A vigorous 1955-56 campaign "School Crossing Safety" by Russell H. Auerman and Wayne County Training schools will send two Northville safety patrol members to Washington, D.C., May 3-6. The patrolmen will receive a four-day, all expense trip to the Capital city as the guests of Automobile Club of Michigan.

The schools were chosen to send representatives to the 20th A.A. National Safety Patrol rally because of the effectiveness of their safety patrol program. The Northville delegates, to be selected from safety patrol ranks in the next two weeks, will join 140 Michigan patrolmen in Detroit May 3 to train for Washington.

Their arrival in the Capital will set off two full days of meeting government officials and seeing famous and historic sights, climaxed by a march down Constitution Ave. with over 30,000 other patrol members from all over the United States and Canada. After the parade, the largest held annually in Washington, they will return by train May 6.

LINCOLN ANNOUNCES EMPLOYMENT PLANS

Zoning Board Studies New Industrial Zones

The zoning requests of two auto transport companies and a possible re-classification of industrial districts highlighted an unusual and specially attended meeting of the Novi Zoning Board Monday night.

Farmington Supervisor Dies At 76

Ernest V. Blanchard, Farmington township supervisor for the past 15 years, died Monday at the age of 76.

Blanchard had been a Farmington township resident for 73 years.

Born in nearby Livonia in 1880, his family moved to the present family homestead at 36933 Grand River in 1883.

His death followed a recent stroke and created a temporary vacancy for the office of township supervisor. The township board is expected to act soon on appointing a successor.

Blanchard first held public office when he was elected justice of the peace in 1929. He held the post until 1940 when he was appointed to fill an unexpired term as supervisor.

Elected supervisor at the next election, he continued to hold the post until his death.

Although a farmer by vocation, Blanchard had devoted most of his time during recent years to his supervisor's duties.

Among the survivors are his wife, Lillian, and two sisters who live in Farmington, Miss Vera Blanchard and Mrs. Pearl Gibson.

Funeral services are to be held at the Farmington Universalist church today at 2 o'clock with burial at the Quaker cemetery in Farmington.

Random Notes

Since we are now well into the month of April, we might as well give a rundown of the required special observances. At present, we are in the last days of National Boy Scout and National Youth for Christ Week. Following up this week end is National Sunday School Week. Do-It-Yourself Week starts on the 10th, followed by National Garden Week, National Baby Week and National States and the pioneer days.

Boys and Girls Week. Incidentally, the week starting with April 17th has been set aside by the Internal Revenue Bureau as National Delinquent Income Tax Week.

With the coming of spring, a number of local housewives have encountered door-to-door solicitors selling everything from emerald jewelry to water softeners. For the protection of Northville residents, out of town salesmen are required to get a permit from the city hall licensing them to make calls in the area. The majority of these salesmen are no doubt of the highest character and their merchandise is probably very valuable. Perhaps it is also a good idea to water softeners. Ever notice how your appetite changes with the weather? Our dogs. We don't care for ice cream on a cold frosty winter day, but now that warm weather is here (at least part of the time) there's nothing we crave more than an ice-cream cone.

It's nice to know that under Michigan's ice cream law no imitation flavor may be used except (Continued on Page 6)

R.C. Blood Mobile Due Here April 27

The Northville Red Cross chapter will sponsor a blood bank at the Methodist Church April 27, from 2-8 p.m.

Volunteer workers will be accepting pledges, for one pint of blood, at Depositors State Bank Friday evenings, April 6, 13 and 20.

"Northville is one of the few small communities to have its own blood bank," said Mrs. A. C. Carlson, branch chairman. "Since last July over 50 pints of blood have been released to Northville residents or some member of their family."

In the past, the blood program was thought of mostly as an emergency during war, but today with automobile accidents mounting, the realization that blood transfusions are also needed in major operations and child birth, there can be no let up in keeping a good supply on hand," Mrs. Carlson said.

The local Red Cross chapter services the community within these boundaries: 8-Mile to Gagetown, to 5-Mile, to Naspier and the part of Oakland county within its city limits as well as the city itself.

