

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

I'm writing this column on Monday, the day before the Northville township board is scheduled to make its final decision on the now-famous Hayes' landfill request.

It's almost a certainty that the permit will be granted; and if the odds were right, I'd bet the vote would be unanimous.

At any rate, this section of the paper will be printed before the Tuesday night action so any observations made here will have been of many weeks standing. A page one news story reveals the board's final decision.

Personally, I have mixed emotions about the whole affair. I'm sure others who have followed its progress feel the same.

At the outset we must accept the fact that the problem will not go away. It must be faced and solved, regardless of how unpleasant it may seem in the eyes of many.

Sheldon Hayes has attempted for many months—now running into years—to gain permission to deposit rubbish in the rock-marked area between Seven and Eight Mile roads where the Manning & Locklin gravel mining operation is conducted.

Initially, Hayes wanted to fill some of the pits. In the face of strong opposition he modified the plan to apply only to naturally swampy areas. His latest plan is to convert the ugly acreage into an exclusive development of homesites around a series of six or seven lakes.

It is a tremendous undertaking and final realization would undoubtedly take more than a dozen years. Just how long remains unclear to me. Although Hayes owns the land, Manning & Locklin retains mining rights for 19 years. I've been told, however, the operation will peter-out long before this time.

So what do we have? Assuming Hayes is granted dumping permission, we must look to Hayes and the township board for our answers.

First, Hayes must be sincere. He must fulfill his pledge to develop this land for the benefit of the community. If the proposed project is merely a disguise to make money dumping rubbish, then we have been duped.

If it is as represented, the community should be grateful that an eyesore will be converted into property that would become both a credit and a tax source.

Next, the responsibility for control of the landfill operation falls squarely upon the shoulders of township officials. If the privilege is abused or regulations ignored, the permit should be cancelled immediately and the evidence recorded for any ensuing legal action.

I sincerely believe that township officials have made every effort to provide for the protection of its citizens, while not infringing upon the rights of free enterprise.

The ordinance and regulations are most rigid; and rubbish fill of gravel pits is specifically prohibited—a consent most important to our citizens.

As one member of the planning commission stated, the time for experiment is here.

Now for the mixed emotions. While I am satisfied that the township has taken proper steps legally to cope with the landfill problem, there are many maneuvers surrounding the case of which I do not approve.

I resent the last-minute rush; the unannounced meetings; the obvious and admitted preference of discussing, and even acting upon, matters surrounding the request without a public audience.

And official minutes published after-the-fact fails to justify the act.

When any elected official begins to prefer privacy because the ability of the public to comprehend or sympathize is doubted... when the public becomes a nuisance to the office-holder... then it's time for that official to re-examine the principles of democracy.

The lobbying that accompanied the entire affair became nauseous at times. Specifically, I refer to the appearance of an influential community leader before the planning commission on the evening of its recommendation.

In an obviously rehearsed statement, the praises of Hayes were twice requested giving the impression that perhaps this individual was speaking for the organization he represented.

It is my contention that none of the above was necessary. The public can comprehend and will accept conscientious action of its elected officials. But it is their democratic right to know what's going on and to disagree if they wish.

In short, I'm saying the township board has suffered from poor public relations' policy. But it's my belief that it has been a mistake in judgment, and nothing more.

In conclusion, I believe a public opportunity now exists for the board to show good faith and win public support and assistance.

I refer to the proposal to purchase land for a new township hall. This is a big project. The land alone will apparently cost in excess of $13,000.

I believe that it is politically unwise for the board to merely toss this project on the agenda as a matter of fact.

It's possible that there are taxpayers who believe construction of a township hall would be a waste of money. There may even be taxpayers who envision the day that the township will find it more profitable to be a part of the corporate limits of the city and a new township hall could become a white elephant. (I'm sure this thought makes the hard-core politicians shudder.)

Let UN Run Whaling

BABSON PARK, Mass. — This is an article on whales, but I need the help of the United Nations to make what here is a "new" industry. Well, here is my story.

When I was a boy, it seemed as if the ocean was full of whales. They apparently lived at the bottom of the sea where they would not be harassed by whalers going out from New Bedford, Mass., and other seaports which made a specialty of getting whales.

Gradually, the number of whales was depleted. Finally, an international agreement was arranged whereby the nations were given quotas; but these have never been honored.

Therefore, I have a definite proposition, namely, that the whaling industry be taken over by the United Nations, which would take only the male whales are killed and that the female whales are allowed to reproduce. This would seem a legitimate work for the United Nations, and even when they would bring the UN a definite income, — I can imagine it making good contributions to ward paying up the United Nations' present deficit.

The whaling industry could almost as great as the cattle industry for the world which would be an organizational like the United Nations.

Therefore, I made an appeal to the United Nations that they seriously take up this problem before the whales all go to the Arctic or Antarctic waters, largely under the ice, for protection. Let us turn the tide before it is too late, and bring forth and protect a new industry for the world which would equal the cattle industry in importance, and provide wealth, employment, and prosperity for all who have a part there-in.

This is a very practical matter and it could easily be accomplished. The waters of the ocean are the only natural monopoly the United Nations have. Certainly, before spending billions on "going to the moon" we should first find out what is at the bottom of the sea which makes up four-fifths of the world's area and which we know almost nothing about.

Scholarships from 'Talking Money'

An admirable effort to provide quality education to persons who most likely could not get it on their own is underway at Michigan State University.

Funds for the expenses incurred in attending college were derived from a number of MSU educators decided to contribute earnings from public speaking appearances to a special fund. These moneys were earmarked for use by talented youngsters who don't have the money needed to attend college.

High school officials are called upon to find deserving students for whom college attendance is financially impossible.

Each of the students must earn money for the customary regular deposits on dorm and tuition fees and be willing to borrow and work to help himself through college.

University officials said the borrowing and earning requirements of the students was aimed at insuring that the students who receive aid are sincerely interested in earning a degree.

The fund, started just two years ago, is continuing to build up as members of the MSU faculty and staff are invited to speak at public meetings, high school commencement and other occasions.

The official state tree, the white pine, once covered much of Michigan. Historians note that this was before the coming of the white man.

