Dads Shouldn't be Pals

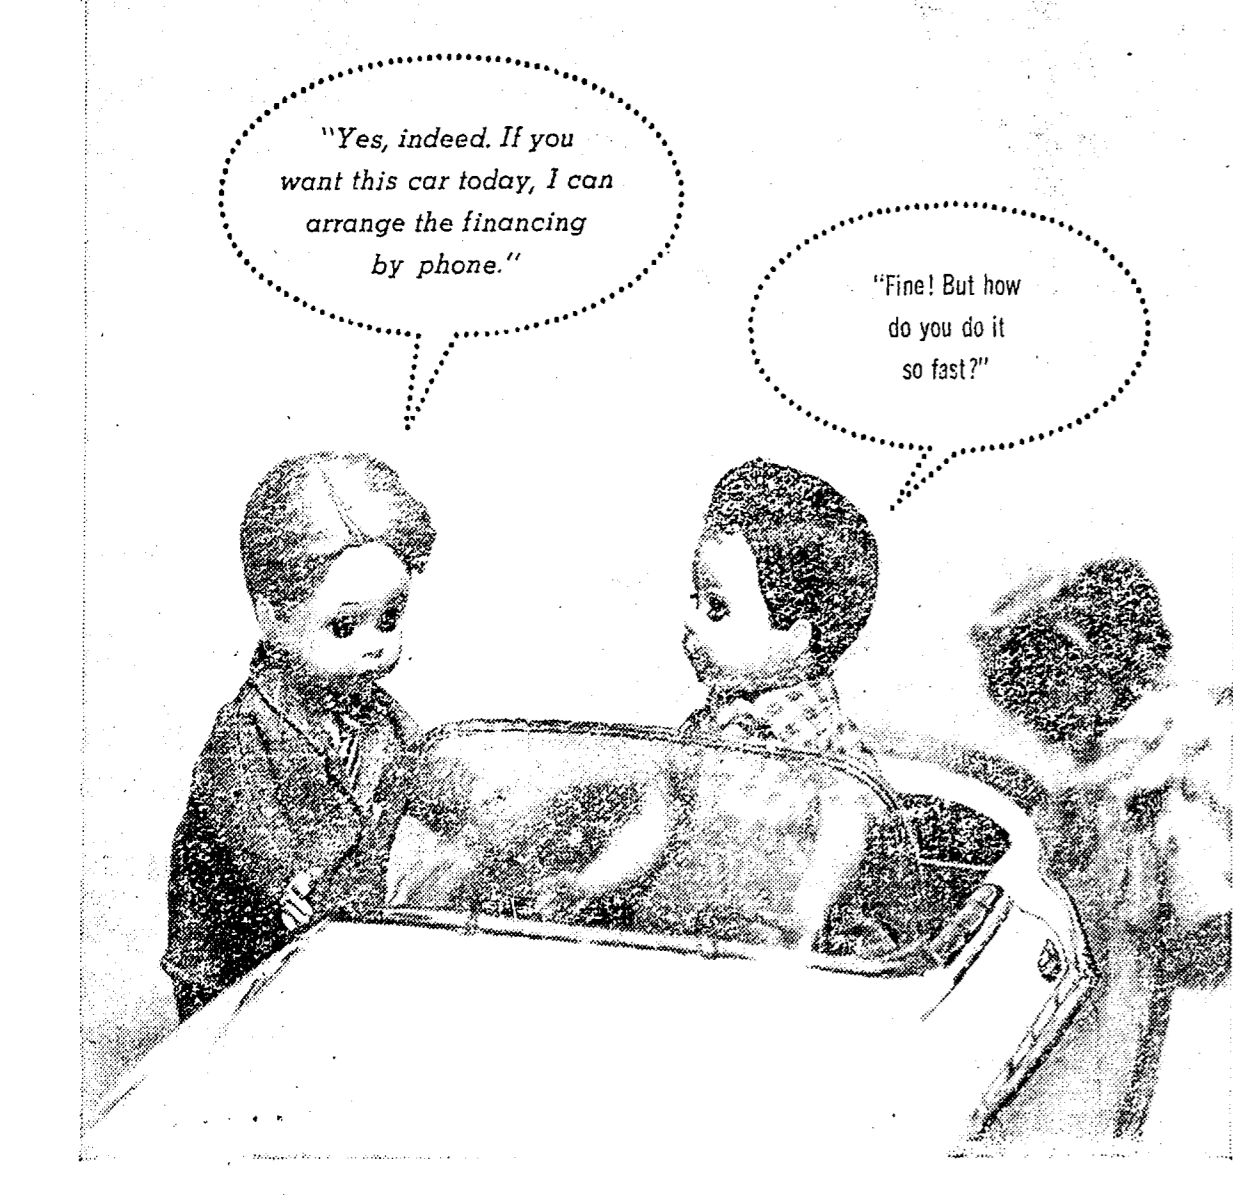

A common notion among fathers of young boys is that they should try to be "pals" to their boys. Most of them don't really mean to be a pal in the true sense of the word but think they should spend some time doing the things boys like to do with their son.

The wise father shares his boy's activities as a father rather than as a pal. He is careful to see that his son respects him as a father. He is more mature person who knows how to enforce the rules of games played together between father and son.

The father who insists on being a pal has never learned that his small son doesn't want to play games or take part in sports with a grown man who behaves like his friends in the group.

Roger Babson There's Still Hope for Republicans

Babson Park Mass. — While it was on the ocean returning from Africa, an important Congressional election took place. In looking over the newspaper headlines I find they range from "A blow to Eisenhower" to "The GOP is dead".

When the Democratic Party was "dead" I was assistant secretary of labor during World War I. I became well known as a labor leader. I was acquainted with Cordell Hull, who later became secretary of state.

Michigan Mirror State's Broke . . . Seeks New Tax Revenues

MICHIGAN'S WEEK of organized chest-pounding and self-promotion next May 1959 will have a new slogan to guide the way. "We're proud of Michigan." Behind the slogan will be thousands of workers, from giant industrialists to small businessmen and farmers — all dedicated to the principle that success is a Michigan product.

OUR STATE GOVERNMENT is broke. Top officials headed by Gov. Wilbur Mills discovered after the November 4 election that less than $10,000,000 remained in the treasury and school aid payments were $16,000,000 behind.

