declared the city of Plymouth's charter invalid also applies to some 75 other Michigan cities - but not Northville.

Plymouth's charter provides that to hold elective office a person must have been a resident of the city for at least two years "and for two years the owner of property located within and assessed for taxes by the city of Plymouth".

Northville's charter has the same residency requirement, but no provision setting forth the necessity of owning

Specifically, the Northville charter says "no person shall hold anvelective office of the city unless he has been a resident of the city for at least two years immediately prior to the last day for filing petitions for such office and is also a qualified and registered elector of the city on such day and throughout his tenure of office".

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Victor A. Baum called the section of the Plymouth city charter which limits the eligibility for seeking public office to electors who are tax-paying property owners "undemocratic and unconstitu-

The judge declared "this section of the charter denies a poor man the right to seek office in the place in which he lives. By the same token it also deprives a rich man - one who rents a residence and who may have a fortune in tax exempt assets — to become a candidate. Either one is not in keeping with democratic principles." Plymouth's city council has filed an appeal before the three-member circuit court of appeals. Some 75 cities in the state have similar provisions in their charters, a condition that apparently influenced city fathers in their decision to file an appeal.

The court test of the Plymouth charter came about as the result of the candidacy of the Reverend Peter Schweitzer, an associate minister of the Methodist church, who brought suit against the city when his petition was denied on the basis that he was not a

Safety Factor, Not Mud Halted Buses'

The story appearing on the front clear that there are always several like to make it clear to the public that page of last week's paper regarding bus absences even when all buses run acransportation to the Moraine school contained some untrue statements. I would like to correct those statements and make clear some of the points

The drivers' refusal to drive was only indirectly due to the mud. We did constituted a violation of contract. This not object to the mud. It was the unsafe remark seems rather strange to me methods used in loading and unloading because the bus drivers have no conchildren that we objected to.

On Monday afternoon, I had to back out on to Eight Mile because I did not receive any instructions until I arrived at the loading dock on the school grounds. At that time I was told to back out and go to Northville Estates and wait until was called to drive out onto Eight Mile and load my passengers on Eight Mile road. This upset me because of the high speed limit, the hill which obstructs vision, and the failure on the part of some drivers to stop for a school bus flashing a warning. I notified my superior and the principal of Moraine School that I would not drive my elementary run on Tuesday morning. My action was "unauthorized" but since I am legally and morally responsible for the safety of my passengers I have the responsibility of providing safe transportation. When I cannot provide safe transportation, I have the authority to refuse to drive.

On Monday evening I personally called every parent on my route to explain the situation. I informed them myaction was "unauthorized" but even at the risk of losing my job, I had to refuse to drive until safe measures were taken. Mrs. Hay did not call parents on Monday night as reported in the paper. Instead, she went to the Superintendent with her feelings on the subject. The parents on her route were notified Tuesday morning. Bus service to Moraine was also denied Shadbrook, Edenderry, and Taft Colony. The paper or Mr. Spear forgot to mention that fact.

On Tuesday morning I drove my car out to Northville Estates and watched the unloading procedure to see if it was safe. The children were walked across Eight Mile from Northville Estates by Mr. Nelson and Mr. Spear. Chief of Police Elkins was on the scene. Also present was Stan Johnston, member of the school board. Luckily all cars stopped to let children walk across the street. I hate to think of the tragedy if a car had come speeding over the hill at the wrong

Mr. Johnston had a bus go into the ville Record, and have heard reports parking lot to try to turn around so from various enthusiastic members, I that we could unload and load on the decided to stop in to see "the action" satisfactory, we held a meeting in the bus garage with drivers and administrators and all drivers agreed to go back to work. In all fairness to myself and Mrs. Hay, I think it should have been stated that four buses failed to pick up Moraine students which contributed to the Asfar as social activities are concerned in Northville. there has been little or none in the past 12 years that I have lived here, for young or old. If adults wanted entertainment they drove to it, some still do and so do their youngsters as we knew this was the way it was when we came here, sim-

Is the general public now expected to donate time and effort as well as money to keep a few happy for a few hours each week and then find in a short time they want something else like so and so has? Certain activities will never satisfy everyone and everyone will never be completely happy all the time. This is not really the point by any means. The board has no business in this field as a board. "The play is not 'about' something;

hopefully, it is something." Perhaps it's a matter of semantics. but Arthur Miller, one of the fewarticulate playwrights in America today, was telling us something significant about his play, "After the Fall."

