

Novi's 1962 Happenings Could Effect Community for Years

New Year's, is traditionally a time for looking back on past activities and making decisions about what goals should be sought in the future.

In the past, The News has taken this occasion to present comments of civic leaders about the year just ended and their suggestions of projects to be undertaken in the coming year.

This year we would like to review the year as it has been reported on our pages and make some comments and suggestions of our own.

Probably the most significant event since January 1 of 1962 was the culmination of efforts to secure Novi's first sanitary sewer system. In April, the township board and village council signed contracts with the county department of public works for construction of sanitary sewers to serve areas south of 10 Mile road.

Completion date for the sewers is next September, and DPW officials are optimistic about possibly finishing the project before then.

Some 2,900 taps will be available in the sewer system, which will drain into Wayne county's Middle Rouge interceptor from Plymouth to Detroit. Immediate service is to be provided for the Willowbrook subdivision area, and may be extended south to Meadowbrook Lake subdivision.

Another branch of the sewer is to extend across the Brookland Farms subdivision to North Center street, where lateral arms will begin and extend to nearby subdivisions.

Nearly all 2,900 taps have been spoken for by subdividers in the service area. They have signed agreements to purchase the taps they are requesting.

The impact the sewers will have on Novi will be felt on many fronts. Most noticeable will probably be a housing boom in the sewer service area. With the village and township each reserving a few taps for the future, upwards of 2,000 homes will probably be built in the service area. This could double that area's present population.

With the housing boom will come increased tax revenue as vacant land is turned into populated subdivision. And there will be increased expenses — more policemen to patrol the area, more municipal personnel to serve the new residents and more school needs.

Which brings us to the second item, schools. The school board last fall started the process of obtaining a secondary building for use as first as a junior high, with possible expansion for a high school. When plans are finalized, the board will have to take a bond debt proposal to the voters.

Future elementary and high school construction programs will be necessary as the population increases with the housing boom expected to accompany the sewers, and taxpayers should be prepared to support these needed programs.

Another benefit sewers should render for Novi is attraction of new industries to the area. While sanitary sewers are of little use for disposal of industrial waste products, the availability of housing for workers will add to the attraction of expressway and railroad needs in Novi.

Also concerning sewers is a study being jointly supported by the village and the city of Walled Lake to ready plans for a sewage disposal system to serve the areas surrounding the lake. The city and village signed agreements with the county DPW for up to $30,000 in engineering and financial surveys for the system, with the hope that federal funds will be available for the project when plans are completed.

Sewers are also under consideration in Wixom. After determining that a joint sewer system with Walled Lake isn't financially feasible, the city ordered a study for a system of its own. The report from the engineers was presented last week, and every effort should be made to carry out the steps needed to obtain sewers for at least the business district area.

Road problems displaced sewers from the attention of Wixom residents and officials during the past year, however, and the city launched its largest road building program. Stemming from the $80,000 renovation of the city's worst roads was an application made in October for a $75,000 federal grant to help finance a $150,000 road building and paving program for next year. Final decision on the grant has not yet been made.

Another utility which caused lengthy Novi council discussion was a proposed water system. After months of negotiations, the council finally determined that Novi cannot afford to get into the water business.

But the council left the door open for future consideration of the system, and rightly so. When sufficient customers to make the water project a self-supporting venture are available, the village should begin steps to obtain a municipal system, which could help boost growth by making Novi more attractive to prospective home owners and land developers.

Finances made news in Novi and Wixom during 1962. Novi ended its fiscal year on June 30 with a $14,000 surplus, the second year the village has ended up in the black. Wixom bathed in the warmth of knowing it had $9,000 left over at the end of the year. Wixom's surplus the previous year had been just over $200. Both communities found that after a year of belt-tightening to make certain they ended up in the black, they had plenty of uses for the surplus funds.

Also reaching the headlines in Novi and Wixom were disconnection cases. Novi won and lost in the courts, while Wixom ended up victorious in its first withdrawal suit to go to trial.

Notably, the village won the Hickory Lane Land and Development case in which developers of the proposed 600-acre "Lincoln Village" tried to revert the area to township status. But the village suffered a setback as John Oslin was permitted to withdraw his land from the village. The Oslin case, now under appeal to the state Supreme Court, could open the door to possible cutting up of the village if the circuit court decision is upheld.

The disconnection statutes require property to be on a boundary line. Oslin's property was surrounded by village area until another property adjacent to his but on the original village boundary line was disconnected. The court ruled the new village boundary created by the first disconnection permits Oslin to disconnect. Should this ruling not be reversed, the village area could be reduced considerably, possibly leaving only a business and residential section with a few tentacle-like peninsulas of village area jutting out.

