News Around Northville

Visiting in Howell last week were the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Keyes of 142 Randolph.

Nineteen-year-old Pamela and ten-year-old Karon spent the week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Garret, returning home to Northville Sunday.

Based at home for the summer, instead of at their Lake Charlevoix place, the Carl Stephens family will have a summer project.

These warm evenings, the whole family can be seen out in back of their Norton street residence building a summer house.

The High Babbits, Robert Street, will have visitors until the latter part of August. Their daughter, Mrs. Robert Reynolds and grandchildren, Eric and Maria, arrived last week from Sacramento, California.

Attending the Methodist School of Missions on the campus of Albion college July 8-12 were four Northville women. They were Mrs. William Cusfield, Miss Elizabeth Eitz of Mrs. Fred Hicks, Jr., and Mrs. Mable Conley, who was the nurse on campus. The school, which was sponsored by the Detroit Conference of the Women's Society of Christian Service, was held to 388 ladies.

There will be a picnic for area residents interested in butterflies at the home of Mrs. Joseph Feldkamp, 7322 Pontiac Trail, South Lyon. Families are invited to the July 29 dinner which will begin at 6 p.m. Those wishing to attend should bring a passing dish and their own service.

Miss Sonia Ann Clark, a 10th grader at Northville high school, received an award for meritorious participation in the 11th annual Eastern Michigan University summer session for high school musicians. A participant in piano and choir, Sonia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clark of 2150 East Seven Mile road, Eze.

Mrs. Robert Eitz and daughter, Dorothy, returned to their home in Boston, Massachusetts, Friday after a two-week visit with Mrs. Eitz' sister-in-law, Miss Elizabeth Eitz of South Rogers street.

Miss Eitz was then called to Texas Saturday following the death of her brother, H. C. Eitz.

Screening Dates Set For Kindergarten

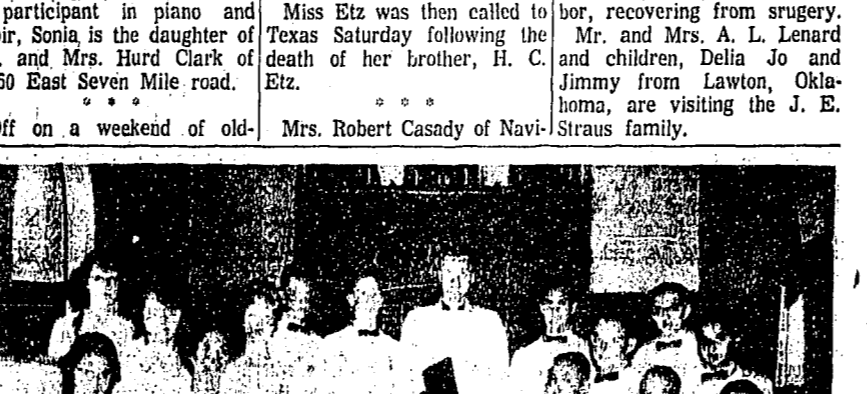

The Northville kindergarten screening program will be held August 19 through 23 at the main street school for children intending to enter school in September. Dr. Kenneth MacLeod, assistant superintendent of schools, announced this week.

Prospective kindergartners will be screened 8:30-11:30 a.m.

Children who have not participated in the program, MacLeod added, will not be admitted in September.

Parents planning to enter children in the program must send a written request to the superintendent of schools by August 1. Dr. MacLeod said. If for some reason a child is unable to attend, the parents should contact the school, Dr. MacLeod noted.

Parents should not plan to have children of this age group enter kindergarten in September. Dr. MacLeod added.

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

SHAD BROOK NEWCOMERS - The first family in the new subdivision was Mr. and Mrs. Norman Faustyn and (l. to r.) Julie, Brian, Lynn and Jane.

By simply moving from Dearborn Heights to Northville, the Norman Faustyns and construction equipment to the new Shad Brook subdivision.

