

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Officials representing the cities and townships of Northville and Plymouth and Canton township met as a committee recently to discuss the possibility of establishing an area "incinerator authority".

The thought is that, although sanitary landfill is the most economical means of disposing of refuse, limitation of sites (among other reasons) makes it imperative that consideration be given to incinerating of refuse within the next five to 10 years.

A possible site on Detroit House of Correction property providing desirable high elevation has been proposed. But committee members must first gain permission of their respective governing bodies before exploring this possibility with the city of Detroit.

Northville township board members declined permission, at least until more information is available. The city council approved exploration of the site purchase, but also wanted more details before entering into the proposed official authority.

The idea has several attractive features. Refuse from the participating communities could be deposited at the incinerator site by truck, then the ash removed by nearby railroad facilities.

It would eliminate, eventually, numerous landfill operations and would reduce the volume of refuse at least in half.

But the 50 per cent remaining—the ash—creates problems, too. It is not pleasant. Township Supervisor R. D. Merrim, who visited the Western Wayne disposal plant with other incinerator committee members, describes the ash as a "gooey mess".

Nevertheless, a process that would reduce mountains of refuse by 50 per cent is one well worth exploring.

The inter-community study effort should be given support.

To the Editor: What has happened to the promises made last year before the school board election? At that time, many candidates—including myself—expressed a desire for better communication between the school board and the public.

Top of the Deck

The following came from Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wye of Northville. It was clipped from Readers Digest. It applies to Northville, just as it did in Cheyenne...

A 15-year-old boy stood with his downcast father before a municipal judge of Cheyenne, Wyoming. The boy had been charged with breaking and entering a local school at 2 o'clock one morning.

Turning to the boy's father, he continued, "And because you didn't know where your son was at that hour of the morning, I sentence you to accompany him to that school and walk around it with him every morning for the next 30 days.

Henry Biddle, who toils a bus between Northville and Detroit nine times a day, invited me to sit down in the cozy, paneled living room of his Five Mile road home and then he gave me a description of the vehicle with which his father had launched a business when his host was barely out of diapers.

Henry, I seemed to recall the name "Biddle" from something I'd read. Just before I left, I remembered that someone with a similar name had operated a stage coach line here back before the turn of the Century.

From a copy of The Wayne County Record (now The Northville Record), dated September 25, 1869: "Henry Corvitz of Plymouth recently furnished facilities for conveying persons from Northville direct to Wayne, daily, so as to connect with the train east on M.C.R.R. By this means we were enabled to go to Detroit and back the same day, having had ample time to transact any business necessary.

That was nearly 100 years ago. Today, a passenger can make a round-trip to Detroit with Henry Biddle for just 55-cents. Not bad for a century of inflation behind us.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

As a murder mystery, it's a flop. As a documentary, it's hardly coherent. As a drama, it simply does not have the substance. Then what, in the name of Hollywood, does "Night of the Generals" have?

In the lead is Peter O'Toole as a youthful German general, of course, of pure Aryan stock. He's the typical, rigid Prussian militarist—without the monochrome. Like Hitler, himself, General O'Toole is obsessed with the messianic mission to kill for the fatherland.

There is another mark of madness in the general about whom the story revolves. Why does O'Toole commit three brutal sexual murders, somewhat in the manner of Dostoyevsky's Raskolnikov? Why are all his victims prostitutes?

Most inexplicably, why does the general always wear gloves? Why is cleanliness a passion? Is he, like Lady MacBeth, unable to wipe out "damned spots"? To hide his guilt? Then why does he never show remorse as MacBeth does? Why does he never waver from his course?

Perhaps this is why O'Toole, in the role of the general, will remain an enigma, a memorable enigma. But there is one thing we can be sure of.

Wixom Nears CBD Overhaul

The Wixom city council took another step toward implementation of plans to overhaul its central business district when it approved a formal application for urban renewal funds Tuesday.

Application for monies to carry out detailed studies must now be approved by the department of Housing and Urban Development, a federal government agency. Federal approval is not expected before two years.

On hand to explain the application, embodied in resolution, was Edward Huestoles, a representative from Wilcan-Leman associates, planning consultant to the project.

Projected net cost of the project is $1,578,000, Huestoles said. Of this amount, he explained the city will have to shoulder one-quarter or $420,000. There are other steps, however, that the city must follow, he pointed out, before actual execution of the project.

Representative said that if the city declines to approve execution, then the city will not have to repay any monies it receives for studies. However, if the city proceeds with final approval, it will be obligated.

Actually, Huestoles said, a case in point. The city has provided apartment housing for displaced senior citizens. The housing is maintained by the city of Dearborn at little expense to the municipality, he said.

Wixom would be granted a $400,000 credit on sewers now being constructed. If the Ring road project, now on the drawing board, is carried out, the planner said, this would mean another $82,000 credit.

Court Ruling Upsets Novi Incorporation Bid

The Novi incorporation election for April 4 is all but dead. A decision by Circuit Court Judge William Beer upholding an earlier ruling of Judge Arthur Moore labeling first-class city incorporation for Novi as illegal was issued Monday.

His decision represented a victory for the township board which contested the election.

In making his decision, Judge Beer also stated that the election called for by the village legally could not be held. However, until the council takes action—probably Monday night—the election remains in effect.

Judge Beer left the door open for either Citizens for Novi Incorporation or the village—or both—to appeal the decision to either the circuit court or to the court of appeals within 20 days. Appeal to circuit court probably would be heard by Judge Beer.

C. A. Smith, chairman of the citizens group, told The News that the "decision definitely will be appealed. However, he said he was not yet in a position to say whether or not both the village and his group or just one of them will make the appeal. Furthermore, he said he doesn't know yet to which court the appeal would be made.

A meeting of the village attorney, the citizens' attorney, Village Manager Harold Ackley and Smith will take place in Pontiac Friday at which time the court ruling will be reviewed and the next course of action considered.

Meanwhile, the citizens group continues its election campaign in boosting incorporation for the community. The group still plans to hold public meetings on the city question on March 15 and again on March 20.

Boosters Dominate Forum Cityhood Opponents Stay Home

The anticipated "hot debate" between opposing forces over the question of cityhood failed to materialize at Monday's public forum, sponsored by the Willowbrook Civic association.

Joseph Parisi, executive director of the Michigan township association, was unable to appear because of illness. He was the only spokesman, opposing cityhood, scheduled to appear on a panel. Efforts to draft a township spokesman from Novi as a formal member of the panel met with failure.

And the impact of the forum may have been lessened by the latest circuit court ruling, upholding the scheduled April 4 vote on cityhood. (See story on this page.)

During the over two hour program, a near capacity audience of 102 people heard three stated panel members and a volunteer speaker for the township give their views on the advantages and disadvantages of cityhood.

After three unsuccessful appeals for somebody to volunteer to speak for the township, Glenn Turner, who lives at 23918 Forest Park in Echo Valley subdivision, stepped forward. He represented

Also, the group has established a post office box—Box 242—in the Novi post office for receiving written questions about cityhood and donations for support of the incorporation movement.

The Willowbrook Civic association also has established a telephone answering service, enabling citizens to telephone questions about incorporation at any time during the day. Questions will be recorded and answers subsequently relayed back. Call 349-1680.

Plans also call for a meeting of the citizens group to take place Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Rosewood Restaurant. Citizens of the community are invited to attend, Smith said.

Even though the election may not be held on the date scheduled, cityhood boosters are reminding residents that the present deadline for registering for the election and for filing nominating petitions for the charter commission is Monday, March 6.

Petitions must contain 20 valid signatures of Novi citizens before the nominee's name can be placed on the April 4 election ballot.

Approximately 650 dog licenses were issued and more than 500 dogs received rabies shots at the record-shattering clinic.

WHEW! IT'S A DOG'S LIFE—Thor's what traffic-directing Novis police officers, the Township Treasurer Duane Bell, and Dr. Frank R. Bates must have thought Saturday when a steady parade of citizens and their not-so-eager pets showed up for the annual dog clinic. Traffic was lined up for nearly a block in two directions and some dogs and masters had to wait nearly an hour.

Personally solicited property owners west of Novi road, Staman replied, "To my knowledge, the mayor of Wixom has not."

But, when asked who was so eager to annex property in Novi, Staman said: "There had been three annexations by Northville already and that there are two possible Novi areas that could very well be annexed, primarily on the southern end of Novi road."

Central concern of many present was whether taxes would be increased if Novi were to become a city. Generally, the three men agreed that cityhood, the three men agreed that cityhood itself does mean increased taxes, but, as Dr. Bromage pointed out, cityhood means a "larger municipality" in which, normally, "demands for services are greater."