Much of the forest stands were destroyed in the latter part of the last century and early this century.

The State Agriculture Department now notes that the state tree appears to be staging a comeback. A recent aerial survey showed stands of more than 12 million acres of white pine concentrated in Chippewa and Mackinac counties. Other stands are sparse throughout the state but total about a quarter million acres, department officials said.

Michigan now has a tiny ambassador of good will touring the country. A Flint girl, five-year-old Mary Lou Graves, is this year's National March of Dimes child.

Regardless of one's feelings about united campaign drives or single-purpose fund campaigns, one look at the March of Dimes poster child brings a single thought: This could be my child.

Born with an open spine which was quickly corrected through surgery, Mary Lou had other problems to overcome. Water on the brain, hydrocephalus, developed but dropped. She also required an operation to overcome a severe bladder and bowel involvement.

Health and hospitalization insurance can cover many bills, but the widest imagination cannot measure the amount involved in a case such as Mary Lou's.

Through physical therapy, Mary Lou is gaining some degree of independence. She is learning to walk and next year will attend a special school for crippled children.

As the oldest of four children of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Graves, Mary Lou is her mother's helper. She can dust, dry some dishes, fold clothes and "mind" her brother and sisters.

A poster picture hardly tells the story, but Mrs. Graves, who had polio before she was two years old, puts it this way: "The March of Dimes is the greatest friend we ever had."

FORENSIC CLUB PRESENTS — Hours of rehearsal time behind them, Forensic club members are polished and ready for presentation of the comedy, "Teahouse of the August Moon," tonight and tomorrow. Among the actors anxious to display their stage talent are (l to r) John Harrison, Susan Shaffer and John Spietz.

'Teahouse' Opens Two-Night Stand

Polished and ready, "Teahouse of the August Moon" will be presented tonight and tomorrow night (Thursday and Friday) in the Northville high school auditorium.

The curtain will go up at 8 p.m. on both evenings. It is presented by the high school Forensic club, under the direction of Miss Florence Panoloni and Miss Patricia Dorlan.

"In preparing this play, the actors have learned some hard lessons," they have "heard" Japanese culture, reports Anjanette Alexander, publicity chairman.

Because a portion of the play is in Japanese, the high school actors have become familiar with part of the Japanese language, she explains. And because they have built scenery, costume and costumes actors, committee members have become aware of how the Japanese live, she adds.

Continuing: "Some committees have ensembles in actual Japanese robes, such as the making of lacquered cups and cricket cages. Most of all, because they have played the roles of Japanese people, they have learned how these people feel and think.

"The most important instrument in the expression of these feelings and thoughts is the teahouse itself. It and its guests carry a meaningful message for all."

The play itself concerns the occupation of the island of Okinawa, where an American colonel takes up the task of improving living conditions. His plans backfire when the natives, with the help of Captain Fishy, commander of the village of Tobiki, construct an elaborate teahouse instead of the school building ordered by the colonel.

Natives are thrilled with the teahouse, the colonel is infuriated, and Captain Fishy, the victim of both.

Leading members of the cast are: Sakini, Terry LaDue; Captain Fishy, Jay Warren; Lotus.

Novi Adopts Resolution On Sewers

A resolution prohibiting a private treatment plant in Meadowbrook subdivision located at the northwest corner of Meadowbrook and Nine Mile roads, was adopted by the village council Monday evening.

While approving the resolution provided by the Oakland county department of public works, the council decided to hold the resolution in abeyance pending consultation with the village attorney, Howard Bond.

According to Administrator Harold Ackley, the resolution is a "protective" device for the county. It assures the county, which is supervising construction of trunkline sewers in the area, that any sewer lines within the proposed subdivision will be tied into the trunkline.

In deciding to first consult with Bond, the council's only concern was with the matter of determining if the county of the village will be the "owner" of the trunkline once it is completed and the sewer lines are in place.

Ackley said the subdivision probably would not oppose the resolution since he has full intentions of tying local lines to the trunkline.

The administrator also recommended that the council approve proposals for construction of the sanitary trunk sewer in the southern part of Novi to be opened by the county DPW next Tuesday.

He reported county officials say that 18 different contractors have taken out plans for the sewer, posing the necessary bond to do so, thus leading the county to believe that bidding will be high.

In light of the interest, Ackley said, the council "feels they may get some pretty good figures."

The 42-inch trunkline, which will tie into the Rouge interceptor, will enter Novi from Northville, cross Novi road in a northeasterly direction and proceed on to the Meadowbrook Lake subdivision. Arms — 21-inches in size — will stretch out from the main trunkline west to Center street and north to 10 Mile road.

Estimated cost of the project in Novi is $1.3 million for construction plus $350,000 more for tap-in fees.

Concerning a related matter, Ackley said that a difference of opinion has been cleared between the township and the county regarding the sale of the property.

Three Holloway and gravel, trucking and construction companies are expected to be located in a central office in Wixom sometime in December, according to Mrs. Virginia Holloway, secretary of the companies.

The office will be on property on Wixom road, south of West road, purchased at auction October 29 from A. T. M. O'Brien Transport, Inc., not as previously reported from Chesapeake and Ohio rail way.

The former terminal building of A.T. valued at $48,000, will be headquarters for the three Holloway companies. Mrs. Holloway said she expects the transaction will be finalized by the end of this month.

The 28-acre property, located at the intersection of the Ford Motor company Way, was purchased for $150,000. The Automobile Transportation Co. has been closed for about three years. At that time the Ford plant switched from automobile haulways to railroads for heavy transportation of new cars.

The three companies which will be occupying the property are Holloway Sand and Gravel company, Holloway Sand and Gravel Trucking company, both of 315 Mile road, Northville, and Holloway Construction company, Livonia.

Meanwhile, Superintendent Tom Culbert is to investigate the possibility and legality of the school borrowing the money for the entire extension, with the school to be reimbursed as property owners tap into the line.

School Construction 'Ahead of Schedule'

Although there appears to be little upward advance of Novi's junior high school, construction is progressing satisfactorily and is somewhat ahead of schedule, school board members were told last week.

