

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Every now and then I write something about the threat of shopping centers to Northville's business district.

It serves to remind our merchants that times are changing, new people are moving to town and the ever-increasing population of our area will soon become an attractive plumb for some enterprising promoter to pluck off.

It's conceivable that he could pick out a spot somewhere between here and Plymouth, erect a handful of stores, pour a couple of acres of concrete for parking and start drawing in the customers.

The possibility should concern each of us, whether we are merchants or not.

Loss of local business is certain to lower commercial property values, which would result in reduced tax income from the business district. And government, unlike gravity, has a law that says if something goes down, something else must go up — like residential taxes, for instance.

Like I've said before, one group of individuals is concerned with this problem. They're our city planners.

He asked me last week what local businessmen thought about their plan for Northville's shopping center. He's been unable to determine any reaction and has decided that "if the approach is wrong, we ought to forget it."

I told him I thought that most businessmen and their landlords understand the value of a plan for the future (which is becoming more immediate) but they're like a man with a toothache. He knows he should go to the dentist, but he's afraid the cure will hurt worse.

In this case, "the cure" is money. Financial aspects of the proposed "central business district" plan can be frightening to one owning business property — just as frightening as the results of no planning.

But consideration of the plan costs nothing. Planners and businessmen should get together, probably in a series of meetings, and decide to adopt, amend or scuttle the central business district plan.

The Northville Area Development Corporation is about to stamp the word "complete" on its first project — the $135,000 expansion of Foundry Plank & Equipment company.

Construction of the addition is scheduled to begin this week. Sale of debentures under the direction of Nelson Schrader continues — and committee members are convinced it will be wrapped up quickly.

About $10,000 worth of debentures remain. For those with idle money it's an opportunity for a sound, six per cent investment. Read the advertisement elsewhere on this page for details.

Teacher Turnover Rate 10%

Lansing — Teacher turnover in Michigan runs about 10 per cent annually, according to a survey by the State Department of Public Instruction.

Superintendent Lynn M. Bartlett believes that most teachers who do not return to their jobs are those who hold the 1952-53 school year over to other school districts.

This was the first year the department compiled statistical data on the number of teachers who do not return to the same school system in a succeeding year.

The 10 per cent attrition represented 6,221 teachers.

The analysis of the survey showed 27.2 per cent went to other school districts, another 19.6 per cent retired, 9.4 per cent obtained other employment and 2 per cent died.

The other 25.7 per cent gave up their teaching posts for unknown or miscellaneous reasons, Bartlett said.

The extensive study also showed the number of fulltime teachers in Michigan reached an all-time high of 65,146 last year, and 43,897 females. Most of the men were in the secondary schools, with only 5,601 teaching at the elementary level. Men outnumbered women teachers, 15,648 to 11,952, in the secondary system last year.

The same unfortunate increase in accidents that is being recorded on the highways is taking place on Michigan's waterways, according to the State Police.

A provisional report through mid-September showed 215 persons drowned and 202 persons were injured in 474 accidents. This represented an increase of 13 deaths over last year. The injuries in the first nine months of the year were higher than the total number hurt in water accidents during all of 1952, however, the department said.

A new selling campaign is getting under way, similar to that intended in the planning of Michigan Week promotions.

The group conducting the effort is headed by A. R. Saunders, executive vice president of the Michigan Real Estate Association.

Known as the Michigan Minute-men, the new unit hopes to sell the state 365 days a year to attract new industries, tourists and permanent residents.

Working as executive secretaries or managers of 12 or more organizations representing civic, farm, labor, religious, professional and trade associations.

Each of the associations in turn will enlist members of the Minute-men, which derived its name from the volunteer unit trained before the Revolutionary War to "fight at a minute's notice."

Water accidents are not confined to summer activities, Children noted. Three of the victims were killed when they fell through ice.

Accidents also occurred when they fell from bridges, banks, docks or piers.

Planning for the annual Michigan Week has come to be nearly a year-round job for the organizers of the event.

This is as it was hoped when the annual brag week was initiated a decade ago.

