READERS SPEAK: Questions School Expenses

The last election held by the school board requesting extra millage was won by one vote, 201 yes to 200 no, and that was not too long ago. School board members Walker, Ambinder and John MacBride might not be aware of this due to the extra services they are requesting for our schools. I would like to see the best money can buy for our schools, but it must be remembered that the taxpayers are now already overburdened (it has hit the saturation point).

Whip Up Dessert in a Hurry

Ever wonder how the lady of the house with all her domestic duties ever ekes out enough time to whip up some special afternoon treat for her dessert-loving family?

She does it — that's a certainty — and how she manages to is probably explained by her necessary ability to make a little time go a long way coupled with her recollection of recipes such as Mrs. Norwood Balko's "Quick Cake".

As its name suggests, "Quick Cake" is the recipe Mrs. Balko draws on when she has a little time and no dessert on hand. What's more, this recipe is popular at the Balko home, at 23111 Napier road, was one of her mother's favorites.

Kators Wed 66 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kator celebrated their 66th wedding anniversary yesterday, September 14.

It was a quiet remembrance of their years together, somewhat reminiscent of the unpretentious gathering that brought them together as man and wife 66 years ago.

On that memorable day in 1894, "Doc" (that's the nickname Mrs. Kator said has followed her husband through a good many of his years) claimed Mrs. Leadwater for his bride in a family ceremony at her home on the corner of Dunlap and North Rogers.

They had met at a church youth gathering and "even though he was keeping company with my best friend," recalled Mrs. Kator, she still hadn't lost interest in the handsome, slender young man.

As it happened, consumption (it was all over in those days, said Mrs. Kator) claimed the friend's life. Some time later the two young people were married.

Mr. and Mrs. Kator have lived in Northville throughout most of their marriage, except for 18 years in Detroit. She was born in Novi and moved to Northville at the age of two (it was still Bealton and Northside in those days, she reminded.) He was a seaman when he came here from his birthplace in Livonia.

They've owned the white, two-story frame dwelling at 333 North Rogers for 30 years. At 64 she still does all her own housework and even canned tomatoes picked from her husband's garden this summer. He is a retired carpenter.

The Kators have a 64-year-old son, Harry, who is an engraver in Detroit.

There's no television in the Kator home. Their recreation is playing cards, visiting with old friends and just plain having a good time.

"We still like to go to parties and dance," said Mrs. Kator, "but it's a little hard getting around without a car."

"I thought I better quit driving," Mr. Kator explained, "now that I'm in my sixtieth year."

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."
— Samuel Johnson

AN ACRE RANCH is the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dietrich, 41328 Llorac lane, and their three children, John, Lynn Allan and Pamela. They wanted plenty of elbow room with some "wide open spaces" and found it in Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dietrich and their three youngsters didn't even have to skirt the Midwest to find a spacious ranch in the wide open spaces. It just so happened that they were newspaper readers looking for a home, when one day they found their ideal home, or at least a very inviting description of it, tucked neatly in the classified ad section of a newspaper.

The four-bedroom contemporary ranch house, sprawling comfortably on a one-acre parcel of land in Northville, was all that the Dietrichs had hoped, so on July 20 they officially became residents of Meadowbrook Manor.

Fred Dietrich "originally hails from Toledo, Ohio. He has a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from the Detroit Institute of Technology and is an engineer for the Ford Motor company.

His wife, Beverly, was born in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and has lived in no Detroit area most of her life.

Two of the Dietrich children, Pamela Dayle, 4, and John Frederick, 16 months, stay home with Mom during the day while six-year-old Lynn Allan goes to Orchard Hills elementary school.

Like all good "ranchers" Mr. and Mrs. Dietrich are accomplished square dancers. When they lived in Detroit they stepped lively with a group known as the Trail Swingers.

Their other interests add variety at its best — gardening (mostly flowers), photography (they've belonged to camera clubs), sailing (they just sold their prized V-Flyer), and bridge. Both have served the church in committee work. Mr. Dietrich golfs and bowls and Mrs. Dietrich is practicing together a mosaic picture.

Does the family like their new Northville home? "We just love it," says Mrs. Dietrich enthusiastically. "I'm amazed at the friendliness of the people," she adds, "even the clerks in the stores stop to talk with you."

The spacious, contemporary ranch at 41328 Llorac lane is a bustling, friendly household.

German Girl is New Exchange Student

Uta Rosenbrock, a dark-haired Fraulein from Konigsstein, Germany is Northville's new exchange student. Seventeen-year-old Uta arrived at Metropolitan airport last month aboard a chartered plane carrying 75 German exchange students. Her American foster parents are Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Filkin of 621 Fairbrook.

GERMAN EXCHANGE STUDENT Uta Rosenbrock will soon learn to tote with ease the "so much heavier" school books which she will carry this year as a senior at Northville high school. Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Filkin are her foster parents. Above are Mrs. Filkin, Uta and Sally and David Filkin.

She left her father, a bank director, mother and 23-year-old sister in their home near Frankfurt to spend a year in Northville where she will be a high school senior.

Uta, marvelling at the size and weight of American textbooks, will go to school with David and Sally Filkin. David is in his last year, Sally is a junior.

The Ann Arbor-Washington County Branch of Churches arranged for Uta's visit here on their Youth for Understanding program. The Northville Rotary will help sponsor Uta in her year-long stay.

Uta was drawn by her curiosity, she says, to other European countries before making her big jump to the United States. She traveled outside Germany's borders on visits and private exchanges, anxious to explore foreign nations and meet their people. This, she feels, is the surest way to understand them better.

She is still a little reluctant to manipulate the English language, which she studied for six years. Her early conversations were a little one-sided (they did most of the talking and she listened) said Mrs. Filkin but she noted that Uta is gradually and industriously chipping away at any language barrier.

As an outdoor sports enthusiast, the German visitor can effectively keep her side of a tennis racket, tennis volley, and she fared favorably in her introduction to fishing and water skiing in a recent trip to New York.

Has Uta observed many differences between her life in Germany and here? "Where I live," commented Uta, "there are mountains and it is much colder."

"There are many different plants here (fruits and vegetables). And we don't have watermelon growing in Germany."

School Bells Beckon Kids — And P-TA

Back to school means back to work for the Northville P-TA and we don't have a moment to spare as we start work with a new organizational framework.

The new set-up will be explained to parents, teachers and administrators at the P-TA's first meeting a week from today (September 22) at 8 p.m. in the Community building. Administrators will also introduce new teachers that night and a social hour will close the meeting.

Northville's four schools each have their own P-TA chairman for the first time this fall as part of the revised organization. These parents are: Francis Gaslay and Mrs. Robert Regehardt, high school; Mr. and Mrs. K. Sturewicz, junior high school; Mrs. Donald Robinson, Main street elementary; and Mrs. Main Johnson, American school.

