

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Sliger
One of Northville's biggest taxpayer interests, Northville Downs, will be opening its 18th season Friday night. Harness racing fans will flock here from throughout the state — and they'll find that a number of changes have been made.

During the past two years the local track has been carrying out a $200,000 improvement program which started with replacement of eye-see wooden barns, a completely re-built track, new rails and lights.

This year Executive Manager John Carlo has tackled the grandstand. The structure has been stripped of its wooden floors and beams and dressed up in solid steel, concrete and aluminum.

Cost of the improvement was $300,000. Next on Carlo's agenda for dressing up the Downs is an addition to both ends of the stands, a deepening of the grandstand, a measure and installation of a full size board in the center of the infield to replace the present facility.

This work will begin at the close of the current 38-night season. A clubhouse facility to replace the present bleachers is also in the planning stage.

It all adds up to a big investment in a local industry. It should result in bigger business for the Downs and more tax dollars for the city and school district.

Regardless of how one may feel about harness racing or pari-mutuel betting, it would be difficult indeed not to applaud the improvement program now going on at the Downs.

Manager Carlo believes that the local track will one day become one of the finest harness ovals in the nation.

About racing we know very little. But such facilities can be true beauty spots within a community — landmarks of which we can be proud.

Thus we congratulate the Downs on its improvement program. And we hope that the result of the investment will be more fans through the turnstiles, more tax dollars for the community and a "before and after" subject for the Beautiful Northville committee and other industries and business places might use as an example.

Food, Freedom

Babson Park, Mass., First let me say that farm prices affect everyone, not simply the farmer. They affect every consumer who needs this column.

All we have to eat; and indirectly we pay what the farmer gets for his crops. The higher the price, the more the farmer spends to the benefit of all concerned. Even the weather is not the factor it used to be, due to the use of improved seeds and methods of cultivation.

Up to the present time, the discussions in Congress as to whether to aid the farmer have been very controversial. The Congressmen from the West have fought for greater appropriations for the farmer; while the Congressmen from the East, the section which pays most of the taxes, have fought for some more realistic plan than President Kennedy has heretofore proposed.

After he talked with Macmillan in London, they concluded that the only way to stop this Communist "glacier" would be by revising the backward war program.

Now, if the President carries out his program to help these poor nations, the farm problem will become a national one and not be classified under the United States carrying the burden of the load.

Therefore, let me summarize: (1) President Kennedy has been told by Khrushchev that Communism will win by helping the poor nations and by using guerrilla warfare when necessary.

(2) The immediate help which the poor nations need is food and the ability to grow crops on their own soil.

(3) This means that the side which is to be the most successful will be the one which pays most of the taxes. President Kennedy will be handicapped by Communist policies, and Congressmen, this thought is not so optimistic.

(4) When President Kennedy left on his trip he was being advised by his "press secretaries"; since his return, he asks only to be dictator to the extent of carrying out the defense program as a part of the Defense Program.

A study of economic history shows that general prosperity (including stock prices) is basically determined by the condition of the farmers. The farmers' prosperity is usually determined by the price which they receive for their crops — provided the weather is normal.

But since a greater demand for farm products should mean higher prices and greater prosperity.

Providing Recreation

Where do the kids that crowd our schools go on the summer? In this local recreation program, for the rural residents of one that should mean much to the citizens seeking justice.

A quarter of a century is a shade of a day in the life of a citizen. For the rural residents of one that should mean much to the citizens seeking justice.

Not only must the proper facilities be provided, supervision must be adequate and safety assured.

Questions over to face the Michigan Legislature was the huge bill which revised the code of judicial procedure for the state.

Lawmakers in 1961 passed legislation which revised the code of judicial procedure for the state.

Technological advances alone, in the automotive industry, in the construction business and in hundreds of related mechanical and electronic fields, could not be safely predicted as startling.

The assignment presents an unequalled challenge for the men of vision who are predicting the future.

Even men of vision would predict the future. It had to be taken largely on faith.

As backers of the bill said during its course through the legislative process, it had to be taken largely on faith.

