

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Slinger
Chances that the 144 delegates to Michigan's Constitutional Convention will complete their job by March 31 seem very slim.
This date has become important since the state attorney general rendered an informal opinion as to the deadline for placing the document on the November ballot.
Members of the Northville Rotary club heard that Mr. Kirvan, director of public information for the convention, discuses this and other Con-Con matters at their regular meeting last week.
(The Michigan Mirror columns on this page also point out issues in the race to the deadline.)
Kirvan's remarks were particularly interesting to me. In earlier newspapering days we worked together, but had not smart and joined the public relations corps. He's on leave from regular duties to cover the activities of Con-Con for all media, and doing an excellent job.
It's difficult to believe, but Dad says the Con-Con delegates work just as hard as weekly newspaper editors.
He expressed the highest regard for their sincerity and effort and held the opinion that it would be a mistake to rush through the important concluding days of the session simply to meet a tentative.
Kirvan pointed out that some delegates are not ready to accept the attorney general's opinion and had that another four to six weeks would still be time enough to take the constitution to the voters in November.
There is a feeling among delegates, Kirvan added, that it would be unwise to delay a vote until April, 1963. Much of the enthusiasm and freshness of facts could be lost by that time, they reason. Presumably, an effort will be made to continue the convention and still hold a November election.
Kirvan covered the general format of the convention noting that the entire membership is divided into nine committees each charged with a particular section of the constitution. "They read the old constitution word by word and decide what can be deleted and where additions are necessary," he stated. The average working day for a delegate may be between 12 to 14 hours with their time divided between committee meetings and floor discussion. Their sleep ranges from 25 to 77.
Here's a pleasant thought for those of us who are tired of ice and snow.
From Miami in the Bahamas comes word that C. E. Landfield, owner of Northville Laboratories, landed a 14-pound, 3-ounce henfish with spinning tackle and 10-pound test line.
The fish fell just 13 ounces shy of equalling the 13-pound test-line record set by Collier Sam Stuedi, who landed a 15-pounder in February, 1953.
The Landfields are vacationing aboard their yacht, NO-LO-VAN III.
Dan Beach, 315 Debra Lane, is convinced that you "never get anything for nothing."
Last fall his wife Joan won $200 worth of prizes on "The Price is Right" television program when the couple was in New York. The prizes included $100 worth of furniture, an electronic oven and 50 bouquets.
Now Dan and Joan must share their good luck with the government — by paying an additional income tax!
I'm talking on this last item as a special service to the concrete industry.
"Sleewaks are not cement, they are concrete — a mixture of cement, aggregate and water."
This might satisfy Bob Decker, who works for the Fleckore company and knows all about cement — I mean concrete. He noted that he had referred to "cement sidewalks" in one of our news stories and greatly chided me by producing an article from a Detroit newspaper that included the above statement.
(He also told me what cement was, a basic ingredient of concrete produced by mixing, grinding, burning and then more grinding of limestone, clay or shale and gypsum.)

Michigan Mirror Con-Con Deadline in Doubt

Likelihood of a March 31 adjournment of the Michigan Constitutional Convention grows dimmer daily as the sessions in Lansing's Civic Center lengthen.
It would seem a wise move, however, to admit that a mere five months work might not produce a document which would serve Michigan's needs for at least 34 years or more after adjustment.
A 1958 report on education in Michigan recommended that the constitution be amended to provide for a basic law during the next several decades.
Some criticism will undoubtedly fall on convention delegates if they fail to meet the March 31 adjournment.

Dr. Mudd Replies Stick to Your Discipline

Dear Dr. Mudd:
One of our children is in the 5th grade. He is not a genius but still it bothers me that he might have done the wrong thing. I don't like to do what I did but I couldn't see any other way of getting him straightened out. Through my own fault I didn't get much education and I don't want the same thing to happen to him.
Dear Jim:
I think you did a fine and laudable thing for your son. You have the courage of your convictions and the willingness to carry them out against considerable opposition. I think it is good that your son should be in touch with us before the reports came out, but that's another story.
Anyhow, when he got home I really talked to him and told him I was going to punish him but not letting him have a birthday party he had been planning.

