

Over 500 Attend Colorful Flower Show

Approximately 500 persons attended the 10th annual flower show, sponsored by the Northville Garden Women's National Farm and Garden Association in the community building last Saturday.

Mrs. Edwin Mueller, chairman, and Mrs. George Alexander, co-chairman, with the combined efforts of the association's 65 members, transformed the gymnasium into a colorful garden. Mrs. George Kohn, staging chairman, was responsible for the pool in its woody setting, with a deer and a bear peering from the background of trees and shrubs.

Background music by Mrs. R. J. Wright on a Baldwin organ furnished by the Smith Music company, Plymouth, gave added atmosphere to the show. Much interest also centered on the colorful "flowers in ice" punch bowl contributed by Charles and Ivan Ely.

One section of the show was devoted to arrangements brought by neighboring garden clubs. Awards in this section were given to Mrs. Richard Gerald, Redford; Mrs. Mary Renick, Milford; Mrs. W. Rolen, Rosedale Gardens; Mrs. George Scheneman, Plymouth; Mrs. Lindsey, Plymouth; Mrs. Tuck, Livonia.

A Thanksgiving table setting by Mrs. John Burkman was one of the show's highlights and received a special honor award in addition to a blue ribbon. Mrs. Carl Bryan's table setting, "For Two," by Mrs. Mary Renick, Milford; Mrs. W. Rolen, Rosedale Gardens; Mrs. George Scheneman, Plymouth; Mrs. Lindsey, Plymouth; Mrs. Tuck, Livonia.

Among conversation pieces for a coffee table, first awards went to Mrs. George Kohns, Mrs. R. J. Wright and Mrs. Shm. Myan. Second awards went to Mrs. Ware, Mrs. E. Lawrence Hill, Mrs. Fred Stiermer, Jr., Mrs. W. L. Howard, Mrs. Charles Altman and Mrs. D. J. O'Leary. Third awards went to Mrs. Hopper and Mrs. Glenn Cummings.

In Thanksgiving buffet arrangements first awards were given to Mrs. Albert Northrup, Mrs. D. Hurd Clark, Mrs. Glenn Cummings, Mrs. N. W. Hopkins, Mrs. E. W. Haller, Mrs. R. D. Merriam and Mrs. Edwin Mueller; seconds went to Mrs.

MANY ADMIRING GLANCES were given the displays at Saturday's flower show sponsored by the Northville Garden Club. Here show chairman Mrs. Edwin Mueller makes a final check before the judges look over to award the ribbons.

White gladioli trimmed the church as Rev. Father John Polzy read the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Ronald Gable. Miss Selly provided the organ music.

For her wedding, Miss Gable chose a gown of white nylon chiffon appliqued with lace and trimmed with sequins. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a pill-box cap trimmed with pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white roses and baby mums.

Maid of honor was Jane Clarke, who wore a steel-length gown of green tulle with a matching tulle. Her flowers were of pink and white mums.

Bridesmaids included Lela Hamilton, Geraldine Malick, Barbara Haggart and Sandra Lesley. They wore identical dresses of steel length pink tulle and their bouquets were of pink and white mums.

Patrick chose as his best man his brother, Robert McLeod. Others included Richard Kern of Dexter, John Ponzacze of Detroit and John McLeod of Ypsilanti.

After the ceremony, breakfast was served for 120 guests at Rautava Inn. A reception was held at the home of the bride, at which 200 guests greeted the couple. Out-of-town guests were from Philadelphia, Detroit, California, Delaware, Grosse Pointe and Dearborn.

The new Mrs. McLeod wore a brown tulle dress with matching accessories for her wedding trip to Quebec, Canada.

She is a graduate of Walden Lake high school and attended Ferris Institute in Big Rapids. Her husband is a graduate of the Ferris school of pharmacy and is employed at his mother's drug store in Dexter. The newweds will make their home in Dexter.

GIVE ME LIBERTY!

Feelings were running high. The air was tense with indignation. The air was suddenly captured by Patrick Henry's sprang to his feet and shouted, "Give me liberty or give me death!"

There are many words spoken by this man of conviction and courage became the battle cry of the Revolution. How important it is to have liberty, not only from earthly tyrants who would enslave us, but from the mastery of Satan and habits of sin that would drag us on the downward course.