And it became substantial when the rounding schools and they sell tickets to University Players at Trueblood auditorium in Ann Arbor put on their production of "The Fall," a play written specifically for the opening of the repertory theatre at New York's Lincoln Center in 1964.

A play is not a toy, Miller was saying. It is not an amusement. Nor is it the recreation of an experience. It is an experience, perhaps terrible, but an experience nevertheless, which cannot To draw the audience into the life-drama, Miller created an especially devastating device, one that the University Players poignantly portrayed and imbued with the vigor of life. The mind of his main character. Quentin, was made the stage, to afford us an intimate view of his dilemma.

The play began as many other plays have begun, with Quentin chatting with the audience as discursively as he would talk with a friend. But the candid atmosphere soon disappears and the taut drama sets in. His thoughts - at times disjointed, yet allied - are unveiled before us. People move only when he thinks of them, pricks them to life, so to speak, as he recalls incidents in which they are involved. Quentine's life is bared, much as a patient's thoughts are bared to his psychoanalyst. And Quentin has need for therapy. He has reached a crisis in his life where he is on the verge of dispair. are confined to the Northville, Novi and Wixom area. A point system will determine who wins the top prizes. A new one-year subscription will be worth 10 points, a new two-year subscription 15 points, a new four-year subscription 25 points and a two-year renewal of an existing subscription, five points. Contestants will be paid 50 cents for each new one-year subscription sold, or two-year renewal, and 75 cents for each new two-year subscription. Contestants will be paid $1.50 for each new four-year subscription. Bonus points will also be awarded contestants reporting new sales each Standings of contestants will be reported each week in The Record-News and a large poster will be displayed in The Record office so that each contestant can determine how they stand in the race for the prizes. The contest is open to individuals, families and organizations. For all details, and some good hints rented the Plymouth P and A theatre, 851 Penniman (Plymouth's old opera house) for the guild's first full-length musical in its 23-year history - "The Desert Song." Several Northville members are in the cast of working behind scenes in what promises to be the most lavish costume production the guild has produced.

Six performances are scheduled: March 31, April 1, 2, 6, 7 and 9. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. Under the direction of Kingsley Page of Walled Lake the show is in final rehearsal for opening night tomorrow. Director Page began his career with the Bonstell theatre in Detroit and then worked on the Lone Ranger and Hermit's Cave programs on radio. He has worked in Hollywood and directed more than 200 community plays. Northville's James McNeiece of Woodhill road, relaxes from his duties as president of Rooto Corporation by participating in the theatre guild activities with his wife. He appears in "The Desert Song" as Benjamin Kidd the comedy role. The musical is a family affair as the McNeieces' daughters, Kathy and Cynthia, are members of the singing chorus.

Also in the cast from Northville is Thomas Griffin. Mrs. Denis Schwarz is choreographer for the show. Paul Miller, a member of the Plymouth Symphony, is conductor for the 10piece orchestra that will provide music. Tickets for the production are available in advance at Salon Rene, or from Mrs. Denis Schwarz, 349-3129. Mrs. CALENDAR

What a wonderful airline-Canadian Pacific. Like all modern airlines, the service and food are of the highest

Going to the Orient, Canadian Pacific offers an alternative route by taking Air Canada to Toronto, then C.P.A. carries you to VanCouver with one stop at Winnipeg in about five hours. Then you have two hours to browse around VanCouver before you are whisked away over the Great Circle Route to Japan. Nine to ten hours later, the beauty of Tokyo lies before you in an Oriental Sunset.

On the trip over, I met Bob Eager, Financial reporter for a Toronto Daily and a Mr. Post, head of the World Bank for Canada on his way to study the food crises in India. Part of the fun of traveling, is the that under the bond loan fund program would be needed under the 13-mill mina participating school district must file an application each year during the period of participation. "Does the application that we will file this spring mean." he asks, "that if it is approved we will then come under the commission's new '50-percent' order?''