The newly appointed school chairmen will all serve on the program committee headed by Dr. Harold Wright. Mrs. Robert Beerbower, co-president of the P-TA with her husband, said the committee expects to train this year's programs on immediate problems and situations in the Northville system.

A REAL SCARE - The Hers Koester home, 4278 West Eighth Mile road, victim six years ago of a mysterious shotgun blast, was the scene of still another "shot" last Friday night. Alarm and reading in the living room. Mrs. Koester was suddenly startled by a loud "bang" and small clips of the plate glass window whizzed past her head. Afraid that the same person or persons who shot unsuccessfully at Koester through a door was back again, they called state police. After a lengthy investigation, the State Police found a marble and still later a 13-year-old boy who admitted shooting the marble at the window with a "high-powered" slingshot. The boy is to be turned over to juvenile authorities. The 18-year-old unavowed shooting is still under investigation by the FBI.

Two years of dreaming by a half-dozen southeastern Michigan fruit farmers blossomed into reality this past week with the formation of the Southeast Michigan Growers Association.

With the formation of SMGA - one of only two such organizations in Michigan - these six fruit farmers expect to improve their marketing techniques. The farms are: George Simmons & Son, 4825 West 10 Mile road, Novi; A. R. Green & Sons of Farmington; Paul Button of Farmington; Lynn Mathews of Walled Lake and Peabody Brothers of Birmingham and Penton.

In announcing the formation of SMGA, George Simmons explained that unlike marketing conditions in past years prompted 10 fruit growers to begin discussing possibilities of such an organization back in 1958. Working with Forrest Strand, formerly of Michigan State University, the growers laid out their plans. By the time the group was actually formed, however, four of the 10 had dropped out.

Specifically, this is how the organization works: - Fruit raised by the six growers is "pooled" and sold by the holding Fruit Sales company at a common price, thus eliminating price differences between members.

- Grading of the fruit will be done at the Simmons orchard in Novi. This central grading process is expected to cut machinery costs to a minimum and make possible the purchase of the most modern facilities.

- Marketing information will be exchanged between members, thus eliminating scarce tactics of "bird eggs" - buyers who attempt to persuade individual growers to sell at lower prices because of reports of falling markets.

- Members will be better able to supply and hold customers because of larger quantities of fruit, and standard pricing. With grading of fruit carried out at one location, the customer can be assured of more uniform packaging and the growers will be able to purchase packing materials at lower cost. Members of the group, Simmons said, will be permitted to continue operations of retail outlets normally found at orchards.

"Groups such as ours are insects in this industry," Simmons pointed out, "because of the uncertainties in marketing during the various seasons of the year."

"Eventually, I believe most of the growers will be persuaded to join similar organizations. And we expect to add new members to our organization as well," Simmons said.

The Simmons fruit farm includes a 14,000 bushel cold storage, a 6,000 bushel controlled atmosphere room, and a 4000 foot grading room with supply and office facilities. Simmons estimates that between 12 to 15 persons will be employed this fall during the grading period. There is no immediate plan for purchase of additional machinery, he added, since the total output is not expected to exceed the 1,000 units (approximately one bushel a unit) that currently can be handled.

The only immediate addition will be the installation of a two-way radio for communication between the Simmons' farm and Elmwood. Construction of a 105-foot radio tower is expected to get underway within two weeks.

HOW MANY GODS?

The Doctrine of the Trinity held by those of Historic Christian Faith has been held up to ridicule by some groups of recent origin because of their inability to define and explain the Trinity in terms which are acceptable to reason. It is far more reasonable to the human mind to believe that God oversaw the virgin Mary and she conceived a Son who assumed the family name "God". They maintain that he was God but not Almighty God. That the relationship which exists between the two is the same as I bear to my own son. It must be admitted that such an explanation is more easily understood and grasped by most people. However in scripture we find by studying cross references that the Jehovah of the O.T. is none other than the Saviour of the N.T. It declares that Jesus is God manifested in the flesh. Yet it also states repeatedly that there is only one God. Not two Gods, Mighty and Almighty God as they contend. They are not actually solving the problem which faces Bible students but contradicting another plain truth of God's Word. To fail to honor Christ as God is to fail to honor the Son even as the Father. (John 1:23) Co-equal - Co-eternal God who is Sovereign.

Help in Virus Discovery

The recent announcement by the U.S. Surgeon General that the oral live-virus vaccine developed by Dr. and Mrs. Sabin under March of Dimes grants has been found to be "suitable for use in the United States", is a tribute to local residents.

Their support of the Nov 1941 March of Dimes has not only provided care locally for families that have been stricken with paralytic polio but has helped to support the National Foundation's research program that produced this new weapon in the fight against crippling diseases, according to Mrs. Bernard Marchetti, local chairman.

"The fact that Dr. Sabin's vaccine was selected over two other live-virus vaccines justifies the public's support of the wisdom and judgment of the National Foundation's scientific advisors who directed the placing of research funds," she said.

"National Foundation grants to Dr. Sabin totaled approximately $1,500,000. A commercial drug firm announced that while it had spent $13,000,000 working on one of the other vaccines, it would now make the Sabin vaccine.

Mrs. Marchetti emphasized that Dr. Sabin's virus strains would be made available to all who wish to make the vaccine. "The vaccine was developed with the dime and dollars of the American people and is the property of all."

The local March of Dimes League also warned that "the new cases of polio in Oakland county this season suggest a warning to the unvaccinated. Three county residents have been struck down by paralytic polio so far this year. All are fathers in their twenties and require iron lungs. None have had any Salk vaccine.

While the live-virus vaccine is good, it probably will not replace the Salk vaccine, but they will supplement each other. However, for an indefinite time, perhaps a year, there will be only Salk vaccine available to protect against paralytic polio. Those who wait for the oral vaccine may find it came too late to protect them.

READERS SPEAK: Schools Can Use His Help

To the Editor:

Last week you published a letter written by Mr. Koester, concerning the reading problems in the Novi school district. We have often wondered where he obtained the facts in the many letters he has written in the past. Now we are more puzzled than ever. He could not have attended the last school board meeting and listened to the heart-breaking evidence submitted by parents and not realized the pressing need that Novi has for a remedial reading teacher.

In one instance he was correct; he or she would be the most overworked teacher in the school. This job is not a new one, it has been so for many years, that we need at least three such teachers. It is a crime that we are unable to have, at this time, just one to help those students bearing high school age.

But he was incorrect in believing the general public was aware that our school system was operating in the red. Looking at our school, one would assume there was an overabundance of tax money. We have expensive buildings; beautiful draperies; costly equipment and more representatives attending school conventions than our neighboring schools can afford. We have even installed radios in our school buses. I hope the children sit quietly and listen to these radios, as if the money we now have is used exclusively for the education of the children of Novi.

So it seems that we can afford to have a remedial reading teacher and books for the students.