The highly important 12 Mile road landfill case took on a new light as the state Supreme Court ordered a circuit court rehearing of the case to consider new occurrences which took place after the original circuit court trial over three years ago. Final testimony was heard just before Christmas, and special attorneys' briefs are to be filed by Monday. A decision is expected late this month.

The fate of the 12 Mile road area may well hang upon that decision. For should the landfill, largest ever proposed in Novi, be allowed, the area along 12 Mile between Meadowbrook and Novi roads could suffer considerable deterioration. Trucks would be carting rubbish to the area for several years, and there could be water contamination and flooding problems, according to findings of the village council.

Other significant decisions were rendered in both communities as Novi voters went to the polls to declare for the second time that Novi should not incorporate into a city and Wixom's electors decided the charter tax limitation should not be cut in half, from eight to four mills.

The incorporation move was intended to protect Novi from the loss of valuable tax-producing industries and developed sites through annexation by neighboring cities. Future losses similar to the inclusion of Ford Motor company's Lincoln plant in formation of Wixom and annexation of Northville Estates to Northville could prompt a third incorporation vote.

Another decision which will prove important to Novi was approval by the state highway and conservation departments of a plan for the community to be compensated for the loss of a park site donated to the state by Mrs. Mary Power. The state sold Mrs. Power's land to pay back taxes, clearing $68,000, which was invested in the Proud Lake recreation area.

Through the efforts of township Trustee Emery Jacques and the citizens development committee, the conservation and highway departments agreed Novi should have first choice of up to $68,000 worth of state-owned land in the community when the land is put up for sale.

Besides parks and recreational areas, these sites could serve as municipal properties for use by the DPW and as possible sites for police or fire substations and municipal offices.

On the political scene, there were changes in both township and village officials.

Township Supervisor Frazer W. Staman resigned during his tenth year in office to seek and obtain an appointment to the county board of road commissioners. Appointment of Clerk Hadley Dachtel as Staman's replacement and Charles Goers to fill Dachtel's place followed the resignation. Staman's stepping down from head of the township government could result in some serious Republican party races during future primary elections.

Retiring from village politics was one of its first leaders, Councilman Walter Tuck. Besides chairing committees which carried out the move to incorporate Novi as a village, Tuck served as head of the charter commission and as council president during the first two of his four years on the council.

GIFT TAKES SHAPE — Skaters enjoy part of the playground area being developed beside the Wixom city hall as a result of the chamber of commerce's $880 donation for the playground and its equipment. The above rink and another to the south of it are served by the small warming house in the right background. The swings and merry-go-round behind the rink were built from donated tubing by volunteer workers under the direction of the department of parks and recreation created recently by the city council. Other uses of the chamber's gift include purchase of a movie projector which will be used soon for showing Saturday movies.

Republicans to Vie In Four Primary Tilts

Several Republican party contests for the same township offices will mean a primary election in Novi next month to determine which candidates will run in the April 1 election.

Some 15 candidates, all but one Republicans, filed nominating petitions to seek eight local offices by deadline time of 4 p.m. Monday.

The Republican party competition for offices of supervisor or clerk, treasurer and justice of the peace will be settled in the February 18 primary.

Sole Democrat to file is Herbert Koester, who is seeking the township clerk office. He will provide the only opposition when the April election is held.

Hottest race next month will be to determine which of four candidates will represent the Republicans in the non-contested April election of a justice of the peace.

Seeking the nomination are Incumbent John T. Meier, township Trustee Emery E. Jacques Jr., Constable Roger Curtis and George Ames.

In the primary contest to determine who will represent the GOP for supervisor in April are Incumbent Hadley J. Bachert and John Harnden.

Republicans who will compete February 18 for nomination to run for township clerk are Incumbent Charles G. Goers and Lloyd George.

The only other contest in the primary will be for the Republican treasurer's nomination. Incumbent Duane Bell and Carl C. Rowley will face off in that race.

Others who have filed nominating petitions, but will go uncontested through both the primary and regular election include Incumbent Frank Watzka for township trustee, Incumbent Leon D. Doehot and Charles Stewart for the two constable posts and J. Donald Walters for the single board of review position.

Supervisor Bachert, 43455 Fonda, was appointed to his present post in November, after the resignation of Frazer Staman. Bachert was then in his second term as clerk, and Goers, of 42445 12 Mile, a retired industrial plant manager, was appointed to replace him.