The right house in the perfect spot for Mr. and Mrs. Faustyn was the one at 46000 Fickford court.

In need of a larger home for a growing family, the two natives of the east side of Detroit began their search for a new place to live some two years ago.

"When we found Northville with its rolling hills, picture-seek country side and small town atmosphere, we decided to settle here," said Mrs. Faustyn.

The four children seem especially happy with their new home. Not only is it big enough to romp through, there's plenty of activity outside to excite a child's imagination.

For instance, Lynn, 8, Julie, 6, Jane, 4, and Brian, 2, recently had an episode to remember. Cows and horses from a neighboring farm escaped from a pasture and wandered into the area.

And, of course, there's the often travels to NASCOP and construction equipment to the new Shad Brook subdivision.

While the children are playing, Mrs. Faustyn can usually be found in the kitchen. "I love to cook. There's nothing I like to do better," she says.

Mr. Faustyn, who is a section supervisor at Ford Motor company, is head of a department that engineers the 427 stock car engine. He will enter Our Lady of Mercy high school.

Here's Cake That Never Fails You!

A Reed Court lady has what every chef from San Francisco to gay Paris dreams of: a cake recipe that's never failed. This master cake recipe has been tested for 31 years by Mrs. Thomas J. Flynn and before that, by her mother and her grandmother.

Only difference between the generations is that Mrs. Flynn can reel off the measurements for the cake. "Both my grandmother and mother weighed it up using a pinch of this, another, pinch of that," she says.

"I, too, learned that way," she reports. "One day, out of curiosity, I measured my ingredients and have been ever since then."

Mrs. Flynn changes her master cake from day to day and year to year by dreaming up frostings and fillings.

"You can't be surprised how many different party cakes you can make from one recipe."

Come a special occasion, Mrs. Flynn may, however, temporarily abandon her master cake in favor of banana nut bread. She suggests the ingredients, adding cherries or dates and nuts "for variety."

Mrs. Flynn's master cake recipe, two variations of it and her banana nut bread recipe:

MASTER BUTTER CAKE

1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 1/2 cup milk
1 tsp. vanilla
2 cups cake flour
1/4 tsp. salt
5 tsp. baking powder

Cream shortening, add sugar and beating. Creaming until very fluffy. Add eggs, beat until light.

Sift flour, measure, add salt and baking powder. Beat into creamed mixture. Beat 2 minutes.

Pre-heat oven to 375 degrees. Bake in 1 1/2 hour.

CHOCOLATE LAYER CAKE

Bake master cake in 12 inch round cake pan. Pour 2 cups of chocolate frosting on top.

1 cup brown sugar
1 cup granulated sugar
1 square unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup vanilla
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup shortening

COCONUT LAYER CAKE

Bake master cake in 12 inch round cake pan. Pour 2 cups of coconut frosting on top.

1 1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1/2 cup light cream
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 tsp. vanilla

BANANA NUT BREAD

3/4 cup butter
3 cups flour
1/2 tsp. salt
4 eggs
4 bananas
1/2 cup nut meat
1/4 tsp. soda
1/2 cups sugar
1/2 tsp. vanilla

Cream butter, add sugar. Beat in eggs one at a time. Add salt, mash bananas. Add soda in bananas, nut meat, flour. Add to butter mixture. Pour in oil, pour in nut meat. Bake in 300 degree oven for 60 to 70 minutes.

Young Artists Stage Exhibit at Hartley's

GETTING PRACTICE - Rose Budek, Northville high school senior, is shown sketching Main street buildings. Her work will be exhibited at the Hartley-Powers Gallery starting Sunday.

Art Around Us
By Jessie Hudson

Summer is an exciting time for artists. It means that regional art exhibits and local art club shows, Mrs. Catherine Hartley has been invited to display the blue laminated paper collage which was shown at the Michigan Academy art show in Kalamazoo this spring.

"Traffic will be diverted around the area and the streets filled with canvas booties, where artists will be displaying their wares and in many booths demonstrating how they did it."

