By BILL SLIGER

While Northville's "clean-up" campaign had most of its activities concentrated into the month of May, the program still continues.

Sponsored by the Coordinating Council, the drive was given real zip by the enthusiastic leadership of John Canterbury.

Many of its projects are just now beginning to show results. At least four new trash receptacles will soon be placed in the downtown area, gifts of the city, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Optimist Club, Methodist Church, Business and Professional Women's Club, and Garden Club.

Work is underway to install new signs at the approaches to the city as a welcome to visitors and listing the three local service clubs.

The Novi road approach to Northville was improved by the county as a direct result of efforts of the clean-up committee.

Canterbury started right at the top with the C & O railroad. A letter to the president of the company brought a personal response from the district manager.

Work is underway to install new signs at the approaches to the city as a welcome to visitors and listing the three local service clubs.

Still in the determination stage is an official flower or bush for the city. Nurseryman John Miller heads the committee in this project.

Under the present plan, the selection will be made before fall and a large-for purchase of the choice will be made so that residents may acquire them at the lowest possible cost.

Novi township board members recently decided to check into the possibility of a cooperative phone number service for fire and police protection between Willow Lake-Wixom and Novi.

It would help solve the night duty problem that small communities face if one central office could dispatch calls for the entire area.

Along the same lines the Northville city council discussed the idea of a cooperative police plan with Northville township.

Many township residents call upon city police when an emergency arises and the local officers respond with aid until Wayne county sheriff's patrol arrives.

With our township population growing, it seems logical that such a program would be desirable. It would probably have to be worked out with the blessing and participation of the sheriff's patrol.

Novi's Leon Dochow and Eugene Choquet deserve high praise for their work in creating interest and activity in Civil Defense. This important community function is all too often neglected because of the threat of an attack or disaster by enemy forces seems so far removed.

This didn't dampen the enthusiasm of these newly appointed co-directors, however. They've boosted the membership in Novi's CD unit from 10 to 200. They keep members busy learning first aid and other safety measures, and in addition have set up a group of auxiliary police officers.

At the beginning, the directors used the well-proven "door prize" method to gain attendance at meetings.

Babson Park, Mass. I do not know Lebanon, but I have for many years studied Egypt. Although Russia was the brain of the present Lebanon...

Administration probably did the right thing by withdrawing. Tried Suez Tolls. Nasser's next attempt to get funds was by building the Suez Canal.

Well Oiled Williams' Machine Blocks Bagwell

REPUBLICANS have an energetic candidate running for governor at a time when voters have become used to energy, sparkle and action.

When an important vacancy occurs, Williams names a worker in a lesser post to fill it. This creates two appointments where only one vacancy existed.

Williams chooses his appointees carefully. Few have fallen short of the intelligence, diligence and stamina demanded of important public jobs.

It is safe to assume that none will vote for Bagwell and, maybe, they will even distribute Williams' bumper stickers and help fill a hall occasionally for one of his speeches.

Could Youth Committee in Novi Help 'Bad Johnny'?

How can "bad Johnny" be kept from really going bad? "Bad Johnny" is the youngster who has committed his first offense, who is in a jam but is not a hardened delinquent, or who simply is having trouble at home and needs help.

It is basic approach: instead of turning problem youths and first offenders over to the juvenile courts, put them under jurisdiction of a committee of responsible leaders in their own community.

It has the tendency to keep young men working in state government, and for the party.

An interested person (policeman, teacher, neighbor, even father) finds a child emotionally disturbed, breaking the law, or otherwise in need of help. He reports it to the local committee.

What does it cost? Only enough for the office and office supplies, since committee members work voluntarily and social workers are supplied by the county or other agencies.

Does Novi need such a program? Local juvenile delinquency is not great at present, but there are a number of potentially explosive situations, as in all communities. And with growth of the area, the need is certain to grow.

When could it start? Almost immediately if the township board or some other group takes the initiative.