"I would say," Bromage said, "that people have made demands for services from a city council and they go up to the charter limitation. But you have to recognize," he added, "that many small cities live on modest taxes. And most cities in Michigan are small."

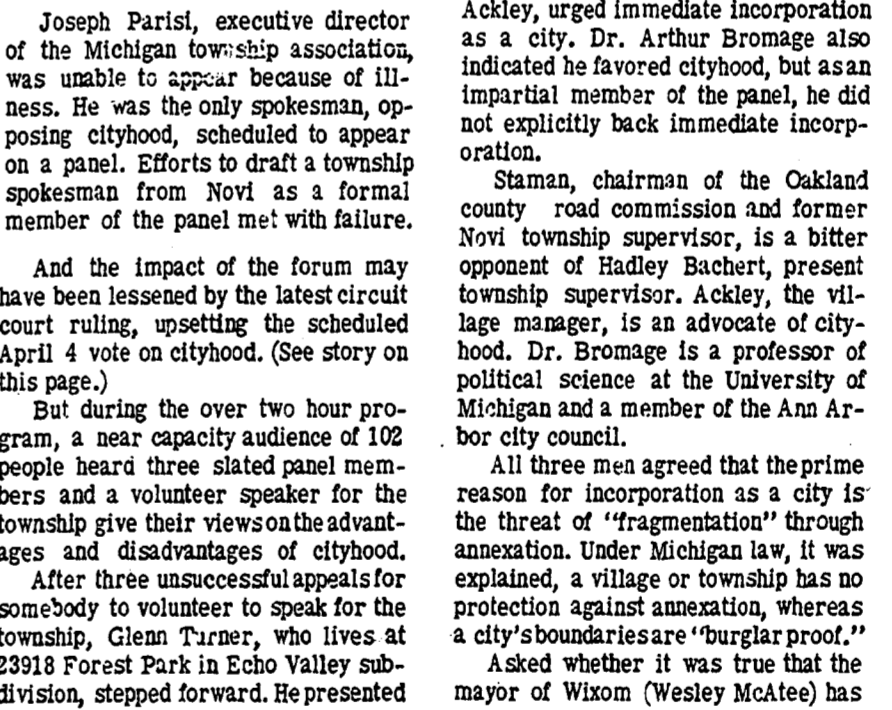

"When a township, or village or city has to meet the functional cost of urbanization," Bromage said, "the city is the only organization administration. After the scheduled panelists had made their formal presentations, Turner spoke. Since Novi is not a city, and does not have to become one, he said, things could remain as they are and let Wixom, Farmington and South Lyon take care of Novi.

In this eventuality, he said, citizens would not have to bear the expense of becoming a city. He cited Westland as an example. Recently incorporated as a city, Westland did not have equipment to remove snow from its streets, Turner said. The county told Westland, he said, to take care of its own streets.

He wound up his presentation with: "We would have higher taxes." Later, during a question and answer session, Staman explained that the county would maintain the roads it is now servicing if Novi became a city. The county would provide the same road service, he said.

Bromage kicked off the evening's activities. Every place is different, he said, much as its own special problems. "You, as sovereign electors must decide," he said, "what kind of government they want. This is the democratic way, he said, not going through the courts. 'If we don't have the right to go to the polls,' he said, 'we don't have much.'"

English Teacher To Study in Europe

A teacher of English and reading at Northville high school is going to jet across the Atlantic this summer with a group of students to attend classes at a campus in England.

Mrs. Carolyn Worek of 311 South Wing street is being appointed by the American Institute For Foreign Study (AIFS) to chaperone a group of high school students on a six-week European study-tour during July and August. She will be accompanied by her husband, Michael Worek, who is doing graduate work in English at the University of Michigan. They will attend classes at the University of Durham.

The American Institute For Foreign Study is a non-profit membership association of high school teachers and students interested in international education. Last summer under the auspices of AIFS, more than 2,500 chaperones accompanied some 2,500 students from all over the U.S. to study in 18 different university campuses in 7 European countries. Home offices of AIFS are in Greenwich, Connecticut.

Although Mrs. Worek will do no teaching in Europe — all instruction will be by local university staffs — her role as chaperone will be to act as a combination guardian, advisor, and friend. All student life in Europe will revolve around her and she will help her group make the necessary adjustments to European life. Mrs. Worek has scheduled a number of meetings prior to departure to prepare the students for the experience.

The Woreks will depart by jet from JFK International Airport in New York on July 14th for Manchester, England. From Manchester they will drive directly by sightseeing bus to Durham.

In Our Town

WHILE SHOVELING the dregs of winter this week Northville women are concentrating upon springlike thoughts about cabbage roses, king size — the length of hems to come — and new cars.

Actually, the new cars are in a Ford color-slide presentation to be given at 2 p.m. Friday to Northville Women's club at Northville Presbyterian church. "Designing Automobiles With the Woman in Mind" will be discussed by Gail L. Halderman, design executive with the company's interior design office. He will relate the role women have played in automotive design decisions — and he promises to give illustrations of possible designs of the future.

A member of the design team that received the Industrial Designer's Institute bronze medal for the design of the 1965 Ford Mustang, Stylist Halderman currently is responsible for the interiors of the Mustang.

He will be introduced by Mrs. E. O. Weber, program chairman for the day.

COMINGS AND GOINGS — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith said goodbye Tuesday to their son-in-law and daughter, Airman First Class and Mrs. James Lockwood, and their little daughter, Lorrie, who left for Lowry Air Force base in Denver where he will be stationed. The Lockwoods recently were reunited when he returned from a tour of duty in France. Mrs. Lockwood (Joan) and the baby had been staying at the Smith home on Orchard drive.

Next Monday the Donald L. Nicholson family will be leaving Northville for a new home in North Miami, Florida. The Nicholsons, with daughters Donna, Barbara and Mary and Mrs. Nicholson's mother, Mrs. J. H. Budge, have made their home here at 308 Debra Lane. Mr. Nicholson, who already is working in Miami, is expected back this Friday. Mrs. Edward Angove and her family will be the new occupants of the Nicholson home.

Friends and neighbors have been bidding Mrs. Nicholson good-bye at luncheons and a neighborhood coffee. Last Thursday Mrs. Robert Massey entertained Mrs. Nicholson and Mrs. Hugh McKay at lunch.

The McKay family will be leaving their Victorian home on West Seven Mile road this spring for Miami also. With children, Mary, Fritie, and Geoff, the McKays expect to live in one of the Miami suburbs.

Entertaining for the McKays begins this weekend with a cocktail-supper party being hosted by Mrs. Charles Fournier and Mrs. Orin Howe. A dozen couples will gather first at the Fountains' new home on Pickford for a champagne toast before moving to the street to the Howe home on Pinebrook for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, who at Christmas time returned with Chris, John and Debbie to their home on Woodhill road after an 11-month stay in Brussels, were welcomed back officially by their neighbors February 18. The Arthur Hove, a dozen couples will gather first at the Fountains' new home on Pickford for a champagne toast before moving to the street to the Howe home on Pinebrook for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tuck of Wixom celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary, February 21, at the Oddfellows Hall in Ferndale. Their children honored them at a party on February 19.

Mrs. Tuck, the former Rachel Bellinger, and her husband were married in Grace Reformed Church, Detroit. He was raised in Wixom. The couple has three sons, two of whom also live in Wixom. They are Walter and William. The third son, George, lives at File Lake. They also have 11 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar E. Stevenson of Edwards Air Force Base, California announce the February 20th marriage of their daughter Lieutenant Carol L. Stevenson to Lieutenant Carl L. Cherne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen R. Cherne of 18435 Beck road.

The bridegroom's parents attended the wedding at Edwards, later touring Southern California before returning home.

James M. Martin of Beck road and Miss Lynne Edsall of Wheatley, Canada were married at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville, officiated by Rev. Lloyd Brasure, on January 21.

The reception was held at the Rotunda Country Inn, Pine Lake, and they honeymooned at Shanty Creek Ski Lodge at Bel Air.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel MacDermald of Northville announce the birth of a baby daughter, Carolyn Louise, on February 17 at St. Mary hospital.

The baby weighs 6 pounds, 13 ounces. She has two brothers and two sisters. Grandparents are Mrs. Vera Small of Northville and Mrs. Florence MacDermald of Walled Lake.

PERHAPS PROVING that Northville women's interests are keyed to careers and fashionable hemlines, two big Feb-uary benefits in our town reported proceeds in excess of expectations. The fashion show given last Thursday by women of Our Lady of Victory church had a turn-out of more than 600 to see progressive styles by Crowleys and creations for the very young from the Little Peoples shop. At a tallying board session Monday Mrs. William McDermott, show chairman, reported that not the $300 expected nor the $500 hoped for had been raised — but that receipts totaled $1,500!