Roger Babson No Stock Crash

Babson Park, Mass., The SEC. Furthermore, if we take these 7 billion shares, less the 1.5 billion shares, stock dividends, and adjust for the "thirties" number of population, assessment of property, gross national product, and value of the dollar, these figures would be severely changed. The final result, however, would show that the percentages would not be materially changed.
Power of Compound Interest
Now to my conclusion: The percentage of deductions indicates the possible percentage of cushions or curbs to any eventual crash, including legislation as to margins: The percentage of these "cushions" is increasing more rapidly than the total shares. This is due to a far greater public interest in investments and a greater percentage of money coming into the treasuries of mutual funds, insurance companies, labor unions, and savings accounts. All the above means that an increased increment of compound interest, which applies mainly to the deductions.
The unemployed will be sent to schools and colleges which will be given federal aid generally and in abundance. According to Senator Goldwater and the John Birch "rightists" this will finally lead to further reaction and trouble. The Armies of Forces recognize this and would like to join this "rightist" movement; but they are being murdered.
The labor unions, however, are behind the movement. Their leaders realize that if the liberalization of the economy is to be maintained, the unions must be kept on horseback but will become a dictator. These labor leaders are not interested in the welfare of the 7 billion shares are doing. Certainly an expert investment adviser should ALWAYS be able to select some of the 7 billion shares now listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

School Electors Must Register for Tax Vote

Vote registration for the special Novi school district election is now open. Superintendent Tom Culbert reminded local school electors. All voters must be registered by Monday, March 19 if they wish to participate in the April election.
The committee said in its report that the $72,000 deficit that has mounted over the last year is "absolutely necessary" if the schools are to operate in the black this year, take care of the deficit that has mounted over the last year, and through several years of unbalanced budgeting, and maintain the school's academic program while showing minor improvements.
The Rev. Brause said that there will be no school district residents do not need to be property owners in order to qualify as school electors, Culbert pointed out. To qualify, he said, voters must be 21-year-old U.S. citizens who have resided in Michigan for six months and in the school district for 30 days before the election.
Voters who are either new to the district or who are unregistered should register with township clerk Hadley J. Bachert, Culbert said.

Jr. High-Age Problems Are Studied

About 60 parents of Novi Junior high students last week at the first of a series of three meetings being held by the schools to discuss the "growing up" problems encountered by junior high age children.
Dr. Bernard Berman, deputy health director of Oakland county, is conducting the three meetings, at which he discussed and presents the latest information on the physical, emotional and social needs of this age group, says Superintendent Tom Culbert's hopes for the possible formation of a junior high parent interest group were measured after the first meeting, when a dozen parents volunteered to serve as a planning committee to develop more formal plans for programs to follow-up on the three-meeting series being conducted by Dr. Berman.
The second meeting in the series will be held tonight (Thursday) in the Novi school library. The first meeting was to acquaint parents with the program. At tonight's meeting, both parents and boys from grades six through eight will attend.
The final meeting of the series, to be held March 15, will be conducted for parents and girls in grades six through eight.

Girl Scouts Plan Week of Displays

Novi Girl Scouts are planning a week of displays in observance of the 50th birthday of the Girl Scout movement, reports Mrs. Robert Skellenger, Girl Scout chairman for the Novi area.
On display throughout Girl Scout Week, which begins Sunday, March 4, will be a special exhibit at the Novi library, she said. There will also be a poster display of world association badges at the office of the Staman Insurance agency, she added.
A live display of old-fashioned camping costumes and equipment is also planned for next Friday evening, Mrs. Skellenger said, with the senior girls modeling the costumes. This display will be from 6 to 9 p.m. in the National Bank of Detroit offices.
Other plans, not yet finalized, she added, include one or two store windows with art and craft displays. She said these would mainly be pictures depicting the Novi area.
Kicking off the Girl Scout Week will be special afternoon sessions at several churches in the area, she added. Novi Girl Scouts are modeling their uniforms at the Novi area, she said. # Fire Hits Novi Home

Fire early Saturday morning burned its way through a Novi home, destroying many furnishings and causing some damage to most of the house.
Forced from their home by heavy smoke were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Brown, of 3915 Hagerty road, when they were awakened at shortly after 1 a.m.