If such is the case, he explains, then the taxpayers of Northville, who approved the past bond issue with the understanding that part of the cost would be covered by the loan program, might then be faced with the responsibility of assuming a greater financial load that the legislature did not intend that the bond loan program could later 'backfire' on local districts once they had become participants. However, he too expresses some doubt as to how the commission's order will affect existing

Schmidt notes that a proposed bill in the state senate would amend the bond loan act and would require school districts to levy at least 13 mills locally before they could qualify for state loans.

Because the bill is unclear as respect to whom it will affect, Schmidt points out that Senator Robert Richardson of Saginaw has offered amendments to the bill that would provide that it "not be applicable in those cases where a bond issue is already oustanding and (where) such bond issue was approved by the electorate of a school district and (where) the application for a loan has been approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction..."

Senator Frank Beadle, sponsor of the bill, contends he can muster enough votes to win passage. However, there's a strong attempt now to attach a "grandfather clause" to the bill which would exempt existing participants for three imum. However, Superintendent Nelson explains that much of the increase in value locally comes from the addition of new homes, and newhomes mean more children, "so the 'grandfather clause' would be not be particularly beneficial to Northville."

Representative Clifford Smart of Walled Lake, who represents Novi and Wixom and who also is a former school superintendent, agrees that the commission's recent order is unclear. 'No one has a right to make it retroactive." he told this newspaper, and he emphasizes that he will fight any attempt to make it retroactive.

Making the commission's order retroactive, says Smart, would be a real blow to the Walled Lake school district as well as Avondale and Fenton.

Nevertheless, Smartalso recognizes that some districts are misusing the loan fund program and that the program needs some safety valves. To correct inequities, he has introduced a bill in the House that would establish a "graduated" policy for loaning money. Under his bill, those districts which are doing the most to help themselves through local taxation - would be entitled to more loan money than those districts which do little. Furthermore, his bill would be tied to both operational and building and site millage.

There's another bee in Northville's bonnet which makes the district's financial situation still more precarious.

Beautification Commission Elects Officers

Northville's city council has adopted an ordinance setting for the establishment of a permanent beautification

The action has been encouraged by Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson, who has headed up the city's clean-up and beautification campaigns in recent membership of nine persons serving alternate terms of three years each. First appointees to the commission were Councilwoman Carlson, Mrs. James Dingwall, Mrs. L. M. Eaton, Essie Nirider, Jerry Rotta, Mrs. William Slattery, Ed Welch, Mrs. E. O. Whittington and John Wortman.

In the commission's first meeting Councilwoman Carlson was named chairman and Welch co-chairman. Other officers are Mrs. Whittington, treasurer, and Mrs. Dingwall, secretary. Commission meetings are planned for April 12, 19 and 26.

Louis H. Schimmel, executive director of the municipal advisory council of Michigan, explains it this way:

"When school districts began making applications for loans to supplement their 1966 debt tax levies the amounts far exceeded projected estimates. At this point the state became concerned not only with the amount which would have to be provided to meet its commitments for the current year, but also the potential total exposure for which it would become obligated over the 25-29 year life of the out-

cess of revising its tax structure and therefore the financial requirements of the school bond loan fund and the method of providing the funds becomes an important item in the fiscal reform' proposals currently before the same: one vote cast by one individual.

There are a number of reasons why Monday's city council election is particularly important, not the least of which is the fact that all elections are important.

That vote is yours and it counts just as much, but not a single fraction more, than the Jones' vote.

In Northville, like many suburban communities feeling the pressures of growth, demanding decisions are becoming more and more frequent. And the time for consideration is becoming less and less available.

It is also true that the quality of eadership within each of the individual governmental subdivisions that make up our community is an important factor to all taxpayers, regardless of which side of the border lines they may reside.

We cannot escape the fact that we must all pay for poor decisions, whether or not we choose to work together as a community team in reaching those

So the election of good candidates is everyone's business and responsibility. We must help seek out good candidates for our community (city, township and schools); and we must give them our support at the polls.

I believe our community will be best served by electing Nichols and Lapham to the council Monday.

Speaking of elections, it should be noted that the requirement for residency to cast a ballot in elections as set forth by state law is six months in the state and 30 days in the community. Registrations are closed 30 days prior to each election, however.

