

FIRE TRUCK DAMAGED — Northville township's new $16,000 pumper was damaged Wednesday morning during the blaze at South Lyon. While making a run to refill its tanks the truck skidded on slippery pavement and overturned. It was towed to Northville for repairs.

COMPLETE LOSS — Heat from the flames, which completely destroyed the trailer center, was so intense that firemen first feared that a trailer also would be set ablaze. Aluminum siding on the trailer was warped by the heat but there was no other damage.

Novi Traffic Violations Take Jump

Although the approach of winter usually means a decrease in police activity, the Novi police department handled a record number of cases during the month of November.

Novi Traffic Violations Take Jump

According to the monthly report submitted to the council by Chief Leo Goetz, traffic cases set a record for November, with 161 actual traffic tickets issued — or 21 more tickets than were issued during the previous month and 119 more than were issued in the November of 1959.

Novi Traffic Violations Take Jump

A total of 164 complaints, including traffic violations, were handled by the department, the chief reported. Of these, 139 were closed and 25 remain to be solved or checked.

The breakdown included 15 serious crimes or felonies, 44 misdemeanor crimes, 36 safety and traffic complaints, 67 non-criminal complaints, and two general accident cases.

Other activity of the department included: 10 automobile accidents; 169 car investigations; 2,028 property inspections; 20 liquor inspections; and 151 verbal warnings to motorists.

Court costs and fines for the month totaled $1,300.

The report also stated that the recently established Youth Protective committee is functioning properly, with several local juvenile cases being successfully handled.

That a gun bureau was established within the department; that attempts to secure a drivers license bureau are underway; and that a number of traffic surveys of village roads have been completed.

Sales Tax Jumps to 4%

Northville-Novati area residents, along with citizens throughout the state, found themselves digging a little deeper into their pocketbooks this week as a result of the increased sales tax.

Novi Traffic Violations Take Jump

The tax, which jumped from 3 to 4 percent, became effective January 1. Although the method of collecting the tax is different in many communities, most business places in this area have adopted a "mathematically accurate" taxing table.

Novi Traffic Violations Take Jump

In computing customer taxes using this table, merchants charge no tax on purchases of less than 12 cents. Here's how they charge taxes on purchases over 12 cents:

Table with 2 columns: Purchase, Sales Tax. Rows: 13 to 37 cents (1 cent), 38 to 62 cents (2 cents), 63 to 87 cents (3 cents), 88 to 112 cents (4 cents), 113 to 137 cents (5 cents), 138 to 162 cents (6 cents), 163 to 187 cents (7 cents), 188 to 212 cents (8 cents), 213 to 237 cents (9 cents), 238 to 262 cents (10 cents).

About the only stores using a different system are those which make a great many sales of less than one dollar. Dime stores are among these, although the Northville's D&C store is using the mathematical table.

Under state law, merchants must pay a 4 percent tax on monthly business. They can collect the tax from their customers any way they choose.

To Widen Novi Curve

The Northville city council voted Tuesday night to take prompt action on the state police recommendations for installing safety measures on the Novi road leading to the new Eight Mile road cut-off.

The curve, in use two months, has already had two accidents (confidentially on the same day) in which cars turned over.

State police recommendations to Oakland county and the city include widening of the roadway on the curve, installation of a large, reflective warning sign at the bend in the curve, an overhead street light in the vicinity of the curve and approaching speed limit signs.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

A subdivision plat calling for construction of 118 homes was approved by the Wixom council Thursday night — with the stipulation that the developer meet several city requirements.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

Approved was a proposed subdivision of Lee Keating, called Palmer Lake Estates subdivision Number 1, located near Wixom and Loop Lake roads. An adjoining subdivision, also to be developed by Keating, was approved earlier by Wixom officials.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

The subdivision will contain homes in the $18,000 to $20,000 class. Keating has stated. The three bedroom homes will be of brick construction, with varying architectural details.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

Much of the land development, including roads, already has been completed. Construction of the houses is expected to get underway in the spring.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

Among other Wixom building projects which have been recently completed, are under construction, or are in the planning stages are: A new $48,000 city hall, which is slated for completion later this month; a new $110,000 UAW union hall; a new Baptist church with a seating capacity of 350 persons; an addition to the Lincoln-Mercury plant, new railroad receiving docks on the plant property, and a $200,000 city road reconstruction program.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

Another question of major importance to the city of Wixom, is the implementation of their master plan program. Although the plan was intended as a long range guide to development, recommendations will surely be introduced, as the plan proceeds, to carry out needed

People of Novi also are vitally affected by the decisions which will face both the state and the nation in this new year.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

Goods are plentiful with costs still going up; profits are being slashed; industry is not expanding as it did a few years ago; foreign markets are caught up because our costs are too high; inventories in our salesrooms are bigger today than ever before; and unemployment and welfare are growing headaches on the state and county level.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

All these matters offer decisions that the nation, state and citizens of this community must face in 1961. In conclusion, at least one thing is sure to be the new year: even if you look at it upside down it will be 1961.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

Present officers in addition to Abrams are: Ted Carlson, vice president; Chris Wilson, treasurer; Mrs. Nissa, secretary; Hilda Furman, Jay Sereno, Edie Bugles, Fred Thayer and William Richards, directors; and Grant Egger, sergeant at arms.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

Wixom city officials this week revealed they had turned down a proposal by the state that a 76-acre parcel of city property be 'given' to Novi for a township park.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

The property, which is owned by the state, is located on the north side of the US-16 expressway between Beck and Wixom roads.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

According to Mayor Donald Brooks the state approved the city two weeks ago with its suggestion that Wixom relinquish its jurisdiction so that the property could be made part of a township park for use as a park. Presumably the state conservation department would purchase the property from the state highway department with money realized from the sale of the late Mrs. Mary McGuire Power of Novi.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

Brooks said that his assistant, John Finlayson, went to Lansing Tuesday to tell the state that Wixom "didn't want any part of the plan." Such a proposal, Brooks said, means "a big legal headache for the city."

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

Early last month Novi officials were informed that the state was willing to purchase Novi property for park purposes. Previously, the state had said it would either purchase property in Novi or adjacent to it. Property near Kensington park was reportedly under consideration.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

This latest proposal with Wixom apparently substantiates the state's willingness to establish the park within the boundaries of Novi.

'Lake' Sub Zoning OK'ed But Not Plat

The village council and planning commission, holding a joint public hearing, approved the rezoning of the proposed Meadowbrook Lake subdivision property from agricultural to R-1-8 Monday night.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

But proposed rezoning of four privately-owned parcels adjoining the subdivision was postponed until it could be definitely determined whether the property owners had been properly notified of the change.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

The subdivision property is located at the northwest corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook roads. Some 150 lots are proposed for the 110-acre site which includes a 20-acre artificial lake.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

Following the first hearing, the planning commission opened a new hearing to review the subdivision plat as submitted by the owners of the parcel, Suburban Development company.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

Planners adjourned this hearing until January 30 after it was determined that some changes would be necessary and that more time would be needed to permit planners and consultants to study the revised plat.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

A representative of the development firm urged the planners to indicate some preliminary approval so that workmen could proceed as soon as possible.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

Chairman V. A. Miklas said he saw no serious objections to the plat and indicated that he would provide the developers with a letter of tentative approval.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

Plans call for the water system of the subdivision to be turned over to the village after it is completed along with the control dam on the lake.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

The developers have indicated that a model will be constructed as soon as possible.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

Councilmen and planners declined to renege abutting property to R-1-8 which was pointed out by Village President Joseph Crupl, but would not permit keeping of horses on the land. "While none of these property owners now keep horses, we have barns on their land and might wish to do so in the future," Crupl explained.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

It was indicated that the owners in question would be contacted again. Presumably, if there is an objection to R-1-8 zoning, planners will permit this property to remain agricultural.