Dr. Ambinder, Mr. MacBride and the parents of Novi school children are also taxpayers; when we ask for teachers we are not pushing for higher taxes, but would prefer the money we now have be used exclusively for the education of the children of Novi.

Mr. Koester has been called the Watch Dog of the Township Board. May I invite him to attend the school board meetings and get his facts first hand; perhaps our school system needs a Watch Dog, too. Mr. Koester, will you help us?

Sincerely,
Mrs. Alice Ritter

She Tops State Homemakers

Mrs. Kathryn Cobb, 48-year-old Northville housewife, knows more than a mere about the art of canning, making jellies and baking - neighborhood kids know that from experience and officials at the 11th annual Michigan State Fair also know it.

The judges in the Home Arts department awarded Mrs. Cobb eight and blue ribbons, four red ribbons and two gold ribbons for second place and three for third of her total of 20 entries.

"Right now I don't have as much time as usual to devote to the youngsters, my husband has been laid sick and I visit with him twice daily at the Dearborn Veterans' hospital."

Mrs. Cobb, who is kept busy making trips to the Veterans' hospital in Dearborn to visit her aging husband, Fred, still found time to get together enough exhibits with such skill that they won the top award in the Home Arts department judging. It was the 10th year that she has had exhibits in the judging but it was the first time she came close to the Homekeeper prize - and she went all the way to the top this trip.

Mrs. Cobb has no children of her own, but she's known by nearly all the youngsters - she lives at 2155 Beck road - for she serves as a nursemaid on more than one occasion and is constantly in demand as a baby sitter.

"I guess all the kids like to have me as their baby sitter," Mrs. Cobb smiled. "I generally manage to have a cookie or two along with me."

Northville had several other ribbon winners in the State Fair's fruit, vegetable and garden exhibits. Mrs. William Foreman, Sr. and Mrs. J. W. Irwin won first place for their exhibit of vegetables, fruits and canned goods in the horticulture and produce division.

The Ralph Foreman Orchard's team of senior and junior won first place in the educational exhibit with a display of a variety of fruits. Their "Wheel of Fortune" artistic exhibit of fruit won second place. In the same exhibit William Foreman, Sr. and Mrs. J. W. Irwin won first place in the artistic exhibit with a rotating white barrel covered with apples. The William Foreman also won awards for their educational and plants and trays' exhibit.

A fourth place ribbon for vegetables and fruits was won by Melvin Mitchell, as well as a second place for educational display.

'Ambassador' Mike Returns From Holland

Northville's "ambassador" to Holland returned home Friday after a summer experiment in international living.

Michael W. Goodrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Goodrich, 303 West Dunlap, spent two months in Holland under a program sponsored by the Experiment in International Living organization, which was founded in 1932 by Donald B. Watt.

Watt originated the idea of "homestays" as the basis for promoting international understanding on the person-to-person level. An independent nonprofit organization with an annual program, The Experiment comprises a United States headquarters in Putney, Vermont; branch offices in New York City, San Francisco; Washington, D.C.; and Paris, France; and national offices in 35 countries on five continents.

As in Mike's case, experimenters are placed usually in groups of ten, under the guidance of mature, carefully-trained leaders. Each experimenter spends a month living with an individual family, with a second month's stay in exploring the country and its significant landmarks.

Mike's first impression of the country was the impression almost all visitors come away with. "It's a very clean country; the land is flat - but it isn't an uninteresting flatness that while it is green is very green. You have the feeling of seeing things right out of pictures."

Other impressions Mike has of Holland are that it is a country to visit again some day, include: "The people are extremely happy and friendly, yet they seem to live in a continual cloud of fear or apprehension and many of them have either given up or lost their religion. This paradox, Mike believes, is an outgrowth of their experiences during World War II. The cloud over Holland is Russia, Mike explained, and it seems to hover there because of Russia's proximity.

"When the United States set up its Echo satellite," Mike recalled, "the people were thrilled - maybe even a little more proud than I. Every time the United States can show up the Russians, the Dutch are very pleased."

Ambassador Mike

of mistrust for the Germans, Mike said. And this feeling is so apparent he added, that when he and members of their group visited Germany for a week they found themselves holding similar views—even though the German people were equally friendly.

Another surprising impression, Mike said, was the attitude of the people toward the Dutch farmer. The farmer, he said, is looked down upon in Holland, similar to the way many Americans look down upon the Mexican or Italian immigrant.

Although there is little apparent prejudice against the Negro, mainly because there are so few of them in Holland, Mike believes such prejudices would certainly blossom into reality should the Negro population grow.

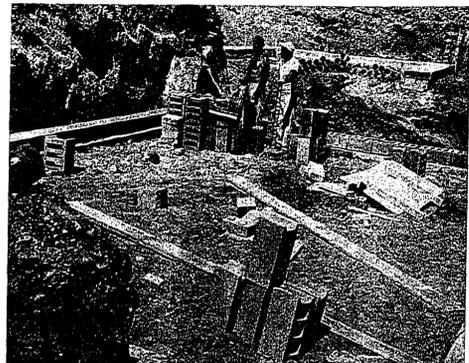

Aside from these peculiarities, Mike found the country rich in culture and pride. A number of recreational subjects would certainly blossom into reality should the Negro population grow.

The pace of living in Holland is a great deal slower than here, he said. No matter how busy they may be, there is always plenty of time for conversation, a cup of tea and a slice of bread and cheese.

Recreation-wise, people of Haarlem find as much or more fun cycling through the countryside than people here find in motorcycling. Sailing and swimming also are very popular sports.

Summing up the Experiment program, Mike expressed a genuine appreciation. "Our experiences and close association with the people should go a long way in promoting better understanding of our countries."

And interestingly enough, the same love America expressed for the United States in her letter to the Record last week was expressed by Mike for Holland upon his return.

WORK IS under way on the new 27-home "Tall Colony" located in Northville township directly north of Bloomer subdivision. Developers of the 21 acre subdivision are the John Northup company of Northville and Earl MacLachlan, Jr., a Detroit builder. Typical homes — in the $28,000 to $38,000 class — will be on display in the Northville area this week end. All built by Northup, they are: the Northup residence, 4700 West Main street; the William Schulz residence, 4700 West Main street; the William Schulz residence, 4127 Summerfield Lane, Northville Estates. Northup is shown above (at left) discussing plans with workmen at the site of one of the four houses currently under construction at Tall Colony. Eventually some 56 homes are planned in the entire development, which will cover 56 acres.

Hunters Vie For Permits On 'Any Deer'

Hoping for a permit to hunt in one of Michigan's 35 "any deer" areas this fall? If so, don't get your hopes too high.

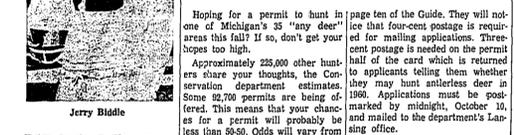

Approximately 225,000 other hunters share your thoughts, the Conservation department estimates. Some 22,700 permits are being offered. This means that your chances for a permit will probably be less than 60-60. Odds will vary from area to area, of course, depending upon the number of applications made and permits available. Drawings will not be necessary to determine permittees in a few areas; in others, applications may outnumber permits by 5 to 1 or possibly higher.

