SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER
I've got my rose-colored glasses on this week. So have Cliff Hill and Walt Belasco. As partners in the Travel Plans travel agency, they're promoting a trip to the Rose Bowl.

And in their advertisement this week they announce that "This is the first time a Rose Bowl team has had a player from Northville."

They're referring to Steve Judy, of course. But I can't help wondering what a fellow from Illinois by the name of Pete Elliott might think about this prediction.

His Illinois eleven will be fighting MSU Saturday for New Year's Day reservations at the Rose Bowl.

If the Spartans should win, Judy will undoubtedly be in shape for the Bowl game. Hill and Belasco would like to organize a team-load of local people — about 80 — to go out, enjoy the game, and pay tribute to Steve.

Last week I attended a planning commission meeting and heard an expert on shopping centers and downtown business districts.

All those present agreed that every local businessman should hear what he had to say and see what he had to show.

Plans are now underway for his return before a full audience of businessmen, probably early next year.

The speaker helped plan Northland and the Kalamazoo mall.

The Kalamazoo success story is enough to excite any retailer and the color pictures of the progress of the project were especially impressive. Imagine, if you can, a huge steam shovel standing in the middle of Main Street chewing up all the concrete between Center and Huron streets.

Kalamazoo did this along two blocks. The street was converted into a brightly colored shopping area — described as another "aisle" for each of the adjoining stores.

Result of the project has been a huge boost in business, some $1 million in additional commercial construction annually and a start on the road to a good job of community planning.

Surprisingly, the cost of creating the mall over the two block area was only $13,000 with the city and businessmen sharing equally.

He made these points:
— be bold, create what you want (a temporary mall is a half-way step, too easy to turn back);
— retain your trade area, once pre-empted it is lost forever;
— community loyalty lasts only as long as community is loyal to its citizens;
— street widening accomplishes little, route traffic around cities;
— downtown district should provide good mixture, banks, professional, real estate, services, etc., as well as retail.

The speaker emphasized that communities are no longer competitors for business. "The shopping center is your competitor. Communities must work together to keep the mobile shopper at home."

MANUFACTURERS, that's my bank!
Why not make it yours?

One of the many ways in which Manufacturers Bank may be helpful to you is through our Personal Loan Service. At Manufacturers you may borrow $300, $500, $1000 or more for any worthwhile purpose — on your signature alone! Thousands say, "Manufacturers, that's my bank." Make it yours.

Tax Reform Failure a 'Hot Potato'

LANSING — A game of cat and mouse is in full swing in the Legislature. Hopes of major fiscal reform being accomplished in the current session began to slip down the drain when the Senate leaders failed to muster enough votes. First they couldn't get the Governor's income tax bill which was the core of his program, out of the Senate Appropriations Committee. Then they didn't come close to having enough votes on the floor to substitute the administration income tax proposal for another which was already on the daily calendar.

Gov. George Romney is not a quitter, however, and is not admitting this meant defeat. His aides, several of whom are politically wiser than he, also advised against giving up at that point.

It would be much better if blame for failure of the program was placed on the other side, rather than having it said in the future that the Governor was unable to get Republican legislators behind him.

Democrats, on the other hand, don't want it to look like they didn't want major fiscal reform. This would be contrary to the story they were on record with under previous administrations.

They also did not want to give Romney his program as a silver platter for future campaign reference. The only possible route for Democrats was to find several spots in the Romney program to claim the entire proposal was unacceptable.

Which party is the cat and which the mouse will not be determined until the Governor and legislators return to the campaign job ahead in 1964.

Still ahead in the special session is the important implementation of the constitution which takes effect January 1.

Creation of an appellate court, just beneath the Supreme Court, and election of county officers long as two of the more controversial areas of concern.

Much of the Constitution will not be fully implemented in the law until the regular 1964 session or hereafter. It would take several months to pass the various areas might wait until next year, but many members feel they should be taken care of now.

At issue on the appellate court legislation is the question of how justices will be elected. Some want the state broken down into three districts equal in population, with three justices to be elected at-large from each district.

Others would like nine single-member districts formed to elect the justices.

Several legislators have their eyes on appellate court posts so there likely will be much in-fighting on this question.

The recommended change in the election law regarding county officials would give present officers a free two years in office.

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley has said this is unconstitutional, but some members feel it was the intent of the Constitutional Convention delegates to have county officers run in a non-presidential election year.

Hints for Thrifty Shoppers

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Housewives are often so busy with their family chores and their children that they don't take the time to map out their shopping that could save them a great deal of money in the course of a year.

So, once in a while I am bold enough to give women shoppers a few tips that could help them balance their household budgets.

For many years I have predicted that discount houses would eventually become a key factor in merchandising, and that is now clearly a fact.

Their overhead is considerably lower than that of the big department stores, hence they are worthy of the attention of every budget-conscious shopper.

The clever woman will quickly discover how to take advantage of the good points of discounters and avoid the pitfalls of their stores.

First in a complete series of freeway interchange numbers will be finished on one route on certain freeways.

Using mileage numbers the department will install figures at each interchange on Interstate 94, the 225 mile route from New Buffalo to Detroit.

The mileage numbering system will be new to many drivers since most states use a consecutive system. On 194, however, the interchange numbers will coincide with the mileage route markers on the side of the highway.

If the motorist is going to exit at Interchange 89 and is at Interchange 25, he knows he has 25 miles to go before his exit point and he can gauge his progress by the mileage markers.

Highway officials decided on this system largely because of the new numbering signs are added as development requires without complicating the numbering system.

Department officials are fairly well convinced this is the best system for Michigan. It could also be used if designations on maps were deleted for roadside rest areas and other facilities, they note.

The final decision, however, will largely depend on motorist reaction during approximately one year before any further numbering signs are installed on other freeways.

pers carefully, you will often come upon "Manufacturers' overstock." While these may reduce the approach of new models, they sometimes are literal examples of overstocking and of the need to free storage space for something else.

Keep an eye out, too, for warehouse clearances, which frequently offer genuine buys in clothing, household goods, etc. While you may think it too much trouble to gear your buying to bargain opportunities like these, will it not be worth it if, over a period of a few years, you are able to save several thousand dollars to use for things you might otherwise not have been able to afford?

Another way to save money is to watch seasonal markdowns in certain special lines. All kinds of linen, for example, may be bought very inexpensively at regular "White Sales."

Most women know about such events, but often let them slip by and then have to make their purchases at much higher cost. Keep in mind, too, the "Pur Sales" that offer coats and fur pieces at greatly reduced prices. You will recognize that many of these specials come during the summertime, but those in the know tell me that the real bargains may be found at the very tip-end of the winter.

Keep your eye open at all times for "loss leaders." These are items that a retailer sells below cost in order to draw customers into the store. The retailer's reasoning here is of course, that the buyers who are attracted will pick up regular-profit articles, too, while they are there.

If a young couple without too much money have the paternal areas might wait until next year, but many members feel they should be taken care of now.

Community Saddened by Death of President

Schools Close, Business Halts

When an assassin's bullets stilled the heart of President John F. Kennedy Friday afternoon in Dallas, Texas, the nation's heart stopped too.

A wave of disbelief, then sorrow blanketed every community.

In Northville, Novi and Wixom, shoppers huddled around radios in the stores. When the President's death was announced there were sighs and then silence.

Business stopped.

In the schools students sat still at their desks and listened.

Northville Assistant Principal LaGene Quack was choked with emotion when he made the announcement over the public address system.

"Nobody spoke. They just sat there. Some had tears in their eyes. We had a test scheduled, but it was futile to go ahead," said a 12th grade teacher.

"We were all stunned; no one could concentrate," commented Superintendent of Northville Schools Russell Amerman.

Within minutes flags throughout the area were lowered to half-mast. No one had to be asked. It was automatic.

"It happened to hear it on the police department radio," said Novi police dispatcher Lawrence Fest. "It's always noisy. Then over the air someone said 'Tell your chief the President was shot. Who?' Then everything went silent."

Tom Mazanec of Northville, member of Bell Telephone's public relations staff, said reaction was instantaneous. Telephone equipment clicked along normally, then suddenly everything broke loose, he said.

The following proclamation was issued by the mayor of Northville, by the supervisor of Northville township, and by the president of the Northville school board:

In accordance with the proclamation of President Johnson, we join in urging all citizens of our community to observe Monday, November 25, as a day of mourning for our late, beloved President John F. Kennedy.

Consequently, all local schools and city and township offices will be closed all day Monday and only those government operations essential to public health and safety will be performed.

