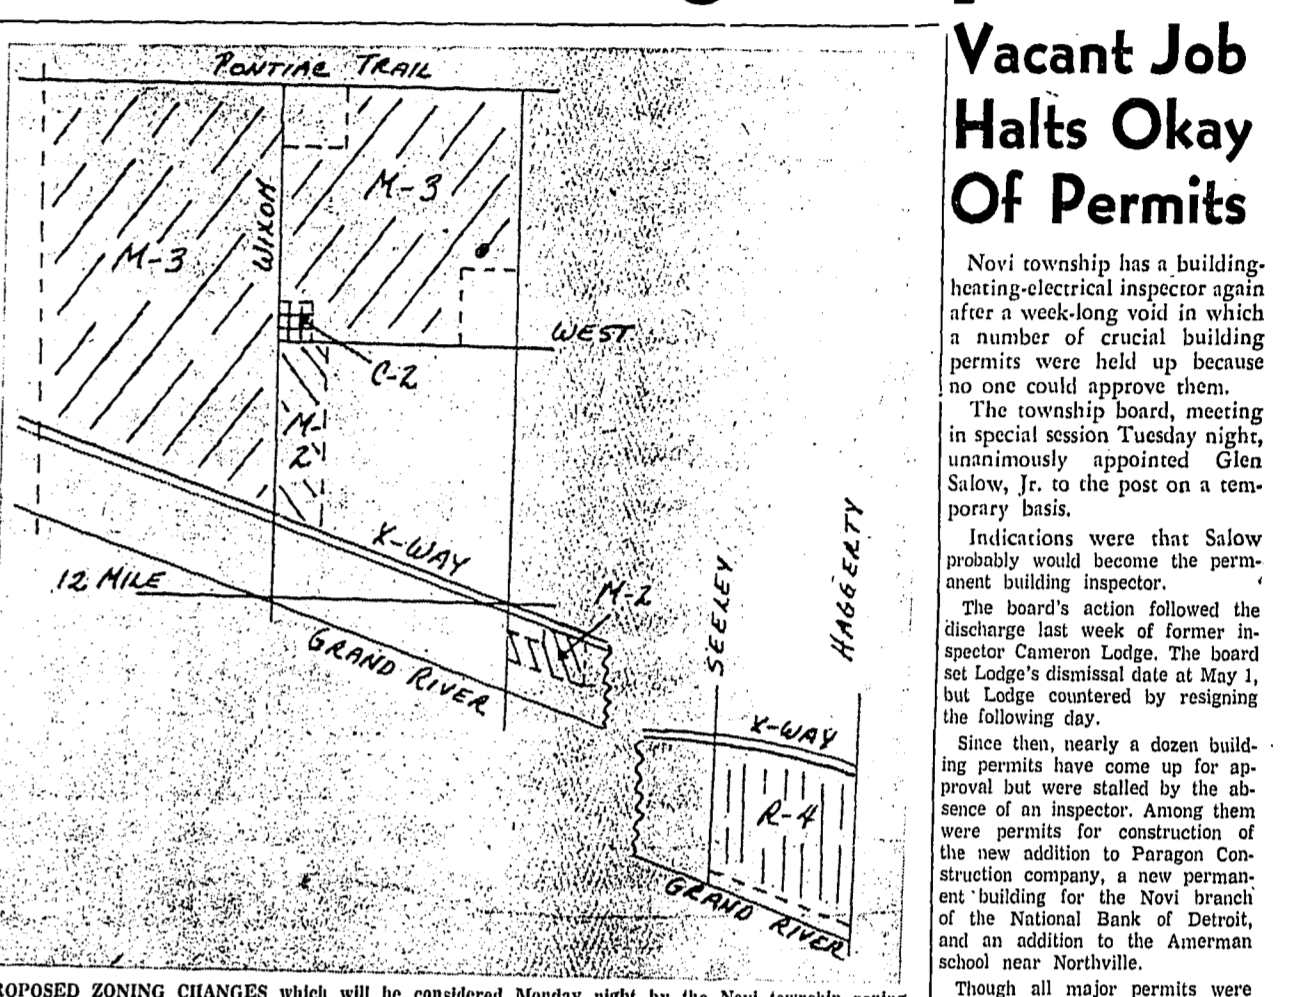

His appointment came after Staman had suggested trustee Stan Balon for the post. But after Balon returned the nomination, Clark was unanimously elected to the position.