Most of the uncut-off applications will be able to blame Lady Luck. The others — between 10,000 and 13,000 judging from last year — will have to blame themselves.

Failure to attach proper postage has been the most common oversight among applicants in recent years. Last year, it cost 5,500 applicants a chance to apply for permits drawn for permits. Many applicants put themselves out of the running by failing to sign their names. Others failed to attach the proper postage for permits by counties rather than areas.

These errors can be easily eliminated this year if applicants will only take a few minutes to read the "1960 Deer Hunting Guide". This ten-page folder shows special seasons areas, explains general hunting regulations, and contains instructions on making applications and filling out the permit. The information in the Guide will be available with application cards in mid-September at license dealers.

After filling out their cards, hunters will do well to check their entries with the set of instructions on

Runners Look Strong Says Coach

With three letters leading a field of nearly a dozen candidates, the Northville cross country team is expected to make a strong bid for the league crown this fall.

Coach Chuck Yabne, who called the first practice of the season Friday, was pleased with the turnout for the league cross this fall. "We had a pretty good team during our first season last year," Yabne said, "and we expect to have an even better one this year."

Forming the nucleus of this year's team will be these three lettermen: Steve Howard Sherman and Phil Jerome.

Practice will continue daily, with runners gradually working up to two miles. Students still wishing to join the squad should start practicing immediately. Yabne said, in order to be in shape for the opener, the Mustangs will open the season with West Bloomfield Tuesday.

Horses Race To Victories

The most outstanding was that by Stealing Wind, the Popular Yalcanic filly owned by Howford Niiss and Ray Honsinger of Northville, in the two-year-old Michigan colt stake for juvenile trotters.

She won the eliminator in 2:11.1 and barely edged out Miss Becky Pick by a nose in the final 2:13.1. Alltime, the six-year-old Queen Vicard owned by Joe Gattner of Wixom, entered the winner's circle for the first time in 17 starts with a victory in 2:12.2. He was 6-1 in the betting and paid a mutual of $14.20.

Brown Velvet, a four-year-old Daley Hanover gelding owned by Jim Ramsey of Wixom, entered the winner's circle for the first time in 17 starts with a victory in 2:12.2. He was 6-1 in the betting and paid a mutual of $14.20.

The Wolverine meeting is being conducted at the Detroit Race Course, Middlebelt and Schoolcraft roads, and continues through Saturday, September 24.

The meeting is enjoying its good success in several years with attendance up 6.3 percent and wagering showing an increase of 2.4 percent over 1959 figures.

State Count Of Grouse Brightens

Michigan's ruffed grouse hunters should enjoy a moderate increase in their shooting success this fall, according to results of surveys recently summed up by the Conservation department.

Such a forecast is particularly encouraging since hunters took their highest kill in five seasons. Drumming counts, opinion polls, brood checks, and mail carrier surveys indicate that grouse numbers are down somewhat from last year in the upper peninsula. However, unusual weather and cover conditions above the Straits this summer may have tempered the true hunting prospects.

In the northern lower peninsula, all surveys point to more birds, a strong sign that ruffed grouse are continuing an upward swing dating from 1956 in their population cycle. Based on last season's kill and flushing reports from cooperating hunters, the grouse outlook is good in northern sectors of the southern lower peninsula where hunting success has picked up steadily during the last several years.

Bill Trotter

THESE FOUR Northville gridderes will be among those players to see plenty of action Friday night in the opener against Plymouth. Jerry Biddle probably will start at tackle in place of Jim Tuck. See story, page one.

NORTHVILLE GRID COACHES

Biery Bids For Position On Central 11

Seventy-two men, including one from Northville, reported for opening football drills this month at Central Michigan university.

Included in the group were 32 freshmen and 20 returning lettermen.

Coach Bill Kelly and his staff said the candidates would run through two-a-day drills every day except Sunday.

Lipseton dominated the 20 returning lettermen in the Chippewee camp, while outstanding freshmen prospects were mainly centered in the backfield. Central has three of its starting backs last year by graduation.

Returning letterman Richard Biery of Northville, a Junior at Central, is one of the outstanding back candidates of the 1960 eleven.

Biery and his teammates will see their first action this season when Central clashes with Western Michigan university Friday.

Huron Captain

— Twenty-four-year-old Al Iversen of Northville reported for early football drills at Eastern Michigan university. Iversen, a Northville high school product, is leading the team this year as captain. Standing 5' 10" and weighing 190, the university senior will be playing from the center position. Although considered by college gridiron standards to be light for a center, he is considered by Coach Fred Trosko to be "the outstanding lineman on the squad." The Hurons will open the season against Albion college in Ypsilanti tomorrow.

THE THREE RS OF RELIGION

With children returning to school, many people may be inclined to recall the following bit of poetry:

"Reading" and "ritin" and "whitme"
Taught to the tune of a hickory stick."

This archaic description of the content and method of public education may still remind us that there is to be purpose and character to education. Simply put, education does have to do with the basic needs of learning how to read, how to write and how to solve problems. The clamoring need in our communities for special help in "remedial reading" for our children is good positive of at least a third of this characterization of education.

This tendency to define things — to briefly describe their character — is a common and important trait of mankind. Religion has never escaped man's ingenuity at this point. The writer of the Epistle of James penned these words, "Pure religion — is to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction and to keep oneself unstained from the world." A chaplain in the First World War said, "Religion is being your life on God." The communist thought pattern is credited with defining religion as "an opiate of the people."

One day in the course of replying to his critics, Jesus told the Parable of the Prodigal Son. We feel the feeling that the immediate purpose of this Parable was to make it clear that God's main business is to receive sinners and therefore He, Christ, was not in error in eating with them. If sinners are to be saved there must be a relationship with God which, from God's position, is immediate, personal and compassionate. It follows, also, that man — a sinner — has a responsibility if he is to be saved. He must avail himself of the presence and mercy of God.

It is as though the Pharisees, in the heat of their criticism, had lost sight of the simple, but true, meaning of religion — namely, that religion is man's relationship with God.

In the light of the message of the Parable of the Prodigal Son, we may even go further and characterize religion in terms of three Rs as men have characterized education. In this instance, the three Rs are not "reading" and "ritin" and "whitme" but RESPECT, REMORSE and RETURN.

It was not until the Prodigal had real respect for his father that he was willing to return to him. It was not until he was personally felt remorse concerning his own condition and need did the Prodigal turn back to his father. It was not until he had decided to return to his father that he put himself in the position where his father could really help him.

The writer of the Epistle of James was not far wrong when he wrote, "Pure religion is to keep oneself unstained from the world." This can only be accomplished as one, out of sincere respect for God and remorse over his own life, constantly returns to close companionship with God.