While his personal habits were unattractive, he nevertheless possessed a superior intellect. Valued for his high school, graduated at the top of his college engineering class, he never smoked or drank.

But despite his brilliant mind, he disliked college and studied his profession mostly because he refused to become regimented.

It was this peculiarity of his which later led to a humorous but almost tragic experience some 12 years ago.

The incident took place at Fort Carson, Colorado — a better than average army post that sits in the shadow of Pike's Peak. Despite my military shortcomings, I had somehow managed to gain top brass favor and had landed a non-commissioned officer's job inside the post headquarters — just two doors down from the office of the commanding general.

He was a great deal of fun to be around, and I strode someone with what must have been a great deal of arrogance. Since I am nearly blind without my glasses, I guessed because of the silence that it must have been an important officer.

"Hello Hoffman, how's the old general?"

A face full of grenade fragments couldn't have surprised or shaken me more. Sweeping my glasses to my face I saw in horror my friend's smiling face beneath his usual stubble beard, lounging next to the disbelieving officers in his solid uniform, with only temporary interruptions.

"Ah, er, ah, hello," I muttered leaping from the chair and pushing him out the door in a single motion. "How... why... what are you doing here?" I gasped as I backed him into a doorway out of sight of the top brass.

His answer compounded my horror.

"Hitched-hiked out. I'm on my way to California. Thought I'd stop by and see you. Had a heck of a time getting past those guards at the door. Been looking all over for you. Tried every door — even dropped in on the general."

Hiding him in the latrine, I doubled-back to my office hoping to get permission from the commanding officer to take a few hours off.

The officer's voice met me at the door: "Sergeant Hoffman! Who in the... Never mind... He walked into the general's office. Is he still?"

Never mind... Get him out of the post... In the latrine. Did anybody?... Please, out the back way."

He wore a beautiful medal, even a Purple Heart, but on my honor that officer was nearly in tears as two suspicious characters tip-toed out the back door.

Two motorists suffered minor injuries this past week when their cars skidded out of control on Novi roads and tipped over.

Both cars were badly damaged.

Mrs. Jarekoff Kraus of Dearborn suffered head injuries and her husband, a passenger in the car, suffered leg bruises when her car skidded 15 feet along 10 Mile road early Saturday evening, plunged into the ditch and rolled over.

Both were treated at St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia.

According to Novi police, Mrs. Kraus claimed another motorist put her car into gear, forcing her to turn quickly thus causing her to lose control of the car.

No tickets were issued.

On Sunday morning, Lawrence P. Sharrard, 16, of New Hudson, suffered minor bruises when he lost control of his car while driving south on Napier between 11 Mile and 10 Mile roads.

The youth could give no real reason for his loss of control, but police noted that loose gravel on the roadway.

Other investigations made by Novi police this past week included:

—Arrest of three 19-year-old Hager Woods boys Sunday near the corner of Duane and Austin on charges of being minors in possession of alcoholic beverages.

Philip F. Gabriel, Eugene W. Macudinski, and Lucian W. Genova are to appear in court today on the charges.

—Burglary of tools Thursday from barn at 1817 Ten Mile road, owned by John Missina of Detroit. A padlock had been broken open, police said.

—Injury of Dennis MacDermaid, 9, of 4456 Stassen, who fell on the concrete while playing at Novi school, suffering a possible mild concussion.

—Arrest of two youths on charges of being disorderly persons near the corner of Novi road and South Lake drive. Both were released to their parents.

RECEIVES AWARD — George Simmons of Novi received special honors at the American Legion Boys' State Banquet in Northville Saturday for his continuous service over the years in behalf of the Boys' State program. ### Determined Novi Eleven Opens Grid Season Today

Short on manpower but long on determination, the Novi junior high griders will try to stretch their win streak over Northville to three today (Thursday) when the two teams clash on Ford field.

The game is scheduled to get underway at 4 p.m. Last year, Novi copied two victories from Northville, but now Novi will be working under a greater handicap. Only 20 hopefuls answered Coach John Osborne's call to practice.