Northville's Senior Girl Scout Troop 222 earlier reported its Valentine card party was a success with more than 100 tickets being sold. The girls and their leaders, Mrs. Leonard Klein and Mrs. Fred Russell, will be spring visitors to Expo 67 in Montreal — and have the satisfaction of knowing that in part they "baked" their way. The 18 table prizes, 16 door prizes and other leaves of love will be spring visitors to Expo 67 in Montreal — and have the satisfaction of knowing that in part they "baked" their way.

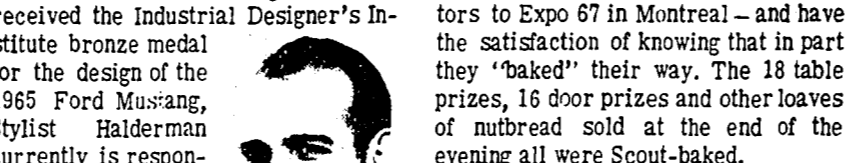

GIANT-SIZE crepe paper flowers and velvet roses, as well as sequin Easter eggs and tin candleholders, are among creations of the newists-and-crafts workshop group organized since last November by the Northville branch of the Michigan Farm and Gardening Association. Set up at the suggestion of the state group, the workshop is being chaired by Mrs. E. O. Whittington.

"Anything we can do with our hands to beautify our homes — or souls" is the purpose of the workshops — four a year — Mrs. Whittington explains. After 40 garden club members expressed interest in the new project, a year's program was developed based upon a questionnaire of what members most wished to create. After each workshop a 10-minute demonstration is given the club at its regular meeting.

Right now these arts-and-crafts members are studying the basic principles of flower arrangement. Mrs. Whittington says their first demonstration will have to do with artificial flowers but she hopes later to use real ones.

With this being the year for the Northville garden club to host the annual tri-club luncheon for Northville, Rosedale Gardens and Plymouth Clubs April 11 at Bolstorff Inn club members have been busy putting centerpieces for the event. Mrs. Reuben Jensen, chairman of this project, already can report that her committee has completed them. Working with her have been Mrs. Donald Ware, Mrs. James Rigger, Mrs. William Switzer, Mrs. Charles Brosius and Mrs. Alfred Millington.

Mrs. Clyde Whittlesley is program chairman for the luncheon. She will be assisted in the slide presentation program of the international flower show by Mrs. Frank Whittmyer. Mrs. William Switzer is handling tickets.

P-TA to Examine Student Behavior

A special meeting to explore ways of curtailing the "deterioration" of student standards will be held on Wednesday, March 8, under the sponsorship of the Northville high school P-TA.

Purpose of the 8 p.m. meeting, which is open to the public, according to P-TA President Andrew Orphan, is to consider the problems facing the school district and perhaps consider formation of a student protective organization similar to Oakland county's community organizations of this kind.

Ideas along this line will be introduced by Principal Fred Holdsworth. To enlist the aid of churches, professional and service organizations of the community, officers of these groups have been sent letters of invitation. They read:

"The past year our students have been involved in unfavorable incidents, some of which have received publicity in the community. These incidents indicate a deterioration of our standards. Mr. Fred Holdsworth, principal of the high school, has indicated to the P-TA a desire to discuss a course of action in Northville . . . Following is the memo for Northville high school dated March 10-10.

OUT OF THE PAST

FIVE YEARS AGO... With a workhorse defense plowing the way, Northville's offense galloped to the wire in harvesting a stunning 72-33 victory over a befuddled South Lyon quintet.

Novi voters were scheduled to elect three new councilmen and indicate what they think of becoming a city and select nine members for a city charter commission.

Most office department authorities added a fifth site for the proposed post office in Northville - on the site adjacent to the A & P Supermarket parking lot on Main Street.

The city plan to impose a 25 percent assessment for street improvement hit a snag from an unexpected source. Specifically, the councilmen were notified that the school board (meeting in special session) objected to the six percent interest rate proposed for the delayed payment of the assessment.

Cal Cross took over ownership of Atchinson Gulf Service. Agents representing the federal government's National Urban Shelter Study Survey were working in Northville to determine what degree of protection each building offered against radioactive fallout.

A familiar figure, Jim Cornelius, returned to Meadowbrook Country Club to take over the duties of club manager. Ten years ago...

Envisioning a new 96-home development at Beck and 11 Mile roads were Keith Metcalf and Andrew Burgess. The subdivision was to be known as Pioneer Meadows, largest Novi development in two years.

Novi township - through two taxpayers - stated court action to invalidate the election in which Wikom was incorporated as a village. The suit was filed by Township Attorney Archie Leonard for Lloyd Croft and Vernon Spencer.

Members of the basketball team included Turnbill, Duguid, Westphal, Hochkins, and Scott. Editor of the school newspaper was Nancy McLaughlin. Margaret Walker was the assistant editor, and Miss Florence Harper the advisor.

Wheeler & Blackburn offered an "Orange Day" with orange selling for 18 cents a dozen. He also had a special on spaghetti, with three packages for 24 cents.

School notes: Clyde Card of the fifth grade moved away. Alan Day won in the figure-down! Virginia Smith of the fourth grade was ahead in the Studebaker tests. Ford Atchinson was a new pupil in the eighth grade.

The nine-room house at the corner of Burton and Base Line for sale. Perrin's garage offered for sale a new 1957 Touring car called the Jackson Roadster.

Members of Northville's second NOVEMBER REBEKAH LODGE Full degree team practice will be held Thursday (tonight) with Nellie Rackoff, Dot Sharpe, Gladys Tremper and Sue Watson as sponsors.

The Independent Rebekah club will have their monthly meeting on Monday, March 6 at the hall. Hostesses are Blanche and Lorraine.

Next regular meeting March 9th. Previous to the meeting a six o'clock dinner will be served at Saratoga Farms in honor of visiting assembly conductor, Pearl McGregory.

Mayor Signs Inexperience Topples Novi's 1st Varsity Bid

A proclamation pointing up the importance of the 1967 Easter Seal drive has been signed by Mayor A. M. Allen of Northville.

The proclamation, which designates the period of February 20 to March 26 as Easter Seal Time, urges "all citizens to support the annual Easter Seal appeal to help each physically handicapped child and adult to take his rightful place as an integral part of his community."

A campaign goal of $50,000 for Western Wayne county services has been announced as volunteers complete the job of mailing nearly 200,000 sheets of Easter Seals to residents in the area.

The 1967 campaign goal is to raise adequate funds to intensify the present program which served 538 crippled children and adults during the past year.

According to Phillip M. LaBo, general chairman of the campaign, "every dollar we receive will help provide services for the handicapped, and get them started on the road to good lives."

Dr. Thomas W. Smith and Conrad E. Langfield were welcomed into the Rotary Club. A new dance studio was opened recently at 133 East Cady under the direction of Miss Millie Turbulla.

Called Miss Millie's School of the Dance, the new business specializes in the instruction of tap and ball and adult social dancing. Plans call for expansion next fall to include a class in modern jazz and ballroom lessons.

A native of Detroit, Miss Turbulla attended the Detroit Conservatory of Music and has worked under such well-known teachers as Emile Biordeau, Julie Adler, and Norma Taylor.

She started her professional career as a dancer in the Civic Light Opera. From there she toured the Eastern United States and Canada, dancing with the Roxettes in New York. Following night club work, she started teaching in Detroit, forming a line of precision dancers known as the Turbulettes - a group which has appeared at USO shows, the Hudson Parade, and Detroit Lions half-time shows as well as on television.

At the request of an interested group of parents who are concerned with the high school situation, the PARENTEEN COUNCIL has called a meeting for Wednesday, March 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

A discussion involving all interested parents together with the high school administration will take place in an effort to pinpoint problems and establish ways of resolving them.

Objectives of the PARENTEEN COUNCIL are to help young maturing persons maintain a high standard of conduct and to provide the incoming high school student and parent with some of the "ground rules."

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clyde Wyatt were Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Mrs. Wyatt of Dearborn. On Friday their nephew Louis Gallup of Lansing, was a visitor of the Clyde Wyatts.

NOVI GIRL SCOUTS At the meeting last Tuesday Brownie Troop No. 161 and Jr. Troop No. 913 had a Night and Thinking Day party. Troop 913 went on a tobogganing party at Cass Bent Park.

Brownie Troop No. 165 and Jr. Troop No. 1027 had a party together for World Thinking Day. Brownie Troop No. 351 cut out dolls of snow around the world which they discussed.