Readers Speak Up: ASKS FOR RACIAL TOLERANCE

To the Editor: Our family recently enjoyed a short vacation in New York City, traveling by way of the Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey turnpikes. It turned out to be exactly 719 miles from our house in Northville to the apartment of relatives on upper Broadway, a long trip, even on super highways; and the traffic is so heavy and fast that it is difficult to enjoy the countryside as you might wish.

However, the restaurants on the turnpikes were very good. Because of the current hangovers in Little Rock, Arkansas, I want to state that there was no discrimination in any of these restaurants on account of race, and it was a pleasure to eat, knowing that others were not denied a similar right, so that after a few such stops you forgot that prejudice existed.

Not everything of interest to Northville, Novi and Wixom happens right in the backyards of the three communities. Many of the most important developments take place many miles away, in cities where governmental bodies have headquarters, where major industries are located, or where significant civic organizations center their operations.

Last week, for example, news of interest to this area was being made in at least three other parts of the state. In Detroit, Automobile Club of Michigan officials began analyzing data gathered in a recent study of Northville traffic and parking. And the architects who designed the new Northville high school went on television.

"INDUSTRY ON PARADE" - Detroit architects Eberle M. Smith and C. Wendell Smith, whose firm designed the new Northville high school, study school models as part of public service television program prepared by National Association of Manufacturers for national showing.

PARKING FACTS AND FIGURES - Charles I. Wikson, Automobile Club of Michigan traffic research supervisor, compiles a report of a 1,500 study of Northville parking, which will be presented to city officials in late October.

Benjamin Franklin designed a dollar made of silver, brass and pewter, bearing the motto, "Mind Your Own Business", and minted in 1776.

Flowers have a special meaning - beyond words. When grief strikes someone close to you, it is not easy to put into words the sympathy you feel. But the flowers you send carry a message far, far beyond words. Their beauty is a source of comfort and strength.

THE NOVI NEWS

TRAIN LOAD OF TAXES - Fred Costello (right) of Willowbrook Village, turns over $1,365,000 in taxes to state tax commissioner Louis J. Nims in front of the state capitol. The money represents the semi-annual payment of eight Detroit area railroads - which pay some $8,000,000 annually to the state primary school fund, or enough to educate 211,000 children. Costello is chairman of the Railroad Community Committee of Greater Detroit. (The "train" is actually a covered bus.)

THE WINOM OHOLES, who came within one game of winning the Walled Lake Little League crown last year, finally made it this year in a Labor Day double victory. The team has been sponsored by the C. F. Longs and Sons Transit company of Walled Lake for four years. The roster: (top row, left to right) manager Walter Tuck, Bob McKay, Dave Taylor, Bob Tuck, Jim Hughes, Jim Byrd, Dave Rickard, Roy Pierce, Vic Bruzel and coach Bob Hughes; (bottom row, left to right) Greg Bourgeois, Mike Pillo, Jim Burke, Rick Hughes, Doug Coe, Dave Middleton and Butch McCall.

They'll Be in the Limelight

The accent will be on youth in Northville tomorrow night when the colorful pageantry of football returns for another year.

Sons will become inebriating fullbacks, duffers will turn out to be saucy majorities, and the young fellow next door will march 110 steps a minute with a clarinet at his lips.

Most of the attention will go to a small handful of Northville's sons and daughters—the starting backfield as it crosses the line or skirts an end, the four planned and bronzing majorities as they step smartly into position, and the peppy quintet of cheerleaders whose routines are often as intricate as the plays on the gridiron itself.

All of them, of course, must share their glory. The backfield must share with the linemen up front and the second and third stringers on the bench; the majorities, with the unsung ranks of the marching band, and the cheerleaders with the hundreds of students whose spirit they personify as well as guide.

Ideally, football is a game for all students, and in Northville it meets that ideal. But when the crowd gathers and the kick-off comes, the limelight must fall on a chosen few. Here, then, are those on whom it will fall tomorrow night.

BALL-CARRIERS — Northville's opponents will never see four ball carriers coming at them at once, but at times it may seem that way. Right half Bob Starnes and left half Dick Blyer take off around end, while quarterback Ed Wiltenberg goes back to pass and fullback Spike Walker smashes through.

PEPPER-UPPERS — Pep-pops in hand Northville's five cheerleaders quiet down long enough for a snuggle in the camera. From front to rear are: Mary Welch, Mary Hill, Mary Byrne, Priscilla Hillson and Jayne Hammond.