George, of 40958 Malott drive, is a manufacturers representative. He serves as the Republican delegate from the first precinct. Koester, 42780 West Eight Mile road, is a retired Detroit policeman. Harnden, 43475 Fonda, a former store owner, is a tool and die maker. He is retiring from the board of review.

Treasurer Bell, 43485 Fonda, is seeking his second term. He works at Trickey's sporting goods store, Rowley, 23745 East LoBost drive, is a certified public accountant working for Chrysler corporation.

Trustee Watzka, 46000 West 11 Mile road, is seeking his fourth term in office. He is a retired real estate broker and insurance agent. Jacques, 40929 Malott drive, a practicing attorney is the only board member whose term does not expire. He has indicated he will resign as trustee if elected justice.

Incumbent Meier, 30275 Haggerty road, is seeking his second term as justice. He is a

See $2.8 Million Sewer Cost

Wixom city councilmen last week received the $3,000 sewer engineering study they had ordered last fall.

Prepared by Hubbell, Roth & Clark, Inc., consulting engineers of Birmingham, the study estimates a $2.8 million cost for installing an interceptor sewer system and treatment plant which would serve the entire city.

Proposed method of treatment is a $150,000 lagoon-type of plant which would store raw sewage until it is partially decomposed and may be placed into the Norton drain in early spring and late fall, when little use is being made of lands adjacent to the drain or the streams into which it flows.

In the report, the engineers point out that population projections for the city show a 1980 population of 7,000, with a predicted ultimate population of 42,000.

They say the interceptor system they have designed for the city will handle the ultimate population, while the treatment facility is designed to serve between 2,500 and 5,000 residents.

According to the report, the lagoon treatment plant would be used only until Oakland county builds large interceptor sewers, expected by 1980, to serve the Wixom area. The lagoon plant would require about 50 acres of land, not included in the $150,000 estimated price.

The report also states the Michigan health department will only approve sewage lagoons as an interim method of sewage treatment until the county's proposed master plan interceptor sewers are built.

The engineers note that the southern half of the city is mostly heavy clay soil, unsuitable for septic tank installation.

They also point out in their report that approximately 16 per cent of the city consists of muck land, most of which is unsuitable for any type of development. But sewers must still be built through portions of this muck.

They recommend that the city retain a boring company to determine the depth and extent of the muck along the proposed lines for the sewers. They say it may be possible to reduce the estimate of $170,000 which would have to be spent on support piling in the muck areas when the boring company completed its study.

The engineers also recommend that the city consult a bonding attorney and financial advisor to determine methods of financing the sewer system.

The interceptor system, consisting of nearly 120,000 feet of lines ranging in size from 12 to 42 inches in diameter, is designed so that any piece of property in the city may be serviced with an eight inch local lateral sewer.

The interceptor system is made up of nine separate "divisions" all flowing toward a recommended site for the treatment facility. The divisions and areas they serve are:

- Number 1 — 1500 feet of line paralleling Charns road, but about quarter mile south, on the West side of Wixom road. Cost of $60,000.
- Number 2 — 10,700 feet of lines following the Norton drain from number one to the intersection of South Wixom road and Pontiac Trail. Cost of $361,000.
- Number 3 — 19,100 feet of lines extending from Pontiac Trail along South Wixom road to just north of the C & O Ford plant spur, east along the spur to the main C & O track and along the track to the east city boundary, where it turns south and follows the boundary until crossing the southeast corner of the city and extending to 12 Mile road. Cost of $354,000.
- Number 4 — 23,100 feet of lines extending from Pontiac Trail a little west of South Wixom road, and following the Norton drain to the I-96 expressway, where it branches both south along the expressway to South Wixom road and along the western city boundary to 12 Mile road. Cost of $540,000.
- Number 5 — 14,500 feet of lines branching off number 4 near the C & O Ford plant spur, and running along South Wixom road to the I-96 expressway as well as branching along West road about two-thirds the distance to Beck
- Number 6 — 5,700 feet of lines branching off number 2 near West Maple road and extending southward to the west city limit a little below Pontiac Trail. Cost of $120,000.
- Number 7 — 26,800 feet of lines extending from Charns road a little west of Wixom road to serve the entire northeast corner of the city, including all areas north and east of Potter and Wixom roads. Cost of $713,000.
- Number 8 — 13,200 feet of lines branching off number 7 and extending along Wixom road to West Maple road and along West Maple to the eastern city boundary. Cost of $265,000.
- Number 9 — Branching off number 1 and extending into the northwest corner of the city, serving areas along Charns road. Cost of $58,000.