Colts Nip Holly, Tie for W-O Title

The Northville Colts came up with a rousing 68-53 victory over Holly in the first game of the season Friday night in a tie with Clarkson for the Wayne-Oakland Conference jayvee championship.

It marks the second year in a row that Coach Bob Koehler and his players have gained the top rung. Last year his Colts won outright with a 13-1 record. This year's state was 11-3, as was Clarkson's.

This year's race was a showdown. Three teams were neck-and-neck for first place at 10-3 entering Friday's games. Northville entering by a margin of five points, the widest spread enjoyed by top contenders.

After trailing through better than three quarters, Clarkson finally overtook Brighton and won, 59-51. West Bloomfield dropped Bloomfield Hills out of a possible tie by beating the little Broncos, 49-47.

Northville's opponent, Holly, was surprisingly tough Friday night. The young Broncos matched the Colts stride for stride through the first half, trailing by only two at halftime.

Holly peppered the nets at scoring pace to stay within striking range. Holly hit 70 percent of its shots from the floor and was nine for 10 at the free throw line through the first half.

Dance Studio Opened Here

A new dance studio was opened recently at 133 East Cady under the direction of Miss Millie Turbulla. Called Miss Millie's School of the Dance, the new business specializes in the instruction of tap and ball and adult social dancing.

Plans call for expansion next fall to include a class in modern jazz and ballroom lessons. A native of Detroit, Miss Turbulla attended the Detroit Conservatory of Music and has worked under such well-known teachers as Emile Biordeau, Julie Adler, and Norma Taylor.

She started her professional career as a dancer in the Civic Light Opera. From there she toured the Eastern United States and Canada, dancing with the Roxettes in New York. Following night club work, she started teaching in Detroit, forming a line of precision dancers known as the Turbulettes - a group which has appeared at USO shows, the Hudson Parade, and Detroit Lions half-time shows as well as on television.

At the request of an interested group of parents who are concerned with the high school situation, the PARENTEEN COUNCIL has called a meeting for Wednesday, March 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

A discussion involving all interested parents together with the high school administration will take place in an effort to pinpoint problems and establish ways of resolving them.

Objectives of the PARENTEEN COUNCIL are to help young maturing persons maintain a high standard of conduct and to provide the incoming high school student and parent with some of the "ground rules."

Optimist Club Hears Attorney

City Attorney Phillip Ogilvie was a guest speaker at last week's meeting of the Northville Optimist Club at the Thunderbird Inn.

The attorney spoke informally on a number of problems presently facing the city. Also, Eldon Biery, club president, reported on the winter board meeting held at Saginaw. He was accompanied to the meeting by his wife.

6 Wrestlers Clinch State Tourney Roles

Six Northville high school wrestlers will compete in the finals of the state wrestling tournament to be held tomorrow and Saturday at Waverly High school in East Lansing.

The winners of the consolation bracket, he beat two opponents by identical, 4-0 margins to wrap up third place. In the opening round, Baber lost to Ken Pranschki of Lutheran West, 3-2.

Otherwise Keegan breezed through his opposition, winning by 6-0 in the first round, a pin in 2:40. In the consolation bracket, he beat two opponents by identical, 4-0 margins to wrap up third place.

Notch 17 Wins, Only 1 Loss

Northville's regular season ended as it had begun - on a winning note, and a particularly impressive one at that. Longridge's cagers shot a torrid 59 percent from the floor, hitting 27 of 46 shots and scored a season high of 48 points in the third period to break a tight game wide open.

Northville went on to record an 81-69 victory Friday at Holly. Unlike the tournament, things were clicking for Northville Friday night. What helped Northville over the hump was a switch in defensive tactics.

While playing a man-to-man defense in the first half, the Mustangs fell behind 47-44 at halftime. But a modified zone helped to cool the Broncos in the second half.

Matter of fact, things were going Holly's way in the first half. Besides blazing the nets from the outside, Holly controlled the boards.

"I was satisfied with our performance in the first half," Longridge said, "even though we were behind for all but the first minute or two. They were hot."

One thing was significantly different from recent Mustang games. Northville was strong on the boards against Holly, getting that extra shot.

Mustangs Turn Sour In Tournament Opener

"We didn't have it," said a sad Northville fan. But Clarenceville surely did. The Trojans upset Northville Tuesday in the first round of the district tournament here, 60-50, to snuff out early any thought Northville had of winning its third straight district basketball crown.

Except for an eight minute lapse, this was Clarenceville's ball game. Trailing 18-9 at the end of the first quarter, the Trojans scored on five consecutive baskets at the start of the second quarter and forged into a 27-25 lead at halftime.

Northville was hardly out of the ball game. But as the second half wore on, Clarenceville fought off every Northville challenge in the third period and enjoyed a 10-point lead through most of the fourth period.

This was no normal game. This was tournament play and Clarenceville was fired up. The Trojans out rebounded, out shot and out scrapped Northville. They put the lid on Northville's top scorer, Captain Jim Zayti. Time after time Zayti had his favorite shot virtually rammed down his throat. He finished the night with four points - two free throws in the first half and one field goal in the second.

Northville's number two scorer, Jim Peterson, had 11 points, but he got into foul trouble early to minimize his effectiveness when it counted in the second half.

Clarenceville, meanwhile, was getting stellar performances from every one of its cagers, especially John Thompson, a 6'11" forward. He pumped in 24 points, most of them on soft jump shots from 15 feet to demolish Northville's chances.

Part of the credit must go to Gene Scholes, Clarenceville's coach. After a dismal first period, he switched his boys to a zone defense that Northville could not penetrate with any consistency through three quarters.

In addition, Scholes had his boys running. They used a double screen to the side of the key, and ran a cross-court pattern that set up those crucial 15 footers. And the Trojans didn't miss often.

Northville thus ends the season with a 12-6 record. It looked like another Northville victory after the first quarter. Besides the stellar performances from every one of its cagers, especially John Thompson, a 6'11" forward. They had a 9-0 mark.

2 Northville JH Fives Close Sparkling Season

"They stuck up with any eighth grade team in Kentucky." Both, a superbly conditioned and coordinated athlete, spearheaded the junior high outfit. Aside from rugged rebounding, he tallied 135 points on the season for a 15-point per game average.

Cushing scored 86 points for a 3.5 average and Utley scored 63 points for a 3.3 average. Miller hit at a 2.5 per game pace on 21 attempts. Together the front line averaged 32.4 points per game.

The eighth graders weren't without playmakers to feed those towering front lines. Guards Rick Secler, John Stuyvenberg and Kurt Suckow did the job. Furthermore, they were capable of hitting from outside. Secler scored 44 of 40 points for an average of 4.4, Stuyvenberg tallied 37 points for 3.4 and Suckow bagged 31 for 3.4 points per game.

At the free throw line Bach was just as deadly as from the floor. He converted 21 of 26 chances for 80 per cent, not bad for an eighth grader. Utley, however, had the highest percentage, hitting 16 of 23 for 69 percent. Secler converted 12 of 19 for 63 percent.

The Century of the SOAP OPERA

Those sentimental serials which accompany many a housewife's daily chores have made an important contribution to our culture. They keep us mindful of the complications of living.

You can't follow a fictional family over an obstacle course of crises without realizing that your own family, too, has its ups and downs.

Elementary in this century is the fact that life can be—but ordinarily is not—beautiful.

We live in a time that requires serious planning of our today and tomorrow. We ought especially to be concerned for our family's spiritual fibre... for the unfolding character of our children for the religious resources with which coming crises will be met.

The Church offers opportunity and inspiration in our quest of the lofty ideals of the Christian faith. The most important decision a family can make is to seek its finest aspirations through worship, religious study, and sacrificial service.

Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. (5) For the sake of his neighbor. (6) For the sake of his neighbor's neighbor. These are four good reasons why every person should attend regularly and read your Bible daily.

At Plymouth Bell to Construct $12 Million Facility

Ground was broken in Plymouth recently for a new $12 million telephone facility, one of the largest structures to be erected by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company in recent years.

The building will rise three stories and contain more than 91,000 square feet. The City Planning Commission recently granted Michigan Bell a zoning waiver to clear the way for construction.

According to John Kamego, Michigan Bell manager, the primary function of the building will be to house a vast amount of switching equipment for routing incoming and outgoing long distance calls.

Mayor James Houk and Plymouth Township Supervisor John McNeil, joined Michigan Bell representatives at the site in a ceremony to officially launch construction. It will be situated adjacent to the company's central office at 1360 Ann Arbor road near Sheldon.

Kamego explained that the equipment to be installed is known in the telephone business as "4A" apparatus and that it will augment similar equipment located in Detroit to serve the southeastern area of the state. The Detroit equipment is nearing its capacity, Kamego said, as the number of long distance calls to and from the area continues to rise.

