

Novi, Wixom Officials Air '67 Predictions

Making predictions for 1967 can be a hazardous business, especially for men in public office whose forecasts can rebound to create uncomfortable embarrassment, if not downright chagrin.

But Wesley McAtee, mayor of Wixom, Philip Anderson, president of the Novi village council, Thomas Dale, superintendent of Novi schools and Hadley Bachert, Novi township supervisor, went out on the proverbial limb to air their predictions, hopes and feelings of things to come in the New Year.

For Novi Village...

Generally, Anderson, Novi village president, is optimistic about the New Year. "I think Novi's going to break wide open. We're ideally located with railroads and expressways running through Novi."

"I'm looking for a prosperous year in Novi as far as construction is concerned," the president volunteered, "both residential and industrial. We'll try to help developers in any way we can."

To handle the anticipated increased volume of traffic, Anderson said he will push for adoption of a new road improvement program, involving the cutting of trees and seal coating.

Road work will be financed through taxes specifically earmarked for roads, Anderson said. He said he would urge the council to levy two more mills.

In this event, citizens would have to vote to change the present charter mill limitation from five to six mills. Novi presently is levying four mills. Anderson's proposed two-mill increase would demand a six-mill levy.

"We'll have to ask for the extra mill," Anderson said, "if we hope to do anything on roads to any great extent. Money from the state barely permits us to keep up the roads." Ticketed for immediate improvement, if Anderson's plan is adopted, are Beck and Taft roads, he said.

Anderson is hoping that sewers and water will be extended to service a greater share of Novi's residents. Mains will have to come from the south, however, for Anderson said the council can not pursue development of the proposed Walled Lake-Novu sewer system on its own.

Property owners in the Walled Lake area, Anderson said, will have to approve a special sewer assessment at a public hearing before work will proceed. The government, Anderson said, has indicated no federal money will be forthcoming to help finance the project. Furthermore, Novi has not been cited for pollution of Walled Lake as has the city of Walled Lake, he said.

Novi will incorporate as a city, Anderson predicted, after citizens march to the polls on April 4 to cast their ballots.

"I don't see any reason why we shouldn't incorporate," Anderson stated. "I'm in favor of it 100 percent. It's our only salvation if we want Novi to remain intact."

Anderson furthermore doesn't think taxes will rise because of cityhood. "I don't see any increase in taxes just because we become a city," the council president said. "We're going to need more taxes anyway because Novi will be growing rapidly."

What relief can Connamara residents expect? "I can't see anything in it (sewer payback plan) at all," Anderson said. "I can't see taxing people for unplatted, open land, and telling them they'll have 80 foot lots on which they will be taxed. There won't be any payback plan as far as I'm concerned."

For Wixom...

Mayor McAtee sees "nothing but good" coming from construction of sewers, scheduled to be completed within the next year.

"It's going to be messy," McAtee said, "and we'll probably get complaints from citizens, but the sewer program will implement the master plan and make previous hard work bear fruit."

Installation of sewers, McAtee predicts, will inspire growth, both industrial and residential. But how much, the mayor was unwilling to state. "A tight money market and slowdown of the economy," he said, "might cause people to back off on developments."

In five years, however, the mayor feels that Wixom will more than double its present population of about 2,000 people. "I expect there'll be 5,000 to 6,000 people living in Wixom in five years," he predicted.

Two other complimentary projects McAtee would also like completed in 1967.

First is the finalization of the route for Ring road as proposed in the master plan. As planned, it will encircle the present business district, beginning north of the Wixom General store and circling east past the city hall and tying in with Wixom road just north of the railroad tracks.

Second, "I would like to complete the survey of the business district in 1967," McAtee said, "so we know what can be used in that area."

Other projects high on McAtee's priority list are the eventual hiring of a paid director of the summer recreation program, commensurate expansion of boys and girls programs, and construction of a facility to store recreation equipment.

"I'd like to see the recreation program continue at its present, rapid growth rate," McAtee said. "The girls recreation league, started last summer, I would like to see become three times as big," the mayor added.

Another project McAtee would like undertaken is the construction of a garage for the department of public works to store equipment. "We store equipment out in the wide open spaces, now," the Mayor said.

McAtee also had a word of optimism for the Ford Motor company. "I would like to see the Ford plant at Wixom produce at a fast rate."

"Most of all," the mayor stated, "if people have problems that pertain to the city, I urge them to contact us at city hall so we can do everything to take care of problems and wants."

Furthermore, the mayor said, "We'll do the best job we can for our employees and tax payers."

For Novi Township...

Novi Township Supervisor Hadley Bachert anticipates a continuation of residential growth in Novi—especially among multiple-dwelling units. However, "from all appearances it seems the industrial growth of the community will start to level off because of the tight money market."

Declining to comment on the current move to incorporate Novi as a city, Bachert said the township's position will be reached at the next regular meeting of the township board.

The supervisor pointed to the acquisition of "open spaces" for recreational use as one of the most important functions of the township during 1967. He suggested that enlargement of the township park, located adjacent to Walled Lake, may become a reality with the purchase of additional land and improvement of the facility.

"As communities grow leaving less and less vacant land for recreational purposes, we must make provisions now if we are to have sufficient park lands for future use. Too many communities are neglecting this role today," Bachert said.

Another project that may become a reality this year, the supervisor said, is the blacktopping of the drives and parking areas adjacent to the township hall and the library.

He foresees a hike in taxes because of the state law requiring 50-percent assessment, and he points to 1967 as the year when citizens must join with their elected officials in asking state legislators for a tax reform measure of some kind. "We've got to voice our opinions now, as never before, if we are to get any tax relief at the state level."

Concerning the role of the township in a community with two forms of government—village and township—Bachert sees the township as serving the people by holding elections, overseeing township, school and county taxation matters, and maintaining a "top-notch" fire department, public library, and public park.

"We both are elected (township and village officials) to do a job, even though there is some overlapping of responsibilities; we don't try to interfere in the work of the village and we think they should not interfere with our work."

For School System...

Looking back at his first year in the Novi school system, Superintendent

Thomas Dale indicates that he has not been altogether pleased with the accomplishments as pertaining to the high school building program. "I had wished we could have begun the program sooner, but perhaps going slowly is the best way in the long run."

The New Year, says Dale, will see plans undertaken on several new building programs—namely an addition to Orchard Hills elementary school and either another addition to the present high school or a new secondary-level facility.

"We will begin planning next year for a not-too-distant addition to Orchard Hills—a classrooms wing with about seven or eight rooms for an additional capacity of 200 children." This addition, he indicates, probably would be built the following year and be adequate for the student population for two or three years.

