By H. J. WILSON, Manager ACCESS CODE "1" STARTS APRIL 7 FOR LONG DISTANCE DIALING

To prevent accidental misdialing of long distance calls, customers in Northville and Novi served by the Fieldbrook '(34) 'exchange will begin dialing the numeral "1" to be connected with the long distance dialing network starting at 12:01 a.m. April 7.

Without such a safeguard, customers intending to dial a local call sometimes dial a long distance number unknowing-.ly, find they have reached a wrong number, and then are perplexed when a long distance charge shows up on their bill.

After dialing "1", customers will dial the distant phone number exactly as they presently do. Local calls, however, will continue to be made as they are now, just by dialing the telephone number. Page 2 of the new directory (April, 1963) will explain the new procedure.

HOW MANY HATS does your telephone wear? As many as you desire! Your telephone helps you to arrange things, buy things, ask things, discuss things... and to do many other jobs in the course of a lifetime. It's hard to imagine what life would be like without a telephone. And it's still one of the biggest bargains in your family budget. Use it often.

> > SPECIAL ASSESSMENT

Most of you know the stand I have taken on this controversial issue of Special Assessment I did not grab the stand out of the clear blue sky, but rather followed the stand handed down by our former leaders. In my opinion, there has always been a lot of merit by a precedent that has been followed for years.

This stand was olso re-iterated by our late Mayor "Claude Ely" and his then Commissioners, Allen, Stubenvoll, Welch and

The reason for this re-iteration was on account of the deeloping of some new subdivisions within our midst and the problems they might create.

I might add that all of us Village fathers did everything we could for the development of the subdivisions in order that people could have a better place in which to live.

We, on the unpaved streets, and some have lived on these streets for a ilfe time, do not expect to have them paved over As a matter of fact we realize they should be taken care of in order of their importance and cost of upkeep to the City. I pledge to you we can pave these streets without any increase to our present tax roll. Yes, as Special Assessment stands today, I am definitely

THE MASTER PLAN In my opinion, a committee composed of and elected by the Retail Merchants Association should discuss this plan with the Mayor, and their recommendations submitted to the Council for whatever action that may be taken. As a whole, it makes very little difference to the average individual which way he comes into or goes out of town, but it may to some stranger.

Our Mayor, as head of the Council, should have acted faster in determining what advantage or disadvantage our last big police drive was to our City. Also, what effort did he make to keep our hospital.

SPEAKING for The Record

Two years ago a determined group of Novi citizens realized a long-held ambition. Novi opened its own library

Most of the books, even the building, were acquired through contributions. And since its opening, it has managed to exist on contributions of time, money, books, The township government provides the building, fuel oil, electricity and janitorial service. Monday night, the village council pledged $500 of its funds to help the library

Other expenses — without buying new books — add up to about $200 per month. "Friends of the Library", a group of citizens who have contributed at least one dollar to the library, make possible the payment of these expenses.

But there are those who fear that Novi may lose its library if a new source of revenue is not found. It's becoming more popular so far as book circulation is concerned, but keeping its head above the troubled financial waters is another matter.

April 1. Novi township voters will be asked to approve a one-half mill levy for support of the library. This could give the library up to $8,000 annually.

Library Board Chairman Dirk Groenenberg is hopeful that voters will approve - and Novi may even buy new books and magazines for its library. He fears that if the proposal fails, the battle to remain Millage requests are always unpopular - and Novi voters have several such measures to consider April 1 (two

But fifty cents per $1,000 of valuation, or about $3 annually for the average Novi taxpayer, seems like a small price to pay for the right to say, "we have a library in Novi". Even for those who don't use it.

Attorney Cliff Hill is a mighty cagey fellow.

As some readers may know, he's one of the owners of Travel Plans, Inc. And he's afraid there are some people who don't realize that they can have their entire tray itinerary planned and tickets delivered right here at his N. Center street agency with absolutely no additional charge. "I'm not sure that people read our ads, but I know they read your column," he stated in his most convincing court room manner. In short, he was asking me for a "plug" for his service. Well, you can't get around me that way, Hill. That's an out-and-out advertisement and unfit for publication in any self-respecting editor's column. Besides that, I know very well that subscribers read the ads. It's my column I'm worried about.

Seriously, our community is fortunate to have a service available like Travel Plans. It's one more convenience to help make our shopping center more complete.

And while on the subject of business, we should add few more "plugs" - to the Old Mill restaurant for its emodeling; Ely's Lawn and Garden Center for its modernzation currently underway; Tewksbury Jewelers, now remodeling; Northville Restaurant, interior decorating; Cottage Restaurant, new owners and new look; E-Jay Lumber Mart for its new building now underway; D & C Stores, planning to move into the present E-Jay building after extensive expansion and remodeling. And with a new recreation building nearly complete, a city hall and library on the drawing boards and a new post office a good possibility - who can say that Northville is not marching forward?