Three persons have authority to release blood in order that there is always one person available. A call to Mrs. A. C. Carlson, phone 402, starts the release immediately. Red Cross then arranges transportation of the proper type blood to the hospital. Mrs. Emma Reid 684-M and Mrs. C. C. Winter 379, are co-chairmen.

"There is no charge for the Red Cross blood," Mrs. Carlson said, "all that is asked is your co-operation to secure donors to replace same when the blood mobile comes to Northville. The pint you give now may later save your life, that of a loved one or maybe someone you don't even know, but it will be a life," she said.

"I've Got A Hint..."

Mrs. Ernest Black

Two homemaking hints this week - both of them unusual and clever. It is difficult to decide which to use so here they are - both of them.

Mrs. Grace Black, with her husband, Ernest, live at 2881 1/2 Beck Rd. and was a career woman in Detroit for many years.

With limited time at home for pressing blouses and dresses, she devised a little coat-hanger trick that kept her garments from wrinkling at the neck and shoulders. She found that those extra shoulder pads lying around could be pinned to each end of a hanger, instantly changing it to an expensive padded hanger. The extra padding in the hanger saved her much time in pressing otherwise wrinkled garments.

Mrs. Black loves to cook so naturally the second hint concerns that phase of housework. When she bakes a juicy fruit pie, and finds the juice oozing out, she immediately places a few soft bread crumbs over the opening and it stops instantly. It is a hint we never heard of and a good one. Mrs. Black says she has used it for years.

MR. PAUL MARTIN is Editor and Publisher of the 100-year-old State Journal, and past President of the Michigan State Associated Press Association.

"Here at THE STATE JOURNAL... we are greatly pleased with BLUE CROSS · BLUE SHIELD"

... says Paul Martin, Editor and Publisher, The State Journal, Lansing, Michigan.

"And I am sure our employees are just as pleased with the way Blue Cross-Blue Shield protects them.

"Years ago it was something of a task to sell the hospital insurance program to an employee. The idea was new, and in many cases the restrictions were such that it was only natural for the individual to hesitate.

"That is all changed now, and the idea of hospital-medical coverage is generally accepted by folks in this organization. They want it, and are happy in it being made available at so moderate a cost.

"The protection given them and their dependents by Blue Cross-Blue Shield has afforded a feeling of security which they didn't have before. Such a feeling is conducive to happiness, thus greatly benefiting the relationship between them and management.

"One never knows when sickness or accident may strike. Blue Cross-Blue Shield recognizes just that, giving our employees that solid feeling of security for themselves and their families in an area about which they would otherwise feel quite insecure."

Did you ever try a recipe because the name was intriguing? This Bavarian Gugelhupf had such a weird name that Mrs. James Margin of Willowbrook Village was determined to find out what it was like. It turned out to be such a delicious chocolate dessert that her family called it "repeats."

When Mrs. Margin served it for company, they all asked for the recipe so if you are curious too, call us at 2440 Willow Lane in the new Willowbrook subdivision. Mrs. Margin is a master carpenter and the cabinet work in the newly paneled kitchen is an outstanding example of his work and the envy of all who see it.

The speaker for the afternoon will be Mrs. Arthur Washington, secretary of missionary personnel, Bloomington, Ill. Mrs. Washington is a member of the African Methodist church.

Northville women attending the meeting will be Mrs. Wilson Clark, Mrs. Drake Oiler, Mrs. Russell Clarke, Mrs. Paul Beard, Mrs. Russell Atchison, Mrs. Ivan Hodgson, Mrs. W. E. McCarthy, Mrs. W. H. MEMORY LANE
 Remember when ground round was fifteen cents a pound, bacon was a dime, and the butcher gave you liver for free? That was before the word "inflation" was used so freely in discussing our national economy. In these days "inflation" means the blowing up of a balloon, not the family pocket-book. Remember?

The greatest demonstration of it was the "Supreme Achievement." No where is it more gloriously expressed in terms of a positive religious faith than in the text: "That I may know Him..."