Will it work? Judge Moore, one of the nation's leading authorities on juvenile trouble, thinks so.

Novi, Wixom Follow Trend in Primary

Novi and Wixom followed the county and state trend Tuesday in naming Democratic and Republican slates to oppose each other in November's biennial election.

In both communities, Democrats out-republicans, and each party's incumbents won handsily.

Novi, normally a Republican stronghold, Democratic outdid the GOP by about an 87 margin. In Wixom, the Democrats had nearly a 2-1 lead.

Democrats went along with the state lead in re-nominating Governor G. Mennen Williams, and following suit with John Swainson for lieutenant governor and Phillip Hart for U.S. senator.

Republicans likewise re-nominated their favorites, including Charles Potter for U.S. senator, William S. Bromfield for U.S. representative, L. Harvey Lodge for state senator, and a host of incumbents Oakland county officers.

Named as local delegates to the Democratic county convention were Herbert Koester, two-time candidate for Novi supervisor, and three other Novi men.

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."
—Samuel Johnson

WHICH ONE is glamer boy? Well, it's the one in the middle, James Kaler III, son of Dr. and Mrs. James Kaler, who have just returned "home" to Northville and Maybury Sanitarium, after a few years absence.

One upon a time there was a fox named Raydie. "Imagine buying a fox!" says Mrs. James Kaler, "but we did... and we had a goose... and a greenhouse..." Dr. and Mrs. Kaler are back in Northville after a 4½ years' stay in Kendallville and Richmond, Indiana, where the doctor was busy, first, as medical director and superintendent of his own, Smith-Elliott hospital, and later, in private practice.

The Kalers lived in Northville some 2 years, while Dr. Kaler was Senior Physician in charge of the children's unit at Maybury Sanitarium. He is a Senior Physician once again. They returned 3 weeks ago, with their own newcomer, James III, just two years old this June. The doctor and his wife confess to being avid animal and vegetable enthusiasts. "But when the baby arrived, all the animals and birds had to go!" Mrs. Kaler said. "They did own a fox named Raydie, and a goose named Gandy... an African-Chinese species, no less. Raydie came to the Kalers' after he was plowed up with a nest of brother cubs in a farm field. "The poor farmer didn't know what to do with them, so he put them up for sale," Mrs. Kaler tells. "We bought him for $5 dollars." In time, Raydie established a loyal camaraderie with the big neighbor farm dog, Mickey. "That was unusual, because Mickey was trained to keep things like him away from chickens," Mrs. Kaler says.

from the PASTORS STUDY

By the Rev. Fr. John Wittstock
Our Lady of Victory Church

SUCCESS, REAL AND APPARENT

A wedding anniversary is a day of memories, a day of taking inventory. Is the marriage a real, not just an apparent success? The world looks for home ownership, a late model car, good clothes, to evaluate a marriage on an anniversary day.

The story is told of one woman who waited until she was in her late twenties to marry, thereby "waiting till she had good sense to make a choice" as the saying goes. She had worked hard and had many friends. She thought she knew the man she was going to marry.
 He seemed a devout Christian. He had a good reputation as did the members of his family.
 After the marriage she observed that he had a dubious spirit of dissimulation to one of the Ten Commandments, even though he kept the others religiously. In fact, he was very excite-ing about most other things, so much so he was extremely hard to live with.

The woman's dream of a perfect marriage was shattered, but she overcame the obstacle and did her duty best. Many years later she says happily that she has applied the real test

Alexander in 17th Year as Legion Adjutant

Hele Alexander, former commander of Northville American Legionnaires, is now in his 17th year
as Department Adjutant of the American Legion.

In this position he serves as secretary,
 working fulltime as Legion headquarters in the Veterans' Memorial post level, also serving the Lloyd G. Greene Post in Northville for 18 years. A charter member of that post, Alexander was also its commander for two years.

A resident of 210 Mill street in Northville, Alexander began as a charter member of the Northville post before the Plymouth post was organized.