While the council took no action on the report, Mayor Wesley McAtee indicated he plans to reactivate the citizens sewer study committee.

Dimes Activities For Month Listed

A schedule of activities for who is in charge of the Mothers' march, said solicitor assignments will be made during the next two to three weeks. Anyone interested in assisting may call her at MA 4-3087.

The fashion show-luncheon, originally planned to open the March of Dimes activities a week from Monday, has been postponed because arrangements with a clothing store could not be made in time, Mrs. Marchetti said.

She added that the show, which would be staged in the community building, may be held during the last week of January or the first week of next month if new sponsors can be found.

Special letters are going in the mail this week seeking donations from residents, businesses, clubs and organizations, Mrs. Marchetti said.

About 50 March of Dimes cannisters will be placed in local business places during this week, under the direction of Mrs. Doice Ward and Mrs. Tom Culbert. Also to be distributed this week are the special March of Dimes school solicitation cards in which students may insert small donations. Miss Lois Hall is school solicitation chairman.

Mrs. Marchetti noted that while these are the only activities the March of Dimes is sponsoring to raise funds, any local group or organization may stage its own project to collect funds for the campaign. She asked interested groups to contact her to make arrangements for such a project.

March of Dimes funds sponsored research leading to development of polio vaccines, and are now sponsoring research to help the thousands of children who are disabled each year with arthritis or birth defects.

Novi workers last year netted $1,058 to help in combating these debilitating diseases and to continue the March of Dimes' program against polio.

Novi Tax Bill Error Found

Novi township Treasurer Duane Bell announced this week that the error he had earlier reported would leave the township about $4,500 short of its normal tax receipts has been resolved.

Bell had stated last month that a mistaken tax rate used by former Supervisor Frazer Staman would mean the township would lose its normal $3,500 to $4,500 excess of roll and be about $300 short of the tax warrant issued by the county.

He said this week, however, that Staman had not used the wrong rate. Instead, he said, a clerical mistake was made on one of the local industry's tax bills, and it accounted for the entire amount he had said the township would be short.

The treasurer added that while he and an auditor were preparing to check the assessment roll against the tax bills, a process which would have the taxpayer notified when his bill was about $4,000 less than normal.

WELL UNDERWAY is the addition to the Novi community building, a 15 by 31 feet storage room with a 10' long vestibule being constructed on the north end of the building. Contractor Paul Palmer of Northville, who is building the $3,900 addition, said all work except roofing and interior finishing has been done. He said the job would be completed soon after delivery of roofing materials is made.

Postpone Murder Exam to Next Week

The justice court examination of James Gostlin, charged with the slaying of an 11-year-old Novi girl, was postponed from last Thursday until next Thursday, January 10.

Gostlin is charged with murdering to death Shirley Husted when she interrupted his savage attack on her sleeping father, Wesley Husted, 40, of 2009 Austin drive.

Husted is still listed as in critical condition at St. Mary's hospital, while his wife Rita, 33, is still under treatment at Wayne county General hospital for wounds she suffered when Gostlin attacked her with the same claw hammer he used to kill her daughter and beat her husband.

Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole explained that examination before Justice R. K. Anderson was postponed at the request of the prosecutor because Mrs. Husted hadn't been discharged from the hospital.

The murder and beatings occurred in the early morning hours of December 20 after Gostlin, 20, of Dearborn township, had criminally assaulted an 11-year-old niece.

Mrs. Husted told detectives she also assaulted her twice during a two-hour trip from the Husted home to Dearborn, where he let her out of the car and then gave himself up to Dearborn police.

First Baby Born Yet?

Are you the proud parents of a new son or daughter born in 1963?

Or maybe you have friends with a new born child.

If so, that youngster could be First Baby, 1963, and eligible to win a host of prizes from area merchants.

Under rules of the annual First Baby contest births must be reported to The Northville Record office by noon Monday, January 7.

Rules specify that parents of the new baby must have a Northville or Novi mailing address.

Chief Frank and Mrs. Zadin took two children from the Sarah Fisher home for the Christmas holidays.

During 1962

Conservation experienced an unprecedented public awakening during the new year.

Among these was the Conservation Commission's opening of the state parks permit program to implement the state's conservation program.

More than ever, it was looked upon not merely to preserve the state's natural resources for the future, but also to provide for their greater use, here and now.

As 1962 approached its final days, much remained to be done for outdoor recreationists.