Novi Boy Scouts will hold a paper drive Saturday, with collections beginning at 9:30 a.m. at the Novi Community Center, reports Scout leader John Tymensky.
Subdivision residents who have papers they would like to donate should have them bundled or weighted before the drive in front of their homes, he said. The Novi area is being visited by the Novi fire trucks had rescued the damage would undoubtedly be repaired.

Novi to Vote on City, Elect Council, Charter Commissioners Monday

Novi voters next Monday will elect three new councilmen, indicate what they think of becoming a city and select nine members for a city charter commission.
In a regular village election, the voters will fill council seats under the expiring terms of Mess Eugene Choquet, Walter Tuck and Philip Anderson. The latter is the only one of the three seeking reelection.
Voters will also consider whether Novi should incorporate into a home-rule city and, if the city building is favorable, choose a nine-member commission to draft a proposed city charter. If the voters reject the charter commission, the commission will be dissolved and the voters will have to vote again at a later date.
Twelve candidates will vie for the three council positions while 18 are seeking election to the charter commission. Photographs, brief biographies and statements of the candidates are presented on page one, section two of this issue.
This week's election of general approval of modifying the present village charter instead of drafting an entirely new document will be held on Monday, March 12, at 10 a.m. at the Novi Community Center.
The incorporation move at this time was an offshoot of a village incorporation, which had taken place in October, 1953.
Village incorporation had been started after the newly-formed city of Novi annexed the Ford Road area, as well as the Lincoln plant area, away from Novi township, thereby depriving the township of its largest tax base.
The question of boundary protection has been the motivation of all incorporation moves in Novi.
At the time the village was formed, local advisors and experts in local government had maintained that village status protected boundaries by giving the entire village a vote in annexation questions, rather than just the area to be annexed by a neighboring community.
This was the opinion that prevailed at the time of that last city incorporation vote. But since then, the courts have upheld a valid incorporation in an area in order to annex the township area of Northville East for nine incorporation municipalities.
Advocates of city incorporation point to a recent Supreme Court ruling, saying that a vote of both communities involved is necessary in annexations between cities.

Council's Final Session is Short

"We had to wait two years, but it finally happened," noted several Novi village councilmen after last Monday's meeting.
The "it" was a two-hour session — Council President Joseph Crupi called the meeting to order shortly after 8 p.m. and adjourned two hours later, setting a new time record.
It's a nice experience to be limited so early, Council Chairman Eugene Choquet commented, but it's too bad it had to come so late.
Monday night's meeting was the final regular session of the present council. The council will meet once more, to convene the votes of next week's election, and the following meeting will be the first for the new council.
Besides Miss Choquet, Councilman Walter Tuck and Philip Anderson are seeking reelection. Anderson is seeking reelection. Included on the council's relatively light agenda were bids for nearly $1,500 worth of equipment. The bids had been opened at the last meeting and tabled so they could be tabulated by the Detroit fire department officials.
When Crupi pointed out that the firemen had chosen the low bid, planning to construct the plant in Novi, Anderson said he would like to see the bid in light of the city's financial situation.
He explained that if the deal can be worked out, Detroit will be able to distribute it to the residents. He said the main problem would be water ownership of its water supply.
The council also learned of the DPW's plans for road construction work over the next two years. Included are nearly a mile of widening and resurfacing of South Lake drive, over a half mile of black-topping on Meadowbrook road near 10 Mile and Grand River and two sets of culverts and ditching to widen Nine Mile.
The total cost to the village for the projects would be about $250,000. Acetyly explained that a special assessment district to pay for the Willowbrook subdivision work would be set up. The project had been received by the municipal finance committee.
The attorneys pointed out, however, that there will be no school district residents do not need to be property owners in order to qualify as school electors, Culbert pointed out. To qualify, he said, voters must be 21-year-old U.S. citizens who have resided in Michigan for six months and in the school district for 30 days before the election.