Flying Wife Prepares Exotic Dish

A flying wife doesn't always have a good deal of time to concoct exotic luncheons. But Mrs. Walter Murphy of 576 Reed avenue, who claims to be a quick shrimp curry salad.

WORKSHOP — These four Northville Methodist women, along with more than a dozen others, met last Thursday in a workshop session at the church in preparation for the upcoming Holy Mart Bazaar scheduled for December 3 and 4. Preparing special gifts for the bazaar are (l to r) Mrs. Jack McCrumb, Mrs. Roy Gregersen, Mrs. Daisy Logeman and Mrs. Douglas Bolton.

If there's time in between air trips and an occasional teaching stint, Mrs. Murphy will add a yeast treat to a paper thin cookie called a Filo. On hand to consume the finished product with zest are Mr. Murphy, a radio man, and the Murphys' two daughters, Rowan and Darlene.

Mrs. Murphy's recipes:

SHRIMP CURRY SALAD
2 cups rice
1 tsp. vinegar
2 cans cooked shrimp
1/2 cup chopped green onions, tops included
2 cans pimientos, cut in silvers
1 tsp. curry powder
1/2 cup chopped green peppers
Salt and pepper to taste
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 Tbs. mustard

Cook rice, adding 1 tsp. vinegar to the boiling water in which it's cooking to keep grains from sticking to each other.

Add two cans of prepared or cooked shrimp, cut into bite-size chunks. Add remaining ingredients and mix.

Serve in passing salad bowl or use ice cream scoop to place individual portions on lettuce leaf.

Red Cross Again Offers Overseas Recordings

Red Cross volunteers in this area are making available to the families of overseas stationers an opportunity to make a recording of the family's holiday greeting to be sent to the man away from home.

Called "Voices From Home" this service meets with enthusiastic response from both families and servicemen last year when it was inaugurated. Recordings will be made in the Northville Regional Office, 3329 Plymouth road, Livonia, on Wednesday and Thursday, December 4 and 5, from 11:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Mrs. W. H. Launa Darnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Darnell of 332 Dobra Lane, was initiated into Theta Sigma Theta, national professional nursing society of women, Tuesday evening.

The initiation program took place at a banquet at the Detroit Press Club.

A junior at the University of Michigan where she is majoring in journalism and specializing in advertising and market research, Miss Darnell was selected for membership in the society on the basis of her academic standing and work in journalism.

Volunteers assist the families to start the recording device and then leave the room so the message can be spoken in privacy. Parents, grandparents, sisters, brothers, wives and children are urged to participate in the family greeting.

BPW Apron Boosts State

Members of the Northville Business and Professional Women's club are hard at work making 500 glamour aprons for next year's national BPW convention at Detroit.

The aprons — all fashioned after the one made here by Mrs. Marcella E. Douglas — will be worn by Michigan delegates to the convention in July of 1964.

"Recently, the apron designed by Mrs. Douglas was chosen by the executive board of the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs as the official insignia of Michigan."

The apron is made of green nylon net.

"Five pockets across its bottom are appropriately decorated with appliques depicting Michigan — including a map of Michigan; apple blossoms, state flowers; a robin, the state bird; and an automobile and a bunch of cherries, representing two of Michigan's leading industries."

"We're very proud that our entry was chosen," said Mrs. Douglas. "And we're confident it will lend color and distinction to the convention and draw attention to our state."

In Our Town

By Jean Day

THIS IS NORTHVILLE DAY at Town Hall. With 520 members holding tickets to hear Cuban fighter pilot Major Pedro Diaz Lanz and a capacity reservation list for the celebrity luncheon following, there is no doubt that this is a success-starrd venture.

Sponsored by Our Lady of Victory church altar society three years ago as an answer to a civic need, Town Hall (like most successful undertakings) has had a dedicated group of workers in Northville, Farmington, Livonia and Plymouth.

Among those working from its beginning with founder Mrs. Robert Rahaley, has been Mrs. Claude A. Croese. As this year's vice chairman, she will be presiding at the luncheon speakers' table at Thunderbird Inn.

Also at the speakers' table will be John S. Canterbury, who will introduce Major Lanz, Mrs. William Weidner, Mrs. Fred Tuck, and Jack Hoffman, editor of The Northville Record.

Other 1963-64 Town Hall officers are Mrs. George F. Hanley, president, who last year was in charge of programs; Mrs. Robert Cole, now recording secretary but last year's ticket chairman; Mrs. Wilson B. Tyler, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Roy Mattison, treasurer and former secretary. On the advisory committee are Mrs. Frank Angle, last year's chairman; Mrs. Lewis Alexander, former treasurer; and Mrs. J. W. Chetham, former vice chairman.

Because these ladies, and others, too, took on a responsibility and are continuing to carry it through to strong new heights, Town Hall has gained more than 200 new members in three years and has a high level of programming. Because they recognized this was a community endeavor, the altar society sponsors divide their profits fifty per cent with other community charities.

(One of last season's Town Hall speakers, Robert St. John, is featured on THIS season's Detroit Town Hall series.)

A LOBBYIST'S LIFE in Lansing was described by Stan Schaefer for Northville Woman's club last Friday. Schaefer, who has been a lobbyist in the Michigan State Legislature for the past eight years, took club members through a typical day — from breakfast with legislators through official sessions to dinner and "hearings" type cocktail open house in his hotel suite, where any legislators are welcome to drop in.

He pointed out that 300 groups employ lobbyists. He represents several groups, including Association of General Contractors of America; Michigan Savings and Loan League and Wolverine Harness Raceway. Insurance companies, he said, have the largest number of lobbyists, followed by utility companies.

The lobbyist, Schaefer feels, serves a need as legislators have limited contact with the public and lack research facilities. With only one secretary for every five legislators, he pointed out, it's hard for them to keep up with "back home" correspondence.

Schafer, a physical education graduate of Michigan State university, came into the lobbyist profession through marriage. His father-in-law, Orlov Owen of Northville, is general manager of Wolverine Harness Raceway. Owen presently is in Pompano Beach, Florida, helping with arrangements for a new track being opened there by the Van Lennep family interests.