Wixom OKs Plat for City Subdivision

The city of Wixom is an expanding metropolitan area, serving industrial and residential growth, bringing forth concerns relating to potential traffic conditions. During peak hours the existing streets that serve industry are already being used to near capacity, and to make these streets practicable for future traffic loads, acceleration of Wixom's five-year street paving program becomes the most important decision for 1961, together with the widening of US-16 Expressway exits leading to Wixom road, plus helping to expedite the State and Federal highway planning to accommodate the estimated increase in traffic, by state and local traffic engineers.

Work Begins On $1 Million Infirmiry Unit

Construction of a 220-bed infirmiry, which will cost more than $1,000,000, was started this week on the Plymouth State Home and Training school property, located at the northwest corner of Sheldon and Five Mile roads.

Polio Peanut Sale Set

Senior high school student council members will sell "Peanuts for Polio" Saturday in the Northville business district to help collect funds for the annual March of Dimes.

Fred Stefanski, assistant high school principal, is chairman of the school campaign.

The traditional "March of Dimes" campaign, originally scheduled for Tuesday, January 31, has been moved ahead to Sunday, January 29 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Wayne McBride, chairman of the local March of Dimes drive, also reported this week that plans to hold a benefit fashion show to support the campaign have been dropped.

The canister solicitation get underway today, however, with the placing of collection containers throughout the business district (see picture, page 8).

Schedule New Registrations For Adult Ed

Registration for adult education courses to be offered by the Northville public schools is scheduled Monday and Tuesday evenings, January 16 and 17, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the high school.

Still in its infancy, the adult education program introduced here just last fall, will offer a six-course curriculum the second semester, including painting, woodworking, sewing, cake decorating and introduction to the stock market.

Classes will be taught in two-hour sessions at the high school beginning January 23 and continuing for 10 weeks. Tuition fees for all but the stock market course will be $4 for 10 weeks. Stock market course tuition is $15.

Adult Education Director William Hensen said a minimum of 15 students is required to make up a class.

"We could offer courses in many other fields, Hensen stated, "if enough persons would indicate an interest in a subject to meet the minimum class requirement of 15 students."

Courses will be taught on the following days — all painting, Tuesday; typing, Tuesday; sewing, Tuesday; woodworking, Monday or Tuesday; cake decorating, Friday; introduction to the stock market, Tuesday.

Books and supplies for the classes are to be paid for or furnished by the students. Last semester 21 persons enrolled in the program.

Thursday: And Thompsons Wait

To most Northville residents Thursday will be just another day — breakfast, work, lunch, work, dinner, relaxation and retire.

But while others are following their usual routine, Mr. and Mrs. Philip (Jack) Thompson of 333 Debra Lane will be experiencing an anxiety-killed day as they wait for the welfare of their children.

Their seven-year-old son, Mark, will undergo open heart surgery at University of Michigan hospital in Ann Arbor.

They will stand by during the four-hour operation and do whatever frightened, anxious and helpless parents can do in circumstances like these; they'll pray and keep up a brave front.

The Thompsons are newcomers to Northville, but their neighbors in Northville Heights have shown deep concern. And Mark's school chums in second grade at Amsman school would want to know what is happening to their friend.

So Mrs. Thompson told The Record how their local physician had discovered a murmur in Mark's heart and sent him to the university for further tests.

The exams revealed that Mark has a hole in his heart. The operation will be performed to close this hole.

Tiny 1961 First Baby Wasn't Due til March

First Baby, 1961 is a real long-shoe winner.

She's Tamara Ann Macdonald and the city has waited to arrive until March 1.

As a matter of fact, she's so small (three pounds, 15 ounces at birth) that she's unable to be home to celebrate her newly won honors.

Tamara's in an incubator at St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor. She was born at 3:38 a.m. on Monday, January 2.

It is expected that all of the above units will be completed by 1964 if the requested funds are made available as scheduled.

All of these new buildings will be constructed on property directly opposite the present facility. The 250 acres which the state owns next to and across from the Wayne County Training school was donated to the state by the county.

Eventually, the county training school, which encompasses about 750 acres, may become part of the state institution.

Merging of the two institutions was originally scheduled for July 1, 1961. However, still spring the Wayne county board of supervisors rescinded previous action to turn over the school to the state, pending the outcome of a survey by the American Psychiatric Association.

move doubts and apprehensions. A telephone call to University hospital revealed that staff authorities hold with this theory, too, and what they had to say should offer a reassurance to which the Thompsons, and all Mark's friends, can cling.

It is a story of the miracle of modern surgery — a world that knows almost commonplace.

Mark's operation is serious, let there be no doubt of this. The hospital describe it as an "extremely complicated congenital cardiac defect." And at University hospital the mortality rate in these operations has been reduced to 1.4 percent.

In other words, the chances that this operation will be performed with complete success are nearly 99 to 1.

Mark has already undergone his tests, which probably included X-rays, electro-cardiograms, an angiography to provide a picture of the inside of the heart and a cardiac-catheterization, to obtain blood samples and pressure readings from inside the heart.

Then Tuesday he entered the hospital to prepare for today's surgery. The operation cannot proceed without fresh blood. Fifteen pints are needed and these have already

New Sewer Plan Readied for Area

City and township officials are awaiting revisions to county contracts that will call for an agreement between Wayne county and 14 individual communities involved in construction of an $18 million sanitary sewer.

The complex, 30-plus page contract, approved by the western Wayne county communities involved, would end the ban on construction of new subdivisions invoked by the state health department nearly two years ago.

The county department of public works plan calls for an $18 million bond issue financing over 40 years. Cost of the project is divided between the benefiting communities based upon their ultimate population. Credit is allowed for payments already made to the existing Middle Rouge interceptor sewer.

In the city of Northville, the estimated ultimate population is 9,000. While the present cost assigned to the city is $768,000, this will be reduced to $47,000 in the revised contract. Wayne county had neglected to credit the city for payments made to the existing sewer for the Oakland county portion of the city.

The township's population estimated for 1960, but not at its ultimate, is 8,200. It is anticipated that sewer facilities will be needed to accommodate growth of the township beyond the 1960 date.

Both city and township officials have raised other technicalities regarding the terms of the contract that call for revisions.

Among these, insofar as the township is concerned, is the estimated ultimate population. A reduction in this figure would reduce the cost somewhat.

Both governmental units must then decide whether or not they wish to approve the plan. It is considered a certainty that the city council will go along with the project, but township action remains in doubt (see "Speaking for the Record," page 16).

The city has several methods of paying its share of the cost. Payments could come from the general fund, special assessment, increased water rates, a higher sewer tap-in charge, or any combination of these plans.

The township is limited to monies from the general fund — or in the future when development increases — a tap-in charge.

Terms of the contract call for first payments to be made in April, 1962. The city would be charged $8,061 annually until 1965, when the winner, 1958 brought Sherry Cyclopedia; in 1959 another McDonald was the winner, a boy — "Timothy Michael; and finally in 1960, Danny Rolph was Northville's baby.

When she comes home she'll find that she's the winner of a host of prizes in the annual First Baby contest.

"We read about the contest and even commented that it was too early for our baby wasn't due to arrive sooner," Macdonald stated. "Then after Tamara Ann was born, I kidded my wife that she just wanted to win the prize," he added.