Churches' Lenten Plans Announced

Lent, the 40-day season of fasting and penitence in preparation for the Resurrection of Christ on Easter Sunday, began yesterday with Ash Wednesday worship services here.
The symbolic placing of ashes on the foreheads of the faithful in Mass at Our Lady of Victory church opened religious observances in the city.
Several Protestant congregations gathered for evening Communion services.
The significance of the Lenten period, which lasts through Holy Saturday, the eve of Easter Sunday, is based on Jesus' spoken by Christ prior to his Crucifixion, will form the theme of Pastor Paul Sermon's sermons.
The Reverend Arnold Cook, pastor of First Baptist Church, Novi, explained that he is planning his Lenten sermons at Holy Saturday, which will be held on Thursday evenings. Two of them, on March 22 and April 5, will be devoted to the Lenten observance of the Lenten season.
The Reverend Fred Brasau, pastor at the First Presbyterian church, told of similar arrangements at his church. Tuesday evening worship hours will be held on Thursday evenings, beginning March 15, will be held for five weeks. Potluck dinners are scheduled for each week, followed by sermons.
The Rev. Brasau said he plans to pattern his Lenten sermons around articles of the Apostles' Creed.
At Our Lady of Victory, the Reverend John Wittstock met with parish members to be conducted by the Dominican fathers March 18-April 1. The Lenten season will be observed by the parish mission week beginning March 18, will be held for five weeks. Potluck dinners are scheduled for each week, followed by sermons.

Voter-Candidate Meet Set for Friday Night

The community building Friday night will be the scene of a special meeting sponsored by the board of commerce to acquaint Novi voters with the 13 charter commission candidates.
The candidates will vie Monday for nine positions on the city charter commission, provided the city question receives a favorable vote.
Speakers at tomorrow night's meeting, which is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock, will include Novifield Mayor James Clarkson, a former Oakland county representative to the state legislature, and Novi Mayor James Clarkson, Bond and Anderson, industrial development, zoning and planning, disincorporation and annexations, taxes and increased services.
There is general agreement among the statements that the incorporation move at this time was an offshoot of a village incorporation, which had taken place in October, 1953.

Mustangs Roll Past Milford To End First Perfect Season

Northville wrapped up its 1961-62 basketball season in a dominant fashion Friday night by defeating Milford 74-48 in the final game of the season.

The victory gave Northville its first undefeated season and added more frosting to the cake already baked by the football team, which also played an undefeated season.

It sets Northville apart as the only state high school to boast a perfect season on both the gridiron and hardwoods this year. To further enhance the Northville case story it was accomplished by a coach serving his first year at the reins.

It's been about as great a first season as a coach could ask for," Coach Dave Longridge stated, and who can argue with that. The Mustangs were rarely extended in their 15 outings during the season, they frequently seemed to play just well enough to win.

The Mustangs won't have time to rest on their laurels. Tuesday night they started district tournament action with South Lyon (see story page one).

Coach Longridge credited the versatility of his athletes for making the combined football-basketball season records possible. Several of these performers were hit on first of 50 foul shots, ending the game with a total of 22 points for his season high.

During the season, Northville utilized a series of fast-breaking plays, capitalizing on Milford's use of the long pass to hasten the pace of the game. Several interceptions during the quarter, coupled with a turnover, brought the Mustangs to a 49-20 halftime lead.

During the third quarter, Longridge substituted senior second stringers who played nearly the entire game. This cut down Northville's backboard control, but the seniors held their own against Milford's 15 point pickpocketing in the second half.

Longridge went with his starters during the opening minutes of the final period, but midway, with Northville leading 73-37, he started substituting freely.

The younger Mustangs traded points with Milford until game's end. Longridge pointed out that only one Mustang failed to score. It isn't often, he said, that a team can play its entire bench during one game.