Furthermore, Osborne said that he will be depending on "unruly" seventh graders to back up returning veterans.

There are six letter winners. They are Quarterback Gregg Carr, Halfback Bill MacDermaid, Ends-Doug Anglin and Lloyd Ruten, Tackle Tom Van Eoy and Center Dale Price.

Expected to fill out the Novi ranks on the basis of their performances in practice are Halfbacks Greg Krist and Ron Thompson, Guards Dave Gibson, Levon Tafraian and Joe Morrison, Tackles Bill Christensen and Lee Snow, Ends Jeff Adams and Jon Van Wagner.

On the other hand, Northville reportedly has 60 griders on its squad.

"We point toward this battle," Osborne said. "We expect to put up a pretty good fight win or lose."

That's what the team indicated last Thursday when scrimmaged Walled Lake junior high school. Although the squad from Walled Lake was made up largely of eighth graders, Novi made a respectable showing during the 20 minute contest.

The defense held its own, but the offense has yet to prove itself, noted Osborne.

"I'll be the same story again, Northville — reliance on the defense."

And since Novi won't be particularly big or fast, its forte will have to be defense.

Four other games are on tap for Novi this season.

Novi Citizens to Get Look at Master Plan

A village master plan, which has been under production, studied, revised and studied again during the past several years, will be unveiled in its entirety here later this month.

Planning board members agreed Monday night to present the master plan to the citizens of Novi at a public hearing Saturday, October 26, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

By holding the public hearing over a longer period of time, the board hopes more people will have an opportunity to inspect it and make their comments, suggestions and complaints known.

The master plan has been compiled for several months in a book prepared by Warren and Johnson, planning consultants. Copies of it and related maps will be on display at the public hearing.

Presumably, adoption or rejection of the plan will follow the hearing.

The master plan encompasses a wide area of study, projections and future planning. Among these are:

- General characteristics of Novi, including topography and surface features, land use, population, existing land use, and housing.
- Land use, including land use and population, residential, commercial and industrial.
- Thoroughfares and street layout.
- Schools including estimated future enrollment, family characteristics, school enrollment at capacity, elementary school needs, acquisition of school sites, etc.
- Parks, parkways and playgrounds, including need, long range plan, types, etc.
- Civic betterment, including village beautification, civic betterment commission, and scope of activity.
- Public facilities, including civic center, department of public safety, department of public works, parks, libraries and health agencies.
- Churches, including community function, potential population size and acquisition, etc.

While the master plan represents years of work, sections of it may be changed or revised — even if a public hearing and subsequent approval. This section will be included in this month's hearing only because it is part of the overall master plan.

Its physical plan, as stated in the book's introduction, is geared to form the best pattern for living, work and play, aiming at the "most efficient arrangement of space, land use and services, so that costs in money, time, and movements are held to a minimum so that values and assets can be conserved."

Actually, one section of the master plan — that dealing with thoroughfare planning — has already been aimed at a public hearing and subsequently approved. Thus, this section will be included in this month's hearing only because it is part of the overall master plan.

Water Line Speedup Seen

Predict Completion To Center This Year

And with it comes a "new offer" from the city of Detroit that has prompted Northville officials to take another look at its choice of sources for residents of the "dry well" southeast section of the township.

Plans by the GreenSpring Building Company to construct a "new" water line from the Detroit area to Northville, 1,000 feet of the proposed water line along Napier currently are being studied by the Detroit Water Department.

And, ironically, it is the development of these new homes and others that will eventually make the purchase of Detroit water economically sound, a case long made by the city.