He sees student population at capacity in 1967 on the elementary level—and perhaps slightly above capacity. With the addition to the high school scheduled for completion by the opening of the 1967-68 school year, he sees more than adequate space at the secondary level. However, by the time Novi adds a 12th grade—in 1968—the school will be at capacity with about 700 students, he predicts.

Because the capacity level of the high school, after the completion of the high school, is projected to 1968, Dale explains that planning for still another addition or another secondary building will be imperative in 1967.

Dale envisions no problems in negotiating a master teacher contract, predicting that an amicable agreement will be reached as occurred last year.

He sees the need of "probably nine additional teachers" next September, five on the secondary level and three or four at the elementary level.

The New Year will see the beginning of plans for a full high school curriculum, possibly with the addition of a few 12th grade classes for the next school year when Novi launches its 11th grade. He says the school system will, upon reaching a full 12-year program, be operated on a 6-3-3 basis (six elementary grades, three junior high school grades and three senior high school grades).

Additional students in the next school year will necessitate, he predicts, an additional two school buses.

Directive Cites Novi For Stream Pollution

A formal letter from the State Water Resources commission sparked renewed discussion of a possible way of clearing up pollution of the Walled Lake branch of the Rouge River Tuesday night at the Novi village council meeting.

The final order of determination reiterated the stand formerly taken by the commission and forcefully underlined the conditions outlined for Village Manager Harold Ackley.

Council directed Ackley to continue discussions with the Oakland county health department in an effort to come up with a solution. It was pointed out, however, that Ackley should get written proof of action taken as evidence of the village's faithful efforts to follow the directive.

Council members also flirted with a proposal to appoint its own health officer. It was sidetracked temporarily until efforts to secure the help of the county have been exhausted. Providing the county does not cooperate, the council indicated it would be willing to solicit the help of Dr. Lyle Fettig as health officer.

As in the previous meeting in Lansing, the commission ordered the village to draft concrete plans by June 1 of this year. Deadline for completing the cleanup project has been set for June 1, 1969.

Specifically, the mandate was triggered by pollution of an underground storm sewer. It runs along Grand River through the central business district and dumps into the Walled Lake branch of the Rouge River at Flint street. State officials contend that business establishments and residents, yet to be determined, are dumping raw sewage into the drainage ditch.

One of the solutions to determine violators suggested by Ackley after his meeting with the WRC is presently being pursued—putting dye in individual sewer systems. Three establishments have reportedly been tested, and one definitely was found to be in violation.

It was further pointed out that dyeing out could be conducted during the winter, giving violators a chance to install septic tanks during the spring. Ackley estimated that between 20 and 25 individuals are dumping raw sewage into the underground storm sewer.

"We must proceed to do something," Ackley told the council, "otherwise the water resources commission will be on our back."

A resolution asking that the council confirm the alignment of proposed interstate highway I-275 was approved. It will run north along Haggerty road, join up with I-96 at what will be the world's largest cloverleaf and extend North to Northwestern highway.

While approving the route, the council adopted a resolution, calling for the state to act on its previous request for upgrading of the Novi road intersection with I-96. Specifically, the council requested a cloverleaf be built.

In other action, the council re-appointed Douglas Strath and Roger Christenson to three-year terms on the board of appeals. To fill two newly created posts, the council picked Bill Duey for a two-year term and Andre Hansen for a one-year term.

Looking toward the future, the council directed Ackley to review land for sale as a possible site for a new DPW garage. He is to make recommendations at the next meeting, scheduled for January 16.

Here's Chance To Write Laws

Nominating petitions for the city charter commission are available now at the village hall, Village Manager Harold Ackley revealed this week.

Petitions must be signed by not less than 20 nor more than 40 qualified citizens of the village. The petitions themselves must be submitted to the clerk of the village no later than 30 days prior to the election, which is slated for April 4. Names of the qualified nominees will appear on the April 4 ballot, along with the question as to whether or not the village should be incorporated as a first-class city.

If voters approve incorporation, the nine charter commission candidates with the greatest number of votes will be elected to the commission, which then must convene within 10 days. The commission has 90 days after the election to draw up proposed charter, which then must be submitted to the voters for ratification.

For Oakland County

Frazer Staman Named Road Head

Frazer W. Staman, 62, of Novi was named chairman of the Oakland county road commission this week, upon the recommendation of the road and bridges committee of the Oakland county board of supervisors.

The appointment was confirmed Tuesday in a meeting of the three-member commission.

Staman, who has served four years of his six-year appointment to the commission by the board of supervisors, had been vice-president of the commission for the past year. As chairman, he will receive an additional $1,000. That increase, plus a regular commission increment of $500, brings his total salary to $11,150.

One of the three members of the commission has just been appointed.

He is Paul McGovern of Beverly Hills, replacing Robert Felt who after 18 years on the commission failed to win reappointment by the board of supervisors. The other member is Sol Lomerson.

Staman resigned from his position as supervisor of Novi township in November of 1962 to actively seek appointment to the commission. Although there was no assurance that he would win the appointment, Staman had the support of many rural Oakland county supervisors as well as some city supervisors in his bid for the appointment. And for the four years prior to his supervisory resignation he had been chairman of the board of supervisors key committee on salaries. He subsequently was appointed, filling the vacancy created by the death of Commission Chairman Hiland M. Thatcher.

Hadley J. Bachert, then clerk of the township, was appointed a week later to fill out Staman's unexpired term. Staman lives at 26850 Wixom road.

Planners Tap New Officers

New officers were appointed to head the Wixom Planning commission recently.

Ralph Armstrong succeeded Chester Zielinski as chairman, Lloyd Preston replaced Oscar Scheffler as vice chairman and Larry Beamish took the post of secretary, formerly held by Ralph Armstrong.

Harrawood Hospitalized

Leo Harrawood, Novi village councilman and prominent business man, was stricken early Saturday morning by what doctor's assumed was a heart attack.

As of Tuesday, he was reported in fair condition at Botsford General hospital, Farmington.

According to his wife, Harrawood became ill at 5 a.m. Saturday morning and was taken by ambulance to the hospital.

Building Hits $1.7 Million

Building in four categories totaled an estimated $1,764,041 during 1966 in Novi, it was reported this week.

Topping last year's activity was the construction of 43 homes at an estimated cost of $832,340. Construction of 15 new industrial and commercial enterprises was estimated at $560,441.

Permits for $231,000 in additions and alterations to industrial and commercial buildings were pegged at an estimated $138,260.