It is further suggested that all local businesses, to the extent practicable, be closed during the hours of 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Local churches have made arrangements to permit citizens to pay their respects and reverence to the memory of our late President in their respective places of worship.

Novi Village President Joseph Crupi issued a formal statement.

"The shocking tragedy that stunned the nation and the world on Friday last week was an equally heavy blow to all citizens of Novi.

"Officials of the Village of Novi, its department heads and its employees join with me, as do all the citizens of our community, in expressing our most profound sympathy to the family of our late President John F. Kennedy.

"Our prayers go out for the man who must now take up the reigns of our nation in this mournful hour. May God give him guidance and strength to give meaning to the ideals that make America 'the land of the free and the home of the brave.'"

By proclamation of the state board of education all schools in Michigan were closed Monday.

The mayor and the city council of Northville sent the following telegram to Mrs. John F. Kennedy:

"We extend to you and your family on behalf of the citizens of Northville, Michigan our deepest sympathy. May you have strength in knowledge that President Kennedy's efforts in behalf of a better America have not been in vain."

On Sunday churches throughout the area set aside periods for silent prayer, included prayers in their services, or held memorial services. Then on Monday doors were open throughout the day at some churches, and some opened their doors during the 1/2 hours when services were being conducted for President Kennedy.

Bells at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church tolled 46 times at noon Monday in token of each year of President Kennedy's life.

The unexpected tragedy upset many plans of local area residents to attend football games at East Lansing and at Ann Arbor. Fans were preparing to leave for the games when announcement of postponement was made.

Because many movie theaters were closed Friday night, the Ohio State university football team — slated to battle the Wolverines in Ann Arbor on Saturday — came to Northville to see a

Construction of Plant Well Underway in Novi

Construction of a new $105,000 manufacturing plant and retail outlet for a national trailer firm is expected to be completed by the first of next year.

U-Haul was founded in 1946. Since then the operation has grown into a national organization with the central office located at Portland, Oregon. Retail outlets are located throughout the United States.

Trailer corporation announced this past week that the building, now under construction on Seelye Road just north of Grand River, will become the new Detroit metropolitan area of the national firm.

Steel superstructure of the building is already in place, with preparations being made for construction of concrete walls.

The 120 X 165-foot building will serve both as a plant for manufacturing trailers and as an office-retail outlet for trailers.

He pointed out that village offices would be closed during the day, and that a minute of silence in memory of the late President would be observed.

Currently, the U-Haul office is located on West Seven Mile Road near Inster. Officials

Town Hall Speaker Warns of Communism

A warning, charged with the omission of a man who admits some responsibility for Communism, was aimed at the United States citizens in the second Town Hall lecture of the current season.

Substituting for his associate, Alexander Rorer, Jr., who is missing in a plane believed to have crashed in the Gulf of Mexico, Major Pedro Diaz Lanz said he sees a parallel between Cuba's fate and a trend toward dictatorship in the United States.

The Town Hall speaker urged citizens of this nation to alert themselves to the danger signals of communism by taking the Communist take-over in Cuba.

THANKSGIVING DAY opens "turkey season" as many, many families pause to count their blessings. The pause will be brief however, as the holiday shopping rush begins Friday.

Thursday will be a family day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Eaton, 385 Eaton drive, as their son and wife, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Eaton, and their four children come from Howell.

At the William E. Davis home, 352 Orchard drive, sons Billy and Gary will join the family for the holiday. Billy will be here from Andover school in Boston, and Gary, from Western Reserve in Ohio. Gary had dropped in on his parents briefly earlier this month when Western Reserve competed in a track meet at Cranbrook school.

Mrs. Harvey Whipple, 46280 West Main street, is expecting her daughter and son-in-law, the Edwin A. Browns, and son David from their home in Avon Lake near Cleveland for the Thanksgiving holiday.

A pre-Thanksgiving visit is being paid Dr. and Mrs. Harold L. Wright, 19050 Westhill road, by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berghower, who are to return to their family and new home in Dayton, Ohio, Tuesday.

AT MEADOWBROOK COUNTRY CLUB on Thursday members will be able to eat turkey at the club but snack on it later at home, if they wish. Individual turkeys have been ordered for many family groups. What isn't feasted upon will be boxed and sent home with the family.

Among those with holiday reservations are the Lewis Alexanders, Jan Reefs, William N. Davises (with a table for 16), Frank Angles (13 in this group), and Mrs. John Hetteche, who will dine with friends.

The club also is making plans for its traditional children's party to be held the Sunday preceding Christmas.

African Doctor to Speak Wednesday Distinguished Guests Visit Dyers

Reunions with family and friends are carrying on the true tradition of Thanksgiving this week at the Brookland Farms home of Dr. and Mrs. H. Leroy Dyer.

It is, coincidence, however, which brings their distinguished guests to the Detroit area at this time.

Dr. Clifton Nelson a medical classmate of Dr. Dyer's, and his family will be "Thanksgiving" giving guests before returning to Tanganyika, East Africa.

Dr. Dyer's brothers-in-law and sisters, Dr. and Mrs. Neil by will be returning for a new five-year term.

Kola Ndola hospital is a teaching hospital, serving in a 450 per cent increase in surgical cases during the past five years.

Dr. Nelson recently traveled 10,000 miles in East Africa with a medical research team headed by Dr. Burkitt, whose subsequent reports at the American College of Surgeons convention on virus-caused cancers (known as Burkitt tumors) were widely carried in news releases this fall.

Dr. Nelson prepared for missionary work with a year of post-graduate study in surgery and a year's training in mission work in Evanston, Illinois. He served two years with the government health service in Uganda, then transferred to the Africa Island Mission.

As an associate professor on the faculty of Wisconsin State college, Superior, Wisconsin, Dr. McKay teaches musical composition.

One of his own works was having its fourth performance in the string quartet program in Detroit Friday, Wayne State university was host for the two-day forum, which is sponsored by Valparaiso University.

Under the title, "Music for Quiet Listening," Dr. McKay has a record out under Mercury label. He wrote his "Larghetto" from a full-length symphony, which he composed in five months.

His compositions have been performed by the Dallas symphony and in Duluth, Ottawa,

Washington, D.C. and Rochester, N.Y. Most satisfying to him was a report from a former student living in Germany that a recording of his had been broadcast on Voice of America.

Dr. McKay did his graduate work at the Eastman school of music, New York. While serving in the Canadian Navy, he was a clarinetist with the Navy band. He also arranged music for dance bands and radio.

Until nine years ago, he had his own summer dance band at Grand Bond, Ont.

Dr. Dyer's sister, Marian McKay, shares her husband's musical interest. She teaches piano in the off-campus program of Wisconsin State college.

Council members learned that the Junior Chamber of Commerce wishes to give up the sponsorship of the Fourth of July parade. The council took the position that the project is a good one, expressing the hope that it will be carried on or shared by some organization.

The guests from Clawson were here to observe the local council since they are instrumental in forming a similar group in their community. They are to visit other groups in the area.

A report of the 1963 Citizenship Dinner was received. It was reported that the total attendance was 365, including 27 new voting citizens.

Organizations are reminded to place the dates of their special events on the calendar located in the Northville Record office.

No council meeting is scheduled in December. The next regular meeting is slated for January 16.

Births
Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Mikles of 2991 West LeRoy, Novi are proud to announce the birth of a baby daughter on November 30 at St. Joseph Mercy hospital in Pontiac.

The baby, named Nina Mary, weighed 6 pounds, 2 ounces at birth.

There are four other children in the Miklas family, Paula, Vin, Shawn, and Mark.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dale Demankowski on November 15 at St. Francis hospital in Topeka, Kansas.

The baby, the only child of the Demankowskis, weighed 3 pounds, 1 ounce at birth. She was named Audrey Lynn.

Mrs. Demankowski is the former Janice Gow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Gow, 442 Randolph, Northville.

It is difficult to convince a child that it is not too late for you. "You are going that way. Maybe you don't realize it. Look at my burned hands — if you think I'm just jingling your hand in the fire."

Lanz centralized that the growing centralization of power in the hands of the U.S.

Castro immediately branded him a "traitor," and Lanz was forced to flee his homeland.

United States people of the imminent danger of communism in this country, he said, but we can avert them. "I wish I knew 10 years ago what I know now. But it's too late. But we can avert them."

When they started pro-Communist indoctrination in the armed forces, Major Lanz resigned his commission and publicly told why.

Castro took over in the Communist take-over in Cuba.

Major Lanz admitted that, like millions of other Cubans, he failed to recognize the Communist menace until after it was too late to prevent it from enveloping the island.