- That a Detroit water line under construction between Farmington and Newburgh roads will be completed soon.
- That bids are in and contracts are to be let soon for extension of the line from Newburgh to Meadowbrook road.
- That plans for extension of the line from Meadowbrook to Center street in Northville are in Chicago awaiting formal approval by a federal agency to secure matching funds.
- That installation of the latter extension should begin yet this fall and be completed by the end of the year.
- That extension of the line from Northville along Sheldon road to Five Mile road should be started and be completed next Spring.
- While county water line plans move rapidly ahead, negotiations between Mrs. Paul LeBest, owner of the Willowbrook Water company, and the Village of Novi continue. Late meeting between representatives of the village and Mrs. LeBest took place Monday.
- According to Village Administrator Harold Achby, Mrs. LeBest desires to sell the water company to the village but at this point village officials are unsure whether or not such a purchase would be financially sound.
- The next step, according to Achby, will be to inspect plans showing the original location of lines, sizes, etc. Once this information has been studied, the village will attempt to come up with the financial value of the water system, and finally, an attempt to negotiate some kind of agreement will be made.
- Officials are moving cautiously, he said, because the wells, pumps, etc. would be of Detroit water is purchased.
- Current plans of the Detroit water board call for construction of a 24-inch line north from Eight Mile road along Haggerty to Five Mile road.
- These plans still are in the drawing board stage, but it is assumed they too will be stepped up in the light of Detroit's latest announcement.
- While most Novi officials hopefully look forward to a supply of Detroit water, they are faced with the problem of finding enough local water users to make purchase of water economically feasible. Presently, with the existing limited number of potential users in Novi, cost of purchasing Detroit water would be prohibitive.

A large attendance is expected for the first fall luncheon meeting of the Northville Women's Club Friday at Thunderbird Inn. Lester McCoy, conductor of the Michigan Chorale, will tell of the group's five tours abroad in his talk, "Musical Ambassadors of Good Will."

He also is to show color slides of the 1963 Scandinavian tour. Completing the program will be musical selections by Mrs. George Jerome.

Mrs. George Weiss and her program committee are in charge of arrangements. More than 130 luncheon reservations have been made.

The Michigan Chorale's tours include two trips to Europe, two to South America and the last to Scandinavia. They hold special interest for Northville as three local girls have participated in them: Carole Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jones toured in 1961; Janice and Donna Williams, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Williams, toured in 1962 and 1963, respectively.

In addition to conducting the chorale group for the past five years, Conductor McCoy is minister of music for the First Methodist church in Ann Arbor. He has been University of Michigan Choral Union director since 1947. He has conducted regularly in the University of Michigan's May Festivals and Messiah presentations.

Auditions for next year's chorale will be held this fall in Ann Arbor. Interested seniors are invited to contact the Ann Arbor Council of Churches office.

By Jean Day

THE END OF EBDENDERRY LANE will be the delightful destination of Northville State Hospital auxiliary members and guests Wednesday, October 16 — the date Mrs. Walter Couse is opening her home for the auxiliary's first membership tea.

About 125 members and guests are expected to drop in between 2 and 4 p.m. at the Couse home, located off West Seven Mile road and nestled in one of Northville's most scenic areas.

Tea conversation undoubtedly will center upon the work of the auxiliary in its gift shop and cart projects at the hospital. Guests will learn that auxiliary funds also provide for ward parties and an indigent patient fund.

Equally sure to spark conversation is the Couse home, converted from a barn 16 years ago by Mr. and Mrs. Couse. Now it's an outstanding background for their antiques. The charm of log beams and old brick fireplaces with their collections of leary cooking implements is apparent. Mrs. Couse emphasizes that they "live with their antiques" and that her concern has been to create a comfortable home.

Her guests also will note Mr. Couse's cranberry glass collection brightening the study shelves.

No formal program is planned for the tea, but Mrs. Dewey Horning, auxiliary president, and Mrs. Lou Pearlman, of Livonia, past president, are preparing a resume of activities to give each guest.

Others working on the event are Mrs. Robert Lang, tea chairman; Mrs. Paul Hughes, invitations; Mrs. Crispin Hammond, hostesses; Mrs. H. O. Evans, tea arrangements; Mrs. Charles Rattiff, publicity; Mrs. Thomas Mangan, Plymouth, name tags and guest book.

Judge James Lincoln To Talk on Delinquency

Judge James H. Lincoln of Detroit will be the guest speaker here on Wednesday, October 9 at an open meeting of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church.