Three hundred artists have registered for space this year and many more are expected.

Bake master cake in 12 inch round cake pan. Pour 2 cups of chocolate frosting on top.

Art on Display

Local artists Linda Kate and Mrs. Kate Edgerton, Catherine and Harold Hartley, Jr. and Gloria Parres will be among the three hundred artists who will exhibit their wares at the Ann Arbor Street Art fair this week.

Sponsored by the University of Michigan, the Ann Arbor Art Association, the Chamber of Commerce and the So. University Businessmen's Club, the fair will run from Wednesday July 17 through Saturday, July 20.

Because she was so impressed by the quality of the work she saw at the high school art shows held in Northville and Plymouth, Mrs. Harold Hartley invited the seniors to plan an exhibit at her Hartley-Powers Gallery in Northville.

The exhibit starts Sunday and will remain two weeks.

The gifted young artists who will participate are Cheryl Kolak, Millie Smith, Carolyn Conkins, Rose Budek and Anna Martin all of Northville and Doug S. James, Diane Mackie, Linda Wall, Pat Bridge, Sharon Heide, Marjorie Livingston, Sue Miller and David Schmidt, all of Plymouth.

They will have drawings, oils, watercolors, ceramics, jewelry and mosaics on display - some of which will be for sale. The artists are planning to spend some time during the two week period of the exhibit drawing local buildings - the spot, in felt-pen, ink or pencil.

An open house is planned this Sunday from 2-8 p.m. but a circus will be seen any time from then on until August 3 during regular gallery hours which are noon to six weekdays, noon to nine on Friday and nine to six on Saturday.

In Class D Peterson, Swiss Hurl Plumbers to Twin Wins

The Northville Plumbers rode the arms of Eric Peterson and Tom Swiss to two class D 18-and-under league victories last week.

Peterson pitched a near perfect game in a 7-1 win over the Wayne Cubs, facing only 24 batters, three over the minimum.

The Ely Oilers flexed their muscles as they swamped the Catherine Braves 13-2, then came out on the short end of an identical score against the Finlay team.

Together they struck out 13 and permitted only two hits. Dave Jerome supplied the hitting punch with a three-run home and two singles in four trips to the plate.

Class E
The Northville Plumbers of the class E 15-and-under league posted two wins and four losses in two days of play, July 10 and Monday.

Class F
Northville's three entries in class F 12-and-under league recorded two wins and four losses in two days of play, July 10 and Monday.

Zoo, Olympics, Tigers Next on Rec Schedule

A trip to the Detroit zoo, a ball throw, 50-yard dash, standing broad jump, standing hop, next week's special events in the Northville Recreation program.

There will be a Junior Olympics qualifying meet Saturday at Ford Field, Director Ken Conley announced this week.

Conley also announced the second zoo trip will take place next Wednesday.

Those intending to take the trip will meet at 9 a.m. at the American school or at the Scout-Recreation building. Participants should bring a lunch.

Buses will leave the Community building at 11:30 a.m. and return approximately one and one-half hours after the end of the game.

Only those who have made reservations at the recreation office will be able to take the trip, Conley said.

Local Youths to Take 150-Mile Pony Ride

Twenty-one youths from five states and Canada are setting out today on one of the first drawn up by Northville's George Whitefield, and there's plenty of stop-off points.

It's called the Pony of the Americas Trail Ride.

The 150-mile journey by ponyback from Charlotte to the State Fair grounds in Detroit will take eight days.

Not far behind will be other members of the Whitefield family, namely, Becky, 9, and Linda, 11. They'll be riding their favorite ponies.

Northville is also represented by the Dan Clarke family. Young Dan Clarke, 14, will be riding the exciting new stop "Tomahawk Dan" his pony, while his father helps prepare things at the fairgrounds.

That's where the ride will culminate in the fifth International Pony of the Americas club show July 28 and 27. At that time, nearly 200 young people will compete for various honors on their ponies.