The faith was in a committee of the State Bar of Michigan, in numerous lawyers, judges and professors who had a hand in compiling the document.

Among the questions which came up each time a city or town set up its recreation program are those concerning the equipment to be used.

Now, if the President carries out his program to help these poor nations, the farm problem will become a national one and not be classified under the United States carrying the burden of the load.

Therefore, let me summarize: (1) President Kennedy has been told by Khrushchev that Communism will win by helping the poor nations and by using guerrilla warfare when necessary.

(2) The immediate help which the poor nations need is food and the ability to grow crops on their own soil.

Wixom Considers Private Study, Vote on Sewers

Wixom residents may get a final funds approved. Obviously, the mayor wants to get a head start on the sewer study in May during the budget public hearing.

This was indicated at last Thursday's council meeting when a bid from the Kainkari MacMillan and Millman engineering firm of Ann Arbor to make a feasibility study was proposed for the July 13 meeting.

The reason for the tabling was to investigate other current Oakland County sewer study and the possibility of having the city's consultants do a study under the proposed 70¢ plan.

But both methods are disputed. The council is divided on a main reason. That is the matter of time. He said that the county study is geared for 1960 and that the 70¢ study could not begin for at least three months until Wixom's application for matching funds.

Brooks and John Finlayson, city assessor, said the council with the completion of the feasibility study, the recommendations as to costs and other details would be presented to the public for their okay. The sewer vote would be on the same ballot with the election of 14 delegates for the October constitutional convention.

This way, they said, only the board's feeling that the process and winding up with a higher bill instead.

This was noted in the firm's letter to the council that said:

The study will include both the sewerage and storm sewerage systems. It will also include a study of the city's water supply.

"It will not separate as most soluble oils do and will remain in solution in many leading metal working plants."

Wedding Bells Ring Here for Three June Brides

Mrs. and Mr. John M. Norman

Adcox - Norman

Branda Adcox, daughter of 121 North Wing street, became the bride of John M. Norman Saturday, June 10 in a 7:30 p.m. candlelight ceremony at Timothy Lutheran church, Livonia.

The Reverend Glenn Wegmeyer officiated at the double ring nuptials.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Norman of Yalo are the groom's parents.

The former Miss Adcox was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a floor length gown of chiffon and organza with a seed pearl crown, lace. A seed pearl crown, lace. A seed pearl crown, lace.

Matron of honor Mrs. Shirley Fickler of Novi, the bride's sister, and bridesmaid Barbara Norman of Plymouth, sister of the groom, wore street length gowns of pink chiffon. They carried bouquets of aqua and white fugi mums.

The bride's niece, Debbie Van Toll of Plymouth, was the flower girl. She wore a pink chiffon dress and carried a white basket filled with aqua fugi mums.

William Schwartz of Plymouth was the groom's best man. Ted Van Toll, brother-in-law of the bride, and Ronnie Diney, ushered guests.

Mrs. Adcox was attended in a light blue nylon and lace dress with white accessories. Her hair was styled in a bouffant. The groom's mother, who wore a navy blue crepe dress and white accessories, acted as ring bearer. Their co-sages were pink bitton roses.

A reception immediately following the ceremony was held at the church parlors. For their wedding trip, the newlyweds traveled to Niagara Falls. They now reside at 211 North Harvey street, Plymouth.

Colorful sprays of orange blossoms and roses decorated the Sutherland home at 418 West Dunlap for the occasion. A silver bowl filled with blase roses made up the centerpiece. There was a three-tiered wedding cake for the recently wed couple.

Millington - Humphries

Carolyn Sylvia Millington and Bobbie Joe Humphries were married Saturday in a double ceremony at Northville's First Methodist church.

The couple pledged their vows before the Reverend I. Paul Taylor of St. Matthews Methodist church, Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Millington, 4670 West Seven Mile road, are parents of the bride. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Humphries of Illinois.

The Millingtons opened their home to a dinner reception at 5 p.m. ceremony. Following the reception, the newlyweds left on a trip through Northern Michigan.

