

SPEAKING for The Record

At the instant of this week's "Speaking" column is a copy of a letter sent to the Superintendent of Northville schools with copies to each member of the board of education.

With some background information it should be self-explanatory.

The subject concerns the proposed split in the 1963-64 Northville ninth grade between the junior and senior high school buildings. It should be a matter of considerable concern to parents in both the Northville and Novi school districts.

As most followers of local school affairs know, the question of whether or not Northville would accept Novi ninth graders for the 1963-64 year was not settled until last week.

It should have been decided when Novi passed its operating millage request last summer. Northville board members — in what should have been a routine matter — accepted its ninth grades if it could prove its ability to pay tuition through the 1963-64 year.

But later some second thoughts developed when enrollment estimates were closely studied.

Northville then took the attitude that it would accommodate Novi only if the latter insisted. One board member even suggested it would be rather unorthodox for a school for its ninth graders.

Farmington was willing to help Novi out of its predicament. It would take the Novi ninth graders.

At this point another consideration became painfully evident to Northville. Without Novi's ninth graders in 1963-64 the budget would suffer a $26,593 loss in tuition revenues.

So the welcome mat was out again for Novi.

And it was decided that the 1963-64 ninth grade would be divided between the junior and senior high schools.

Now the question arises, how does one decide which student attends the high school and which one remains at the junior high school?

Can any educator honestly say that there are absolutely no advantages or disadvantages between the two facilities? Would there be any "stigma" on the junior high ninth graders?

Would Novi have any reason to question, in light of its recent experience with Northville, that perhaps its students might suffer under such an arrangement?

Most important, is this drastic measure necessary at all? Ironically, school administrators admit it is a poor arrangement while refusing to say that it is absolutely necessary.

Some remember that five years ago it was "authoritatively" stated (and not refuted) that the new high school would "essentially handle 900 students." Estimated enrollment at the high school next year with the Novi ninth graders is 868.

In fairness to board members and administrators the 900 figure was never used in statements prior to the public vote on the bond issue.

It is the position of this writer that to divide any class would be a grave mistake — psychologically and educationally.

It would seem far wiser to settle the ninth grade in one building — either the junior or senior high school — and, if there be some disadvantages or disadvantages, let the students share them equally.

In one year Novi will have its own junior high school and the problem will not be an issue.

More Libraries Sought in State

Efforts to expand Michigan's library system in the rural areas are under way throughout the state.

The State Board for Libraries earlier this year started a drive to move to bolster the creation of multi-community library systems to take the world of books to more people in Michigan.

A further effort recently announced is the offer by the board of four $2,000 scholarships for graduate study in library science.

State Librarian Genevieve M. Casey said the scholarship fund recipients will be expected to work for two years following graduation in a public library serving a rural area.

Miss Casey said the agreement would not impose any actual restrictions on the type of library involved, however, since it will appear in a large or small system. The scholarship program was designed to provide trained personnel for both children and adults in rural areas.

Any person with provisional acceptance from an American Library Association-accredited library school may seek one of the scholarships available through funds provided by the Federal Library Services Act.

On-the-job injuries rose in Michigan last year in proportion to the hike in the labor force and the rise in work accidents throughout the nation, according to the State Labor Department.

There were 31,600 compensable injuries reported in Michigan last year, a 5 per cent increase over the 30,000 reported in 1962.

This compares unfavorably with the national total of 1,900,000 injuries, a 3 per cent increase over the 1,840,000 reported in 1962.

Financing and administration of the community facilities is done on a joint state-local basis. During the last full fiscal year, a total of $2,139,567 was spent for community facilities. Of this $2,111,415 was contributed by the state and $28,152 was obtained from local sources.

Water resources of Michigan are of primary concern to many. One unit of government devotes much time to them, mostly unmet.

One phase of the Water Resources Commission's work is devoted to on-the-spot investigations of sites proposed for the disposal of waste and sewage.

Under the law a municipality, industry or business of any kind which wishes to increase or discharge water in the state is required to gain permission from the Commission. During 1962 alone the Commission granted 1,000 permits.

Requests must include the name of the applicant, the location of the proposed discharge, the amount of water to be discharged, the time of day, and the nature of the discharge.

Further, because I believe it is my responsibility as a newspaperman (not a parent), I intend to comment editorially on the matter.

Finally, I apologize for my display of temper in my call to you. I cannot say that it will not happen again. Sometimes my concern runs away with my better judgment, and that's why I always reserve editorial comment for at least a few "cooling off" days.