MOTHERS CLUB will hold a business session at 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Harold L. Wright, 19850 Westhill.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clappison of 43391 Twelve Mile road announce the marriage of their daughter, Barbara Clappison, S.N. of Long Beach California to Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Dieter of Boerne, Texas, November 9 in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Barbara is a graduate of Northville high school. The newlyweds will make their home in Texas.

Child's Reactions Studied at U-M

Ann Arbor — Children's reactions to their mother's miscarriage must be given more attention, a University of Michigan study indicates.

This does not mean that all such reactions should be regarded with alarm, but some disturbed reactions can — and do — have serious and long-lasting effects on a child's growing personality.

The U-M study, supported by The Grant Foundation, Inc. was made by four investigators: Dr. Albert C. Cain of departments of psychology and psychiatry; Dr. Robert C. Atkinson, formerly of the psychology department; Mary E. Erickson and Rebecca A. Vaughan, both of the U-M Children's Psychiatric Hospital.

Considering the relatively frequent occurrence of miscarriage, it is remarkable how little is known about the psychological impact of miscarriage, the U-M researchers say. And their own study, at the moment, remains limited in its extent method.

Even so, the study's findings clearly indicate the possible range, and extent, of the psychological impact of miscarriage, the U-M researchers say. For example, some of the "disturbed" reactions are immediate and quite visible: nightmares, severe anxiety, stuttering, depressions, upsurge of aggressiveness, sudden outbursts of fear and hatred of the mother.

More typically, say the U-M researchers, the child is puzzled and confused as to what happened. If that question is cleared up, he wants to know how and why it happened.

Often, however, the parents are evasive and the child must answer his own question with whatever understanding he has of miscarriage — he believes, birth and death.

There are many other possible complications the study found. Examples: the child often may blame himself for the miscarriage, or the loss of his expected sibling may disappoint him.

And the lasting influence of some of the "disturbed" reactions has been detected in a number of adolescent and adult life can.

ART EXHIBIT — Cecil North, painter of Ann Arbor, and William Case, stoneware potter who teaches in Northville, were guests of honor at a reception Sunday in the Hartley-Powers Gallery, 116 East Main street. "Never saw anything like it," exclaimed Bolton.

Advertises Township Salem Group Erects Signs In Circuit Court

First tangible results of an all-out effort to promote Salem township were noted recently in the form of "Welcome to Salem Township" signs erected at 19 different approaches. These signs were one of the first two projects undertaken by a recently organized committee — named Salem Township Committee for Progress — initiated by the township board. With Jack Renwick as its acting chairman, the committee is composed of six private township residents, currently including John Gabel, Joe Ryckman, Roy Johnson, Glenn Deibert and Glenn Burnham. The purpose of the committee is to promote Salem township as an attractive site for industrial and residential building. Emphasis has so far been put on promoting the township.

Underground Railroad 'Stations' Included Salem - Northville

Old Barn in Which Runaway Slaves Hid Still Stands

They came into the area, hidden in wagons, secreted in barns, homes, stores and then spirited away toward Detroit. It is estimated that 40,000 run-away slaves, fleeing from their "masters" of the South, were smuggled into the Detroit area where they were transported across the St. Clair and Detroit rivers into Canada. One of the several communities in southern Michigan which served as "stations" along the so-called Underground Railroad was located in the Northville-Salem area. And one of the barns in which these slaves hid before moving on towards Detroit still stands.

Once part of the Starkweather homestead but now standing weathered in the center of the Thompson gravel pit barn where they'd bring them food back to the barn at night. Like the house which still stands, the framework of the barn is hand-hewn. Solid black walnut timber, held together with wooden pegs, stretches across the entire length of the building. Some of the boards are 18-inches or more wide. There were other "stations" in the area. The Ambler building, located in what is now a vacant lot at the southwest corner of Center and Main streets in Northville, and Harvey and Maple streets.