On the other hand, significant state forest lands were set up in state forests to add another dimension of recreational use to these lands.

Exchange Club to Hear Detroit Edison Speaker

Scientific, engineering and industrial prospects for the next few decades will be the topics of a slide presentation based on the "World of Tomorrow" by William F. Nank, Supervisor of Detroit Edison's Speakers' Bureau, will be held at the Exchange Club on Monday, January 7, 1963.

The speaker will discuss the future of the electric utility industry and the role of the consumer in the development of new energy sources.

Idea for a Cold Winter's Night

About this time of year, people are looking for a warm, cozy place to spend their winter nights.

The Exchange Club offers a perfect solution with its slide presentation on the future of the electric utility industry.

The presentation is held at the Exchange Club on Monday, January 7, 1963.

VFW News One Court Violation On Holidays

The Northville VFW Auxiliary and Post No. 4012 held a Christmas Party for the children on Sunday, December 29 at the Post Hall. Approximately 150 children were present by Santa Claus who gave each one a Christmas stocking filled with goodies. Later the children were treated to ice cream, Christmas cookies and beverage.

Herbert Behr, 894 North Center, appeared before Justice Charles McDonald Wednesday morning (January 2) and pleaded guilty to charges of disorderly conduct and driving while under the influence of liquor. A disorderly conduct charge was brought against Behr Tuesday by his wife. He drove away before police arrived and was apprehended later by Sergeant Frank Heintz when Behr drove his car into the rear end of another vehicle that had stopped at the Baseline-Center street intersection.

Behr was fined $35 and $5 costs or 10 days on the disorderly conduct charge. He was fined $25 and sentenced to 20 days in the Detroit House of Correction on the drunk driving charge. In addition Judge McDonald revoked Behr's driver's license for 90 days and added 10 days to his jail sentence if he fails to pay the fine.

NEW FAMILY — Gerardo Garcia de la Fuente is surrounded by his new brothers and sisters, Gretchen, Tom and Dan (14), children of the Kalla S. Johnson family. He has six younger sisters at home in Mexico City. Another student from Mexico visiting Northville on the same exchange program is staying at the John McGuire home in Northville. (See picture, page two.)

In Exchanger's Memory

The good of painful but traditional American shiner will be one of the treasured memories a 12-year-old Mexican boy will take home with him in two weeks.

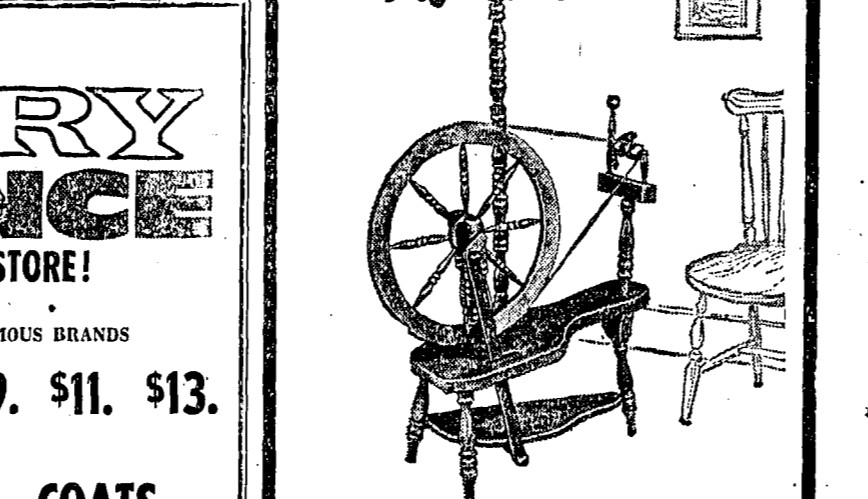

Gerardo Garcia de la Fuente is a Mexico City lad visiting the Kalla S. Johnson family, 12207 Novi road, as an exchange student. He's spending two months here attending classes in the Northville eighth grade and enjoying the winter sports not available at home.

Gerardo is one of about 200 students aged 8 to 16 who are visiting Michigan homes through the Michigan council of churches "Youth for Understanding" program.

The youngsters, all from Mexico City, are scheduled to leave in the middle of January. They arrived in three chartered planes at Detroit Metropolitan Airport November 28, just after their annual school vacation began. December and January are Mexico's coldest months.

The Johnsons' guest received his black eye last week when he fell while ice skating for the first time in his life.