The Northville Record has a higher billing point than its publisher.

Job Opportunities Best For Capable Salesmen

Robert Babson

Babson Park, Mass. — When it comes to the selection of the conventional Christian Conference I was asked for my opinion to this effect: "What business would have been in it if we were living today — sure? He would not be a carpenter or fisherman." To the above I replied: "My guess is that Jesus would still be a 'plumber'."

This column is not a "plumb" for any line of business. In fact, there may well be enough good life insurance agents today but I know that Jesus would be in some useful work, and I think He would be a salesman.

In fact, Jesus and His apostle Paul were the great salesmen of Christianity.

In a recent survey of American manufacturers and service organizations compiled in New York City, it was reported that their inventories are valued at $30,752,250,000.

My estimate is that newspaper and magazine advertising gives the advertiser more for his money than does television.

The latter reaches vast numbers and only for a few minutes or two (although these ads are prepared with great care by very able and experienced salesmen). To me one of the most interesting portions of a TV broadcast is the list of the large number of concerns and individuals who were employed to prepare the broadcast.

Readers will note that the automobile manufacturers are still using — and perhaps making even more important use of — newspapers and magazines to sell their cars. Such ads are on hand and available to readers for 20 hours or more; while the TV ads often are available for only 20 seconds at a time.

Finally, let me say a word about the selection of salesmen. They should be a pleasant personality. A good salesman believes in his product and in his employer. He honestly feels that he is serving his customer by selling them his "goods."

He is convinced that full employment is dependent upon the nation's salesmen, whether of homes built, the amount of clothing and good food sold — rather than upon the number of cigarettes or bottles of beer or quantity of cosmetics sold.

If President Kennedy should ask me what he could do to help the nation's salesmen, I would say: "Do more for the nation's salesmen. They are the basis of prosperity."

Seek April 1 Okay of 5 1/2 Mills for Secondary School

Novi's board of education voted 4-1 last week to ask school district voters to approve a bond issue for construction of a new secondary school in a special election April 1.

The board — not to exceed a sum of $855,000 — would be used for construction, furnishing and equipping a secondary school building on an 80-acre plot of land at Eleven Mile and Taft.

If the issue passes, an additional 25-year moratorium would be levied on the bond issue payment due in December.

Arthur J. Heslip cast the dissenting vote to a secondary school building bond issue on the April 1 ballot.

In a statement issued Monday, Heslip said, "As a school board member, I feel I owe a responsibility to the taxpayers of the district and realize that it is the board that is responsible to the people — not a teacher's committee or a citizens' committee or the superintendent."

"Last Wednesday night, the architects told the board that classrooms in the proposed building would have to be smaller and the height limited to keep within the budget."

"I am not recommending a complete program at this time, but I feel we should get an idea of what the extra costs would be."

"Most important, I know we have to take care of the Novi students and I will work toward that goal. I think the Novi people with a bond issue of just under $1 million and to be able to discuss it fairly and intelligently with the people."

"The board has not even been consulted on the alternate bids which I think should include an estimate of the classrooms needed for a complete program," Heslip said.

secondary school building program "most reasonable from the economic standpoint."

The program's first stage is the construction of a building for 350 seventh, eighth and ninth grade students. In addition to classroom facilities, the building will also contain a gymnasium, library and cafeteria — which will eventually be used for all Novi's secondary students. This first building will also have partial facilities for homemaking, shop, music and science classes.

The second stage of the program could be opened by September, 1964.

Culbert predicted that the Novi school district would have 600 to 650 students in grades 7 through 12 by 1970 and would then need a complete secondary program.

Preiminary budget estimates by O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach associates for the Novi school district voters April 1 is a proposal asking for the removal of two and a half millage rates.

The millage, which expired December 31, 1962, adds $30,000 to the operating budget of Novi schools each year.

On April 1, Novi school district voters will also be voting in the general election. Appearing on the township ballot in addition to candidates will be a library millage proposition. The resolution, if passed, would give the township authority to establish a library and to levy a one-half mill tax — $8,000 — for four years to support the library.

They are an adequate number of students to be able to offer a complete program and a tax base big enough to support the program."

By planning to build the secondary school in two stages, we are "gaining time" for an increase in enrollment and tax revenues, $10,000, and legal fees, $10,000.

Design Provides For Novi Growth

The "unique" feature of Novi school board members and architects is a combined land and building plan.

The room's uniqueness stems from its flexibility, Culbert said.