He organized and became commanding chief of the Rebel Air Force — supplying weapons to Fidel Castro in the Maestra Mountains. Twice his plane was bombed and destroyed in the mountains, and he stayed for three months fighting with Castro's guerrillas in the hills.

On January 1, 1959, when Castro took over, Major Lanz became commanding chief of the Cuban Air Force. As the days went by he found himself unable to support his fears that Castro was giving over the island to the Communists.

When they started pro-Communist indoctrination in the armed forces, Major Lanz resigned his commission and publicly told why.

Castro immediately branded him a "traitor," and Lanz was forced to flee his homeland.

Outline Care For Turkey
Since the first Thanksgiving Day in 1621, turkey has become the American family's symbol of thankfulness for a beautiful harvest.

1. Thaw a frozen bird in the refrigerator for 2 to 4 days, or under cold running water for 2 to 4 hours. Do not thaw a bird at room temperature.

2. If you stuff the turkey, do so just before roasting. Never stuff the bird and partially cook the day before eating. Warm stuffing is an ideal place for food spoilage bacteria to grow.

3. Don't freeze a stuffed bird, either before or after cooking. This process is done commercially but is not recommended for home use.

4. Be sure to put the turkey, stuffing and gravy in the refrigerator within one hour after Thanksgiving dinner.

LEST WE FORGET

This is the season of the year, we all should sit down and count our blessings. This has been a good year for me, due to the Lord above who guided me to the many old friends whose confidence in me never faltered — and to the surprising number of new acquaintances who gave me their support. To each, I extend a heartfelt and grateful "Thank You."

Minutes of Northville City Council

The regular council meeting of Monday, November 1963 was called to order at 8:00 p.m. in the city hall by Mayor Allen.

Present: Allen, Ambler, Canterbury, Carlson, Kester, Hartner, and Miller. Absent: None.

The minutes of the previous meeting of October 7, 1963 were approved with corrections. Moved by Carlson, supported by Canterbury that in the following amounts be paid:

General	$12,422.10
Water	2,567.70
City Hall Construc.	352.49

Unanimously carried.

Communications:

A letter from Mr. Gene Quay, 929 North Street, Northville, was read in which he requested that the City Engineer and Police Department be notified of the Chief of Police for the month of October 17, 1963.

A communication from Glenn Brown, Wayne County Public Health Engineer, regarding the water situation in Hillcrest North Subdivision, was read. Copies of this letter are to be sent to Mr. Ambler and Mr. Carlson by the Water Commission. Council instructed that this letter be answered saying that it is hoped that Northville will establish a policy for a water system.

Second Reading and Final Adoption of Parking District Amendment to zoning Ordinance:

Moved by Carlson, supported by Kester that the zoning Ordinance be amended by the addition of Article V-B "P" District - Parking (in City Hall) Unanimously carried.

Second Reading and Final Adoption of Side Yard Setback for Corner Lot Amending Ordinance:

Moved by Ambler, supported by Kester that the zoning Ordinance be amended by amending Section 4.09; the addition of a new section to Article IV - Z:1; addition to Article V - S:10; addition of a new section to Article VI - Sec. 6.11 (on file at City Hall). Unanimously carried.

Further Consideration on Street Lights for the Northville Estates Area:

Mr. Zweig and Mr. Hummel were present, representing Northville Estates and presented a petition with 72 signatures of residents who preferred not to have additional street lighting installed in their subdivision at this time. Mr. Zweig reported a total of 100 residents - 14 were not contacted and 4, to some degree, did want lighting. The two men were thanked for their cooperation and told that at this time there would be no additional lighting installed for their subdivision.

Report by City Engineer (concerning the bid for the Orchard Drive storm sewer):

The City Engineer presented a report and tabulation of bids received on the Orchard Drive storm sewer job, in which he stated that all bids checked out, and that the error was made during the redesigning. The engineer felt that there was no reason for not accepting the low bid of Dynacolor Construction Co. and reported they have done reputable work in Plymouth Township and other neighboring communities. The engineer was asked to contact D'Angela and Pollicelli for information on holding their bid firm.

Report by City Attorney for the Legal Requirements for Re-hearing of the Orchard Drive special assessments:

Attached is the opinion of the attorney regarding a re-hearing for the Orchard Drive special assessment in which the sets forth the four requirements necessary at this time. Moved by Kester, supported by Ambler that the City Assessor and City Clerk be instructed to follow the requirements (on file at City Hall) and sent out notices to all property owners 10 days prior to the Public Hearing for Monday, November 18, 1963, 8:00 p.m. at the Northville City Hall, 122 N. Wing Street. Unanimously carried. (People receiving notices to have an explanation of the situation as reviewed at the November 4th meeting, by City Engineer and City Attorney.)

City Manager's report Parking Violations and fines:

A report from the City Manager was read (attached) regarding fine schedule in Farmington and Farmington. After some discussion, moved by Canterbury, supported by Kester that the following schedule of fines for violations be as follows:

Metered Fine	— $5.00 if paid within 24 hours; $10.00 if paid after 24 hours.
Present Absent	— $10.00 if paid within 24 hours; $20.00 if paid after 24 hours.

Unanimously carried.

City Attorney report on the advisability of Special Election concerning Municipal Court Jurisdiction:

The City Attorney gave an opinion regarding the transition from Northville Justice Court to Municipal Court (copy on file at city hall) wherein he stated that in his opinion this change should be made. He also stated that it would require a charter amendment and that in his opinion unless matters change this would not be necessary to present to the voters before the fall of 1964. Council asked that the City Attorney keep them informed as to timing necessary on the matter of Court Transition.

City Manager to Report on Tree Programs:

A report was made by the City Manager on file at city hall wherein the area survey of the Northville Estates, Bassline, Rogers street and Court street, needs 23 trees. Total cost of this program would be approximately $600 and could be spread over 4 or 5 years. The ordinance is to be checked to see if recommendations in the report are included in the ordinance. The City Manager said that the report would be placed on the agenda for the next meeting.

Progress report on building District - Parking (in City Hall) Unanimously carried.

Attached is a report from the City Manager on building District - Parking (in City Hall) Unanimously carried.

Miscellaneous:

George Kolas reported that Mr. Harley Cole had been approached by the city of Farmington regarding the proposed fence on the cemetery property and this was answered to the satisfaction of the city.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 10:45 p.m.

Respectfully submitted

NOVI HIGHLIGHTS

Mrs. H. D. Henderson and her guests Mr. and Mrs. George Atkinson and their guests Mr. and Mrs. George Kairi and Mrs. Frances Denton of Redford are spending the Thanksgiving holiday at the Atkinson cottage near Levistown.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Warren and family plan to have Thanksgiving day dinner with the former mother, Mrs. Harley Butler of Waterford.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Blacklee and son Ricky of East Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Butler and children and family attended the play "The House of the August Moon" in Northville last Tuesday night.

Mr. Canterbury asked about the curve on Novi road and if it would be possible to sign change on the curve and possibly using a reflector type sign. He was also interested in the speed that matters change this would be necessary to present to the voters before the fall of 1964. Council asked that the City Attorney keep them informed as to timing necessary on the matter of Court Transition.

Enthusiasm Tops GAL Competition

For sheer enthusiasm and competitive zeal, there's a group at Northville high school that is hard to beat.

Seventy-five strong, they are members of the Girls Athletic League. Under the watchful eye of the girls' physical education teacher, Miss Pat Buel, the club has grown in membership the past eight years.

No drums beat to herald the girls' accomplishments. They simply take to the field or the playing court to increase their skill, and what's more, they seem to revel in the spirit of competition.

They played the game "Stir the Stew" and then went into 2 patrols. Ellen Lyke passed out the prizes and the girls' scouts joined in with them for the closing taps.

Membership is not restricted and no one is cut from any of the teams. If a girl shows evidence of skill and improvement, she can compete, noted Miss Buel.

"The G.A.L. program provides an after school opportunity for all girls to participate in sports," Miss Buel said, "and any girl is eligible to contribute any amount of time."

The program operates on two levels, according to Miss Buel.

First, there is intramural competition, which gives the girls an opportunity to have fun together, playing amongst themselves. Sports emphasized at this level are archery, volleyball, basketball, bowling, badminton, tennis, golf and softball.

Second there is extramural competition, which enables the girls to develop their skills. Whenever possible, matches with other schools are scheduled.

In their only extramural sport match this fall, the local girls defeated a team from Michigan State. In a contest, the girls lost five seasons, during which time their teams won 37 games, lost only four, and tied two. His 1957 squad was Detroit city champion and his 1958 eleven was runner-up.

