Council Sets Review Board Hearing Dates

In a short meeting Monday night, the village council passed a resolution setting up dates and times for board of review hearings, heard a statement from one of the village property owners involved in the proposed annexation, and agreed to check into alleged personnel problems of the fire department.

Under the resolution passed by the council, members of the board of review will hold hearings on March 15, 1960 from 12 noon until 6 p.m. and from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. The second hearing session will convene on March 29, 1960 with hours from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 nm to 5 nm - and until all interested persons have had an opportunity to be heard.

Other matters included in the resolution were: Each of the members of the board is to receive $25 per nel regulations. (The council voted year: all hearings will be conducted in the council chambers; and the partment to 15 regular firemen and times and place of the hearings are to be published at least 10 days be took the action because they felt fore each session.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. McDonald of Romulus, owners of 83 of the 135 acres in the village which would be annexed to Northville along with the Novi township property, Northville Estates, told the council that their only course of action seems to be to sign the petition for detachment from Novi.

"We feel we ar. ore or less in a squeeze plant. W have talked with various people around us who want in (Northville) - and it is about the only thing we can do." McDonald said he and his wife

The council has not indicated whether it will oppose or "support" the annexation of these three village properties. A motion to notify Northville Estates residents that the village will not contest the proposed annexation was tabled by the council two weeks ago and has not yet been removed. Informally, the council has stated it probably will not act on the tabled motion.

It also has been pointed out that the council cannot join with the city of Northville to resolve the annexation by "joint resolution" as suggested at a Northville council meeting. An election by the people is the only means of annexation, Village Attorney Howard Bond has pointed out.

Council members told Dochot the matter would be investigated. Other council business included:

- The manager reported that Jack Anglin of 42750 Grand River has been ordered to stop removing peat from his property; and that Anglin subsequently requested a license from the village for peat renoval and the request was denied;

- Dean Lenheiser, Novi citizen, asked what is being done about the improperly operated dump located north of 10 Mile road next to the C&O railroad. The council explained that the owner, Gus McCreedy has promised to "clean up" his dump to conform with the village ordinance and that it is hoped he will then secure a li-

The confusion that annually accompanies the deadline for trail. payment of school and county taxes without penalty is back again - but for the last time.

A new law passed by the legislature in its 1959 session is responsible for the latest conflict.

It provides that school, county and township taxes must be paid by February 15. After that date a four perecent penalty is in-

A QUALITY OF NEWNESS Christianity and the New Year have one important thing in common. Each begins with a quality of newness.

The passing from one calendar year to another is described in terms of ending an old year and beginning a new one. In somewhat similar language is the nature of the Christian life re-

The early followers of the Christian way, out of their own experiences, had this to say, "If any man is in Christ, he is a new creature: behold, old things are passed away and all things have be-And again, "forgetting the things that are past, I press on to the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." Concerning the new year, Robert Beattie has put it this way: "To leave the old with a burst of song, To recall the right and forgive the

> To forget the thing that binds you fast To the vain regrets of the year that's Is to have and to give a Happy

The challenging difference between the beginning of a new year and the beginning of a new life in Christ lies in the fact that in the first instance "newness" is conditioned by the calendar while in the second instance the calendar is conditioned by "newness". Essentially there is nothing any more new between December 31 and January I than there is between any other two days of the year. Each has its similarity of 24 hours and its difference in the length of daylight and dark. The suggestion of "newness" stems from the calendar which lists one as the last day of an old year and the other as the first day of the new year.

"I asked the New Year for some message sweet, Some rule of life with which to guide my feet; I asked, and paused: he answered soft

And, ere the question into silence died, The answer came, 'Nay, but remember, too, God's will to do.' Once more I asked, 'Is there no more

And once again the answer sweetly fell. 'Yes! this thing, all other things above: God's will to love'."

ry and debauchery. On the other hand, Christianity, with it power to change life from the staid and sordid to the new and beautiful, morivates many spiritually-minded people to use this occasion for efforts to make our world better every day thus, conditioning the calendar of time. This chasm which exists between the "new-

our secular society to use this occasion for revel-ness of the secular world" and the "newness of the Christian life," will it ever be bridged? Never, if to do so means compromise! However, whenever men will begin to think soberly on the value of time and life and, coming to recognize that each is a gift of God , will arrive at the conclusion that both time and life will come into their rightful meanings only when used as God, the Creator-Giver, wants them used — then this chasm will be narrowed and "newness" will come to be synonymous with

If we were to look back over the last decade to select a year of outstanding accomplishment for our area, certainly 1959 would rank high among the 10 years. And judging from the current trend of events the early years of the new decade will bring developments that will lecide anew what the physical, as well as economical, character of our community is to be.