The international show chairman, Mrs. Whitefield, expects this to be the best one yet. "We've been working hard to get things prepared," she said. "At this time, it looks like it will be a good show."

Michigan Bell Proposes Extended Area Plan

Greatly expanded calling privileges into Detroit would become available to telephone customers in Northville-Novato and other western Wayne and Oakland County communities under a plan proposed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

At the time of the hearing, SEAS was offered as a non-optional service, but under the present proposal customers would have a choice of subscribing for SEAS or retaining their present service, Wilson explained.

The monthly rate for SEAS for private line flat rate residence customers with Fieldbrook (31) telephones would be $9.10. The monthly rate for on-party business customers with flat rate service would be $22.80.

Northwestern Michigan: Bays of Beauty for Travel

Whether seen through the glow of a campfire from a boat drifting down a swift and winding river or from along its thousands of miles of good roads, the Bays are one of the musts of any vacation.

Mellowed through a hundred million years, this wedge-shaped area is bordered on the southwest by M-115, on the east by I-75 and on the north by the beautiful waters of Lake Michigan.

A side trip taken by thousands of guests to the western Michigan is to Inter-lake and the National Arts camp and National Arts academy. Here the virgin pines resound with the music of falconed youth.

Northwestern Michigan begins where M-115 and I-75 coverage at Claire. It is here that a traveler first gets the feel of the north.

Heading north off M-115, M-66 skirts Lake Missaukee, the first of the large northern lakes. It then winds northward through the plains area to Kalkaska. Now famous for its National Trout Festival each year, Kalkaska was a lumbering town which refused to die.

About 20 miles west of M-66, another smooth ribbon of pavement, US131, cuts into the lumbering country and leads to the junction of two lakes (Mitchell and Cadillac).

Recently improved, M-37, another northward road, leads to Traverse City, the cherry capital of the world.

M-37 goes on through the National Trout Festival each year, Kalkaska was a lumbering town which refused to die.

The famous Sleeping Bear Dunes area in Leelanau county is one of the true wonders of the world. From atop this giant dune one can view the most beautiful area of the world.

From the same vantage point can be seen the moody water of Lake Michigan and the Manitowish islands in the background.

Antrim county is famous for its "Chain-Lakes" reached on US-31. Here cruises are provided to take guests on a tour of a truly wilderness country.

Charlevoix county, with its 35 lakes and scores of streams, is a fisherman's midway. Even the Genesee Lake on Beaver Island is a favorite spot for anglers.

A picturesque car ferry runs across the slim south end of Lake Charlevoix at Arton, connecting M-66 and US-31 with Charlevoix, U.S.

Avoid Serious Eye Damage in Viewing Saturday Afternoon Eclipse of Sun

If the weather permits, residents will be treated to one of the most important contributions to Michigan history. Besides these ancient stones, a student of minerals will find scores of fossils in the northwestern Michigan area.

"But don't do it," warned Albert E. Heustis, who said that rays from the sun can cause permanent eye damage unless special caution is used in viewing the eclipse.

"These rays can literally burn a hole in the retina much in the same manner that sunburns a special caution to avoid damage to the eye would not be felt while looking at the sun because the infra-red rays burn into the retina which is insensitive to pain. It is only after the damage has been done that a person would realize that the ability to distinguish small objects is lost - often for good. Such close-up activities as sewing and reading would be extremely difficult following a retina burn.

There are a few ways to safely enjoy the event according to Dr. Heustis. Some are fairly complicated, but the simplest method is to observe the reflection of the eclipse in swimming pool, plastic wading pool, or old fashioned water tub, provided that there is at least 12 inches of water to absorb the dangerous infra-red rays. Smoked glass will be handy for viewing the reflection to reduce uncomfortable brightness.

"The eclipse will last just two hours and 17 minutes from beginning to end," the Commissioner said, "but part of your sight could be ruined forever if you are not careful."