Besides the equipment that will handle calls automatically, Kamego said there will be 1-2 switchboard positions occupied by operators for the special handling of those long distance calls not routed through the Direct Distance Dialing network.

At Northville State Hospital Students Give Time, Money to Aid Patients

"Often times we overlook the generosity of our teenagers and give them too little credit for their contribution to society. These kids are tops."

That's the word from spokesman of the Northville State Hospital as he noted the monthly visits to the hospital by more than a dozen teenagers from Northville and surrounding communities.

Last December a group of Northville students decided they'd like to do something for the hospital, he explained. The students decorated rooms and generally made the Christmas season pleasant for the patients.

ENTERTAINMENT—Games such as chess, scrabble, and pingpong provide plenty of entertainment for patients. In addition, the volunteer students provide music, dancing and just plain conversation for the all-male ward at the hospital. Darlene Skipton of Northville tries her hand at chess here with a patient while Carol Buzzard of Farmington and another patient look on.

SNACKS—Each month the high school students save enough money from their allowances to buy snacks for the patients. They also bake piles of cookies like those Sharon Maynard of Northville and Linda Bates of Farmington place on the snack table.

ANNOUNCES
Thomas M. Wynkoop, Jr.

Girl Scout News

Plans for the upcoming Girl Scout cookie sale were announced this week by Mrs. William Switzer, Northville Girl Scout organizer.

Advanced ordering will start March 3 and continue through March 18, she said. Cookies will sell for 50-cents a package, with five kinds of cookies available.

Troops and their leaders offering cookies are:

- Troop 595, Mrs. Doris Crishon; Troop 361, Mrs. Betty Walker; Troop 331, Mrs. Dorothy Holman; Troop 234, Mrs. Fran Schiefel; Troop 336 Mrs. Pearl Conway; Troop 402, Mrs. Nat Rogers; Troop 371, Mrs. Pat Taggart; Troop 229, Mrs. Raye DiBERT; and Troop 222, Mrs. Ruth Klein.

Cookies will be delivered in April. Plans also call for a cookie cupboard to be operated soon by one of the troops.

Persons wishing to purchase cookies are asked to contact a Scout in their neighborhoods. However, Scouts also will visit homes in the community. Cookies from the sale are used to equip and maintain existing camps and to establish new ones, Mrs. Switzer explained.

Is Auto Air Conditioning A Good Investment?

Judging by the number of drivers ordering it with their new cars, it is indeed. And getting more as all the time.

Factory installations of auto air conditioning units in the U.S. this year are expected to exceed 20% of all new cars, and projections are that 50% of all cars manufactured will have this accessory by 1975.

This represents tremendous growth from the 7.6% of total production in 1960. In addition, independent makers of the auto cooling units may produce half a million units for installation by dealers this year.

The time is far off when air conditioning in cars will be as common as automatic transmissions, radios and heaters. Considering the 20% of the original investment is usually returned on resale, costs on average could figure out to as little as 25 cents a day.

That's a small investment in arriving at your destination cleaner, cooler and more comfortable. This is the case not just while driving in Northville or on the highways during the summer months but during the winter season as well when you can be tied in with the sun. Wind, drafts and road noises are eliminated while the temperature remains at the level of your choosing.

Proof of the growth of air conditioning units is the new multimillion dollar building now in operation on Sheldon road between Northville and Plymouth.

Motion No. 460, by member Lawrence, supported by member Johnston, and unanimously carried recommending approval of Croft Board Service with supplementary subscriptions for members: Johnston, Becker, Cook, Kipfer, and Froelich. Total cost not to exceed $172.50.

TRANSPORTATION

Superintendent requested Mr. Charles Kehrer, Director of Transportation, to review for the Board all phases of present complications in the School Bus Transportation. Member Cook questioned, if a trip was made in each locality mentioned would it be necessary to start earlier? Mr. Kehrer, yes, in some cases as much as twenty minutes. Mr. Kehrer recommended that the same service be given to everyone. Member Froelich; does Board policy cover each situation? Recommendations from Administration as to where the responsibility lies. Member Cook: it is defined in the school transportation code but we have made exceptions. E. V. Ellison gave the background of the transportation in years past and where these accommodations are going to lead us. Mr. Kehrer made two requests: (1) bus drivers set in on transportation discussion. (2) board members ride the buses and witness the situation. Motion No. 461, by member Kipfer, supported by member Cook and unanimously carried that members of the Board do a crash re-study of transportation before next semester. Member Cook volunteered to serve on a committee. Member Johnston questioned how many mothers were concerned about Glenda transportation situation and the children standing along side of the road and suggested that the mothers take turns as chaperons. Mr. Kehrer questioned extent of authority a bus driver has regarding safety measures.

SNOW REMOVAL CONTRACT/CITY

Motion No. 462, by member Lawrence, supported by member Johnston, and unanimously carried that snow removal contract with the City be ratified and $97.50 be paid to the City of Northville for snow removal during November and December. Member Cook recommended that a separate sub-account be set up. (Appendix III - to these minutes).

THOMPSON - BROWN

The meeting with Mr. Carey of Thompson-Brown resulted in the price remaining the same, $5,000. Availability of water and sewer to school not guaranteed. Member Lawrence recommended turning over to counsel. Member Johnston suggested lower price of property and donate property to school district and develop the remainder. Not a good business proposition, according to Mr. Carey. Mr. Johnston reported that Mr. Ollendorf had stated he was not too certain that the school Board should not pay for the Randolph Street sewer.

WATER TAP FEE/WATER

Water tap fee and meter for the Junior High School site, $1,000 to $3,000 chargeback fee for facility already available, maybe $2,000 meter to be school district expense. Member Cook stated that the Moraine school site should be annexed to the City.

LEGISLATIVE REPRESENTATIVE

Motion No. 463, by member Johnston, supported by member Lyon, and unanimously carried that James Kipfer be reappointed as Legislative representative for the Northville Public Schools School District. JR. HIGHSCHOOL ELEMENTARY SITE BRADNER SITE Superintendent Nelson gave a job report on the Junior High School and Elementary site and informed the Board of the situation between the School District and Thompson-Brown regarding the Bradner Site.

JOINT MEETINGS

Mr. Merriam, township supervisor, would like to see a member of the Board attend the joint meetings. Member Johnston and Lyon volunteered to attend.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

The superintendent distributed copies of the letter, drafted with the assistance of member Lawrence, to the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare relative to the Fish Hatchery; reviewed the crossing situation at the Moraine site; status of the Annual Financial report; and the proposed change of pupils to the Moraine school scheduled during the semester break.

Former Industrial Arts instructor, Lawrence Rogers, to be assigned to regular substitute status as recommended.

INSPECTION/WAYNE COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

Superintendent Nelson reported that a routine environmental health visit of the District's schools was made by the Wayne County Department of Health. The inspection report is on file.

MORaine STAGE

Superintendent Nelson presented a firm quotation on the portable risers for the Moraine Elementary school to be used in the multiple purpose room, or as a stage, stating that the quotation was a good one and recommended that purchase be authorized to facilitate equipping the building. He called on Mr. Ellison to give a report on the steps taken to obtain the quotation. Mr. Ellison reported that a number of inquiries were made and that we were unable to locate a firm with comparable equipment which would meet our specifications and degree of flexibility. The quotation was $225 per unit and twelve units were needed, making a total cost of $2800. Member Lawrence stated that competitive bids must be taken, and member Froelich suggested that the specifications provided with this quotation be used for bid specifications.

TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE

Member Johnston and member Cook were directed to meet with the Superintendent and his staff to review the transportation problem and report back to the Board of Education.

ADMINISTRATIVE SALARY

Superintendent Nelson presented the question of Administrative Salary readjustment as reviewed in the several Board work sessions. Motion No. 467, by member Lawrence, supported by member Cook and unanimously carried that the Administrative Salary Readjustment be tabled.

SITE ACQUISITION

Superintendent Nelson presented Dr. Alvin Skelly, Assistant Superintendent of the Detroit Public Schools, who has the problem of site acquisition in Detroit as his major assignment. Dr. Skelly reviewed several procedures for school site acquisition, directing attention to the importance of a master plan to prudent site acquisition. He recommended a Master Plan for site acquisition covering a period of ten years. Other recommendations were: analysis summary of population trends; Land Use Study; review of zoning ordinances. He stated that appraising of raw land is different from appraising developed land. In school construction, the architect must be required to stay within the budget and if necessary, re-design the school building to stay within the budget. Dr. Skelly also recommended use of professional planners as a means of prudent planning for the future. Discussion followed:

Member Lawrence raised the question of property tax being at a saturation point and pointed out that Northville millage was at 32.9 and would be almost impossible for homeowners to continue to carry the load of increased demands. Dr. Skelly stated that fiscal reform was imminent and perhaps State Income Tax might be a partial answer. Member Froelich asked how he provided for growth in his school district. Dr. Skelly reported that several measures were used: (1) transport children; (2) lease portable classrooms; (3) lease private buildings or structures; (4) additions to existing buildings where possible.