“Lutheran Hour” Starts Twenty-eighth Year

The 28th broadcasting season of "The Lutheran Hour", world wide radio ministry of St. Paul's Lutheran church of Northville and associated congregations, opens Sunday, Rev. B. J. Pankov, pastor, reported this week.

The opening broadcast will be heard on WERV, Ann Arbor, at 7:30 p.m.

Back from a 10-week summer visit of Europe — including Moscow, Warsaw and Berlin — to serve as adviser on a film depicting the struggle of East German Christians against Communist oppression, Dr. Oswald Hoffmann will begin his sixth year as Lutheran Hour speaker.

His topic Sunday will be "Christ, Your Hope".

"The Lutheran Hour is broadcast by more than 40 Canadian stations, 60 United States stations, and 600 other stations around the world. It is heard in more than 100 lands by an estimated 25 million persons each week, each in his own language.

It is the world's largest non-government radio operation. Only the Voice of America, Radio Moscow and the British Broadcasting Corp. have more coverage.

The program's sole purpose is to evangelize in its motto.

NORTHVILLE Telephone Lines

By HUGH C. BRONAUGH, Manager

BE OUR GUEST. We'd like to have you and the whole family over for a visit at our new TELEPHONE OFFICE CENTER (Southfield and Northwestern), Sunday afternoon, September 18. We've planned things for your enjoyment — movies, demonstrations, refreshments, balloons and coloring books for the kids. Among other things, you can see telephone trunks held open by the old, big holes and set telephone poles. See how telephone cable is spliced. Hear how your voice sounds to others on the phone, and have our electronic computer tell you the day of the week you were born. We'll be expecting you between 1 and 5. There's plenty of parking right at our door.

EVERYONE KNOWS you can FIND IT FAST in the Yellow Pages...

you should see some of the things we find in the old, used Yellow Pages books when they're collected. Birth certificates, wills, unmailed letters, and even dollar bills have turned up, tucked in between the Yellow Pages and forgotten. So if you want a place to bury your "treasures," use the Yellow Pages... the right way! Look up Safe Deposit Boxes—or Safes—and make a prudent phone call!

TURN ON TELEVISION

... Let's see what's being broadcast from Europe? That day may be closer than you think. Last month the Bell Laboratories' engineers succeeded in bouncing a live conversation off the new balloon satellite, Echo, and another communications frontier was opened.

The day when a whole series of balloon satellites may be spotted around the world to transmit broadcasts from continent to continent in seconds is just a little nearer.

Voters Prepare, It's Campaign Time Again

Every two years about this time until the November election Americans from coast to coast are caught up in the whirl wind created by campaigning politicians.

And take an impartial look at the hot dog. Yet the bitter words spoken in the heat of the contest often turn neighbor against neighbor, relative against relative as partisan views clash.

One must sometimes stand back and take an impartial look at the goings-on to maintain his bearings. But politics is a serious business and cannot be taken lightly where basic principles are concerned.

Dick or Jack?

The following statement was issued by Democratic Senator McNamara as a comment to Secretary Fleming's endorsement of Vice President Nixon.

Washington, D.C. — In a statement released from his office in Washington, D.C. Senator McNamara today disclosed that Vice President Nixon had consistently voted against better health, education and other welfare legislation.

Senator Pat McNamara (D-Mich.) said today that "before Secretary Fleming puts his arm around Vice President Nixon and calls him a friend of better health, education and welfare for the American people, he had better look at Mr. Nixon's record."

Referring to Secretary Fleming's press conference yesterday, in which Fleming had challenged Senator Kennedy's criticism of the Nixon record on health and education matters, the Chairman of the Subcommittee on Problems of the Aged and Aging said:

"Perhaps the Secretary would not have been as lavish in his praise for the Vice President had he known, for example, that Mr. Nixon voted against the creation of his own department in 1959.

"Mr. Nixon has not been what you call sympathetic to people in need. He has cast votes against school lunch funds (1947), opposed Federal aid to medical schools and scholarships to medical students (1951), and supported sharp reductions in appropriations for cancer research, heart research, and mental health research. He also voted to cut funds for the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation for the Children's Bureau (1951)."

"He continued: 'Mr. Nixon served his apprenticeship for the position he now seeks under an Administration that has gone eight years without delivering a school construction bill; an Administration that has time and again proposed budgets for medical research that were hopelessly inadequate to make the scientific breakthroughs we must make in our war against disease.

"In the last eight years, we have Congress have had to increase Administration budgets for health research by a total of $49 million to keep this research going.

"There is nothing in Mr. Nixon's record to indicate that there will be any greater hope for progress if he should be President."

Listed below are some Nixon votes:

1. May 28, 1947: motion to raise school lunch funds from $45 to $70 million as voted by Senate. Nixon voted no.
2. June 10, 1950: motion to create Department of Health, Education and Security, as suggested under Reorganization Act. Nixon voted no.
3. June 14, 1951: Amendment to restore 10 percent cut in funds for the Public Health Service, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, National Cancer Institute and Children's Bureau. Nixon voted no.
4. October 4, 1951: Motion to advance program of grants to medical schools and doctor education in order to broaden support for the bill and help insure its passage. Nixon voted no.
5. June 15, 1951: Amendment to reduce funds for Federally-impacted schools by $9 million. Nixon voted yes.

Maybe the size of crowds at political rallies are meaningless in this television era. The UAW worked for weeks to get 100,000 into Cadillac Square in Detroit to make a big show for the candidate.

A crowd of 100,000 would have filled the square from the lawn of the old City Hall to the old County Building.

I stood on the outskirts. I was on the sidewalk of Woodward across the street from Kennedy. The newspapers said there were 40,000 on hand. A more reasonable estimate would have been 30,000, a figure that may be significant when compared to the big rallies the UAW staged for Roosevelt, Truman and Stevenson.

AN EARLY morning visitor greeted Northville Ford valve plant workers as they reported for the morning shift last Thursday. U.S. Congressman Alvin Bentley (right), Republican candidate for senator, is shown shaking hands with Carl Martin of Northville while Bill Duncan of South Lyon looks on. Rep. Bentley announced plans to carry his campaign to the "working man" as he visited industrial plants throughout the Detroit area. His campaign chairman in Northville, who were on hand to distribute literature to the workers, are Mr. and Mrs. George Hollinger.

Tea to Honor Broomfield

A tea honoring Congressman William S. Broomfield, Republican candidate for re-election to the U.S. house of representatives from the 11th district, will be held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Malley, 21833 Beck road, Novi and Northville residents of Oakland county are invited by Mr. and Mrs. Malley to attend and meet the Washington representative.