Other Legion offices held by Alexander are past commander of the 17th District and department instance officer, which he held for five years.

In 1942 he resigned from the Plymouth Savings Bank to assume the adjutant position.

He entered the army in May of this year.

The 23-year-old officer is the son of Louis O. Parlatto, 515 Bell St., Northville.

Braves Win Title, Enter State Tourney

The Northville Braves have won
 the "Northville Recreation League
 series" and will enter the state-
 wide Michigan Recreation Association tournament next week.
 The Braves won the turnary spot
 with two wins—a one-hitter and
 a two-hitter—over the Rosedale
 Tigers.

Meanwhile, the first game of the series—a 2-1 decision for Rosedale
 —was wiped from the record books
 because of faulty umpiring, which
 left the Braves with a perfect 2-0
 record for the year.

Craig Bell hurled Northville to its second win, 10-2 Monday. Allowing but one hit, Bell struck out 11
 and was aided by a passed ball.
 Northville actually won it in the
 first inning when Bell drove in Dan
 Brown for a run and later scored
 himself on a passed ball.
 The Braves added seven runs in
 the fourth inning outburst, highlighted by Ed Beard's single and Judy's
 double, both with the sacks full.

To win their first game of the
 series, the Braves had to come from behind with a five-run rally in the second after trailing, 3-1. Successive singles by Jim Judy, Dan Brown, Craig Bell and Mike Zavril combined with a single by Jim Riley and a walk to Tom Long for the five runs.
 That was the ball game, but the Braves added four more insurance runs on combinations of singles and walks and stolen bases. Final score:
 10-5, with 12 hits for the Braves.
 Dan Brown gave up two hits, and got out of a bases-loaded situation in the sixth by striking out two batters.

The first game ended with Rosedale holding the disputed 2-1 decision. Northville's lone run came in the third on hits by David and Larry Angove.

The Braves had other scoring chances, but they were either thrown away by careless base running or nullified by the protested calls.

Braves Win Title, Enter State Tourney

The Northville Braves have won
the "Northville Recreation League
series" and will enter the state-
wide Michigan Recreation Association tournament next week.

The Braves won the turnary spot
 with two wins—a one-hitter and
 a two-hitter—over the Rosedale
 Tigers.

Meanwhile, the first game of the
 series—a 2-1 decision for Rosedale
 —was wiped from the record books
 left the Braves with a perfect 2-0
 record for the year.

Craig Bell hurled Northville to
 its second win, 10-2 Monday. Allowing but one hit, Bell struck out 11
 and was aided by a passed ball.
 Northville actually won it in the
 first inning when Bell drove in Dan
 Brown for a run and later scored
 himself on a passed ball.

The Braves added seven runs in
 the fourth inning outburst, high-
 lighted by Ed Beard's single and Judy's
 double, both with the sacks full.

To win their first game of the
 series, the Braves had to come from

Throws No-Hitter Against Champs

Jerry French pitched a 4-0 no-hitter for the Giants over the Yanks
last week, but the Yanks' victory had nullified the championship of the Northville knot-hole baseball league.

In other final action last week,
 Daly Hill honored with one on to lead the Doggers to a 5-3 win over the Red Sox. The Giants doubled the Doggers, 17-4, and the Yanks defeated the Red Sox, 8-4.
 Final knot-hole baseball standings:
 Yanks 9 3
 Giants 8 7
 Doggers 8 7
 Red Sox 8 7

In knot-hole softball action,
 the Cubs walloped the Lions, 45-3,
 and another in the Tigers, 6-3,
 the Bobcats defeated the Bears.
 Northville collected the initial seven tallies on the Yanks, added two more in the third on three hits, and tacked on single runs in the fourth and fifth.

Clareville reversed things in its second meeting with Northville, connecting for four straight hits.
 Clareville scored three times in the first and added two in the third and another in the fifth for a 6-3 win over Northville.
 Northville picked up two countenances in the fourth and another in the fifth, but was stymied from three on.