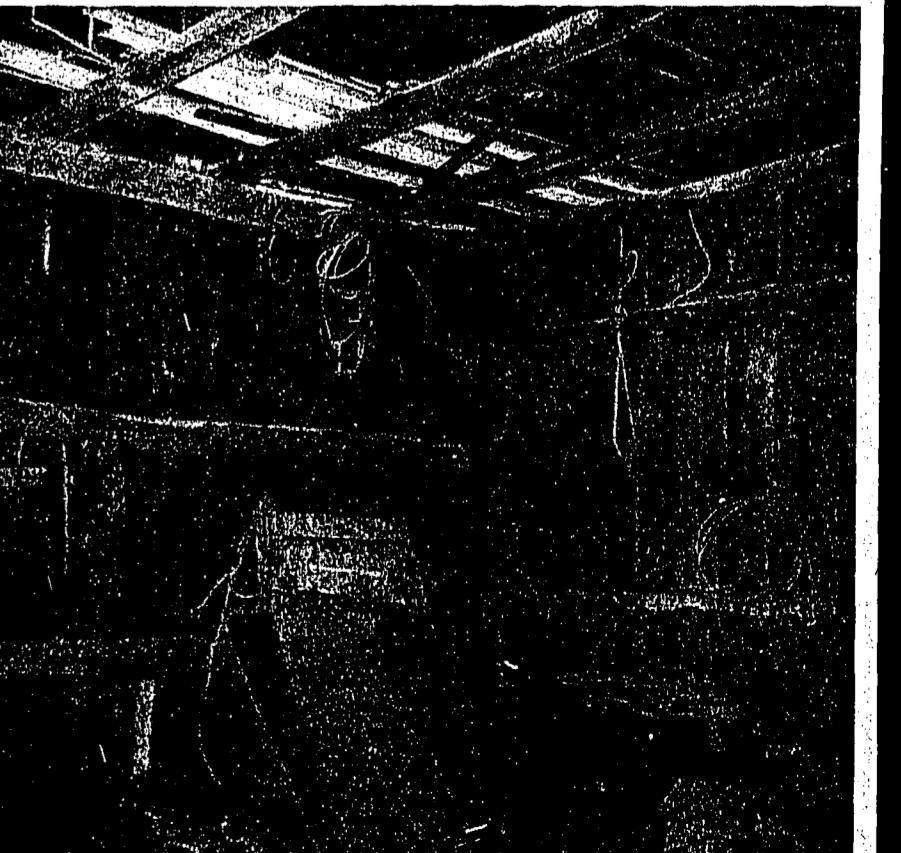

homes in the Reservoir drive area of what is now Cass Park drive reportedly were used for housing slaves. Some of the Negro families living today in Salem can trace their ancestry back to the area of the Underground Railroad. The Lewis family, for example, recalls that John Lewis grew up in Virginia years before President Lincoln issued his famous Emancipation Proclamation. Little is known about his parents, except for sketchy accounts in the memories of grandchildren. His mother reportedly was set free by her "white master" shortly before his death. His father, who was not a slave, worked in the Virginia coal mines. Whether they married in Virginia or in Ohio is unknown by the Lewis survivors now living in Salem. And although the Lewis grandchildren cannot be sure, they suspect that their grandparents and father fled to Ohio to escape enslavement during the period that Lewis was 14 at the time. He and his parents reportedly followed the route of the Underground Railroad from Ohio, into or near Salem, and then on to the Detroit area and across the river into Canada. About two years after the family's escape from home "ran away from home" and returned to Michigan, where as a teenager he enlisted in Pontiac's first Negro division during the Civil War. Later he and his wife moved first to South Lyon and eventually to Salem.

The Lewis family probably took the northern route of the Underground Railroad, which ran from Ann Arbor to Northville, Farmington, Birmingham, Rochester, Uica and Romeo to either Richmond or New Haven, and then across the St. Clair River. According to historians, each of the so-called "stations" were about a day's journey apart. After entering Michigan at Niles, White Pigeon or Morenci, the slaves were guided through Cassopolis, Schoolcraft, Vicksburg, Climax, Battle Creek, Marshall, Albion, Jackson, Michigan Center, Leoni, Grass Lake, Chelsea, Dexter, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, to Detroit and then to safety in Canada.

CRAFTSMANSHIP — Pioneers of the region demonstrated real craftsmanship in erecting buildings. Notice the method of interlocking heavy framework by wooden pegs in this barn which is well over a hundred years old.

SLAVES HID HERE — Runaway slaves were hidden in this barn located on the Starkweather homestead west of Beck, between Seven and Eight Mile roads. It was located along one of the routes of the famous Underground Railroad. The interior picture shows an old safe used by one of the early Starkweather families.

Which type Chevrolet pickup do you need?
Chevrolet now makes four different types, each with its own distinct advantages. Whichever one you buy will be a lot more truck than your money bought the last time!

FLEETSIDE. Based on sales, the best liked pickup in the world. Outstanding feature is its large body extending clear over the wheels. Two body sizes. Two wheel-bases. Best riding truck by far, with coil springs all around and independent front suspension. Cab and body have double-wall construction. Chevrolet Fleetside—best for all-around use.

STEPSIDE. Has flat interior body walls and convenient side steps between cab and rear fenders. Comes in same two sizes as the Fleetside plus one bigger size. Big model has heavier frame, 4-speed transmission and leaf-spring rear suspension for maximum payload. Standard engine is 230-cu.-in. Six. A 292 Six or 283 V8 is available at extra cost.

RAMPSIDE. Nobody else makes a pickup as good looking as any car on the road. The side. The ramp makes loading easy because of its 16-inch rise. Truck also has a conventional tailgate. ### Novi School Board Hears Talk on Tenure

A report on activities at Orchard Hills elementary school took up a major part of last week's regular board of education meeting.

Roy Williams, principal, outlined daily routines at the school and called upon teachers at the school to explain the cooperative teaching technique incorporated into the program this year.

It was pointed out that in some cases, teachers are teaching in classes so that they are concentrating in subject areas in which they are best qualified.

Drinking Youths Arrested in Novi

A 21-year-old Salem man, Coy G. Combs, was arrested last week for stealing gasoline and oil from Novi Councilman Philip Anderson's property.

Combs, who admitted the theft, pleaded guilty before Justice of Peace Emery Jacques and was given a 184-day suspended sentence on condition that he enter the armed forces.

Some 10 gallons of gasoline was stolen from a tractor and a truck, as well as 12 quarts of oil stored in a shed on the Anderson property.

In other Novi police action this past week, several youths were arrested on charges of having alcohol in their possession.

Ralph H. Fitzpatrick, 18, and John Kumer, 19, both of Detroit were arrested at the corner of Novi and Charlotte when police found beer in their car. They are to appear in court today.

Two 17-year-old Hazel Park boys also are to appear in court today on similar charges. They are John H. Stephens and Larry Gross. They and two juveniles, who have been turned over to the juvenile court were arrested Saturday night at the Casino dance hall.

Charles Drencher and James Lee, both 20 and residents of Garden City were arrested Friday night at the Casino on charges of being drunk and disorderly. They too are to appear in court today.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Reverend LaVere Webster, Pastor, Novi Methodist Church

A primary assumption for life is that storms are part of living. This is true for some, necessary for others. But it is a realistic assumption. The perfect climate exists only in the imagination or in the literature of the "Chamber of Commerce, Anywhere."

In our social life we equate a storm with unpleasantness. Therefore, we want to drift along and keep the status quo. Jeremiah, an Old Testament prophet, spoke the uncomfortable truth and found it no way to be popular. Whether it be government, military, labor union, manufacturing association or church, it is the same. America is defense conscious. If we had historical perspective we would worry about broken homes, delinquency, rising crime wave, easy acceptance of immoral practices, the life being destroyed by alcohol — these are the real threats of the nation. Our prayer should be, "O Lord, give us inward reserves of spiritual power." For no outside power can keep us alive. If we are to live all our lives we must find that source of life and bring it within. We must build defenses by His presence against inner death and fear.

Our viewpoint of Jesus is at stake here. Is He a revelation of reality or only passing interest. Our program is not that we are opposed to Christ; but we have never considered what we think of Him. Is Jesus only a good, well meaning person, only a moralistic teacher, a dreamer-idealists? Or is He a great realist who saw into the heart of trouble, as a Christian. For He demands action. He commands obedience. Then Christ is the Lord of my life. And when the storms of life beat upon me, I will not fall.