Here's what Tamara Ann, eldest of all First Babies, was:

34 cans of selected baby food from E.M.B. Market; a carry-me-bag for bottles and diapers from Novi Rex All Drug; shoes from D&C stores; a blanket from S. L. Brader's; one month supply of milk from Cloverdale Farms Dairy; a duet set from The Little People Shoppe; a toilet tissue kit from Gunnell Drugs; a two-piece stainless steel baby set from Tewksbury Jewellers; and for mother, a bouquet of flowers from Jones Floral company.

Tamara Ann gave the girls an edge in the five year history of the annual First Baby contest. Previously, there had been two boys and two girls who had won honors.

In 1957 Ruth Ann Edgin was the winner; 1958 brought Sherry Cyclopedia; in 1959 another McDonald was the winner, a boy — "Timothy Michael; and finally in 1960, Danny Rolph was Northville's baby.

TAMARA ANN couldn't pose with her proud parents as winner of the 1961 First Baby contest. She's still in St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor. Prematurely born, the tiny three pound, 15 ounce Tamara Ann is progressing well in an incubator. She was due to arrive March 1, but was born on Monday, January 2 instead. Here her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ann Macdonald of 4310 Collinsford, gaze proudly at Tamara Ann's birth certificate.

Man Hospitalized After Beating Wife

A Northville township man who beat his wife with a broken broom handle late Saturday afternoon and then armed himself with a loaded deer rifle to keep off police, is being held at Wayne county mental hospital by police authorities.

Herbald Caudle surrendered to Northville police after holding them at bay for 25 minutes from inside his home at 19429 Gerald avenue. Caudle's wife was treated at Community General hospital and released the same day.

Caudle, his pockets crammed with rifle ammunition, gave himself up to Patrolman Andrew Cain and Sergeant Leonard Mazuchowski. Cain first called to investigate the calling held at Wayne county mental hospital by police authorities.

Approaching the driveway leading to the house, Cain was threatened by Caudle who said he'd shoot anyone who came up the drive. He had his youngest son in the house with him.

Sergeant Mazuchowski answered Cain's call for help, and over the loudspeaker system convinced Caudle to come out with his hands in the air. They turned him over to state police who had been called for assistance.

State police confiscated two shot-guns and a revolver from Caudle's home. All were loaded.

Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor John Mowatt said assault and battery charges may be filed against Cain's call for help, and over the from the hospital.

Northville police answered the township call because of its urgency, said Chief Eugene King. Only in such emergencies does the department handle cases outside the city limits, he stated.

Charles McDonald, who resides at 314 Debra Lane in Northville and a practicing attorney in Redford township, successfully appealed the case of the People of the State of Michigan vs. William Marshall in the state supreme court this week.

McDonald and Attorney Jack Dillon of Redford township represented William Marshall, who had been found guilty in Wayne county circuit court of involuntary manslaughter. Marshall was charged after it was stated that he had voluntarily given keys to his car to Neal McClary of Redford township.

McClary was subsequently involved in an automobile accident on the Edsel Ford expressway when he crashed head-on into another vehicle driven by James Coldiron. McClary was driving in the wrong direction on the expressway and both drivers were killed.

The accident occurred in 1958 and Marshall was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter of Coldiron.

The main issue in the case was to determine whether the defendant could be found guilty of the manslaughter charge as one responsible for the acts of another.

The supreme court ruled Monday that he could not be, but that he was guilty of a misdemeanor as provided by the Michigan vehicle code. The state had argued that this was not sufficient punishment.

The high court ruled, however, that crimes should be defined in the future, not after the action has been taken. Therefore the case was remanded to the circuit court for sentencing on the misdemeanor charge.

Cultural Meeting Set For Saturday

Officials of Detroit Adventure, an association of motor city cultural groups, will meet with area cultural leaders Saturday at 9 p.m. in the home of Harold Hart, Jr., 602 Randolph.

Hartley, who worked with the Detroit group in setting up Saturday's cantab, said Detroit Adventure favored the meeting as a step in integrating the activities with surrounding metropolitan areas to stimulate and aid all cultural activities in outlying communities. Associated with Detroit Adventure are — Detroit Conservatory of Music, Detroit Historical museum, Detroit Institute of Arts, Detroit Grand Opera association, Detroit Public Library, Detroit Symphony orchestra, Wayne State university, U-M Extension, Merrill - Palmer school, Tuesday Musical, Scrabb club, Chess and Music societies, Children's museum, Detroit Institute of Musical Art and the Detroit Opera theater.

Dr. William Bircumshaw, active director of Detroit Adventure, will be at the meeting along with more than a dozen Northville-November representatives. Harriet Woodraver, head of the adult education program in the Plymouth school system, San Hudson, president of the mouth Rotary, and several officers of Northville cultural organizations will also be there.

Distribute Canisters

The March of Dimes is putting on a drive to round up all the loose change in the Novi area during the month of January. Reports Mrs. Bernard C. Marchetti, area chairman for the Oakland county chapter of the March of Dimes. Volunteers have placed scores of the now-familiar coin collectors in restaurants, taverns, and other public places and other appropriate locations to collect funds in The National Children's fight to prevent crippling diseases. Mrs. Marchetti reported.

"One vote often decides an election," the area chairman said. "And who knows? Perhaps one full coin collector might contain just the few extra dollars needed for a medical researcher to discover part of the answer as to why one out of 18 children born in this country is born with a significant birth defect."

New Sewers

credit for the Oakland county section is recorded). The township schedule calls for payments of $7,835 in 1962, jumping to over $10,000 in 1963 and reaching a maximum amount. One doesn't have to look too far to see communities that have become stagnated, surrounded and then slowly strangled. The potential prospects of the area are tremendous, and with proper application, the characteristics of the community could be retained.

As an interested resident, I will gladly offer my services in any capacity toward the betterment of this community. Sincerely, Ben Duguid

CANISTER CAMPAIGN — Mrs. Fred Russell began her duties as chairman of the canister campaign for the annual March of Dimes this week. One of her first stops was Northville Drug company where she presented a canister to Owner Leo Mataville. The Northville drive is chairman by Mrs. Wayne McBride and will reach its climax Sunday afternoon, January 23 with the Mothers' March.

Call Special Meeting On Hospital Plan

A meeting of the proposed area hospital authority group has been called for next Tuesday evening at the Northville library. Community Hospital Administrator Calvin Monfils stated that representatives of Milford, Wixom, Novi, Northville, Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington, Walled Lake, Salen and South Lyon will be invited to attend.

Along this line, I would like to offer a suggestion to improve the accessibility to this area. Business and industry naturally need land, tax climate, natural resources, power facilities, manpower, etc. Equally important is efficient and economical transportation.

Consideration could be given to the further development of Eight Mile road toward becoming an expressway. The benefits to business and industry are obvious. Also, this could greatly accelerate home development since direct facilities would be available to many surrounding communities, including Detroit and Ann Arbor.

There is the possibility that Wayne and Oakland counties would concur and assume much of the expense. Further, if the State Highway Department agreed to consider this a full extension of M-102 and continue the route to US-23, State and Federal aid would be available. Thus, this improvement would cost the City and Township nothing, or at most, a nominal amount.

During the next several weeks council members will review references of these firms, visit their clients and personally inspect some of the structures the five architects have designed.