Newcomers who have not registered cannot vote in the city's April 3 election, for example, but they can register for the June school election (either in the city or township) up until 30 days prior to the date of the election.

The committee was formed, they explained, because adult mental patients have no spokesman at Lansing to urge legislators to appropriate more money for adult mental health care in the state's hospitals.

They noted that the legislature provides about $10,000 annually for the care of a child with a mental problem. while only about $1,200 is provided for the adult. # NORTHVILLE CITY COUNCIL

As a lifelong Northville resident and businessman, I have both personal and professional concern for the welfare of our community.

Personally, I have enjoyed the advantages of growing up in a small and friendly community. And I know that these qualities are the very things that have attracted many newcomers to Northville. Although growth necessitates many changes, I share the belief that it need not destroy our finest assets.

As a businessman, I am aware that growth is a desirable condition and that it also provides certain challenges that must be met with sound planning.

I have been a close and interested observer and have watched others devote time and talent in an effort to prepare Northville for the future so that growth can take place in an orderly manner following guidelines of a plan that preserves the best of the old and combines it with the needs of the future in a mixture to take advantage of both.

Frankly, I appreciate their efforts and I am running for city council because I want to help. I believe it is the responsibility of each citizen to give whatever assistance he can.

> It is with gratitude and dedication that I welcome the opportunity to serve the city which has served me so well.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH The Church is the greatest factor ter and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church, They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For is children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4

He stands alone, looking almost too small for the burden of those books. You watch him, and you wonder what he is thinking. But you know that if you were to ask him, he'd only look up with a little shrug and say - "Oh, nothing."

"Nothing" is so often a child's answer to the deeper questions. Perhaps a child knows instinctively that he can't hope to put into clear words all the puzzle, the confusion, the joy, sorrow, and wonder that comes with growing up. And "nothing" can become — to you — the most frustrating word in the world.

What can you do about it? You can love him, and you can help him in every way you know. You can be sure that he is given a chance to go to church with you. and to Church School. Here he will find some of the best answers of all to that long list of questions that will become longer, still, as time goes by.

Although the 90th Congress has been relatively slow in getting off the ground a few significant pieces of legslation have been passed and others are under intensive study and preparation, Congressman Marvin L. Esch. Noteworthy among those which have recently passed the House is a tax incentive for business in the form of investment tax credits and accelerated depreciation schedules. Designed to stimulate economic growth, this measure passed the House by a vote of 386-2 and was supported by the President. The seven percent tax credit should encourage industry to modernize and expand production by stimulating investments in new machinery and equipment. The purpose of accelerated depreciation is to spur a new business expansion by allowing higher tax deductions for depreciation in the early years of a building's life than are allowed in its method a "nightmare problem". In lieu of special assessment, most council members backed a flat connection charge, estimated at $1250 for each of 800 taps, plus a service and operating charge for each user. Payments would be made quarterly. The graduated schedule of payments suggested by the county was spread over 800 potential connections. For a stipuresidents living in the Walled Lake area would connect and pay the interest rate only, with the principle being added

Future residents connecting would be required to pay an accrued interest rate, as well as the connection, service a operating charge. This method, Bond explained, would tend to equalize pay-

Councilman Joseph Crupi attacked the county's proposed payment schedule which calls for increasing annual debt retirement as more residents connect. He pointed out that the payment schedule was based on 800 connections, whereas there were only about 550 residents connecting immediately. A deficit would result, he said, between the amount collected and the amount to be paid. And there was no guarantee, he added, as to when and if there would be 800 actual connections to meet the increasing debt load. Furthermore, he questioned whether all users would be paying their fair share. Future users, he claimed, would avoid sharing in the initial interest pay-Councilmen and Bond, however, stated that the initial users would be receiving a benefit, the service, which future users would not avail themselves of until they had connected. Discussion of the problem then shifted to the question: Is the total cost to each resident within reason? This, factor in deciding what to do about financing. A matter of concern to the council was how soon action must be taken in order to comply with the government grant of $1,001,000. If not, the county might ask the village to pay an estimated $1,150,000 for oversizing in Wayne county that would provide the additional downriver capac-