The Apostle Paul expresses it in a threefold ambition: First, he became a road-block. BUT Peter Marshall, like most wise men who see a good thing; stopped, looked and listened. The Apostle is very specific in what he wants to achieve in Christ: (1) "The power of His resurrection," Paul possessed, but a union with; not based upon human endeavor but the gift of God. Being found in Christ is the only shelter from the ravages of atomic war and the cracking up of our mortal frames in the crucible of death. Christ stands at the door of our resurrection and will not permit any one eternal foe to touch us. Let us rejoice in this new relationship for we are "accepted in the beloved."

Thirdly, Paul prays that he may know HIM. It is Christ himself that Paul knows already but he has never graduated from that school, for he wants to know Him with increasing measure, the Glory of the empty cross and deserted tomb. Such an ambition is so true in the pursuit of love. The Life of Catherine Marshall, in her pursuit of the young preacher, is a pointed illustration of this. She did her best to become a road-block. BUT Peter Marshall, like most wise men who see a good thing; stopped, looked and listened. The Apostle is very specific in what he wants to achieve in Christ: (1) "The power of His resurrection," Paul have in the living Christ, dwell in the twilight, are assured of His presence but the color of his garments are not clear—"We see through a glass darkly," but we see. To St. Paul the "Glow" was brief but the "Afterglow" was a life-long experience. Under the blazing light of the Risen Christ on the Damascus Road, and the Stone Slabs from Mt. Sinai; one was law, the other was life. "Dr. Cullough tells of a university professor who hired a mia to hit a log with the reverse side of an ax. He paid him more than the going wage. The man lasted half a day, then he gave up, explaining, "I must see the chips fly." At the time of Paul's writing the Philippian Letter, he had seen the chips fly—the Gospel had power to change men and society.

Secondly, Paul prays that he may be found in Him. He is expressing the secret of the doctrine of salvation. Justification by Christian Faith. The realization of it was the "Supreme Achievement." No where is it more gloriously expressed in terms of a positive religious faith than in the text: "That I may know Him..."

It is further resolved that notice of the change of polling places be given by publication in the Northville Record.

Moved by Stubbenvoll, seconded by Canterbury, that this resolution be adopted. Carried.

It's baseball season and something a little fellow said the other day reminded us of the children who have to sit at the piano practicing chords when they'd rather be throwing curves. "Gosh darn it, mommy," our little friend said as he plunked the piano keys, "I wish you hadn't been deprived of so many things as a child."

Pass the peace pipe and blow us some smoke rings! If we had a pipe we'd enter the 8th annual pipe smoking contest in Flint this Saturday. It's just one of those good old fashioned contests, no entry fee, no box tops, no prizes, just a lot of fun and the chance to win the title of "1955 Pipe Smoking Champ."

Each contestant furnishes only his pipe and a pack of 100 cigarettes. The contestant keeping his pipe going the longest wins the contest. Last year's champion smoked his pipe for one hour, 30 minutes and 15 seconds. We can't enter but we'd be happy to nominate two contestants: Bob Shafer and Phil Ogilvie. The contest will be held April 14, 7:30 a.m. at 140 South Saginaw, Flint.

Something that puzzles us is how small apartment and especially a house can absorb from one to fifty thousand dollars' worth of fix-and-that without this-and-that showing.

You buy an electric blanket, a television set, a floor covering, drapes, a hundred books, 75 phonograph records, 10 magazine subscriptions, three oil paintings, two stereo sets, eight lamps, two pressure-cookers and 20 cookbooks. Each gets put in its place and you forget them. Once in a lifetime somebody stops in and tells you this-and-that looks nice and you feel like falling on your knees and saying thanks.

A visitor to New Mexico was talking to a sun-browned native, and commented on the lack of rain. "Doesn't it ever rain here?" the tourist asked.

The native thought a moment and said, "Fisher, do you remember the story of Noah and the Ark, and how it rained 40 days and 40 nights?" "Sure," said the tourist. "Well," drawled the native, "we got a 40-inch that time."