New Detroit Edison Service Center Opens in Western Wayne County

A new Detroit Edison administrative office-service center facility now is serving electric customers in western Wayne County.

The new Detroit Edison service center on Cherry Hill near Newburgh in Nankin township has a "Northville flavor." It's the office headquarters of George W. Matthews, assistant manager of Edison's Detroit-Wayne sales division. And Matthews (pictured above) is the son-in-law of Northville School Superintendent Russell Armerman. Furthermore, the new facility was constructed by the Walter Cooney Company. Closes residence in Northville. Attending the opening ceremonies of the building last Thursday were Township Supervisor and Mrs. R. D. Merriam, Mr. and Mrs. George Young (Mr. Young is township clerk), Mayor A. M. Allen, City Manager Bruce Pothoff and William Siger, Record publisher.

Good Crowd at Hootenanny

The crowd was smaller than anticipated but still big enough to generate plenty of enthusiasm. The word from officials of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored Northville's first hootenanny here Friday night, "We're really pleased with the response," Project Chairman Ken Roberts reported.

All the performers — and a few extras to boot — joined together for the final number. The Northville Record—Novi News—Thursday, November 21, 1953 Section Two — Page Seven

With younger members of the audience clapping in time, musicians ranging from Northville's own jazz band to gular strumming "Hollisters" kept up a steady barrage of music that lasted approximately three hours.

And members of the Jaycee Auxiliary provided refreshments during the intermission. The performers — and a few extras to boot — joined together for the final number.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

I've got my rose-colored glasses on this week. So have Cliff Hill and Walt Belasco. As partners in the Travel Plans travel agency, they're promoting a trip to the Rose Bowl.

And in their advertisement this week they announce that "This is the first time a Rose Bowl team has had a player from Northville."

They're referring to Steve Judy, of course. But I can't help wondering what a fellow from Illinois by the name of Pete Elliott might think about this prediction.

His Illinois eleven will be fighting MSU Saturday for New Year's Day reservations at the Rose Bowl.

If the Spartans should win, Judy will undoubtedly be in shape for the Bowl game. Hill and Belasco would like to organize a plane-load of local people — about 80 — to go out, enjoy the game, and pay tribute to Steve.

Last week I attended a planning commission meeting and heard an expert on shopping centers and downtown business districts.

All those present agreed that every local businessman should hear what he had to say and see what he had to show.

Plans are now underway for his return before a full audience of businessmen, probably early next year.

The speaker helped plan Northland and the Kalamazoo mall.

The Kalamazoo success story is enough to excite any retailer and the color pictures of the progress of the project were especially impressive. Imagine, if you can, a huge steam shovel standing in the middle of Main Street chewing up all the concrete between Center and Huron streets.

Kalamazoo did this along two blocks. The street was converted into a brightly colored shopping area — described as another "aisle" for each of the adjoining stores.

Result of the project has been a huge boost in business, some $1 million in additional commercial construction annually and a start on the road to a good job of community planning.

Surprisingly, the cost of creating the mall over the two block area was only $13,000 with the city and businessmen sharing equally.

He made these points:

- be bold, create what you want (a temporary mall is a half-way step, too easy to turn back);
- retain your trade area, once pre-empted it is lost forever;
- community loyalty lasts only as long as community is loyal to its citizens;
- street widening accomplishes little, route traffic around cities;
- downtown district should provide good mixture, banks, professional, real estate, services, etc., as well as retail.

The speaker emphasized that communities are no longer competitors for business. "The shopping center is your competitor. Communities must work together to keep the mobile shopper at home."

Tax Reform Failure a 'Hot Potato'

LANSING — A game of cat and mouse is in full swing in the Legislature. Hopes of major fiscal reform being accomplished in the current session began to slip down the drain when the Senate leaders failed to muster enough votes.

First they couldn't get the Governor's income tax bill which was the core of his program, out of the Senate Appropriations Committee. Then they didn't come close to having enough votes on the floor to substitute the administration income tax proposal for another which was already on the daily calendar.

Hints for Thrifty Shoppers

ROGER PARK, Mass., says Babson offers these hints for thrifty shoppers:

1. Buy in a complete series of freeway interchange numbers will be finished on one route next summer.

2. Using mileage numbers the department will install figures at each interchange on Interstate 94, the 225-mile route from New Buffalo to Detroit.

3. The mileage numbering system will be new to many drivers since most states use a consecutive system. On 194, however, the interchange numbers will coincide with the mileage route markers on the side of the highway.

If the motorist is going to exit at Interchange 59 and is at Interchange 25, he knows he has 25 miles to go before his exit point and he can gauge his progress by the mileage markers.

Highway officials decided on this system largely because of the new, hundreds of new exit-ramp signs are being added as development re-

Community Saddened by Death of President

Schools Close, Business Halts

When an assassin's bullets stilled the heart of President John F. Kennedy Friday afternoon in Dallas, Texas, the nation's heart stopped too.

A wave of disbelief, then sorrow blanketed every community.

In Northville, Novi and Wixom, shoppers huddled around radios in the stores. When the President's death was announced there were sighs and then silence.

Business stopped.

In the schools students sat still at their desks and listened.

Northville Assistant Principal LaGene York was choked with emotion when he made the announcement over the public address system.

"Nobody spoke. They just sat there. Some had tears in their eyes. We had a test scheduled, but it was futile to go ahead," said a 12th grade teacher.

"We were all stunned; no one could concentrate," commented Superintendent of Northville Schools Russell Amerman.

Within minutes flags throughout the area were lowered to half-mast. No one had to be asked. It was automatic.

"It happened to hear it on the police department radio," said Novi police dispatcher Lawrence Fest. "It's always noisy. Then over the air someone said 'Tell your chief the President was shot. Who?' Then everything went silent."

Tom Mazanec of Northville, member of Bell Telephone's public relations staff, said reaction was instantaneous. Telephone equipment clicked along normally, then suddenly everything broke loose, he said.