Ghost of Dixboro Mystery Woman Returns to Speak

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of six articles dealing with the once famous ghost of Dixboro. The articles are taken from a historical research paper authored by Russell E. Bidlack of the University of Michigan, and it comes to us through the courtesy of Mr. Bidlack and his friend, Clare Horabach of Whitmore Lake, both members of the Washtenaw County Historical Association.

Last week, readers were told of a carpenter and his family who moved into the Dixboro home of the late Martha Mulholland, who had died in the summer of 1935. The carpenter, Isaac Van Woert, in a sworn statement before an Ann Arbor justice of peace, told of seeing a woman in the house, who walked into a bedroom and disappeared.

Van Woert's sworn statement, which appeared in an Ann Arbor newspaper on February 12, 1946, continues: "The second time I saw her was in October about one o'clock in the morning. I got up, started to go to the back door as I opened the bedroom door it was light in the outer room. I saw no candle, but I saw the same woman standing in the bedroom. The room was again light as before, no candle was visible. I looked at my wife, fearing she might awake. She then raised her head and said, 'She will not awake.' She seemed to be in great pain; she leaned over and grasped her bows in one hand and in the other held a pillow containing a liquid. I asked her what it was."

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By the Rev. James F. Andrews, Full Salvation Union Chapel

Your only salvation: In the 7th chapter of Romans God reveals that our only salvation from the law of sin and death is through the literal manifestation of the Body of Christ.

It has been possible through the Holy Ghost dispensation to serve the law of God with our minds to purpose to do the right thing, "to strive to enter in," but it has not been possible to be actually delivered from the "body of this death." How often it has been the experience of Christian people that after they have delighted in the law of God after the inner man for a season through the power of the Holy Ghost, they have been made painfully aware of the fact that there was another law in their members, waiting against the law of their mind to bring them into captivity to the law of sin.

How refreshing it is at this late hour when the "times of the fullness of the Gentiles" are being fulfilled (Rom. 11:25), to know that we are "become dead to the law of sin by the Body of Christ," that we should be married to another.

It is the Kingdom of God which is being set up in answer to the prayer Jesus prayed so long ago —

"That they all may be one, as Thou, Father, art in me, and I in Thee, that they may be made one in us, that the world may believe."

Just as the physical body of Jesus Christ was under the control of the mind of God — thus constituting the Kingdom of God in the earth at that time, so every member of the many-membered Body of Christ must be under control of God's mind to be the Kingdom of God in the earth today.

This is the birth which is taking place now! As it is consummated, the prayer which Jesus taught His disciples to pray and which we must have, even so today there is no salvation anywhere outside the Body of Christ. It is not a matter of simply believing in an historical character who lived and died over 1900 years ago, but a matter of actually giving up to God without a mental reservation that you may be made one with others in the many-membered Body of Christ which is being born today "out of the will of the man of the will of the flesh but of God."

There is no other way to be saved. All who try to climb up some other way are thieves and robbers.

TAKE A BREAK... I HAVE TO GO "FISHING"!

This well driller is going fishing, but not for fun!

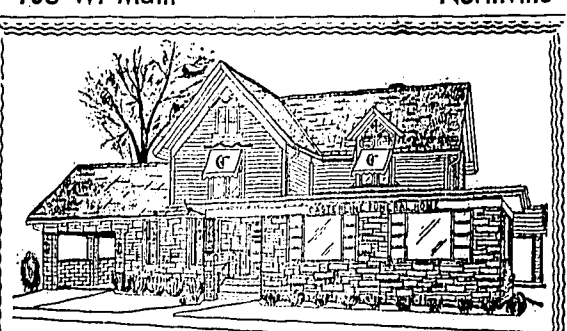

To the man who drill gas wells, fishing is not a pleasant pastime — it's a painstaking, tedious job. It means that the well driller has to take his large, heavy, cumbersome tackle (hooks and line) and fish out drilling tools that have become stuck or broken off deep in the earth.