What All Means My greatest surprise has been taking this past week with business. I thought no more about this until I received an invitation to a dinner for the purpose of revising the Democratic party. Even then I thought nothing about it until Mr. Hull called me to the platform and introduced me to the audience as "Roger W. Babson, who saved the Democratic party."

The orchestra will play another Tchaikovsky ballad and traditional Christmas-time favorites, "The Nutcracker Suite," also "La Boutique Fantasque" by Rostislav-Raspchin, the story of a toy shop come to life, and Corelli's "Christmas Concerto".

The last piece, written at the start of the 18th Century, will feature first chair symphony musicians in solo roles.

The concerts are held in the gymnasium of Plymouth high school. For the convenience of families with small children, a nursery is provided by the girl scouts for a small charge in Room 15 of the school.

Symphony Society members may reserve seats by calling Mrs. Harriet Randall at GL-2-1828 before Sunday.

Members will be asked to present their membership cards, since space for reserved seats is limited, and an attempt will be made to give them to those who are actually entitled to them.

"COCKTAIL PARTY" — Several Northville homes were the scene of pre-J-Hop "Cocktail Parties" for celebrating high school students last Friday evening. Host Chuck Hix passed the coles to (left to right): Gary Tremor, Allen Wakenhut and Jean Baskins in the Hix home on Rayson street.

Weather Clouds J-Hop But It's Success Anyway

Northville high school juniors will never know if the sudden blustery weather this week end proved a boon or a jinx to their J-Hop hopes Friday.

Despite the weather, ticket sales at the door were high, said Class Sponsor Robert Williams, and a large crowd turned out for both the pre-dance concert and the dance — about 600 tickets at $1 each were sold for the concert alone.