Deadline's Tomorrow For First Baby Entry

Just one day remains (Friday) before the deadline for entering the 11th annual First Baby Contest.

Rules for the contest are simple. The hard part is getting Mr. Stork to cooperate. The rules are:

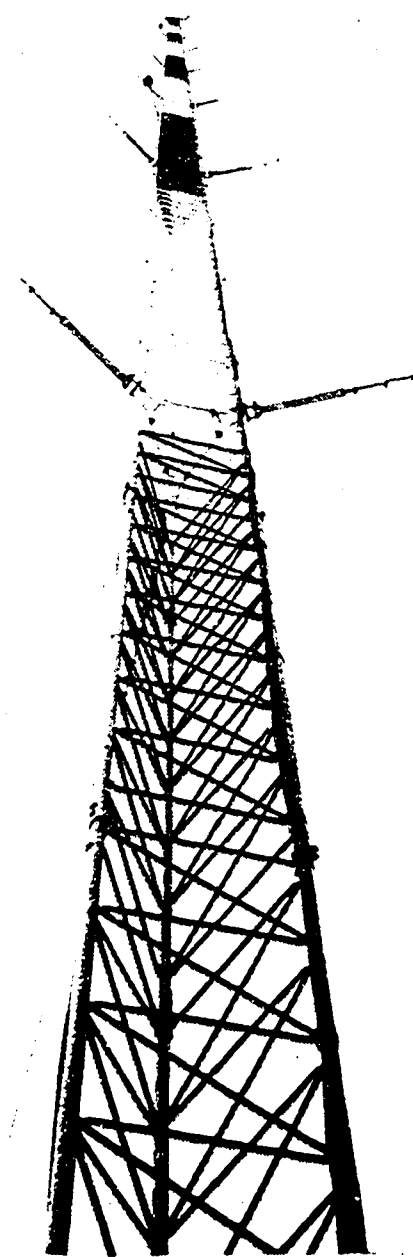

— Baby must be born to parents having Northville or Novi mailing address. It is not necessary that birth take place in Northville or Novi, however.

— Exact time of birth must be verified by attending physician.

— All applications must be received by The Northville Record office, Northville, Michigan by 12 noon tomorrow, January 6.

The 1967 winner will be announced in next week's edition of this newspaper.

Gifts will be presented to the winner's parents by Guernsey Farms Dairy, Novi Rexall Drug, Old Mill Restaurant, Kroger company, The Little People Shoppe, H. R. Noder's Jewelry, Northville Drug, D & C Store and Brader's Department store.

NOVI LANDMARK—Located just north of 10 Mile road and east of Novi road, this 310 foot tower with its red blinking night light is becoming a landmark in Novi. Owned by the J. B. Willis company, the tower, which cost about $5,000, will become a part of the company's new radio-telephone communications system. At last test, it transmitted as far as Toledo, and the voltage is scheduled to be stepped up, it was reported. A carpenter contracting company based in Oak Park, J. B. Willis company is affiliated with the new Timmerlane Lumber company located adjacent to the tower site.

Mrs. P. Grandville Mitchell

Alma Graduates Exchange Vows

Karen Norman Wagoner and P. Grandville Mitchell, both graduates of Alma college, were united in marriage Monday evening in a double-ring ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Wagoner of 18419 Donegal Court, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Mitchell of Hastings.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a classically styled gown of ivory tulle de sole combined with Alencon lace. The little Empire bodice, encircled with the lovely lace, was designed with bateau decolletage and Victorian sleeves edged in a wide banding of sheer lace.

The review will concern two books written by Frederick A. Pottle. They are "James Boswell, The Earlier Years" and "Boswell's London Journal".

The guest speaker is the former Elizabeth Lapham, a relative of Dr. Mary E. Lapham who donated old library building, now used as school administrative offices, to the community and presented the library with its first collection of books.

Later the library building was maintained by the Ladies Library association of which Mrs. Chapman's mother was a member. The library was left with the provision that it could be used as a home by the Northville Woman's Club.

Mrs. Chapman's mother was Mrs. Ethelyn Lapham and her grandmother was Camilla Dubaut, both of whom were former presidents of the Woman's Club. Also president of the club from 1956 to 1958, Mrs. Chapman is a graduate of the University of Michigan, and Northville elementary and high schools. She taught English at Northville high school until her retirement.

Mrs. Chapman lives in the old family home located at the corner of Randolph and High streets.

Flowers of the bride's attendants were colonial cascades of pink miniature roses and pink carnations.

Miss Pamela Kuegler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kuegler of 18420 Donegal Court, was the flower girl. She was dressed in a floor length garnet and ivory dress styled after those of the bridesmaids. She carried a small bouquet of pink miniature roses.

William Smith of Troy, a life-long friend of the bridegroom, was the best man. Ushers were James Howell of Mt. Clemens, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Thomas Stebbins of Royal Oak, cousin of the bridegroom; David Ge-loneck of Warren and Jerry Pike of Livonia, both cousins of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wagoner wore a two-piece pink silk worsted dress with the bodice and top of the jacket embroidered in crystal beads with a matching small hat, and a hand-bag corsage of red roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a light green silk worsted dress with jeweled buttons on the jacket and a small feathered hat. Her corsage was of cymbidium orchids worn at the shoulder.

FISH CAPER-A Siamese fighting fish apparently turned chicken last week and flew off to hiding. His bowl, sitting here on Bank Receptionist Mrs. Cleve Stroth's desk, turned up empty after doors had closed for the night at Manufacturers National Bank. His whereabouts remains a mystery.

Bank Employees Puzzled

Not a fin was gone, not even a cent - but the same couldn't be said for a two-inch long Siamese Fighting Fish. Officials of the Manufacturer's National Bank of Northville are mystified over the strange disappearance last week of the pet tropical fish of Bank Receptionist Mrs. Cleve Stroth.

A gift to Mrs. Stroth by Northville Attorney Cliff Hill, the fish had been a popular attraction at the bank since October. Adults, kids, all kinds of cats were attracted to him.

"The frisky, purple fish called a Beta was last seen flashing about his (or her) bowl on Mrs. Stroth's desk at closing time Wednesday afternoon. The following morning he was gone.

"At first we thought some child had reached in and taken him," said Assistant Manager David Blery, "but I'm sure he was there when we closed. His water had been changed that afternoon, and, as usual, was teeming happily about the bowl in the fresh water."

"Suspecting that the fish had become a little intoxicated with holiday spirit and leaped out during the night, bank employees searched every inch of the floor. But no fish. Not even in the vault.