Consumers Power Company, too, has an important and expensive task — that of providing its customers with a dependable supply of natural gas during the cold winter months. To assure a sufficient reserve supply, it has underground storage fields near Ann Arbor, Michigan and elsewhere. Natural gas is put back in the earth under a pressure of hundreds of pounds per square inch and withdrawn as needed when gas consumption is highest.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Today through Sunday some 18,000 Michigan Legionnaires, auxiliary members and friends will convene at the Veterans' Memorial Building at the Civic Center in Detroit for the annual convention of the American Legion.

Like all conventions, there will be serious business to consider and there will be fun.

Part of the fun will be a three-hour parade down Woodward Saturday afternoon.

One of the most serious considerations will be the election of new officers, an event saved as the climax to the convention on Sunday.

There are two announced candidates for Michigan commander of the American Legion.

One is Northville's C. Oscar Hammond.

I'm not acquainted with his opponent. But he's in for a battle. Oscar's the "quiet" kind who goes about his business with little fanfare, but with complete thoroughness.

Oscar decided about a year ago that he would seek the state's highest Legion position. He had lots of encouragement from his fellow Legionnaires at the local Lloyd H. Green post.

He didn't wait for outside support. He went out and sought it.

Oscar has visited Legion posts throughout the entire state—upper and lower peninsula. If a testimonial dinner was being held in Jackson or Traverse City, you'd find Oscar there.

He's journeyed some 10,000 miles just to say, "I'm Oscar Hammond from Northville."

He doesn't have to say much more than that. Oscar's record can speak for him.

A veteran of World War I, Oscar joined the American Legion in June, 1920. He has served the Northville post as junior and senior vice commander, held the position of 17th district commander in 1952-53 and was third zone department vice commander in 1956-57.

He has served both state and national levels as a member of the National Security Committee and is presently a judge advocate for the 17th district. For the past three years he has been captain of the district ritual team and also serves as chairman of the board of directors of the post home corporation.

The state commandship of the American Legion would be a great honor for Oscar and a fitting climax for his many years of devotion to Legion affairs.

It would also be an honor for the entire community of Northville. The Legion, too, would stand tall with a man of this caliber at its head.

I have no inside information. But when all the ballots are counted Sunday night and the new commander stands to accept his honors and introduces himself to the convention, I'll bet he simply says, "I'm Oscar Hammond from Northville."

It's Not Easy to Sell Income Tax

Sale of an income tax to the people of Michigan in any state and shape is still very much in doubt.

Of Governor George Romney's eight alternative tax programs only one spells out fiscal reform without an income tax on individuals.

The governor's travels about the state trying to find buyers for one of his several plans, Romney said most people supported an income tax as replacement for other levies.

The greatest majority of those attending the governor's meetings, however, have been businessmen who theoretically, and perhaps actually, would stand to gain much from the various reforms proposed.

Most of the governor's plans call for repeal of the business activities tax, a major objection from businessmen since it was enacted.

Heaviest support voiced for the governor's plans at the various meetings was centered on the idea that any personal income tax enacted should be a flat rate levy as opposed to a graduated one similar to the federal income tax.

Treat Youth to Trip

Babson Park, Mass. — Last fall in these pages I discussed the bargains available in foreign travel, and I pointed out that the cost of touring was still on the way down while the cost of practically everything else was on the way up. This trend still continues.

The reason is, in large part, the bitter competition not only between the air lines and the shipping companies, but also among the various ambitious concerns within those two categories.

Final figures for 1962 show that Americans shelled out close to $2.5 billion for foreign travel during that year, an impressive gain of 10% after the temporary leveling effect of the preliminary figures for the first part of 1963 indicate that the curiosity of Americans to visit foreign countries is still growing.