The large room has been drawn by O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Associates of Birmingham in a way that the school's proposed school's main entrance on Taft road.

Also planned for eventual construction is an addition to the left of the proposed building for other special facilities such as science classrooms.

Extra wings, Culbert said, will be constructed "when the tax base increases to the point that the Novi school district can support the operation of a complete high school and when enrollment reaches the complete high school."

In the meantime, he added, the Novi school district will be ready and in use by grades seven through nine.

He termed the proposed building "the most reasonable from the standpoint of economy of operation and offering a secondary educational program."

He added that he did not see anything in the architects' plans which he would classify as "unnecessary, luxurious or that could not be seen in any other good secondary school program."

The proposed school, expected to house 350 students in the first stage, is slated for construction on the center of an 80-acre plot at Eleven Mile and Taft. Construction would cost approximately $1,550 per square foot.

Among the other special rooms included in the architect's sketch are two science rooms, an arts and crafts room, a shop, a homemaking room and a music room.

The following Thursday, March 20, Rotarians will meet with Walter Yeager, chairman of the entertainment committee.

The public is invited to all three Rotarian meetings.

Wixom Chamber Plans Election

An election committee was formed at the Friday meeting of the Wixom chamber of commerce to conduct a non-partisan election for president and vice president.

Members of the committee are Judge William Welke (chairman), Elmer Burdick, Paul De Podesta and Lloyd Preston.

The presidential vacancy was created by the death of the former president, Donald Brooks Howard Hendrick is the acting president.

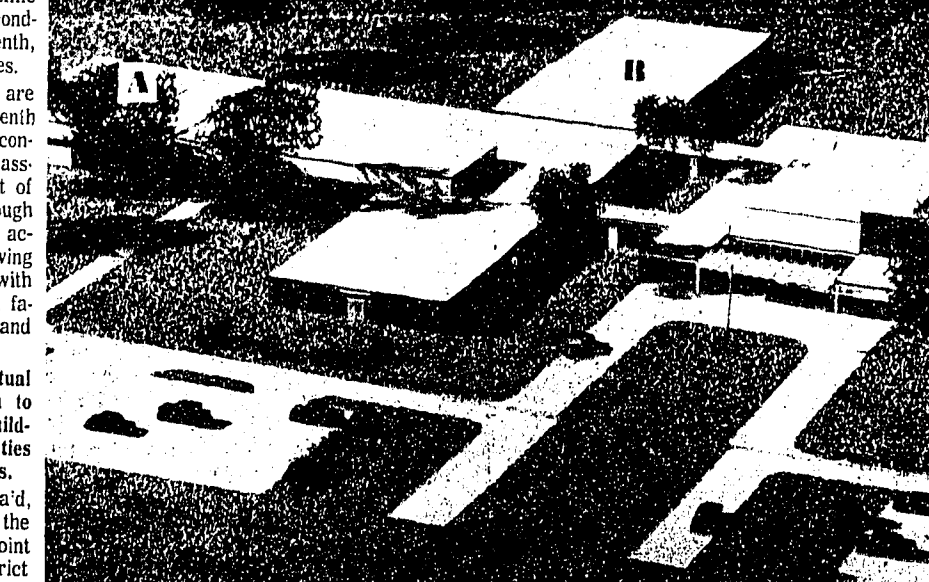

Plan Children's Film

The Novi Friends of the library will sponsor a 70-minute children's movie, My Dog Rusty, March 22 at 1 p.m. in the community building.

Novi students will be dismissed from school that day so faculty members can participate in a parent-teacher conference.

Novi Officials OK $30,000 Hike in Sewers

The estimated cost of Novi's sewer system has been raised $30,000, it was learned at a township board meeting this week.

Total cost of building a Novi line to meet the Wayne county sewer at Northville road near Seven Mile and buying four cubic feet per second capacity in the system is now estimated at $1,390,000.

The rise in cost can be credited to poor soil conditions found in the path of the proposed interceptor as more borings were taken, according to Frank Naglich, assistant chief engineer of the Oakland county DPW.

Both the township board and Novi's village council approved the latest Oakland county DPW estimate.

DPW officials reported this week that construction of the interceptor system should begin within a couple of months.

Some 2,000 tons will be made available to Novi residents upon completion of the Novi sewer at Northville road near Seven Mile to halfway between Nine and Ten Mile roads. Construction plans also show arms extending west to the Commerce area and north to Ten Mile.

Novi's opportunity to buy in to the Wayne system came last year when the county was left with 7.5 cubic feet per second excess capacity in the line which was allocated to communities within the county, but not purchased.