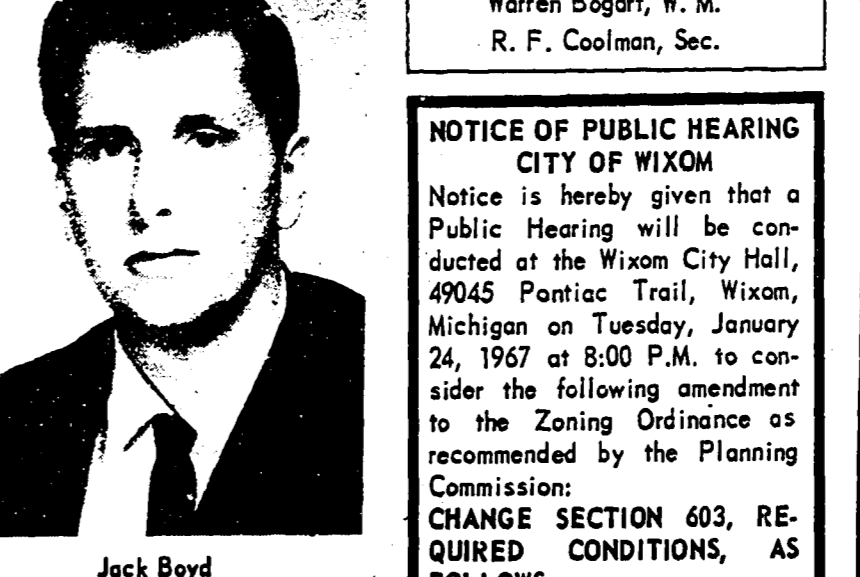

"Then someone got the idea that possibly the janitor, Ira Bailey, had sucked him up in the vacuum machine while cleaning that night. But even after Ira had carefully inspected the dirt in the vacuum machine, the disappearance remained a mystery.

"We just can't figure it out; he was there when we left...now not even a trace...not even a ransom note."

Boyd is one of 85 volunteers trained this fall to expand Peace Corps work in Kenya secondary education. The group, which left for their assignments on January 3, will teach in the fields of English, history, geography, math, and science in secondary schools throughout the country.

During their training at Teachers College, the new Volunteers studied Swahili, East African history and culture, and world affairs. Technical training included teaching methods and skills and several weeks of practice teaching in New York City high schools. During practice teaching the Volunteers lived with families in the neighborhood of their schools and engaged in community service activities.

With this group's arrival, 245 Volunteers will be at work in Kenya. Other Peace Corps projects there include land settlement, agriculture and cooperatives.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING CITY OF WIXOM
Notice is hereby given that a Public Hearing will be conducted at the Wixom City Hall, 49045 Pontiac Trail, Wixom, Michigan on Tuesday, January 24, 1967 at 8:00 P.M. to consider the following amendment to the Zoning Ordinance as recommended by the Planning Commission:
CHANGED SECTION 603, REQUIRED CONDITIONS, AS FOLLOWS:
A. Number the existing paragraph 1.
B. Add a new paragraph 2 as follows:
2. All multiple family developments shall be provided with improvements for streets and utilities as provided in Article V of Ordinance No. 50 of the City of Wixom. In those instances where the multiple family development is not plotted as a subdivision and where reference is made to subdivisions - such reference shall also apply to multiple family developments.
Donna J. Thorsberg, City Clerk (Deputy)

1-Card of Thanks

The family of Rachel E. Weeks wish to thank all of their friends and neighbors, Rev. S. D. King, Rev. Larry Gault and Caterines for all the many acts of kindness shown during the loss of our dear mother. Special thanks to Dr. Loren Dyer for all the care and understanding he gave during her illness.

I wish to thank all of my friends who have so kindly remembered me in so many thoughtful ways during my hospitalization and convalescence at home. It was deeply appreciated.

Ronald G. Marks

EASY DOES IT-Center: Jim Peterson bags an easy bucket against Robichaud in helping Northville to its only win of the tournament. Jim Zayti gets in position for the rebound as Glenn Deibert (32) watches the action.

Tourney Losing Mustangs Eye W-O League Title

Ever hear of losing to win a title? If history repeats itself, the Northville Mustangs may do exactly that. Once again Northville competed in the River Rouge Holiday tournament, a veritable den of basketball lions, namely, River Rouge, Ecorse, Highland Park, Lincoln Park and Thurston. And Northville predictably was a loser, dropping two of three games.

Lincoln Park got the first crack at Northville and its 4-1 record, and pulled off an 80-65 victory. Ranking underlined play in its first tourney game, first-up Highland Park hung the second tournament defeat in a row on Northville, 67-59.

Inkster Robichaud was Northville's final foe and the Mustangs finished the winning formula and beat Robichaud, 51-37, to salvage one game against tough class A competition.

Two losses and a victory do not a champion make, but for the past two years, Northville has come off the losing tournament trail to hit the high road to victory in the Wayne-Oakland Conference. In fact, Northville rode to a share of the W-O title last year.

Coach Dave Longridge thinks the tournament will give his cagers the added experience, polish and primarily, the playing edge they'll need to seriously challenge for the W-O basketball crown this year. At the same time, he thinks the holiday layoff will dull the sharpness of other league teams.

The test of the Mustangs' improvement won't be long in coming. Next Friday, Northville will host Bloomfield Hills, a team that has been a title contender ever since Coach Hal Henderson took over as coach.

Although Bloomfield Hills is 2-2 in the league, there's reason for the Mustangs to be leery. Henderson has never lost to Northville. Furthermore, Bloomfield had a similar record last year before the Christmas holidays, but came back strong to tie Northville for the championship.

Victory over Bloomfield is a must, Longridge contends. "The way Clarkson is going," he said, "a record of 12-2 will definitely win the title. We have a chance of winning with no less than 12-2."

Another loss would give Northville a 3-2 league record, meaning, by Longridge's calculations, that Northville would have to win their remaining nine games. It's highly unlikely with road games against Bloomfield, West Bloomfield, Holly and Brighton, and a home game against Clarkson remaining.

That's the W-O league race at a glance before the stretch drive begins in the New Year.

Against Robichaud, a stretch of six straight points put Northville out front, 30-22 at halftime, a lead the Mustangs held throughout the rest of the game.

Forward Glenn Deibert hit a jump shot from the key to spark the spurt. Guard Dennis Mathews then took a long pass on a break and scored. Forward Jim Zayti then drove the base line, coming up underneath his man to give Northville an eight-point lead.