Looking forward to tournament contests this week, the Mustangs' manager predicted continued success, with a few characteristic "ifs."

If, he said, the local eagles Dan Brown 15 25 Steve Judy 5 12 Craig Bell 2 7 11 Tom Daniels 4 2 10 Dick Bailey 2 3 7 Bill Elwell 2 0 4 Tom Swick 1 2 4 Jim Judy 0 2 2 Don Busch 0 2 2 Jay Sugrue 1 0 2

The junior varsity Colts didn't find the Colts with broke Milford loose, and the Colts found themselves with only nine more points, while Milford had added 18.

Don Henry led the Colts with 12 points, while Ron Rice was close behind at 11 and Dave Jerome dumped in eight. The Colts ended their season with 11 more in the third stanza, coupled with zealous efforts by their final-period effort.

Another "if," voiced by Longridge, concerned foul shooting. With a fourth period slump, coupled with zealous efforts by their final-period effort.

Wrestlers Take 7 Tourney Places

Northville Mustang wrestlers took fourth place in their weight class at the "B" regional tournament which began at 2 p.m. Friday, and will continue through the afternoon and evening.

Elimination matches for second, third and fourth place will be held on Saturday, with the championship finals being conducted Saturday evening.

All wrestlers who placed fourth or better will have a chance at state championships in the Class "B" face-offs taken place in Ann Arbor tomorrow while 137-pound Jim Jigdon earned the same for 137 pound weight class.

All wrestlers will be held at the University of Michigan's intramural building, located on 1217-pound Doug Nichols each.

Leading his teammates to last Saturday's victory was Mike Turnbull, who netted 12 points to bring his season score up to 67, a new OLV record.

Last year, Coach Clifford Bunker's squad took first place, with one loss for the season.

READERS SPEAK — OPPOSES NOVI INCORPORATION

To the Editor: Throughout their campaign to create interest in city incorporation for Novi, the pro-city group has attempted to leave us with the impression that the present township and village governments are almost complete duplications. This gives a rather distorted picture of the functions of the two governments. While both governments have a set of almost equivalent officials, the jobs that they perform are not all the same. The most often quoted examples are the assessment and collection of taxes and the holding of elections. The fact is that these functions could be combined under one government; however, they could not be eliminated as they concern the collection of different taxes and the holding of different elections.

At present, the township collects the county, township and school taxes during December and January and holds all state, county and national elections. The village collects only the additional village tax during the summer and holds only village elections. City incorporation would only give the township duties in addition to the village duties, but without giving the city the revenue on which the township now operates. Herein lies the crux of the situation. Sooner or later the proposed new city will require tax revenues greater than the village now receives in order to carry its township and schools re-levied, and with the present township tax levied, the township would be forced to raise taxes to meet its needs. This is a danger to which we are all too aware. The village and city taxes are levied on the same property. If the township tax were eliminated, the village tax would be eliminated, and the township would be forced to raise taxes to meet its needs. This is a danger to which we are all too aware.

Due to the overlapping of township and village functions, the township is forced to raise taxes to meet its needs. This is a danger to which we are all too aware. The village and city taxes are levied on the same property. If the township tax were eliminated, the village tax would be eliminated, and the township would be forced to raise taxes to meet its needs. This is a danger to which we are all too aware.

X COUNCIL X CHARTER COMMISSION

Here's Why...

I would like to express my views on the tax situation in the village. Taxes in the village must be kept to the lowest possible level, and not allowed to spiral from year to year.

I believe that under city incorporation and a new charter we can have more of a representative government at the same cost as we are now paying today.

It has been my firm conviction that Village Government should be operated as economical as possible, and use as much capital as if they were spending their own money.

The Novi Area is so big and its problems so complex that it cannot satisfactorily function as a Village and a Township Government. I feel that a councilman must approach each problem with an open mind and a willingness to listen to the other fellow's point of view.