So Wayne county would be left bearing the expense in the line of this capacity, the $233 Grand River.

Restaurant Burns

Firemen from Novi, Northville, Walled Lake and Wixom answered a fire call at 1:30 a.m. Saturday and extinguished a fire at Ruby's restaurant, 2206 Novi road. There was extensive damage to the roof and an adjoining garage burned to the ground, firemen reported.

Leading the facility onslaught in the fourth quarter was Joan Osborne, the school's physical education instructor.

Following Osborne's lead, the faculty worked methodically to pile up 20 points in the last quarter. The eighth grade, struggling through to the end, managed only 11 baskets in the final quarter.

High point men for the faculty were Osborne with 24 points and Sam Stewart, Novi school principal, with 13. High point scorers for the eighth graders were Dr. Walter Ambler and David Fried, school board members, and Roy Williams, principal of Orchard Hills school.

High point of the show will be the 10 mile trail ride in Lansing to the fair grounds in Detroit.

Other state affiliate clubs will sponsor a king and queen contest from their state to ride on the trail ride. From these contestants, an international POA king and queen will be selected.

Contestants in the show will be children 15 and under. The POA, a new breed developed in the last decade, has the color and characteristics of an Appaloosa and conformation of a cross in miniature between the quarter horse and Arabian. The breed is obtained by crossing Appaloosa horses with ponies such as the Welsh or Shetland.

Others working on the event are Mrs. Jack Hildner, chairman; Mrs. Douglas Day, program; Mrs. James Conway, publicity; and Mrs. W. W. Nichols, public relations chairman for the recreation building. He has been assisting with arrangements.

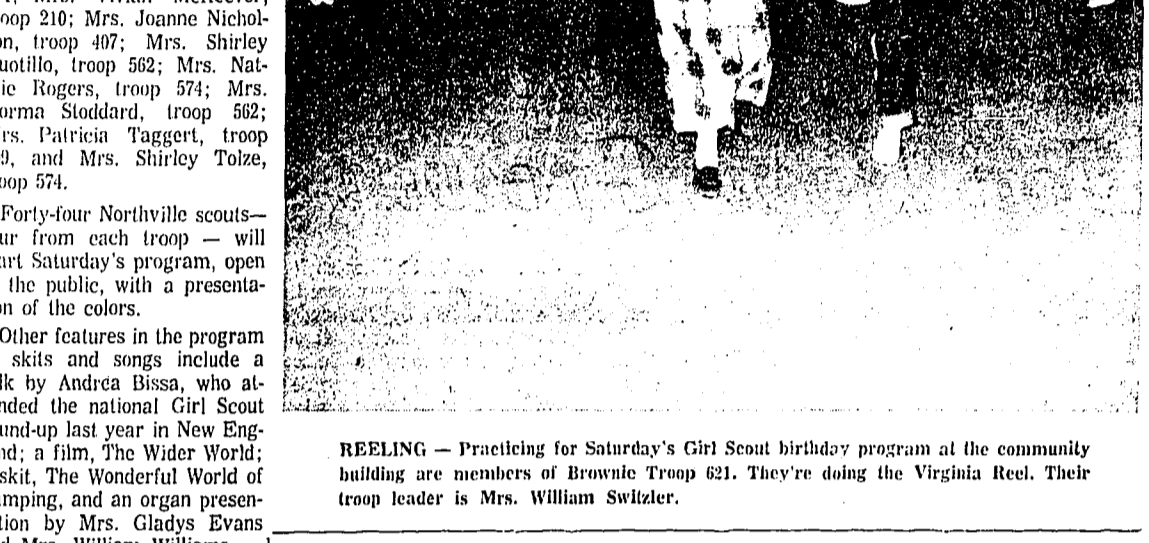

Mrs. Green, counselor at Wayne Memorial high school, has reviewed books for church, literary and professional societies in the Detroit area and in other midwest cities.

"She chose the 'lively book' to review for newcomers and their guests because 'it's a book you can put yourself into' — for instance, she says, she can share Mrs. Ehrhardt's 'disbelieving wonder' at finding an open air nightclub on the shores of the dead sea.

Mrs. Greene is president-elect of the Wayne Ladies Literary club and began giving book reviews as a hobby when she lived in the Chicago area. She still is invited to review there.

In announcing the benefit program, Mrs. Arthur Hempt, Newcomers president, explained that the club members wish to support the scout-recreation building drive and perhaps be able to donate a sum to start furnishing the new building.