Mustangs 'Up' - - But Too Far? Squad Good, But Overconfidence Worries Coach

The Northville Mustangs went to be lighter than ever, with at least five teams in contention — Brighton, Claremore, West Blooming, and others. Last year, Northville, Ed Wiltenberg, and Dick Blyer at fullback.

The probable starting lineup, though Schipper said changes may be made, will have Bill Yalme and Jim Hammond at ends, Nelson Schrader and Bill Chizmar at tackle.

As their opener with Plymouth tomorrow night drew near, the Mustangs were picked by most sources as the probable champions of the Wayne-Oakland league this year.

But coach Ron Schipper was spending his time trying to convince the Mustangs that it will be no easy road and that they had better be prepared for a couple of early non-league struggles before they worry about a championship.

Though generally satisfied with his team's showing so far, Schipper was distraught Saturday when the Mustangs went through a listless scrimmage against Belleville.

"We have four days left," he said grimly Monday. "and we're going to work — hard."

After Plymouth, Northville will face Thurston and then play a seven-game league schedule. By then, everyone should know more about their chances.

Schipper expects the W-O league

The Coach's Corner

By RON SCHIPPER
Northville High School Football Coach

This week The Record begins a weekly column by Northville football coach Ron Schipper in which he will present an inside view of Mustang football. Questions and comments from away-chair quarterbacks and fans in general are welcomed. They should be addressed to "The Coach's Corner" and should be received by Monday morning after each game.

Welcome aboard to what I hope will be a new and interesting experience for everyone during the 1957 football season in Northville.

In beginning this column, I think it would be well to explain our basic offensive and defensive formations. This will give you an insight into what is happening down on the field and will help you follow the game and its strategy as it unfolds.

This season we will once again run from a balanced line T-formation using standard and split ends to give variation to our attack. By flanker, we mean the movement of a halfback from his regular position in the backfield to a position one to 15 yards outside our end and within a yard of the line of scrimmage. The use of flankers strengthens our passing attack since we have three men (two ends and the flanker) who can quickly get downfield as pass receivers, but it also removes a running threat from our backfield.

In an H-formation offense, the quarterback is the key man. His signing, calling, ball-handling, and kicking are vital to the success of the offense. Of course, since this position is so important, it is the one which receives most of the fans' attention. Just remember: second guessing is easy, but calling the right play at the right time is most difficult.

The defensive signal caller, although seldom talked about, has the very important job of trying to stop the opponent's attack and gain control of the ball. His job is important because one mistake by the defense may find you six points behind, while an offensive error usually leads to nothing more than a poorly-executed play.

Defensively, you will see us play a four, five, six or even eight-man line again, depending on the play situation. The defensive quarterback must know the play situation, the down, the yardage, position of the ball on the field, time remaining in the game, and so on. Each must be figured in calling defensive signals.

There has been a general feeling of enthusiasm and optimism throughout the community whenever our football team is mentioned. We share the enthusiasm, but are not as optimistic as the Detroit press or even some of our fans. Potentially, we have the makings of a fine team but there is still a great deal of work to be done. Plymouth will bring to Northville a team of experienced players with tremendous speed throughout the lineup. We are convinced that the 1957 Plymouth team will be stronger than the one that edged us, 13-12 last season.

Meanwhile, we are working hard for a successful season and promise that the football played by our team will be something of which you can be proud.

See you tomorrow night and again next week.

Merchants Near Crown; To Meet Romulus Sunday

The Northville Merchants moved within one game of the Inter-County playoff championship Sunday as they edged past defending champion Romulus, 3-2.

The Merchants will meet Romulus again Sunday at 3:30 p.m. on the Cass Benton park diamond in what could be the deciding game. A win would give Northville the title for the first time since 1954. A loss would put Northville and Romulus even in the two-game knockout series and force a final game the following Sunday.

The two teams went their way into the final by eliminating three other contending squads in recent weeks.

The victory Sunday was Northville's 11th straight, including four in the playoffs, and gave manager Steve Folino's team a record of 15-6 for the year.

For five innings it looked as if Northville was in for a rough time, as Romulus jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning on the strength of three walks and a single.

But Northville hurler Ken Kitzbeth bore down, allowing only three other safeties to Romulus.