Boisture was born February 22, 1925 in Detroit and attended Holy Redeemer high school. He went to the University of Detroit and compiled a fine athletic record. Danny was a football and basketball star with the Titans. He received the B.S. degree from Detroit in 1950.

His first coaching position was at St. Alphonsus high school in Dearborn for a year, and then he spent three seasons at St. Francis Xavier high school in Ecorse.

Boisture served three years in the U.S. Army during World War II. He was wounded in the battle of Okinawa, and received the purple heart and a unit citation.

He is married, and he and his wife, Joan, have three children: John, 10; Joseph, 7; and Martin, 6.

Mustang Five Invades Bloomfield Hills Tuesday

Barons to Have Edge in Cage Opener

Varsity Cagers — With the talents of these Mustangs ride Northville's basketball fortunes. They will journey to Bloomfield Hills next Tuesday night to open the 1963 season with a Wayne-Oakland conference game. Pictured here are (l-r) Coach Dave Longridge, Captain Dan Bishop, Tom Bingham, Tom Krug, Jerry Inslund, Tom Wicke, Rick Milne, John Callaghan, Mark Cushing, Lance Hahn, Jim Mazel, Jerry French, Jim St. Germain and Manager Steve Reed.

Bloomfield Hills will be one up on Northville when the two teams open their Wayne-Oakland conference season next Tuesday night at Bloomfield Hills.

The Barons play Oak Park tonight and therein lies their advantage — they will have played one more game than the local cagers.

Other than this, there doesn't seem to be much difference between the Mustangs and the Barons, at least on paper. Both teams are "green," they both have four or five men either six-two or six-three in height and the offenses are similar.

In the person of a new coach, Bloomfield Hills may have a strategic advantage. He's Hal Henderson, former coach at Notre Dame high school in Harper Woods. On the strength of his record, Bloomfield Hills won't suffer any loss.

His teams had winning seasons in each of his five years, including four district class A championships and one regional crown.

But his task is cut out for him.

Only two letter winners are returning from last year's Barons squad that captured a share of the 1962 title. They are forward Wally Wengren, the eighth man who tallied 28 points last year, and Guard Greg Anderson, the sixth man with 15 points. Wengren has been hampered by a week of the flu.

"We're definitely short on experience," Henderson pointed out, "and we have average speed. We've got a lot of work to do."

Coaches Dave Longridge and Hal Henderson will have something to say.

Both men point to Clarkston and Milford as the preseason favorites to win the W.O. crown. Haily, which usually fields a good team, will also be in contention, the coaches note, and its definitely a strong dark horse.

But no one is ruled out as a possible.

According to Jones, this year's squad has "real good potential."

"We're a better than 900 ball club," Jones noted. "Although not as tall as last year's club, this is a more mobile, much faster team," he added.

Basis for his contention is the team's solid performance against the J.V.s. A hard workout in the gymnasium and on the courts worked hard to stay close.

Heading the list of contenders and admittedly having an edge at this time are Jim Zaykowski, the sixth man, and Jack Crawford. Each is five-foot ten inches tall and has fine point guards.

Crawford, a jumping back who can leap nine feet 11 inches, and Zay, who has shown strength under the boards and a penchant for making the right moves. Both are forwards.

At the pivot is Diabert, another youngster who can check himself well under the basket.

Backing up these three are forwards Larry Beller and Chris Holman and Centers Mike Uley and the tallest man on the squad, six-foot one inch Tom Zielinski.

A standout at guard is Doug Dingwall. During the football season, he was moved up from the JV to the varsity team.

DOUBLE SUCCESS — Michael Flavin, 20, of 10107 West Seven Mile road, was doubly successful last week, bagging this 320-pound black bear on the opening day of the season, and then on the following day he shot the six-point buck. He was hunting in the Upper Peninsula near Newberry.

At Grid Banquet

MSU Coach To Speak Here

Dan Boisture, backfield assistant coach at Michigan State University, will be the guest speaker at a annual Northville football banquet sponsored by the Exchange Club.

According to Cliff Hill of the sponsoring club, Boisture and Northville's star quarterback at MSU, Steve Judy, will be the guests of honor at the banquet slated for December 4.

The 6:30 p.m. banquet will be held at the Northville Presbyterian church hall.

Boisture is in his second year of coaching Spartan backfield defensive patterns. He came to the East Lansing "camps" in March 1962 and was assigned as defensive backfield coach.

He took over as offensive backfield coach last year when Bill Yeoman left to become head coach at Houston.

Prior to moving to Michigan State, Boisture coached a very successful record as head football coach at Redford St. Mary's high school in Detroit, some 10; Joseph, 7; and Martin, 6.

Frosh Quintet Battles Friday

Members of the Northville freshman team will no sooner don a Thanksgiving meal than they will be on their way Friday to Farmington where they will receive a basketball baptism against Groves.

Out of four other candidates, the other starting guard will be chosen. They are Pat Hall, Jim Long, John Newton and Mike Holsieck.

At the helm of the frosh squad will be a newcomer, Dave Madden, high school math teacher. Assisting him will be assistant manager Tom Holsieck, the coaching ropes is Athletic Director Al Jones.

Grid Quiz Held Over

Because of the postponement or cancellation of most football games last weekend, all football contest entries are being held for correction until the completion of games next Saturday.

All entries will be judged on the basis of the games played by that date.

Any game that was permanently cancelled or scheduled for play later than next Saturday will be eliminated from consideration.

Winners will be announced in the December 5 edition.

Former Northville Couple Write of Alaskan Hunt

Jerre and Margie Wills, the Northville couple who took their children and moved to Alaska in an old log trailer caravan, recently returned from a hunting trip near their home.

Jerre finished up fishing (commercial), which was very good. We didn't make expenses. Then Jerre took moon (a very thorny weed that makes you itch like crazy if touched) and a lot of big and small patches of older bushes. We left here at noon on Friday and arrived at about 4 p.m. in the afternoon. We had driven about five miles back to the foot of the mountain on an old log trail. About five minutes after we stopped, Jerre sighted a big black bear, feeding slowly across the mountain about 1/2 way up.

So, we worked quickly, getting our guns loaded and our packs filled the way we wanted — cameras, sandwiches, sleeping bags, heavy coats, etc. We put them on our backs, grabbed our guns and started up the mountain. The grass was as tall as our heads. And there was some Dew's Club beer. We didn't make expenses. Then Jerre took moon (a very thorny weed that makes you itch like crazy if touched) and a lot of big and small patches of older bushes. We left here at noon on Friday and arrived at about 4 p.m. in the afternoon. We had driven about five miles back to the foot of the mountain on an old log trail. About five minutes after we stopped, Jerre sighted a big black bear, feeding slowly across the mountain about 1/2 way up.

After clearing one hill we spotted another black bear — quite large — across a deep ravine. Jerre and Margie fired, it was decided I should rest and Jerre would go after the bear.

It took him about 30 minutes to get over the gully. Then the bear caught his scent and took off. Jerre got in a fast way. Jerre shot but the gun jammed.

It was hard keeping our balance coming down. Finally, we reached the bush where we'd spent the night. I slept for an hour and then we loaded up again. Now we had sleeping bags to add to our packs. The grass, alders and the incline fought us the rest of the way down.

Two days later Jerre left to go sheep hunting with a friend. When they got to the top of the mountain they found the rams were all shy of the three-quarter curl.

But on the way down Jerre got a nice black sheep.

Then a week later he and his friend went moose hunting up a river about 20 miles in a canoe. And again nothing. So when a few days later they left for caribou, I told them either to come back or to leave. They were across a flat stretch of grass and shale, walking down the side of the mountain. Look and wind were our only help. It was light dusk so we decided they kept moving toward us.

We got in a good spot, settled down and built a big cement block chimney from the basement and now we have our barrel stove in the basement. Then my lot more room in the living room. And we have our panel board for the Northville Lanes 21 27. The spinning wheel 19 29. The spinning wheel 19 29.

Jaycees Plan 2nd Hootenanny

With success still echoing in the background, Northville Jaycees announced Saturday that they will sponsor another hootenanny on Saturday, December 7.

Highlighting the 8 p.m. musical program will be The Vivaldi Band, which has proved so popular at the first hootenanny, and Mike Wood, vocalist, and his companion Bill Hines.

Names of other entertainers will be announced next week.

According to Jaycee Ken Roberts, the show won't be reduced to two hours this time. "Last time," he said, "it lasted 2 1/2 hours, so we're going to shorten it."

The hootenanny will be held again in the community building.