LA. Hensch Army 2nd Lt. William W. Hensch, whose wife, Constance, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hensch, live at 855 Scott avenue, recently completed the officer basic course at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia. The ten-week course was designed to familiarize Lt. Hensch, a newly-commissioned officer, with the duties and responsibilities of an infantry unit commander. The lieutenant is a 1955 graduate of Bedford (Iowa) high school and a 1959 graduate of Iowa State university. He is a member of Delta Sigma Pi fraternity. Hensch found himself at his first meeting of the new school year Tuesday night like a family returning from a long summer vacation.

Its garden was in the form of numerous new and pressing problems. Its budget for the coming year is as tight as the family refrigerator is bare of food, with the prospect of a $10,000 deficit by next June.

The final blow was the request for annexation received last summer from three Novi school districts. Because of the many problems involved, which have been aggravated by Ford's plan to move its Lincoln division into Novi township, the request is about as popular at the moment as would be a visit from a large family of relatives by next June.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO...
Oscar Hammond is the newly installed commander of Lloyd H. Green Post, American Legion.

...end when news reached here of the sudden death of Lt. John W. Skerrett, while on active duty. Lt. Skerrett, husband of the former Green Jones of Northville, had delivered a Navy plane at Beaufort, South Carolina, and was returning to his base at the Naval Air station near Brown, N.Y., on a commercial plane which crashed near Florence, S.C. Two Northville boys, Lt. Vernon P. Biddle and Staff Sgt. Leonard P. Fritz were awarded Air Medal for meritorious service.

Rev. Lorenzo Wood, pastor of St. Patrick's church, Northville, will come to Northville next Tuesday to take over the duties of this parish.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO...
Despite the fact that school will run ten months and that an extra teacher has been hired, Northville taxpayers will have to pay one mill less school tax than a year ago.

The new tax will be 8.78 mills or $8.78 per thousand dollars. This is expected to raise approximately $20,725. The tax a year ago was 9.78 mills. Assessed valuation of the school district is $2,392,058, according to Superintendent of Schools R. H. Amerman.

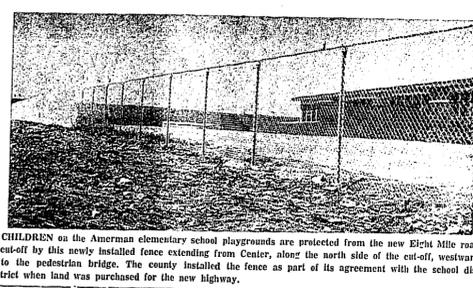

The council unofficially divided last Monday night over Chief of Police William H. Safford's plan for liquor control in Northville.

Tuition cases for the grade school were increased from $45 to $50 by the school board.

School attendance, although it set a first day record with 720, one side, 25 feet in height, of the mark of last year, it became evident this week.

A warning to all bicycle owners in Northville and vicinity that there is an organized gang in this area and other sections stealing bicycles was issued this week by Marshall.

CHILDREN on the American elementary school playgrounds are protected from the new Elbert Mile road cut-off by this newly installed fence extending from Center, along the north side of the cut-off, westward to the pedestrian bridge. The county installed the fence as part of its agreement with the school district when land was purchased for the new highway.

Two hundred and fifty tons of silage were endangered last week on the George Rattenbury farm, Nine Mile near Meadowbrook, when one side, 25 feet in height of the reinforced concrete silo broke loose.

More than 150 Legionnaires and their ladies from all over the 17th district will convene in the Methodist church home at 7 p.m. Wednesday for a district dinner.

SPEAKING for the Record

By Bill Siger
It's been nearly four years now that a committee representing six area school districts has been working on a proposal to establish a junior community college.

The Northville school district was invited to participate in the program but declined after attending preliminary meetings because our system was in the early stages of promoting its bond issue for a new high school. Presumably, our board of education did not believe that Northville was able to assume any new financial obligations at that time.

But I believe the board and school administrators would be quick to agree that responsibility for providing an opportunity for education does not end with graduation from high school. This has become a serious problem and will become more so as each year passes.

Our major state universities and colleges are jammed. I have been told that the Henry Ford Junior College has been turning away applicants for the fall term for two months. The same is true of other major colleges in the metropolitan area.

Educators point out that our college population will double in 10 years, and on top of this the percentage of our high school graduates going to college continues to grow.

It was the recognition of this problem that prompted the districts of Farmington, Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth, Redford Union and South Redford to undertake the community college plan.

Their progress has been significant. They have been successful in initiating legislation to provide for formation of a community college by two or more school districts. They have enlisted the assistance of the University of Michigan Bureau of School Services and employed the part-time services of Dr. Albert Armerman, dean of instruction of Henry Ford Community college, to help prepare material for a formal application. Just recently an office has been opened at Newburg and Ann Arbor trail.

By February they submitted their proposal for establishment of a college to the state superintendent of public instruction. If this is approved, an election will be scheduled—possibly in June—asking voters in the participating districts to okay the community college plan, elect a board of trustees and agree upon the necessary millage levy. State aid and tuition would probably keep the mill levy low, possibly at one mill.

Interest in the community college plan has been proven by a preliminary survey of some 4500 students in the northwest Wayne county area. Nearly 2600 returned questionnaires stating they would be interested in attending the college.

Actually, it is anticipated that the proposed college would do more than take the load off our bigger institutions. It would, of course, enable students seeking four-year degrees or professional training to submit their first two years' credit at their conveniently located community college.

As important, the community college would provide advanced technical training for prospective nurses, bookkeepers, stenographers, etc., thereby upgrading their opportunity for better employment.

Likewise it would answer the growing area demand for adult education classes.

I have been told by Mrs. Esther Fulsing, Plymouth school board member and secretary-manager for the study group (technically called the Northwest Wayne County Community College Committee), that school districts contiguous to the participating districts can join the program at any time.

In the initial vote to form the "college authority", however, every participating district must vote approval or the entire plan fails. If it is approved, neighboring districts can join by a favorable vote within their own area.

It is my personal conviction that Northville authorities—the school board, Parent-Teachers' association and any others interested in providing maximum opportunity for education—should accept this invitation and become a part of the community college effort.

Don't Kill a Child

PEOPLE WHO READ traffic safety stories, glance at safety signs or hear safety reminders have short memories. Too often they let the messages get killed or involved in an accident over the warnings.

But if it weren't for the newspapers—and other media—the record would be far worse than it is, according to Gerald W. Shipman, executive secretary of the State Safety Council.

"Definitely, we'd be dead without the cooperation and support of newspapers," he said.

As Michigan's 1,500,000 students start back to school this fall, Shipman says there can be no better time for drivers to be reminded of the need for vigilance on the highway especially near schools and during the hours children are making their trips between school and home. The familiar motto "Don't kill a child" has no greater significance for the driver who has been for president as an accident with a youngster.

The law about stopping for school buses loading or unloading children needs to be emphasized. It became effective little more than a year ago, Shipman said. "In order to be reminded that they are required to stop when the bus stops whether they are traveling in the same or opposite direction."

