Here I am, O Lord, the citizen of a free land, blessed beyond what words can say. Why have I been so favored? I have food and clothing, a warm home and comforts, when half the people of this world do not even have the bare essentials of life.

I have my family and friends, the opportunity to work, and peace.

I have the freedom to worship Thee. Above all; I have the apportunity to know Thee as a loving God, who hast forgiven me through the sacrifice of Thy dear Son, Jesus. By hearing Thy Word I learn of another life that is more wonderful than anything on earth — the life

Help me now, O Lord, to show my aratitude and to take time to remember Thee. Move me to share my knowledge of Thee with those who know Thee not. SPEAKING for the Record

The Northville township three-member board of appeals is scheduled tonight (Tuesday) to consider a request of great significance to the entire community of Northville. As most residents know by now a plan for rehabilitation of the Manning and Locklin gravel pit area between Seven and Eight Mile roads has been submitted to the township. There's unanimous agreement that the end result of t plan is highly desirable.

But the method of accomplishment presents a battlefield

It is also true that procedure followed in this particular case may well set a pattern for future requests for reclamation of other gravel pit areas that pepper our countryside.

. It does not seem likely, however, that they are ready to embrace the plan as fully acceptable. If I properly interpret the planners' position, it would seem that they are not convinced that the land cannot be rehabilitated with less fill - particularly of the Detroit rubbish Earth moving equipment could be employed to reduce the size of some of the hills created by the gravel mining operations thus filling low spots. More "solids" could be used as fill - thus reducing the time required to complete the filling job. In short, they do not believe it is necessary to use as much fill, or desirable that a large percentage should be rubbish. They also seek performance guarantees that the plan will be undertaken within the time limits agreed upon and to the degree proposed. An idea of the township's position in the proposal can best be explained in the following excerpts from a letter written by the zoning board after it had been approached last summe for a permit to operate a landfill in the Manning and Locklin gravel pit area:

"The Board is in full agreement with your statement that the rehabilitation of depleted gravel, areas is a must' but notes that you have offered no plans of a comprehensive nature for accomplishing this resultt.

"The Board does not consider that a fill, of itself, is a substitute for a comprehensive overall plan of land reclamation. A fill in its view, is but one step in a plan of land reclamation which may, or may not be called for, in the final analysis. "In its tour of inspection Zoning Board Members were impressed by the size of the whole Manning and Locklin prop-land reclamation project deserving the best planning service available. Such a project if properly conceived and executed would in its judgment make it attractive to Land Developers "Such a plan if carried through to completion in your area would virtually open up a whole new community having distinctive advantages not present in less fortunate locations. These advantages might be cited as: its remoteness from traffic: its elevation and excellent drainage: its spring-fed its openness and freedom from crowding. With all these ac vantages it is within easy walking distance of all the commu nity facilities supplied by the City of Northville. "It is exciting to think that this land written off as blighted or waste land may by careful planning be returned to the Community Inventory land supply for the benefit of the people of the community either for recreational or residential pur

"The Board believes you are presented with the opportunity to render an enlightened public service to the Community by preparing a comprehensive land use plan which the community, can accept.

"A sound comprehensive plan of Land reclamation that would safeguard the community health and resources, conserve its priceless water supply and provide for future community growth requirements would be a project exceeding in importance anything ever attempted before in this community.It would have the support of this Board Man continued