In addition, the Four Freshmen, who arrived late from Philadelphia completely cancelling the concert — agreed to cut their fee in half, thus reducing the controversial expenses by some $500.

"But quite a tidy sum was probably lost in spectator seat income," Williams said, when those who missed the concert were naturally permitted to claim spectator seats and hear the Freshmen at the dance.

Previously tickets were to be sold separately for the concert, for spectator seats during the dance, and for the dance itself.

"With about $1,100 in total ticket sales, final profits came close but not quite up to the break-even point," Williams said. Entertainment fees amounted to $1,065.

He added, though, that "even with the Freshmen's original asking price, the class could have made a profit if the weather had been good and everything had gone as scheduled."

Razed Haller Plant To Get New Offices

Reconstruction of the fire-swept offices of the Haller, Inc. plant, 16850 Northville road, began last week. Completion is expected within six weeks.

Fire, which apparently started in the main office on the second floor of the plant, swept through four adjoining offices, the engineering department and the lobby three weeks ago.

Office and drafting equipment as well as plant records were destroyed. Many of the machines located elsewhere in the plant were damaged by water from the sprinkling system and fire hoses.

John Haller, owner, estimated the damage at $50,000. The building and equipment, he said, were fully insured.

The plant owner commended the Northville fire department for "their splendid cooperation in fighting the fire. Firemen brought the blaze under control shortly after arriving at the scene. Fire was confined to the front section of the second floor."

Children Cheer Snow and Cold

ONE DOWN — Falling is fun when you're on skis — and young! Earl Leavenworth, 10, of 588 Randolph, and Tom Ling, 10, of 521 Randolph, seem to be enjoying being right in the snow and their skis just give them a good excuse for frolicking.

SNOW PALS — Gail Kucenickis and Larry Chismark had fun giving one another rides on their sleds. As you can see from the snow on their suits, a few times they managed to topple over. Gail, 10, lives at 40095 Ten Mile road and Larry, 6, at 23988 East LeBoist.

Old Man Winter couldn't have timed his entrance better! At least, not as far as the small fry are concerned.

Just when they were home for Thanksgiving vacation the cold and snow came. And like magic hundreds of sleds, skis, discs and toboggans appeared wherever there was any reasonable incline to slide down.

The cold snap — which reached a reported zero in open areas where the strong winds had free wheeling — brought with it several inches of snow. And while the kiddies were enjoying their winter sports, motorists had less fun.

Icy roads made driving hazardous — but the drivers careful. No bad accidents were reported in the area during the holiday week end, but a few cars were "stuck" or "frozen-up".

The snow and cold seemed to have its effect on Christmas shoppers. Stores reported business brisk. The falling snow, coupled with glowing Christmas lights, traditional music and the appearance of Santa Claus, gave Northville's business district a Christmas glow in November.

John Canterbury Named To Top Ford Division Office

Promotion of John S. Canterbury to one of the top positions in Ford division of the Ford Motor company was announced yesterday by W. A. Folsom, general manufacturing manager.

Canterbury, a Northville city councilman, was named material control manager-manufacturing operations for the Ford Motor division. He will be directly responsible for live departments including: manufacturing programing, production scheduling, parts control, inventory planning and handling and traffic. The department also has control over the 13 assembly plants of the Ford division which manufacture more than one million cars and trucks annually.

Canterbury's rise at Ford has been meteoric. He joined the company in 1951 as organization analyst and has had four promotions leading to his new position. He leaves the position of administrative manager to take up his new duties.

A native of Marion, Ohio, Canterbury was educated at Ohio Northern, North Carolina and Denver universities. His master's degree in management led him to a staff position with J. L. Jacobs & Co., management consultants. Later he was director of management planning for the U.S. Naval Center at Cleveland, Ohio and director of organization and management for the Economic Cooperation Administration.

Canterbury's term of office as councilman expires in April. He has expressed a desire to run again if his new business responsibilities permit. (See story on page one.)

Township to Air Rezoning Issue

A public hearing on proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance of Northville township will be held Tuesday, December 16.