Funds for the sale of the community building $145,000 by the city to the school district last summer have been set aside for the construction of the proposed new city hall. The council has indicated it will hold serious discussions on the site or design of the building until after an architect is selected. A citizens study committee report made last spring named the location of the present city hall as the most desirable new site, however.

CHOOSING A CHURCH
Many people moving to a new community are faced with the problem of choosing a new church home. Sometimes they wish to maintain denominational ties, only to find great differences even within the same denomination. What should be the paramount factor in choosing a church home? Should it be the preacher? His personality, his looks, his delivery, etc.? Should it be the social program sponsored by the church? Should it be the size and architecture of the buildings? Well, it seems that these matters weigh heavily with some people but there are factors far more important than these. If you choose a church for social functions you might better join the YM or YWCA or better join a club. If you choose a church for religious instruction you should ask in choosing a church is IS THIS CHURCH TRUE TO THE BIBLE? It may seem strange to some that any church should be otherwise. It is a known fact that a majority of churches have departed from the Historical Doctrinal positions of their founders. Some churches still pay lip service to their creeds but the sermons and practices indicate that they consider them obsolete. Take your Bible along and check what you hear by the Book of Authority.

Northville Scientist Tortured He'll Never Forget Nazi Atrocities

Most residents of this area must let their imaginations run loose while attempting to assimilate the horrors of Nazi concentration camps that creep back into the news recently with the capture of Adolf Eichmann.

But for Marian Szepeanski, a Polish-English immigrant now living in Northville, there is no need to imagine. Three times Szepeanski's block was marked for death because an inmate had escaped. During this period when a concentration inmate escaped, a member of his barracks was selected at random, placed in a bunker and left to die of starvation.

Fortunately, Number 4974 (Szepeanski) was never selected. Unfortunately, thousands upon thousands of other numbers were called off for one reason or another. For these people there was torture, a bullet, or a "bath" in a gas chamber.

His schooling interrupted, Szepeanski joined the Polish army as a volunteer. But the army was match for the German divisions and Poland fell quickly.

In 1940, the Gestapo surrounded several blocks in Warsaw and began a massive arrest of Polish citizens. "To be young and to be a Pole was enough to set you on the way to the Auschwitz concentration camp," he said.

A young Pole himself, Szepeanski was hauled off to the notorious camp for one and one-half years. He was at Auschwitz where five to seven million persons were exterminated during the war years. It was at Auschwitz that Adolf Eichmann and Rudolf Hoess gained their ignominious reputations.

The Northville resident saw both Eichmann and Hoess during the war. He still carries a bullet in his right shoulder from the fighting. Imprisoned again, this time as a prisoner of war, Szepeanski was taken to a POW camp in southwestern Germany. Life in this camp was "heaven" compared to the "hell" of the concentration camp, he recalled.

During the last seven months of the war, Szepeanski worked away from the parent POW camp, allied bombs were the greatest threat to his life. "As much as I wanted the collapse of Germany, I always thought it would be ironic for me to be killed by the allies," he said.

In the spring of 1945 he was liberated by the American Army. He joined the intelligence staff of the 30th Infantry Division. Working with the American military government he helped arrest many spies and members of the Gestapo. During this period he also helped organize three not stop Szepeanski from returning to Warsaw to join the Polish underground. In autumn of 1945 Szepeanski joined the First Polish Armored division which fought on the western front under British command. In 1946 Szepeanski went to London to continue his studies. After nine years of additional studies he had received four degrees, including two graduate degrees, in mechanical engineering and metallurgy. He married his English wife, Betty, in 1950.

Along with his wife and their eight-year-old son, Victor, the family immigrated in 1957 to the United States and joined 43 states by car. He joined the Wheel Truening Tool company two years ago, and moved to Northville at 4800 Frederick street from Clawson late in November.

In his present capacity as research director for the largest diamond tool company in the world, Szepeanski has introduced a new method of diamond orientation by study of atomic structure of diamonds with the use of X-ray diffraction.

This scientific achievement means that a diamond can be cut in its "collet" direction (diamond is the hardest substance known to man), and can be positioned in a tool much more than that advantage is taken — during tool performance — of its maximum resistance to abrasion.

The affect of World War II upon the scientist is readily apparent. Vehemently opposed to war in its most brutal form, he would not voluntarily "fight again" the Nazi-type ideology that brought death and destruction to millions, including a number of his good friends.

"War," according to Szepeanski, "is the most terrible thing that can happen to mankind." Speaking philosophically, he contends that "in the result of three basic human feelings faded to exaggeration: Intense hate and destruction, logical feelings, and religious fanaticism.

Caucus Time For Area Republicans

George Marwin, 4361 Catlinford road, Oakland county Republican leader for the Northville-Nowi area, has issued a call for all Republican precinct delegates, captains and active workers to attend a caucus tonight at 8 p.m., Room C, Northland Courthouse, Northland Center.

The Northville-Nowi group will join with Republicans from throughout the 4th legislative district to name delegates to the state GOP convention in Detroit February 4.

Marwin said the district caucus idea — first tried out in 1959 — is aimed at streamlining county GOP convention procedures and broadening the base of grass-roots participation in Republican affairs.

"Under the old system the selection of convention delegates was done in the formal county convention session," he added. "The district caucus brings it closer to home."

In addition to naming state delegates, Marwin said the Thursday caucus will choose two representatives to serve on the nominations, credentials, and order-of-business committees for the January 18 county convention.

Lose to Bloomfield Hills, 60-52

Cagers Hope to Bounce Back at W. Bloomfield

Still smarting from last week's 68-58 loss to Bloomfield Hills, Northville's varsity quintet sailed through rigorous practice sessions this week in anticipation of tomorrow's contest with West Bloomfield.

The Mustangs and the Lakers, both locked in a five-way tie for third place, will clash at West Bloomfield beginning at 8 p.m.

A loss tomorrow would drop Northville close to the basement of the Wayne-Oakland league; a victory could breathe new life into the Mustangs and possibly set the stage for a photo finish.

Coaches for both teams were stumped Friday night as their teams failed to unlimber after the long holiday vacation. Art Padley, the Lakers' coach, was particularly disappointed because West Bloomfield's drive for the top was sidetracked by last-place Clarenceville. The Trojans' upset victory was the first this season.

For Coach Dutch Van Ingen and Northville fans there was also plenty of disappointment at Bloomfield.

After grabbing a 15-13 first period lead on the opponent's hardwood, Northville slipped behind in the first quarter, 20-23. Craig Bell, forward, sparked Northville's first-half offensive attack with four field goals and three free throws.