Now-'64 Chevy II... with a V8 engine

Now you see it. Now you don't. When a Chevy II looks like kind of disappearing act you know without looking twice: It's a '64 with a V8 engine.

It's available for the first time year along with a choice of three other engines—the standard 4 (in 100 Series sedans), the standard 6 and a new 150-hp V8. All of them maintain their high performance at modest amounts of regular gasoline.

But the changes aren't confined to what happens when you slip into the driver's seat. There are new styling features like the tasteful grille design and trim accents, for instance. And the larger self-adjusting brakes that further reduce upkeep on a car that already has a reputation of coming about as close to perpetual motion as anything on four wheels can get.

The place to get the full details on the '64 is your Chevrolet dealer. And after you've got them, we hope you'll attend to one further detail yourself. Drive it.

The decision to attend a movie, made before postponement, was aimed at relaxing the players in the wake of the tragedy.

Most business places in the area were closed between 11:30 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. on Monday. Post offices were closed throughout the day except for the most essential mail transactions.

A reporter questioned shocked pedestrians, shoppers and merchants within two hours after President Kennedy was pronounced dead. Here are some of the immediate reactions:

Mrs. Elsie Price, 46221 Bloomerest — "Nothing, it's horrible."

John Poster, Noder's Jewelry store watchmaker, who lives in Detroit — "It was a terrible shock. He took too many chances."

Mrs. Mildred Caudle, 16745 Northville road, an employee of Spagy's grocery store — "I am in a state of shock, I can not realize it has happened."

Blair Dwellie, of 14025 Richfield, Livonia — "It's a terrible thing. He is a hero. He gave his life for his country."

William Butler, 7229 Angle road — "It was terrible. It was un-called for."

Mrs. Virginia McLean, 46800 11 Mile road — "It was a terrible, terrible thing."

Jack Gray, Center street barber — "It was shocking."

Louis Greenhoe, 111 Wing street — "It was an awful thing. The man who did it sure had a lot of nerve."

Donald E. A. Reed, 46049 Neeson — "It was horrible. It's the rottenest birthday I ever had."

Richard Lyon, office manager for the Harold Bloom Insurance company, who lives at 438 Yerkes — "It was a great shock."

Mrs. Georgia Paulos, 795 Thayer — "It was a very bad thing. Why did they have to do it. It is a very bad thing for America. He was a young man with a wife and two small children."

Mrs. John Wortman of 231 Wing street — "It was awful and a horrible thing to happen in this day and age."

Mrs. Lois LaPrise of 43787 Parkgrove — "I am shocked by it."

U-M Alumni To Organize

Plans for organizing a University of Michigan alumni association for the Northville-Plymouth area were announced this week.

According to James Froger, of Northville, an organizational meeting is slated for Tuesday, December 3 at Allen School, 1110 Haggerty.

The primary purpose of the proposed organization will be to raise money for scholarships, according to Froger, who is initiating plans within the Northville area.

Ned Ström of Plymouth is working on plans in that community.

Northville area alumni of the University are interested in more details are asked to contact Froger at 480-5671.

In addition to hearing about organizational plans, guests at the meeting will see a film on the U-M alumni family camp at Washton Lake.

Plan Great Books Group For Northville Children

A Junior Great Books Discussion program is in the planning stages for Northville youngsters in grades five through nine. Junior Great Books is patterned after the Adult Great Books Series.

A leadership training course will be available for all persons interested in leading the discussions. No formal background is required.

Location for the 12 training sessions has not yet been determined. Deadline for registration is December 15, and the first training class is scheduled for January 7.

This unique program provides an opportunity for young readers to discuss some of the books, which have enriched and developed our civilization. The readings include excerpts of many classics from fables and tales to novels and essays. The number of grades provided with the Great Books Program will depend on the number of volunteer leaders who are available to take the training course. Interested persons are asked to call FI 9-6892 or FI 9-6108.

purpose and intent of the provisions of the charter."

Some supervisors contended that this provision appeared to give counties jurisdiction over city and township ordinances — that the charter county ordinance could enforce its ordinances upon local municipalities.

County ordinances, argued Connor, would not adversely affect municipal ordinances. He and other members of the committee who drew up the measure suggested that the distinction between county and municipal purposes is "clear out."

When, however, some supervisors continued to suggest conflict of interest, Connor pointed out that abuse by any county certainly would be dealt with by the state, which ultimately has the last word.

"The real important thing," he said, "is that this gives the county the right to enact its own ordinances without first having to go to Lansing to get permission."

Another area within the measure which prompted some raised eyebrows concerned county taxation. The measure permits a charter county to have a "debt limit of not to exceed 10 percent of the state equalized value of all property within the county which is subject to ad valorem taxation."

Furthermore, it provides for the levy and collection of taxes and the fixing of an ad valorem tax limitation of not to exceed 10 mills.

Why, criticized one supervisor, permit a debt limit of 10 percent, when Wayne county cannot cope with its present deficit which purportedly has reached $16 million.

Concerning the 10-mill provision, an attorney who helped write the measure explained it this way:

The 10 mills are over and above the present 15-mill limitation divided by county, township and school. In other words, as in the case of charter cities, county millage would be separated from school and township millage. The measure — and as provided in the new Constitution.

Specifically, it would mean that if all 10 mills were levied, Wayne county would have 2.5 more mills than the 43 mills it currently has under the three-way split system.

Theoretically, schools and townships would have the entire 15 mills, as provided by statute, to share, he added.

Still another controversial area, although it sparked little open debate, is the unanswered question: Who and how many representatives would serve in the charter county setup?

Committee members suggested that the charter commission provision calling for not less than 9 and not more than 38 commissioners might "have some bearing" on the decision as to how many representatives would serve. In other words, they explained, steps probably will be taken to reduce the number of representatives. Currently, the board of supervisors is made up of 118 members — nearly all of whom are appointed by local municipal governments, township supervisors excluded.

Under the proposed enabling legislation these representatives to the county government may be elected. But the measure leaves to the discretion of the counties the method of electing.

It is unlikely that out-county areas in Wayne will favor an at-large election, a county attorney explained, since Detroit has the largest concentration of voters. Nor is it likely that Detroit will favor the one-municipality, one-vote concept, he said.

On the other hand, it is possible that a 38-member board would be acceptable to both Detroit and the out-county areas, he said. On this, a population basis, Detroit would retain its majority representation on the board and the out-county areas would retain approximately their percentage of representation, he added.

If a 38-member board was agreed upon, the city and township of Northville probably would be coupled with the city and township of Plymouth, the city of Wayne and the township of Nantun to make up one district, entitled to one representative on the board, he explained.

Storm Rakes Village Area

High winds combined with rain and lightning uprooted trees and snapped power lines late Friday night and early Saturday morning, keeping the Novi fire department busy.

The fire department responded to a house call at 1:23 a.m. Saturday, a minor stove fire in the house of Warren Schenburger, 207 Hennings, was quickly extinguished.

At 2:26 a.m. the Salem fire department requested Novi assistance when power lines fell on Six Mile road, four miles west of Salem. The fallen lines covered a one-mile area, endangering nearby homes.

Novi and the Salem fire departments have a "mutual aid" agreement which one community will assist the other if called upon to do so.

Novi police reported that Novi road, East Lake road and Farmington road, were blocked by fallen trees following the storm.

High winds also caused a utility pole to lean when wires rubbed against the pole. The pole is located in front of a house under construction on Beck road.

Theoretically, schools and townships would have the entire 15 mills, as provided by statute, to share, he added.

Ladies League Slates Potluck

A potluck dinner will be sponsored on Tuesday, December 3 by the Ladies League of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church.

The dinner gathering, which will get underway at 6:30 p.m. in the church hall will feature entertainment by the Northville chorale group.

City Thanks Government

A resolution expressing the city's appreciation to those groups and individuals who were instrumental in making possible the $75,000 matching fund grant, has been adopted by the Wiscom Council.

The resolution reads in part: "Whereas the completion of such a (road paving) program would have taken an excessive period of time and/or caused an inordinate addition to an already burdensome property tax if federal assistance had not been forthcoming, and

"Whereas the Public Works Acceleration Act of 1962 did authorize the Community Facilities Administration of the Housing and Home Finance Agency to make such grants of assistance under certain statutory conditions, and

"Whereas the city of Wiscom did apply for such assistance and was granted, on a matching basis, a total of not to exceed $75,000 to accelerate its road construction and paving program;

"Now therefore be it resolved that this council, acting in behalf of not only itself and the mayor but all residents of the city of Wiscom, does take this occasion to express its appreciation to the officials of the Community Facilities Administration, both regional and departmental; to Senators Philip A. Hart and Pat McNamara; to all representatives of the State of Michigan; to the Honorable Nelson Stastler and William S. Broomfield for their cooperation in securing the aforesaid grant for our city."