An earlier announcement in The Record erroneously reported the hearing date as December 1.

The proposal concerns changing the present residential zoning of No. 17, American Legion. Dinner certain areas to a new special classification described as "multiple family residences" district.

In one area, change involves an existing convalescent home off Seven Mile road, near Northville State hospital, within what is now a residential district.

Request for a similar zoning change involves the South Benton property and surrounding property owned by L. W. Gagner and J. R. Brickelaw.

Fraternity and charitable groups have expressed interest in purchasing one of the residences owned by Benton, for their club activities.

Hunters' Dinner Saturday Night

One hundred community leaders and public officials will be honored at the annual Hunters' dinner sponsored by the Lloyd H. Green Post No. 147, American Legion. Dinner Chairman James E. Madigan announced this week.

Guests, past commanders of the post, the city council, police, firemen, prospective Legion members, VFW members, the board of education, and others, will be served a meal of venison, elk and bear.

The hunters' dinner will be held 6 p.m. in the Legion Memorial home on West Dunlap street. Film entertainment is planned.

Retain Consulting Firm For Zoning Review

Northville planning commission met Tuesday night with the newly retained consulting firm of Waring and Johnson to assist and advise planners with technical practices of zoning.

The firm was hired by the commission to assist and advise planners with technical practices of zoning.

Chairman T. R. Carrington stated that the planners would attempt to bring the 20-year-old zoning ordinance up to date and undertake a general zoning plan for the city.

The consultants will meet again with the planning commission at the January 6 session.

HOW DID YOU VOTE

"Last Sunday, I voted to close the church, not intentionally nor maliciously, perhaps, but carelessly, thoughtlessly, indifferently. I voted. I voted to close its doors, that its witness and its testimony might be stopped. I voted to close its open Bible on its pulpit — the Bible that had been given us by years of struggle and by the blood of martyrs who died that we might have it to read. I voted for our minister to stop preaching the glorious truths of the gospel of Jesus Christ. I voted that the children of the Sunday School no longer be taught the Bible and no longer lift their tiny voices in singing. I voted for every Missionary to be called home, every native worker supported by the church to stop preaching, every hospital, every school and every dispensary in its foreign missionary fields to be closed. I voted for the darkness of superstition, the degrading influence of sin, the blight of ignorance and the curse of selfishness once again to set their damning load on the shoulders of an already overburdened world. For you see, I could have gone, and I should have gone, but I didn't. I stayed away from church, last Sunday".

Cagers in Action Friday

The following night here at 7 p.m. in the community building, Northville will tangle with the Plymouth squad which rocked the helpless Mustangs in a 65-55 upset in the second contest last year.

Locally, a revengeful spirit should be at a fever pitch. The stage is set for two exciting season openers — particularly on Saturday. But will the Mustangs measure up? Do they boast a potential winning team?

These questions will be answered tomorrow and Saturday. Yet some inkling of what they will be can be seen in the comments of Coach Stan Johnston and the actions of the team.

The Northville mentor has repeatedly pointed out that the short practice period this year may hamper the Mustangs early in the season. Practice — which began little more than a week ago — was held up nearly two weeks by a late football schedule.

(The football schedule was extended this year because Clarenceville had a two year agreement with Farmington to complete, hence the Northville-Clarenceville game was postponed until a later date).

Last Friday the Mustangs, with only a few practice sessions under their belts, scrimmaged with Walled Lake's class A quintet and came away victorious — 25-20. Johnston, obviously pleased with the performance, chided observers' optimistic predictions.

Over-optimism on the part of the public as well as the team is a factor in the Mustangs second place finish in the 1957-58 season.

The Mustangs nearly chased West Bloomfield from the floor in the opener last year, but fell complete in the following contest with Plymouth, Johnston recalled.

Northville will face two almost entirely new squads Friday and Saturday. Willow Run, which last year won only two games while losing eight, is building its hopes around two veterans, Marceline Scott and Andrew Jones.

Class A Plymouth also has two players back from last year. They are Roger Burkett and Randy Egloff. These two cagers did not start with the Rocks at the outset of last year, but as the season drew to a close they stamped themselves as permanent fixtures.