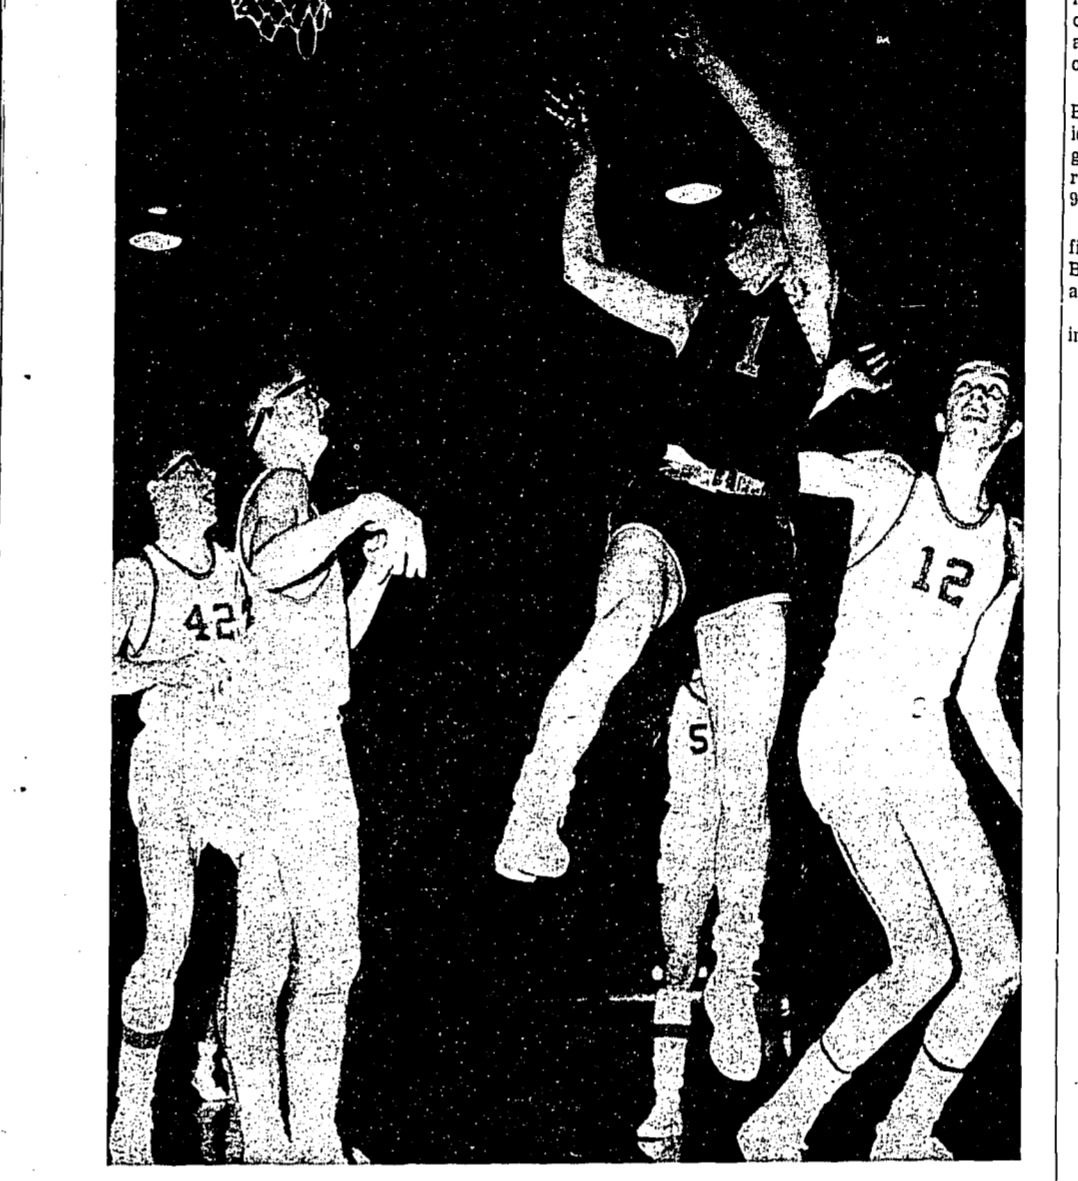

Forward Art Trezona, who went on to take scoring laurels for the Mustangs, flipped in four field goals and two charity shots during the first two quarters.

Bloomfield increased its lead to five points in the third quarter, as the Mustangs picked up 17 points to Northville's 14 points. In a rough and tumble fourth quarter, the Mustangs momentarily slashed Bloomfield's lead but were outscored, 16-12.

Statistically speaking, Northville carried the biggest scoring threat of the two teams during the first half. The Mustangs fired 28 shots, connected on 10 and came away with a 38-percent record, while the Mustangs notched a 24-35-percent record. Northville came up with 29-9-30 percent.

At the free throw line, Northville fired 24 shots, and made 17, while Bloomfield tossed the ball 27 times and connected on 13 of the shots.

Center Danny Brown was the lead-scoring Northville scorer with 15 points.

UP AND IN — Forward Steve Judy (41) leaps high to flip in a field goal last Friday night against Bloomfield Hills on the Barons' court. Although the Barons appear surprised, Bloomfield went on to win the game, 66-52.

Colts Lose to Bloomfield in 3rd Period

A 18-point Bloomfield Hills barrage in the third quarter proved too much for the Colts, who were downed 66-52 by the Mustangs in a game that was a 45-30 loss to Plymouth, a 44-33 win over Milford, a 46-36 victory over Clarkston, and a walk-off 41-37 win over Clarenceville.

Center Dan Pattison took scoring laurels for the Colts last week, tossing five field goals and one charity shot. Guard John Agoston was the leading scorer for Bloomfield with 10 points.

But in the third quarter five Mustangs cagers teamed up to score 13 points — a five point edge over the Colts' output. The edge was enough to give Bloomfield the game.

Both teams scored 10 points in the final period.

The defeat was the third this season for the Colts who also have wrapped up three victories. Pre-game games include a 55-54 loss to Brighton, a 45-30 loss to Plymouth, a 44-33 win over Milford, a 46-36 victory over Clarkston, and a walk-off 41-37 win over Clarenceville.

Center Dan Pattison took scoring laurels for the Colts last week, tossing five field goals and one charity shot. Guard John Agoston was the leading scorer for Bloomfield with 10 points.

Wrestlers Win 1st of Season

Three plus sparked Northville wrestlers to their first win of the season last week against Hazel Park's junior varsity quintet.

The long-awaited victory was the result of continuous improvement by the local matmen. Coach Dave Longridge said after the match, "They're looking better all the time."

Each pin was worth five points. Other point winners were: Russ Nichols (98-pound class), who gained a decision; Doug Nichols (103-pound class) who pinned on a forfeit; and Fred Steeper (138-pound class), who defeated his opponent.

The Mustangs were scheduled to meet Flat Rock yesterday in a return match and Reformed Union today.

Men's Cage League To Start Tonight

Tonight (Thursday) at 7 o'clock formation of a men's basketball league will take place.

Northville Recreation Director Ken Conley announced that a 3 or 4 team league would be formed, but that more adults are needed.

The adult basketball league will play regularly on Thursday evenings in the community building. Anyone interested is urged to come ready to play tonight.

Varsity Captain — Steve Judy, 16-year-old son of Councilman and Mrs. Richard Judy, 301 Lank, is captain of the 1960-61 varsity basketball team. A stellar athletic performer, Judy is equally adept at three different high school sports, varsity basketball, football (as quarterback), and basketball (as shooter). The 165-pound 6' forward is the second leading scorer of the Mustang quintet. Vice president of his junior class, he is also secretary of the N-Club. His hobbies are water skiing and "fooling around" with his old model car.

Pan Fishing Good On Kent Park Lake

Approximately 50 shanties are now located on Kent Lake in Kensington Metropolitan park near Milford where ice is reported from 3 to 12 inches thick.

Fishermen are reported to be catching the limit in perch, bluegills and calico bass.

The skating rink, located in front of the new Winter Recreation building, is in good condition at present.

This building is open to serve the public from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday and from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday. The building provides food, has a fireplace and heated restrooms.

The special winter sports area will need more snow to offer good sledding and tobogganing. In this area there is an enclosed warming shelter. Kensington park does not offer any skiing facilities. For winter sports conditions phone MU-4-2425 (Milford).

MICHIGAN'S DEPENDABLE FOOD MERCHANDISE SINCE 1917

SPEAKING for the Record

By Bill Siler

Last week the first in a new series of public service advertisements based on the theme "Michigan is Everything for Industry" was published in approximately 300 newspapers in the state, including this one.