His topic will be "Problem Parents Not Problem Children." The program will get underway at 8 p.m.

Judge Lincoln has been judge of the juvenile court of Wayne county since May of 1959.

To that position he has brought a varied experience from a number of fields. He has a B.A. degree — a history major from the University of Michigan — and an L.L.B. from the Detroit College of Law.

His work experience includes farm boy, dairy inspector for the state of Michigan, five years in Detroit auto factories, personal staff of Frank Murphy when the latter was attorney general of the United States, assistant U.S. attorney.

He has not confined his interest to Wayne county in matters of delinquency. He served as chairman of the Youth Employment Opportunities committee as well as chairman of the traffic committee for the National Council of Juvenile Court Judges.

He also is chairman of the resolution committee and vice-chairman of the juvenile affairs committee of the Probate Judges' association of Michigan.

Judge Lincoln has consistently promoted studies and research in juvenile delinquency by using graduate students from various universities who accept projects with a view to completing master or doctor degrees.

Some of the studies undertaken have been a study of delinquents within various institutions; three studies that resulted in an over-hauling of the court's methods of handling juvenile traffic violators; and a study of the reading level of children who come to the Youth Home.

"There is no writing about the width of a street," says Judge Lincoln. "The sensible thing to do is to go and measure it. There are many factors concerning delinquency that cannot be measured accurately but it is surprising how many problems concerning delinquency are capable of being accurately measured and understood by research."

There has, perhaps been more nonsense written about the subject of delinquency than any other human activity. Every person is a self-confessed expert on the subject. I want to caution of many things concerning delinquency when I became a juvenile judge nearly three years ago. I have been forced to re-examine my thinking so many times that I now tend to reject broad sweeping statements and give special attention to the individual case but really add little to my understanding of the problem.

Arrest 23 At Vacant Home Here

Twenty-three teenage boys and girls from the Detroit area were arrested Saturday night while "fooling around" in the vacant Whipple home on West Eight Mile road near Taft.

The youths, all of whom were detained for questioning and then released to the custody of their parents pending investigation of vandalism, were picked up by Wayne county deputy sheriffs on trespassing charges.

According to a county detective, all 23 have been warned to stay away from the house. Meanwhile, investigation of damage to the building, owned by the Whipple estate, will continue. And, the detective said, some of the youths may be forced to pay for damage.

The Whipple house, like several other vacant homes in the Northville-Nowi area, have been damaged by young vandals who like to believe it and others are haunted, authorities explained.

The sheriff's department has received numerous complaints of vandalism and trespassing at the Eight Mile road in past months, but not until Saturday were deputies able to catch violators.

Similar complaints have been reported in Novi. Only recently two barns were destroyed by fire, which police believe was caused by "fun-seeking" youths.

Secrets of Better Family Pictures Outdoors
Let people be themselves. Don't line them up for a shot firing-squad style. The best pictures are of people doing things.
Avoid the "squinting in the sun" look. Move your subjects into soft, shadowless light where possible. Expressions will look more natural.
Keep the background simple, so it won't distract from the people. Trees, grass, sand or a plain wall do nicely. Or, shoot up at your subject and let the sky be your background.
Come in close to your subjects. Catch the eyes and the smiles and leave the scenery for another picture.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Rev. Lloyd Brauser
First Presbyterian Church

Recently an author wrote a penetrating study under the title, "The Mind of Jesus." Many enlightening chapters deal with the mind of the Master as the author studied the first three Gospels. He concludes among other things that there are two beginnings in the life of every man who has left his mark upon history. There is the day when he was born; and then there comes the day when he discovers why he was born into this world of love and conflict of loyalty and anarchy, of success and defeat, of light and darkness. There have been many notable examples of this truth.

In the days of our youth the matter of a chosen vocation or profession is a continuing concern. School days are times of preparation and of study of the many and many interests. How does one decide finally how to use time and talent and training to honor God and truth? Many of our young people are seriously eager to explore possible uses of their lives. Constructive and worthwhile ends. Many parents help and encourage their children to follow a good line of thinking to come up with some strong and valuable answers. However, all too many students and parents today seem totally uninterested in applying themselves to this goal. Present habits and activities contribute only confusion to the pattern of thought; purpose goes down the drain with thoughtless waste of time and talent.