Northville increased its lead to 42-30 at the end of the third quarter, and sailed the game away in the fourth, with Robichaud never getting any closer than 11 points.

Center Jim Peterson led the attack with 12 points. Following him were Zayti and Deibert, both with 10 points.

"By switching to a zone just before the end of the first half, we changed the complexion of the game," Longridge said. "We gained better control of the boards."

Highland Park's control of the boards and Northville's 17 turnovers broke open what was an otherwise close game and gave the Parkers victory last week Wednesday. Northville trailed 29-24 at halftime.

"We played good ball through two and one-half quarters," Longridge pointed out, "but suddenly we started missing our outside shots and the turnovers killed us."

Northville seldom got a second shot on goal because of two towering Parkers on the front line - one who measured 6'5" and the other 6'4".

Highland Park was also fired up after a lop-sided loss the night before to Thurston. The Parkers scored only two points in the first quarter, and hot shooting Thurston (68 percent for the night) raced to an 18-2 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Dewitt Beats Cold Novi

A cold-shooting Novi team was stung by its third consecutive loss Friday night at DeWitt, 91-47.

The witness Wildcats shot 25 percent (17 of 68) while DeWitt, playing on the friendly confines of its home court, shot a blazing 57 percent (39 of 69).

"They scored 42 points on lay-ups," Coach Jim Ladd said, "and we scored 12 on lay-ups." That was basically the story of the game, with many buckets coming after interceptions.

In an effort to upset DeWitt's smooth game, Novi switched to a zone. But DeWitt peppered the nets consistently to quickly discourage the Wildcats' zone.

Novi took a two-point lead, scoring on "a scooter play" from the opening tip-off. That's the first and last time Novi led as DeWitt came on like gang-busters.

Turnbull Injured Colts Dumped Twice

The Northville Colts were dumped twice in the River Rouge holiday tournament, but they made a scrapping good show before going down to defeat at the hands of River Rouge and Ecorse.

Injury to Craig Turnbull, a regular, hampered the Colts at their second game of the tournament against River Rouge. Turnbull lost his balance coming down after breaking a pass and crashed to the floor, breaking his left forearm. He's out for the season.

At the time of Turnbull's injury, the Jayvees were leading Rouge, 20-12. By the time Northville reserves picked up the tempo of the game, Rouge had a 33-23 lead at halftime.

"We missed a lot of lay-ups," Coach Bob Kucher said, "about 11 or 12. Seven or eight in the first period alone when we might have broken the game open."

Beaten by one-point the previous day, tourney favorite, Ecorse, came back with vengeance against Northville, whipping the Colts, 72-53. "They just beat us, that's all," Kucher stated.

But the game, Kucher said, was much closer than the score indicated. "I emptied the bench to give everybody an opportunity to play," the Jayvee coach said. "Actually, the difference was more like eight or 10 points at that time."

Robinson, whom Kucher described as the "steadfast performer of the tournament," was the leading local scorer with 21 points. Guard Stan Nridner tallied 11.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Rev. Charles F. Boeger
St. Paul's Lutheran, Northville

HISTORY - HIS STORY OR OURS?
By this time you have probably replaced the calendar on your walls with brand new ones for the year 1967. People have had calendars for a long time, but they were not always as accurate as those we have today.

In 1582 an astronomer finally figured out the way to make the same months stay in the same seasons every year. Many countries in Europe adopted this new calendar. But almost 200 years passed before the people of England decided to use it. By that time the old calendar was eleven days out of line.

In order to make up for this error the king of England passed a decree in 1752. This decree said that the day after September 2, 1752 would be September 14. Eleven days were dropped. This caused a great confusion and uproar in Great Britain. People gathered in mobs crying: "Give us back our eleven days!" They thought they were losing that many days out of their lives; but, of course, they really were not.

Sometimes we, too, feel that we've lost a number of days because they seem to go so quickly. At the end of another year it is well to stop and think how we used the days and the year just gone by.

We Christians confess that we misspended many of those days we cannot get back. There were wasted hours in which we could have studied but didn't. There were chances to help others and to witness for Christ, but we often failed. "Please forgive these lost moments," we ask the Lord. God hears our prayer and forgives our sins through Christ. He also promises us His Holy Spirit to help us to live for Him more fully in the days ahead.

We can start the new year trusting that God's love and His Spirit will be with us.

As we mark the rapid passing of the years and tuck another one into the files of history, we can say with profit: "Whose story do the years of history tell? His story? Or ours?"

If the changing calendar is just another chapter in our biography, then the future is as dismal as we make it.

LONDON BROIL (Serves 4)
3/4 cup safflower or corn
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1/4 cup steak catsup
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 cup grated onion
2 1/2 pound flank steak
To make marinade, combine all ingredients except flank steak. Beat with a wire whisk or shake well to blend flavors. Trim excess fat from meat. Pour marinade over meat and refrigerate for several hours or overnight. Remove meat from marinade and broil to desired degree of doneness. (About 7 minutes per rare.) *Other cuts of beef are now called "London Broil." They are so marked in meat cases and can be used in this recipe instead of flank steak.

CRITICS AND WELL WISHERS

It's always nice to be complimented. But it's much more helpful to be constructively criticized. It has always seemed to me that the Complaint Department of an automobile dealership is one that the "Boss" has to manage. It is the customer who decides if a business succeeds or fails and the boss man should keep his ear leaved to the customer's feelings. I'm speaking now of reasonable and justified complaints-and there are some in the auto business. Most are over-promise and under-deliver, or they are easily rectified if the customer would bring the complaint to the dealer's attention. If you are not satisfied with a service job on your car, or if something promised was not delivered, you are doing your dealer a service by bringing it to his attention. If he is interested in keeping you as a customer he will do his utmost to right the wrong. Of course there is the kind of complaint that makes you angry and where our emotions are offended. Even in this case, talking it over with your dealer is more likely to straighten matters out than letting it build up into resentment. No one is ever improved on just compliments. A quality dealer is no exception. If it is something wrong, he wants to know about it, for his own sake as well as yours. See you next week.

State Must Face up to Doctor Shortage

MICHIGAN IS SADLY LACKING in doctors for its citizens. There is no hope of meeting the need unless immediate steps are taken to expand medical education facilities.

To make matters worse, an important recommendation by a blue-ribbon committee to the State Board of Education was recently ignored in a four to four vote on establishing a four-year medical school at Michigan State University.

The tie had the effect of refusing the special committee's recommendation that MSU's present two-year human biology program be expanded to a full medical training course.