Another first-stringing lead was enough for Bill's Market to slip Northville, 3-1 on the muddly Cubs

Racing Now Shifts

Michigan's harness racing scene shifts from Northville Downs to the huge Wolverine Harness Raceway plant near Monday for the richest stakes program ever offered in the state.

The program includes eight stakes carrying a value of $74,000 which will bring the nation's outstanding pacers and trotters of all ages to the Detroit area.

On Rallies in First Inning

Northville's class F team has found a sure-fire formula for success against the Yankees, and then hold on.

The "secret" gave Northville a split in four games last week, and both times the contest was wrapped up in the first inning.</

Is Your Child Ready for Kindergarten?

This is the time of year when five-year-olds and their parents are looking forward to the opening of school. Happily for parents, most children look forward to going to school with joyful anticipation. It was not by sheer chance that the age of five or six was selected as an appropriate time for children to start school; it was based upon the observations and study of experienced child development experts which revealed that most children are ready to adjust to the shift from home to school at this age.

Dr. Arnold Gesell, for many years Director of the Yale University School of Medicine, relates the lives to six age to school by pointing out that at this stage in his development the child is in the one period in his life when his behavior is as nearly perfect as it will ever be. This is the delightful period in the child's development when he is beginning to experiment with everything he can reach and the period which follows when his behavior is erratic and extreme. It is this period that Professor Helen Shacter describes in her interesting book, "These Are Your Children," as an age of conforming, a comfortable age. If you are to help your child get ready to start school, whether it be in kindergarten or the first grade, one should bear in mind some of the attributes which the child takes to the kindergarten. Remember, too, that each child is just himself, and will not fit every description or prediction of the so-called typical child.

Though the beginner is usually more independent than his doing parents think, his self-reliance may be destroyed by thoughtless parents. One thing he confidently expects is that someone will be at home to greet him when he returns from school. It is important that he learn from experience before he reaches school age that when he enters school they will have already learned how to take care of themselves. By the time the child is ready to enter school, he should be able to dress himself from the skin out. The difficulties encountered by small children with clothing can be simplified by careful selection of clothing designed to lessen the dressing task. Small hands and clumsy fingers can operate a zipper much better than a button. Outer garments and footwear should be plenty big so that two or three inches of

Michigan Fights Loss of Water

MICHIGAN WILL FIGHT to effect throughout Michigan in the last drop Chicago's plan to divert water from Lake Michigan.

"In view of the exceedingly low levels of the Great Lakes at the present time, this basin needs every drop of water that belongs to it," Attorney General Paul T. Adams said.

Adams became the rallying point for Michigan's fight shortly after he was appointed to fill the vacancy created when Thomas Kavanagh was elevated to the Supreme Court.

THE LATEST BATTLE centers on Chicago's proposal to increase its diversion of Lake Michigan water by 1,000 cubic feet per second.

But Adams fears other governmental units will be encouraged to increase their diversion if Chicago is allowed to take more water out of Lake Michigan without returning it.

Adams said the "future prosperity of the Great Lakes Basin is in grave danger of deterioration" unless the Great Lakes states insist upon adherence to a firm principle against diversion.

ALREADY, ILLINOIS' DuPage county water commission has given indications it intends to take water from Lake Michigan and divert it to several communities, said Adams.

And then, instead of returning the water to Lake Michigan, it would discharge the water into the Illinois Waterway.

SEVERAL YEARS AGO there were rumblings that some communities in Ohio were planning to dig canals or pipelines from Lake Erie to get water for industrial and agricultural uses. But Adams said he has been assured by Ohio officials they will not "contemplate any such diversion."

Adams said the day may come when it will be impossible to halt all of the demands on Great Lakes water — unless the Great Lakes states insist at all times that there be no invasion of the Great Lakes Basin by areas and by persons who form no part of that basin.

