homes, became one giant stride nearer reality in the eyes of board of commerce members last week.

Speaking before the Novi businessmen's group, Thomp-

He revealed that final plans for a sewerage disposal plant to accommodate the project are now being examined by

"It's a brand new thing and the state has required that our plant he 95 percent efficient," said Campbell. He pointed out that this is the highest rate of purity ever required in Michigan. The final approval and construction of the disposal plant is actually the reason for preventing earlier construction of homes, Campbell said. He added that the company would try to schedule the completion of the first homes with the completion date of the disposal plant.

"Novi is in the path of progress. It's like a steam roller and can't be stopped," he continued. "But proper planning can avoid building tomorrow's slums today," he cautioned. Campbell called upon township officials to adopt proper zoning and subdivision regulations. He said the area had not vet been spoiled by poor development and could easily become one of the finest communities in the state. He urged officials to call upon the experience of reputable developers to help Novi in its planning. Getting back to Lincoln Village, Campbell said the homes would probably range in price from $18,000 to $24,000. "They'll all have a maximum size lor for the price of the home," he added. Lots will range from 80 to 110 foot frontage. "There will be no 'row housing' or duplication," Camppell said. He added that planning included recreational areas (maybe even a swimming pool), and sites for churches

While the project was tentatively planned for completion in five years, Campbell said it may take seven to eight years. He concluded by praising the cooperation and assistance given his firm by Novi officials and promised that Lincoln Village would be "the best job we can do . . . one that will make Novi and Thompson-Brown proud."

THE MAIN LINE

When the trans-continental railroad was being built across the vast stretches of the west the story is told of a separate crew that hauled rails and ties to an isolated spot and began construction in both directions to mee the other construction crews from east and west. The crews worked diligently and built several miles of track. Weeks passed before they recognized their surveyor had made a mistake on right-of-way. They were several had built an isolated piece of track that could not be connected to the main line.

This story is similar in meaning to the way many of us live. Romans 10:3 reads "For hey being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God."