"Tickets for the book review will be available from all Newcomer club members or from Mrs. C. W. Fountain, F1 9-2783.

Local Woman to Head International Pony Show

Mrs. George Whitefield of 4180 Seven Mile has been selected as show chairman for the 51st international pony of the Americas show which will be held July 19 through July 27 at the Michigan State fair grounds, Detroit.

Mrs. Whitefield has lectured on Pony of the Americas and served as Michigan's POAC secretary during 1960, 1961 and 1962. She has also edited and published the Michigan club's bulletin for the past three years.

"Mr. Whitefield has been a director of the state POAC since 1960 and is now vice-president of the club.

Newcomers Schedule Book Review Benefit

"There's Yeast in the Middle East" — and with it the Northville Newcomers club is sponsoring a book review after-dinner program for 8 p.m. March 22 to benefit the Northville Scout-Recreation building fund.

Mrs. Earl Greene of Wayne is to recount the recent adventures of the author, Willie Snow Ehrhardt, in the program at the community building.

Mrs. Ehrhardt's newest book has been appearing on current, non-fiction best-seller lists.

Mrs. Ehrhardt, well-known fiction and travel writer, recently toured Baghdad, Istanbul, Tel Aviv as well as desolate desert and mountain country in the Middle East with her journalist husband, publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal and a trustee for the Ford Foundation.

Mrs. Green, counselor at Wayne Memorial high school, has reviewed books for church, literary and professional societies in the Detroit area and in other midwest cities.

"She chose the 'lively book' to review for newcomers and their guests because 'it's a book you can put yourself into' — for instance, she says, she can share Mrs. Ehrhardt's 'disbelieving wonder' at finding an open air nightclub on the shores of the dead sea.

AAUW Sets Book Sale

Novels, cookbooks, biographies, textbooks, classics and paperbacks — all will be on sale today, tomorrow and Saturday at the Plymouth Kroger store, Main and Union streets.

The sale is an annual event sponsored by the Northville Plymouth branch of the A.A.U.W. to raise funds for the association's fellowship fund.

Approximately 1,000 books will be offered for sale during the three-day event. Books will range in price from five cents to a dollar.

A special corner will be devoted to collectors' items — old and interesting editions. Also available will be a group of six new titles — a collection of Mrs. D. H. Sutherland of Northville.

While interesting, the Chess Players sometimes seems to be a book for who not only seems to live, but also adds a dimension to Morphy's life.

— BIRTH —

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Birles, former Northville residents, announce the birth of twin boys March 5 in Highland Park. Ostosoph hospital.

The boys' names are Robert — weighing six pounds, 19 ounces at birth — and David, weighing six pounds, one ounce. The Birles, who now reside at 27463 Bonnie in Warren, have two other children: a daughter, Mrs. Peter Cook of 11 South, and eight-year old Hans.

Mrs. and Mrs. Herlman Krauter of Northville.

Add Turkish Touch to Your 'Kitchen Diary'

Do exotic, faraway places such as Turkey, Cambodia and India tempt you? If so, why not take a grape leaf from the pages of Mrs. Barbara Ansgo's cook book and bring an evening of Turkish food into your home?

As Mrs. Ansgo, wife of a Northville State hospital psychiatrist, points out, most Turkish dishes aren't difficult to prepare, but they are "interesting and different."

For, Mrs. Ansgo explains, "I translated them into English for the first time this week."

Mrs. Ansgo's recipes: Sarmia I, a "very good" main dish; Sarmia II, an appetizer.

In Review The Chess Players

Paul Morphy, the Creole who made his way through Louisiana and fell from fame in 12-year period, spending the later years of his life in seclusion. Paul Morphy is drawn from the mansion — his birthplace — to the New York, London and Paris of the mid-1800's.

The Creole's triumphs and travels in capturing wooden kings and capturing international fame form the frame of this sprawling novel.

The love of chess was passed to Morphy via his grandfathers — both outstanding Creoles and deities of the game. His paternal grandfather, Diego Morphy, once the Spanish champion in Charleston and New Orleans, came through Charlemagne Sheppard, a Yankee stop-keeper's daughter.

Unfortunately for history — fortunately for Mrs. Keyes' creative imagination — she does Morphy begin to emerge as a fully-developed character as the salient of the best-developed characters in the book. From only a comment of a woman who husband, Mrs. Keyes has spun a character for who not only seems to live, but also adds a dimension to Morphy's life.

on the regional, Coach Dave Longridge noted, "If we had won here, we would have had a good chance of winning up there."