PART OF THE BOARD'S hesitation to approve the new medical school request from MSU was credited to the need for an overall higher education plan in Michigan. Another factor was a proposal for an osteopathic college which is in the works.

A master plan for education might not be ready for another year and there is no firm indication when, or if, the osteopathic college will get beyond the planning stage.

Many believe the MSU request for expansion to a four-year medical school should be considered on its own merit in light of the recognized dire need for doctors in Michigan.

BOARD MEMBERS themselves appointed the special committee to deal with the expansion of medical education in Michigan as a broad concept and the MSU plan as a specific request but in the opinion of the state's total needs.

In essence the committee recommended immediate steps be taken to expand and improve the two existing medical schools and approve without delay MSU's request for an M.D. degree program.

DELAY IN APPROVAL is difficult to understand. After the first of the year, two new members will take their seats on the Board of Education, a result of the recent election. Perhaps the issue will be reconsidered then.

Members of the Board which failed to approve the plan indicated that more study was necessary to fit this recommendation into an overall program. It is very hard to see how much more study will be needed before the overwhelming facts stimulate a decision in some direction to provide doctors for the people in Michigan. The questions has been examined and re-examined.

Delay in providing action can only hurt everyone involved: the potential students and the profession itself. Most importantly, the people of this state.

threaten the continued prosperity of Michigan's economy. Cities are screaming because of announced decreases in spending for local urban renewal and poverty relief programs.

State highway officials throughout Michigan breathe heavily because of the shorter supply of federal funds to complete road construction plans.

MANY PROGRAMS, in other states as well as Michigan, are heavily dependent for their existence on specified percentages of federal contributions.

Every year the legislature is asked to consider expansion of some existing state-federal programs and creation of new ones. This year serious thought must be aimed at these proposals. No one cares to guess when the light federal money situation will loosen, but how to reduce spending is a problem which must be faced.

ROGER BABSON
1967: Another Auto Sales Dip?

BABSON PARK, MASS. — Some executives of our own U.S. auto-manufacturing Big Three—General Motors, Chrysler, and Ford—have admitted that they expect another dip during 1967 in total output, which would mean the second consecutive year of lowering sales. Executives of firms importing foreign cars express no such doubts.

Almost unanimously they predict that 1967 will be the second successive record-breaking year for their products. Does this mean a greater swing toward the purchase of foreign cars; and, if so, what is behind the switch in trend?

The question may well have more than one answer, probably a number of answers. But the essential fact is that statistics already provide a reasonable basis for the contrast between the pessimism of domestic producers and the optimism of foreign car dealers.

Taking November figures (latest available), it may be seen that foreign car sales have risen an impressive 18% over those of a year ago. This compares dramatically with a decline of 7% in domestic new car sales over the same period.

While it is true that foreign car turnover represents only about 8% of the total market, there is something interesting about the fact that practically all the leading importers are chalking up gains while all our biggest producers are registering declines. If it were a matter only of restlessness or watchful waiting on the part of the consumer public, there is no reason why both domestic and foreign auto sales should not reflect the same weakening tendency.

AS IN THE case of residential construction, tight money undoubtedly is having some adverse effect on the demand for larger, more expensive cars. The lowest-priced model made in this country is now the Rambler American, which goes for $2,073. But look at the price range for foreign models; eight out of the ten biggest-selling imported cars can be bought for less. And there are a couple of scores of other foreign makes also below the Rambler American price range, even though not among those best known to the public.

John Calkins, a native of South Lyon, will lead the 1967 search for Michigan's Product of the Year and Agricultural Development of the Year.

His appointment as chairman of the state Product and Agriculture Awards committee was announced this week by Edgar L. Harden, president of Northern Michigan university, general chairman of the 14th annual Michigan Week, May 21-27.

A member of South Lyon's pioneering Calkins family, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Calkins, 498 North Ingham, South Lyon. He presently is information chief of the state Department of Agriculture for Michigan, a post he took in 1965 while living in Manistee where he was forestry information administrator of Packaging Corporation of America.

Product of the Year awards will be made following county and regional contests to be conducted by the local Michigan Week committees.

The state committee, under Calkins' direction, worked during the holiday and is expected to announce the rules and schedule for the 1967 contest later this month.

The 1966 Product of the Year winner was Pettibone Michigan Corporation of Baraga with its new giant of the logging woods, the Pettibone Carry-Lift. This was the second year running that the award went to the Upper Peninsula, the Menominee helicopter manufacturer R. J. Enstrom Corporation having won in 1965.

STRIDING IN BIG BOOTS!

"Making Electricity With The Atom And Getting Natural Gas From Under The Sea," reads like a chapter from the legendary tale of the giant lumberjack, Paul Bunyan. His superhuman feats, however, can't compare with the prodigious steps taken by Consumers Power Company in its continuous efforts to assure ample electricity and natural gas for Michigan's lower peninsula... now and in the future.

Consumers Power Company built Michigan's Big Rock Point Nuclear Plant on its own initiative, entirely at its own expense. It was the world's first high-power density boiling water reactor for generating commercial electricity. Operating at capacity, Big Rock Point is capable of supplying enough electricity to meet all the residential and farm needs of an average city of 100,000 persons.

And, to increase its supply of natural gas for Michigan's growing demands, Consumers Power gets huge amounts of natural gas from offshore wells beneath the Gulf of Mexico... wells as deep as 11,000 feet below the water and more than 5 miles out to sea!

Thus Consumers Power, takes giant steps to help keep Michigan great!

SPEAKING
for The Record
By BILL SLIGER

Just for a change of pace I thought it might be a good idea to start the New Year on the lighter side by writing a column that criticizes no one, makes absolutely no recommendations for improvement and leaves the reader wondering why he read as far as he did (which wouldn't be unique).

New Year's resolutions might be appropriate. But Jack Hoffman did that last week in "Top of the Deck". And besides, I've observed that his resolutions wear about as long as his shaving lather.

I might have a few words to say about the rash of gridiron clashes on television during the holidays, but Ronnie Peterson's "Loose Leaf" column picked off that plum for its change of pace.

The new short skirts might also be a subject worth exploring, but I hesitate to pass judgment until there's been more time for observation.

And I've heard a lot of people complaining about the silly TV commercials, but I've got to admit that the gag line on the deodorant skit where the guy in the locker room asks "what would you have done if I had asked for money?" and then gets a towel in the face, leaves me laughing.

Another very important topic these days is the slump of the Red Wings. But that's a slippery subject, and could lead to this ice.

Then there's the trials of George Hamilton, what with the draft board Lydia Bird both under a name like Mohammed Ali, for example? Think what that might do to the morale of our fighting men.