For her wedding the bride chose a white, silk organza gown. It was designed with long sleeves and a floor-length, bouffant skirt trimmed with white tulle. The skirt swept to the floor. The bride's figure-length gown of pale steel veil fell from a crown of blue, silk organza with white pearl veils. She carried a cascading bouquet of pale, muted colors. Mrs. Humphries chose pink, miniature roses and white carnations.

Bridal attendants included: matron of honor Barbara Gumbert's wedding.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Alice Woodruff, and continued her studies at Columbia university from 1957-58. Mr. Haddin was graduated from Grand Rapids High school and has Bachelor and Master of Arts degrees (1955 and 1956) from the University of Michigan. He taught English at Jackson High school from 1955-61.

On the eve of the wedding, Dr. and Mrs. Myron Means were host and hostess at a rehearsal dinner held at the Corner House, Ann Arbor.

Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Howard, 1777 East Eight Mile road, and Mrs. Harvey Wright, 4280 West Main, opened their homes to overnight guests.

A reception in the Presbyterian church house followed the ceremony. Some 150 guests, several from Northville and communities nearby, greeted the couple.

Those who came from out of town included: Miss Esther Miles, the bride's aunt, Cambridge, Massachusetts; Mrs. Sherman Frost, another aunt, Littleton, Massachusetts; the bride's cousin, Mrs. Richard Baker, and son Joel, Cambridge, Massachusetts; Dr. Woodruff's aunt and uncle, Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Smith, Rome, N.Y.; Dr. Woodruff's sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Roland Bainton, New Haven, Connecticut; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schramm and Mrs. Norman Bradley, Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gordon, Cleveland, Ohio; Dr. and Mrs. Myron Means, Toledo, Ohio; and Dr. Richard Means, Itasca, New York.

Dr. and Mrs. Woodruff hosted members of the wedding party and relatives later in the day at a buffet supper at the W. L. Howard residence on Eight Mile road.

The former Miss Woodruff was wearing a dark red, cotton tweed sheath with a grey-blue brocade jacket, lined with cotton tulle to match the sheath. When the couple left on a wedding trip to New England and Lake Willoughby, Vermont.

When they return, the Haddins will reside in Ann Arbor where Mr. Haddin is an English teacher at Ann Arbor High school.

The bride, a 1952 Northville high school graduate, was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1956. She studied English literature at Queen's university, Belfast, Ireland from 1957-57, and continued her studies at Columbia university from 1957-58. Mr. Haddin was graduated from Grand Rapids High school and has Bachelor and Master of Arts degrees (1955 and 1956) from the University of Michigan. Woodruff - Haddin

Mary Joan Woodruff, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. Eugene Woodruff of 2045 Beck road, and Theodore Haddin, son of Mrs. Doris Spookstra of Tannapa, Florida, exchanged marriage vows Saturday afternoon at First Presbyterian church, Northville.

The Reverend Lloyd G. Brause, First Presbyterian church pastor, officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony.

An altar framed with baskets of white stock and pale green lilies mums with trailing vines formed the setting for the nuptial rite.

Evergreen, decorated the church windows, while white bows with baby's breath and greens were placed on pews along the aisle.

Mrs. Edwin Langry played organ music. Solist Norman Bradley of Grand Rapids sang "Ich Liebe Dich".

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, selected an ankle length gown of white organza with a great clip bow wedding. The gown was fashioned with embroidered sleeves and skirt, a slender sash at the waistline and a trailing, pale pink, velvet ribbon.

For her headpiece, the bride wore a short, white veil over a bouquet of white fugi mums and pale pink sweetheart roses made up her bouquet.

The groom's best man was David Schramm, of Grand Rapids and Minneapolis, Minnesota. Charles Woodruff, brother of the bride, and Norman Bradley of Grand Rapids ushered guests.

SPECIAL MEETINGS
July 4th

We would like to extend a very special invitation to the many readers of this column to attend the Special Evangelistic Services in our Church which will begin on the night of July 4th, at 7:30 p.m.