Hey! Whyn'tcha Get A Horse

Detroit, Stanley Wisniewski was just driving along Friday. He dutifully brought his sign at Edward Hines and 7 Mile road. But before Stanley could get up again, he received a red jolt in the rear. He was Gordon Keith Bray of Farmington, contemplating. Bray says he took his eyes off the road for a moment to look at some horses, and didn't realize his own skid was so close. The price of contemplation these days: $50 in auto damages for Wisniewski; $75 for Bray.

Work Published In Poetry Digest

A poem by Harold S. Hartley, former Northville PTA president, was published this month in the nationally-circulated "Poetry Digest". The poem was inspired by a visit to Garelick's Gallery in Detroit, one of the leading art galleries in the Midwest. It reads: Garelick's Gallery There autumn's golden snowflakes stain

New Veterinarian In Northville

Veterinarian, Dr. A. T. Heslop and his wife, Mildred, are newly established in Northville to doctor your sick animals, large or small. Dr. Heslop is a June graduate of Michigan State university. His wife, a registered nurse, formerly worked at Northville State hospital. She, along with other vet wives, the doctor says, received her "P.N.T." (Push Hubby Through) degree at graduation, the culmination of a short assistant's course in animal care and surgery. Being a nurse, Dr. Heslop says, Mrs. Heslop is more than competent. The Heslops have bought the building formerly occupied by Burrells Excavating service at 5106 Seven Mile road. His clinic will occupy the downstairs. The doctor says he will have a mixed practice, that is, the treatment of large and small animals.

Readers Speak Up: HIS STREAM STILL A MESS

To the editor: So Novi Ordinance 42 states that no one can build a cement or steel swimming pool and fill it with nice clean water without first paying $22 and shall not use it unless adequate health measures are taken periodically to prevent the spread of disease according to ordinances of the state and Oakland County health departments.

Yet when the new expressway went through and we had water over our heads, I was told by the health department they could do nothing about it. When I also pointed out that, besides the health problem, someone could drown in it, I was laughed at over the phone. Yet, if you have nice clean water, put a fence around it!

The health department was here in June. I was not home. I called him back only to be told that we did not have a health problem, and that anyway it would be a civil suit. As long as no one has jurisdiction over the lake or dams in this natural stream, we have figured out a way to cover up this slime and muck. That is to make a lake out of it. We will put in a real dam.

(My neighbors and we wish that The Novi News for the letter you printed last spring: "Do not bring the fire truck down Taft road — you won't get through." The road was fixed that same week.)

Thank you, D. M. Parkinson 27110 Taft road

Alone With Him

It is little wonder that most Christians live on such a low spiritual plane when so little time is spent alone with Him. Yes, we pray for things, and we pray when we get into trouble and need help, but how little we seek the fellowship of just being in His presence. A busy pastor was alone in his study on a Saturday evening. The week past had been filled with so many interruptions. Saturday had been such a hectic day, and he had retired to his study to be alone. Before long he heard little footsteps coming up the stairs. The pastor called out: "Don't come up here, stay down stairs." But the patter of little feet continued to climb the stairs. Again the pastor called out: "I told you to stay down stairs. I don't want you up here." The little one just kept coming until she reached the top of the stairs and appeared in the doorway of her father's study. "What do you want?" "I don't want anything today, I just came up here to be with you." What a lesson is taught to us by this child. How pleasing it would be to the Lord to come into His presence, just to be with Him.

GI's Life in Lebanon Is Hot, Dry, Lonely

Almost forgotten in the international top-of-war over Lebanon and the Middle East is the individual American GI who is actually living on the powder keg. Last week, Corporal Harry Conner, whose home is at 21640 Novi road, gave his wife this picture of the GI's lonely life in Lebanon. "It's real dark out now, and it's only eight-thirty. I'm writing this letter by candlelight. It's kind of hard on the eyes but it's better than nothing. "I'm back out in the field again. We moved out the day before yesterday when the army took over the place where we were. I did manage to get this paper and envelopes before we left. "You ought to see where we have the post office set up. It's in a car sitting on a railroad track. We're moving out in a few days. Where we're going this time, nobody knows yet.