The travel now pay-later psychology is leading many lower-income Americans who previously never have dreamed of traveling abroad a few years ago — to give themselves a royal treat and their grandchildren treat trips abroad. They will make wonderful new friends whom they never would know otherwise, and will become far more aware of the differences — and the similarities — among the various peoples of this country. Visits to neighboring Canada and Mexico are steady on the increase, but I am more interested at the moment in the tendency of Americans to go farther afield, to cross the open seas for new experiences.

The most popular parts of the world for travelers right now are the European and Mediterranean countries. During 1961 about 299,000 Americans visited these areas, while last year the total zoomed to 353,600. There was a some-

Democrat claim this is a natural inclination of the wealthy businessman. A flat rate income tax would, not cut as deeply into the pocketbook of the rich man as the burden of the lower wage earner, they contend.

Legislators who will be called upon to make decisions on fiscal reform this fall say it will be no easy task. Romney's meetings have drawn some support for one or another of his plans, but the voices from the grass roots are yet to be heard.

It will take a real selling job to convince the general public that the income tax is an equitable and necessary part of fiscal reform which will benefit the state.

Community leaders throughout the state are now boning up on a law enacted by the 1962 Legislature which places the burden of mental health services on them.

The community mental health services act was enacted on the recommendation of a Senate study committee which considered it for two years.

Under the new law communities can get state funds for offering services in mental health such as emergency hospitals, night hospitals, day care, and cooperative services with courts or schools.

Support for the community program came from many corners during the session.

The trend being started by programs for community mental health was described to the Legislature by Dr. Robert F. Kelly, director of the National Institute of Mental Health. "I have no doubt that, if communities assume the role that they and only they can play in building strong mental health programs, mental hospitals as we know them today will have ceased to exist within 25 years," he said.

Several state's have already taken the step which Michigan is taking now. New York, California and Minnesota are among the larger states with such programs.

Statistics in these states show reductions in state mental hospital populations, decreases in hospital admissions and waiting lists, and other favorable changes in problems which have plagued Michigan for many years.

Passages of the community health law represented a change in dealing with the mental health problem. Most spokesmen who testified before legislative committees on the proposal said if this measure were enacted, the Legislature's only alternative would keep you posted.

Telephone Lines

By H. J. WILSON, Manager

IT'S NEVER TOO EARLY to telephone lines. The telephone is convenient to you. That's why it's such a good idea to teach your children how to use the telephone correctly—especially for emergencies. A child can easily learn how to dial the Operator—and, if need be, ask the Operator to call the police or fire department. When children understand what a phone is for and how to use it, they're less apt to regard it as a toy, or "play games" that could interfere with calls from people trying to reach you.

CAREFREE TRIPS are at your fingertips this summer . . . when you remember to phone ahead. It's really amazing how many summer-fun problems the phone can solve for you. And how many ways the phone can add to your fun! Like making sure your reservations, on a two-week trip. Or inviting a friend to join you for a swim on a warm Saturday afternoon. And when you're on the move, Michigan Bell has 45,000 public phones to serve you. You'll find them alongside highways, near the beach, in stores and office buildings.

COST CONSCIOUS? Costs are on everybody's mind these days. And that goes for your telephone company, too. For example, Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, recently developed a new method of making the familiar "plungers" for the handset cradle on telephones. The new method costs nearly two cents from the cost of manufacturing each phone—an aggregate saving of over $100,000 a year. Cost reduction is an everyday part of our job, helping us provide you with telephone service that is high in value, low in cost.

Here's What Our Camera Saw During Saturday Eclipse

Supervisor Bachert Defends Reappraisal

Novi township board members signed on the dotted line Saturday, making township reappraisal official. The action brought sharp criticism from some quarters in Novi.

In formalizing the re-assessment contract with Lehman and Ship Supervisor Hadley Bachert explained that reappraisal is "the only way of arriving at equity in taxes."

After pointing out that no major assessment of property values has previously been undertaken in the township's lifetime — some 150 years, Bachert said the township board has been mulling over re-assessment since last January.