There were a lot of "ifs" after the district tourney. Players, coaches and fans will be regretting their games. They were much of course - for the biggest winning margin in the tourney was four points.
Northville led that distinction, beating Howell 56-52 in the first game.

There's only excited talk for the losers now. Eighteen juniors - a 10-8 mark that doesn't compare with last year's 20-1 record - and the season is over. The 1963 version of the Mustangs wouldn't rate rave reviews for its court finesse.

Trailing 19-13 at the end of the first half, they relentlessly punched their way through the Tigers through the second half down to the final moments.

With the Tigers leading 50-42, they went into a semi-stall, waiting for an opening to score the sure basket, while the Mustangs tried desperately to get the ball.

Tiger Chuck Ayotte then entered the game and scored two free baskets.

Tom Swires, who played a stellar game for Northville and led with Jim Judy for scoring points, went into a semi-stall, coupled with a 15 foot jump shot.

Only 14 points were scored in the second quarter.

A combination of deliberate play by Northville and Fenton's close defense held the score down.

The Mustangs freeze game worked in reverse. It cooled off the Mustangs' center, on the other hand, kept up the scoring pace, leaving the floor with its biggest margin of the night, 19-12.

"We tried to draw them out from under the basket so we could drive through," Coach Longridge explained, "but we couldn't get through their defense. We wanted to hold them

Northville had trouble covering both men.

ed the outside punch as the Islers began to creep up.

Northville won from the free throw line, bagging 12 of 21 attempts to South Lyon's 8 of 20. Both teams had 51 field goal attempts, but the visitors

Southern Part of State
Faces Deer Explosion

However, damages for 1960
were estimated at $1 million.
These included: $338,000 for agricultural crop damage; nearly $307,000 for damages to vehicles which hit white-tails; $71-000 for damages made by deer hunters on private lands; $24-000 for deer damages to landowners' fences; and $11,635 for tree damage.

The other side of southern Michigan's double-barreled population explosion will figure prominently in determining what will happen to deer. This means it has been almost doubling in size every five years.

As expected, deer numbers are lowest in the eastern part of the state, where winter food supplies and other biological factors hold sway, the ultimate limit on white-tail numbers in southern Michigan will be largely determined by their net benefit to people.

In other words, the herd's size will have to be controlled at a level in which its total value to sightseers, hunters, and other recreationalists remain above its combined costs for crop, vehicle, and other damages.

Right now, it is not possible to say exactly what the maximum deer population will be.

THE NOVI NEWS

Here's What Life's Like First Year in Navy

When spring arrives, a young man's fancy sometimes turns to far-away places and the adventures of a "hit" in the army or navy.

There's often apprehension — both by the youngster and the parent — over just what happens once Johnny puts his name on the dotted line.

It was just one year ago that Ronnie Van Sickle, Mr. and Mrs. Ochs S. Nipp of 402 Johnson, started his career in the navy.

With the help of the local navy recruiter and navy public relations officials at his San Diego base it's possible to take a look at what's happened to Ronnie during his first year.

Tests have been the measure of his success in the service, so far.

In fact, before Airman Van Sickle even entered the Navy, he was taking tests.

It all began in February, 1962, at the Northville Naval recruiting station in the American Legion building. After inquiring about vocations and schools in the Navy, Van Sickle selected the high school Airman recruit (HSAR) program.

Having a high school diploma, he was eligible for the program. But there were no guarantees.

As in all services, Van Sickle took his first pre-processing exam — the applicant qualification test.

"This is a basic test given at the local office to see whether the applicant can read and write adequately," explained recruiter, Chief Petty Officer Richard Tunison.

Van Sickle then went to Detroit, where he took two entrance tests: a physical examination and the armed forces qualification test. Both are given to all prospective servicemen.

Ronnie scored above a 55 on the written exam, which qualified him for the HSAR program.

But he was a long way from his specific goal — the aviation electronics school.

He returned to Northville to complete his pre-processing.

In all, it took two weeks before he was sworn in on February 19, 1962 in Detroit. He was now officially a Navy recruit.

The tests never seem to end however. To gain a promotion, he must prove his knowledge of electronics by passing a test, given each February and August.

In six months, then, Ronnie will be taking another exam. There's no other way to get ahead.

Shortly after arriving at Great Lakes for nine weeks of "boot training," Van Sickle took five more tests. He scored high on the electrical comprehension test, which ultimately qualified him for the aviation electronics school.