I always stop and ask myself, "My car belongs to me. Where am I now, compared to where I was a year ago?"

The mortgage on my house is less. My car belongs to me. Last year we had two charge accounts. And this year we have three. The bank committees all drop in. Each time they make the rounds: "See, I'm a bigger man this year. See, I'm 175 pounds." —Lloyd Rosenfield

Merchants Given Until 30th To Make Up Their Minds

"It's all up to the Northville merchants whether Northville has a team in the Inter-County league this year," said Joe Kritch, new manager for the team.

Kritch managed the Ellsworth baseball team in Garden City last year and qualified the team for the state finals in the American Baseball Congress tournament in Frankfort, Ky. said that he is also a scout for the New York Yankees.

Kritch told the Record this week that he will manage the Northville team only if all of the merchants cooperate by April 30. "I have known quite a few of them (merchants) for over eight years," Kritch said, "I know them to be a swell bunch of men and I feel certain that they will back the team this year."

Players on the Northville team will consist of members from the championship Garden City team and the following Northville men: Steve Folino, co-manager; Gary Hicks, Buddy Bell and Cap Peters. Bell and Peters are high school students and will join the Northville team when the school semester is over.

The Northville team is scheduled to play 24 games this season with the opener slated for May 8. All home games are to be played in Cass Benton Park.

The first practice session will be held at the park Sunday, April 15 at 1 p.m. "Everyone is invited," Kritch said, "and if you want to see how a team gets spring training the way I taught for nine years in the minor league, just show up Sunday at Cass Benton Park. Everybody!"

for the Record by G. H. C. A story elsewhere on this page points out that 31 elm trees were killed in Northville last summer by Dutch elm disease. It also says that the city has again contracted with Green Ridge Nursery to spray all elm trees on city property twice this summer, and that few property owners are sufficiently concerned with the danger to their trees to have them protected.

From Farmington, only a few miles away, comes word that the city council there is considering an ordinance making it compulsory for private property owners to have their trees sprayed. The ordinance has already been discussed quite thoroughly at previous meetings of the Farmington council and is reported quite likely to be adopted.

At first thought it may seem that the city fathers in our neighboring city may be oversteering the boundary between proper governmental authority and the rights of private ownership. A little thought, however, should reveal that there is precedent for compelling individuals to protect the property rights and safety of others. Even the simple fact that dogs must be vaccinated against rabies, is an example of the right of government to force individuals to take steps to protect their neighbors. The state already has legislation compelling property owners to remove and destroy trees with Dutch elm disease.

The big lack in the present preventive program against the Dutch elm disease is that it is still a bit of a misfire. Northville sprays all trees on city property and many individuals have their own trees sprayed. But trees in the surrounding area are not sprayed and they can harbor the beetles that are the deadly killers. Many of these trees are in Cass Benton park, where spraying is done only after the infection starts. Others are on farms where disease is likely to go undetected or unchecked. The elms along the country roads are under supervision of the Wayne and Oakland county road commissions and are not protected.

If Farmington adopts its proposed ordinance it will be a step in the right direction, and one that Northville might well consider. There would be only minor moves, however. There is need for a much broader program even to the point of the state even blocking off the entire area in southeastern Michigan where the disease is prevalent and compelling drastic steps by private and governmental owners to eradicate the disease by spraying. This would cost a lot of money, of course. The alternative, and apparently a very real danger within the next 10 years, is the loss of many thousands of the giant elms that beautify the land in lower Michigan.

The Frankenmuth (Mich.) News carried a story last week which indicated the possibility of a harness racing track being constructed between Flint and Saginaw, approximately 75 miles from Detroit. Those backing the project are talking about spending $2.5 millions for the racing plant, which is a lot of money if they can lay their hands on it, in advance, and is a heck of a lot more if they have to raise it by selling stock to the public.