We have been very fortunate in obtaining an outstanding Evangelist, Paul Levin, to be the speaker for the week. Evangelist Levin has a clear cut message that everyone will be able to understand. His language is the language of the people and if you are not a Christian, or are not sure that you are on the way to heaven, then come and make sure. His companion of many years is Mrs. Betty Levin, who is a spiritual sight which is far more important. Both of these men are recording artists and well known for the many records currently on sale in Christian Bible and Book Stores. I have been pleased through the years to have many people tell me they read this column regularly even though they do not attend this Church. If you have enjoyed the column then you will enjoy these special meetings. Perhaps your church doesn't have Special Evangelistic endeavors and you would like to come. Well, come ahead and see what we have to offer and we will be there to welcome you.

Teen Drinking Season Is Here

There's no need to remind the Novi police department that school's out and summer's here. They are busy with complaints of noisy and rowdy behavior, the setting off of firecrackers and the knocking over of mail boxes.

As a result of questioning the boys, all of whom range from 17 to 19 years old, BeGoale said one source was found from whom the beer is obtained and erages have been arrested by Michigan authorities.

Youths under 17 are usually handled by the juvenile court in the area where the youth resides while those over 17 are subject to 90 days jail and/or $100 fine.

In other Novi police action during the week:

— Ten youths from Hazel Park and Ferndale, five over 17 and five under 17, will come before Justice of the Peace Robert K. Anderson in Novi Court July 13 for violating the village ordinance regarding magazine solicitations. They failed to get a village permit.

— A typewriter was stolen from the vacant home at 42415 Ten Mile road at the C&G crossing sometime between Friday and Monday afternoon. George Long, 4110 11 Mile road, made the complaint. It is his mother's typewriter. Chief BeGoale and patrolman Ralph Arbore were assisted in the investigation by State Trooper Robert Fenton.

— A billfold containing $50 cash was stolen in the daytime Monday from the home of Mrs. Val Gordon, of 220 Northhaven. Mrs. Gordon said she was in the basement washing clothes. Entry was made through an unlocked front door.

— Novi fireman, Lt. Don Walters and Ed Shoemaker, rescued David Nelson, 7, of 41088 Marjorie street, from a tree in Willowbrook Saturday afternoon.

These Gals Really Smack That Ball!

Last Friday's game between Smith Products and the Garden City Honey Bees was an important one in the race for the top spot in the Inter-City Women's Football League.

It started in a mild rain and ended in a storm.

But that's the way it is with the gal softballers that make up Smith Products. They take this game seriously with no ifs, ands or but's about it.

The "storm" hit after the fifth inning when the umpire called the game. Garden City, having just romped with six runs in the top of the fifth to take a 1-0 lead, were declared the winners.

It was shades — mostly a purplish blue — of Jimmy Piersall that enveloped the field. Then an irate Smith Products team yelled "We were robbed!" but, like most arguments, their cries were in vain.

This is an extreme example of Northville's entry in the league. In sharp contrast was their quiet submitting of written proof to league directors that the Wayne Passage team used an ineligible player in last Wednesday's game. That one woman up to an eight-inning 8-8 deadlock.

Now in its fourth season, Smith Products is headed for one of its better campaigns. They own a 3-2 record after almost half a season of play.

Like most good clubs, it has been a combination of steady pitching and some lousy hitting that has been the difference between victory and defeat.

Pitcher June King, who teaches at Northville High during the "off season," does most of the hurdling. Using the windmill delivery, she has a 3-0 whitewash to her credit this year.

June is tabbed as one of the club's stronger hitters, too, along with Catcher Clara Simpson (she has two children), shortstop Jennifer Rattiff, second baseman (or it is basemen) Jane Blough (she has five daughters at home), leftfielder Cora Billings and Manager Jayne Blittner. Jennifer is the youngest member, she being a sophomore at Northville High.

Jayne Blittner is probably the most experienced at these bat and ball wars. For eight years, she pitched for the Grand Rapids Chicks in the now-defunct women's professional baseball league that encompassed teams in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana. Jayne plays first base and is a practical muck at Detroit Memorial hospital.