After the rigors of boot camp, Airman Apprentice Van Sickle finally made the grade in the aviation electronics school at Jacksonville, Florida. He finished ninth in a class of 26 men.

Airman Van Sickle then moved on to his first duty assignment, the Naval Air station Miramar near San Diego, California.

There's plenty of on-the-job training. Here Ronnie receives instructions from his section leader Paul Putscher, aviation instructor as well as instructor as well as instructor, used in feeling Navy aircraft.

Ronnie carefully checks the fueling hose connection to prevent accidents to men and equipment.

SPEAKING for The Record

By Bill Slier
If you've noticed the holes along Clement road and wondered why, there's an interesting answer. For more than 30 years (no one knows exactly how long) four township residences between Main and Nelson on the west side of Clement have been tripped to the city water system.
All four houses are served by a single three-quarter inch line. And service stopped when the line froze recently. City DWW workers dug holes to thaw the line out and had to shove posts to keep it open.
The city has been aware that these houses use city water. And like the 22 township customers in Bloomer subdivision and two customers on Fairbrook, they pay double rates for the privilege.
But law the line came into being, who installed it, and with what authority, no one knows.
The problem, of course, is who pays for installation of a new system for the area.
City Manager Parthoff points out that the line is undersized and should be "looped" into the city system for proper circulation and service. The answer would be to run the line down Clement to Fairbrook connecting to the city system at that point. Estimated cost of the project is $13,000.
But the service must be paid by the users — and they live in the township, where the city has no power to assess. Much the same problem exists so far as service to the Bloomer area is concerned. This line, too, needs replacing.
But if such a project were to be undertaken it would require city-township cooperation plus water conservation.

Apparently it could be accomplished by the township creating a special assessment district. The result would be better water for the township users — and possibly a new look at the city's policy of no new water customers outside the city limits.

The weather may be cold enough to freeze water lines in Northville, but what about Puger Sound? Why, they're moving towers there and reaping. At least that's what my octogenarian friend, Mrs. Belle McCall, writes.

Are you kidding me, Belle?
Tonight the U of M Glee club will entertain at the Northville high school auditorium. And last week we reported that it was the first appearance of the all-male chorus in Northville.

That's not so. And Walter Cause called me to say he remembers well the last visit of the group to Northville some seven or eight years ago.

Sponsored by the U of M Club of Northville, the group was at the community building. And Mr. Cause remembers that several announcements delayed the program at the outset. And when the singing began, the city's fire whistle was sounded.

Finally, the songsters and the audience settled down to some solid entertainment in a large-sized building wandered in an open back door.

Unseen by the singers, but visible to the audience the dog wandered on stage behind the performers. As the audience here its collective breath in anticipation of the worse, the dog (apparently a music lover) snuggled over to a young man on the end of the line and affectionately licked his hand.

"You can imagine the look on the young man's face when he glanced down and saw a bulldog had joined the group," recalled Mr. Cause.

The Northville Mothers club is sponsoring tonight's appearance of the Glee club. Keep the doors shut, girls.

Our congratulations to Athletic Director Al Jones for a well-run district basketball tournament.
It was the biggest ever staged locally and netted $500 for the high school after all expenses. Some 200 fans had seen the gym for the Mustang-South Lyon encounter.

Altogether 2,000 fans attended the Friday night double-header.

Wixom Approves Zoning Requests

Three emergency rezoning amendments, including one which would permit the construction of a proposed $100,000 development, were unanimously approved by Wixom's city council last Thursday night and will go into effect April 5. Specifically, the amendments permit:

—Rezoning of C&O railroad property except the north 200 feet, located at Wixom road and the C&O spur track, from light to heavy industry.

—Rezoning of the Ashley Brothers property, except the east 500 feet, located at the corner of Wixom and West roads, from light industry and single family to heavy industry.

—Rezoning of the Pure Oil property, 10 acres located between US-16 and Old Grand River on the west side of Wixom road, from local business and single family to general business.

Wixom's council also scheduled a public hearing prior to the council meeting April 11 prior to the April 11 8 p.m. council meeting to consider a request for rezoning the east 600 feet of the Ashley Brothers property from single family to light industry.

In other action, the council amended an ordinance concerning building permit fees for construction of new residential buildings.