In the total ministry of Jesus, there is to be found a vital emphasis on the use of all gifts from God, the mind and spirit being in the forefront of plans, endeavor, St. Paul likened the sign of spiritual rebirth direct our pathways into the ways of righteousness and peace, that loving and serving Him, with a whole heart, and mind, we may be found faithful in all things.

Landfill Questions: Words and Meaning

NOTE: This newspaper comes "letters to the editor" but reminds readers of certain requirements: 1. Letters should be submitted by Monday noon of week of publication. 2. All letters must be signed, but name will be withheld upon request; 3. PLEASE confine length of letter to 400 words; 4. Letters considered libelous or containing profane language may be edited or omitted at the discretion of the editor.

To the Editor:

In your front page story of September 12 and again on the 18th you report the proposed rubbish fill for the Northville area will be coming to a public hearing some time in mid-October.

What this portends for the Northville area may be anticipated by:

Legal counsel as quoted, the board is not legally required to hold a public hearing. They'll pass it anyway.

The proposal will be studied from the legal and engineering aspects.

You see, "How about a fill for the community?" "Chairman of Appeals board." "We'll explain it so you'll understand it."

You're not very bright, but they'll give it a try.

Legally the Board will hold whether or not it has the power to permit of deny a land fill operation; it is a presumed permission which necessarily come from the board of appeals as a "variance" is a use for which no provision was made in the zoning.

Township officials have indicated Hayes might not approve if regulations can be worked that provide adequate safeguards.

Township officials know what's best for community investors. (Why not involve the public?)

Regulations for Sanitary land fill are not new. Same thing as public regulations under the police powers granted local communities. (Ever argue with a police man? Tell it to the Judge he'll understand.)

Regulations will be very rigid.

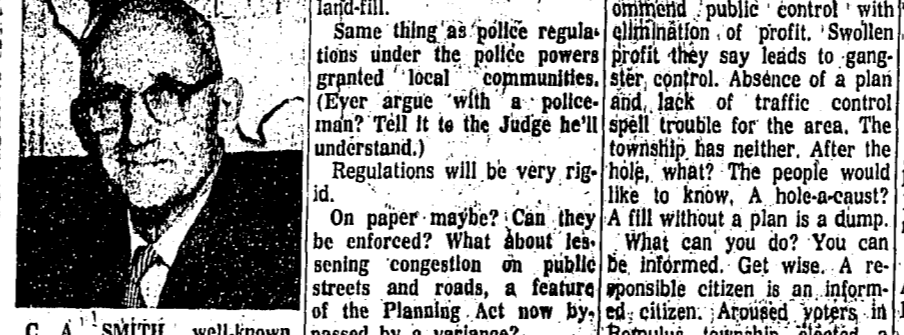

No paper maybe? Can they be enforced? What about local streets and roads, a feature of the Planning Act now by passed by a variance?

No garbage will be permitted.

Fine idea, but will it work? Detroit city officials concede it is broken more than it is enforced. Besides, what is garbage? It is different things in different states. How about definition of garbage in Northville and Detroit?

Boy Hurt By Car Here

An eight-year-old Northville boy was injured Saturday when struck by a car on East Main street.

Treated by a private physician for a bruised foot was John Luckett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Luckett, 4404 Wyngate.

According to police, the boy ran from between parked cars near the theater into the path of a car driven by Robert W. Sample of 2803 Chigwidden drive.

"This accident might have been avoided," King said, "if cars had not been double parked in the area. Both the boy and the motorist apparently had their vision hindered by double-parked vehicles."

Three Local Students in Merit Test Semi-Finals

Three Northville high school students have been named semifinalists in the 1963-64 Merit Scholarship competition, Principal Fred Stefanski announced this week.

They are Anna S. Hornberg, Anna C. Martin and Russell D. Schoof.