Rounding out the starting team is Joan "Morrie" Morrison, five footone third sacker, centerfielder Sandy Walters and rightfielder Pat Buebel. Pat is physical education teacher at Northville High school.

Providing some valuable bench insurance are Jackie Phillips, Mary Lou Busch, Joan Barber, Carol Ann Spurling, Sharon Matance and Jackie Couzens.

Only three games remain on the schedule, including one home game July 7 against Wayne Passage. Games start at 6:15 p.m. on diamond two at Cass Benton Park.

Craftsmanship

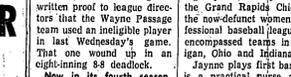

Over the years, the words "Craftsmanship" and "Cadillac" have become synonymous. Most certainly this Cadillac quality is visibly evident throughout the car. Just as surely, it is economically measurable throughout the years. For this excellence of manufacture reveals itself in remarkable operating thrift, and endures to command a premier position in resale markets across the land. And it is but one reason for Cadillac's soundness as an investment.

Over the years, the words "Craftsmanship" and "Cadillac" have become synonymous. Most certainly this Cadillac quality is visibly evident throughout the car. Just as surely, it is economically measurable throughout the years. For this excellence of manufacture reveals itself in remarkable operating thrift, and endures to command a premier position in resale markets across the land. And it is but one reason for Cadillac's soundness as an investment.

Teacher Profile: Northville, Novi

Mrs. Edith Renwick

"I started teaching in a one room school with an enrollment of 16 pupils," Edith Renwick recalls.

"The school was made of logs and clay. We were in the building only until cold weather set in — the clay was dropping out from between the logs — then we moved into a neighbor's house for the remainder of the year. The following summer a new brick school was built.

"There were three Indian boys enrolled and the very last day of school an Indian girl enrolled. The one and only time in my teaching career that I had to use sign language was that day. This girl could not speak English. It was an enjoyable experience working with these Indian children. I wish I could see them again. The last names of two of the families were 'Petterson' and 'Bjork'.

Born in Manistique, Michigan, Mrs. Renwick attended school there, graduating from Manistique High school. She obtained her Bachelor of Science degree from Eastern Michigan college.

After teaching in the log cabin school, she taught in two other schools in the same county and then went on to college to earn her degree. She returned to the North for one year and then taught in the Lower Peninsula under rural supervision. She has taught in rural schools up to her last 10 years.

Mrs. Renwick was with South Lyon schools five years, teaching fifth grade.

"I certainly enjoy teaching in Northville," says Mrs. Renwick. "She's a first grade teacher at Orchard Hills school. Her husband is an assistant operations supervisor with United Airlines. She has four children: Jon, 18, is a freshman at Eastern Michigan university; Elisa, 14, attends Northville Junior High school; Lani, is a fifth grader, and Joan a kindergartner.

Mrs. Renwick lives near South Lyon with her husband, Glenn. He is employed at the Northville High school. The Renwicks, who live next door to their son, Jack, and his family, are the proud grandparents of two grandchildren, Steven, 6, and Pamela, 3.

The first grade teacher enjoys gardening, especially landscaping. Although she says she did not inherit her mother's "green thumb," she likes to try such vegetables and other house plants. She is a past president of the Plymouth Garden club.

Mrs. Renwick also enjoys sewing. She says she would sew more if she "had the time." She's always just her hand (and successfully) at coats, dresses and suits.

"Our love for Michigan is great," says Mrs. Renwick, who with her husband has traveled through much of the United States with the exception of the East. As soon as school is out this year, they plan to go to New York City where they will tour the United Nations building, Radio City, World Trade center and other points of interest.

Three years ago, Mrs. Renwick traveled to Europe, spending four weeks in Sweden "getting acquainted with relatives." Later she spent two weeks getting a "bird's eye view" of Norway, Denmark, Germany, Belgium, Amsterdam and England.

"My six weeks in Europe and our tours of the United States and parts of Canada clearly showed me we would not trade the United States or Michigan for any country or state we have seen."