Racing Commissioner James H. Inglis told the Record this week that the up-state people have indicated they would want (Continued on Page 10)

To Combat Dutch-Elm-Disease 250 Trees Sprayed in City Control Program

Northville took steps last week for the third successive year to protect the 250 elm-trees on city property from Dutch elm disease which in recent years has killed thousands of stately elms in southwestern Michigan, including 31 in Northville alone last year. A crew from Green Ridge Nursery, working under a contract with the city and using the newest and most efficient equipment, sprayed all municipal elms and same on private property. Within the next few weeks Green Ridge will fulfill contracts to spray more than 10,000 elm trees in the Detroit metropolitan area, according to John M. Miller, owner of the nursery.

While the City of Northville is trying to preserve its elm trees by having them sprayed twice a year many trees in the area have never been treated and offer a ready target for the minute elm bark beetle. These are located on private property in the city, on country estates and farms in Northville and Novi townships, along the roads and in the vast network of county parks.

Miller says that only a small percentage of property owners are sufficiently aware of the danger of losing their shade trees to have them sprayed at the same time the city spraying is being done. The cost, which ranges from $5 to $8 a tree depending upon the location and size, is small in comparison with the $60 to $100 that it may cost to have a diseased tree cut down and burned.

Expensive Disease "No matter how a person decides to attempt to solve the Dutch elm disease problem, it is going to be expensive. Trees infected with the disease must be removed and burned, that is the law. Removing trees is costly. However, that isn't the whole story; removed trees will need to be replaced if shade is desired. It will be years before there is suitable shade from new trees. Miller is contracted to spray the 250 municipal elm trees in Northville over 800 elm trees at Meadowbrook; 2,200 in Bloomfield Village, 6,500 in Garden City and many others in Farmington, Brighton and Grosse Ile.

Proclamation Republican Women to Have Kick-Off Luncheon April 18

A kick-off luncheon for Republican women will be held Wednesday, April 18, 1 p.m. at Black's White House for women in the Northville, Livonia and Plymouth areas. Chairman for the buffet luncheon is Mrs. Richard L. Hackett (Northville 612).

The April 18 luncheon will be one of a series that will start the fund raising campaign. The aim of the Republican women is to increase the number of contributors to the fund-raising organizations working on the drive. The campaign will culminate in a luncheon May 21 at the Sheraton-Cadillac hotel.

Mrs. Charles A. Dean, Jr. originated the plan in Wayne county having Women run a party campaign for funds, now this is being followed throughout the state. Mrs. Dean appointed Mrs. Harold O. Love to head the Wayne county committee which includes North-west Detroit, Highland Park, Indian Village, Grosse Pointe, Dearborn, Wayne, Northville, Livonia, Plymouth, Grosse Ile, Trenton, Wyandotte and Gibraltar.

National Speaker Mrs. Julie B. Kiffin of Boston, former member of the Republican National Finance committee and one of the leading fund-raising experts of the Republican party, will speak at the kick-off luncheon. Mrs. Kiffin is attached to the Republican National headquarters in Washington for special fund-raising projects.

Ladies are you going shopping Tuesday, April 17? If so, you are invited to include a free movie in your shopping tour. The movie will be shown at the P&A theatre at 2 p.m. The story has no plot and its star is unknown, but it may turn out to be the most important motion picture shown here this year.

Produced by the American Cancer Society in cooperation with the National Cancer Institute, the film teaches a simple method of self-examination, which already has helped many women to detect early cases of cancer in themselves between regular check-up visits to family doctors.

Every woman in the community has been urged to see the film by Dr. R. M. Atchison, secretary of the American Cancer Society of the Northville branch. There will be no solicitation of funds at any time during the special program which (Continued on Page 10)

Chemical control means the spraying of or misting of trees with an insecticide that will kill the beetles before they can infect healthy trees. Many elm trees die in the same season that infection occurs. Some are killed within a few weeks. Only a few live longer than the second or third season. How Elm Trees Get Diseases When adult bark beetles leave diseased elm trees (and they can travel as far as three miles from their origin) spores of the fungus are likely to be clinging to their bodies. These spores gain entrance to healthy trees through the feeding wounds made by the adult bark beetles. Such wounds are usually made in the crotches of two and three year old twigs of healthy elm trees. The fungus may also pass through natural root grafts from diseased trees to nearby healthy trees. (Continued on Page 10)

Only Prevention Known According to Russell R. Whitten, entomologist, U.S. Department of Agriculture, the only presently known method of Dutch elm disease control is to prevent the bark beetles from carrying the fungus from diseased trees to healthy trees, in order to accomplish this, two things are important: sanitation and chemical control by use of insecticides.