These are exciting and perilous times. They call for great caution and sound judgment on the part of our leaders; understanding and faith by the electorate; and, above all, cooperation between political subdivisions within our commu-

I do not believe that the importance of an informed electorate can be over-emphasized. In this area, the newspaper plays a key role. And, to the best of our ability, we intend to keep our readers "posted". Sometimes, in the informality of a column like this, it is easier to relate problems and the manner in which officials are trying to solve them.

Often before something becomes "news" the trend of the times can be better fashioned with the help of public

Thus it is our new year pledge to try extra hard in 1960 to report these trends. In turn it is hoped that our citizens will help mold the future by offering encouragement and/or criticism to our elected and appointed officials who must struggle with these important problems of growth. Looking back quickly over the past year we can cite many accomplishments that substantiate the activity of the year: - after passing a $300,000 water system improvement bond the city has completed the project with the exception of the erection of an elevated storage tower; - North Center, South Wing, First, Fairbrook and Novi streets were paved; - the city's "sanitary-fill", long a problem plaguing both city and township, has been fenced and placed under - a busy council has passed a sidewalk ordinance. readied an all-important special assessment ordinance for consideration and is in the final study-stages of a new zoning ordinance prepared by the planning commission; - Northville Downs has embarked upon two million dollar improvement program with an enlarged oval, new lights and many new barns in the track area:

- the school system opened a new two million dollar high school, remodeled the old high school for junior high use and is now "settling down" in its new facilities by reviewing suggestions for improvements and expansions in its programs

- city-school leaders have "ironed-out" problems involving the Community Building and will take their solution to the voters this June for settlement;

- Novi, soon after becoming a village in late 1958, hired a manager and tackled the difficulties always associated with establishing a new government; already the sprawling area has adopted a zoning ordinance and formed 100-member citizens' development committee. There have been many more worthwhile accomplishments in the Northville-Novi area in recent months, but of more importance now is what lies ahead. Without aggravation from either side Northville and Novi are again peering at one another over annexation

This spring will almost certainly see an election to annex 255 acres of Novi village and township land north of Baseine between Beck road and the city limits just west of Taft

The move to gain admittance to the city was started y residents of Northville ristates and must be considered a rect result of Novi incorporation action last year And while the Northville Estates annexation attempt has developed into a reality, a new wide-sweeping annexation move extending northward along Beck road to 9½-mile and east to Haggerty is being contemplated. While the feasibility of such a large detachment from Novi is doubted by many, it is being strongly advocated by major landowners in the area,

Problems? Yes, there are problems connected to this network of plans that still remain to be realized. It should, I believe, be considered worthwhile for Northville and Novi officials to sit down informally and discuss what is happening and why. If Khrushchev and Eisenhower can bring the serious problems existing between our two nations to the top of the table, it seems reasonable that Northville and Novi should be able to do likewise. Development of the bare acreage between Northville and Novi is dependent to a great extent upon the cooperation displayed between our officials. It can be retarded or excelled almost at their will.

Many similar problems of mutual interest loom between Northville township and city. Our present officials have already recognized this to some degree. Instead of talking in private circles about "what must eventually be", they believe the time has arrived for concrete planning by committees charged with authority.

In review, it should be apparent 1960 will be interesting indeed. By June we'll have elections on annexation, Community building purchase, a new seven-member school board (see page one) and, perhaps, a second Northville-Novi annex-

. . is designed with you, the householder in mind. During December, January and February the average home will use 57.7 percent of the entire heating cost. In just three short months you are consuming more fuel than during the other nine months of the year. Remember that Christmas bills, added doctor bills, car repairs, licenses, and insurance are always more prevalent during these months. Therefore, the solution rests with the ELY INSURED BALANCED PAYMENT PLAN. We sincerely feel that paying as low as 8 percent of your entire heating bill during the

MORAL LAW

I would like to begin a serie this week on the Moral Law of God as found in the Ten Commandments. We shall be writing commandm e n t during the next 10 weeks, so I trus found in two places in the Bible In Exodus 20 and Deuteronomy These commandments were first given to Israel at Mt. Sinai. The penalty for breaking any of these laws was death. Now since there has been a change in the dispensation and since we ar not under Theocratic rule as was Israel, the penalty is no longer being carried out in this life for infractions of the majority of the moral law. However, the breaking of the moral law is charge up against the violator who will one day face these crimes be fore God in judgment. My purpose in writing this series is to refresh your minds as to the meaning of the moral law. In so doing we will have a clearer co ception of what God demands by way of righteousness and what le classifies as sin. Our attempt to keep the law will never give

HE MISSED THE CURVE - An area resident reported this accident to police Saturday night, but when the officers arrived at the scene - corner of Baseline and Novi roads - the driver was gone. Northville and Novi police searched the wooded area thinking they might find the motorist unconscious, ingred or dead. Two hours later, 30-year-old Donald Schmeichel of Farmington walked into the Novi police station to report the accident. He said he had hitchliked to Farmington to get his brother.