Johnston and his team would like to throttle Plymouth probably more than any other team. The Rocks have defeated Northville for five consecutive games. Local cagers will attempt to end the Plymouth jinx as did Northville's griders in their opening contest with the Rocks this year.

Five of the six possible starters for Northville are Wayne-Oakland league contestants. Because the league has been divided into two divisions, the teams will play two games with schools in their own division, and one game with non-division teams.

Northville, West Bloomfield, Holly and Millard make up one division, and Clarkston, Brighton, Clarenceville and Bloomfield Hills the other.

The quintet sporting the best record of the two divisions at the end of the season will be declared the league champion. No playoff game is planned.

Eight Hunters Seven Bucks

A hunting party hosted by the Nelson Schraders of Orchard drive last week turned out to be a highly successful event.

Seven of the eight deer hunters in the party got their bucks!

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Schrader at their Gaylord farm were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bailey of Northville and Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Schrader of Plymouth. In addition the Schraders' children, N. Co., Jr. and Sarah, joined in the hunt.

Everyone — except Mrs. Bailey — bagged a buck. For Mrs. Edw. Schrader it marked the first time she had hunted.

Wixom Councilmen Act on Three Issues

The Wixom city council which met early last week, took action on two local issues, including an appointment and the allocation of $2800 to the County Drain Commission.

William Berger, who has been a member of the city's new road commission. His appointment marks the fifth and final one to be made by the commission. The other members are Chairman Julius Nelson, Oscar Simmons, Vern Darlington Sr. and Maurice LaRosa.

The council voted to allocate $2800 to the drain commission for completion of the city storm sewer cleaning projects. The commission told the council the project could not be completed without additional funds. The project will thus stand at $1,020 — not counting the $280.

Councilmen agreed to call in representatives of the state police and the Oakland county road commission to help settle the parking dispute in the city. Wixom merchants have asked that parallel parking be abandoned, while some persons insist the present system be retained. No date for the meeting with state and county representatives was set.

Warren's appraisals are expected to be completed by the end of December. The council will then determine an assessed valuation rate to be applied to the new appraisals.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS
Girl Scout Troop 224 recently held an election of officers. Linda Se-cord was elected troop treasurer and Antoinette Alexander, troop scribe.

The troop has divided into patrols, and a president and secretary-treasurer were also elected for each.

In Patrol 1 Antoinette Alexander was chosen president and Peggy Gibson, secretary-treasurer.

In Patrol 2 Kathleen Kovarik was elected president and Nancy Schaefer, secretary-treasurer.

In Patrol 3 Linda Lemon was named president and Susan Conley, secretary-treasurer.

The girls made Thanksgiving turkey cups for the residents of East-lan Resthaven home, and are now completing their tenderfoot rank.

Brownies of Troop 224 under the joint leadership of Mrs. Frederick Hart, Mrs. Gunnar Froebel and Mrs. Richard Kay, have been enjoying international "scouting" recently.

Thursday, the girls and their leaders visited the Detroit International Institute Old World Market.

Last week, Mrs. George Newman, from England, the mother of Ericmie Penny Newman, talked to the troop about life in England. She illustrated her discussion with a toy London double-deck bus and a book on royalty, and distributed English-made candies.

This week Mrs. Ralph Ballou of Thorpville line who comes from France, will speak to the girls about her native land.

SPEAKING for the Record

by BILL SLIGER

We make it a rule not to publish unsigned letters — although we do withhold signatures upon request.

This week a letter arrived signed "Your Peripatetic Old Timer" bemoaning the passing of an iron rail which stood in front of our office for many years. It was a favorite gathering place for many to exchange the time of day and watch the people go by.

The writer says "I can remember sitting on this time worn rail, dangling my feet in the window well, discussing the topics of the day with long and true friends. . . the quiet peace that sweeps over one as they rest on that comfortable rail is hard to describe." Furthermore the writer enclosed a dime "for a suitable plaque, which I suggest could be installed on your building in the area of the deceased rails."