OUT OF THE PAST

Improvements will help win additional racing dates for Northville Downs, Executive Manager John Carlo is strengthening his position this week.

It is announced that a $150,000 two floor padlock will be erected on newly purchased property just south of Beal avenue adjacent to the east end track.

A plan to construct a modern pool for the purpose of serving a Northern Swimming Club will be officially introduced to the city planning commission December 11 when a request for rezoning a 2 1/2 acre site comes up for public hearing.

A Farmington man was bound over to circuit court last week on a charge of practicing medicine without a license. Novi Justice of the Peace Robert K. Anderson ordered Ronald Clark bound over to the Oakland county circuit court on the charge.

Estelle de Paris — is the theme chosen by the junior class of Northville High School for this year's Jolly which traditionally starts off the holiday season.

Eleven branches of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will be participating in the Christmas Market to be held at the Northville Community building on Saturday, December 1.

The fighting Mustangs wrapped up another league crown Friday, defeating Clarenceville 4-0.

They tied the victory pack with a low that no other team in recent history of Northville high school has been able to duplicate — a perfect season. The Mustangs have chalked up 25 league wins in a row; their victory string in all games stands at 17.

Filing confusion still surrounds Northville's April city election — but there's a growing suspicion that candidates will have to file by December 22. Under the city charter, candidates for city office do not have to file until the period between February 1 and March 1.

The village payroll of $180,000, due November 30, may be late unless the Michigan Finance Commission acts immediately in approving the council's application for borrowing money.

Possibility of a late payroll came to light Monday at a meeting of the village council in which Attorney Howard Bond reported that action by the commission had been delayed a week because one of the commission members was called away from Lansing.

More than $1,000 was raised by the Northville Retail Merchants association Christmas Lighting committee to provide the city with an array of lights and decorations.

Novi village councilmen met this week with three representatives of the state highway department to discuss the local road situation.

Max Dillenback Jr. of South Main street was recently awarded an RCA victrola combination for his winning entry in the $200,000 Family Contest sponsored by the Colgate Palmolive company.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
November 26, 1948
Depositors State Bank began distribution of $39,110.45 in Christmas Club checks to 324 members.

This is an all time high for the bank since the Christmas Clubs inception several years ago. Last year the bank mailed out $27,776.75 to 433 members.

Others present: Superintendent R. H. Amerman; Assistant Superintendent K. M. MacLeod; Principals F. Stefanaki, D. Van Ingen, H. B. Smith, and R. Spear; Dr. Gordon R. Frazier; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beard.

Official Minutes of The Northville Board of Education

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President William B. Crump.

Present: Mr. Crump, Mr. James F. Rieger, Mr. Wilfred C. Becker, Dr. Waldo T. Johnson, Mr. Edward F. Angove, Mr. Robert H. Spigler, Mr. William B. Crump, Absent: None.

Others present: Superintendent R. H. Amerman; Assistant Superintendent K. M. MacLeod; Principals F. Stefanaki, D. Van Ingen, H. B. Smith, and R. Spear; Dr. Gordon R. Frazier; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beard.

The minutes of the last regular meeting, held on October 14 and of a special meeting held on October 28, were read by the Secretary. There being no additions or corrections to either set of minutes, they were announced approved as read.

III. Communications:
1. Board of Education of Oak Park School District, copy letter sent by that Board to Governor Romney expressing concern about the absence in the proposed tax program of any provision for additional funds for schools. The Oak Park School Board hopes other schools will take a similar action.

2. Garden City Board of Education, substantially the same as the letter from Oak Park.

3. Miss Rita Salan, for the faculty of the Main Street Elementary School, expressing appreciation for dinner and service program of October 7.

4. Mr. Paul Beard, personal and verbal communication advising the Board that he and Mrs. Beard fully support the position taken in response to protest of Gideon distribution of New Testaments to 5th graders.

IV. Report of Superintendent:
1. Traffic Light — Mr. Amerman reported that he has written a letter to the Wayne County Road Commission requesting installation of a traffic light at the intersection of Eight Mile road and Center street.

2. Enrollment — Dr. MacLeod reported a total enrollment of 2,282 at the end of October and 2,287 as of the date of this board meeting. This represents a gain of 20 children since the official 4th Friday count at the end of September, and they will have been in one month's time we have had for 8 years.

3. Teacher Contract — Dr. MacLeod presented a contract for board approval to employ Miss Judith Henry as a first grade teacher for the extra classroom created after the opening of school in September. It was moved by Dr. Johnson, supported by Mr. Shafter, that Miss Henry's contract be approved. Motion carried.

4. In-Service — Mr. Amerman announced that plans have been completed and all is in readiness for the In-Service Mathematics Workshop.

The past year saw the citizens of Novi approve a Bond Issue of $85,000 for construction of a new Secondary School. The building is now under construction and is scheduled to open in Sept. of 1964 to house grades 7, 8 and 9.

The CHALLENGE before the Board of Education and School Administration now is to provide an improved program of instruction which the new facilities will make possible.

Local financing of schools will continue to be a problem as state support of Novi Schools fails to keep pace with growth. Novi Schools showed a reduction in State Aid from $17,705 in 1961-62 to $15,184 in 1962-63, even though enrollment and costs of operation increased. Local citizens maintained their level of financial support by approval of a renewal of 2 1/2 mills for operation at an election of April 1, 1963.

JUNIOR CARPENTERS — Hard at work building a drawbridge, one of the sets that will decorate the dance room for the upcoming junior prom, are Mike Schott, Tom Bingham, John Blackburn and Rick Ricketts. The young carpenters are doing their work in an Eight Mile road barn.

Excitement increased today as Northville high school juniors put finishing touches on preparations for the Junior Prom on Friday.

The prom will be held at the high school from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight.

Carrying the theme 'A Knight in Camelot', the prom will feature a dance room decorated as King Arthur's throne room with golden balconies. The dining room will be in a forest surrounding the castle.

Both the throne room and the drawbridge are being built by members of the Junior class in Sherry Meyer's barn at 48120 West Eight Mile road.

Furnishing music for the festive occasion will be Tom Baldwin and his band. Then at 10 p.m. Paul Lenin, a comedian, will entertain guests.

Robert Steeper, class president, emphasized that parents are welcome to attend the prom. "We really would like them to come," he said.

A draw bridge will lead from the throne room to the forest.

SPEAKING for The Record

It's Friday afternoon. We publish Monday next week because of the Thanksgiving holiday. My column is due today for first run printing. There's a heavy silence hanging over our office. It hangs over the nation... the world.

We have just heard the startling report that the President of the United States is dead. One member of our staff called his home. His wife is crying uncontrolably. Jack Hoffman, our editor, just shakes his head. "I can't believe it," he repeats. "I had so much to live for," says another. "I was in Northville Hardware with Owner Eusebio Nirider, a customer and two clerks when the announcement of the President's death was made. Someone said, "oh, my God." Then there was silence.

It's like everyone in the United States has been hit in the stomach. We can't think. We can't breathe comfortably. We are limp. The radio is already reporting the history of Kennedy's 46 years. Lyndon Johnson is President. This column, I know, doesn't make much sense. But, neither does the world, sometimes.

When I was a small boy, my grandmother always would tell me, "everything happens for the best." I never could figure that out. I still can't.

How to Improve Retail Business

LAST WEEK, I set forth a series of tips for housewives who do the family buying, trying to show them how to hold their budgets within reasonable bounds. At that time it occurred to me that retailers themselves need tips just as much as housewives if they are to balance their books. Seldom before have there been such bitter competition in the retail scene as there is today. So here are some suggestions for retailers, based upon my twenty years of observation.

First of all, I want to say that Christmas business over the coming weeks should be treated as a separate entity. Retailers should not allow their disassisted customer can do your store an awful lot of harm. I have long been a hearty booster of advertising in all its phases. Start your advertising early, in a tidy, well-arranged store and eye-catching window displays. Concentrate on things likely to cause people to enter your store favorably, such as friendly help, extra attention, and unusual shopping conveniences.

Take full advantage of promotion material provided by many national brands, placing them where they will attract the customer and bring him inside rather than in some out-of-the-way corner where their advertising value is wasted. You will notice that the most successful merchants use a lot of newspaper space to try to sell you.