The series is sponsored by the member newspapers of the Michigan Press Association in cooperation with the Michigan Economic Development Department.

In 1959 and 1960 a similar series emphasized the need for appreciation of industry in the community.

So in short, the campaigns were designed to (1) point out the important role that industry plays in the economic and cultural welfare of a community; and (2) stress the advantages that our state has to offer and that must be considered by management in locating a new or branch plant.

Among the advantages to be emphasized will be our market area, highways, railroads, St. Lawrence Seaway, engineering, research and educational facilities, water resources, sources of raw materials — and, perhaps most important, our people and production know-how.

The primary purpose of the campaign — and the very function of our state economic development department — is to attract new payrolls to Michigan. It goes without saying, of course, that industry provides new tax base thus lessening the ever-increasing load upon fellow manufacturers, merchants and home-owners.

While as a state we may be "pulling together" to paint an attractive picture of Michigan as a haven for industry, the competition between communities is extremely sharp, sometimes vicious.

In the report recently published by Northville's economic development study committee it was pointed out that over 275 Michigan communities are making organized efforts to attract new industries.

Their findings reveal that often 100 towns are contacted by a single industry seeking a location — and that those communities with facts at hand, sites under control and available, and a functioning industrial development corporation are most successful.

Site of the community has little bearing. Olive, for example, a town of 800 people, formed an industrial development corporation to build for a local firm which lacked sufficient capital to expand. In this instance 15,000 shares of stock were sold at $1 per share. With this money $ funds obtained through a mortgage loan, the needed building was constructed and leased to the firm. Rentals have been sufficient to meet mortgage payments and pay a dividend on the stock.

Obviously, the important ingredient is the desire and willingness of the people of a community to get together.

Northville is now in the process of forming a permanent economic development committee. The city council, township board and school board have approved the study committee's recommendations and appointments will soon be completed.

But the success or failure of the new group, regardless of its efforts, rests squarely upon the people of our community.

Already we are faced with a serious consideration.

Within weeks the city council and township board must decide upon the long-studied $18 million county sewer plant which will serve some 14 western Wayne county communities.

The new sanitary sewer is needed to relieve the present inter-ceptor and lift a two-year state health department ban on new subdivision plans in the area.

Obviously, if an area is to attract industry it must be able to offer facilities such as water and sewer. One large, or several small industries could consume a huge percentage of the available sewer usage.

In the township, however, there has been strong resistance to the proposal that more money should be contributed toward sewer construction. Township residents have used the facilities they are now buying. Heavily populated communities between Detroit and Chicago have caused the present inter-ceptor to reach its capacity.

Presently, the township is allocated some $30 sewer taps. It uses only nine. Under the new county inter-ceptor sewer plan the township would have an allocation of something over 2,000 taps.

It's a strange paradox. On the one hand, taxpayers are reluctant to increase their tax burden by approving further spending for sewers.

Yet it's possible that acquisition of area industry could relieve this tax burden. And again, ample availability of sewer facilities would play a most important role in attracting industry to the area, if indeed, it can be obtained at all.

In the final analysis the decision rests with the township board. Changes are they'll make their cue from the attitude of the people they represent.

So we go back to the important element in the development of any community: the people.

Costs Cut Profits in 1960

Babson Park, Mass. — I notice that Dr. Walter W. Heller, new chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors for President Kennedy is telling the American people that 1960 — especially the last half — was a period of recession. However, while the net earnings of many corporations were off, the gross earnings of most of these companies held up very well.

Every thoughtful businessman and labor leader knows that "the trees cannot grow to the sky" and that the abnormal prosperity of the years since World War II is an adjustment is inevitable; the longer it is postponed, the worse it will be. By the way, Dr. Heller, who is now 45, was only a kid in 1939 — only 13 years old! Yes, and Mr. Kennedy himself was then only 13 years of age.

Among the 400 cities where the leading newspapers publish this weekly column, some are suffering in real unemployment, such as in areas hurt by the national switch from coal to oil. Yet other sections, such as the Cape Canaveral coast of Florida, are enjoying increased benefits from development of missiles.

President Kennedy will make a wise effort to relieve by temporary aid any areas "emergency" as a result of natural causes. A permanent cure will be difficult and will take time.

He has fortunately, not only the unemployment and other legislation passed by Congress in 1959-1960 but also the new small business investment companies instituted by the late Congress.

Hence I urge Republicans to be patient and not blame the new administration for the present situation.

Novi Appoints Committee For Sewers

A committee to keep tabs on the progress of a proposed sewer study of the Rouge River basin was established Monday by the Novi village council.

Village President Joseph Crupi suggested the committee and then named several from remaining council members.

As seen by Crupi, the function of the committee will be to keep abreast of the sewer study progress, particularly in light of Novi's financial support, and to report its findings back to both the village council and the township board.

Novi officials have stated that the total estimated cost of the sewer study was $60,000. Municipalities desiring the study were asked to share part of this cost with the county.

Several communities urged the study and "loan" money to the county for this purpose. The village of Novi, with financial support of several local developers and businessmen, contributed $5,000. Novi township pledged its $1,500 share of the total cost as well.

Several other communities also contributed. However, many did not so the start of the study is also delayed. County officials currently are investigating the possibility of securing Federal monies for the program.

In other business Monday, the council approved the reduction of tax on Wixom road between 10 Mile and Grand River upon the recommendation of Police Chief Lee DeCade. The speed limit is to be reduced from 65 and 55 MPH to 40 MPH.

The council also authorized purchase of four new police cars at a cost of less than $100; tableted cars from the Farmington City company for a permit to operate a taxi in Novi, pending an investigation into present needs in Novi; and requested a letter be sent to John Weiss, a Novi resident, regarding his proposed public park plans to the village.

Novi Needs Scout Leaders

A plea for adult leadership was issued this week by officials of the Novi Girl Scout Council.

Novi Teenagers to Elect King, Queen at "Polio" Dance

A king and queen will be crowned Saturday night at a March of Dimes benefit dance sponsored by Novi Teenagers.

According to Mrs. Bernard Marchetti, Novi chairman for the March of Dimes, teenagers will "buy" votes for themselves or friends. The girl and boy with the most votes — they cost a dime each — will be crowned king and queen at the dance.

The dance will be held in the community building between 7:30 and 11 p.m.

Train Crash Kills Motorist In Northville

A 59-year-old Plymouth motorist was killed instantly Wednesday morning when a south-bound freight train smashed into his car at the corner of Seven Mile and Northville roads — just outside of the Northville city limits.

The dead man was identified as W. Plummer, 14000 Ridge road, Plymouth township.

Plummer was heading east on Seven Mile just after turning the corner when the huge diesel engine plowed into the side of his car at 7:05 a.m., state police said.

A police officer reported that a witness directly behind Plummer's car stated that Plummer had stopped at the crossing, then pulled slowly onto the tracks as if the driver had fallen asleep.

Witness and the train engineer also testified that the shatter lights were in working order.

A painting contractor, Plummer was enroute to work in Birmingham.

The car, which was completely demolished, was pushed down the track for nearly three-quarters of a mile before the engineer was able to stop the train.