Semifinalists are chosen on the basis of their outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. This test of educational development was given in more than 15,000 high schools last March.

Some 13,000 seniors throughout the country attained semifinalist status. Each semifinalist now moves a step closer to winning a four-year Merit Scholarship to the college of his choice.

Semifinalists must substantiate their qualifying test performance on a second examination, endorsed by their respective colleges and universities and fulfill certain requirements to become finalists.

To increase their opportunities to obtain financial assistance, semifinalists become finalists.

— Out of the Past —

ONE YEAR AGO — October 4, 1962

The question of whether or not Northville will ever become a part of the Northwest Wayne County Community College district depends upon the citizens of Northville.

These were the words of College President Eric Brander this week when he reported to the Board that Northville is seeking a vote to join the college district over in the hands of the college attorney and would probably save there.

The Northville city council turned its attention to the consideration of a proposal to water and approved city Councilman Richard Amble to head up a study effort.

If registration on any indication, Northville should receive one of its biggest votes for a general election this November.

The city council postponed its choice of builders for its proposed new recreation building Monday night in an attempt to avoid possible delays once construction gets underway.

—18 New voters were honored at the 22nd annual Citizenship Dinner sponsored by the Northville Community Council and the Optimist club.

The Edward Erwin, partners in the local business Erwin Farm operations, were named the Oakland county "family of the year."

—Some 100 businessmen were expected to attend the testimonial dinner honoring Northville area industrialists, Robert B. Martin of the Dundee Cement company and chairman of the Michigan Industrial Ambassadors was to be the speaker.

—The Northville Mustangs rolled over Holly, 33-14.

FIVE YEARS AGO — October 2, 1958

—First step in an appeal action of Warren Products in its suit protesting annexation into the city of Northville is scheduled for next Tuesday when the state supreme court will consider a "right to appeal" request.

The action is normal procedure in seeking an appeal before the high court. It is expected that the request will be granted and the case heard before the supreme court during its next three-month session which begins in January.

—The possibility that a loaded pistol is lying somewhere in the Northville area brought worried warnings to narcotics from Northville Police Chief Joseph Denon.

—The Novi school board was scheduled to meet last night to discuss plans to schedule the district's immediate interest in the paving tax increase election. At stake is a proposal to increase school taxes by 2 1/2 mills for each of the next five years.

—More than 300 priests took part in a ceremony blessing the striking new Our Lady of Victory Church's new office building on Tuesday night as the first president of the village.

—The Mustangs were elected to the "Powers Times" weekly football poll Tuesday.

—A mixed chorus, an outgrowth of the former Northville-Plymouth male chorus, has organized a five-year organization of five years including the voices of singers from the Detroit and Wayne areas as well as from two neighboring communities of Northville and Plymouth, under the direction of Leslie G. Lee, head of the music department of the Northville high school.

—An editorial appeared in The Record urging public support for Northville's high school of football team, which opened with a victory over Walled Lake, it read in part: "Now it's up to the school patrons and merchants to take two hours away from their business houses and stand by the team this afternoon in the face of Melvindale's attack. Well-filled bleachers can go a long way toward bringing home a victory team. The boys have started the season with a victory and a little rest on the back from villagers may be the turning point in the face of previous years' defeat."

—George Clark of the Mustangs is up to the school patrons and merchants to take two hours away from their business houses and stand by the team this afternoon in the face of Melvindale's attack. Well-filled bleachers can go a long way toward bringing home a victory team. The boys have started the season with a victory and a little rest on the back from villagers may be the turning point in the face of previous years' defeat."

—Edward P. Lansing, 219 North Wing street, and Harry R. Eacene, 526 Orchard drive, both of Northville, play lacrosse and cornet in the University of Michigan Marching Band.

—The United States Trading Association has granted Northville Downs a five-day extension of racing dates from October 9 to October 14.

—The blessing and laying of the cornerstone for Michigan's new provincial major theological seminary of St. John at Plymouth last week will officially close its agency office in Northville.