The Merchants tied the count in the fifth when George Newton doubled Darwin Snyder and Dick Tanner home. Then in the seventh, Kitzbeth reached base on a fielder's choice, Don Thompson singled and Ron Bender blasted out a base hit to score Kitzbeth with the winning run.

Northville racked up seven hits off Romulus in the light-biting contest.

Top Runners to Go in 'Michigan Mile'

Michigan's richest race — the $60,000 Michigan Mile — will be run Saturday at the Detroit Race Course.

According to Pat Farrell, track racing secretary, the 1957 race Saturday promises to be one of the top events on the American racing scene.

Since the purse for the mile-and-a-half race was raised to $50,000 in 1953, the Michigan Mile has annually attracted some of the best running talent from other tracks around the nation.

This year is no exception. Among the top contenders for the event is the 1957 edition of the classic are the Kentucky-Derby-winning Needles, Gallant Man, 1956 Michigan Mile winner Nominie Jo and Derby runner Saturday at the Detroit Race Course.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By the Rev. Fr. John Witstock
Our Lady of Victory Church

MAN IS FREE TO CHOOSE —
When Christ, the Son of God, atoned for the sin of our first parents, it did not signify that from that moment man is not free to choose. Our Blessed Savior did not take away the freedom of the human will. If we are to be capable of proving our love for God by our obedience to God, then we must be left free for the choice that obedience involves.

In addition to Original Sin, which we inherit we are accountable for the sins we commit by our own acts. This sin we call actual sin.
We understand that there are degrees of gravity in disobedience. A youth who disobeys his parents in things that are petty or ways that are thoughtless is not convicted of lack of love for his parents. His love may be a less perfect love, but the love still is present. However, if that same son should disobey his parents deliberately in a matter that is of grave importance to them, a matter which would hurt them and prevent them very deeply, then we should conclude that the youth does not really love his parents; at least we should conclude that the youth loves himself more than he loves them.
The same thing may be said of our relationship to God. If we disobey God in a small matter, then it is not necessarily a denial of our love for God. Such an act of disobedience in which the motive is not grave, we call venial sin. A small or simple vice which harms no one, is then a small matter and does not break our friendship with God. However we must remember that every small sin lessens a little the love of God in our hearts and weakens our resistance to temptation.

All too many of us excuse our daily faults by saying, "I'm only human, it's only natural to commit sin," and so with this philosophy of mind we carelessly go in day after day without striving to improve our relationship with God. Each day man chooses his actions, good or bad. No one is forced to be good. No one religion ever had a police force to compel its people to obey laws. A man is free to choose good and decent language every day; he is free also to choose to curse and swear. If a man chooses to be good and decent he deserves a reward which is given for effort, and effort depends on the will of a person. Yes, it is more difficult to choose the good because the evil is always so tempting and seemingly pleasing. It is easy to choose the evil and the indecent; that is why there is no reward for this choice of the human will.

Politics on the Bench

JUSTICE IS UNDERGOING substantial changes in Michigan. Judges nominated by Democrats and elected in non-partisan contests will hold six of the eight seats on the Michigan Supreme Court January 1.

COMPLETION OF THE Mackinac Island Bridge and its opening to traffic November 1 will end 34 years of service for the state ferry fleet.

Another change in the making is the trend toward the doctrine of contributory negligence in auto accident cases.

The latest decision, 4 to 3, retained the doctrine that negligence must be proved. Democrats contend that the fact an accident happened proves there is negligence on the part of both drivers.

Republicans charged that when two candidates — John D. Voelker and Kavanagh — publicly campaigned for Democratic support, the court lost some of its non-partisanship.

The charge was made despite the fact that John R. Delmers, chief counsel for the Michigan State Board of Public Records, had said that the court lost some of its non-partisanship.

Roger Babson Prosperity in Hands of Retailers

Babson Park, Mass. — Competition will increase constantly and severely during the next few years. This "new era" probably means a severe business depression.

Incidentally, there will be three former attorneys general on the court. Justice Eugene F. Black, who held the office as a Republican under former Gov. Kim Sigler, and Kavanagh. However, no one is prepared to say if this is good or bad.

The first boat to be retired was the "Strata of Mackinac". Workers hurt on the job receive workmen's compensation cases. The court is putting farrows in the brow of change thinkers.