LEGAL NOTICE Raymond P. Heyman, Attorney 1874 Grand River Detroit 22, Michigan STATE OF MICHIGAN County of Wayne ss. SSS289 At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Wayne, held at the Probate Court Room in the City of Detroit, on the Eleventh day of November, in the year one thousand nine hundred and sixty-three.

Present Ernest C. Boehm, Judge Probate. In the Matter of the Estate of MABEL R. BUTTERFIELD, an alleged mentally incompetent person.

On reading and filing the petition of Raymond P. Heyman praying that he or some other suitable person be appointed guardian of said ward: It is ordered that the second day of January, next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon at said Court Room be appointed for hearing said petition.

And it is further ordered: That a copy of this order be published once in each week for three weeks successively previous to said time of hearing, in the Northville Record, a newspaper printed and circulated in and about the County of Wayne and personally served fourteen days previous to said time of hearing upon said Mabel R. Butterfield and the Attorney General.

Top of the Deck

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Statistics said she would die. She had eaten great patches of flesh from her little body, leaving only about twenty-percent unattached. But miracles are wrought even today. So it was that this little girl came to the hospital where doctors began an amazingly successful series of operations and treatments. She lived.

But for weeks Sally, like so many seriously burned cases, lived in shock. Retaining consciousness, she was convinced that her teachers and nurses dressed in white gowns and masks were angels. She had died. This was heaven.

Then one day "an angel," who called herself a teacher, visited the little girl. Each day she came to her, reading attempted to give each little life to the child.

"Sally, you're alive. I'm your teacher, not an angel. You're alive, you're going to get well." Sally lived with her illusion until the teacher was able to bring her back to her mother from another state. Now she knew she lived. But the task of keeping her alive meant a long and painful surgery—just so he can go back upstairs to play with his cars, or paint, or touch the live guinea pigs.

Then you'll agree: miracles and angels are real.

Economy too Good For Tax Reform

LANSING—Probably the biggest single factor, other than the sheer presence of partisanship, in the defeat of Gov. George Romney's fiscal reform program was within the Governor's ranks. It was not an intentional blow, but an unavoidable one. Controller Glenn S. Allen Jr. who ran with Romney just prior to the election, was forced into disclosing his estimate of the state's fiscal picture at the end of the current fiscal year.

The picture was so rosy, although Allen was conservative in his estimate, it had a sharp impact on the Legislature. Some Republicans, already convinced they did not want an income tax, became more firm in their opposition when the estimate was announced. At least some Democrats who have favored a similar reform program in past years decided to vote against it.

TO THE FAMILIES WHO OWN THE 1,491,395 ELECTRIC APPLIANCES REPAIRED BY EDISON

Nearly one million three hundred thousand of your electric appliances were repaired by Edison in 1962 without extra cost to you. About 200,000 more, for which there was some moderate charge, were also repaired.

Much of the work was done by experienced Edison people. Also capable handicapped people, employed by Goodwill Industries, supported themselves by repairing 182,000 of the appliances you brought in. They, too, are competent and conscientious workers and we are happy to have their participation and assistance.

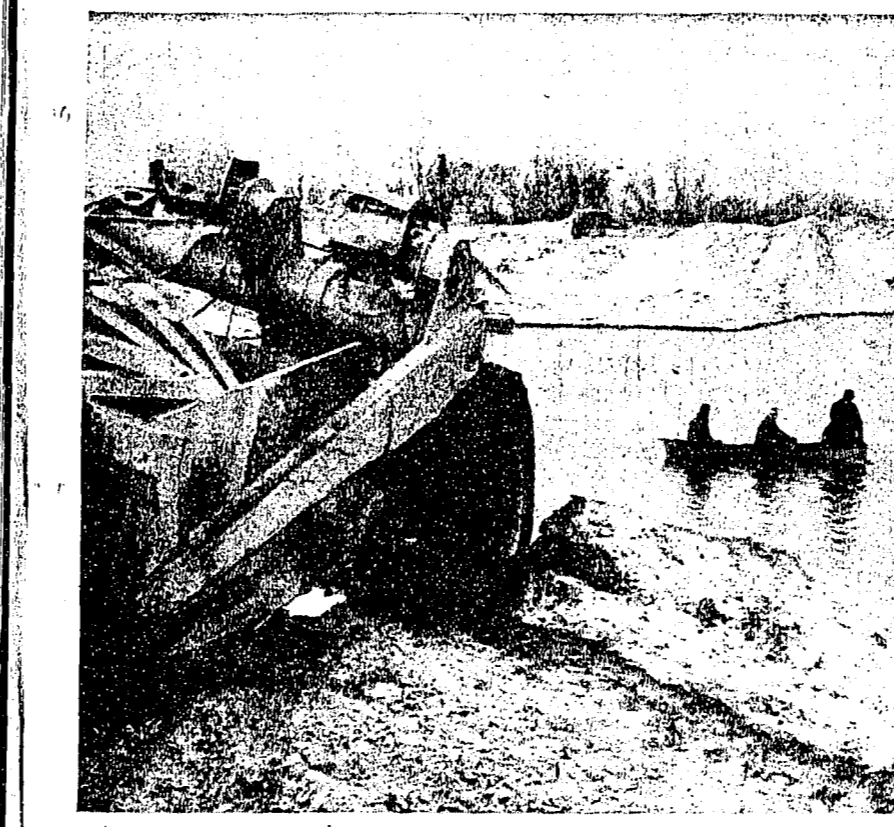

Edison offers other services that cost nothing extra. These include the exchange of a variety of light bulbs and of fuses and appliance cords. There are advisory services for the homeowner to assist her with lighting, cleaning, laundry and kitchen planning. For the homeowner there's advice on home heating, water heating, wiring, and helpful suggestions about shrub and tree planting near electric lines.

These services are brought to your attention because many of you may not be taking fullest advantage of them. Perhaps you are new as an Edison customer or perhaps you have just overlooked some of them.

People, moving to other areas, often write back to their friends to say how they miss Edison's extra services. From their comments it seems to us that Detroit Edison is an exception in providing such services without any extra cost to you.

Our Edison service is a broad service. It includes all the items described above, and all the electric energy you need. We like to feel our services are the kind that serve you well, and at a fair and reasonable cost.

Sincerely, Walker L. Cisler WALKER L. CISLER, PRESIDENT THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

DRAG LAKE BOTTOM—Three Northville firemen, Stan Smith, Louis Westfall, and Charles Freyd (in boat), drag the lake bottom in search of a Walled Lake woman who was driving the earth mover (left) when it plunged almost out of sight into the water. Later a skin-diving state police trooper (below) recovered the body.

Earthmover Driver Dies As Vehicle Falls into Lake

A 46-year-old Walled Lake man died Monday when an earthmover he was driving plunged into a Northville lake. Norman Feuerbacher of 717 Leon road, was pronounced dead at the Sheldon Hayes gravel pit, between Seven and Eight Mile roads, west of Northville road, shortly after a state police skin diver recovered his body in 20 feet of water.

State police are awaiting a report of an autopsy performed Tuesday. They discovered that the earthmover sticking out of the water near where he was working and quickly hoisted it out with a bulldozer. But Feuerbacher was missing.

Northville firemen were called to the scene and began dragging the bottom of the lake. After several unsuccessful passes over the area where the vehicle plunged into the water, their search was halted to await the skindiver.

Authorities feared the dragging operation would stir up mud and sand and thus hinder the search. The skin diver, Trooper Harry Neill, found the body almost immediately after entering the water. It was located about 25 feet from shore at Francis Krynicky, Wayne county medical examiner, pronounced Feuerbacher dead shortly before noon.

Because Feuerbacher was an experienced driver and because it appeared to state police that the earthmover was well off the roadway along with the path of the earthmover, an autopsy was ordered to determine the cause of death. Apparently, no one saw the machine plunge down a short embankment and over a low stone pile into the water, authorities said.

Funeral services will be held today (Thursday) from Richardson-Bird Funeral Home, 5141 Grand River, with burial in Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens. He is survived by his wife, Eva; one son, Charles, at home; his parents of Manchester, Mich.; and a sister, Mrs. Irene Smith of Manchester.