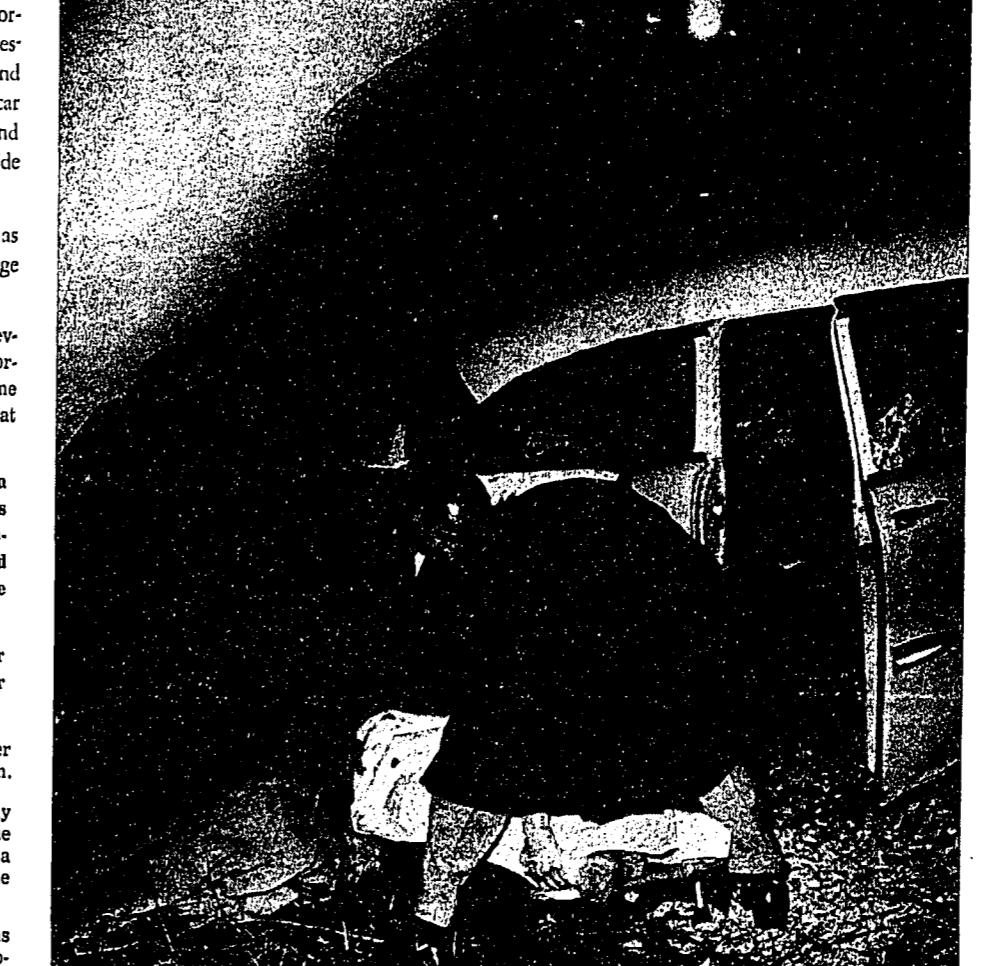

Plummer's decapitated body was pinned inside the crumpled car. Police and Fred Casterline, ambulance driver, worked for more than 30 minutes to free the body from the twisted wreckage.

The car was so badly damaged that police simply rolled it down the high railway embankment which parallels Northville road.

Traffic along Seven Mile road was held up for more than an hour because the long train stretched across the highway. Motorists accustomed to using the Seven Mile road route in Detroit were detoured to Six Mile road.

Plummer is survived by his wife and two married children, one of Plymouth and one of North Carolina, and six grandchildren. Funeral services will be conducted from the Schrader Funeral Home in Plymouth on Saturday.

The last fatal train accident in this area occurred at the C&O crossing on Novi road nearly ten years ago.

FORCE AND ambulance attendants worked nearly 30 minutes to remove the body of A. W. Plummer from his car shortly after 7 a.m. Wednesday morning after it had been struck by a diesel freight train at the Seven Mile road crossing in Northville. Plummer, a painting contractor from Plymouth, was enroute to work in Birmingham when the tragedy occurred (See picture, page 12).

Novi Crash Wrecks Car; Driver Okay

A Walled Lake area man escaped serious injury and possible death Monday when his car clipped the rear of another car on Novi road, crashed through a fence, and flipped over onto its top.

C. J. Hilsman, 588 Adelaide, walked away from the car, a small foreign-made automobile that was nearly demolished. He suffered only minor cuts and did not require medical attention.

According to Novi police, Hilsman was driving north on Novi road when his car slammed into another vehicle also headed north, but making a left-hand turn onto Nine Mile road.

Hilsman told police he did not know that the other driver, Al Pemberton, 4731 Grand River, was going to turn. He said he tried to swerve out of Pemberton's way, but his car clipped the other and he lost control.

Hilsman's car plunged down a steep embankment, crashed through a fence on the Charles Crupi property and flipped onto its top.

Pemberton was uninjured.

Educational 'Test' Expert Speaks Here

A discussion of general school testing programs and their application to local schools highlighted a meeting of the Novi board of education Wednesday night.

Dr. Leonard Cohen, of the Oakland county board of education, explained various tests used in county school systems and Superintendent William Melton and board members discussed local school tests with him.

According to Melton, Novi school tests will be shifted this year to the various grade levels. The tests which are scheduled to begin soon are: metropolitain test for first and second graders; and the Iowa achievement test for grades three through eight. Last year the achievement tests were conducted at the fourth and sixth grade levels.

In other business Wednesday, board members heard from Dr. Ray Kehoe and Mrs. E. H. Masser, vice president of the University of Michigan bureau of school services. Dr. Kehoe is the assistant director of the bureau and Mrs. E. H. Masser is a consultant for the bureau.

The bureau has been asked by the school board to evaluate procedures in the Novi school system, preliminary to developing a curriculum guide for some 200 schools.

In recent weeks the curriculum study has been primarily concerned with general procedures. Late this month and early next, specialized representatives from the bureau will evaluate individual classes.

When the study is completed, Melton explained, the consultant and Novi officials will attempt to tie together the findings on both overall and the individual classroom level.

Melton said the schools are adjusting to recommendations of the consultant as the findings are made, rather than waiting for the completion of the entire program.

He cited time allocation as an example. Some classes, such as art, are more successful when taught on a specific day in the week, while the basic classes, such as reading and arithmetic, are more successful when taught on a minute-per-day basis, he said.

Melton said that the purchase of the proposed school site property at the southwest corner of Tenth and 11 Mile roads "technically" has not yet been closed. He said school officials would meet this week to iron out technicalities in the purchase agreement.

The preliminary purchase agreement, he explained, included date specifications that are no longer applicable because of the purchase delay, hence these must be changed before the transaction is completed.

New Tri-Level Rail Carriers Doom Local Truck Terminals

The introduction of a new means of transporting Thunderbird automobiles from the Wixom Lincoln Mercury plant has provided a dual impact on area industry.

While Paragon Bridge and Steel company in Novi has benefited from a contract to build the tri-level structural steel carriers, two truck transport firms have announced their work they will close their Wixom road terminals because of the resulting loss of business.

Automobile Transport, Inc., located on a 20-acre site directly across Wixom road from the Lincoln plant, is closing its $500,000 terminal this week. E. H. Masser, vice president and general manager of the firm, said that his company had lost approximately 70 percent of its switch terminal business due to the tri-level rail transportation.

"We employed 65 in our shop and office and used 50 trucks out of our Wixom terminal. Now we can handle this business with 50 trucks, which will be stationed at our Wayne terminal," Masser stated.