We, too, regret the passing of this old landmark. Often we enjoyed eavesdropping on the conversation of the frequenters of the old rail from within the office.

We suspect, perhaps, that the writer had not "dangled his feet in the window well" in recent years, however. It had become something of a problem — both for sanitary reasons (it was used as a catch-all) and as a fire hazard. In short, the window well held very little glamour for those workers in our shop who would usually find unpleasant contents of every description following each week end.

The rail — badly worn and sagging from the weight it had held for many years — was removed as a safety measure. One policeman called it "the best thing that ever happened" when the rail came down.

I'll go along with the oldtimer, however. It may look better in front of the Record. But something of the past has been removed. And we're nostalgic enough to be sorry, but progressive enough not to want it back.

Your dime — along with a small contribution of our own — has been turned over to the Pete Ely Memorial Fund. The late mayor was our closest contact with Northville of old.

Perhaps something will come from this fund to give us a better Northville in the future.

State Approaching Estimated $100 Million Deficit

SPECIAL SESSION Jitters have attacked the Michigan politicians who fear chaos in 1959. With the house evenly-divided between Republicans and Democrats, 55 to 55, groups with immediate problems are predicting a squabble that will last until spring. They worry that a continued instability will prevent the passage of legislation which can solve their problems. Technically, the legislature for 1959 will convene at 12 noon January 14.

IF TRADITION HOLDS, most of the controversial and important decisions — the budget, taxes and major policy matters — will be postponed until the first few days of the session. Agencies and special interest groups are afraid that their cases will be lost in the bickering of the early parts of the session and disregarded in the rush to the end.

THERE ARE PROBLEMS that need immediate action, some of them urgently. Probate judges want something done quickly about the juveniles in trouble because of mental illnesses and who cannot receive treatment because state institutions are overcrowded.

You Can Build Your Own Wall Against Inflation

Babson Park, Mass. — Are you who finds yourself constantly worrying about your financial future? Do you never seem to have enough money to make both ends meet? Perhaps, your success in life may be due to the fact that you are a young man, married, and you have not cash reserves, available for emergencies, equal to your annual earnings, or if you are not building solidly in that direction!

I ended last week's column by forecasting that we will find the Democratic cure for inflation went even as far as they go today. A second important reason for inflation is the "easy-buck" attitude of both labor and management toward government work. We all know that if productivity increases faster than wages, prices decline. On the other hand, if wages go up faster than productivity, prices rise. In the interest of national well-being we must fight a vigorous cold war. In so doing, however, it is obvious that unless we give our government a full measure of productivity, we only cheapen our own dollars in the long run.

education provided by financially distressed local schools will fall far below minimum standards. They want money problems settled now. There is pressure to get started early on a program to obtain new sources of revenue, possibly a state income tax.

With the state heading for a deficit estimated up to $100,000,000 and state agencies running into new pools of red ink every day, it is understandable that the worried ones went early action.

Gov. Williams has informally rejected all attempts to get the legislature to meet before 1959.

ONE QUESTION in Williams's political life is already settled.

The governor, whose vote was third in the Democratic race this year, was considered an even-money bet to try for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Egbert R. McNamara in 1960.

It was assumed by observers that his relatively poor showing would hurt his chances for the presidential nomination.

But Williams announced he would support McNamara in the 1960 primary. This leaves the same observer guessing what he does plan to do in an area that will see little play in a repeat performance in which the same men who failed to act in three or four months will be asked to settle everything in three or four days.

choice of Williams, for the Senate seat then held by Homer E. Ferguson, was a surprise.

Democrats were forced to shift gears and support McNamara, and most will agree that Williams's popularity meant the difference in the vote which elected McNamara.

There has not been the rapport between Williams and McNamara that there was between Williams and Moody. Now, Williams is wholeheartedly, at least publicly, supporting McNamara for re-election.

Few expect the governor to try for a seventh consecutive two-year term in Michigan. He has now held office longer than any other governor.

But like most things in politics, the voter will have to wait and see, and vote in 1960.