Sanitation means keeping all old and dying branches pruned out of elm trees. In addition, elm trees that have died and those in low vigor from insect attacks should be removed. Beetle breeding places should be destroyed by peeling tight bark from elm wood and stumps; by burning elm logs at least six inches deep; or by spraying bark with 1% DDT in oil.

IT'S THAT TIME of year again. The baseball fans will scream "safe" and the umpire will blow "out" and then the fun will begin. Practicing running bases on home ground this week were Larry Graham and Rollin Gaab, both contenders for first base playing position with the NHS team.

Writer Says Burning Weeds May Destroy Birds' Nests

By Harold S. Hartley

The time of the year has arrived when many householders are in the habit of burning off various sized areas of edge growth and fields. Conservation authorities state that in specific instances the burning may accomplish some good, but warn that in general, the burning of natural growth is harmful.

Meadowlarks, Song Sparrows, Horned Larks and other ground nesting species of birds have already begun nests. Horned Lark eggs are almost ready to hatch. All of these birds eat thousands of insects and insect larvae of a type destructive to flowers and vegetables. Destruction of their nests, and thus their broods, can only result in an increase of insect pests, to say nothing of the loss to man of birds possessing great beauty in appearance and song.

In addition, indiscriminate burning of "weeds" (this may mean wildflowers) and natural ground litter deprives the soil of enriching matter. Owners of large acreages, particularly, should consult conservation authorities before doing extensive burning.

Bluebird Houses

Those home owners living on the outskirts of Northville and Novi who wish to put up Bluebird houses, still have time, because, though these birds are already nesting, the female has at least two broods per season.

Eggs should be about 8 inches from floor to roof, 5 inches by 5 inches more or less in width and depth, and have a side hinged to facilitate cleanup between broods and seasons. The roof should slant and overhang sides to keep out the rain. The entrance hole should be about 6 inches from the floor and not more than 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Either a few small holes should be drilled near the roof to provide ventilation, or else one side can be nailed a little below the roof to form a crack.

Place boxes on fenceposts from 2 to 6 feet above the ground in the OPEN and away from the house.

The proximity of meadows, orchards and water assists in attracting Bluebirds, and also Tree Swallows, a bird similarly beautiful and valuable.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN, "JUST FACE LIFTING"?

EVERY NOW AND THEN, we run across someone who seems to think that 1956 cars do not offer anything really new—just a little face lifting from the year before.

The Thrill is New

And the surest way for you to find out how right we are, is to sample a 1956 Buick yourself.

As we said before, this is the best Buick yet—by a wide measure—and when you learn the prices we're quoting, you'll know why this Buick is one of the three best sellers in today's market.

It takes a lot more than face lifting to produce such a winner as this.

The Rido is New

To coil springs on all four wheels, a brawny X-braced frame, and torque-tube drive, the engineers have added deep-ole shock absorbers to give new softness, new buoyancy, new comfort, and a brand-new "sense of direction" handling response.

The Power is New

All 1956 Buicks have new and mighty 322-cubic-inch V8's—with record highs in power and compression—with unique new double "T" manifold to step up efficiency.

The Teens Speak Up

Inspired by a recent article in Life magazine devoted to "telephoning" among teenagers, the "Record" decided to get the opinions of NHS students. The questions asked were:

Do you have a telephone?
How many calls do you make a day? How many do you receive?
How long do you talk?
What do you talk about?
Do your parents set a time limit for your calls?

WAYNE, 17, senior, said that she doesn't use the phone as much as she used to. "I make one or two calls a day and get three or four," she said. Pat mentioned that when she talks to girls the conversation last about 30 minutes, but with boys it's usually only ten minutes because "they don't like to talk too much," she said. Pat said that she talks about dates, boys, things that go on and anything. "My mother tells me to get off the telephone once in awhile," Pat said, "but not too often."