When asked for her philosophy of teaching, Mrs. Renwick explained she had used the same thought for all the grades she's taught.

"If you only remember one thing I have taught, remember the Golden Rule — 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.'"

"If only this rule were adhered to by everyone, I firmly believe our world conditions would be better today."

Mrs. Helen Batzer

Mrs. Helen Batzer, who lives in Northville, teaches kindergarten at Orchard Hills school. Her husband is an assistant operations supervisor with United Airlines.

She has four children: Jon, 18, is a freshman at Eastern Michigan university; Elisa, 14, attends Northville Junior High school; Lani, is a fifth grader, and Joan a kindergartner.

Mrs. Batzer has attended Eastern Michigan university, majoring in psychology, science education and art.

She believes that the first concern of the kindergarten teacher is to try to instill self-control and responsibility toward others while keeping alive the bright enthusiasm of the beginning child for school, and the world about him.

"The kindergarten is very aware of himself," says Mrs. Batzer. "The child must be guided to a consciousness of others. Group living begins in this year. A child learns to adjust to the bigger world by playing and learning with other children. Mrs. Batzer gives them this 'social feeling' by showing each that what he does affects others, and that he has a responsibility toward them. The children's idea about how to help the child who causes discipline problems arises.

While there are certain lesson patterns followed, incidental teaching is the heart of kindergarten. Students bring in an object, for example, a ham.

"Creativity is fostered and freedom allowed for the child to find 'his own best self.'" Mrs. Batzer was one of the teachers who brought about the successful NOV JPA art show at Orchard Hills. Emphasis was on displaying found art objects from each child. Making up poems which are used with musical background, compiling a phonics reading-reading booklet of their own stories, and making up stories in class stressing certain sounds (and creatively to the language) are part of the kindergarten program.

Mrs. Batzer believes that she must help him preserve his enthusiasm, encourage his self-control and social responsibility and stimulate an interest in the world about him.

"In order for the kindergarten child to become 'his own best self,'" Mrs. Batzer believes that she must help him preserve his enthusiasm, encourage his self-control and social responsibility and stimulate an interest in the world about him.

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Slinger

An interesting difference of opinion that would require an expert with crystal ball to settle developed at the city council last week.

A proposal to adopt a resolution of cooperation with the county in its expansion of the Middle Rouge interceptor sewer project was before the council.

Under the terms of the $18 million project each of the 22 participating communities is allocated a certain portion of the sewer use.

With the exception of a few minor details Northville council members are unanimous in their desire to go ahead with the project and thus bring about the lifting of a building ban currently enforced in the 22 communities by state health department edict.

That it was that a resolution of intent to accept the terms of the proposed sewer project was quickly adopted without objection.

The city's allocation as proposed by the county is enough to serve a city of 8,000 population. This ultimate figure compares with the present population of 3,000.

While the cost to the city is approximately $150,000, financed over 40 years it will run to about $8,000 per year.

The difference of opinion evolved when Councilman Richard Ambler proposed an amendment to the resolution.

He wanted the city to buy a larger allocation — enough for a city of 10,000.

His amendment lost, 3-4, with Councilman John Canterbury, Beatrice Carlson and Richard Judy lining up against Mayor A. M. Allen and Ambler.

It was Ambler's reasoning that there is no assurance that in 20 years a sewer allocation for 9,000 population will be enough. He pointed out that the community needs industry and that industry needs sewer service.

He reminded council members that the township was buying only about a third of its allocation in the sewer.

Ambler didn't say it, but the inference was that if industry should settle anywhere in the school district — including the township — it might have to look to the city for its sewer service.

Further he argued that in 20 years — when sewer facilities would again be expanded — the cost would be much higher. At that time new sewer disposal plant facilities will also be needed.

"These sewer taps are cheap," declared Ambler, who suggested that if the city had too many taps it could sell part of its income and make money in future years.

Councilman Canterbury led the opposition. He refused to get into the crystal ball or help buy extra capacity because an argument might be made that the area within the school district could do it itself.