In an advertisement appearing in this week's edition of the company states that service will be available through the Plymouth office. Any public projects may be made to the Federal Communications Commission, Washington 25, D.C., on or before October 23.

An office is not currently being operated here. Carrington flower, 1838 Washington Union calls until last date.

American Legion Notes

Plans were revealed this past week at the regular meeting that the annual Thanksgiving Feather Party will be held on November 22. This is one of the most important fundraising campaigns that the Post conducts each year.

Commander Katzbeck reported that the Post has purchased a new sewing machine for the children's home at Otter Lake. It was to be delivered to them this past Sunday. Here is one of the areas in which proceeds from the annual poppy sale are used.

The Fall Conference at Bay City, slated for October 4, 5 and 6, will attract at least eight members from our Post. Also on hand for the Conference will be Northville's State Commander, C. Oscar Harmon, and his wife.

Two new members have become "Early Birds" by paying their dues for the 1964 year. You can make it!

The next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, October 8. Bring a small member or prospect with you.

"Just Right" For CLEAN Housekeeping!

No wonder they say CLEAN when they talk about Gas housekeeping—it's so clean-burning! Since Natural Gas is already a gas, it is ready to burn—therefore it burns easily and efficiently. You aren't left with smoke, soot, or a messy film on your furnishings. Women enjoy selecting light colors for decorating and with natural Gas heat they know there is less concern for soiling and expense of upkeep. It saves time—saves cleaning bills—saves hours of housecleaning. And the surprising fact is that people who get the facts, generally find this letter heat saves them money too!

Today 8 out of 10 new homes are heated with Gas.

YOUTH ADDRESSES LEGIONNAIRES — Kim Acker of Northville (above), local Boys State representative sponsored by the Lloyd H. Green Post No. 147, addressed Wolverine Boys' State committee members throughout Michigan here at the First Methodist church Saturday evening. Kim gave a report on his 10-day training session government at the convalescence held last June on the campus at Michigan State University. Twenty-seven representatives from other community service organizations in the Northville area who sponsored boys to the 1963 session also attended the banquet to hear first-hand reports on the aims and ideals of the American Legion youth training project. Shown at the table with the young speaker are Mrs. David McDougall of Northville and two outstate Boys' State committee members and their wives.

WHAW! HE MADE IT — Traffic was slowed at the intersection of Main and Center Friday morning when the truck driver loaded with tons of sod grunted and groaned but failed to make the steep grade on its own. Two G. D. Miller wreckers were pressed into action but even they had difficulty. Finally, after more than a half-hour of straining and jugging, the wreckers inched the loaded truck over the crest of the hill to the cheers of shoppers who gathered to watch the show.

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury CHEVROLET

Besides looks, ride and power—what's so special about it?

(It's so reasonably priced)

Kind of leaves the high-priced cars some explaining to do, wouldn't you say? Long and luxurious—with a fresh-crested look. Richer roomy interiors with subtle new blendings of colors and fabrics. Like the ultra-soft vinyl upholstery in the new Chevrolet Impala Super Sport Series.

A choice of seven engines, no less, with output all the way up to 425 hp.* And a choice of four smooth transmissions to go with them. And underlying it all, the optimum feel of this '64 Chevrolet's Jet-smooth ride.

Master of fact, the most noticeable difference between this beautiful new 1964 Chevrolet and the high-priced cars is the price itself.

Admissions Information Sent Out by Schoolcraft

Each of the approximately 40,000 families in the Schoolcraft college district will receive this week a communication from the college giving important information concerning admission.

Although Schoolcraft College will not hold its first classes until August 31, 1964, those interested in enrolling either part-time or full-time are urged to read this bulletin carefully. It is the hope of the board of trustees and the college officials that no one will be deprived of admission to the college because he does not understand the necessity of early application and admission procedures.

In the brochure which is being mailed, details will be given on how, where, and when to secure application blanks and all curricula which will be available. Seniors attending high schools of the college district will receive information and applications through the high schools. Seniors attending other high schools and those residents not in school, whether interested in full or part-time programs, will find the pamphlet particularly helpful.