"The trend has been for a more safety conscious public over the past years, and newspapers have helped it along," Shipman states. "Newspaper articles have been sparked by a committee of especially dedicated editors who work together in the Traffic Safety Council of Michigan Press Association. F. Granger Weil, president of the Fori-Times Herald, is key driving force in this activity. In six of the last seven years he served as chairman of the committee."

Newspapers have been complimented numerous times for their safety work by the Governor, by State Police Commissioner Joseph E. Childs and Secretary of State James M. Hare, who is chairman of the Michigan Press Association's Traffic Safety Council.

1.—Devote ample news and editorial to traffic safety matters to keep the public up to date.

2.—Support the aims defined by traffic experts. In recent years this included passing a speed limit on the highway in a never ending one. Continued effort is necessary to keep from losing ground.

We're World Leaders in Taxes, Too!

On the Atlantic Ocean—As I travel about the world I am convinced that we, the people of the United States, pay the highest taxes of any nation with a responsible government. We know the direct tax bill which we get from our cities and towns, based on real estate assessments, and the direct tax bills which we get from our states, states and Federal Government but we fail to recognize the indirect taxes we are paying. No other country which I annually visit has such indirect taxes.

When I have a meal costing a $1.00 or more in many states there is a tax added to the bill. All of our states have gasoline taxes ranging from 2c to 6c a gallon, in addition to a tax on tires, and on certain trucks, the toll is another form of tax. Some cities and states also add sales taxes which are added to the cost of our daily purchases.

You may think that the government must pay your Social Security, but really you have been taxed for it for many years. Then there are the liquor and cigarette taxes, and the taxes you pay when you send a telegram, make certain phone calls, buy transportation tickets. There are many others, too, which I could mention.

The greatest tax burden which every consumer in the United States pays is the corporation profits tax. This applies to all corporations. It means that up to 33 percent of the profits of all corporations must be paid to the federal government in taxes.

Those of you who receive semi-annual reports from corporations in which the stock you own is held, you pay in income taxes. These taxes, however, are added to the price of the goods which the corporations sell. Hence, when you buy anything from your local stores (except food, drugs, and a few other necessities) you relate to the producer 32 percent. This includes refrigerators, cooking stoves, television sets, radios, as well as almost all the furniture for your house. You pay this through the increased price.

Another effective way newspapers help in safety efforts is through campaigning for road improvements, better signage, traffic lights or other safety aids right in their own communities, Shipman said.

"In all our meetings with daily and weekly newspaper editors we continually emphasize the theme: 'Look around you. There may be a safety situation in your own town that needs cleaning up,'" the safety expert said.

"Everybody is more affected by what they read than by anything else," Shipman said. "In order to get people to drive safely, we think the best thing to do is urge them to do specific things."

"You just can't tell them to be safe," he said. "The one thing we do emphasize in any campaign is responsibility."

He said newspapers used the specific suggestion approach effectively, with stories and sometimes pictures to illustrate such warnings as: Give your children something to do when they are home from school. Don't drink and drive. Don't drink and drive when you're tired. Make sure your car is in shape to make the trip.

The MPA committee urges three main actions for Michigan newspapers: 1.—Devote ample news and editorial to traffic safety matters to keep the public up to date.

2.—Support the aims defined by traffic experts. In recent years this included passing a speed limit on the highway in a never ending one. Continued effort is necessary to keep from losing ground.

3.—Support local enforcement officials in their efforts to deal with traffic violators. The committee urged editors to chat with sheriff, police chiefs and judges encouraging them to deal strictly with law breakers; to offer editorial support for strictness.

"Definitely, we'd be dead without the cooperation and support of newspapers," he said.

Library To Open Saturday

The dreams of Novi citizens will become a reality Sunday when the community's first public library officially opens.

Wearing a fresh coat of white paint and housing close to 3,000 books, either donated or purchased by cash donations the little frame building will welcome students and adults beginning at 11 a.m. The doors will close at 5 p.m.

Novi residents are welcome to visit the library and inspect the book shelves and acquire themselves with this new public service—a product of scores of public spirited citizens.

The library contains close to 3,000 books, including those for small children as well as teenagers and adults. All of these books have either been donated or have been purchased with the more than $1,500 contributed by the 31-city campaign earlier this summer.

During the campaign citizens were asked to become "Friends of the Library"—members with donations of $10 or more.

By becoming a "Friend," a citizen is entitled to have his or her name imprinted inside the book or books purchased by the donation.

Regular library hours will be 10 to 12 on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and 11 to 5 on Saturdays.

Members of the library committee, which governs the policies of the library are: Sanford Sever, president; Dick Greenberg, vice president; Mrs. Wordell Lyke, secretary; Mrs. Wallace, librarian; John MacBride, special librarian; Fraser Staman, Harold Bachus, Albert Anderson and Mrs. Greenberg.

In connection with library activities, a registration period will be held this week Saturday at the library for children and adults interested in joining an art class.

Registration will be from 10 to 12 a.m. also will be accepted for a wood-work instrument class.

A Great Books group, sponsored by the library, will hold an orientation meeting next week Friday at the First United Presbyterian church, Morgan House club, Excelsior and attained the rank of Eagle in the Boy Scouts.

Besides his wife, Esther Hanson Atwood, and his son, he is survived by his parents, who reside at 121 High street; a sister, Ardyce; and a brother, S/Sgt. Harold Atwood, stationed at Cannon Air Force Base, New Mexico.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday from the Castelline funeral home with the Rev. Dr. Frank Fitz officiating. Interment was at Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens in Novi.

The bid was awarded to the Postle firm, one of five construction companies to submit bids, on the basis of the recommendations by the architect, Kalamandri, McMillan & Associates, Inc.

Although the base bid was not the lowest of the five, a spokesman for Kalamandri explained that the combined construction, electrical and mechanical estimates were lower than were the combinations of other firms.

Base bids were: T. W. Hay, Birmingham, $30,550; J. J. Smith & Son, Pontiac, $27,544; Smith & Rous, Northville, $25,741; Schwanz Builders, Bloomfield Hills, $22,800; Wilson & Sons, Birmingham, $22,522.

The council also authorized the architect to secure cost estimates on reconstruction of a concrete building, presently located on the city property, for use as a department of public works office and workshop.

Construction of the new city hall is expected to get underway early next month.

Groundbreaking ceremonies have been planned for Sunday, October 8, at 9 a.m. Tentative arrangements call for music by the Walked Lake high school band, a display by the Lincoln plant, and talks by these men: Mayor Donald Brogh, Joseph T. George, Jr., President, Fishman's; former mayor Joseph Staudt; William Stigleton, 318-Young, a few guests will be invited for members. The club will use either the Prout lake ring or the range on the Birch Park Gun club property.

The second organizational meeting of the Wixom gun club will be held tonight at 7 in the city hall.

Sponsored by the Wixom police department, the club is designed for all city boys and girls age 12-18 who want to learn safety precautions and how to become marksmen.