"Our discussion was sparked by mortgage companies," he said. "They like to know what value we attach to property, what value to property. We've never before made any separation between land and buildings nor have we had a description of buildings in the township."

Not to be continued, are all properties assessed at 100 percent of their cash value. "Some are overvalued, some are undervalued," he said.

Supervisor Bachert said it's possible that some township properties may be overvalued as much as $1,000, thereby adding anywhere from $20 to $51 "unfair tax dollars."

Bringing in a qualified crew to do the appraising seemed the "only scientific" way of correcting the tax rolls, he said.

The need outlined, the board contracted the village council to see if the village would care to go halves in a reappraisal.

Council members declined, noting they preferred using the present method of having the administrative assistants do the building inspection work.

Doing the job piecemeal, he said, would be finished with the updating in four or five years.

The township, meanwhile, had been searching for a crew of assessors to do its land in one fell swoop. They were found in Lehman Bower, former township assessor, and the job.

With his crew, Bower expects to complete the reappraisal by January 31, 1964. Cost of the project will be between $7,200 and $7,800 with $2,000 to pay $1,500 immediately and $500 each month until completion.

Bower explained that the reappraisal will be based on the Michigan State Tax map as now required by state law.

He said that the first step is to draw up a land value map with the value of certain properties as determined by sales pinpointed on the map.

Then, he continued, we can begin comparing properties. "Primarily, value is based on location."

When it comes to buildings Bower explained, we'll first be classifying them according to the quality of construction as outlined in the manual: superior, good, average, poor.

"Then, again, we'll determine improvements and correlate with area sales to arrive at a final cash value."

School Board Finds It Must Take A Salary

Novi school board members will tote home $100 pay envelopes this year.

The decision to provide salaries for the five board members was made at a special meeting last week after discovery of a state law making salaries for the Novi board mandatory.

The $500 salary item was omitted from last year's budget by board approval and the $500 placed in student activities fund. With its return, this year's proposed $707.27 budget was thrown out of balance.

The law making the return of the salary item possible says that salaries cannot be increased nor decreased.

Area Hit by Tragedies Claiming Three Lives

Four tragedies, three resulting in death, hit the Northville-Novi area Monday and early Tuesday morning.

The accidents included a two-car collision, an overturned truck and car and a "freak" construction cave-in.

Dead are a Northville man, Emil Auerbach of 12120 E. Seven Mile road, and two Detroit men, Roy Parsons and David R. Wholihan.

Injured were three Detroit men, Ernest Blumer, Harry Levy and LeRoy Walker.

The first of the four tragedies occurred at 11:46 a.m. Monday when the Shad Brook subdivision trench in which Roy Parsons was laying sewer pipe collapsed. Parsons, 48, died at 2927 12th street, Detroit.

At the time of the accident, Parsons was working at Shad Brook's new development site just off West Seven Mile road by the John Northrup company.

An excavation crew had dug trench by 11:35. He was dug out of the 34-foot deep trench by the mutual hands. Some 6,700 fans carried $24,100 in the windows.

A pair of accidents occurred simultaneously as the area heavy rainstorm hit the area hospital. Lev is still in the hospital, but is reported in good condition.

The fourth accident took place early Tuesday morning on the westbound lane of I-96 Auerbach, 74, was killed in a two-car collision in front of his home.

Called to the scene at 1:50 a.m., state police found a Detroit man had been thrown out of the convertible which he was driving when it overturned.

David R. Wholihan of 22837 Memorial was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Mary hospital.

Police said it looked as though Wholihan had dropped off the left side of the expressway onto the south shoulder and when he tried to get back on the road, lost control of his vehicle.

Police said tire marks show the victim skidded on a truck carrying sod skidded and overturned on the south side of the sharp curve on Novi road entrance to the new Eight Mile cut.

Excavation Engineering company of Northville which employed Parsons, said the force of the sod had killed Parsons instantly.

After noting that two men working in different places in the trench at the time of the accident were unhurt, Booms termed the tragedy "a freak accident."