First Day Of School Coming Up

Parents of fall kindergarten children were urged this week to register their children for school as soon as possible. The principal's office at Novi will be open daily from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. next week for registration. Some 85 children are expected to begin kindergarten on Monday, September 8. The first week's schedule will run as follows: —Tuesday, September 2, teachers only. —Wednesday, September 3, morning only, grades four through eight. —Thursday, September 4, morning only, kindergarten through third grade. —Friday, September 5, full day of classes for all grades. The Wednesday and Thursday meetings are both scheduled at Novi. Students will be assigned to schools and rooms at that time. Those assigned to the new elementary school near Willowbrook will report there Friday. Superintendent William Medlyn said this week that construction of the new school is well advanced and the multi-purpose room will be ready to open in the fall. "Novi is in good shape as far as the school is concerned," Medlyn said. He has been interviewing and signing teachers throughout the summer and anticipates no trouble completing the faculty.

Mysterious Injury Strikes Boy at Park

15-year-old youth was resting comfortably this week after suffering internal injuries at the Novi township park beach last Sunday. The 15-year-old son of Mrs. Stella Gable, 4613 West road, was severely bleeding and had to be rushed to Pontiac General hospital. Novi Patrolman Vern Loefler had answered a stolen-boat call from Ancl Harris, 1521 East Lake drive. Searching the shoreline, he spotted the boy and his mother, who had been housed or even swimming in the water. Loefler ordered them to his headquarters, but his buddy dove overboard and disappeared through a hole in the steel plant for five weeks. Some 140 striking employees returned to their jobs by week ago Monday. An additional 50 employees who had been laid off were called back to help catch up on back orders. The strike, which began July 8, centered around wage demands. Terms of the settlement were not announced.

Two Youth Seized In Car, Boat Theft

When you're in a stolen boat and a policeman points a gun at you, you have two choices: give up, or take to the water. That's what happened to two Detroit area youths made different choices last Saturday night, but both ended in jail. Novi Patrolman Vern Loefler had answered a stolen-boat call from Ancl Harris, 1521 East Lake drive. Searching the shoreline, he spotted the boy and his mother, who had been housed or even swimming in the water. Loefler ordered them to his headquarters, but his buddy dove overboard and disappeared through a hole in the steel plant for five weeks. ### Kids OK in Wreck, But Parents Hurt

Seven children escaped serious injury Saturday afternoon, but three adults were critically hurt when their station wagon was struck broadside by another car at Novi road and 12 Mile. Injured were: —David L. Mengyan, 2031 West Lake drive, head injuries. —His wife, Betty, internal injuries. —William Patterson, a roofer at the Mengyan home, 10 broken ribs, spleen injuries, possible skull fracture. Mengyan was treated at Pontiac General hospital and released. His wife is still in that hospital, and Patterson is in critical condition at St. Joseph's Memorial hospital. The seven children were not injured. Police Chief Lee Begole said the Mengyans, returning from a company picnic in Farmington, were struck by a car which ran a stop sign at Novi road and 12 Mile. Mengyan has not signed a complaint against the other driver, a Detroit man.

Wixom Road Funds Due

Wixom will receive $3,872.95 this month as its second quarter share of state gas and weight tax rebates. The money must be spent on local roads and streets. Altogether, state gas and weight tax rebates totaled $400,000,000 in the second quarter of 1958. The state gets 47 percent, but 35 percent of that is in incorporated cities and villages 18 percent.

Kindergarten: What's It For?

In less than a month, scores of our children will put down their dolls and blocks and get ready for their first taste of school. They've been talking about kindergarten for months, wondering what it's like and what to expect. These questions probably puzzle parents too. What is kindergarten—an organized play period, or the first big step toward school? For his explanation of this view, plus a look at other problems surrounding kindergarten, see the second in a series of "Child with Parents" on page 11.
