No Need To Thirst

It is told of a ship that its supply of fresh water was exhausted. The passengers and crew on board were at the point of perishing. For several days they had lacked water and were almost ready to despair of all hope of being saved. At last a vessel was sighted in the distance. They raised their cry, "Give us water, water; we are dying for want of water!" The unexpected reply came back, "Let down your buckets. You are in the mouth of the Amazon. You have fresh water all around you." They had been floating in

It is so spiritually. The Christian churches are like vast reservoirs and pumping stations which are seeking to supply humanity with the saving knowledge of Christ. But the masses are floating as perishing souls in the midst of this water of salvation without taking advantage of it. The only thing that can save us from suffering eternal thirst is the knowledge that Christ died for our sins and rose again for our justification. This water of life is made ivailable in every church that faithfully preaches and teaches the Gospel of Christ. D. C. F. W. Walther, the great American church leader, once said: "Do not wait, wil-

BAD DISTRIBUTION OF FURNITURE Don't group too many large pieces of furniture in a single wall. This makes a room appear clumsy, lopsided and upsets the balance. When properly distributed the furniture will bring out the room's good points, and at the same time . . . CREATE A PLEASING BALANCE Plan your furniture arrangement so that the height and weight of each group or piece is counter-balanced by another group (or architectural feature) that appears equal in size and height. Color plays an important part in room balance, too. Dark colors appear heavier than lighter shades. Strive for an even distribution of colors.

We want you to think of us as "your home store" because we have fine furnishings for every type home . . every at value-giving prices. So pay us a visit soon, make your selections where satisfaction is assured.

Northville Postmaster Leland Smith just returned from his vacation. A fisherman of some note, "Smitty" has this sad tale to tell of his "rest" at Black Lake: one 12 H.P. outboard motor lost in the bottom of the lake; a sheared pin on another motor borrowed from a neighbor; a broken spring on still a third motor that flew off and broke his glasses. And to make matters worse, it rained all week and "Smitty" ended up with

About the funnist thing we ever heard happened to our capable and usually very alert bookkeeper, Mary Donovan.

Early Monday morning she was awakened by the heavy downpour that struck Northville. Drowsily, she stumbled out of bed to check all the windows, including those on the back porch. The heavy wind slammed the back door shut just as Mary had stepped onto the porch. And there she stood, hardly dressed for a morning walk, locked out.

Unshaken, and still unawake, Mary simply stepped out from her back porch, took off a screen and opened a window. And after climbing through the window, there she was, right
