SPEAKING for The Record

This week two well-known area officials announced that they were giving up their posts as heads of their respective governmental units. Circumstances and reasons rounding the announcements differed, however. In Northville township Supervisor George Clark told fellow board members that he would not be a candidate for re-election-

This new era of cooperation has served to strengthen each of our governmental units, thus dispensing the fears (still held by some) that a dark, grim cloud might fall and usure their individuality.

In Novi Staman's starus is still somewhat "iffy". If he is chosen as road commissioner for the county, cannot serve as township supervisor-The selection was scheduled to be made in Pontiac Wednesday (yesterday). It was necessary that he submit his resignation to the board before he could be considered for the county position. If he was not chosen, presumably he would be availble to be renamed by the board. But this is a sticky question, and it is known that opinions differ sharply on the Novi board. Staman has been Novi's supervisor for 10 years. It has been a period marked by progress, turmoil, controversy and complacency — just about in that order. We have not always agreed with Staman - but we'd call his batting average .850, tops in any league. And frankly we have to see him step aside.

Our congratulations to Phil Ogilvie, Northville's city attorney, for his "Silver, Beaver" award in scouting. Presented by the Sunset District, the award means that Ogilvie has devoted many hours to helping boys