VIDEO TAPE

Superintendent Nelson next introduced Mr. Erickson, and a demonstration of Video Tape Recording equipment as an illustration of educational hardware and some newer approaches to teaching. Mr. Erickson pointed out that there were many sources of pre-programmed tapes, having application in all areas of the curriculum, K through 12.

OVERPASS

Mr. Tucker, the District's Architect next gave a progress report on the proposed overpass for the Moraine Elementary school site. A general discussion followed with audience participation.

Motion No. 468, by member Johnston, supported by member Lyon and unanimously carried that the Superintendent be authorized to select a representative elementary principal to attend the National Elementary Principals' Conference to be held in Boston, during the month of April.

SCHOOL BOARD CONFERENCE

Superintendent Nelson recommended that authorization be granted for the Superintendent and any member of the Board, who so desired, to attend the National School Board Conference. Member Cook requested a delay in action to a future date.

HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY RE: DRUGS

The Superintendent reported that a General Public Assembly was scheduled for 26 January, in the High School Auditorium, to review the current situation relative to drugs and narcotics. The purpose of this assembly was to inform parents and the community of the situation as it actually exists. Member Lawrence suggested that the Board plan a long range program on many aspects of morals.

FISH HATCHERY

Status of the acquisition of the Fish Hatchery was next discussed. Superintendent Nelson reported that the original proposal to the U. S. Government was referred to U. S. Health, Education and Welfare Department, where it was in disposal of this property. Subsequent discussion with H.E.W., trip to Washington, and revision of the proposal attempted to present a proposal which would meet the criteria as established with Mental Health, and educational programs for the Mentally Retarded having by H. E. W. Superintendent Nelson stated that it is doubtful H. E. W. would change its position from the earlier evaluation of the original proposal. The Superintendent was directed to check the original deed for possible reverter clause or some possibility whereby this property could be returned to Northville.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned at 10:00 P.M.

'Word Gaps' Spark Arguments

LANSING — Gaps in understanding caused by language interpretations occur frequently in politics. They often lead to arguments of unusual proportions.

Take the use of "moderate," for example. Webster defines this as "kept within due bounds; not excessive; temperate, reasonable."

This was the term used by State Highway Department officials at the beginning of the legislative session to describe an increase they planned to propose in Michigan's vehicle registration fees: the price you pay for license plates.

A "moderate" hike in the 35 cents-per-hundred pounds of vehicle weight, combined with an increase in the state gasoline tax, would alleviate some of the present and future road-building problems of the state and local units of government, they said.

Then came the proposal to the legislature. It called for a hike to 55 cents per hundred pounds, a whopping 57 per cent increase in the levy. The gas tax would be boosted from 6 to 7 cents per gallon under the department's proposal.

"Moderate" is the word the department used and will stick with against any opposition. ***

DESPITE THE DICTIONARY definition of moderate, the proponents of the hike will have some basis for the use of the word. All things are relative. Studies indicate the proposed boost would cost the average driver about $15 per year.

High percentages aside, the department can and will righteously defend its proposal on the basis of auto registration rates in other states. Michigan ranks well below the average in these statistics.

Even the so-called moderate increase proposed would not put Michigan very far up the list relating to the cost of driving a motor vehicle.

So while linguists will have cause to argue the question of whether the hike is moderate or extreme, the department will likely have little difficulty justifying and gaining legislative approval of the 20-cent increase.

SERVICE WILL BE the same; only the names are being changed to more accurately describe the purpose of seven consultation centers operated by the State Department of Mental Health. Located in Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Lansing and Saginaw, the previously existing institutions were known by the name of the city where they stood, such as the Grand Rapids Consultation Center.

With the addition of two new centers, the department announced a change in title for all seven. Hereafter, they will carry the department name, to indicate state support, and be known as the Regional Consultation Center: Grand Rapids, etc.

Two new centers will be opened in Macomb and Berrien Counties, to serve Macomb-Sanilac-St. Clair and Berrien-Cass-Van Buren Counties, respectively.

Acting Department Director Dr. V. A. Stehman said the title change would better indicate the scope of the center operations.

"Identification of a center by a name such as Lansing Consultation Center could imply that the agency is either city-operated or provides services only to residents of Lansing," he said. With the new names, there can be no doubt as to the extent or source of the services.

MAIL VOLUME to legislators has been known to change minds on many questions.

On some legislation, a lawmaker may be influenced by a single letter from an important constituent.

One such issue has arisen this year: that of whether Michigan residents want to go on Daylight Saving Time for the summer months or stay on Eastern Standard Time the year around.

Federal legislation would put Michigan in the Daylight zone unless the legislature acts to exempt the state from the law.

Longer-daylight hours provide a big attraction to outdoor lovers. Some clergymen oppose the time change because they say it cuts church attendance. Many farmers contend daylight hours would give them a killing work day. Early risers prefer the regular time, rather than having to go to work in the dark the year-round.

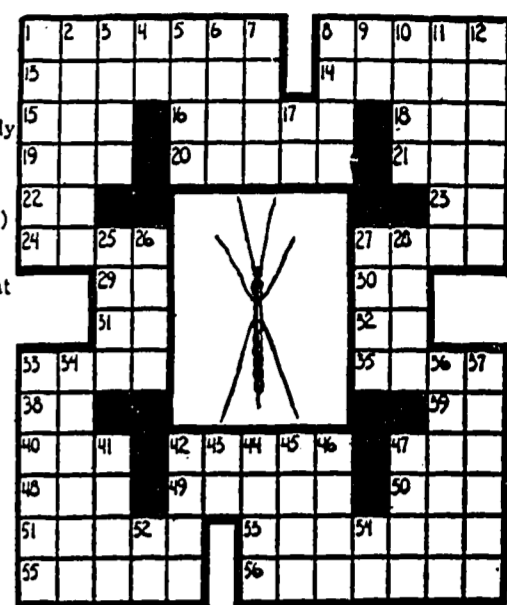

Regardless of the individual's viewpoint, the lawmakers are carefully viewing every piece of mail on this question. If you never wrote your legislators before, this might be a good starting point if you have strong sentiments on the daylight hours question.

Do School Dividends Suggest Sound Tax Investments?

BABSON PARK, Mass. — One of the very biggest businesses in this country today is education. We Americans are now spending a total of $48.8 billion per year to run our schools and colleges — an increase of 124% in the last decade. Another whopping boost in costs lies just ahead.

We have always "made a lot of" education in this country — and rightly so. We pride ourselves on our fine public school system and on the freedom of choice which has permitted, also, the multiplication of private and "parochial" schools. As we have grown in numbers especially since the end of World War II, so too has enrollment in our schools increased. This year there are 43.2 million pupils registered in public elementary and secondary schools in the U.S. An additional 6.7 million youngsters attend private schools from kindergarten through high school.

At the same time, there is a chronic shortage of teachers, which has been aggravated by the rapidity of the rise in student numbers and by the fact that teachers' salaries, in many instances, have not kept pace with those of comparable professions. So the teachers have become more restless and more aggressive. And the labor unions have moved in. The net result is that we are now facing demands for much higher teachers' salaries all across the nation — demands which, even if only partially fulfilled, will cost millions of dollars more in the coming year.

Hence it is very much in order for us to ask ourselves if the sacrifices we are making to support our schools are in fact paying off. Whether we like it or not, we are all going to pay more in taxes to run the public schools in our community. Salaries of teachers will spiral, maintenance costs will rise. And we will be told that we should be doing much more for our children.

The big question is: How much more can self-supporting citizens — with their own financial problems — afford to pay, and precisely for what? Probably from one-third to one-half of what we pay each year in local taxes is used to run our schools. If we don't know exactly how this money is spent — and with what result — wouldn't it be common sense to find out?

We have currently over 2 million teachers in this country providing instruction in a bewildering variety of subjects. For the most part, they teach in school systems — whether public or private — which have made Herculean efforts to modernize plant and equipment. The result is that in many American communities today there are schools that are better equipped in classroom space, in laboratory facilities, and in recreational advantages than were many of our colleges fifty years ago.

In a way, we have made a fetish of education. But, in our ambition and pride, we seem to have placed more stock in college as the end goal of education than emphasis on knowledge and how to use it to enrich our own lives and help others. In our desire to provide the "best" for our children and grandchildren, we have concentrated more on brick and mortar than on the real essentials.