The following proclamation was issued by the mayor of Northville, by the supervisor of Northville township, and by the president of the Northville school board:

In accordance with the proclamation of President Johnson, we join in urging all citizens of our community to observe Monday, November 25, as a day of mourning for our late, beloved President John F. Kennedy.

All schools and city and township offices will be closed all day Monday and only those government operations essential to public health and safety will be performed.

It is further suggested that all local businesses, to the extent practicable, be closed during the hours of 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Local churches have made arrangements to permit citizens to pay their respects and reverence to the memory of our late President in their respective places of worship.

Novi Village President Joseph Crupi issued a formal statement:

"The shocking tragedy that stunned the nation and the world on Friday last week was an equally heavy blow to all citizens of Novi.

"Officials of the Village of Novi, its department heads and its employees join with me, as do all the citizens of our community, in expressing our most profound sympathy to the family of our late President John F. Kennedy.

"Our prayers go out for the man who must now take up the reigns of our nation in this mournful hour. May God give him guidance and strength to give meaning to the ideals that make America 'the land of the free and the home of the brave.'"

By proclamation of the state board of education all schools in Michigan were closed Monday.

Zoning Change Hearing Includes Minute of Silence

A joint public hearing of the Novi village council and planning board was to be held as scheduled Monday evening.

Village President Joseph said Saturday that the hearing to consider rezoning of property near the I-96 ramp and Novi intersection would be held.

He pointed out that village offices would be closed during the day, and that a minute of silence in memory of the late President would be observed.

The mayor and the city council of Northville sent the following telegram to Mrs. John F. Kennedy:

"We extend to you and your family on behalf of the citizens of Northville, Michigan our deepest sympathy. May you have strength in knowledge that President Kennedy's efforts in behalf of a better America have not been in vain."

On Sunday churches throughout the area set aside periods for silent prayer, included prayers in their services, or held memorial services. Then on Monday doors were open throughout the day at some churches, and some opened their doors during the 1/2 hours when services were being conducted for President Kennedy.

Bells at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church tolled 46 times at noon Monday in token of each year of President Kennedy's life.

The unexpected tragedy upset many plans of local area residents to attend football games at East Lansing and at Ann Arbor. Fans were preparing to leave for the games when announcement of postponement was made.

Construction of Plant Well Underway in Novi

Construction of a new $105,000 manufacturing plant and retail outlet for a national trailer firm is expected to be completed by the first of next year.

Officials of the U-Haul Trailer corporation announced this past week that the building, now under construction on Seelye Road just north of Grand River, will become the new Detroit metropolitan area of the national firm.

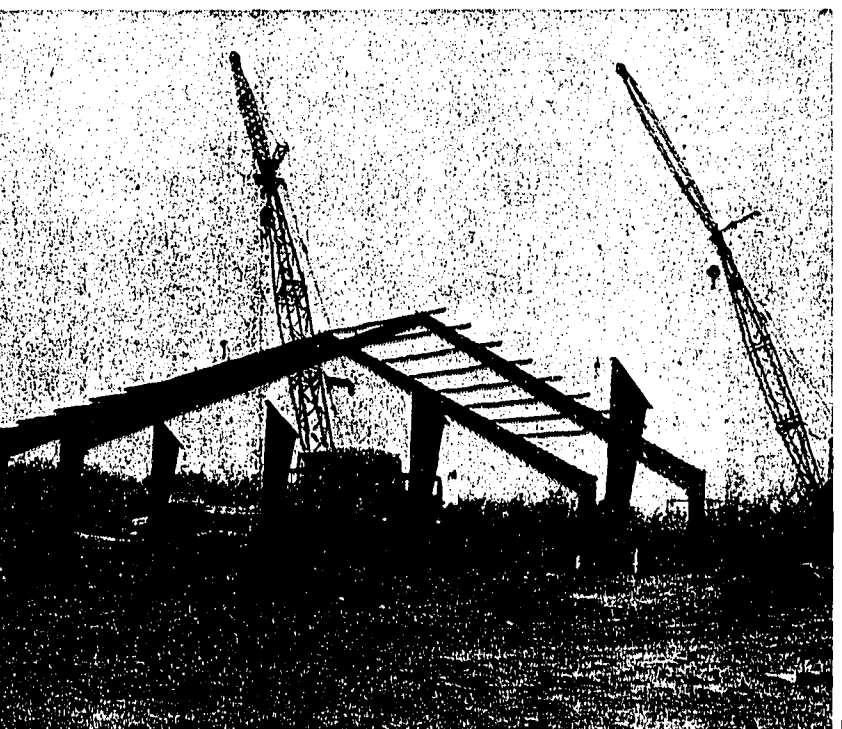

Steel superstructure of the building is already in place, with preparations being made for construction of concrete walls.

The 120 X 165-foot building will serve both as a plant for manufacturing trailers and as an office-retail outlet for trailers.

Currently, the U-Haul office is located on West Seven Mile Road near Inster. Officials of the Detroit office, which will move to the Novi location when the building is completed, is William McCurry.

Samuel Smith is president of the U-Haul corporation. According to McCurry, he has been 13 to 20 employees will be transferred to the Novi building when the firm moves here.

PICK NOVI — When office and manufacturing space became too small, the Detroit office of the U-Haul corporation chose Novi as its new home. With construction of its new, modern facilities here already well underway officials predict opening by early next year.

Thanksgiving Services Set in Area Churches

As the nation mourns the death of President Kennedy, it also prepares to give thanks for his many blessings this week in traditional Thanksgiving church services.

Congregations in Northville, Salem, Novi and Wixom will offer prayers and hymns of thanks at special services either Wednesday evening or on Thursday, Thanksgiving Day.

In Novi, a Thanksgiving Union Service will be held at the First Methodist Church of Novi, with participation by Willowbrook Community Church, the Church of the Holy Cross (Episcopal), the Orchard Hills Baptist Church, and the New Hudson Methodist Church.

The sermon for this joint service will be delivered by the Rev. Peter Tonella, vicar of the Church of the Holy Cross.

Reverend Paul Barnes has announced that a Thanksgiving service will be held at the Novi Baptist Church beginning at 7:30 p.m. The service originally was planned to be a thankful, joyous one, but because of President Kennedy's death it was changed. Pastor Barnes said he hoped church members will read about their favorite Scripture and be asked why it is their favorite.