Meet Leon D. Dochot

Candidate for Novi Charter Commission

I am Leon D. Dochot. I would like to represent you as a member of the Charter Commission. Let me tell you a little about myself. I have lived in Novi for 14 years. I've always been active in community affairs. I will not presume to tell you that a vote for a City is the answer to all our problems, because it isn't. Personally I do not believe that we have shown enough progress as a Village to be able to tackle the problems of a City.

If it is the will of the people to vote for a City then I would like to represent you when the charter is drawn up. These are but a few changes I would like to see included in the Charter:

1. To hold the millage down, and make sure that there are no loop holes by which a millage increase can be spread without a vote of the people.
2. To make sure that the offices of Clerk and Treasurer are elective offices.
3. That employees of the City reside within the City.
4. That if we are to have a manager type City, that a competent man be hired and that a Council President may not serve in this capacity indefinitely, or throw us on the mercy of an Office Co-ordinator who is a Jack of all trades and a master of none. We as a City would need a competent man at the helm.

I will appreciate your vote and can sincerely say that I will work for you and our wonderful community — Novi.

Whether you honor me with your vote, that is of course up to you, but please do yourself the honor of voting on March 12.

IT'S YOUR HOME AND YOUR FUTURE — IT'S UP TO YOU!

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Slinger
It frequently seems that the destiny of a community is guided by a very few — those who are willing and interested in devoting time and talent to provide municipal leadership.

In general it would have to be conceded that this theory is indeed a reality, although wise community leaders keep a hand on the public pulse for guidance.

But there are exceptions. And the biggest might well be the economic well-being of a community.

No single individual or group of leaders can create a "community image". This requires a team effort that is only as strong as the number of citizens thinking and acting in the same positive direction.

This matter of providing a more balanced economic structure for the future orderly growth of Northville is a subject of considerable discussion among members of the newly formed economic development committee last week.

There has been a suggestion that the efforts of this committee might damage, or even destroy, the traditional small-town atmosphere that is so deeply cherished by those who have chosen this community in which to live.

In reality it is to maintain the traditions and high standards as personified by our schools, recreation program and residential areas that the committee was born.

The dozen or so members of the economic development committee know, and accept, what the future holds for Northville — an increasing population.

And by conservative standards it has been determined that double and county taxes (not to mention local) will nearly DOUBLE present levels by 1969.

While there may be a few homeowners who would be willing to bear extremely high residential taxes to maintain the level of services and school facilities desired, it is recognized that the majority would not and could not.

Therefore, it is the purpose of the economic development committee to bring order and balance to our growth and hope that desirable industry can be attracted to provide new tax base and lighten the load on the homeowner.

It is an opportunity to be selective — to help plan for a better community. It demonstrates a willingness to re-evaluate — to re-evaluate to maintain that which we have, we must work for it.

Those most familiar with the problem express deep concern that we have waited so long to act. They know that in Michigan's highly competitive climate — where nearly every community of any size has active economic development groups — that it is often difficult to maintain existing industry.

And they recognize if their work is to be successful, they must have the understanding and cooperation of every citizen in the community.

This is not a job for a few. Each of us can be a godsend ambassador for Northville. Our attitude can become infectious. It can attract good people, as well as business.

It can help the economic development committee by doing far more than words or brochures.

It can eliminate the need for creating an "image of Northville". It would already exist in the words of its residents who believe that "Northville is a good community in which to live and work" and who welcome newcomers to share the benefits.

Roger Babson Selecting Stocks

Babson Park, Mass., this question briefly is: Should we buy the new, popular stocks, or should we buy those in little demand?

Probably drug stocks are the most popular today. This is the time of year when so many are sneezing and your favorite drug store is doing its best business.

Michigan Mirror Taxes in Wisconsin, Too

Those worried about the possibility of a state income tax might find consolation in the recent experience of their neighbors to the west.

The Wisconsin legislature enacted an entirely new 3 percent sales tax on "selected items" including cars, trucks, radio and television sets, sporting equipment, musical instruments, boats, lawn and garden supplies, furniture and appliances and hotel and motel accommodations.