The amended building permit fee ordinance sets fees for construction costing under $100 at $2. Other fees under the new schedule are construction costing between $100 and $1,000 at $10, over $1,000 at $15, over $1,000 at $20, over $1,000 at $25, over $1,000 at $30, over $1,000 at $35, over $1,000 at $40, over $1,000 at $45, over $1,000 at $50, over $1,000 at $55, over $1,000 at $60, over $1,000 at $65, over $1,000 at $70, over $1,000 at $75, over $1,000 at $80, over $1,000 at $85, over $1,000 at $90, over $1,000 at $95, over $1,000 at $100.

School Loan Bids Due Next Week

The Novi Board of Education is lagging behind. "We have received only 70 percent of the amount due us so far," he said, "but our expenses are still 100 percent."

The next state aid payment is not due until the end of August, he added.

Bids for the one-year tax anticipation notes at rates not exceeding four percent per year will be taken up to 7:45 p.m. March 27. The board of education has called a special meeting for that same evening to "open bids."

In other action involving finance, the board paid $89,861 in tuition bills and approved transferring of $5,100 from the retirement fund to savings deposit receipts for better interest rates.

Transferred to the savings deposit receipts at 3 1/2 percent interest figured daily were $10,000 from the 1953 debt retirement fund; $24,310 from the 1957 fund; and $12,265 from the 1958 fund.

Culbert said part of the debt retirement payments were due in May and the rest next fall. Tuition bills paid by the board included one from Northville for $88,572.92 and one from the Walled Lake for $12,285. The former bill is for 251 Novi students attending Northville High School; the latter, for six students attending Walled Lake High School.

Fire Hits Barn

Three fire departments were called to 11 Mile road, Novi, last Wednesday as flames engulfed a barn there. Firemen from Novi, Northville and Walled Lake tried in vain for four hours to save the burning barn.

The barn, owned by Mrs. Joseph Marchetti, 12111 Walled Lake drive, Novi, was destroyed by fire.

Tourist Complex Construction Slated for '63

Construction of the proposed new tourist complex in Wixom is tentatively slated to get underway early in May, Pure Oil company officials said this week.

The announcement followed the City Council's unanimous decision to rezone the complex site at a public hearing on March 8.

Two other requests for zoning changes heard at the public meeting were subsequently approved at a council meeting last Thursday evening.

According to Pure Oil, which sought and received rezoning approval at a council meeting between US-16 and Old Grand River on the west side of Wixom road, from B-1 and R-3 to B-2 and R-2.

Business is conducted at the restaurant and the service station — as well as the future motel — will be built of concrete, brick and wood. "We hope to complete it before the end of summer," said

See New School on 4 Mill Hike

Novi's board of education discovered last week that the proposed secondary school could be constructed with an increased tax of 4 mills instead of 5 1/2 mills.

Old Bond Retirement To Cut Present Rate

The discovery came when Superintendent of Schools Tom Culbert reported that there are now sufficient funds in the debt retirement fund to complete payments on the bonds issued to build the 1955 addition to the Novi school.

With this $40,000 in hand, the board will no longer need to levy a 1 1/2 mill tax for the 1955 bond issue, Culbert said. Therefore, he continued, an actual increase in the millage rate of 4 mills should be sufficient to meet the payments of principal and interest on $385,000 worth of bonds for the new school.

State law provides that the board of education of a fourth class school district must obtain approval from the majority of the school electors before school bond issues are approved. Approval of the proposal to establish a high school would immediately have to institute a high school program, Culbert stressed.

Culbert noted that the Novi board of education unanimously approved a resolution calling for the development of a secondary school facility in two stages on October 10, 1962. Motivating the board's decision was a Northville school which is a secondary school facility in two stages on October 10, 1962.

Village Council OK's 'Mutual Publicizing'

The Novi Village council decided Monday night to join a Rotary club effort for "mutual publicizing" of local clubs and to compete the village to take over the system at the end of a five-year period. Instead, the agreement only gives the village the option of taking over after five years or when 750 houses have been built.

Culbert stressed that even though 25-year bonds would be issued, the new 5 1/2 mill tax would not necessarily be levied for 25 years. As the state equalized property value increases, the tax levied may decrease, he pointed out.

Approved warrant 122 for payroll and miscellaneous bills and the treasurer's report for February.

Set up a meeting with state board of health officials to discuss the LeBost water deal.

President Joseph Crupi noted that the Rotary club's suggestion that all Novi clubs get together to discuss "mutual publicizing" might well be the "start of something like a coordinating council."

Novi's Rotary club recently sent letters to all village organizations, requesting that a meeting be held at the Novi Orchard Hills school to answer questions about the school. The meeting was held on March 17 at 8:15 p.m. in the Orchard Hills school to answer questions about the school.