The First Baptist Church of Wixom will hold services at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday evening, preceded by a 6:30 p.m. potluck supper.

Praise prayer and Communion will highlight the candlelight service at the Baptist Church in Wixom. Special music will include a solo by Mrs. Mary York and a presentation by Mrs. William Craig.

Northville Presbyterians and Wixom Presbyterians will observe the day with a special service at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. S. D. Kinde, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will conduct the Thanksgiving service at the First Baptist Church of Northville plans to hold worship services from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. Thursday. The Rev. Robert Spradling, pastor, will deliver a sermon entitled, "Praise and Thanksgiving." Communion also will be held. Midweek prayer and Bible study will be held on Wednesday evening as usual.

A special Mass will be held at 8 a.m. Thursday at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church. According to the Reverend Fr. John Wittstock, a collection will be taken at the service for the Vincent DePaul Society which gives money to poor and needy of the parish. Throughout the week, he said, church members will be collecting for needy overseas.

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Northville will hold a worship service beginning at 10:30 a.m. on Thursday. According to the Rev. B. J. Pankow, pastor of the church, the sermon topic will be taken from Psalm 100. It will be titled "Bless The Lord, Oh My Soul."

Special choir music will be sung at the Lutheran service. The choir will sing an anthem titled "Give to the Lord of Harvest," and the junior choir will sing "Now Thank We All Our God."

Salem Federated Church will place special emphasis on Thanksgiving Day. P. John Thomas, a missionary from India, will be the principal speaker at the service Thanksgiving Day and the meetings to follow on Friday, Saturday and Sunday with a missionary emphasis.

Five Brighton churches will participate in Union Thanksgiving services Wednesday at 8:00 p.m. at the First Methodist church, Wesleyan, Episcopal, Presbyterian and Lutheran congregations will participate.

Reorganizing Plan For Counties Eyed

A county reorganizational measure, authored in Wayne County, is being considered by the Legislature — counties may be reorganized. Rather, it permits the counties to do so if they so desire.

The measure was not written exclusively for the benefit of Wayne county. Its provisions would be broad enough to encompass all counties, although, admittedly, they will satisfy the needs of Wayne.

The measure is permissive only; it is not a charter. It does not mean — as enacted by the Legislature — counties may reorganize. Rather, it permits the counties to do so if they so desire.

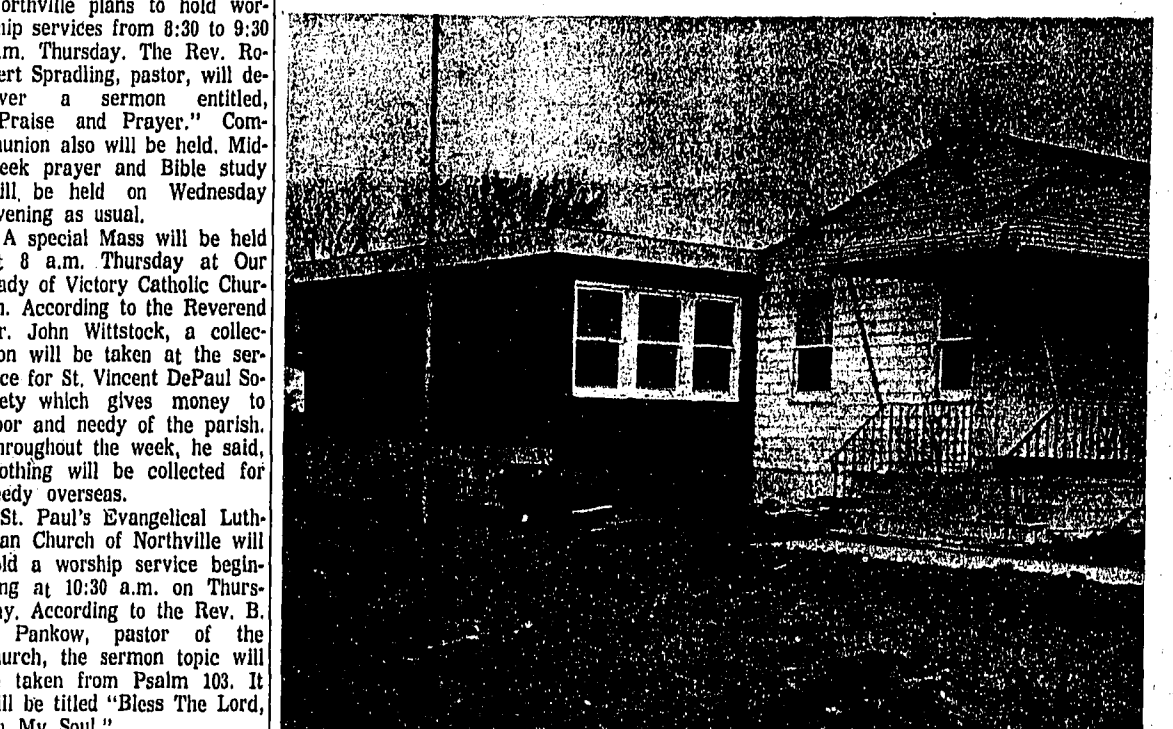

The measure was not written exclusively for the benefit of Wayne county. Its provisions would be broad enough to encompass all counties, although, admittedly, they will satisfy the needs of Wayne.

The measure first provides for the establishment of a charter commission, either by the decision of the board of supervisors of a county, or upon petition of five-percent of the qualified electors of a county.

The commissioners are to be elected by the people. Once the commission has adopted a county charter, the charter must be submitted to the governor for approval.

Few out-county supervisors questioned the proposed mechanics for adopting a charter at Thursday's meeting. They questioned instead the permissive provisions under the charter, particularly where county, city and township jurisdictions appeared to conflict.

"Any county charter adopted under the provisions of this act shall provide: (G) For the power and authority to adopt, amend and repeal any ordinance, for any county purpose which concerns the public health, safety and general welfare of the county, which is not specifically prohibited by state law, and which is deemed essential to implement the