Just because a school is new, or large, or has the best gym money can buy is no guarantee it will be a good school. What is taught — and how it is taught — are still mighty important. After, all, quite a number of our greatest Americans have been the products of one-room schoolhouses or of modest educational backgrounds! Many years ago, the distinguished British philosopher, Herbert Spencer, wrote: "Education has for its object the formation of character." We seem to be losing sight of that concept in our highly competitive society. If this trend continues, we shall be not only financially — but spiritually — the poorer.

Speaking for The Record

School Site Chosen for 'Safety' Now Needs $20,000 Overpass

By BILL SLIGER

If the tone of the following comments smacks of sour grapes, then so be it. They're intended instead to point up what this writer has believed for sometime to be significant and costly weaknesses in the manner in which the Northville board of education operates.

The board, I believe, concerns itself too much with education, too little with the business of school operation, and not at all with well-intended advice of taxpayers who must pick up the tab.

Such policy defeats the very objectives of the education-oriented board members by substantially reducing the amount of money available for favored education programs by wasting it on unwise and hastily conceived business decisions.

It is my firm belief that the matter of proposing programs for education should be left up to administrators hired because they possess these special talents. And I would assume that they would arrive at their recommendations through conferences with their principals and teaching staff.

It is the board's responsibility to select good administrators and to put their recommendations to the test of common sense. To "play" administrator and inject the individual educational theories of self-appointed experts on the board produces, it seems to me, the same result as "too many cooks".

(I was heartened to hear an expert invited by the Northville board to speak at a recent administrative-board conference say substantially the same.

A Northville board spokesman seemed to miss the point as he explained that Northville had selected its top administrator on the basis of interest shown in a program for education that some board members wanted initiated locally. The program may be the best thing that could happen to our school system, but it should come from the administration, not the board).

While I realize that little good comes from beating a dead horse, perhaps a lesson can be gained that won't be repeated.

Specifically, I should like to recall the circumstances surrounding the selection of the Moraine elementary school site.

I have not mentioned this subject since it was closed by board action one year ago. At least two board members, however, have seen fit in public meetings to rehash the subject in order to attempt to point out that they were right and the press was wrong.

Let's review their action and the subsequent results.

On February 3, 1966 it was suggested in this column that the board should consider moving the Moraine site eastward about 3,000 feet adjoining the city limits. The purpose of such a move was to acquire city water and sewer services. An added advantage was annexation to the city under a plan that was politically acceptable and far more practical than annexing a 10-acre island in the township. This would have gained desired police surveillance of the site.

It is a matter of fact that water and sewer services could have been provided at the suggested site. This has been challenged along with criticism of the "high cost" of tapping into city utilities. But when one measures cost it would be interesting to know what value would be placed on the 1 1/2 days lost last week at Moraine school because the well would not function. And it is an inescapable fact that one day both the well and septic field at Moraine must be replaced.

The use of these temporary, maintenance-requiring utilities is not, however, the point of this complaint. It is the manner in which the board accepted a suggestion that crossed grain with their resolute plan.

The column of February 3, 1966 quoted a representative of the school's architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach as saying "if you are combining sewer with water, there's no question of the desirability of a change in site". The firm spokesman strongly emphasized the undesirability of a septic field and predicted it would be a "continuing maintenance headache".

He added one further bit of information that now seems most significant. He said (and the column so quoted him) that there would be "some traffic problems" at the board-chosen site.

The column concluded that the proposed switch was only a suggestion for board consideration and that "perhaps after investigation the school board will discover reasons for not wanting to move the site. At any rate ... it would seem that a long look should be given the proposal". It was given less than a glance (actually, a glare).

The next day, February 4, board leadership went into action. It informed the architects that a letter should be written supporting the board-chosen site. (After all, the firm was employed by the school not the newspaper).

That letter was dated Monday, February 7 and signed by one of the partners of the firm. It declined to contradict the importance of water and sewer and, in fact, stated "sewage service is of great importance since ready access to such services may save construction dollars and continuing maintenance".

But the firm did comply with the board's demand and provide a letter that supported the site choice. It listed "geographic need" as the most important factor.

"Build-ability" and "aesthetic consideration" were third and fourth factors.

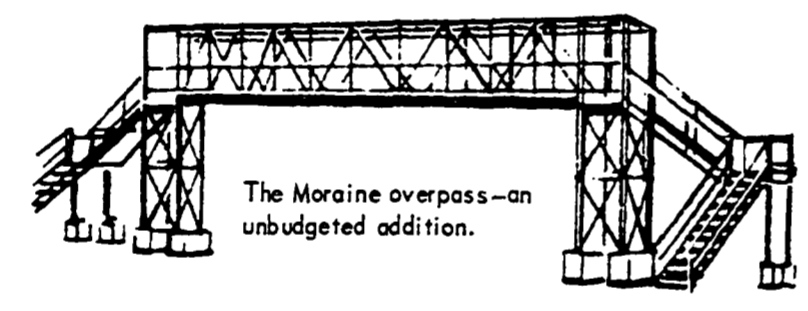

But most interesting one year later is the second factor, which the letter states "is safety - both on the site and at the traffic approaches. The site selected, due to cresting on the hill, gives excellent visual surveillance of Eight Mile road traffic".

For the past several months the board has been under strong parent pressure to erect an overpass at Moraine school because of poor traffic visibility and hazardous crossing conditions.

The cost of the proposed structure is estimated at $20,000.

Deleting the week end, it took Northville's board of education just one day to extract a letter of support for its chosen site from the architect. The letter itself contradicted a warning by one of the firm's representatives that the site could present "some traffic problems".

That the board took time to consider an alternative is highly unlikely. That it may now pay for its rush to prove itself right by erecting an overpass at a loss to the system's educational program at $20,000 seems probable. Who would like to take the position that the safety structure is not needed and then have a child struck by a car?

If Northville's board had demonstrated an ability to accept suggestions by at least pausing to consider, this second-guessing column would not be written. One cannot expect any public body to be so wise that it does not commit errors.

But some are wise enough to at least pretend they have given studied thought to the voice of the taxpayer before they do as they please. And if they have erred, it usually takes more than a year for the mistake to become so evident ... and costly.

Citizen for '66?

Who will be Northville's "Citizen of 1966"?

The Jaycees are looking for candidates and would appreciate suggestions for the Distinguished Service Award presented annually by the local Jaycee chapter.

Last year the recipient was Russell Amerman, retired school superintendent.

Community citizens are urged to suggest nominees. Write or telephone the names of candidates to Ralph Long, Jaycee award chairman, 440 Eaton, 349-1169.

A Matter of Rights

Monday night a normally routine matter of business comes before the city council for action. But it will be given more than casual attention due to a rash of citizen protests.

A request for a liquor license at Northville Lanes has brought petitions of protest to the council table. Citizens objecting to a bar at the bowling alley believe that it will change the character of the popular recreation center for youngsters.

They also maintain that the community has sufficient places to drink.

The bowling alley proprietor has been praised for providing a well-operated establishment for local entertainment. He is highly regarded in the community.

To the owner, "Angle", the protests appear as a slap, a penalty for good behavior.

For 25 years he has worked diligently at his business. He has expanded and modernized. His lanes have increased from six to 20. Always he has looked forward to the day when his business would be eligible for a liquor license. An application in 1964 was given signatures of approval from all five council members, three of whom still serve on the council.

Until recently, it appeared that he must wait until 1970 and a new census to qualify for a license. But availability of 10-month "resort" licenses brought his application back to the table.

Bowling alley proprietors will tell you that competition for profitable industrial leagues makes a bar a near necessity. They'll also prove that a well-operated bar in a bowling alley does not interfere with youth leagues. In one area bowling alley, for example, more than 400 youngsters bowl in a community-sponsored recreation league. Smart bowling alley proprietors don't jeopardize their youth league business to promote bar sales. They know that the youngsters represent their future business. They also believe that their efforts with youngsters are beneficial to the welfare of youth.

They see little difference in bowling in an alley that serves alcoholic beverages than dining in a restaurant that serves drinks with its meals.

In reality, however, these arguments for or against a liquor license in a bowling alley are hardly relative.

In fact a business has applied for a license that is legally issued by the state to qualified establishments. To maintain the license the operator must comply with rules set forth by the state.

Anyone familiar with the record of operation at Northville Lanes would be hardpressed to stand opposed on the basis of qualification.

And it is, it seems to me, completely unfair and contrary to the principles of free enterprise to expect any businessman to penalize the welfare of his business in order to provide what some consider to be a shortage in recreation needs.