"It was just getting the knack of it when someone accidentally bumped him and down he went," Mrs. Johnson explained. But Gerardo will probably

THE NOVI NEWS

Labor Costs Keep Pressure on Prices

Boston Park, Mass. — No many union leaders, however, did not go beyond the roughly analysis of present conditions as though profits should be 5% annual productivity guide- or prospects for the future. They give little or no regard to that has been asked for to the necessity of distributing in straight pay boosts and in reasonable segments of profits calls for further additions to owners, investors, research- fringes.

They do not often give much attention to the fact that employers must think always of how to hold employment up, how to meet rising labor costs, how to keep their businesses healthy, how to ensure fair profits, how to keep prices down, or how to put aside funds for modernization and expansion. Perhaps only an employer can really appreciate these problems.

Readers may ask: Just how much of an inroad have labor costs made? A recent survey indicates that total pay for time worked has soared 100% over the past 15 years. Far more spectacular is the fact that fringe benefits now cost management about 35% more than they did at the end of the Korean War. It is easy to see what overwhelming pressure that is so economically unrealistic.

No sane observer wants to see the nation's workers deprived of their fair slice of the profits pie. But when wages and fringe costs become top-heavy, the workers lose their gains through skyrocketing living costs, a cutdown in working hours, and unemployment. Too.

Local Family Attends Witnesses Convention
The John Baddalutz family, 45855 Mayo Court, last weekend when they attended the three-day Bible convention at Ann Arbor high school sponsored by the Watchtower Bible Society of Brooklyn, New York.

The occasion was the winter circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses. Despite inclement weather more than 1,000 attended. Baddalutz said. The feature of the event was a lecture by Nicholas Kovalak, Jr., titled "The Bible's Answer to the Problem of Survival."

Kovalak is district supervisor of Witness' activity in Michigan, Indiana and Illinois.

Baddalutz quoted Kovalak as saying, "God where you will find the world and you will find the world." Kovalak said that "God is the author of life. He is the creator of all mankind. Most are concerned only with the daily necessities of life. Some look beyond these to the threats of nuclear war, CBR warfare, atomic fallout and population explosion. A few even look beyond this to the threat to survival that is posed by the impending battle of Armageddon described in the Bible."

Baddalutz denied that Jehovah's Witnesses are preachers of doom and he used Kovalak's concluding words in proof of the hope that they convey.

"But God's Word the Bible alone has the answer for our survival. Read it! Study it and apply it in your life now. Jehovah's Witnesses have a free Bible study service for anyone who requests it of our own."

The convention theme, "Spread the Word of Life," was amplified in all the displays, talks, demonstrations and instruction, Baddalutz added.

He said the most colorful part of the weekend was the baptism of newly dedicated ministers. This occurred by Kovalak on the meaning of baptism.

God's Plan for This Hour

In this darkening hour in the history of our world I ministers do not preach that it is later than you think. Our political leaders, our economists, our scientists, our military experts etc. — all are joining in the chorus of voices that are being raised today to tell us that time is running out. At a Moscow reception recently, Mr. Khrushchev said "the nuclear war may be near."

The end of our world as we know it is now at hand. The "fing of the fulness of the Gentiles" is fast coming in. The handwriting of the God of heaven is on the wall.

And at this hour when men's hearts are failing them because of what they see coming on the earth God would make known His plan and His purpose.

"Wise virgins" do not need to be confused nor will they be, for they have the oil of understanding what the will of the Lord is in these times. Christ says that if any man thinks he knows anything he will know this that he does not know anything. He says that if any man thinks he knows anything he will know this that he does not know anything. He says that if any man thinks he knows anything he will know this that he does not know anything.

Salvation is an inward, conscious reality such as being saved from hate to love. It is not a doctrine or an idea but a reality that must be experienced to be known. Now, if this gospel is being saved from hate to love happens to a man in a Baptist church he is taught to understand it the way the Baptist do. If it happens in a Methodist church he is taught to understand it the way the Methodists do. If it happens in a Roman Catholic church, or a Mormon church, or any other church, may mention he is taught to understand it the way the church he attends is taught.

WHY ADVERTISE?

There's only one businesslike reason to advertise. You can make more money WITH advertising than you can WITHOUT advertising. This means your advertising is an investment... not an expense.

HERE ARE FIVE WAYS ADVERTISING PAYS DIVIDENDS:

1. Advertising builds a desirable reputation for your business. You must sell your store as the place to buy before you can sell your merchandise.
2. Advertising attracts new customers to your store. Before you can really sell, you have to bring customers to your store. Advertising attracts new customers, brings back former customers... many more and much faster.
3. Advertising helps you meet and overcome the fierce competition in today's retailing world. Advertising helps you maintain and protect your business.
4. Advertising is informative... it tells your customers what's new.
5. Advertising increases profits by building volume. Competition tends to trim profits on each sale, so volume becomes the key to success. Advertising gets you selling message to enough people to build volume sales.

