IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

TO ALL EDISON CUSTOMERS

Now available to home owners in this area is a new and better electric water

Sweeping changes in the basic design of electric water heaters have been made to give them greater heating ability. Heater action is now fully automatic. These hings the manufacturers have done at our suggestion. At the same time, economyseeking revisions in Edison's water heating rate have been adopted. The result is the best water heating service ever offered in Southeastern Michigan.

Many families already use the new service. For the first time, theirs is a feeling of complete confidence in a really modern and adequate water heating system. Like them, you can be comfortable in the knowledge that the safe water heater is now one of the most efficient, too.

Why a New Water Heating Service?

today. It's easier, for example, to get the laundry clean (not just clean looking) with 160° water. But few heaters, other than an electric, heat water that hot unless manual adjustments are made. Such heaters, then, are not truly automatic. And if a fuel-fired heater is permanently adjusted to heat 160°, servicemen say that there is a like-

Lots of hot water is a modern requirement. New electric water heaters have the ability to operate day AND night as demand requires. There is no period when hot water is Exactly What's New About the Heaters?

Electric heaters have always had superior features. Long life, for one. In the efficient electric heating action, there's no concentration or heat in one small area-no destructive burning action. In addition, the manufacturers have always cooperated in using only the best design and construction materials. These rigid standards make a big difference in lifetime operating and replacement costs. Lifetime costs are also lessened by Edison's present liberal policy of replacing electrical operating parts without charge. Maximum safety is another feature found in an electric heater. There's never any flame or pilot light to worry where : . . even where small children play. There is no danger of accidental burns. An electric heater can be placed anywhere for another reason. It has no flue; needn't be close to a chimney. You place the heater where you want to, not where you must-and eliminate long, hot water wasting pipes in the process. These have always been standard features in any electric water heater. But we felt that the new unit should be better yet. So we asked the manufacturers to redesign them to plished by use of two more powerful heating units. Ordiabout. And because an electric heater is flameless, no part of its exterior shell is ever too hot to touch. An obvious narily, the lower one alone supplies ample hot water. Once in a while an unusual amount is needed. Then the upper advantage is that only an electric heater can be placed anyunit switches on automatically to handle the heavy demand.

New Rates—Dependable Service

Along with the more efficient and dependable electric water heater goes a new flat rate to make it more economical than ever. You benefit by having available up to 20 hours of water heating for flat rate charges like these:

By the month these are slightly higher charges than the older flat rates. But, considering the doubled hours of operation available under the newer rate, the hourly flat rate charge is less.

Old Customers—New Service

Present electric water heater owners profit by switching changed from 10 to 20 hours of operating time. There is to the new service, too. They can do so simply by calling the nearest Edison office. Then the time-switch will be for the Record

We doubt that even Amos and Andy could present a plot offering more intrigue and legal complications than exist in the Northville-Novi-Wixom area today.

With terms like "petition", "annexation" and "incorporation" flying around from all sides it's easy to imagine the Kingfish, Andy and the attorney "Calhoun" right at home in

Officials of the area involved in the problems probably can't see the humor and no doubt, they're right. Still, it's relaxing sometimes to become "unfocused" from the tenseness of a pressing problem.

Wixom seems decided that it must take action to become a fifth-class city. The reasons are obvious. As a city its horders are safe from annexations.

Novi has a similar problem. As a township it is even more vulnerable to loss of land through annexation than the village of Wixom. So to preserve its borders, Novi will probably try to incorporate into a village. While all this is going on, Northville seems ready to accept some 200 acres of Novi township into the city. Residents have already filed petitions and now it's just a matter of time for the election to take place. Here's where the rub comes. All the residents of the 200 acres apparently want to become a part of the city. But the lone factory, Warren Products, does not.

Officials of the firm have stated that they are NOT opposed to coming into the city. BUT, and this is the sticker, they are opposed to paying taxes which they consider unfair. And it would be difficult to argue that they do not have a point here. Anyone who has been at all familiar with the difference in school taxes between city residents of Oakland county and Wayne county knows that the inequities are

So here we have a situation with two rights. Councilmen believe that Warren should be a part of the city if the adjoining area is to be annexed; and Warren is not opposed if the taxes are fair.

One expensive court case has already been fought with Warren coming out the winner. Another will certainly follow and this time it will probably go right to the Supreme

There's one hope and because this thin possibility might save the taxpavers of Northville many dollars in court costs, we believe it should be explored to the very end: City manager John Robertson should reveal to the management of Warren Products progress he has made with Wayne county towards bringing about a solution to the Oakland-Wayne county tax problem in Northville.

Then if Warren officials are sincere, and we have no eason to believe otherwise, the city and the company should get together and thoroughly discuss the problem.

We can't believe that either Warren Products or the city of Northville want to go through another legal fight. It may finally resolve in that, but if ground for compromise exists, it should be examined mutually, WIIO WILL WIN IN THE FINAL VOTE COUNT? When the contest ends at 7 p.m. Saturday, WHO WILL WIN?

That question can't be answered until the final reports are made in the secret ballot box and the votes are counted by the contest judges. Contestants will know how many votes that they deposit it the secret ballot but they will not know how many will be deposi ed by their competitors. This insures absolute fairness and makes it impossible for anyone to know who will win the prizes in the fina count.