According to Police Lt. D'Arcy Young, a few guests will be invited for members. The club will use either the Prout lake ring or the range on the Birch Park Gun club property.

School Committee Organizes Tonight

Novi's board of education set the wheels in motion on three different proposed school programs Wednesday evening (September 14) in a session that lasted until 1 a.m.

Board members nominated five names each to a citizens' committee that will hold its organizational meeting tonight (Thursday) at the Orchard Hills school.

Secondly, the board scheduled a public meeting with Dr. Harry Hahn of the Oakland county board of education for next Tuesday evening to discuss the controversial subject of hiring a remedial reading teacher.

And thirdly, Superintendent of Schools William Medlyn told the board that school consultant services were available through the University of Michigan. Last month the board approved a motion to hire a part-time elementary curriculum consultant.

An audience filled the library of the Orchard Hills school at the board meeting. If they came expecting a duplication of the previous meeting which arguments raged over the proposed hiring of a remedial reading teacher, they were disappointed.

Although Walter Ambinder and John MacBride were reluctant to promote his Tuesday evening reading program, they were disappointed.

Superintendent Medlyn reported that Dr. Hahn would be available the 27th to discuss remedial reading. Both Ambinder and MacBride favor hiring a trained reading specialist immediately.

Board members Arthur Healy, Edward Erwin and Russell Taylor supported Erwin's proposal to examine the public school and means of financing the teacher. Presumably, Dr. Hahn will discuss these areas as well as the direction of area chairman are still needed. Mrs. Merwin reported Persons interested in helping with the drive may call her at FJ-8140.

The 25 members to the school board's citizens' committee will get together with board members at eight o'clock this evening to organize themselves into study groups.

Each board member was entitled to name five members each of whom will serve on one of the five sub-committees covering special education, school teacher personnel, finances and curriculum.

The board members' selections were as follows:

Healy — Mrs. Dorothy Snow, Mrs. Andrew Burgess, James Mitchell, Dick Trautman and Herb Dryden.

Ambinder — John Hood, David Fried, Ray Garcia, Richard B. Staman and Edward Jennings.

MacBride — George McCullum, Ann Hawley, Robert LeWittier, William Dean and William Plafie.

In other business at last week's board session an annual audit report for the school district was presented by the accounting firm of Jans and Knight.

(As required by law, the school district's annual statistical and financial report is scheduled to be published in next week's edition of The Novi News.)

In answer to questions from William Dean, a member of the audience, the firm representative explained that because school districts are required by law to keep books on a cash basis that liabilities exceeded assets by some $42,000 in the audit. He explained that the report did not show some $20,000 in delinquent state aid, reducing the deficit to approximately $22,000.

As an emergency measure, the board decided to provide bus services for all children in Willowbrook. Students residing in Willowbrook No. 2 (south of 10 Mile and east of Meadowbrook) have been working on Meadowbrook because of the Novi road detour prompted by the board's action. The request was made by a Willowbrook mother who said the road was not without sidewalks.

This week Superintendent Medlyn said the additional pickup required two bus runs. He said that classes were being served by the substitution after the detour is returned until it can be determined how classes are affected.

Volunteers Needed Here

The call for "help" echoed throughout Novi this week, as backers of the community blood bank drive announced plans for an organizational meet next week Wednesday.

One of the thorns which pricked Village Councilman Philip Anderson in submitting his resignation a month ago was removed last Wednesday.

Presumably, Anderson will forget the resignation—at least for awhile—in light of a decision by the village board to modify restrictions on the village's pit.

Anderson told The News Wednesday that he was "satisfied" with the modified restrictions.

Called together to rehearse the matter, the board had been advised by the village's attorney, C. H. Stinson, that the village's pit was a public utility and that it must be granted.

Shimer argued that under the law, the board does not have the authority to have a re-hearing and rescind earlier actions. He and his client objected to the grant of the pit operation itself because of noise, dust, hazards and nuisances.

Board member David Fried stated that the board had been advised by the village of Novi was made available by individual contractors and property owners in this area.

This money, as well as all other money given to the county by participating communities, will be returned after construction of sewers is started.

However, after outlining his reasons for resigning, which included the pit restrictions as well as dissatisfaction with several village policies, he agreed at a council meeting to postpone his action—at least until after he had either been granted or denied a new hearing. Since then he has made public request that the matter be either considered or dropped.

In other action at last week's meeting, board members postponed until tonight at 8 p.m. the request of Dick McCree for a license so that he might conform with the village landfill ordinance.

The landfill operator contends that nothing has been done about his application for a license—quite though he applied for it "even while ago."

Objection to the proposed pit came from Catherine H. Seibert, 4960 28th Mile road, and her attorney.

Two other pieces of business before the council were tabled pending further study and investigation. They are establishment of tax-cut rates and the proposed purchase of a gasoline tank and a pump for use by city-owned vehicles.

City Treasurer Everett Pearl reported to the council that a total of $102,203 in taxes had been received through September 15. Of this, $104,447 tax roll remained to be collected, he said.

The annual football contest appears to be under way this week and will continue to be a regular feature during the grid season.

There's a "big" waiting "ouch" week for the best prognosticators: So get out your pencil and read the rules carefully.

Oh, yes—just as a favor to start you out right, here's a tip on the Chicago Bears' "Packer contest": Green Bay, 31-34.

Fire Chief William McGee of Northville will have all of the equipment on display.

The program, which will be conducted at Northville Downs in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week, will begin at 7 p.m. with a parade. Preliminary plans also call for demonstrations in hydrant hookup and hose laying, ladder erection, mask and resuscitation, and an old-fashioned water battle.

Fire Chief William McGee of Northville and Chief Fred McGee of Novi will have all of the equipment on display.

Falling Limb Kills Donald Atwood, 22

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Donald Alva Atwood, 22-year-old Northville resident, who was killed by a falling branch while operating a bulldozer last Saturday.

A lifelong resident of Northville, Atwood resided at 119 South Ely drive, with his wife and 2 1/2-year-old son, Scott Allen.

The accident occurred near Prudenville where Atwood, an employee of the S. G. Carter Construction company, was building timberland preparatory to construction of a man-made lake.

According to reports of the accident, Atwood was building a great and struck him. He was pronounced dead before an ambulance could be summoned.

Atwood was born in Northville on November 15, 1928, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Atwood. He was graduated from Northville high school in 1946. He was a member of the First United Presbyterian church, Morgan House club, Excelsior and attained the rank of Eagle in the Boy Scouts.

Besides his wife, Esther Hanson Atwood, and his son, he is survived by his parents, who reside at 121 High street; a sister, Ardyce; and a brother, S/Sgt. Harold Atwood, stationed at Cannon Air Force Base, New Mexico.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday from the Castelline funeral home with the Rev. Dr. Frank Fitz officiating. Interment was at Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens in Novi.