... and NORTHVILLE RECORD ADVERTISING does all these jobs best!

A Year's Review

1962 — 1963! What has brought, and what will it bring to the people of the world, United States, Michigan, Northville, and Northville High School? To the people of the world — many problems, hardships, sorrows, and, maybe, peace. For those in the United States — high prices, low prices, space achievements, Cuba, and Berlin, just to name a few.

Michigan now has a new governor — the first Republican to hold office in fourteen years. Northville has had its first Northville High School — well, many things!

1962 brought us the graduation of the class of '62, a wonderful and thrilling basketball season with a basketball championship, the four fair-wells to the exchange students, Manford, Amiel, and Klaus, the loss of our football title, a new senior class, the J-Hop, a new football field, the well-known and well remembered senior ship day, a new student council member, a huge debate tournament, Karen Peterson, other students who were "reel-knows" anything can, may, less" — broken bones and probably will happen at sprained ankles, colds, and good of N.H.S.!!!

From The Top

The Northville High Student Council, advised by Assistant Principal Mr. LaGene Oney, comprised of thirty students who each represent a home room and is led by Mayor Frank Steinberger. Other executive officers are Brenda Cobern, secretary; David Jerome, treasurer; and Karen Peterson, police officer; and Karen Peterson, health officer.

Everyone is familiar with the responsibilities of the mayor, secretary and treasurer, but the remaining two are not so well known. Police Chief Dillard is responsible for presiding at Student court sessions, handling tickets to Student Council members and police departments, and keeping a record on tickets occasionally do arise because the students needlessly misunderstand the attitudes, dispositions and general makeup of our student body. In order to remedy this situation, Miss Pantoni's fourth hour speech class is a project for the student council members of the high school faculty especially some of the newer ones and prepare a series of articles about how stress, their respective honorariums to the council, and report the happenings of each meeting to their honorariums.

Senior representatives are Duna Penn, Carol Leavenworth, Craig Bell, Chuck Somers and Pam Harnden. Alternates are Eira Rutan, Pat Lemley, Carol Duck, Bill Weidner and Joe Hay.

Their alternates are Dan Bologniovanni, Janet Funk, Larry Thibos, Lynn Laird, Tom Prue, Penny Peterson and Mary Deaton.

These students are all working toward a common goal — a better Northville High school through the student council.

The council just recently completed its annual CARE campaign. A popular topic both in and out of Student Council, is the question of standardized school rules. Complete details are not yet available. Our Student Council is also helping to devise a League of Good Sportsmanship Governing athletic events.

Student Personalities

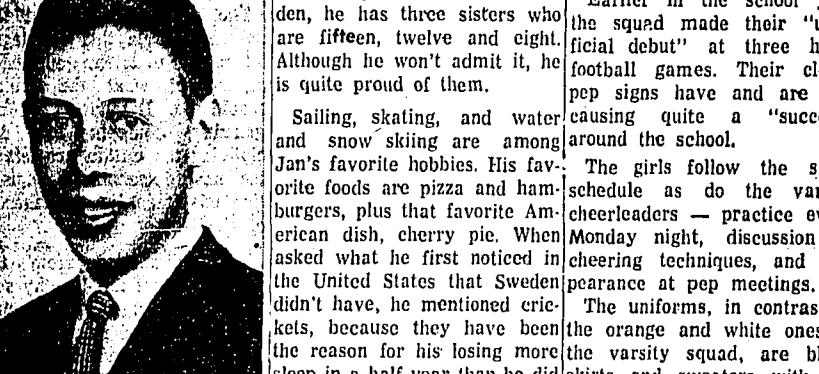

The senior class of 1963 is going to the University of Michigan where she earned her teaching degree in Biological Science. She was a teaching fellow in Zoology at U of M and also taught at the junior high in Newton, Massachusetts, and Madison, Wisconsin before coming to Northville.

Where she lived was asked where she lived, she replied, "I would need at least a year to cover all the states of the United States. I've been to Alaska, Hawaii, the Galapagos Islands — tons of big boomers around Australia and cover the whole continent of Europe."