CAROLYN BURKMAN, 17, senior, said that her week ends are busier than her week nights. "I make about two calls a day during the week and about seven on a week end day," she said. The number of calls coming in are about the same. Carolyn said that her telephone conversations average 15-20 minutes and she talks about "everything." "Sometimes I get angry if I talk too long," Carolyn said, "but my parents are pretty lenient." There are three telephones in the Burkman home, "and sometimes my little brother picks up one of the phones and listens in," Carolyn laughed.

MARK CARROLL, 15, sophomore, testifies to the fact that a telephone isn't really necessary. "We move so often," he said, "we don't have time to have one installed, but my social life doesn't suffer." Mark said he uses a neighbor's telephone perhaps once a week. "I make arrangements in person," he said, "I don't need a telephone."

WAYNE NASH, 16, freshman, said that he uses the telephone "once in a while." "I talk boys mostly," he said, "and talk about 15 minutes." Wayne said that he makes about five calls a day and

Pontiac Comm. Bank Takes Option In Novi

Harwood Discloses Deal To Bd. of Comm. "Will Build...Someday," Says Bank Officer

A Pontiac bank has taken option on a building site in Novi, according to an announcement made last week.

The Community National Bank of Pontiac was named by Novi businessman Leo Harwood as having taken option on site owned by Harwood on 11-Mile Rd. just east of Grand River.

Harwood made the announcement at the monthly meeting of the Novi Board of Commerce. He cited the efforts of several other Novi businessmen in working out the transaction.

When contacted early this week, an officer of the Community National Bank of Pontiac confirmed the option story but said that he did not know any additional facts concerning the bank's plans.

"Presumably, we will build a bank on the site sometime," he commented. "However, we will have no public statement to make at this time."

At present, merchants and residents of the Novi area must go to either Northville or Walled Lake for banking services.

Annexation, Rights, Privileges Discussed

Twp. Board Seeks Bargaining Position; Citizens Question "Rights" and "Privileges"

A last minute verbal skirmish and a discussion on annexation enlivened an otherwise quiet township meeting Monday night.

The treasurer's report, a school tax breakdown, minimum requirements, re-activation of Novi civil defense and a possible reduction in fire rates were among the regular items of business discussed by the board.

Request Annexation Following a reading of the township financial report to Treasurer Charles Trickey, Jr., Supervisor Frazer Staman read the board letter from the Northville Board of Education.

The letter requested permission to annex to the City of Northville a tract of land directly west of Oakwood Subdivision. American School is situated on a portion of the tract in question.

The letter suggested that the Novi township board allow Northville school board members Nelson Schrader and Rural Clark to appear before them and present their case for annexation of the area.

After the letter had been read, Staman told the board he had found surveyors in the area preceding work covering an area from Novi Rd. all the way west to Taft Rd.

Having been told by the surveyors that they were hired by the City of Northville, Staman ventured the opinion that other board members that perhaps Northville planned to go further than indicated in this (the school board's) request.

Staman explained the township position to fellow supervisors saying, "According to law, if a city has less than 15,000 people and there are no people in the area to be annexed, the township as a whole has no vote."

"You mean they could come all the way down here if they get the authority to set up new voting precinct boundaries and where they were set up."

"Right," Staman replied. "But the township general says they can't have any special election on it."

Time To Bargain "Let's have our own school board sit in on the meeting. . . it might be good," Trickey offered.

"We could have something out straightened some of the school boundary lines. . . Trickey added.

The following eighth grade pupils were in the school spelling match. Claudia Parks, Paul White, Janet Rice, Dorothy Wood and Dorothy Wood.

After Pritchard began to protest, Staman grabbed a letter from his portfolio and announced it was a copy of a letter from the Oakland County Dept. of Health to Ernest Pitchford, 1387 E. Walled Lake Drive.

Staman told the board it doesn't conform with our own township requirements. "What more do you want, Ernie?"