Wisconsin's tax, estimated to bring in $50 million a year, also would allow a rate of restaurant meals, athletic event tickets, theater and other entertainments, and the like.

Members of both political parties have been heard to lament the lack of economic development legislation in the state, although the department report indicates there is considerable movement of industry both in and out of Michigan.

Some 119 Michigan communities also are organized to finance plant construction for new or expanding industry, the department reports.

Boating and other uses of Michigan's thousands of lakes have increased sharply in recent years, and brought with it a hike in the number of accidents and deaths in water.

Although a reporting system from which the State could compute the annual water accident statistics is not complete, it indicates a steadily increased use also brings increased misuse of facilities.

During 1961 various police agencies throughout the state reported 232 drownings and other personal injuries in water accidents. The death toll was an increase of 22 per cent from the previous year.

A large percentage of the drownings, 64.5 per cent, were charged to non-boating accidents.

State Police attribute the greater portion of the non-boating deaths to carelessness and lack of the proper equipment.

Among the boating accidents, carelessness also took its toll. In 1961, 122 persons died because of boating accidents, an increase of 24 per cent over 1960.

Overloaded boats, reckless operation, passenger negligence, unsafe boats and overpowered craft resulted in most of the deaths. The department report showed no victims of boating accidents in Michigan.

State officials are taking a close look at the 1961 water accident report to determine

LOON LAKE ROAD, pictured above, drew criticism at the Wilson city council meeting last Thursday as residents complained about the "near-impassability" of the road. Here, the city's road grader is used to pull a molester from deep mud atop Hopkins hill. Salt used during the winter to keep the hill navigable after ice storms has drawn the frost from the road.

Wixom Council Sees Muddy Road Picture

Spring thaw has hit Wixom, and the city council heard about it last Thursday night as several Loon Lake area residents came to the city hall to complain about road conditions.

Chester Zielinski of 2054 Orland, pointed out that the group realized secondary roads were bad everywhere, but added that Loon Lake road is nearly impassable because of deep mud.

He asked if something couldn't be done to speed up water runoff. DPW Director Robert Trombley, pointing out that the roads were breaking up so badly now because of the large amount of salt used during the winter, said that major improvement of Loon Lake road is scheduled for next year.

Trombley explained that the city's road commission board had set up a program for improvement of all major streets, some of the work would have to be done over winter paving was under way.

The DPW is re-building Loon Lake road, and a start on Loon Lake road. Mayor Donald Brooks said he would like to see the cost spread out over several years so the cost can be spread out.

Zielinski suggested the council ask the voters to approve a bond to raise enough funds to get the work completed so that the roads could be used while they're being paved.

"Our first big hurdle is the April election," said Councilman Raymond Lutz, "if the people vote in the four-mill tax limitation, even present plans will have to be curtailed."

The council also learned that the city's special fire telephone system would be ready for use before the end of the month.

Brooks said the telephone company has offered to install a system of fire telephones for $22,000, a month earlier than previously predicted.

City auditor Robert Clark then informed the council that there are a number of residents who have not paid their property taxes, which can be levied for paving in one year instead of going ahead with paving one road at a time.

Councilman Gumar Mettala pointed out that the city has limited equipment, which can be used for paving in one year instead of going ahead with paving one road at a time.

Clark said that the city has limited equipment, which can be used for paving in one year instead of going ahead with paving one road at a time.

Voters Elect Anderson, Harrison, Young to Council, Reject City Plan

Thaw Flood Hits High Water Mark

Wixom isn't the only area suffering through spring thaws. (See story and photo left).

Novi has received a number of calls on flooded property and basements, reports Village Administrator Assistant Harold Ackley, but in most cases there is nothing the DPW can do to relieve the situation.

Koester Recount?

Novi council candidate Herbert Koester, who came within 21 votes of unseating incumbent Mayor Anderson, has called for a recount of Monday's election results.

Village Attorney Howard Bond said Koester or any other candidate has six days from the date of the election in which to file for a recount. Besides paying a recent fee, the candidate must have the candidates informed of his petition, Bond said.