"As far as sports are concerned — I like to walk floors. A lively game of ping-pong is her favorite hobby. His favorite is a Mercedes Benz sedan 1800 likes to eat pizza; and enjoys Walt Disney true life adventures as well as old silent movies, comedies and modern day English movie comedies.

"Her apartment is shared by her partner 'Quilly', and she has a dog named 'Bugsy'. She also has a pet rabbit named 'Cotton' who she keeps in a cage in her room. She also has a pet hamster named 'Cotton' who she keeps in a cage in her room.

She has a very interesting collection of records, and she enjoys listening to them. She also has a collection of books, and she enjoys reading them.

Editorially Speaking

Dress? ... "A" - O K

Today so many people are complaining about the way teenagers dress that I feel a few words should be said about the dress of the Northville high school students.

People nowadays are only short, short skirts, pegged pants, unbuttoned shirts, ultra-bouffant hair-dos.

Several weeks ago, several Northville students journeyed to a nearby school where they were to take part in a testing program. Since it was a Saturday, several of us debated about appropriate dress. It was decided that it was never solved — each of us used his own discretion.

Northville could have been proud of the impression made by its representatives, both appearance and behavior. Upon arrival at the school, we discovered that the majority of the students present were in a state of sloppiness, wearing sweaters, sweat shirts, blue jeans, and even Bermudas! However, the Northville students were in neat school clothes — to fit the occasion, that of college entrance tests.

I know that I was proud to be of the Northville group and that the personnel administering the tests, was also impressed.

Did You Say Slam?

Have you ever heard of a "slam"? It's not unusual if you haven't — unless you are one of those select few who are attending Northville high school this year. There always has been a popularity czar at NHS, whether it be pink shoes, Louis boots, Benetton blouses, head-scratching bands or pointed-coes. These are all ostensible crazes. This year, we have a craze of a different nature, that of the "slam." The "slam" also known as the "put down," is a sarcastic criticism, which can be easily used to give your friend a grand feeling of insecurity, and yourself a reputation of being successful in school society.

Here are some examples. The other day this editor noticed two boys in a heated discussion at a pep assembly. When the first boy raised his forefinger in the air to emphasize a point, the second promptly won the argument by offering the following rebuttal: "Is that how you are or is it the number of brain cells in your head?"

As you can easily see this is a rather direct and open slam. There is also the more subtle comment as was observed during homeroom one morning. The boyfriend leant over to the girl sitting beside him and said "Have you read about those horrible-looking girls that are wearing?" Before she could answer glancing at her hair he said "Oh I guess you've heard about them alright." In stead of making the remark offensively the girl merely giggled and returned, "Oh, Johnny, how can you be so silly!"

Many times, utilizing the "slam" is an exchange of wit. Often, it gives a person the chance to express an opinion which he wouldn't otherwise dare. And, then, too, it's fun and is an effective way of "putting people in their places."

Something To Do

The New Year is the time for resolutions, funny and serious. Students and teachers, like other people, happily do their best to improve themselves.

The New Year presents a time for each of us to introspect and analyze ourselves, to fulfill good intentions, and to make new commitments.

This is all well and good, but how many of us actually try to improve ourselves, our work, and our relationships with others. So many of us casually procrastinate. Of course, too, there are the rationalizations — "We simply do not have enough time," so we say, "to become engaged in the rather abstract project of self-improvement." Actually, if one thinks about it, each and every one of us is just plain lazy. If we would merely turn off the TV, things would be accomplished. Students could get better grades and, for once, learn something. The older generation might, through a little more self-understanding, become more cognizant of the problems of the younger generation and of the world. People, if they exercised just a little bit of self-restraint, might make life easier for all of us.

This year, just for once, make a resolution — and keep it. Sure, you may be one in a million, but, remember, if there were more like you, who knows what the wonderful and surprising results might be.

"Dinner Flurry"

One of the more significant problems of Northville high school this year has been the controlling of the lunch periods and procedures. It has become increasingly necessary for people of civilized inclinations to get their teeth, plug their ears, and run for cover to avoid being injured in the non-hour rush to the cafeteria. If an outsider were to observe this hectic phenomenon of high school lunch-periods, he might at first believe the situation to be somewhat humorous; however, it is likely, after he has been brushed aside a few times, that he would be surprised, shocked or somewhat embarrassed. The solution lies in a moral obligation to make an appeal to the students of Northville High. Speaking seriously, if our high school is to be successful, and the students are to exist in a civilized atmosphere, it is necessary for the basic principles of the zenship to be observed and followed. One of the best places to begin is in our high school cafeteria, for it is a very good factor in determining our ability to believe as a civilized society.