He said that if the city had to pay for the extra capacity, it would be a heavy burden to heavy industry already in the area. He said that if the city were being charged for something we might never need.

He wasn't convinced, either, that the 9,000 capacity wouldn't be ample.

Canterbury's arguments are the most difficult kind to dispute. And I'm sure he had little reason to doubt but that he could gain majority support.

To one who has covered hundreds of council meetings his argument came as something of a surprise. Generally, Canterbury does not display such conservatism.

We cannot say that Councilman Ambler was correct in his argument. But if the press could have voted, it would have been a 3 to 2 tie.

Maybe in 20 years we'll know the answer.

Roger Babson Supreme Court And Our Times

Babson Park, Mass., is a study in Wall Street, and the first era of expansion in gold. This was accompanied by some speculation in Government Bonds. Prices were based on most reports from London. There were then no cables.

Following the Civil War from 1875 to 1900, most of the speculation was in railroad stocks. New mileage was constantly being built, due to the large immigration and cheap labor, accompanied by good crops, which helped railroad earnings. The Northern Pacific stock sold at $1,000 a share. There was much talk about national consolidation and the stock market was especially bullish over a proposed merger of the Northern Pacific, Great Northern, and Burlington railroads.

Then, suddenly, the Supreme Court issued a decision preventing this consolidation. Gold, railroads, and stocks in 1907. This caused a quick drop in all stocks in 1907. A member of the N.Y. Stock Exchange invited me to come on the floor of the Exchange and help him. I actually saw men's hair turn gray within 48 hours.

Following the boom in railroad stocks there developed an interest in consolidations and big trusts. This began late in the 1890's. There were formed the Tobacco Trust, the Standard Oil Trust, and other great trusts. During these years, the New York Stock Exchange took a great interest in industrial stocks.

It was then that Moody's Manuals and Babson's Reports were started, and investment services began to be popular.

Although the above-mentioned Supreme Court Decision directly referred only to railroads, it indirectly brought an end to this consolidation and Trust Era. Hence, the panic following affected both railroad and industrial stocks.

There were big electric utilities in those days.

The fourth era of glamour stocks centered around companies producing and distributing electricity. From 1907 to 1912 great speculation took place in these electric stocks, followed by the 1929-1933 collapse of Electric Bond and Share.

The end came for this Electric era with the formation of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The tax on tobacco products was not assessed on floor in volumes when passed, so these dealers do not have the problem.

The Liquor Control Commission says it is powerless to refund the tax without action by the Legislature. Lawyers can't get to the printer with the 1962 session, and by that time, the whole thing may be forgotten and better left dead.

Just for the record, labor unions weren't the only ones to applaud Gov. John B. Swainson's veto of the controversial Unemployment Compensation bill passed by the 1961 Legislature.

A recent issue of the Michigan Food News, a publication for retail grocers, in a column signed by editor Willis H. Keasey, also said the people were better off with the bill inoperative.

Said Keasey: "The bill is one of the biggest monstrosities ever passed by the Legislature."

The strong voice which undoubtedly caused Swainson to veto the bill came from the unions. Equally vocal were the forces pleading with the Governor to sign the bill, or let it become a law without a signature. These included many big and small employers and those interested in the "economy" of the state.

Keasey's point, on which he could find much agreement, was that a percentage of small business would have to pay higher rates under the bill.

Merits of the bill, which had as its chief aim the heaping up of the Unemployment Compensation Fund, and its drawbacks were debated almost to the point of tedious repetition.

Michigan Mirror Hard to Believe: Tax Meets Death

The certainty of death and taxes is widely publicized in story and song, but the deadly "temporary" in nature, is a real thing indeed.

Michigan will witness the death of the so-called "passage" taxes which were used to ease the Cash Crisis of 1959 this June 30.

Despite the promises of politicians from both parties that the taxes would expire, this is not the case. The roughly $50 million annually resulting from the taxes will be sorely missed by the state's still unimpaired treasury.

Efforts were made to extend the taxes, which carried the expiration date when they were passed.