Stricter attention could be given to enforcement of regulations governing the operation of licensed bars. It is unlikely that such enforcement would cause concern at Northville Lanes where attention to proper conduct of business has always been the order.

The public has listened with increasing disgust to the continual defense of the administration that has shown a steady decline in relation with the teachers, the public, and now the city officials.

The time for saving face is past. The time for action is now, and I am not implying the kind of action that grants contractual raises regardless of performance. It is time to replace intellectual theory with common sense and practical experience.

To the Editor:
As a resident of Novi for 12 years I would like to express our thanks and appreciation for the terrific job the Road Commission has done, in clearing our area of snow, under abnormal weather conditions. This is sometimes a thankless job for these men who work during the night and in the bitter cold. Thank you!

To the Editor:
We realize that all teenagers aren't the best, but they're also not the worst as some people think them to be. Many people around town called the high school and complained about the fight at the Clarkston game and are ridiculing a few certain players for losing their tempers. I think they were punished enough by losing the game with out a few of you calling up and complaining. I don't think one of you would have stood for, some of the remarks given. We, think the team has done a fine job and we give them our full support. If you like coming and watching the games why don't you support the team instead of ridiculing?
Some pretty discouraged High School students.

Irregularly for the past four or five years my wife and I have been searching for information about the founder of The Record, Samuel H. Little, and his family. It's been a very interesting pastime. But it's been frustrating too.

Besides being founder of this newspaper - oldest weekly in Wayne County - Sam Little did a few other things too. He wrote controversial editorials, authored several copyrighted songs, sold sewing machines and organs, was an accomplished musician, aided in getting the first railroad through Northville, and he was instrumental in establishing the famous, but since departed Northville Opera House.

And he did a lot of traveling throughout the United States at a time when a horse and buggy trip to Detroit was a pretty important excursion.

But beyond the fact that his young wife died in childbirth, there wasn't much we knew about his personal life until last week.

We didn't know where he went upon leaving Northville - except that he eventually ended up in Muskegon. And even the place of his death and burial was an uncertainty.

We tramped through cemeteries, talked with oldtimers, wrote letters, and called scores of Littles. But nowhere were we able to find anyone who knew much about him or his family. Four years ago we learned about a "niece" in New York. We sent her letters but never received a reply.

Then last week, we were directed to Leonard Kimmel, who lives on Sunset. Mr. Kimmel is one of the community's colorful oldtimers who has a pretty good recollection of early Northville.

A macabre sideshow, a mad interlude, a bizarre business. Call it all of these things. But there is no denying that what happened in Hill auditorium in Ann Arbor last week was an experience of profound significance, the work of a man of genius.

Excitement ran high as the capacity crowd, dressed in their Sunday best, sat expectant. They weren't awaiting just another play sponsored by The University of Michigan's Professional Theatre Program. They were awaiting the internationally acclaimed play, "Marat/de Sade," for short.

Its complete name: "The persecution and assassination of Jean-Paul Marat as performed by the inmates of the asylum of Charenton under the direction of the Marquis de Sade."

Then the play, said to have given rise to the newest theatre movement, "The Theatre of Cruelty," began.

Slowly, quietly, figures emerged from behind stark bleachers into a world of dingy grey, like pallid specters disgorged from the bowels of the earth. Disheveled, clad in rags, backs stooped, they came forward, assuming contorted postures and peering vacuously beyond the stage until a disarrayed, plump woman with grey hair thrust a finger at the audience and said, "You're not Jesus Christ. You're not Jesus Christ."

Strange? Macabre? Yes. A new movement? To the contrary, "Marat/de Sade" is a play conceived by Peter Weiss in the classic tradition of ancient Athens, birthplace of western drama. And it is no less brilliant than Sophocles' "Oedipus Rex," a rare jewel among the fine arts.

Violence was a hallmark of Greek tragedy, brother turned on brother and son on father and mother. A blood bath was actually desired. Plays were designed to shock the audience, to purge the emotions and thus, to teach a lesson. Although "Marat/de Sade" is bereft of blood shed, nevertheless, it is shocking. Deranged inmates of Charenton, an asylum in 19th Century France, return to an elemental state, where, child-like, they exhibit their animality. They teeter between lucidity and lunacy, threatening any moment to break the restraining fibrels and plunge into violence. Society has no control over them.

To make this uncontrollable emotion palpable, Weiss has chosen a most appropriate vehicle - the play within the play. The lunatics become actors. Their director is the Marquis de Sade. The audience anticipates the worst, for the Marquis, who has been confined to the asylum because of his abnormal obsession with sex and perversion, also has written the play within the play.

As in ancient Greece, the audience can anticipate, knowing full well the story of the play. Details are given in the program. It is the murder of Jean-Paul Marat, a zealot during the French revolution, who was himself an inmate at the asylum. He was killed by Charlotte Corday who hid a knife in her bosom, found her way into the asylum and plunged the knife into Marat's heart on July 13, 1793.

Two plays, then, unravel before the audience. We are at once the audience of 1967, and later the audience of July 13, 1808. At the same time we are

"I didn't know Sam Little," he said last week, "but I knew his daughters." Impossible, I told him. Little didn't have children.

"Well, he sure did. One of his daughter's still lives in Plymouth. Name's Pearl ... Pearl Dunn."

Leonard Kimmel was wrong, but he led me to a fascinating woman - closest living relative to Sam Little.

"I can't understand it," Mrs. Dunn said. "There should be a lot of people in Northville who know I was a Little. Sam Little was my uncle ... my father William's brother."

Maybe they do, I told her, but our paths never crossed.

"So you were the man who wrote to New York. My sister's daughter wrote me that someone from Northville was asking about the family. I couldn't understand why someone would write to New York when I lived right next door. I called your office but you were out. I guess I forgot about it when my sister died."

Mrs. Dunn, now 80, was herself an employee of The Record back when F.S. Neal operated the business out of the Opera House shortly after the turn of the century. Later, she worked at The South Lyon Herald. And more recently, she was a correspondent for The Plymouth Mail.

I suppose only a collector of Americana like Edmund Yerkes could understand our excitement in finding this important link in Sam Little's life. And fewer still probably could understand my wife's later reaction:

"It sort of spoils the mystery we've been enjoying, like finding a missing piece of a puzzle; it's exciting but kind of depressing too."

At Ann Arbor and Charenton. Time distinctions become blurred, as do reality and illusion. We watch with one question in mind: Will the lunatic girl playing Charlotte Corday actually plunge the knife into the inmate playing Marat?

On this inimitable question, the audience hangs as does the plot. But Weiss was not content to simply reconstruct a murder. He had a much richer, fuller vision, one befitting Sophocles, Shakespeare, and, yes, Brecht. A complete theatrical experience is presented with comic interruptions, narrative asides and musical interpolations abetting pungent argument.

Comedy, which came as welcome relief from the insanity on stage, was no mere foofs' play. Humor was provided by the lunatic players' incongruous and pitiable actions - missed lines, irreverent and bestial gestures - but always there was a grim awareness that the players were insane and capable of exploding into violence. Furthermore, the humor was directed toward an end - satire.

A slashing attack was opened up on everything society holds dear - religion, moral conduct - and specifically, the abuse of power by rulers in revolutionary and post-revolutionary France. Amazingly, the maladies that festered within France in 1808 grip the world today. It is this relevance of arguments, the similarity of today's tempestuous times, that makes the play pertinent and leads to complete identification.

But Weiss gives no solution to these universal problems. Each argument put forth is neatly refuted by another, making for perfect counterpoint and confusion. No hard and fast answers are forthcoming because there are none. The problems are eternal. Weiss' is simply an anguished cry from the pits of human misery.

Relief from the dramatic intensity, the approaching assassination, was provided by the music, as well as the comedy. Composed by Richard Peaslee, the music ran the gamut, from lyric sadness to exhilarating rhythms, including the haunting, perverse melodies, "Poor Old Marat" and "Fifteen Glorious Years."

Embellishing the music were the strong cadences of Weiss' rhymed dialogue, a classic convention. There was a soft couplet for tender moments and a limerick for ecstatic moments. And then there was the surging stentorian prose spoken by Marat and the Marquis as they launched into exhortation.

Cleaving to the spirit of the play was an exceptional crew of actors, members of the National Players company. Paramount was Jack Groverland as Duperrett, the sex maniac. His furtive, sly look, perfectly timed movements and expertly delivered lines made him a figure to remember. Strong in their parts, but a niche below Groverland, were Robert Fields as Marat, William Roerick as de Sade, Mary Nettum as Charlotte Corday and Igers Gavon as the herald.

Although they rendered the play whole, along with other members of the cast, it is the genius of Weiss that forged, in the fire of imagination, a play to sear the soul.