And all this talk about conducting the draft by lottery scares a fellow. What if they should pull out a name like Mohammed Ali, for example? Think what that might do to the morale of our fighting men.

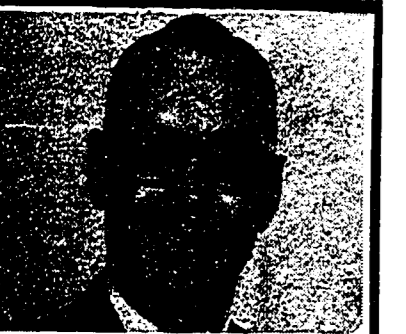

It does seem that the government and the medical profession should adopt a new approach in its fight to reduce lung cancer. Statistics show that a record 542 billion cigarettes were consumed by American smokers in 1965. How about a campaign connecting cigarette smoking with motherhood, good books, exercise, peace and attending church?

Did you know that Hacke is another name for chipmunk? Or that an acre is 160 square rods in square measure? That's what you learn when you read the fillers in daily newspapers.

Only 10 more days and we'll all know the answer to the question of which pro football league is superior, AFL or NFL? The big clash is being staged in Los Angeles. Bet on the team with sideline oxygen masks.

I read somewhere recently where a man under fire said that it wasn't the voices of his critics that bothered him, but the silence of his friends. You've got to say this for Jimmy Hoffa. His friends aren't silent.

As a closer, a resolution: never again to wait until Tuesday morning to write my column.

"After the Fox" is cinematic champagne—clear and effervescent. No more, no less. But it lacks the substance which makes wine a delicate treat. In fact, there's absolutely no heady after effects, which, in this case, is exactly the desired effect.

Playing now at area theatres, this spoof of movie-drama spunkies, to be sure. What else, with Peter Sellers, the original martini man in the lead as Valuchi, super crook. He's as cool and dry as they come, squeezing every drop from every line and delivering them with the usual mug of mirth.

International police finger him as the man who will smuggle gold stolen from Cairo into the continent. They're right. Valuchi is a master mind and escape artist, a camellion who assumes disguises at the twist of a lemon and escapes the obtuse police. As Valuchi, Sellers upstages super sleuths 007 and even the latest addition to the ranks of the violence syndrome, Dean Martin.

That's the plot that doubles the swipe at double-ought-seven flicks, but there are complications. Valuchi is with family, a crook with a heart. He must save his 16-year-old sister, Gina, played by Britt Ekland, a little starlet who fits into the pussy cat role. She's a mini-gigi, a swinger who idolizes stars and thrives for stardom. Her brother feels she is falling prey to lascivious scoundrels and comes to the rescue.

It leads to a lot of slapstick and a barrel of snags at convention, particularly, Hollywood and its synthetic promise of stardom. When Sellers assumes the role of Frederico Fabrizi,

"The bridegroom was handsomely attired in a black Hildago tuxedo of Dacron Polyester/worsted, two-piece abrasion tested. It featured a satin framed shawl collar of molded construction, firm shoulders, lined sleeves and break-resistant buttons with locked in color. The coat was tastefully decorated with flap pockets double-piped with satin, and the vest complemented the collar. A silk cummerbund, a family heirloom given to him by his grandfather, was accented with lace and contrasting blue velvet ribbon. The all-wool, pleated-trousers, which featured hidden seams and stripes to match the ensemble facings, fell to the heels of his black patent slippers, revealing as he knelt at the altar the jet black stockings held in place by matching garters. His silk, white on white shirt featured flounced cuffs, and he wore a silver-grey cravat to highlight the entire outfit."

That's just part of a story that someday I'd like to write, emphasizing the role of the male in the wedding ceremony.

It often has occurred to me that the male is relegated to a second-class role in the wedding ceremony. Where and why this gross injustice originated escapes me, but the male—whether out of ignorance or indifference—has accepted his miserly role without a whimper.

Show me a stout-hearted man who claims his rightful share of the ceremony and I'll show you 100 who think their "I do" is sufficient evidence of equality.

Yet, these same cowards will thereafter beat their chests as heads of the family, force their names upon the woman, brow-beat their wives, angrily protest woman's entrance into business, politics, space ships and poker parties, claim first right to the family bank, and beg children to carry on in the same ridiculous tradition.

On the incongruity of it all!

"But," argues the wife of the writer, "the bride's parents are the ones who pick up the tab. Besides, who wants to read about what the groom is wearing?"

NEWEST TITLE HOLDER—Michelle Lynne DuFort, here in the arms of her mother, is the 1967 First Baby winner, taking over the title held last year by Ronald James Hesse.

Meet First Baby

Like many people the Arnold DuForts of 344 Ely Drive North stayed awake New Year's Eve—but for a little different reason.

Instead of ushering in the New Year at a spirited party or in the quiet of their home, they did their celebrating in the confines of New Grace Hospital in Detroit.

And why shouldn't they? It was there they became the proud parents of a baby girl, their first, and the winner of this year's First Baby Contest.

The baby, named Michelle Lynne, was born at 3:29 a.m. January 1—not the earliest time for a first baby in the 11-year history of the contest, but certainly one of the earliest. The attending physician was Dr. Philip Fevan, Michelle Lynne, who weighed 7 pounds and 2 ounces, returned home with Mrs. DuFort Friday afternoon.

Actually, there was a time when the DuForts thought their first child might be the last born in 1966. They left for the hospital from their Northville home about 9 p.m. Saturday, December 31, but the baby waited not several more hours.

Even so, Michelle Lynne now accepts the title from Ronald James Hesse, 1966 champ and earliest arrival ever. Ronald, now a 22-pound bundle of energy, was born at 12:50 a.m. January 1, 1966.

Mrs. DuFort, both graduate of the University of Michigan, Dearborn campus, moved to Northville in October "because we liked the community—a kind of happy medium between the small and large towns we grew up in."

The beaming father is a native of Fairgrove, a small community east of Bay City, and his wife hails from Redford township. They were married June 6, 1964 in Redford.

The DuForts met while attending the university, from which he was graduated in February, 1964, and she in June, 1965. Following graduation, Mrs. DuFort taught kindergarten for one year at Jackson elementary school in Livonia. He joined the Chevrolet Motor Division as a cooperative student in 1962 and now heads a financial department for Chevrolet in Ypsilanti.

With Mr. Stork's presentation this year, he put the girls in the lead in the annual contest—with five boys and 6 girls.