A pound is a pound, the officials said, and the same goes for any other unit of measure. Law requires that anything sold as a pound really be a full pound. The size of a pint, quart, gallon or any other standard unit of measure is also spelled out in the statutes, so any billing that hints of a bonus is deceptive, the officials said.

The taxes were practically painless, as taxes go. They were a penny a pack on cigars, 4 per cent on the use of telephones and telegraph service, a charge on tobacco products, and additional charges on liquor and beer purchases and the corporation tax.

Some lawmakers had the idea that austerity budgets for some areas of state government, notably higher education and health, could be increased and perhaps some of the state's staggering $90 million debt repaid.

But no agreement could be reached on the issue of continuing the taxes, so Legislature kept hands off.

Now come the liquor interests, and some lawmakers, with the proposal that a refund on certain of the taxes be made.

The situation is a possibility, and a reason why readers are justified in keeping certain of their common stocks and swapping certain of the present glamour stocks for the old-fashioned blue chips.

A forecast that some day there would be a decision will be rendered, followed by Congressional legislation. If Democracy is in control, it is a possibility, and a reason why readers are justified in keeping certain of their common stocks and swapping certain of the present glamour stocks for the old-fashioned blue chips.

It would be equitable, they say, to refund a similar amount on the floor stocks on hand when the taxes expire.

While the proposal, may be a sound logical position, needless to say it is greeted with a great show of enthusiasm when mentioned on the floor by Sen. Charles S. Blouy, D-Detroit, during the last days of the regular session.

Beat the Polio Season— Get Vaccine Shots Now

There's still time to get those polio vaccine shots to protect you and your family before the polio season begins in earnest.

This is the word from Oakland and Wayne county health authorities who are keeping a wary eye open for any outbreak of polio which normally begins its season in the northern sections of the country around July 1.

Authorities say that Johnny-come-latelys are getting a break from nature in being able to get some degree of protection from the disease.

While they point out that the incidence of paralytic polio is falling behind last year's rate which was a record low since 1916, they say it is still possible the unusually cool weather may have delayed the onset of the real polio season.

Estimates are that about 92 million Americans have received at least one shot of the Salk vaccine and that there are some 85 million yet unprotected.

Most susceptible age group authorities say, are children five years and under. They also hold, chief of the funds and standards division of the Department of Agriculture.

Littlefield and his boss, Agriculture Director George S. McIntyre, warned buyers to beware of advertising that ballyhoo a "king size quart," "full pound," "giant gallon" and the like.

While much talk has been devoted to late to the oral vaccine developed by Dr. Albert Sabin of the University of Cincinnati, Americans are cautioned not to wait for this type of protection but to take advantage of the paralytic cases in addition, they are the worst spreaders of the disease and thus constitute a danger to others.

Dr. Sabin maintains that his vaccine is virtually 100 per cent effective and offers a better protection than the standard unit of measure is also spelled out in the statutes, so any billing that hints of a bonus is deceptive, the officials said.

A Glorious 4th— Board Begins Search

Novi's school board, faced with the opening of school some two months away without a superintendent and county placement officials this week to find a candidate.

Dr. William Medlyn announced his intention to resign at the June 21 meeting and will begin a new role in the placement offices of Indiana University August 1.

The board was to meet with Oakland County and University of Michigan placement officials last night after meeting with Carroll Munshaus, director of placement at Wayne State University last Wednesday.

Representatives of the board were directed to contact other Michigan universities to let them know Novi was in the market for a new superintendent and invite them to a meeting with the board also.

Munshaus, before presenting his candidates to the board, discussed setting up job specifications and hiring procedures.

The meeting was a closed one because, as President Dr. Walter Ambler stated, it concerned a discussion of personnel. But the press was invited to attend.

After almost three hours of discussion, the board decided to look for a curriculum leader with some business experience in contrast to a strong business administrator.

As for a date when the final choice might be made, board members were asked to start July 1. But all thought a week later. Others thought a few days to get the office filled.

Some subdivision residents felt that speed had increased with the yield sign.

Association president, Ray Burke, said that Jazdzinski's answers satisfied residents and clarified the situation for them.