The story is exactly the same for the E. & L. Transport company. Its terminal is located on Wixom road across the expressway from the giant automobile plant. Located on a 10-acre site, the terminal has been in operation for some 20 years, mechanics and office employees.

E&L expects to vacate the terminal next week and will handle all of its business from its Dearborn terminal.

Both terminals were constructed in 1957. The companies have no present plans for use of the terminal buildings. Other trucking companies throughout the area are facing the same problems.

Railroads, on the other hand, are experiencing giant strides in business. The Michigan Central is building tri-level automobile carriers and piggyback flatcars for use in the tri-level system. The cost of the tri-level system is considerably less expensive than trucking.

The Paragon Bridge and Steel company in Novi is one of five companies in the United States with a contract to construct the tri-level carriers. And although Paragon officials report the company's contract is nearly fulfilled, Paragon hopes to secure additional contracts.

A tri-level carrier looks like a flat-car with an open steel framework containing three decks. A steel flap or ramp between the carriers permits surface water to flow onto one end of the train to the other. Fully loaded with cars parked on the top deck, trains are limited to 100 cars. The weight of the top automobiles will not clear some overpasses. This is not a problem when only the bottom two decks are used.

Four long loading docks currently are under construction at the Lincoln plant in anticipation of the tri-level carrier system. The docks are nearly completed, and a new office building is expected to be completed within two months.

Each of the four railroad spurs will accommodate a long string of carrier cars. The end car on each spur is backed up to the loading platform where a giant automatic machine permits loading of cars on any of the three decks of the carriers.

This machine, which contains a single ramp that raises to the level of the carrier decks, also moves sideways from one railroad spur to another. It is mounted on tracks. The overall size of the loading dock area will be 70x1000 ft. The contractor is Durin & Armstrong of Detroit.

Landfill Backers Seek Court Relief

"I'll Meet Deadline" — McCreeley

The 10-Mile McCreeley dump will remain open — at least until February 5.

Village council members decided Monday to wait until the February date before taking action to close the dump, which is owned by Gus McCreeley.

Although unanimously dissatisfied with the dump operations, councilmen agreed to postpone closure because (1) McCreeley has apparently secured a $10,000 performance bond as required, and because the council had earlier given the operator 60 days (or until February 5) to "clean up the mess."

In discussing the matter with McCreeley Monday, the operator promised to meet the deadline and to bring the dump up to the specifications of the village landfill ordinance. Councilman Dean Lenzeliser and Village President Joseph Crupi charged that the dump was "as bad or worse" than ever before when they inspected Sunday. But both Crupi and Lenzeliser said they would not insist on the deadline in light of McCreeley's promise.

The petition points out that the court ordered the matter back to the village council for action and that the council should act as though the village board of appeals had approved the application. The plaintiffs contend, in view of this latter point in the decree, that the council should not be required to make an independent finding.

The village further contends that the application "was unreasonable, unlawful, arbitrary and capricious." Bond indicated that David Fried, attorney for neighboring residents, had filed an answer to the petition and that he would do the same for the village. The allegations will be denied, Bond said.

However, the main argument that the village will use in court Monday will pertain to the Supreme Court's action. Bond said. The village attorney contends that the lower court "clearly erred" in not legally consider the landfill matter while the case is still pending before the Supreme Court.

Unless the plaintiffs voluntarily withdraw their appeal to the high court, he explained, the circuit court will be forced to postpone the matter until a decision is reached by the Supreme Court.

Aside from this legal stalemate, Bond confidently contends that the lower court "clearly erred" in not legally consider the landfill matter while the case is still pending before the Supreme Court.

"When and if the matter is tried in Circuit Court, Bond will argue the landfill promoters and the promoters' testimony in court that originally did not include the fact that Wayne Disposal plans to raise the level of the land some 40 to 50 feet higher than adjacent properties; that the company admits it will dump refuse into water or onto wet land; and that surface water would flow onto adjoining properties, particularly a seven-acre parcel at the southern tip of the landfill.

The landfill promoter, which is located on the south side of 12 Mile road, east of Novi road, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Russell and Mrs. and Mrs. David Kenny. Wayne Disposal, which would operate the land, is a subsidiary of the Farmington City company for a permit to operate a taxi in Novi, pending an investigation into present needs in Novi; and requested a letter be sent to John Weiss, a Novi resident, regarding his proposed public park plans to the village.

Citizen Group Election Set Monday

Three more Novi residents were nominated for election to the Novi Development Committee this week after two other candidates declined to accept election.

According to C. A. Smith, president of the group, the members of Mary Wallace, Charles Wallace and Edward Vahlbusch have been added to the list of nominees from which 13 will be elected Monday.

"Mr. George Marwin and Mr. R. C. Shullenger have advised that they will be unable to serve on the committee due to lack of time," Smith said.

The election, which will be open to the public, will take place Monday at 8 p.m. in the community building.

Nominated for candidacy by a four-member committee made up of present board members, were: Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, Vahlbusch, George Atkinson, Leonard H. Greenberg, Mrs. Florence H. Greenberg, Mrs. Vincent Hayes, Roland Heaton, Kalla S. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. George H. McCullough, Mr. Marshall, J. D. Mitchell, Anthony Olivich, Donald Pegg, Sanford E. R. Steinsberger and Dora Tuftalun.

Other business matters to be taken up at Monday's election meeting, will be a review of 100 activities by the outgoing president, along with his recommendations, and also requests from the planning board for a review of their plans for the Novi area.

The development committee, formed here one year ago upon the recommendations of Waldemar C. Johnson, village planning consultant, is a voluntary group, working for and with the planning board.

Any citizen of the village is qualified and urged to join the group.

FASCINATING FACTS ABOUT NATURAL GAS

The "Sunshine Clothesline"

As a youngster, I Roscoe carried heavy baskets of wet laundry to the clothesline in sub-zero North. My mother, who watched his fingers and struggled with line-hung, board-stiff, frozen clothes. He would add then to lighten his mother's household burdens—and he did—his "Sunshine" clothesline to help progress from a drying shed where laundry was hung inside a gas-heated cabinet to a tumble-dryer which tumbled clothing over an ever in a gas-heated drum. This was the forerunner of today's modern Gas clothes dryer. —a dream come true for the homemaker, but it protects her laundry health, but it provides—automatically—best weather conditions for "gyp-dry" laundering.

*Today Natural Gas, Nature's "stored sunshine", lightens countless household burdens. Write or call Consumers Power Company to learn of the many wonderful Gas appliances and automatic Gas home heating now available.

Cutlines for a picture carried on the front page of The News last week erroneously named Mrs. E. H. Masser, Republican candidate for township treasurer, as Mrs. Willard Bell.

Mrs. Srenger, a Novi housewife who has worked out of the Detroit tax office, has assisted the township treasurer with his duties here for the past four years. Her Republican opponent for the township post is Duane Bell.

BEGINNING MARKS END — Introduction of the new tri-level rail carriers is spelling the doom and a boom for four area businesses — not to mention its effect on the railroad. For Paragon Bridge and Steel in Novi, which manufactures the carriers, and for the Lincoln-Mercury plant in Wixom, which will utilize the innovation, the rail carriers mean increased production or tremendous savings. Paradoxically, the carriers are forcing two trucking transport companies, E. & L. Transport and Automotive Transport, Inc., to close their facilities located next to the Lincoln plant.

RAY KEHR of Orchard Hills subdivision has been elected president of the Novi Goodfellow, replacing Charles Wallace. Other 1961 officers are available from any Novi fireman or may be purchased at the door. Proceeds from the dance are turned over to the firemen's fund.