Novi Postal Service Returns to Normal

After weathering the recent light level postal fever in Washington, the Novi postal service in Novi township is almost back to normal.

Novi township officials have been reassured and the window is now open from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. Mosey orders, however, will be sold only from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

According to postmaster Mrs. Margie Watson, the postal curfew is not to result in any extreme hardship for the Novi post office.

Rezoning Package to be Heard

One of the largest rezoning packages in Novi township history will come up for a public hearing next Monday.

The township zoning board, meeting at 8 p. m. in the township offices, will consider six separate zoning changes that would make the Novi area of Novi a heavy industrial area.

Proposed are the following six changes: rezoning all of section 6 and parts of sections 5 and 7 from M-1 to M-3 (light to heavy industry).

Another Wild-West Posse Rounds Up 2 Bird Hunters

BeGole formed the 10-man posse, and the group struck out into the woods. With Spencer driving ahead in his airplane and dipping his wings when he spotted the culprits, the posse rounded up the pair within several hours.

They were taken before Justice William McDermald who warned them against violating the federal migratory bird law.

But if you had hit one of them," McDermald said, "you would probably have found yourselves in jail."

Only tragedy of the adventure was at BeGole put it: "When the posse got back to the township hall, we counted noses and discovered that two of us were missing."

The posse was taken before Justice William McDermald who warned them against violating the federal migratory bird law.

But if you had hit one of them," McDermald said, "you would probably have found yourselves in jail."

Only tragedy of the adventure was at BeGole put it: "When the posse got back to the township hall, we counted noses and discovered that two of us were missing."

Vacant Job Halts Okay Of Permits

Novi township has a building-heating-electrical inspector again after a week-long void in which a number of crucial building permits were held up because no one could approve them.

The township board, meeting in special session Tuesday night, unanimously appointed Glen Salow, Jr. to the post on a temporary basis.

Indications were that Salow probably would become the permanent building inspector.

The board's action followed the discharge last week of former inspector Cameron Lodge. The board set Lodge's dismissal date at May 1, but Lodge countered by resigning the following day.

Since then, nearly a dozen building permits have come up for approval but were stalled by the absence of an inspector. Among them were permits for construction of the new addition to Paragon Construction company, a new permanent building for the Novi branch of the National Bank of Detroit, and an addition to the American school near Northville.

Through all major permits were held up, several home-builders were told to go ahead with their projects without waiting for inspection, according to supervisor Fraser Staman.

In contrast with last week's stormy meeting, which saw a sharp split between board members, Tuesday's action was taken in an atmosphere of apparent unanimity and friendliness.

After a brief discussion of Salow's qualifications, a motion was made and seconded to appoint him to the post. Clerk Hadley Backer, and trustees Frank Clark and Stan Balon voted in favor of it. Treasurer Ray Hartman was absent.

There were no spectators at the meeting. Only other persons present beside the board members were Detroit electrical consultant Jack Fitzgerald and newspaper representatives.

Whether Salow will be the permanent building inspector apparently depends on whether further applications are made for the post. The opening has been advertised in local papers.

But according to supervisor Fraser Staman, there were no applicants for the job. He said that the position is advertised in local papers.

Staman also said that the re-zoning is merely in keeping with Novi's plans of establishing a manufacturing belt to attract new industry in the vicinity of the Lincoln plant.

Only two actual industries, however, are now known to have definite plans in the area at this time. Both are haulage companies which intend to build adjacent to the Lincoln plant.

Staman also said the re-classification from M-1 to M-3 is necessary to bring the area back up to its original land-use category. With the recent creation of a separate M-3 category, he said, the area became ineligible for heavy industry. The proposed rezoning would restore that category to the area.

Flynn added that the other rezonings are part of Novi's long-range plan to create an industrial and commercial strip between the old and new Grand River highways. Such a belt would give Novi a strong industrial area in the heart of the township, and at the same time would keep it apart from residential areas.

The same permission was granted Tuesday night by the Novi building planning commission.

The site lies in the area currently designated in Novi as a residential township. Until Oakland county circuit court decides the issue, it is not certain in which jurisdiction the land lies.

Telephone Dial Service Hinges on Hearing Friday

A request for permission to erect a dial telephone exchange building near the Northville limits will come before the Novi township board of appeals tomorrow night.

The board will meet in the township hall at 8 p. m.

The petition would allow Michigan Bell Telephone company to construct the building in a residential area on North Center street, just north of Base Line. It would not require a commercial construction permit.