Because their daughter is the First Baby this year, the DuForts will receive the following gifts from sponsoring merchants:

Adopt Supporting Resolution

Incorporation picked up old friend last week as the Novi Board of Commerce gave its support to the city of Novi movement.

A resolution endorsing city incorporation of the village and recommending a "yes" vote on April 4 was adopted unanimously by the dozen members attending the monthly dinner meeting at the Rosewood Restaurant.

Significantly, Hadley Bachert, supervisor of the township and treasurer of the Board of Commerce, was absent from the meeting because of illness. Bachert was a leading opponent of incorporation in the previous attempt at cityhood for Novi.

Introduced by Board Member Philip Anderson, who also is president of the village, the resolution reads:

"Whereas, we, the members of the Novi Board of Commerce, wish to see this community prosper and grow and become one of the leading communities in the metropolitan area, and

"Whereas, in order to remain intact, it is a necessity that the village be incorporated as the City of Novi, Michigan;

"That we, the members of the Novi Board of Commerce, do hereby endorse city incorporation for Novi and recommend a 'yes' vote on April 4, 1967;

"Whereas, in order for the village to do so, its boundaries must remain intact, and

"Whereas, in order to remain intact, it is a necessity that the village be incorporated as the City of Novi, Michigan;

In other action Thursday night, President Russell Taylor named Philip Anderson chairman of the Industrial Development committee, which is being reorganized. Hadley Bachert, as a representative of the township board, and Harold Ackley, as a representative of the village, are each to appoint two members to serve on Anderson's committee, which has been charged with the responsibility of encouraging new industry and business to establish in Novi.

Taylor also appointed Kenneth Bas-

Industrial Park Zoning Wins Village Approval

Three strikes doesn't always mean you're out.

That became apparent Monday night as the village planners and councilmen approved a manufacturing classification for some 60 acres of property on the west side of Novi road, adjacent to the railroad tracks and Novi Heights subdivision.

Three previous attempts by the owners, B. J. Pollard and Paul Boscoe, to gain a heavier manufacturing classification for 46 acres in the area had been defeated.

At this point, the planners upon their own initiative, recommended that they considered was a more desirable manufacturing classification for a still larger area.

Originally, Pollard and Boscoe requested M-1 (light manufacturing) and an M-3 (heavy manufacturing) classifications for their property. Because officials believed the M-3 classification was too permissive, they suggested M-1 and M-2 (restricted manufacturing).

Although this revised classification proposal drew approval of all planners and councilmen present at Monday's joint meeting, it met stiff opposition from Mrs. Ann Nichols, who previously had voiced opposition to the requests of Pollard and Boscoe. She attempted, without success, to delay a decision pending a meeting of representatives of the Novi Heights association and planners.

Explaining that she had been asked by the association president, William Lovett, to request a delay until after the meeting, she said she had no opportunity to negotiate a mutually satisfactory zoning solution, Mrs. Nichols filed a barrage of protests against the zoning change. Her main arguments were that the manufacturing zoning will be detrimental to the adjacent residential area, that vacant manufacturing properties already exist in Novi, and that the zoning will "ruin" the central part of Novi.

William Skeltis questioned the village's capability of regulating industrial wastes, taking the position that the municipality should adopt regulating laws before providing for additional industrial development.

In answer to Skeltis, officials noted that the village already has regulations governing industrial wastes.

And concerning the charges of Mrs. Nichols, Planning Chairman Raymond Evans noted that the village had not been officially notified by the association concerning either its objections or its desire to meet with planners. "If I thought the whole subdivision opposite," he said, "it might be a different matter."

The planners subsequently recommended the zoning change by a 7-0 vote, and the council then adopted the rezoning by a 4-0 vote.

Originally, the position of the planners in recommending the change was in part due to its desire to protect adjacent property owners. However, by substituting a more restrictive man-

Township Fights Incorporation

Expected opposition to the latest bid for city incorporation became a reality Monday night as the Novi township board authorized court action to contest the election slated for April 4.

Attorney Emery Jacques was directed to seek an injunction in Oakland county circuit court on grounds that Novi cannot legally incorporate because it does not meet state laws on population.

Supervisor Hadley Bachert said Jacques will make his appeal because a reality Monday night, the judge who had indirectly advised the village council to deny petitions for an election.

Subsequent to legal proceedings before Judge Moore, new petitions were introduced and Circuit Court Judge Charles Thorsburn ruled that it was not mandatory for Novi to meet the statutory population requirement.

For Wixom Sewers Groundbreaking Slated Monday

Ground breaking ceremonies signaling the beginning of construction of the Wixom sewerage disposal system will be held at 11 a.m. Monday, Mayor Wesley McAtee reported at Tuesday's meeting of the Wixom city council.

Ceremonies will take place in front of the Holloway Construction company, 28250 Wixom road. Holloway has been awarded the contract for installing sewers.

About 70 persons, including city officials from Wixom, Walked Lake, Novi and Wolverton Lake and officials from Oakland county, Villean-Leman Associates and Hubbel, Roth and Clarke, Inc., are expected to attend. The public is also invited, Mayor McAtee announced.

A luncheon will be held for special guests at the Camelot Inn in Walked Lake, following the ground breaking.

Although a public hearing on the remainder of the Docksey property was to be held Tuesday, it was postponed until the next meeting of the council. Ralph Docksey had requested that the remainder of 33 acres be rezoned from residential to multiple.

The postponement was recommended by the mayor who advised that action could be more appropriately taken during a public hearing at the next council meeting on January 24. At that time, the council was to act on amendment to the zoning ordinance pertaining to multiple dwellings.

Two other matters were scheduled to be aired at a public hearing set for February 14.

The first is consideration of a petition asking that property owned by the Detroit Finnish Cooperative Association be rezoned from RA2 to RA3 for a proposed summer camp.

The second matter to be aired is the expansion of the board of appeals from five to seven members.

Plan Meeting For Goodfellows

A reorganizational meeting of the Novi Goodfellows will be held Saturday at the Rosewood Restaurant, 46077 Grand River.

Letters to key organizations have gone out inviting representation at the meeting. In addition, all former members of the organization and any Novi citizens interested in reactivating the Goodfellows are invited to attend.

Harrawood Recovering

Novi councilman and businessman, Leo Harrawood, was reported in satisfactory condition Tuesday in Bostonford General Hospital, Farmington.

"He's up and walking around," a hospital source said.

What was originally thought to be a heart attack was later determined to be a blood clot, it was reported. While in the hospital, Harrawood reportedly suffered strokes resulting from blood clots and he was then said to be in critical condition.