For Northville's Charlie Conklin Half-Century of Barbering Ends

He checked, then rather wistfully said, "Yes, it's been a long time, and I've had a good time. But you've got to stop the time from coming when I began 'working around in a barber shop, learning the trade." Eventually, a barber hired him for full-time work at $6 a week. For the next few years he worked in various towns and Michigan, including Three Rivers where he was married in 1913. He and his young wife moved to Northville in 1915 and he took over the shop of Elroy Murdock. That shop, he called Charlie, was in an old wooden building where Ramsay's Bar is now located on Cedar street. "On the one side was an old shoe store. Next door was the old Interurban waiting room, and on the other was a barber shop. That was really something. I don't know how we'd do it. When they started digging the basement for the building the Record is now in, it was an old wooden building. I bought it when it came to town. "Well, the ground was moist sand, so when they started digging the basement, the sand started to fall away from our foundation. The building started to tip. I called my boss and my wife, and we got out of there. "In the next several days, Charlie worked there for different places in Northville. For a time he also worked in shops in Ann Arbor and in Pontiac. He also spent some time working on a Six Mile road farm and at the Meadowbrook Country Club. Among the first barbers with whom he worked there were Shively, George Hotelling and Al Hickley. Some of the earliest shops in which he had a chair included: The Interurban waiting room which later became a pool hall, located where Northville Hardware now stands, in the Northville now housing Schroder's furniture store, in the shop now operated by Jack Greer in the basement of what is now The Record, and in the old hotel, now just an empty parking lot at the southwest corner of Center and Main streets. When the building at the northwest corner of Center and Main streets was built years ago, he moved to City College. He remained there until his retirement was Saturday.

Novi Sewer Bids Exceed Estimates

Village OK's Zoning Change For Motel Here

Approximately one dozen acres of property for which a motel complex is planned was rezoned last week Monday at a joint public hearing of the village council and planning board. Only one official—Kalin Johnson, member of the planning board—objected to the zoning change. The action of the council was unanimous.

Specifically, action of the village council changes the zoning of 12.67 acres of vacant land from C-2 (commercial) and M-2 (manufacturing) to a single classification, CT (country residential). The property is located adjacent to the south side of the 196 ramp, west of Novi road. The southwestern edge of the property is adjacent to the General Filters and Paragon property.

In discussing plans for the motel (called a motor lodge), representatives of the developer, Bill Builders Land Service, Inc. of Birmingham, pointed out that its size may be dependent upon whether or not the liquor control commission issues a Class C liquor license to the operating firm identified as Inter-America. Officials were told that Inter-America, with whom the developers hope to obtain a franchise, may require a "Class C" license as a prerequisite. There is a possibility, officials learned, that the size of the motel might be affected by whether or not a license can be obtained. The motel complex might be reduced from 120 units to 60 units if a liquor license is not obtained, the representatives said.

A Class "C" license permits sale of liquor by the glass on the premises. An inquiry concerning such a license was made recently to the Novi township board. However, because of legal questions, the board decided to refer the matter to the Novi township board. Further, township Supervisor Hadley Becher has explained that no formal application to the state liquor control commission can be made until after the serving building exists.

A spokesman for Builders Land Service, Inc., told the News Friday that his firm is hoping to begin construction next spring—probably in April. The architect, he said, is presently working on the drawings soon. Initial construction, he said, will include the motel complex—either 120 or 60 units—as well as a cocktail lounge and parking area. Once this initial construction is completed, he added, construction of an adjacent building for a three-hole golf course will be started.

The treasurer also announced that dog licenses may be purchased at the time taxes are paid provided owners have their certificates showing that their dogs have been immunized. A special vaccination clinic will be held at the Novi township hall on February 15, from 1 to 4 p.m., for dogs which have not been immunized against rabies.

Taxes are payable until February 15, 1964, to pay real and personal taxes without penalty. The action to give an additional month without penalty was taken at the Novi City council meeting November 26. The council also voted $300 to pay for additional clerical help in the treasurer's office during the tax collection.

A special memorial tribute to President Kennedy given by the Rev. Robert Warren, pastor of the Novi Baptist church, opened the council session. In other action the council considered installation of a street light at Roseworth and Ontario intersections. Decision is to be made at the next meeting, December 10, when the council is to know if there is money in the budget for this item.

The underdesigned, resident of the city of Wixom, county of Oakland, state of Michigan, do hereby petition the man and the President. We thought that some lasting tribute should be made and that the greatness of our president should never be forgotten.

Under the assumption that officials would agree with the latter solution, the county formally requested approval for the increased bond issue from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission. Councilman Dean LeBlanc reported that equipment in the village hall has been damaged by vandals.

Novi Sewer Bids Exceed Estimates

Council OKs Bond Hike To Cover Added Cost

Construction costs for Novi trunkline sewer s climbed $120,000 above estimated figures at the opening of bids in Pontiac last week Tuesday. But with little else to do, Novi and county officials sought approval this week for an increased bond issue, from the original estimate of $1,390,000, to cover the higher costs.

In report to the village council Monday evening, Village Administrator Harold Ackley explained that five alternatives had been considered when the bids came in. Scrap the bids and readvertise for new bids; charge the additional cost to developers, who spearheaded the drive for sewer; raise tap fees to cover the additional cost; spread 2 mills over the entire village for 15 years; or forget the project altogether.

County officials advised against rebidding, he said, because new bids probably would be still higher. And if the project was scrapped, some $100,000 in engineering costs would be lost, he added. The millage suggestion was found to be illegal.

The remaining two alternatives, it was decided, he said, an increase in tap fees of boys and girls who attend dances each week at the Casino near Walled Lake. "We've always had a lot of kids come into Novi, either to dance or to the amusement park. Most of them behave themselves." The teenagers, some of them juveniles, were picked up by police on charges ranging from curfew to truancy. Most were released following questioning and warning; others were fined or turned over to county juvenile authorities.

The busy weekend was a matter of discussion at Monday's council meeting. Councilman Dean LeBlanc reported that equipment in the village hall has been damaged by vandals. "I guess the place really gets crowded," he said, "and you ought to see if there is any way we can help the police department."

The News that his department has a space to house the people detained or arrested on charges of vandalism, policemen and ears to handle the situation — just not enough space to put them. "Our policy is to pick them up before they really get into serious trouble. A fine or warning can prevent far greater trouble later."

He and councilmen noted that plenty of supervision and strict rules are provided at the Casino and that few arrests are made on the property. It's on the way to for teenage attractions that the problems arise, they said. "These problems" include drinking in cars, vandalism, illegal parking, curfew violations, thefts, and just plain rowdiness.

Other action by the village council Monday authorized Attorney Howard Bond to seek a circuit court injunction restraining Leo Russell from cutting up and burning junk cars on the 13 1/2 mile road property. A violation summons was issued last August, council members learned, and Russell subsequently pleaded guilty and was given two years to stop. Later, Russell indicated he planned to appeal to the circuit court, the council was told.

Meanwhile, his junk car operation has continued, prompting numerous complaints to the village by residents in the area.

In other action, the council—Acting as the village board of health, ordered the owners of the Willowbrook water system to turn on water to a home on grounds that the health and safety of the family living in the home is endangered. The council emphasized that its action does not condemn non-payment of water bills.

ANOTHER SIGNER—Mrs. Frank Russell of Wixom reads over a petition before signing. Looking on is Kenneth Burnstrom, who decided to circulate petitions asking that the city playground be named in memory of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Teenage 'Round-up' Stirs Talk

"Most of them are real good kids and they don't get into trouble." That's the comment of Police Chief Le BeGole who, along with members of his department, detained more than 50 teenagers last weekend in the village hall.

He was referring to the hundreds of boys and girls who attended dances each week at the Casino near Walled Lake. "We've always had a lot of kids come into Novi, either to dance or to the amusement park. Most of them behave themselves." The teenagers, some of them juveniles, were picked up by police on charges ranging from curfew to truancy. Most were released following questioning and warning; others were fined or turned over to county juvenile authorities.

Seek Memorial For President

Close to 1,000 signatures have been obtained on petitions asking that the Wixom public playground be named in memory of the late President John F. Kennedy.

The petitions are to be presented to the Wixom city council soon. They ask: "We, the undersigned, resident of the city of Wixom, county of Oakland, state of Michigan, do hereby petition the man and the President. We thought that some lasting tribute should be made and that the greatness of our president should never be forgotten."

Under the assumption that officials would agree with the latter solution, the county formally requested approval for the increased bond issue from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission. Councilman Dean LeBlanc reported that equipment in the village hall has been damaged by vandals.

Mobarak Elected

Frank Mobarak was elected chairman of the Novi Youth Protective committee at the village hall last week Tuesday evening. He replaces Charles C. Smith, who was not a candidate for re-election. Others elected were: The Rev. Marvin Richter, vice-chairman; Herbert Koster, treasurer (re-elected); and Mrs. C. Leo Kramer, secretary.

The first meeting of the group for the new year will be held on Tuesday, January 28. No December meetings are planned.
